SEV LATINAE LINGVAE COMMENTARII locupletissimi, Nicolao Perotto, Sipuntino pontifice autore, denuo ad ueteris codicis, & scriptorum, unde illos deprompserat, fidem, diligentissime recogniti, cum eiusdem libello, in præfationem Plinij Secundi, ad Titum Vespasianum, & rursum in eum ipsum libellum, Cornelij Vitellij anno tationibus.

M. Terentij Varronis, de lingua Latina libri tres, & totidem de analogia.

Sexti Pompeij Festi librorum XIX. fragmenta.

Nonij Marcelli compendiosæ doctrinæ ad filium, de proprietate sermonum, tractatus uarij, & in hos omnes castigationes non pœnitendæ, opera Michaëlis Bentini nuper adiectæ.

Præterea index copiosissimus Græcarum & Latinarum dictionum quæ in toto uolumine, nullo ordine passim dispersæ erant, nuper singillatim ad uerbum restitutus, & sic semel temperatus, ut historiæ & fabulæ, prouerbia & eiusmodi, quæ prius indigesta, confusaq; erant, nunc belle suo quæque loco distributa sint.

M. D. XXVI.

BIBLIOTECA UNIVERSITARIA GRANADA

VALENTINVS CVRIO LECTORI.

Dedimus haud multis ab hinc, si memini, annis, candide lector, præclarum illum latinæ linguæ thesaurum, quod superbo quidem in speciem, sed longe uerissimo uocabulo Cornucopiæ appellamus. Nam uere in eo, ui est apud Plautum, inest quicquid uelis. Neq; hoc de Sipuntini nostri copiosissimis sanè commentarijs solum dictum uelim, uerum multo magis de Nonij Marcelli, Pompei Festi, qui Verrij Flacci epitomen scripsit, & cæterorũ eruditissimis lucubrationib. qui in hoc albo asscripti sunt. Hos inquã linguæ latinæ interpretes dedimus aliquando, sed nõ eo successu quo studio, quod minimum scilicet de alieno ingenio nobis promittentes, quod uel Aldi illius nota id opus signatũ esset, ipsi limam nostram non adhibuerimus. Posteà uero re exactius expensa, & deprehensis erroribus quibus scatebant omnia, partim nostro, partim amicorum consilio, id integrum opus sub incudem reuocare statuimus, in hoc multo ante conducto familiari quodam, qui latinum indicem à capite, quod dicitur, ad calcem usq; retexeret, conferretq;, addito & Græco, quem à multis desiderari sciebam. Porrò cum ultro, citroq; disquirerem uetus aliquod exemplar Nonij aut Festi Pompei, nec hilum, ut Ennius inquit, proficerem, & urgerent studiosi omnes, efflagitantes, ut quamprimum ad eius uoluminis æditionem accingerer, quod iam id opus totum diuenditum esset, incertus an è re literaria aut priuata foret differre, præsertim tanto sumptu in hoc olim fabrefactis à nobis typis, in eam partem peccare malui, quæ minimum incommodi studiosis allatura uideretur. Itaq; euocato Bentino nostro, quamuis detrectante, opus aggressi, intra semestre absoluimus. Quod quantis sudoribus nobis constiterit non facile dixerim, primum, quod infinita penè offendimus, quæ perperam citata erant & distincta, deinde, quod quædam adeo distorta, depraua taq; erant, ut quàm plurimi autores euoluendi fuerint. Nec sic tamen expedire uideretur quiduis expungere, & mutare quod ab illis dissideret, quoniam non raro eo uitio laborare deprehenderentur quo Nonius & cæteri. Quæ res uel inprimis nos induxit, ut ea loca quæ non commode mutari poterant breuibus aliquot annotatiunculis illustrari curauerimus, dauri locupletiores, cum exemplar illud uetus, cuius copiam nobis facturus est amicus in-comparabilis Io. Sichardus, cuius industria id exemplar nuper repertũ est in Germania, sed hoc opere iam absoluto. Nos enim nec labori, nec sumptui parcemus, quo in hoc, sicut in cæteris rem literariam iuuare possimus. Tuum erit uicissim, candide lector, si quid usquam à nobis, cessatum est boni consulere, & benigne inter-pretari, si minus assequuti fuerimus quod conamur.
Vale.

PYRRHI PEROTTI IN CORNVCOPIAE, SIVE COMMENtarios linguæ Latinæ ad illustrem principem Federicum ducem, & ecclesiastici exercitus Imperatorem inuictissimum, proœmium.

MOriens olim P. Maro poëta optimus maximus, librum Aencidos, quem tum forte in manibus habebat, testamento cremandum reliquit, indignum opinor existimans, opus imperfectum, & cui non dum suprema manus imposita foret, ad posteros peruenire. Durum id, atque difficile uisum diuo Octauio fuit. Hinc enim supremæ uoluntati parere iusq; fasq; suadebant: illinc commiseratio quædam tot laborum, uigiliarumq;, & communis iactura, ne id faceret, hortabatur. Tandem uero pietati potius in diuinum uatem, ac commodo posteritatis, quàm legum seueritati indulgendum ratus, in hæc uerba prorupit:

Frangatur potius legum ueneranda potestas, Quàm tot congestos noctesq;, diesq; labores Hauserit una dies, uiuat Maro doctus ubiq;, Ingratusq; sibi, studiorumq; inuidus orbi.
Laudetur, uigeat, placeat, relegatur, ametur.

Idem mihi nunc usu uenit Federice imperator. Nam cum iam supra quintum annum Pomponius Fortunatus, uir seculo nostro doctissimus, & Romanæ Academiæ princeps, ac plerique alij studiosi uiri Nicolaum Perottum Siponti Pontificem patruum meum hortati essent, ut M. Valerium Martialem optimum quidem poëtam, sed uitio librariorum infinitis penè erroribus plenum, pro communi studiosorum utilitate emendandum susciperet: aggressus est ille hanc prouinciam libens, & corollarium addidit. Etenim lepidissimum poëtam non modo emendauit, sed etiam interpretatus est. In qua re haud facile dictu esset, quos sustinuerit labores, quot noctes insomnes duxerit, quot Græcorum simul, ac latinorum omni disciplinarum genere uolumina euoluerit: tum propter multarum rerum, ac reconditarum in hoc poëta uarietatem, quarum etiam uocabula uix, aut nullo modo intelligi poterant: tum propter magnitudinem errorum, quos emendare ferè supra uires hominis fuit: tum uero in primis, quod non est in eo opere communem interpretum morem secutus. Sed ita hunc poëtam exposuit, ut ne uerbum quidem reliquerit intactum, uisusq; planè fuerit non unum poëtam, sed uniuersam linguam latinam uelle interpretari. Omnem tamen difficultatem superauit studium, & diligentia hominis, quiq; omnia uincit, improbus labor: talemq; post tot epotas lucubrationũ fuligines hunc poëtam reddidit, ut qui supra octingentos annos à nemine fuerat intellectus, iam ab adolescentibus quoque, uel mediocriter eruditis possit intelligi. Verum nullis unquam precibus, nullis amicorum illecebris, quin etiam nullis conuitijs adduci potuit, ut lucubrationes suas in lucem proferret, emendari duntaxat à suo cæteros codices passus est, plura etiam loca cognitu difficilia quærentibus aperuit, ædere commentarios noluit. Cuius consilij sui rationes afferebat huiusmodi: Si opus ederet, nõ defuturos qui se reprehenderent, quod iam & ætate grandior, & dignitate pontifex ad studia poëtarum, à quibus ante uigesimum annum sese ad cœlestem philosophiam transtulerat, nunc temere uideretur reuertisus: tum multa esse apud hunc poëtam uulgi iudicio obscœna, quæ interpretari pontificem indecens putaretur. Quandoquidem sunt nonnulli, qui legere etiam Martialem nefarium censent. Ad hæc non eo animo scriptos à se commentarios, ut proferrentur in lucem, sed sua causa duntaxat, ut quæ tanto studio, labore, uigilijs inuestigauerat, quoties opus esset, haberet in promptu. Iccirco non modo hinc, atque hinc plenos esse totius sui codicis margines, sed multa quoque à se seorsum non breuiter, & carptim, ut interpretum mos est, uerum longe, diffusiq; conscripta, sæpe etiam ex libris autorum, qui Græce, Latineq; scripserunt, ferè ad uerbum sumpta: quæ si edi oporteret, in grande nimis uolumen opus excresceret, nec tam unius poëtæ quàm totius linguæ latinæ interpretatio uideri posset. Non deerant autem qui eas rationes ita infringerent, nequaquam esse turpe pontifici emendare, atq; interpretari eum librum, quem non puduit sanctissimum Hieronymum nõ modo lectitare, sed etiam testimonio eius plerunque inter sacras literas uti. Contemnendũ præterea uulgi iudicium, cuius mos est damnare, quæ nescit. Nihil apud hunc poëtam esse non religiosum, & sanctum: reprehendi ab eo obscœnitate quadam uerborum uitia, nõ laudari, ut mos eorum est, qui hodieq; in templis concionantes, quos uulgo prædicatores uocant. Quod si hunc legere nefandum sit, certe non minus illos audire. Neminem profecto non modo ex poëtis, sed ex omnibus latinæ linguæ autoribus eligi potuisse, in quo tanta esset & uocabulorum, & sententiarum, & rerum omnium copia, tanta ubertas, tanta uarietas. Postremo breuitatem tantum ibi custodiendam esse, ubi causa postulat. Alioquin præuaricationem esse transire, quæ necessaria, & utilia sunt: aut quæ inculcare, infigere, repetere oportet, cursim, breuiterq; attingere. Commentarios huiusmodi eo meliores esse, quo longiores: ut inter Demosthenis & M. Tullij orationes eæ feruntur optimæ esse, quæ maximæ. Ob id uero in primis expetij, quod non modo multarum rerum cognitionem habeant, sed planè omnem latinam linguam comprehendere uideantur. Nec propterea minus probandos, si qua in ijs ex alijs probatissimis autoribus sumpta sunt: quandoquidem optimi quique scriptores idem fecere. Ita denique dispositos esse, atque ordinatos, ut non sit necesse aliquos perlegere, sed tantum quisq; ex ijs quærere possit, quantum concupierit: & quod quisque quæsierit, facile inuenire. Illud etiam plerique addebant, nisi commentarios æderet, existimaturos omnes, uel nõ recti eum esse iudicij, uel inuidere gloriæ suæ, inuidere præsentium, posterorumq; utilitati. At surdo fabula canebatur. Inter hæc plerique adolescentes ardentissimo mecum amore coniuncti, certatim me adeunt: alij dissimulanter, & furtim, alij simpliciter, libereq; hortantes, ne amplius tot hominum desideria protrahi sinerem, æde rem ipse commentarios uel uolente patruo, uel inuito: audisse se à præceptoribus suis, nihil fieri aut studiosis utilius, aut eruditis gratius, aut Latinæ linguæ commodius posse: si tantum à me beneficium consequantur, omnes mihi obnoxios perpetuo futuros. Vix possem exprimere quo statim ardore flagrauerim id opus ædendi. Subreptis itaq; mox ex bibliotheca patrui commentarijs, cœpi clàm legere quæ notauerat: ubi quantum dij boni rerum, quantum uerborum, quantum uetustatis, quæ interpretationes uocabulorum, quæ explicatio elegantiæ, ac proprietatis Latinæ linguæ, quæ fabularum monimenta, quæ lumina historiarum, quæ dignitas exemplorum, atq; maiestas. Certe non liber mihi, sed thesaurus quidam uisus est optimarum in omni genere rerum, ac reconditarum. Hinc Grammatici, hinc Rhetores, hinc Poëtæ, hinc Dialectici: hinc earum artium, quas liberales uocant, studiosi: hinc Medici, hinc Philosophi, hinc ciuilis ac pontificij iuris antistites, hinc rei militaris periti, hinc Agricolæ, hinc Pictores, hinc Architecti, hinc fabri omnes, atq; opifices multa, & penè infinita haurire possunt eorũ studijs necessaria, & ita necessaria, ut affirmare ausim plurima eos, nisi hæc legerint, ad ipsorũ disciplinas, artesq; maxime pertinentia ignoraturos, ne dicã in multis, ut nunc faciunt, permansuros erroribus. quos si hæc legerint, aliquando recognoscent, & hoc non unius poëtæ, sed omnium latinorum autorum commentarios iure optimo dici posse intelligẽt. Non potui patruũ meum tacitus non damnare, quod in tanto consensu honestissima rogantium durum se potius negando, quàm constantem ostenderet. Et quod Diuus Augustus fecerat, in uerba illa prorupi:

Tam sacrum soluetur opus? tot bella, tot enses, In cineres dabit hora nocens, & perfidus error?

Quid plura? Accinxi me statim operi, & quanto potui studio, labore, uigilantia ab illo ubicunque notata excerpsi, in ordinemq; redegi. Nihil autem ferè de meo addidi, præterquàm quod loca quædam, quæ ille, quoniam impuritate quadam, atque obscœnitate uerborum castis, ac pudicis auribus execrabilia uiderentur, cursim breuiterq; tetigerit, ipse latius exposui, nihil tam fœdum esse existimans, quod non turpissimum sit ignorare. Ita præterea opus digessi, ut siquis sola huius poëtæ interpretatione contentus esse uelit, deterreri libri magnitudine non possit. Habent enim singula quæq; epigrammata sententiam suam in principio summatim expressam. Deinde ubi rubræ sunt, ac grandiusculæ literæ, uis uocabuli, siue fabula, siue historia ad cognitionem autoris necessaria succinctè ostenditur: quibus ij qui præter intellectum poëtæ nihil optabunt, poterunt esse contenti. De cæteris uero tantum sumere cuique fas erit, quantum uolet: cum in fine operis, quid singulis libris cõtineatur, seruato literarum ordine, ueluti quibusdam tabellis mirificè sit expressum. Properantem autem me tam expetitũ, ac desideratum opus emittere, illud magis ac magis accendit, atque inflammat, quod nescio quem uilissimum pædagogum non puduit nuper, ut est omnium impudentissimus, plerasq; sententias è sacrario patrui mei sumptas (hunc enim humanissime semper omnibus expositum adire frequens discendi gratia solebat) tanquam suas promere, & tam præclaris inuentis impudentissime gloriari. Nullum enim ultionis genus in hanc belluam accommodatius fore existimo, quàm ut omnes hac nostra ædition illius furta, uel potius sacrilegia recognoscant, & hominis temeritatem, scelus, ingratitudinemq; condemnent. Recognosci autem furta facillime poterunt ex errorum multitudine, cuius commentarij eius undique scatent, quorum bonam partem patruus meus duobus epistolarum, Romanarum scilicet, ac Perusinarum præclaris uoluminibus ostendit. Quis enim ita desipiat, ut autorem alicuius præclaræ sententiæ existimaturus sit eum, quem tam frequenter, ac pueriliter errare, labiq; cognoscat? Cum ipse quoque, quod omnium miserrimum est, negare non poterit, quod erit turpissimum fateri. Nec uero me ab hac ædendi auiditate deterret, quod grauiter atque indigne hoc laturum patruum meum simile ueri uideatur. Neque enim recuso, si ita res ferat, pœnas luere ad honestissimum factum: & subire optimi Pontificis qualemcunq; indignationem malo, quàm aut hanc iniuriam facere lucubrationibus eius, ut diutius in tenebris iaceant: aut hanc gloriam relinquere sordidissimo pædagogo, ut aliorum inuenta sibi asscribat: aut tot eruditorum hominum preces, desideria, uota contemnere, ne dicam perpetuum posteritati damnum inferre. Sed inuenisse me modum opinor, quo patrui indignationem euitare facile possim. Nam cum te Federice princeps unum ex ijs esse cognouerim, qui hanc commentariorum ædition em maxime concupierunt, statui hoc opus tuo sacratissimo nomini dedicare: cuius ille uirtuti, atque autoritati tantũ tribuit ut te instar numinis habeat, colat, uenereturque. Feret certe æquo animo patruus me abs te benigne inuitatum lucubrationes suas tibi uni fecisse communes, tuo uero nutu prodisse in lucem, & in eruditorum tandem manus descendisse, pro sua in te obseruantia irasci non poterit, aut si poterit, nolet. En igitur librum ipsum quem Cornucopiæ, siue linguæ latinæ commentarios inscripsi, tibi princeps inuictissime mitto, ut tuo iussu, auspicijsq; ædatur: ob id certe felix futurus, quod te autore, tot eruditi homines ipsum læti, alacresq; excipient, complecti entur, osculabuntur, & certatim laudibus cumulabunt. Sed ob id longe felicior, quod tu omnium primus accipies, & in istud tuum dignum dijs palatium, dignam principe uictore gentium sedem induces: ubi cum omnia cernet marmore, argento, auroq; nitentia: & in bibliotheca illa pulcherrima collocabitur, quanquam mutus sit, & anima carens, mirificè tamen sentire, lætariq; uidebitur. Legetur aliquando abs te, in quo uirtutes omnes uigent, quæ desiderari in principe possent: experietur humanitatem, clementiã, benignitatem, continentiam tuam: contemplabitur tecum porticus, ædes, delubra tanto sumptu, arte, pulchritudineq; surgentia: admirabitur in te ciuilium simul, ac multarum rerum usum: audiet res domi, ac foris gestas, uictorias omniũ opinione maiores, stratagemata, gloriam, triumphos: quæ ijsdem, quibus solis cursus terminus, continentur. Admirabitur in te diuinam illam corporis proceritatem, membrorum robur eximium, uenerandam oris dignitatem, ætatis maturam grauitatem, diuinam quandam maiestatem cum humanitate coniunctam: totum præterea talem, qualem esse oportebat eum principem, quem nuper pontifex maximus, & uniuersus Senatus omnium rerum suarum, & totius ecclesiastici imperij ducem, moderatoremq; constituit. Tuorum præterea

studiorum, atque sermonum comes erit, & particeps. Videbit, atque intelliget quem honorem dicendi magistris, quam dignationem sapientiæ doctoribus habeas, ut sub te uno spiritum, & sanguinem, & patriam bonarum artium studia recepe-rint, quæ antehac natali solo priuata, & perpetuo exilio damnata uidebantur. O felix, atque iterum felix liber. Sed utinam mihi Federice princeps unà cum suauissimo patruo meo felicitate ista perfrui aliquando liceret. Vale princeps mitissime.

BREVIS COMMEMORATIO VITAE M. VALERII MARTIALIS.

Valerius Martialis in Hispania Bilbili nobili Celtiberiæ oppido natus est, patre Frontone, matre Flacilla. Venit ad urbem Romam studiorum gratia, tenuiq; supellectile contentus, in literis duntaxat uersatus est. Scripsit librum Epigrammatôn, ut laudaret honesta, hortaretur homines ad uirtutẽ, & uitia sui temporis notaret, quod admistis semper salibus, & ferè cum risu facit, ut mos est scribentium Epigrammata. Hoc enim à satyris differunt: quod illi uitia tantum carpunt, hi etiam honesta laudant, & ad uirtutem hortantur. Illi graui, atque aspera oratione, stomacho semper pleni: hi blando sermone, atq; iucundo scelera suorum temporum notant. Illi longo plerunq; lemmate, & uerborum copia id faciunt: hi carptim, & breui sermone, atq; collecto. Vnde hæc Epigrãmata, hoc est inscriptiones dicuntur. Illi in personis etiã propriis nominibus inuehũtur: hi fingunt noua nomina, propriis parcunt: quod de se hic poëta testatur, dum inquit:

Hunc seruare modum nostri nouere libelli, Parcere personis, dicere de uitijs.

Excessit facundia, acumine, copia, suauitate, salibus omnes, qui ante, & post eum carmina scripsere. Laudat simul, atque reprehendit acriter, & ardenter, nec minus polite, & ornate. Habet uelut innumerato sentẽtias aptas semper, & crebras, grauem, & decorã structurã, sonantia uerba, & antiqua, quædã ipse fingit aptissime. Sunt plerunq; in sermone eius latentes acutei. Suspensum etiã aliquando lectorem relinquit, & aliquid uult illum augurari potius, quàm legere. Tanta præterea in eo copia, tanta rerũ uarietas est, atq; cognitio, quantã apud nullũ uel Græcum, uel Latinum autorẽ esse contenderim. Floruit temporibus Domitiani, Neruæ, & Traiani, quibus uarijs modis in hoc opere assentatur: idq; ea ratione facit, ut per ea, quæ in ijs esse cõmemorat, quales & ipsi, & cæteri principes esse debeant, ostendat. Hinc sæpe ædificia, porticus, templa, uenationes, ludos, stratagemata imperatorũ, aliorumq; uirorum, ac mulierum cõmemorat. Etenim mos apud ueteres fuit, quoniam monere simpliciter principes periculosum uidebatur, per ironiam eos, hoc est assentando docere. Sic omnia huius poëtæ epigrammata aut bona sunt, in quibus uidelicet simpliciter, atq; aperte ad uirtutem hortatur: aut mediocria, in quibus ea laudat, quæ turpia non sunt, sed aliquid habent honesti: aut mala, in quibus uitia hominum carpit obscœnis uerbis, & turpibus. Hoc est quod poëta ipse ad Auitum libro primo scribit:

Sunt bona, sunt quædam mediocria, sunt mala plura, Quæ legis, hic aliter non fit Auite liber.

Amicos habuit Plinium Secundum oratorem, Stellamq;, & Silium poëtas, ad quos sæpenumero scribit. Publicis quoque honoribus functus est, donatus equestri dignitate, prætura, & iure trium liberorum. Ingrauescente demum ætate, tædio urbanarũ rerum affectus, in Hispaniam rediit. Obijt in natali solo inter suos magnodoctorum omnium mœrore, præsertim Plinij: cuius epistola extat, in qua audisse scribit Martialem decessisse, idq; moleste ferre: quia uir erat ingeniosus, acutus, & qui plurimum in scribendo salis haberet, & fellis, nec candoris minus. Librumhunc epigrammatôn eo ordine scripsit, quo in præsentia legitur, primis epigrammatibus exceptis: in quibus spectacula, & ludos sui temporis describit. Hæc in antiquis codicibus non reperiuntur, haud tamen dubium est Martialis esse.

In castigationibus in Nonium Marcellum, columna 1412. uersu 26. hunc locum abo peris inuersum sic lege: Vbi pro mille denariũm legitur millenariũm.

Et columna 1278. uersu 4. lege: Reticulumq; sibi ad nares admouebat.

NICOLAI PEROTTI CORNVCOPIAE, siue cõmentariorũ linguæ Latinæ, ad illustriss. principẽ Federicum Vrbani Ducẽ, & Ecclesiastici exercitus Imperatorẽ inuictiss. Liber primus.

DE AMPHITHEATRO EPIGRAMMA PRIMVM.

BARBARA PYRAMIDVM. Blanditur Domitiano quod amphitheatrum eius præclara totius orbis ædificia operis magnitudine superet. Barbara, fera, inculta moribus. Barbari ab initio dicti sunt factitio nomine, qui dure, atque aspere loquebantur, quẽadmodum blesos etiam, balbosq; dicimus, qui lingua impediti sunt. unde balbutire est cum quadam linguæ confusione trepidare. Cic. me quidẽ autore etiam Peripatetici, ueteresq; Academici balbutire aliquando desinant. Metellum pontificem adeo impeditæ, ac balbutientis linguæ fuisse tradunt, ut multis mensibus fatigatus, tortusq; fuerit, dum meditatur in dedicanda æde Opiferæ dicere. Sumus quippe, ut Strabo inquit, ad cõfingenda cognata rebus uocabula ingeniosi, qualia sunt murmur, clangor, strepitus, crepitus, & similia. Sed quẽadmodum ex ijs multa iam proprie proferuntur, ita hoc uocabulum Barbarus, quis à principio eum tantũ significaret, qui crasse loquebatur, nunc tamen ad eos omneis translatũ est, qui non sint Græci, aut Latini, quod ij mitiorem lingnam habeant, ac magis cultam. Quin etiã inter hos si quis non recte proferat, barbare loqui dicitur. unde fit barbarismus, qui definitur una pars orationis enunciatione, uel scripto corrupta: & à poëtis Metaplasmus uocatur: differtq; à solœcismo, qui ab Asinio Capitone definitur impar, & inconueniens compositura partiũ orationis: à nostris imparilitas, à ueteribus Latinis stribligo dicebatur, à uersura & prauitate tortuosæ orationis, tanquam strebligo quædam. siquidem στρεβλῶ apud Græcos torqueo ac deprauo significat. Vnde & striblita appellata est quod in circuitu ad restis modum torqueretur, hoc solum differens à placenta, quod sine melle coquebatur, & feruentissima edi solebat. Mart. Circumlata diu mensis striblita secundis, Vrebat nimio sæua calore manus. Plau. dum ludi fiunt, in popinam pedissequi irruptionẽ facite. nunc dum occasio est, nunc dum striblitæ æstuant, occurrite. Veteres, & Latini, & Græci non solœcismũ, barbarismumq; dixerunt, sed βάρβαρον σόλοικόν τε, hoc est, Barbarum ac solœcum. Solœci autem nomen à Solone deductum Laërtius Diogenes testatur: qui cum in Ciliciã urbem à suo nomine Solœ condidisset, pauci ex Athenienſibus, quos in ea reliquit, non multo interiecto tẽpore, corrupto patrio sermone inconuenienti partiũ structura loqui cœperunt. Quapropter qui eo uitio aliquãdo uterentur dicti sunt σολοικίζειν, hoc est, solœcisare. à poëtis solœcismus pro errore metaphorice capitur. Iuue. solœcismum liceat fecisse marito. Mar. Sæpe solœcismũ mentula nostra facit. Maiores nostri non barbare, sed rustice loqui dicebant, quapropter Barbarismi uocabulo nemo ante Augusti ætatem usus fuit. Græci à principio omneis homines, se solis exceptis, Barbaros dici uoluere. Per metaphoram quoq; barbari dicuntur illiterati, malis moribus, feri, crudeles. A barbaro fit barbaricus eiusdem penè significationis, Apuleius: feris, ac barbaricis moribus, Et Barbaries, inciuilitas, inculus, feritas. Et Barbaricũ neutro genere, clamor exercitus, quod eo uociferandi genere Barbari utantur. stulte quidã barbam hinc deductã putant, quod eam Barbari prælongã ferre cõsueuerunt. barba enim primogeniũ nomen est, & tam de hominibus, q̃ de brutis, atq; etiã inanimatis utroq; numero dicitur. Nam quod scribit Seruius, Barbam hominũ, barbas brutorũ esse, falsum est. Pli. Hircorũ si mulceatur barba, mitior est. Eadẽ præcisa nõ abire eos tradunt in alienũ gregem. Idem. pisces qui mulli dicũtur, barba gemina insigniũtur inferiori labro. Idẽ. tragopogus dicta, quod barbulas habeat ad hircinæ barbæ similitudinem. Hæc herba est qua in acetarijs utimur, uulgo barbã petræ appellãt. in Gallia trãspadana barbula hircina dicitur ad Græcorũ similitudinẽ. τράγος quippe hircus est, πώγων barba. Alij hanc comẽ uocãt. à comæ similitudine, quod folia in circuitũ spargat: alij scandicẽ. unde per iocũ Aristophanes Euripidi poëtæ obiecit quod mater eius ne olus q̃dem legitimũ uenditasset, sed scandicẽ. A barba barbatus dicitur, & contrariũ eius imberbis. Barbitos quoq; nõ à barbaro deducitur, licet barbarũ, hoc est peregrinũ uocabulũ sit. Significat aũt maiorẽ lyram organo similẽ sono. quidã latiorem partem lyræ esse existimãt, & tam fœminino genere q̃ neutro reperitur. Ouid. Non facit ad lachrymas barbitos ulla meas. Hor. age dic Latinũ barbite carmen. Idẽ. Le sboum refugit tendere barbitõ. Memphis. Ordo est. Barbara Memphis sileat miracula Pyramidũ. Memphis Aegyptiorũ regia est ab Ogdoo rege ædificata, cuius filia Mẽphis ei nomẽ dedit, cum qua Nilus concubuit sub imagine tauri. Ab hoc fit Mẽphiticus adiectiuũ. Mar. dat chartis agiles calamos memphitica tellus. & mẽphitis. Ogdous aũt prius cognominatus est Vohereus, ut Diodorus Siculus testatur. Sileat, taceat, nõ amplius laudet. Silere tacere est, fictum uerbũ ab S litera, quæ nota silentij est. unde in ludis literarijs, publicisq; cõuentibus, dũ uolunt silentiũ indicere, S literã quasi sibilãdo pronunciant, à quo sibilum quidã deductum existimãt. Et sibilare, quod ueteres etiã sifilare dixerunt: & est cõtumeliosa significatio uocis, unde exibilare, siue exifilare aliquẽ dicimur, dũ populari & tumultuaria sibilatione cum expellimus, sicut explodere, dum eũ fugamus cum plausu. Cice. Histrio si paulum se moueat extra numerũ, aut si uersus pronũciatus est una syllaba breuior, aut lõgior exibilatur, atq; exploditur. quod in literarijs ludis hac tẽpestate frequentissime fieri uidemus. quidã siphilare à græco deductũ putant. Græci enim σίφλον contumeliã nominant, & quam nos dicimus exibilationẽ. Et σιφλώζειν dicunt explodere atq; deridere. Equidẽ factitia hæc uocabula esse arbitror. Nã plaudere, siue plodere est manibus pulsare, & strepitũ facere, quod uel lætitiæ, uel derisionis causa fieri solet. à quo explodere est nõ simpliciter eijcere, sed manibus cum sono pulsantibus è domo, schola, theatro, aut alio cõuentu eijcere. Cic. quando Pyrrhonis, Aristonis, Erilli iam pridẽ explosa sententia est. Veteres sibum uocabãt callidum, & acutum. à sileo silentium deriuatur, quod taciturnitatẽ significat. unde silentiũ noctis, pro nocte intempesta ponitur, quã alij concubium, alij cõticinium nuncupant. Et silenta loca, in quibus siletur. & silex secundum quosdã, quod saxi genus est, quia silentem intra se ignem habeat, qui attritu, aut percussu excitatur. Silicem tenere in manu solebant iuraturi per Iouẽ, hæc uerba dicentes: si sciens fallo, qui me despicit salua urbe, arceq;, is me eijciat, ubi hunc ego lapidẽ. ab hoc siliceũ dicitur quicqd ex silice est. Vir. Spẽ gregis ah silice in nuda cõnixa reliquit. Et silicerniũ, de cuius significatione diuersi diuersa sentiunt. Põpeius genus farciminis esse scribit, quo familia à fletu in luctu purgabatur. Dictũ silicerniũ quia cuius nomine instituebatur ea res, is iam silentium cerneret. Cæcil. Credidi me silicernių eius esse esurum. Dona. Silicernium ingt, cœna est, quæ infertur diis manibus, uel quod eam silẽtes cernãt umbræ, uel quod qui hæc inferunt, cernãt, neq; degustent. Nam de ijs, quæ libãtur inferis, quisq; ederit, aut biberit funestatur. Hinc Teren. in Adel. appellat senẽ silicernių, qui iam iam silentibus umbris cernẽdus sit. Alij silicernium nomẽ fictum à Terẽtio existimarunt, pro sene, quod incuruitate silices spectet. Qui recte sentiunt, silicernių affirmãt funebre cõuiuium esse, quod apud ueteres exhiberi senibus solebat, dictum, quod cum silentio edẽtes cernerentur, uel propter defuncti memoriã, uel quod cogitarẽt se mox illum secuturos, quapropter abeuntes è cõuiuio ueluti se amplius nõ uisuri, mutuo se salutabãt. Varro: Funus executi laude ad sepulchrũ antiquo more silicernium cõfecimus, id est, conuiuium, in quo pransi discedentes dicimus alijs alij uale. Silicernium ergo Terentius senem uocat, atq; decrepitum, hoc est dignum, uel cui silicernium fiat, uel qui ad silicernių uocetur. Alibi capularẽ senem nominat, quasi mox capulo efferendum, Plautus achẽrontium: Acherõtius senex uetus, decrepitus. Quidã silatum quoq; à silendo dictum putãt, sed falsum est. Silatum enim à silì deriuatur. Sile autẽ herba est, quam alio nomine seselin uocant, cuius uel radice, uel semine uinum condiebãt, quod ante meridiem sumere mos erat. Propterea silatum antiqui dixere, quod nunc ientaculum dicimus. Nec à silendo silus deducitur, nec silones: sed silus primogenium est, significatq; nasum sursum uersum, & aduncum. Vnde galeæ quoq; à similitudine silæ appellatæ sunt: quemadmodum simus uocatur, qui pressis est naribus: à quo simias quidam nominatas putant, & masculino genere simios, quamuis alij quasi mimias dictas uelint, hoc est imitatrices. μιμεῖσθαι enim apud Græcos imitor est. Et Græci σιμὸν simum dicunt: usurpatq; id uerbum frequenter Hesiodus de apibus. Virgilius capellas simas uocat: Dum tenera attõdent simæ uirgulta capellæ. Silones uero dicti sunt à Silono quodã, quem hirsutis supercilijs fuisse tradunt. Sunt autẽ silones, qui prominẽtia habent supercilia. Siliquæ quoq; primogeniũ uocabulum est. sunt hæ foliculi leguminum. Vir. Grandior ut fœtus siliquis fallacibus esset. Item fructus arboris, quam Græci Cerauniam, quidam ficum Aegyptiam nominant. & arbor ipsa siliqua appellatur. prædulcis est, & cortex ipse manditur. digitorum hominis longitudinem habent, latitudinem uero pollicarem, & nõnunquam falcatæ sunt. à siliqua fit siliquor uerbum, quod est siliquas facio. Plini. Inter omneis autem constat nihil esse utilius lupini segete, priusq; silìquetur, aratro uel bidentibus uersa. Non defuerunt etiã, qui silentium à Græcis sumptum existimauerint, quibusdã literis cõmutatis. Hi enim σιγὴν silentiũ dicunt, & σιγῶ sileo. Vnde Sigæum Troiæ promõtorium appellatum est propter Herculis taciturnitatẽ. Hic enim, quia prohibitus hospitio fuerat, simulauit abscessum, moxq; per silentium aduersus Troiã ueniens eam cepit. MIRACVLA PYRAMIDVM. Admiratione ac stupore dignas pyramides, propter earum scilicet magnitudinẽ. tam altæ enim quædã fuisse in Aegypto traduntur, ut magna omnium admiratio fuerit, qua ratione in tãtam altitudinẽ subuecta sint cementa. unã ex ijs, quæ ex Arabicis lapidicinis constabat à trecentis sexaginta hominum millibus annorum uiginti spacio constructam prodiderunt, & in raphanos, allium & cepas, quibus operarij uescerentur, mille octingenta talenta erogata. neq; aliam ædificandarum pyramidum rationem fuisse, q̃ regum Aegypti in erogandis pecunijs stultã ostentationem: siue ne pecuniam successoribus relinquendo insidiandi sibi causam præberent, seu ne plebs esset otiosa. Treis autẽ inter Memphim, & Deltam pyramides fuisse constat, quarum duæ inter septem orbis spectacula numerantur. Tertia minor est, licet impẽsa maior. medietas inferior ex nigro lapide constat, quo mortaria fiunt. hæc dicitur meretrìcis sepulchrum fuisse ab amantibus factum, quã Sappho Doricam uocat fratris sui Caraxi amicã, dum è Lesbo uinum ad Naucratem cõportaret. Alij Rhodopen nominãt, cuius, cum lauaretur, alterum calceum aquila rapuit, & in gremium regis iura Memphidantis dimisit. rex admiratus, perquiri mulìerem iussit, inuentam duxit uxorem. Defunctæ postea ædificata pyramis fuit. Pyramides sunt moles maximæ ita construc tæ, ut è lato in acutum tendant, quales Romæ adhuc extant duæ iam uetustate fatiscentes. Dictæ uel quod flãmarum similitudinẽ habent, Græci enim πῦρ ignem uocant: uel à lapide Pyropœcilo, ex quo sæpe ædificabãtur. Hic & Thebaicus uocatur, ab ignea quadã uarietate Pyropœcilos dictus. à græcis enim πῦρ ignis dicitur, ποικίλος uarius. Pyramidem nostri metam uocant, quod termini agrorum, qui à metiẽdo, hoc est mensurando metæ dicuntur, forma pyramidum ædificari solent. atq; ea figura pyramidalis uocatur: quãuis Paulus Iurisconsultus metam esse dicit partem molis inferiorẽ, & catillum superiorẽ. Differunt pyramides ab obeliscis, quod hi trabes sunt lapideæ lõge pyramidibus minores, Solis numini sacratæ propter quod ad radiorum similitudinẽ fiebant. Apud Aegyptios nomen habent à radio, & planè talis est radij forma dum per fenestram intrat. Græci à ueru similitudine ei nomen imposuere, apud quos ὀβελὸς ueru est, atq; eius diminutiuum est ὀβελίσκος. Veru à nostris à uersando deducitur, ut Varro affirmat, significatq; non modo instrumentum quo cibi assantur, sed etiam telum ad eius similitudinem factum. Vir. Et tereti pugnant mucrone, ueruq; Sabello. Vnde ueruta pila dicuntur, quæ uerua habent præfixa. & ueruculum ab eo deducitur, quasi paruum ueru: instrumentum est quo fabri è ferro utuntur. Plin. Spuma ex argento sublata ueruculis ferreis, atq; in ipsa flamma conuoluitur ueruculo, ut sit modici põderis. à πῦρ etiã græca uoce ignem significãte Pyræus deducitur. Sic enim uocitatus est Atheniẽsium portus ab aduentantium peregrinorũ multitudine semp feruens. uel à Pyræo promontorio, ut quidam sentiunt, quod radijs solis exuritur. Et pyralis uermis in igne uiuens, de quo inferius dicemus. & Pyramus propriũ nomẽ, adolescens Memphiticus fuit, qui Thysbes amore ardens seipsum interemit. Item est hoc nomine flumen mstar Nili limum deferens, quod magnam Ciliciæ partẽ adiecit, de quo extat illud oraculum: Tunc erit undisonus late cum Pyramus olim Littora perfundens Cyprum labetur in alam. In medijs quippe Catoniæ campis nauigabilis defertur, & per angustias Tauri in Ciliciã elabens ad oppositum huic, & Cypro transitum erumpit. Et Pyrene mons Hispaniæ à creberis fulminum ignibus. Vnde Pyrenæus deducitur. quippe Pyrenæi montes uocitantur, qui in Hispania à Pyrene ortum habentes in Galliam protẽduntur usq; ad Alpes. Item Pyrenæus proprium nomen. Et Pyrodes Cilicis filius, qui primus è silice excussisse ignem dicitur, quemadmodum asseruasse in ferula Prometheus. & Pyrous nomen unius ex solis equis, quasi ardens, quemadmodum alius Aethon uocitatus est ἀπὸ τοῦ αἴθω cremo. Alius Phlegon παρὰ τὸ φλέγω ardeo. nam alius à lumine Eous appellatus est, quod mane assurgẽs orbẽ illuminet. ἕως enim græce lux est, unde ἑωσφόρος lucifer dicitur, pro quo nos Eoum dicimus. Et pyrgus turris, quod fulgureis ignibus feriri turres cõsueuerunt. à cuius similitudine pyrgus etiam uasis genus dicitur, quo iactari tali cõsueuerũt, Latine turricula dicitur. de qua Mar. Quærit compositos manus improba mittere talos. Si per me misit, nil nisi uota facit. à pyrgus qui

turrim significat, pyrgum dictum est nobilissimum Thusciæ castellum eo tẽpore, quo Tyrrheni piraticã exercebant. Si quidem piratæ dicuntur, qui maria latrocinijs infestant. unde ars ipsa piratica appellatur, sumpto uocabulo ab eo, qui primus hoc nomine mari infestus nauigãtibus fuit. & Pyrgoteles primum nomen. Ita enim uocatus est gemmarum sculptor nobilissimus, quod Alexãder Macedo edictum feciſſe perhibetur, ne imagines suæ ab alio, quàm à Pyrgotele sculperẽtur. & pyrites lapis, quod plurimus illi ignis sit, hunc nos ignarium dicimus: quidam etiam uiuum uocant, exploratoribus castrorũ maxime necessarius, quia clauo, uel altero lapide pcussus scintillas edit, quæ sulfuratis, aut fungis aridis, uel foliis exceptæ dicto celerius ignẽ trahunt, quin & molaris lapis pyrites uocatur, quod in eo quoque ignis conspiciatur. Est & alius pyrites æris similitudine in Cypro reperiri solitus, & circa Acarnaniã, cuius usus in medicina non paruus est. Et Apyrotus gemma, de qua inferius dicemus: , cui ignis non nocet. & pyretra herba, quam uulgo nunc draconem uocant aduren linguam, & mordicans tam folio, quàm radice, gratissima in acetarijs, ueruntamen nec salem, nec acetum exigens, cum utriusq; saporem in se habeat. Et pyra lignorum strues, in qua cremari corpora solebant. & pyromantia, de qua inferius dicemus. & ut quidam putant, pyrum, quod id genus pomi ad similitudinem pyramidis è lato in acutum tendat, flammæ similitudinẽ reddens, quãuis non per ypsilon, sed per i nostrum scribi usus obtinuerit. & pyrrhus rufus. à quo Pyrrhus proprium nomen, de quo inferius dicemus. & pyretus febris ab incendio appellata, quemadmodum apud nos febris à feruore. & pyrias fomentũ, quibus uocabulis medici nostri plerunq; utuntur, & pyrodes lapis, quem superius diximus pyritem appellari. pyr etiam nucleus oliuæ dicitur, quod facile ignẽ concipiat. Et pyros frumentũ. et pyrolabes, forfex, quod ea, quæ ignita sunt, capiat: sicut pyrobola malleus, q̃ ignita pcutiat. MIRACVLA. miraculum dicitur quicquid admirationem afferre potest, quasi sit contra naturã, propter quod ueteres mira, & miracula pro mõstris, atq; horrẽdis posuere. Plau. Nimia memoras mira. Virgili. Omnia commutat se in miracula rerum. hinc Accius personas distortas, oribus deformes miriones appellat. Mirius quoque antiqui dixere pro magis mirum. Varro: Nunquid hoc mirius? hæc à uerbo miror deducta sunt. mirari autem proprie est re aliqua, tanquam noua obstupefieri. Virgilius: Artificumq; manus inter se, operumq; laborem miratur. Aliquando tamen mirari est cum uoluptate, & delectatione intueri. Idem: Seu quis olympiacæ miratus præmia palmæ, Pascit equos. Sed cũ dicimus me miror, te miraris, se miratur, tunc mirari significat placere, & de se magnifice sentire. Martial. Qui se mirãtur, in illos. ab hoc fit cõpositum admiror, quod est aliquãdo stupore afficior. Cicero: Cum ob id uehementer admiratus in urbem redissem. Aliquando ueneror. Virg. Ille operum custos, illum admirãtur, & omnes circũstant, Ab hoc fit mirabile, & admirabile, quod admiratione dignũ est. & mirificum, & mirifice aduerbium, & mirum immodum, hoc est, in maiorem modum, & nimirum, quod significat certe. & admiratio pro stupore. & admirabũdus, hoc est, plenus admiratione. ASSIDVVS IACTET NEC BABYLONA LABOR. Nullus extollat amplius mœnia Babylonis, quod tãto labore ædificata sint. Babylon Mesopotamiæ urbs est, Chaldaicarũ gentiũ caput, quæ summã claritatẽ obtinuit in toto orbe, propter quã reliqua pars Mesopotamiæ, Assyriæq; Babylonia appellata est. muri ambitũ habet trecẽtorum, & octuaginta quinq; stadiorum: quorũ altitudo pedes duceni, latitudo quinquage ni in singulos pedes, ternis digitis mensura ampliore, quàm nostra: uia in mœnibus ipsis tam lata, ut quadrigæ sibi inuicem occurrentes facile pertrãsire possent. quapropter inter septem orbis spectacula numerantur. Hanc urbem Semiramis cõdidit, quam cum aliquãdo circa cultum corporis occupata desecisse intellexisset, soluta adhuc altera crinium parte ad eam recuperandam cucurrit, nec prius decorem capillorum redegit in ordinẽ, quàm urbem in suam potestatem restitutam uidit: tantæ alioquin libidinis, ut nõ modo filium, sed equum quoq; usq; in coitum amauerit, quamlonge in hoc ab Othone differens: qui cum Romanis omniũ gentium fortissimis imperaret, speculum in bello ciuili contra Vitellium deferebat, ut se, dã tolli signa iuberet, armatum, comptumq; intueretur. à Babylone Babylonij dicũtur, quẽadmodũ à Calydone Calydonij. Item babylonicus adiectiuum. unde babylonicæ uestes dictæ. NEC. & non neq;, & quod ab eo per apocopen factũ est, nec in copulatiuam, & negationem resoluuntur, id est, in & non: ut nõ feci hoc, neq; facerem. sed si sequatur enim, uel uero, similis negationis uim habet: ut nec enim id facerem, id est, non enim facerem. Ponitur nec aliquando pro etiam. Quin. Persolui gratia nõ potest, nec malo patri. Cicero quidẽ hoc modo dicendi nõ utitur, nec unq;, & uel nec, pro etiã ponit, quod ferè omnes posteriores fecere. ASSIDVVS. iugis, continuus, ab assideo uerbo, quod in ea re, quã continue agimus, quasi cõsedisse uideamur. unde assiduitas pro diligentia ponitur, & è contrario resides dicuntur segnes, atq; otiosi. Aliquãdo assiduus pro frequẽs capitur. Virgi. Assiduus ueniebat. Assidui etiã dicebantur, qui locupletes erant, & facile, cum id tempus postulabat, munera populo præstabãt: & tunc ab asse, hoc est ære dãdo dicuntur. Item assiduos aliquãdo dictos inuenimus, qui asse fuit, hoc est sua pecunia, & sine stipendio militabãt. LABOR. Opera, defatigatio in mœnibus ædificãdis. Antiqui in nominatiuo labos dicebãt, sicut arbos, honos, colos, uapos, clamos: quæ etiam apud probatissimos authores frequenter reperiuntur, sicut è contrario, Valesius, Fusiusq; pro Valerius, & Furius, & libesum pro liberum. Ab hoc nomine laboro uerbum deriuatur, quod interdum est fatigor, & cum labore ago. Sene. Iugiter fodiendo laborat. unde & laborare p metaphoram capimus pro male habere, propter quod laborare febre, laborare podagra, laborare dolore dentiũ dicimus. Plin. Succus eius podagra laborãtibus prodest. interdũ enitor, conor: quod etiã eius compositũ elaboro significat. Cicero: Nihil enim mihi ita elaborãdum est, quàm ut consilia nostra nemo intelligat. Et aliud cõpositum eius illaboro, quod significat labore uaco. unde inelaboratum, atq; illaboratum deducuntur, quæ ita inter se differunt, quod inelaboratum dicitur, quod nõ satis artificio excultum est. Illaboratũ uero, quod sine labore uidetur factum, illud uitio dari solet, hoc laudi. Quin. de Cicerone: Cum interim hæc omnia, quæ uix singula quisquam intentissima cura consequi posset, fluunt illaborata, & illa, qua nihil pulchrius auditu est, oratio præ se fert tã felicissimam facultatem. Aliquãdo compono, colo. Vir. Arte laboratæ uestes, id est cõpositæ. & laboratum agrum, cultum appellamus. Hinc laboriosus homo dicitur laboris sustinẽs, & laboriosum opus difficile, & quod non sine labore perficitur, & laborinus Campaniæ nobilis campus, in quo adeo pinguis terra est, ut stipulam tantæ crassitudinis faciat, quod ea incolæ pro ligno utũtur. Propterea dictus laborinus, quod ingens labor est in eo colendo: Quippe solum habet arduũ opere, difficile cultu, bonis suis. ut Plini. inquit, penè acrius, quàm uitijs quem pascit, affligit agricolam. Græci phlegræum appellant, ἀπὸ τοῦ φλέγειν, quod est urere. atque inflammare.

quoniam ea terra prælio rum concitatrix fuit, dum ibi gigantum bellum exarsit. Duo enim phlegræi campi sunt, alter in Græcia, ubi cum gigantibus à Ioue pugnatum est: alter in Campania, in quo Hercules cum ijs prælium commisit. De quo Strabo: Fortunatus erat & campus nomine Phlegræus: in quo res à gigantibus gestas fabulæ diuulgãt, nullam aliam ob causam, ut credi fas est, quàm quod terra ipsa suapte natura prælio rum concitatrix est. De hoc campo sic scribit Plinius: Quãtum autem uniuersas terras campus Campanus antecedit, tantum ipsum pars eius, quæ laboriæ uocantur. Finiuntur labo-10 riæ uia ab utroq; latere consulari, quæ à puteolis, & quæ à Cumis Capuam ducit. Quidam laborẽ à labo dictum putant, quod non sine labore surgunt, quæ facile ceciderunt: labare enim ruere est, & repente cadere. Virgi. Labat ariete crebro ianua. à quo fit labasco. Terentius: Labascit uictus uno uerbo. Et utrunq; primã syllabam correptam habet: reperitur q; etiam labascor. Var. Postquam uidi misericordia labasci mentem infirmam populi. Labor autem uerbum producit primam syllabam, ac significat leuiter, ac sensim descendo. Cice. Non 20 quasi unum ex hac urbe missum, sed quasi de cœlo delapsum in hanc urbem intuentur. Labi etiam dicimus eos, qui in lubrico figentes uestigia in terram ruunt. Vnde lapsus aliquando pro ruina accipitur: & per translationem eos: qui uel à nimia infirmitate, uel imprudentia deliquerunt, lapsos nominamus. Elabi quoq; est periculum fugere: nam quemadmodũ anguis lubricus, & murena, & anguilla manu prehensa lapsu fugiunt, quod est è manu elabuntur, ita qui è medio periculo euadunt, elapsi dicũtur. Plau. Quid? cum manifesto tenetur, anguilla est, elabitur. Virgilius: Ecce autẽ elapsus Pyrrhi de cæde Polites. Cicero per translationẽ: hic fratre suo censore, 30 qui proximus ante me fuerat, elapsus est: hoc est accusatorũ, ueluti præsentium manus effugit. à labor deducitur lubricus, quasi labricus. Est autem proprie lubricus, in quo quis insistere, & ingredi non potest, quin labatur: quales sunt herbæ profusæ sanguine, marmora leuigata, glacies congelata, & huiusmodi. Hinc per translationem lubricam adolescentiam uocamus: in qua qui sunt, facile labuntur. Anguilla quoq;, & murena, & similia lubrica dicuntur. Et pes lubricus, quod in lubrico est. Et oculi lubrici, quod in lubrico positi sint, ita ut nõ possint consistere. Hinc lubrici (ut quidã existimant) appellati, de 40 quibus inferius dissercmus. Item ab eadem composita fiunt allabor, quo poëtæ utuntur pro iuxta nauigo. Claudianus: Sicubi allabitur oris. Item interlabor, id est, inter aliquid labor: delabor, deorsum labor: elabor effugio, & eiusdem penè significationis. Dilabor, prolabor idem ferè, quod labor: prælabor antelabor. Illabor intra labor, collabor, uel labor, uel simul cum aliquo labor. à labor fit labilis, qui facile labitur. et labes, quæ modo ruinã significat. Virg. Hinc mihi prima mali labes. modo maculam, tractum ab oleo, aut alio liquore, quod in uestem lapsa eam fœdent. Hinc fit labefacere, & frequentati-50 uum eius labefactare, quæ significant interficere, maculare, lassum quoque à labore dictum pleriq; existimant. Significat autem tam corpore, quàm animo fatigatum: hoc est labore affectum. unde lassitudo pro defatigatione accipitur, & ea molestia, quam ex labore suscepimus. Laxum uero à lato deducitur, propriéq; latum significat, & spatij maioris. Virgilius: Et primum laxos tenui de uimine Cyclos Ceruici subnecte. à quo laxo uerbum. dilato, remitto. & laxitas dilatatio, remissio, relaxatio: nam & relaxo ab eodem deriuatur. Cicero. Et admittenda hominum cuiusq; modi multitudo, adhibenda est cura la-60 xitatis. Et laxum aduerbium pro late. Martialis: Et adhuc supererat centies tibi laxum. Aliquando tamen laxum significat molle, remissum, languidum. Virgilius: Et premere, et laxas sciret dare iussus habenas. Vnde laxi rudentes, laxi funes dicuntur: hoc est languidi, semiconsumpti: & uela laxa quando uenti non flant. A laxum fit prolixum, quasi porrò laxum, quod longum, latumq; est: & aliquando superfluum. Vnde prolixam orationem, prolixum iter, prolixa uerba dicimus: à quo prolixe aduerbium, lõge, lateq;. & prolixitas longitudo, quæ & prolixitudo à ueteribus dicta est. Pacuui. Oro, in me ne flectas fandi prolixitudinẽ. IACTET, laudet, extollat. Iactare proprie est frequenter iacere. Sene. Dum lapillos iactaret in puteum. ponitur & pro suo primogenio. Virg. Et dextra iactata recumbit in armo. Per metaphoram autem aliquando iactare pro uoluere accipimus. Idem: Atque illum talcis iactantem pectore curas: modo pro fatigare, concutere, uexare, affligere. Idẽ: Iactatos æquore toto Troias reliquias Danaũm, atq; immitis Achilli. Cicero: Iactatur domi suæ uir primarius. et homo honestissimus pro se quisq; manus afferet. ex quo apparet ridiculam esse differentiam, quam facit Seruius, cũ inquit: iactamur in mari fluctibus, fatigamur in terris, cum Virg. ipse dicat: Multũ ille & terris iactatus, & alto. ab hoc fit iactura pro damno. & quoniam uerba, quæ uel inaniter, uel temere effunduntur, quodammodo iactari uidentur, factum est, ut iactare interdum sit inaniter loqui, Virgilius: Talia iactanti stridens Aquilone procella uelũ aduersa ferit. modo temere laudare, ut hoc loco, & apud eundem Virgilium: Quem iuxta sequitur iactantior Ancus. ab hoc iactantia deriuatur, quæ est inanis de se, & stulta prædicatio. à Cicerone etiam iactatio dicitur, & definitur uoluptas gestiens, & sese efferens insolentius, iactanter aduerbiũ, cum iactantia significat, & similiter iactuose, quo usus est Cicero: Cũ sint multa iactuose dicta. & alibi nomine eius est usus: cum sint luminosæ, & quasi iactuosæ partes duæ. iactabundus pro gloriabundo accipitur, & sese inaniter iactante. iacto à iacio deductum est, quod modo significat emitto. Apuleius: Multis in eum lapidibus iactis. à quo iactum dicitur quicquid iaci in longum potest. & iaculor uerbum. Claudianus: Latis iaculatus in aruis: & iaculatio pro iactu, & emissione. & iaculus serpentis genus, qui subit arbores, è quibus ui maxima uibrat: penetrat animal quodcũq; obuium fortuna fecerit. Lucanus: Et natrix uiolator aquæ, iaculiq; uolucres. & iaculamentum pro iaculatione. Et quo Apuleius utitur, iaculamẽ, & iaculator, & iaculatrix. Modo iacio significat pono. Cic, In quo tẽplo, quantum in me fuit, ieci fundamenta pacis. Virgili. Omnis in hac certam regio iacit arte salutem. à iacio cõposita fiunt adijcio, quod est addo, adiungo. à quo grãmatici adiectiua dixerunt, quæ substantiuis adiungũtur. Dicimus autẽ adijcio huic rei, & adijcio ad hanc rem. circumijcio, circũ aliquid iacio. interijcio, inter aliquid iacio. unde circumiecta impedimenta dicimus, & interiectum tẽpus, hoc est interpositum. Et apud grammaticos interiectio pars orationis, quæ in oratione interponitur. obijcio. oppono. unde obiectus oppositio cuiuscunq; rei, ac etiam uerborum dicitur, & obex, quod proprie significat obiectum, siue obiectionem cuiuscunq; rei. Virgilius: Intra se uasti Proteus tegit obice saxi. Quapropter pessulum, seramq; hostiorum obices dicimus. Philosophi neutro genere obiectum uocãt, quicquid cerni potest, hoc est, quicquid oculis obijcitur. obijcio etiam aliquando est repente ostendo. Claudianus: Ex templo sese medijs obiecit in aruis. traijcio, quod interdum est trãsporto, Sallustius: Iam omnem exercitũ traiecerat. Interdum transeo. Iustinus: Postquam copiæ omnes amnem traiecere. Aliquando etiam utrunque coniunctim. Liuius: Traiecit copias Hiberum. Plautus: Traiecit exercitum Isarã. traiectius, & ctus & transfretationem, & transitum significat. est quando traijcio pro extendo positum reperiatur. Virgil. Et uolucrem traiecto fune columbam. Quò tendunt ferrum malo suspendit ab alto. Traiectitia pecunia, ut Modestinus affirmat, dicitur quæ trans mare uehitur: quod si eodẽ loco cõsummatur, nõ est traiectitia. Abijcio eiusdẽ ferè cũ proijcio significationis. Vnde abiectus dicitur homo uilis, atq; cõtemptus. Proiectus uero puer expositus, qui si educatur proiectitius uocatur. Porricio quasi porrò, hoc est ualde iacio, quod uerbum solenne sacrificantibus erat. Veranius: Exta porriciunto Dijs in altaria, 10 arãm ue, focum ue, eõue, quo exta dari debebunt. Virgilius cũ sacrificium Dijs maris faceret: Dij, quibus imperium est pelagi, quorũ æquora curro uobis lætus ego hoc candentẽ in litore taurum constituam ante aras uoti reus, extaq; falsos porriciam in fluctus; & uina liquentia fundam. Plautus: Nam si sacrificem sum no Ioui, atq; in manibus exta teneam, ut porricem. Interea loci si turi quid detur, potius rem diuinam deferam. Porrò interdum idem significat, quod uero, & autem, quæ ita collocantur frequenter, ut nunquam referãtur, sed tãtum sententiam à sententia distinguant. Verum hoc ab illis differt, quod illæ nunquam in fronte sententiæ collocãtur. Porrò 20 uero sæpius. Quintilianus: Porrò qui consensum defendit, nõ absolutionem sceleris petit, sed licentiã per illa diceremus, qui uero, uel qui autem consensum defendit. Interdum uero porrò significat longe, ualde, certe, postea, ultra. Ideo sæpe non in principio sententiæ, sed in medio inuenitur. Virg. Hinc maxima porrò accepit Roma, & patrium seruauit honorẽ, id est postea, uel post longum interuallum. Est q; aduerbium temporis. deijcio, quod proprie est deorsum mitto. Virgili. Toto genitrix, quæ plurimo cœlo deijcit in terras. Aliquando ponitur pro depello. Cic. Si me ædilitate deiecisset. Aliquãdo pro auerto. Idẽ: Nec uero usquam, nec à republica deijciebam oculos. hinc fiunt deiectus, & deiectio notæ significationis. Eijcio pro prie excludo. Virg. Nec non Tarquinum eiectum Porsenna iubebat accipere. Aliquando extendo. Idem: Eiectoq; incumbit cernuus armo. eiectum idem pro naufrago posuit: eiectum litore egentem excepi. Ab hoc fit eiectitium adiectiuum. Plini. Vulua eiecto partu melior, quam edito, eiectitia uocatur illa, hæc porcaria. Proijcio, abijcio, ut diximus. Cic. Quid si eũ ex urbe proieceris? Aliquãdo porrò iacio, extẽdo, porrigo. Vir. Proiectáque saxa Pachini. & alibi: Proiecto dum pede leuo aptat se pugnæ. Sisenna: Vetus atq; ingẽs erat arbor ilex, quæ circum proiectis ramis, maiorem partem loci summi tegebat. ab hoc fit proiectus quartæ declinationis pro extensione, & porrectione. Lucret. Quilibet immani proiectu corporis extet. Inijcio intro iacio. Plautus: Ante quàm hæc in domũ inijcias. uel in aliquid iacio. Idem: Inijciam in eum manum. à quo manus iniectio dicitur. Est autem manus iniectio nõ pulsatio, & ui facta iniuria, ut legulei nostri temporis accipiũt, sed uendicatio rei nobis debitæ nulla iudicum autoritate expectata. Quintil. Patri in filium, patrono in libertum manus iniectio fit. Paulus: Si Titius seruum uendidit ea lege, ut si Romæ manumissus esset, manus inijcere liceret, emptor alij eadem lege uendidit, & seruus fugit à secundo emptore, & Romæ moratur, quæro an sit manus iniectio, & cui? Vir. Iniecere manũ Parcæ, hoc est traxerunt debitum sibi. Subijcio modo subdo, suppono. Idẽ: Et ramea costis subijciũt fragmenta. Aliquãdo subiugo. Cicero, Tot sibi populis repente subiectis. unde subices Ennius pro subiectis posuit: Ergo deũ sublimis subices, humidus unde oritur imber sonitu sæuo, & strepitu. Aliquãdo etiã subijcio noue pro sursum iacio ponitur. Virgili. Quantum uere nouo uiridis se subijcit alnus. Reijcio modo retro iacio, repello. Vir. A flumine reijce capellas. modo refuto, abijcio. Apuleius: Me uero tanquam inutilem reiecerunt. à quo reiculæ dictæ sunt oues, aut ætate, aut morbo graues. Cato: Et ut in grege opilio minus idoneas oueis remouere solet, quas reiculas appellant. Reijcio etiam honeste pro euomo ponitur. Plin. Vini plusculũ si à ieiuno sumatur, deinde reijciatur. Inde reiectio & reiectus pro uomitu. Idem: Et uernatio utilis erit, si postq; sorpta fuerit, statim reiectio sequatur. Celsius: Et reiectus cibi non erit inutilis, si raro fiat. Amicio, induo, circumijcio. à quo 10 amictus, indutus. & amiculum uestimenti genus, quod instar pallij humeris circumijcitur. amicinum uero utris pediculum est, ex quo uinum diffunditur. Veteres amicibor usurpauere. Plau. Subnixus alis me inferam, atq; amicibor gloriose. amites uero aucupales pticæ dicuntur. Cõijcio, interdũ iacio. Virgil. Telum q; imbelle, sine ictu cõiecit. Interdum certo. Afran. Noli matrẽ me præsente cum patre conijcere. Aliquãdo ago. Idẽ: Causam cõijcere hodie apud te uolo. Ambon' adestis? prosuturos arbitror. nonnunquã absconso. Plaut. Conijce, cõde, cæla, ne quis uideat. Plerunque subtiliter considero, & quasi futurum intueor. à quo fit coniecto, & coniector eiusdẽ signi-20 ficationis: & coniectus directio quædam rationis ad ueritatem. à quo dicta est coniectura. à quo apud rhetores status cõiecturalis. unde etiam somniorum, atque ominum interpretes coniectores uocamus. Et coniecturarium dicimus efficax, atq; perfectum. Cicero: Illud uero mihimet coniecturarium. MOLLES. Non duri, non solidi, atq; constantes, quales sunt amphitheatri, quod duro marmore cõstat: & hoc inquit, propter uitigineum simulachrum, ac scalam, & cætera armamenta lignea, quæ comparatione lapidum, ex quibus ædificatum est amphitheatrum, mollia sunt. Constat sanè in templo 30 Ephesiæ Dianæ, de quo loquitur, tectum fuisse è cedrinis trabibus, simulachrum uero Deæ uitigineum, multis additis foraminibus, ex quibus narduus fluebat, ut medicatus humor aleret, contineret q; iuncturas. Item scalis tectum scandi solitum uite una Cypria. Valuas uero fuisse ex cupresso, quæ post quadringentos annos ita durabant, ut nouis similes uiderẽtur. Huius templi architectus Cresiphon traditur. Incensum olim fuit ab Herostrato ea duntaxat ratione, ut ob aliquod facinus nominaretur, rursus q; ornamentis à mulieribus collatis ædificatum. Mollis proprie significat tenerum, & contrarium duri, à mouendo quasi mobilis, quod in quacunque parte facile trahi, ac moueri possit. Virg. Quid nemora Aethiopum molli canentia lana? Idem: Mollia luteola pingit uaccinia calta. Inde fit, quod cum homine iunctum, modo laudem significat, modo uituperationem. Laudem, ut molle ingenium, quod facile discit, facile q; insculpitur: uituperationem, ut mollis homo, id est effœminatus, non seuerus, non fortis, non animi constantis, resistentis q; fortunæ. Per metaphoram uero, quoniam ea, quæ tenera sunt, pro uoluntate nostra facile tractamus, & quocũq; libet ducimus: mollem aliquando pro domito ponimus. Virgilius: Belgica, uel molli melius feret esseda collo. uel pro facili. Idem: Iuuat ire iugis, qua nulla priorum Castalium molli diuertitur orbita cliuo. uel pro maturo. Idem: Sunt nobis mitia poma, castaneæ molles, & pressi copia lactis. unde uina mollia dicuntur, id est defecata, & asperitate carẽtia. uel pro opportuno ac tẽpestiuo. Idem: Sola uiri molles aditus, & tempora noras. uel pro remisso, & cõtemnendo. Idẽ: Tua Mecœnas haud mollia iussa. uel pro suaui, ac iucundo. Idem: Molles q; sub arbore somni. uel pro placido. Cice. Et Annibalem iuueniliter exultantem patientia sua molliebat. Hinc fit mollicies, & molliter aduerbium, & mollio mollis, quod est placo, & compositum ab eo emollio, & mollesco, & mollifico, & mollificatio.

& mollefacio, & mulceo, quod est delinio, quasi molliceo, unde demulceo, mulsum, aqua mulsa, & mulciber, de quibus inferius dicemus. Et mollitudo pro mollicie. Cicero: Lenitudo orationis, mollitudo corporis. & mollusca genus nucis à mollicie ita appellata, de qua inferius dicemus. & malleus, ut quidam putãt, fabrile instrumentũ uulgo notum, uel quod res duras molliat, quasi molleus. uel quod ea, quæ dura sunt, mollitur ad ignẽ, ut malleis flagellẽtur. à malleo fit diminutiuũ malleolus, quod modo paruum malleum significat, modo nouellũ palmitem uitis innatum prioris anni flagello, cognominatum ab ipsius mallei similitudine, uel quod in ea parte, quæ decidi tur ex ueteri sarmento, prodiens utrinq; malleoli speciem præbet. uel quod, ut Plin. ait, solebat capitulatus utrinque è duro surculus seri, eoq; argumento malleolus etiam nunc uocatur. Et mulier, quasi mollier. & mollicina uestis à mollicie. Nonius: Mollicinã chiroditam, reciniũ. HONORES. Pulchritudines. Honor enim proprie dicitur reuerentia, & dignitas, quæ quauis ex causa alicui exhibetur. Virgilius: Nec me tali dignor honore. Cicero: Tu, cum ea, quæ es à Senatu summo cũ honore tuo cõsecutus. quoniã uero multa sunt, propter quæ exhibere honorem solemus, factum est, ut pro diuersitate subiectæ materiæ hoc uocabulum diuersa significet. Hinc aliquando honorem pro pulchritudine ponimus, ut hoc loco, & apud Virg. Frigidus, & syluis Aquilo decussit honorẽ. Aliquando pro obseruantia, & cultu. Idem: Semper honore meo, semp celebrabere donis. Nonnunq; pro pudicitia. Idẽ: Et rapti Ganymedis honores. modo pro hostia. Idem: Meritos aris mactabat honores. Interdum pro præmio. Idẽ: Ipsis præcipue doctoribus addit honores. Plerunq; pro sepultura. Idem: Cernit ibi mœstos, & mortis honore carẽtes. Item pro sacrificio. Idẽ: Forte die solennem illo rex Arcas honorem Amphytrioniadæ magno, diuisq; ferebat. Item pro dilectione, & amore. Idem: Per siquis amatæ tangit honos animum. honorem municipalem appellat Callistratus Iurisconsul. reip. administrationem cum dignitatis gradu, siue cũ sumptu, siue sine erogatione cõtingens. honori non cedere, est parem esse meritis accipientis in dandis muneribus. Virg. Nec cedit honori, Testilibusq; onerat donis: Ab honore dictũ est ius honorarium, ius prætoris. Item honorarij ludi, quos & liberarios uocabant, & honoro uerbũ, quod est colo, & ueneror. & honorum adiectiuũ, sicut à cano canorum, & honorificum, quod est plenum honoris. Vnde fit honorifice aduerbium, & honorificentia nomen. & honestum, quod modo probum significat. à quo honestas, & honestitudo deducuntur, & honeste aduerbium, & honestum substantiuum, quod uirtutem & probitatem significat. Desinitur q; Honestũ est, quo cauetur, ne quid indecore, effœmina te, libidinose, turpiter fiat, cogitetur ue, & quãuis à nullo laudetur, est ipsa natura laudabile. modo pulchrum. Vnde inhonestum dicimus turpe. Terentius: Illum ne obsecro inhonestũ senem, & mulierem? LAVDENTVR. Celebrentur, extollantur. Laudare enim aliquãdo est uerbis extollere. Virgil. Laudato ingentia rura. Aliquando nommare. Plau. Id ut scias, Iouem supremum testem laudo Egio. Vnde illaudatus dicitur, qui ne nominari quidem dignus est, hoc est, illaudabilis, nec unquã nominandus: sicuti quondam à communi consilio Asiæ decretum fuit, uti nomen eius, qui templum Dianæ, de quo hic poëta sentit, Ephesi incenderat, ne quis ullo tẽpore nominaret. Virgilius: Quis aut Eurysthea durum, aut illaudati nescit Busyridis aras? & elaudare ueteres usurparũt pro eo, quod est plus, quàm nominare. Varro: Elaudat, nomen q; eius millies repetit. Quidam tamen illaudatum dictum putant, quod nihil faciat laude dignum, nam sicut omnis cula-

Pæ priuatio inculpatum facit, inculpatus autem instar est absolutæ uirtutis. ita qui omni laude caret, illaudatus est, quod est finis extremæ maliciæ. Nemo enim ita feris est moribus, quin aliquando faciat, aut dicat, quod laudari possit. Vnde antiquissimus ille uersus uice prouerbij celebratus est. πολλάκι καὶ μικρὸς ἀνὴρ μάλα καίριον εἶπεν. hoc est, Sæpe etiam est olitor ualde opportuna locutus. à laudo deriuatur laus, quæ proprie uirtus est non aliunde proueniens, sed suis nixa radicibus. Virgilius: Primam merui qui laude coronam. & laudatio quæ est ipsa laudantis oratio. Interdum etiam laus pro laudatione ponitur. & laudatiuum genus apud rhetores, quod & demonstratiuum dicitur. & laudabile, quod laudari merito potest, & collaudo compositum eiusdem cum suo simplici significationis. Quidam tamen non laudem à laudo, sed laudo à laude dictum uolunt. Laudem autem appellatam ἀπὸ τοῦ λαοῦ, hoc est, à populo, quod proprie laus sit uox populi de aliquo recta loquentis. TEMPLO. In templo. templum hoc loco ædem sacram significat, frequentérque in hunc sensum accipitur: Proprie tamen templum est locus, uel in cœlo notatus ab augure, uel in terra à tuendo, hoc est cõspiciendo dictum, quod ex omni parte, uel ex quo omnis pars aspici posset. Primo autẽ cœlum ipsum dictum est templum, quia ipsum primo tuemur. Ennius: Contremuit templum magnum Iouis altitonantis. Eius quatuor partes dicuntur, sinistra ab oriente, dextra ab occasu, antica ad meridiem, postica ad septentrionem. In terris autem dictum templum, quod quibusdam conceptis uerbis ab augure finiebatur, unde tueri quanc̃unq; cœli partem commode posset. à quo contemplo, siue contemplor deducta sunt, pro conspicor, & diligenter intueor. Ennius: Contempla, & templum Cæreris ad læuã aspice. Ponitur etiam pro considero. unde contemplatio pro consideratione accipitur. unde contemplatiua uita, quæ contemplationi dedita est, differt q; ab actiua. & extemplo aduerbium, quod significat continuo, siue, ut Varro inquit, quod omne templum debet continue septum esse, nec plus, quàm unum introitum habere, siue quod post templum factum illico captãtur auguria, seu quod augures statim uisis auspicijs, uel à templo cœli oculos auertebant, uel è templo terræ discedebant. ab hoc templo etiam alia loca septa, & unum tantum introitum habentia dici templa cœpere, etiam si sacra non essent, quippe curia hostilia templum erat, licet sacra non esset. deinde ædes quoque sacræ templa appellata sunt. unde & in cœlo templa dicuntur, quasi Deorum ædes. Ennius: ò magna templa cœli cõmista stellis splendidis, & in terra. Idem: Scrupea saxa Bacchi tẽpla propè aggreditur, & sub terra. Idẽ: Acherontia tẽpla alta orci saluete infera. Item templum uocatur tignum, quod in sacro ædificio transuersum ponitur. Capitur etiam aliquando pro sepulchro. Virgilius: Præterea fuit in tectis de marmore templum coniugis antiqui. TRIVIAE. Dianæ, quæ nemorum, & syluarum Dea erat, & uenationi indulgebat, propter quod mos uenatorum erat, prædæ partem huic Deæ offerre. Papinius: Et diues prædæ tamen accipit omni exuuias Diana tholo. triuia autẽ dicebatur: quod triuijs præesset, propter quod tres facies habere fingebatur. Ouid. Ora uides Hecates in tres uergentia partes, Seruet ut in ternas compita secta uias. Virg. Tria uirginis ora Dianæ. Intelligit autẽ templum Dianæ Ephesiæ. Ephesus Lydiæ urbs est Amazonũ opus. templũ habuit Dianæ ducentis uiginti annis à tota Asia factum in solo palustri, ne terræmotus sentiret: rursus, ne tantæ molis fundamenta in lubrico parum firma essent, ea primo carbonibus, deinde lanæ uelleribus substrauere. centum uiginti septem columnæ in hoc templo fuerunt à singulis regibus factæ bus factæ, sexaginta pedum altitudine: inter quas triginta sex cælatæ fuerunt miro artificio. Diana Iouis, & Latonæ fuit filia eodem partu ædita cum Apolline. hanc perpetua uirginitate insignem tradidere, quod spreto hominum consortio, syluas coluerit uenationibus uacans: & paucarum uirginum comitatu contenta, arcum ferebat, & pharetram, succincta semper incedens, & cothurnos induta. Ob hanc causam syluarũ, & nemorũ dea putabatur. Hæc creditur luna esse dicta, quod noctu sola luceat, quasi lucens una, quapropter & in palatio noctiluca uocabatur: quod ibi noctu templũ eius luceret, siue quod lumen à sole accipiat: propter quod σελήνη à Græcis uocatur, quod σέλας splendorem significet, ἄνω desuper. Cicero: Tum illa, quæ luce lucet aliena. Diana uero iccirco appellata est, quod quasi diem noctu efficiat, uel quasi diuana, quod duobus temporibus die scilicet, nocteq; appareat. ab ea Dianus dicebatur locus ei deæ cõsecratus. Eadem & Iuno Lucina appellatur. Iuno à iuuando, Lucina, siue quod partũ in lucem prodat, siue, ut Plinius sentit, quod oculis præsit, & luci: siue à luco, quem Romæ in exquilijs habebat. Et Proserpina, uel quod græca uoce περσεφόνη. uocatur, uel à serpendo. ueteres enim proserpere, & serpere dixerunt. Plautus: Quasi proserpens bestia. Serpere enim luna uidetur, dũ modo in dextram, modo in sinistram partem mouetur: propter quod etiam omniuaga nuncupatur. Et Dictynna, quod cũ Minoëm regem uim ei inferre uolentẽ fugeret, in mari sese præcipitem fertur dedisse, cadauerq; eius à piscatoribus inuentum: propter quod retibus, quæ græce δίκτυα dicuntur, nomen ei impositum. Cum q; posthac pestilentia in Creta insula orta fuisset, habito responso, ut ædem Dianæ construerent, ædificatũ ei templum fuisse: Dianam q; ipsam Dictynnam uocitatam, et montem in quo templum situm erat, Dictynnum dictum. Et Delia, de qua inferius. Et Hecate, quod Proserpina uel centũ uictimis placaretur, ut instituit Menelaus, uel centũ annos errare faceret insepultos. Græci enim ἑκατὸν centum, à quo hecatombe centũ boum sacrificium dicunt: & hecatompylon oppidum centum portarum. Dicitur etiam Pergæa à Perga oppido Pamphiliæ, in quo templum habuit insigne. Ideo autẽ præesse partui creditur hæc dea, quod fœtus aut septem, ut nõnunquam, aut plerunque nouem lunæ cursibus, quos ἀπὸ τοῦ μηνὸς menses uocant, maturescunt. DISSIMVLET'QVE DEVM CORNIBVS ARA FREQVENS. Apud Nasamonas Libyæ populos colebatur Iupiter in forma arietis, in cuius templo erãt aræ centũ. Vir. Templa Iouis centũ latis immania regnis, Centum aras posuit. De hoc templo loquitur nũc poëta. Est ergo sensus. & ara frequens non dissimulet deum cornibus. hoc est nõ iactet se amplius magnificentia templi, in quo dissimulatur deus sub specie arietis: hoc est, ita colitur, ut dissimulato deo, arietis imago ostẽdatur. Q_VE, Et. Vir. O terq; quaterq; beati. Aliquando pro quia accipitur. Cicero: Non solum nobis nati sumus. ortus q; nostri partẽ patria uendicat, partẽ amici. Aliquando pro id est. Plau. Rudis est, nescit q; quid expediat. Nõnunquam completiua coniunctio est. Virgilius: Alcandrum q; Halum q;, Hæmona q;, Pritanium q;. Quãdo q; uenustatis duntaxat gratia duplicatur, præsertim in rebus diuersis. Idem: Egregiam uero laudem, & spolia ampla refertis, Tu q;, puer q; tuus. Idem: ò rex hominũ q;, deũm q;. Sallustius: Se q;, nobis q; dignum est. Est quando significat etiã. Apuleius: Id ei, serio q; loquenti non crederem, hoc est etiã serio loquenti: quod in nec, & ne q; similiter contingit. Quintilianus: Persolui gratia non potest nec malo patri, hoc est etiam malo patri. cõponitur cum quis, qui, quæ, quod, uel quid, & per se, ut quisque, quique, quæque, quodque, quidq; & adiecta cum simul, cum qui, quæ, quod, ut quicunq; quæcunq; quodcunq; & præpositione abs, ut abs q;: & cum aduerbio, ut neq;, quod per apocopen dicitur nec. & cum coniunctione, ut atque. quæ uero relatiuum cum diphthongo scribitur ad differentiam huius, quam legem & ab eo deriuata seruant, ut quænam, quædam, quæpiam, quæro, & similia. Quæro enim à quæ, & res cõpositum esse constat: cum nihil aliud sit quærere, quàm quæ sit res aliqua inuestigare. ARA, Altare, locus, in quo dijs sacrificia fiebant. hoc tamen inter altare, & aram interesse quidam existimant, quod aræ superis, atq; inferis dijs constituebantur, altaria tantum superis. Virg. En quatuor aras, Ecce duas tibi Daphni, duo q; altaria Phœbo. Ab altitudine altaria dicta, qd ueteres dijs superis in ædificijs à terra erectis sacrificia faciebant: dijs terrestribus in terra, dijs inferis in effossa terra. aræ uero dictæ sunt quasi ansæ. Vasa enim erant, quæ tripodes dicebantur, propter quod Varro in libro rerum diuinarum scribit, aras primo ansas dictas, quod esset necessarium à sacrificantibus eas teneri. ansis autem, hoc est, manubrijs teneri uasa solere manifestum est. quoniam ergo qui immolabant non Deos modo uoce precabantur, sed etiam manibus aras apprehendebant, primo ansæ dictæ, deinde commutatione literarum aræ uocari cœptæ: ut Valesius, Fusius, odos, colos, labos, napos, elamos, honos, ueteres dixerũt pro Valerius, Furius, color, labor, uapor, clamor, honor. Item maiosibus, meliosibus, lasibus, fesijs, pro maioribus, melioribus, laribus, ferijs. Hinc Virgili. Talibus orantẽ dictis, aras q; tenentẽ. Idem: Tango aras, medios igneis, ac numina testor. Erat tamen duntaxat ara, apud quam nulla hostia cædebatur, sed tantum solennes preces adhibebantur. Cloacius: Deli, ara est Apollinis χνυσόκομος, in qua nullum animal sacrificatur: quam Pythagoram uelut inuiolatam adoratũsse produnt. Cato: Nutrix hæc omnia faciebat in uerbenis, ac rubis sine hostijs, ut Deli ad Apollinis genitiui aram. Quidam tamen aras ab arendo dictas existimant, quod in ijs uictimæ adolerentur. ab hac ara nonnulli aream deductam existimant, quod sicut hæc ara pura est, ita areæ in urbe, siue in domo loca pura sunt. id est sine ædificio: uel qđ sicut aræ flãmis, ita areæ solis ardore torrentur. & area ubi segetes purgantur sine herbis. quamuis hanc quidam ab ariditate uocatam putant, quod exaruerit, nec possit quicquam generare. Virgilius: Area quam primum ingenti est æquanda cylindro, & uertenda manu, & creta solidanda tenaci, ne subeant herbæ, neu puluere uicta fatiscat. ab area diminutiuum est areola. hara autem cum aspiratione stabulum est porcorum. Cicero: Ex hara productæ, non schola. nam ouium, boum, aliorum q; huiusmodi claustra, & receptacula mãdram uocamus. Iuuenalis: Et stantis conuicia mandræ Eripiunt somnum Druso. Est etiã hara, si Seruio credimus, auis quædam auguralis, à qua haruspex, & hariolus sunt deducta. ego uero nihil usquam de hac aue memini me legisse: neque apud Græcos Aristoteles, aut Theophrastus, neque apud nos Plin. mentionem eius facit. ita q; potius aruspicem ab ara, hoc est uictima, quæ ad aram ducitur inspicienda dictum existimo. hariolum uero, quasi fariolum, sicut hanula, quasi fanula, hoc est, parua fana appellantur aspiratione, ut plerunque fieri solet, pro F litera posita. Est enim hariolus, qui diuina mente fatur, quæ uentura sunt. Neq; mihi ratio Seruij obstare uidetur, quod ara deorum primam syllabam productam habet, aruspex uero correptam: cum hoc in alijs plerisque uideamus accidere: ut in curru, quod primam syllabam productam habet, & curuli, quod habet primam breuem, atque alijs similibus. Area etiam ab huius, de qua diximus, areæ similitudine uocatur morbus capitis cum profluuio capillorum, de quo inferius dicemus. Quoniam uero ariditatis mentionem fecimus, sciendum est, quod areo uerbum ab ara deducitur, in qua, quæ Dijs immolabantur, torreri solebant. nam torrere, ac siccari est, siue torridum, ac siccum esse. à quo aridum siccum dicimus, & ariditatem siccitatem, & aride aduerbium, & cõparatiua, superlatiuáque eorum. Item diminutiua aridulum, & aridule. Item arenam, de qua superius diximus. &, ut quidam putant, arenã à nimia eius ariditate. Item aristam, quæ proprie est prima spicæ pars. Virgilius tamen poëtice pro frumento posuit: Chaoniam pingui glandem mutauit arista. Aridum etiam per metaphoram aliquando pro eo ponimus, quod irrigari desierit. Plin. Nõ horti hyeme aridi saruãtur. Itẽ pro nimio, siue horrifico, cum de sono loquimur: quod ea, quæ arida sunt, cum frangi cœperint, nimium, atque horrificum sonum æduni. Virgilius: Et aridus altis mõtibus audiri fragor. Veteres ardum pro aridum dixere. Lucilius: Ardum, miserrimum, atque infelix lignum sambucum uocant. & aritudinem pro ariditate. Varro: Frigus calore, atq; humore aritudinẽ misceat. Item ab areo assum deduciur, hoc est, ad ignem torrefactum. Proprie enim assum dicitur, quod est, sine pigmento saporis alicuius, quemadmodum merum solum dicimus. unde assa uocc ueteres dixerunt sola uoce linguæ tantummodo, aut uocis humanæ non admistis alijs musicis. Varro: In conuiuijs pueri modesti, ut cantarent carmina antiqua, in quibus laudes erant maiorũ, & assa uoce, & cum tubicine. Cato: Melos autem in cantibus est bipartitũ: unum, quod est in assa uoce; alterum, quod uocant organicum. Item ab areo, arefco, exiccor, & composita per areo, exareo, subareo, inareo eiusdem fere cum areo significationis. Item arefacio, quod est exicco, et arefio, exiccor. Sunt qui non ab ara, sed per contrarium sensum ἀπὸ τοῦ ἀρδεύειν, quod significat irrigare, aridum deruatum putent, quod minime sit irrigatum. & ab arido areo postea deductum: & similiter ardeo, quod quæ arida sunt, facile ardeant. FREQVENS. Crebra. centum enim aræ erant, ut supra diximus, in templo Iouis Ammonis, quem sub ariẽtis specie colebant: quod hoc modo tradunt institutum. cũ Liber pater per deserta Lybiæ exercitum duceret, uniuersa iam Asia deuicta, & siti admodum laboraret, imploraſſe à patre auxilium dicitur: quo facto, apparuisse ei extemplo ariẽtem, quem dum fugientẽ sequitur, peruenisse illo duce ad fontem amœnissimum: quapropter desiderio potitum existimasse ariẽtem illum fuisse Iouem, eiq; templum miræ magnitudinis in arena constituisse, & deum uocasse Ammonem, hoc est, Iouem arenarium. Græci enim ἄμμον arenam uocant. unde est frequens illud apud eos proucrbium de ijs, qui frustra in re difficili laborant ἄμμον μετρεῖς, hoc est, arenam mensuras. Sunt qui dicant lingua Aegyptia Ammum Iouẽ dici, hinc corrupto nomine Ammonem uocitatum. Alij tradunt Ammonem dictum ab Ammone quodam pastore, qui primus illi templum ædificauit. Frequens modo crebrum significat, siue de loco, siue de re animata dicitur. ut frequens miles, frequens senatus. id est creber, copiosus, multus. Item frequentes domus, frequentes aræ, hoc est crebræ, multæ. modo quod ab alijs frequentatur, ut frequens locus, frequens templum, in quo multi conueniunt, & quod multi frequentant. frequentarium ueteres dixere pro frequentem. ab hoc fit frequento uerbum, & passiuum eius frequentor. frequentare id est uel sæpe adire, uel cũ multis adire. frequentari uero uel sæpe adiri, uel à multis adiri. hinc fit frequentatio, & frequentia pro conuentione, & concursu. & apud grammaticos frequentatiuum uerbum, quod aliquid frequenter fieri significat. Item frequenter aduerbium pro crebro. & infrequens dicitur, uel parum frequentatum, ut infrequens forum, id est, in quo pauci conueniũt, uel rarum: ut phœnix infrequens auis, hoc est, quæ rara reperitur. ex quibus apparet falsum esse, quod scripsit Valla, aliud significare frequens, cum loco adiungitur, aliud cum adiungitur personæ. DISSIMVLET. Fingat. simulo, & dissimulo differunt. simulamus enim esse, quæ non sunt. Cicero: Simulabat se Romam rediturum, cum in Africam nauigaturus esset, dissimulamus ea non esse, quæ sunt. Virgil. Dissimulare etiam sperasti perfide tantum posse nefas? à simulo fit simultas, hoc est odium, quod qui simultates exercent, inter se simulata loquuntur. quamuis alij simultatem dictam uelint à contrario, quia minime sunt simul. Item simulator, simulatio, & simulanter: sicut à dissimulo, dissimulator, dissimulatio, & dissimulanter. Sallustius: Simulator, ac dissimulator. Item à simulo fit insimulo, quod est crimen ingero. à quo insimulatio falsi, aut ueri criminis incusatio. Terentius: Si herum insimulabis malitiæ male audies. & simulto uerbum, quod est odium, hoc est simultatem exerceo. Et simulachrum, quod sit ficta imago alicuius. Simulachra enim principio ex desiderio mortuorum orta sunt, ut quæ iam defecerant, uiuere uiderentur. Simulatio græce εἰρωνία, hoc est, ironia dicitur frequẽs apud Latinos uocabulum, unde ironice loqui dicimus, cum aliquid quasi derisionis causa per contrarium efferimus. Virg. Egregiam uero laudem, & spolia ampla refertis Tuque, puerq; tuus. magnum & memorabile nomen, Vna dolo duũm si fœmina uicta duorum est. Horatius: Optat ephippia bos piger, optat arare caballus. Simulo autem à simul deductum est, quod est iduerbium congregandi. Nihil enim aliud est simulare, quàm ea, quæ absunt, simul esse ostendere. Aliquãdo tamen simul geminata reperitur. & habet quasi eandem uim, quam cum, & tum, siue partim. Quint. Simul ut pleniori obsequio demererer amantissimos mei, simul ne uulgarem uiam ingressus alienis demum uestigijs insisterem. Virgilius: Obstupuit simul ipse simul perculsus Achates. Cicero pro simul posuit unà. Vnà & id, quod facio, probabit: unà & in hac causa profecto neminem præponendum mihi esse existimabit. Ab hoc eodem aduerbio, fit semel, quasi unà, nõ diuisim. nam quod semel fit, nullam recipit diuisionem. Aliquando tamen semel pro cito usurpatur. Virgil. Qui, nequid tale uideret, Procubuit moriens, & humum semel ore momordit. Et similis, quasi simulis. unde ueteres simuliter pro similiter usurparunt. Plautus: Exossabo ego eum simuliter, ut murenam cocus. Iungitur autem similis aliquando cum datiuo, aliquando cum genitiuo. cum datiuo, cum uel in forma, uel in ætate, uel in fortunis, aut alijs huiusmodi rebus similitudo est. Plinius: Effigie, ac lineamentis corporis patri similis. Cum genitiuo, quando paritas in alijs rebus est, utputa in doctrina, in moribus, atq; alijs similibus. Cicero: Vt aliquorum similes in dicendo ualeamus esse. Quandoque tamen hæc apud autores confunduntur. à similis fit similitudo, quæ apud ueteres etiam similitas dicebatur. Cæcilius: Vide quid ferat morum similitas. Et dissimilis, atque absimilis eiusdem significationis. & contrarius eius consimilis, & dissimilitudo, & similiter, ac dissimiliter aduerbia. Et simitu, quo ueteres pro simul utebantur. Plautus: Non ego cum uino simitu ebibi imperium tuum. Idem: Ita tres simitu res agendæ sunt, quando unam occeperis. Et simulo uerbum, quod est similis fum, iungiturq; cum accusatiuo.

Martialis:

Martialis: Cum sint crura tibi, simulent quæ cornua lunæ. Et assimilo, quod est comparo. Et uerisimile, quod licet non sit uerum, ueri tamen speciem habet. Ab eo uerisimilitudo, & uerisimiliter. A simul sit compositum insimul, quod significat unà & similiter. A simul sit compositum assimul, & simulatq;, quæ significant postquam. DEVM, Iouem. deus licet facilius sit dicere, quid non sit, quàm quid sit, ita tamen describi potest: Deus est mens uniuersi. Vel deus est quicquid uides totum, & quicquid non uides totum. Vel deus est animus per immensas mundi partes, omnemq; naturam commeans, atq; diffusus, ex quo omnia quæ nascuntur, animalia uitam capiunt. Vel deus est infinita mens, quæ per seipsam mouetur. Vel deus est præstans quædam natura, quæ nihil est melius, cuius prouidentia mundum, quem condidit, adsidue gubernat. Simonides, cum ab eo Hiero tyrannus quæsiuisset, quid esset deus, deliberandi sibi spatium unum diem postulauit. Cum idem ex eo postridie rogaret, biduum petijt. tum sæpius idem petente, duplicauit semper numerum dierum. tandem uero interroganti Hieroni cur ita faceret, quia quanto inquit, diutius considero, tanto mihi res uidetur obscurior. Deus, ut quidam putant, à dando dictus est, quia hominibus dat quicquid commodum est. Alij deum dictum uolunt, quod nihil ei desit, uel à græco θεὸς, quod deum significat, uel ἀπὸ τοῦ θεῶ, quod est uideo, speculor, quod peruigil dei oculus omnia contempletur, & uideat. uel ἀπὸ τοῦ δέομαι, timeo, quod mortalibus sit timendus. Statius: Primus in orbe deos fecit timor. Deum, & diuum quidam inter se differenter capiunt. Alij uolunt deos perpetuos esse, diuos uero ex hominibus factos: propter quod duos imperatores uocaro ex hominibus factos: propter quod duos imperatores uocari. Varro diuos perpetuos esse scribit, qui propter sui execrationem timentur, ut sunt dij manes. Ego diuum adiectiũ esse existimo, & significare diuinum, quod etiam dium dicimus, quasi ἀπὸ τοῦ διὸς, hoc est, à Ioue genitum: uel quia ueteres in singulari dium dicebant, hoc est deum. Vnde nunc quoq; in plurali à dio dicimus dij, sicut à deo dei. Item mediusfidius, sicut mehercules, hoc est per Deum Fidiũ. Nam Fidius deus est qui fidei præest. Plautus: Per deum Fidium credit iurato mihi. A deo deitas fit, hoc est diuinitas. Et delubrũ, ut quidam putant, quod est locus, in quo dei simulachrum dedicatum sit. Nam sicut locum, in quo figerentur candelæ, candelabrum dixerunt: ita in quo deum ponerent, delubrum. Quidam etiam delubrum aream ante aras deorum causa assumptam. Alij quod uno tecto plura complectitur numina, ut capitolium, in quo est Minerua, Iupiter, Iuno. Nõnulli templũ, in quo aqua currit, à deluendo. Sunt etiam qui delubrum dei simulachrum esse affirment, à delibrato ligno ita appellatum. A diuo fit uerbum diuino, quod est auguror. propriũ enim dei est futura prædicere. Ab hoc fit diuinatio prouidentia futurorum, quamuis diuinatio etiam dicitur interdum iudicium, quod redditur super constituendo accusatore: eo quia diuinare quodammodo oportet iudicem, qui nam idoneus accusator sit. item diuinitas, sicut à deo deitas, & aduerbium diuinitus, & diuinipotens. Apuleius: Saga inquit, & diuinipotens cœlum deponere, terram suspendere, fonteis durare, montes diluere, manes sublimare, deos infimare, sidera extinguere, tartarum illuminare. Item dies. nam qui dies est, quasi deus nihil indigere uidetur, teste Varrone, à quo fit diuito, hoc est diuitẽ facio. Accius: Nihil credo auguribus, qui aureis uerbis diuitant alienas, suas ut auro locupletent domos. Turpilius: Dij me diuitant. & diutior comparatiuum. Cicero: Inde ille licentior, & diuitior fluxit Dithyrambus. & diuitiæ, quæ ita ab opibus differunt, quod diuitiæ sint ut utare, opes ut alijs opitulando colare. Cicero: Sunt ergo diuitiæ ad necessarium usum, opes uero ad magnificentiam. & Dis ditis Pluto, quod diuitiæ omnes è terra sint, uel quod omnes in terram redeant. Vnde Pluto ipse apud Claudianum inquit: Semperq; tenemus, Quod superi tenuere semel. Ditem etiam ueteres diuitem dixerunt, unde ditior, & ditissimus, & ditesco, quod est dies fio. Et ditio imperium. prædiues, ualde diues. ditare diuitem facere. Dium etiam ueteres dixerunt diurnum sub cœlo lumen, unde nunc quoque sub dio fieri dicimus, quod non fit sub tecto. Ab hoc dies dictus est. à quo diecula diminutiuum. Cicero: Præterea dieculam adderem. & subdiale, quod sub dio permanet. Plinius: Subdialia pauimenta Græci inuenere. à quo etiam diurnus, sicut à nocte nocturnus. & diu aduerbium pro die. à quo interdiu. Plautus: Nec noctu, nec diu quietus. & diurnare, quo ueteres usi sunt, pro diu uiuere. quemadmodum perennare. & iandiu, quod significat olim. quoniam diu quoque aliquando pro longo tempore ponitur. Vnde fit diutius, hoc est, longiori tempore, & diutissime longissimo tempore: & diutile diminutiuum, quod significat aliquandiu. Gelli. Cum diutile tacitus cogitando fuisset. & tandiu tanto tempore, & quandiu quanto tempore. Et diutinus, ac diuturnus eiusdem significationis, hoc est continuus. Cicero: Libertatis desiderio, tædioq; diutinæ seruitutis. Et biduum, triduum, quatriduum, pro spatio duorum, trium, & quatuor dierum. à quibus biduanum, triduanum, & quatriduanum deducta sunt. Et pridie, & postridie aduerbia, quasi primo die. Et postero die. Etenim pridie est, quasi heri, non tamen præsentis diei. Et postridie quasi cras, non tamen præsentis diei, sed alicuius alterius, aut præteriti, aut futuri. Præteriti sic: pridie quàm intrares mare, serena lux fuisse. futuri sic: pridie quàm ducas uxorem, amicos conuocato. id est præcedenti die, quo intrasti mare, aut duces uxorem. Item postridie, quàm pater mortem obijt, epulum feci: & postridie, quàm uxorem duxero, mihi abeundum est. hinc deducuntur pridianus, & postridianus, qui pridie, aut postridie alicuius diei est. sicut postriduanus, qui post idus est. Sed postridianus in usu non est, pro quo abutimur crastinus non solum pro die sequenti hodiernum, sed pro quolibet alio. Virgilius: Si uero solem ad rapidum, lunasq; sequenteis Ordine respicies, nunquam te crastina fallet hora. Eodem modo abutimur hesternus pro pridiano. Terentius: Iure hesterno panem atrum uorent. Item à die fit hodie, quasi hoc die. à quo hodiernus, sicut ab heri hesternus, & à cras crastinus. & quotidie, hoc est omnibus diebus. à quo quotidianus, & prope diem, quasi propè est dies. Cicero: Et præsens propediem loquar. id est cito. Et perendie, quod significat diem, qui crastino proximus fuit, uel erit, quasi perempto uno die. Cicero: Scies igitur cras, aut ad summum perendie. Vnde dies perendinus dicitur ab hinc tertius. Et comperendinare, conferre in longum, de die in diem, à quo fit comperendinatio. Macrobius: Ne nonarum, aut iduum religionẽ nouella comperendinatione corrumperet. Dies uero comperendinata à ueteribus dicebatur iudicii in diem tertium constitutum. & pridem quasi prius die. significat autem modo longo tempore prius, modo paruo. De paruo. Plinius: Ipsi uero pridem uidimus ea omnia præter pubertatẽ in filio Cornelij Taciti equitis Romani. Paulus iurisconsultus: Et non mirum est, si pecuIum quoq; defuncti pridem filij defertur. Vlpianus: Queritur enim ordinem tenere, quem pridem habuit. De longo. Apuleius: Quod pridem Plato affirmauerat. Eiusdem significatio nis sunt iampridem, quod ab eò fit: & dudum, iandudum, nuper, iandiu. omnia enim interdum de paruo tempore, interdum de longiori dicuntur. De paruo, ut si dicam: dudum intraui, nuper intraui, iandudum tè expecto, iampridem ueni. Boëtius: Hic autem quod nuper diximus. Curtius: Qui nuper ab Alexandro missi erant. Cicero: Quàm multa de balneis, quæ nuper ille uendiderat. Ab hoc nuperum deriuatur, quod significat recens, nouum. Plautus: Recens captum hominem nuperum, nouitium. Et nuperrime aduerbium, quod significat recentissime, & nuperrimus, recentissimus. Seneca: Iampridem te expectantes ibi sederamus. De longiori. Macrobius: Iandudum inquit, hæc quæstio ab Aristotele & proposita est, & soluta. Plinius: Somno uero, ac securitatibus iandudum hoc fuit, quod illa Helena ante cibum ministrauit. Idem: Quod maiores nostros iampridem fecisse manifestũ est. Idem: Quod genus nuper, & patrum ferè nostrorum memoria inuentum est. Quod si cum pridem, aut dudum, non, uel quàm, uel ita addamus, significat semper multo tempore ante. Idem: Medica non pridem uenit in Italiam, id est, non multo tempore ante. Cice. Quàm pridem nomen Fannij detulisti, hoc est, quàm multo tempore ante. Idem: Nostra autè ciuitate non ita pridem dominatu regio liberata, id est non multo tempore ante. Plaut. Quàm dudum è foro aduenisti domum? non ità dudum. Aliquando tamen iandudum, & iam pridem à poëtis pro continuo ponuntur. Virgilius: Iandudum sumite pœnas. Lucanus: Tollite iampridem uictricia tollite signa. Et perdius, tota die aliquid agens, sicut pernox, tota nocte uigilans. & diæta cœnaculum, in quo æstate cœnatur ad umbram, hyeme ad solem, quod & cœnatio dicitur. quãuis aliqui à Græco deductum hoc nomen uelint. Varro ita appellatam existimat, qđ in ea die edatur. In hortis ferè ædificari solebat, licebatq; testatori diætam in hortis uxoris ædificatam diruendam legare, si fieri id sine fundi detrimento posset, cum alioquin diruendam domum testamento legare fas non esset. Ab hac diæta diætarij uocabantur, qui in aliena cœnacula furandi gratia se dirigebant, quos Vlpianus scribit plus, quàm fures esse puniendos. itaq; aut ad tempus relegandos, aut in opus publicum dandos, aut fustibus cædendos. Diæta etiam diarium, hoc est unius diei cibum significat. Et apud Græcos pro iudicio arbitrorum accipitur, & pro loco, in quo arbitri conueniunt. Quapropter & ipsos arbitros Græci diætas uocant. Et diarium à die deductum est, quod modo cibum unius diei significat, ut diximus, modo historiam, quæ per singulos dies scribitur, & à Græcis dicitur ἐφημερὶς, hoc est ephemeris. Iuuenalis: In cuius manibus ceu pinguia succina tritas Cernis ephemeridas. quemadmodum annales dicuntur, cum res gestæ plurium annorum obseruato cuiusq; anni ordine componuntur. Nam historia utrunq; comprehendit, definiturq; rerum gestarum expositio. Item meridies quasi medidies, hoc est, medius dies dictus, quod nunc mediam lucem significat. Veteres etiam de nocte meridiem dicebant, hoc est, eam partem noctis, qua totius diei dimidium esset. Ab hoc fit meridianus, & pomeridianus, quod ad meridiem, uel post meridiem pertinent. Quintilianus: Pomeridianis scholis Aristoteles præcipere artem oratoriam cœpit. Et meridio, siue meridior uerbum, quod aliquando est meridianum cibum capio. Plautus: Ientando, meridiando, commessando, pergræcando uitam ducere. hinc merenda dicta est cibus, qui sumitur ante cœnam. Aliquando capio meridianum somnum. Cornelius Celsus: Lõgis diebus meridiari potius ante cibum utile est; Sin minus post, cum per hyemem potius totis noctibus conquiescere. Suetonius de Caligula: Gloriatusq; est expergefactæ somno Ceroniæ quantum egisset, dum ea meridiaret. Idem de Nerone: Missos à Messalina uxore Claudij, qui eum meridiantem quasi Britanici æmulum strangularent. Item à die æquidiale dictum. Sic enim ueteres dixerunt, quod nunc dicimus æquinoctiale: quia nox die ei potius, quàm dies nocti adnumerari debet. Sic etiam æquidium, quod nunc æquinoctium. item à die diluculum, hoc est, aurorâ, quod tum dies lucescere incipiat. Dies apud Romanos à media nocte incipiebat: apud Athenienses ab occasu solis ad alium occasum: apud Babylonios à solis ortu. Sumitur autè dies tribus modis. Vno continet semel reuolutionem primi mobilis, quæ fit horis .xxiiij. Alio modo dicitur dies ab ortu solis ad occasum. ille naturalis, hic artificialis nominatur. Tertio modo dicitur dies tempus interminatum. Virgilius: Multa dies, uariusq; labor mutabilis æui Rettulit in melius. & iurisconsulti bima, trima, quadrima die pro tempore biennij, triennij, quadriennij dicunt. & ad diem non uenit, id est, præstituto tempore non uenit. Et in hac ultima significatione frequentius est fœminini generis. Virgilius: Iamq; dies infanda aderat. Ab eoq; fit diminutiuum diecula pro paruo tempore. in masculino autem genere tempus determinatum plerunque significat, ut hesterno die ad te ueni. Nudiustertius, & nudius quartus à die dicta sunt, quasi nunc est dies tertius, nunc est quartus: semperq; de præterito dicuntur. Dierecti quoque à die uocati sunt crucifixi, si Marcello credimus, quasi ad diẽ erecti. Varro: Apage in dierectum à domo nostra istam infanitatem. Pompeius tamẽ scribit dierectum dici per antiphrasin apud ueteres uolentes significare in alium diem. unde dierecta aduerbialiter dicimus. Plautus: Quin tu i dierecta cum sucula, & cum porculis. Dierecta inquit, quasi in malam diem. Sunt etiam qui inducias à die dictas existiment, quasi in diem uti iam. Pactum enim inducIarum huiusmodi est, ut in diem certum non pugnetur, nihilq; incommodi detur. Sed ex eo die postea uti omnia belli iura agantur. itaq; ex ijs particulis inducias dictas, quasi in diem uti iam pugnetur. Alij non quasi in diem uti iam, sed inde uti iam appellatas inducias uolunt. nonnulli tamen inducias existimant dictas, quasi initus, atq; introitus: quod induciæ sint, cum hostes inter sese utrinq; ultro, citroq; alteri ad alteros impune, & sine pugna ineunt. Varro inducias ita definiuit: Induciæ sunt pax castrensis paucorum dierum. Et alibi: induciæ sunt belli feriæ. Græci significantius cessationem istam pugnæ pactitiam ἐκεχειρίαν nominant, quasi manuum continentiam. item à dies diespiter dictus Iupiter, quasi diei pater. Sicut Diouis appellatus est, quasi diem iuuans, quod homines die, & luce quasi uita ipsa iuuaret, unde Lucetium quoque nominatum à ueteribus legimus. A principio Iouis appellatus est à iuuando, postea adiuncto altero uocabulo, dictus est Iupiter, quasi Iouis pater, sicut Neptunus pater, & Saturnus pater, & Ianus pater dicere solemus: è contrario uero Veiouem ueteres appellarunt deum, cui dempta esset, atque detracta iuuandi facultas. Nam deos quosdam, ut prodessent, celebrabant: quosdam, ne obesse sent, placabant. Ve autem particula modo auget, ut uehemens, uegrande: modo στερητικὸν μορίον, hoc est, priuatiua particula est, ut uecors, uesanus. Veiouis ædes Romæ inter arcem, & capitolium erat. eius simulachrum sagittas tenebat, quæ sunt uidelicet paratæ ad nocendum. Quapropter eum deum plerique Apollinem esse dixerunt. Ob hanc causam Virgilium tradũt numina læua in Georgicis deprecari, quod uis quædam sit huiusmodi deorum in lædendo magis, magis, quàm in iuuando potens. Sic.n. inquit: In tenui labori at tenuis non gloria, si quem Numina læua fouunt, auditq; uocatus Apollo. Nundinas quoq; à die dictas esse manifestum est, quasi nouẽdinas. ita enim Nundinæ à Romanis institutæ sunt, ut octo quidem diebus in agris rustici opus facerẽt. Nono autem die intermisso rure, ad mercatum, legesq; accipiendas Romam uenirent: & ut scita, atq; consulta frequentiore populo referrentur, quæ trinũdino die præposita à singulis, atq; uniuersis facile cognoscebantur. Vnde etiam mos tractus, ut leges trinundino die promulgarẽtur. Sigdem flaminica omnibus nundinis Ioui arietem in regia solebat immolare. Sed lege Hortensia effectum est, ut fastæ essent, quo rustici, qui nundinandi causa in urbem ueniebant, lites componerent. Nefasto enim die prætori fari non licebat. Nundinarum originem quidam Romulo assignant, quem cõmunicato cum T. Tacio imperio, sacrificijsq;, & sodalitatibus institutis, nũdinas quoq; tradunt adiecisse. Alij diem nundinarum exactis regibus celebrari cœpisse commemorant, quia plerique ex plebe repetita Seruij Tullij memoria, ei nundinis parentarent, Primis autè Calendis, & Nonis omnibus nundinæ cauebantur. Nam quoties incipiente anno dies cœpit, qui addictus est nundinis, omnis ille annus infaustus, luctuosis casibus fuit, quæ opinio lepidiano tumultu maxime confirmata fuit. Nonis autem cõuentus uniuersæ multitudinis uitandus existimabatur: quoniam populus Romanus exactis etiam regibus hunc diem nonarum maxime celebrabat, quem natalem Seruij Tullij existimabat esse: quia, cum incertum esset, quo mense Seruius Tullius natus esset, nonis tamen constaret esse natum, omnes nonas celebri notitia frequentabant. ueriti ergo qui diebus præerant, nequid multitudo collecta ad desiderium regis nouaret, Nonas à nundinis segregandas esse duxerunt. Nundinas etiam nundinum neutro genere appellatas inuenimus. Liui. Postq; uero comitia decemuiris creandis in trinundinum indicta sunt. Quintilianus: Siue non trino forte nundino prolongata, siue non idoneo die, siue contra intercessionem, uel auspicia, aliud'ue, quod legibus obstet. dicitur lata esse, uel fieri. Trinundinus autem dies, uel Trinundinum, siue trinum nundinum dicebatur dies tertiarum nundinarũ, qui prædici antea solebat, ut notior esset uniuersis: idem est enim dicere trinundino, & tertijs nundinis, & in trinundinum, hoc est, in tertias nundinas. Nundina uero Romanorum Dea erat à nouo die nascentium nuncupata, qui lustricus appellatur. Item nouendium nouem dierum spatium. à quo nouendialis dictus est sacrificium, quod mortuo fieri solebat nono die postq; erat sepultus. Horatius: Nouendialis dissipare puluere. Veteres die quarti, & die quartæ dixere pro eo, quod est die quarto, & die quinti, & die quintæ: & deinceps pro die quinto. Item die pristini, uel pristinæ, pro die pristino. quod nos conuerso compositionis ordine pridie dicimus. Et die crastini pro die crastino. & die proximi, pro die proximo, & alia multa. Videntur autem differentiam feciſſe quodammodo inter die quarto, & die quartæ, ut illud de præterito sit, quod nos nudius quartus, hoc de futuro. Sunt autem hæc omnia cõposita, & pro aduerbijs accipiuntur. Antiqui etiam in genitiuo huius dies, uel dij dixerunt, sicut huius fames, uel fami. Cicero: Equites uero daturos illius dies pœnas. Virgi. Libra dies, somniq; pares ubi fecerit horas. Idem: Munera, lætitiamq; dij, hoc est diei. Cæsar in libro, quem de Analogia scripsit, huius die, & huius specie dicendum existimauit. Sallustius: Vix decima parte die. Diem dicere alicui est cõstituere tẽpus, quo uel in iudicio comparere, uel aliquid aliud agere debeat, ut nuptiarum diem dixit, hoc est tempus constituit, quo nuptiæ fieri debeant. In diem, & in dies differunt. illud plerunque cum hoc uerbo uiuit coniungitur. Quintil. Non, ut ferè uolucres præsentis modo cibi memores in diem uiuunt. Aliquando etiam cum alio uerbo. Sallust. Panem in diem mercari, quasi diem præsentis diei habere rationem. Et apud iurisconsultos, in diem addicere, est rem uenalem ita uẽdere, ut nisi alius ad certum præstitutum diem maius precium obtulerit, illius sit, qui primo obtulit. in dies uero est quotidie, sed proprie cum quodam incremento. ideoq; plerunq; cum comparatiuo iungitur. Cicero: Cum id malum serperet in dies magis. Reperitur etiam sine comparatiuo, sed tamen cum uerbo significante incrementum. Liuius: Crescente in dies multitudine. Seneca: Cum in dies augeretur audacia. quotidie autem etiam sine incremento dicitur. Cicero: Quotidie, uel potius in dies breuiores literas ad te mitto, id est non modo quotidie breuiores, sed etiã in dies breuiores. Nam hæ quotidianæ literæ sunt breuiores ijs, quas ante mittere solebã, quæ poterãt omnes esse pari breuitate, atque in dies mitto breuiores, id est tales sunt, ut hodiernæ sint breuiores hesternis, & crastinæ hodiernis, & perendinæ crastinis, & ita deinceps. Eandem planè differentiam habent in horam, & in horas. Cicero: Ne qui in horam uiuunt, non modo de fortunis, & bonis ciuium, sed ne de utilitate quidem sua cogitauerunt. Virg. Gallo, cuius amor tantum mihi crescit in horas, Quantum uere nouo uiridis se subijcit alnus. Diem de die ducere, est rem in longum protrahere. Veteres diem itegem, ac continuũ dicebant. Plaut. Sol motibus dijs illustrans terram. Sunt etiam qui à Deo dirum deductum existimãt, hoc est crudele, infestum, & quasi deorum ira immissum. Virgili. Prius, quàm Dira per incautum serpant contagia uulgus. hinc furiæ diræ dicuntur, quasi deorum iræ. item comparatiua, ac superlatiua eorum dirior, dirissimus, dirius, dirissime, item diritas. Cicero: Intelligi potest ex ijs fratribus, q in Adelphis sunt, quanta in altero diritas, in altero comitas. item diruncio uerbum, quo ueteres utebantur, hoc est depurgo, & quod dirum est, eijcio. Aliquãdo tamen dirum pro magno accipitur. Virgilius: Iam tunc relligio pauidos terrebat agrestes Dira loci. CORNIBVS, Effigie arietis, cuius generi conuoluta in anfractum cornua natura dedit. Cornua et multis aquatilium præsertim marinorum data sunt, & serpentibus, Sed quæ uere cornua dici possint, quadrupedi tantum generi. in ijs uero tanta uarietas, ut nullibi maior naturæ lasciuia appareat. Sparsa sunt in ramos ceruis, tantæ magnitudinis, ut ei animali nomen dederint: quippe cerui ἀπὸ τῶν κεράτων, hoc est, à cornibus appellati sunt, unde & cornua ipsa nomen sumpsere, quamuis Varro à curuore cornua dicta existimet. Subulonibus uero simplicia sunt. hoc animal è ceruorum genere est, ita uocatum, quod cornua habet similia subulæ, quod instrumentum est, quo perforandis calceis, ac suendis utuntur sutores. à cuius similitudine Thusci subulones tibicines uocant. Alijs cornua sunt in palmas ficta, ac digitos, ut plateorotibus, hi sunt ex damarum genere, dicti à latitudine cornuum. πλάτος enim latitudo est, κέρας cornu. Ramosa sunt capreis, sed parua. Arieti, ut diximus, conuoluta. infesta tauris, rupicapris in dorsum adunca, similia ibicibus, in quæ se librant è montiũ aliquo in alium transire cupientes. Damis in aduersum erecta, & rugarum ambitu contorta. ac in leue fastigium acuminata, ut lyras decerent. Strepsiceroti, quem addacem Africa appellat, Græci à contortis cornibus indidere nomen. Armentis Phrygiæ ad similitudinem aurium mobilia. Troglodytarum in terram directa, propter quod obliqua ceruice pasci ea necesse est. Singula sunt Monoceroti, & Rhinoceroti, illi medio capite, huic naribus, de quibus paulo post dicemus. cocleis ad prætentandum iter data sunt gemina cornua, quoniam oculis carent. & talia, ut prætendantur ac resiliant. Mirum est, quod de Narni ensibus tradunt, usqueadeo huius tam exigui animalis effigie aliquando fuisse perterritos, ut ad id arcendum pulcherrimū illum pontem, & à scriptoribus tantopere celebratum confregerint. Vrorum cornibus barbari septentrionales pro poculis utuntur, binasq; urnas unius capitis cornua implent. Alij his pila cuspidant. Nos in laminas sectis utimur pro laternis, quoniam lumen inclusum latius infundunt. Omnibus ferè caua, et in mucrone tantum concreta sunt cornua, ceruis tantū solida, & singulis annis decidua. Bobus, cum attritas ungulas habuerint, aruina ungendo cornua mederi agricolæ solent. A cornu unicornium, & bicornium, & tricornium, & quadricornium dicimus, quod habet unum, duo, tria, & quatuor cornua. item cornutum, uel quod cornua habet, uel quod ex cornu procedit. Martialis: Occubuit tandem cornuto ardore potitus. Et cornutæ quadrupedes à ueteribus dicebantur elephāti, nam quod in ijs dentes multi dicunt, cornua sunt. ijdem & Lucæ boues, siue Lucanæ boues appellabātur. Neuius: Atq; prius pariet locusta Lucam bouem. ideo dicti boues, quod nō seri, cum maximam quadrupedem, quam haberent, uocarent bouem, & in Lucanis Pyrrhi bello primum uidissent apud hostes elephantos, à magnitudine bouē, à Lucanis Lucas uocitauere. Alij Lucam: quasi libycam dictam uolunt, quod ex Africa huiusmodi belluæ primo fuerint in Italiam ductæ. Varro à luce lucas appellatas existimat, quod elephanti relucebant propter inauratos regios clypeos, qui in turribus ijs erectis conspiciebantur. A Græco uero κέρας & sterno latino uerbo ceroſtratum compositum est, hoc est picturæ genus, cum ex cornibus ramenta tinguntur uarijs coloribus, dein de uermiculatim ligno inseruntur. Principio hoc ex ligni bratteis fieri cœptum, sed non satis hoc fuit. Cœpere tingi animalium cornua, dentes elephantorum secari, lignumq; ebore distingui, mox totum operiri. Testudo etiam in hunc usum secta est, & principatu Neronis inuentum, ut pigmentis perderet sese, & lignum imitata, maiori precio uenderetur. Item à cornu sit corneum, quod ex cornu est, unde hybernæ coronæ dictæ sunt, quoniam negante tum flores terra laminis è cornu tinctis fieri solebant. Item cornipetam dicimus taurum, siue aliam belluam cornu ferientem. & cornigerum cornua gerentem. Vnde Bacchus corniger dictus, quoniam simulachro Liberi patris cornua adijciebantur, quod uini inuentor fuerat. Homines enim nimio uini potu truces redduntur. Per metaphoram cornua fluminum curuitates alueorum, quod multis in locis ad cornuum similitudinem flectantur. Item cornua antemnarum. utramq; partē antemnæ, Virgilius: Cornua uelatarum obuertimus antemnarum. Et in prælio cornua dicuntur utraque pars exercitus. est enim in exercitu dextrum cornu, & sinistrum, & quod inter utrunque est, dicitur medium, sicut alæ uocantur ab alarum similitudine equitum ordines, quod circum legiones dextra, sinistraq; tanquam alæ in auium corporibus locabantur. Item cornu tubæ genus obtortæ, à quo cornicines dicuntur. Iuuenal. Quadragintā dedit Gracchus sestertia dotem Cornicini, siue hic recto cantauerit ære. dictum ita, quia quod nunc ex ære est, tunc fiebat bubulo cornu: A cornu per diminutionem fit corniculum, hoc est paruū cornu: & cornigenum, quod est ex genere cornua habentium, sicut caprigenum, quod est ex genere caprarum, & per compositionem Capricornus cœleste signum, quod Pana fuisse existimant. Tradunt enim, cum plures Dij in Aegyptum conuenissent, uenisse eōdem Typhona gigantem acerrimum deorum hostem, cuius aspectu perterritos deos in uarias species figuras uertisse. Mercurium in Ibin. Apollinem in eam, quæ Threicia auis dicitur. Dianā in chlorionē, propterea Aegyptios hæc auium genera uiolare nō sinere, quod Deorum imagines dicantur. Eodem tempore Pana tradunt in flumē se deiecisse, & posteriorem partem in effigiem piscis, priorem uero in formam hirci commutasse. Cuius ingenium admiratum Iouem, hanc figuram in cœlum transtulisse. Spectat ad occasum, & toto corpore ab hyemali circulo diuiditur. Aquarij læua manu subiecta. Stellam habet in naso unam, in pectore duas, in pede duas, inter scapulas septem, in uentre sex, in cauda duas. Cornucopiæ est, quod Hercules cum Acheloo in specie tauri mutato congressus ei detraxit. hoc Naiades acceptum, & omnium fructuum primitijs refertum Copiæ consecrarunt. Vnde apud Ouidium Achelous sic inquit: Rigidū fera dextera cornu dum tenet, infregit, truncaq; à fronte reuellit. Naiades hoc pomis, & odoro flore repletum sacrarunt, diuesq; meo bona copia cornu est. Phocion peripateticæ disciplinæ nō ignobilis philosophus librum multæ, uariæq; historiæ refertum cum composuisset, eum κέρας ἀμαθείας, quasi Cornucopiæ inscripsit, aliam secutus fabulam. Tradunt enim Iouem Saturni, & Opis filium eodem partu cum Iunone editum, ne à Saturno occideretur, in Idam montē Cretæ à matre missum fuisse. ibiq; duabus nymphis Amaltheæ, & Melissæ nutriendum datum, Amaltheæ capellam fuisse, cui gemini hœdi erant, & propterea lactis ubertas. huius igitur uberibus Iouem nutriuisse. Sed cum capella cornu, quod amplissimum habebat, forte in obiecta arbore fregisset. sustulisse id nympham, & diuersis herbis cinctum, ac pomis plenum ad Iouis ora tulisse. hunc uero, postquam expulso patre, cœli regnum obtinuit, beneficij memorem tam capellam, quàm cornu inter sydera collocasse, cornu autem seruato nomine nymphæ, quæ capellæ domina fuerat, κέρας ἀμαθείας, hoc est, cornu Amaltheæ dici. Germanicus in arato. Illa putatur nutrix esse Iouis, si uere Iuppiter infans Vbera Cretææ mulsit fidissima capræ, Sydere quæ claro gratum testatur alumnum. Ouidi. Ille ubi res cœli tenuit, solioq; paterno Sedit, & inuicto nil Ioue maius erat, Sydera nutricem, nutricis fertile cornu fecit, quod dominæ nunc quoque nomē habet. Hanc Amaltheam in urbe Oleno nutritam fuisse affirmant, quæ in Bœotia est ab Oleno Vulcani filio ita appellata, Vnde olenia capella uocitata est. Idē: Nascitur Oleniæ signum pluuiale capellæ. Fuit et alia Olenus urbs Aetholiæ, iuxta quā fuit aper calydonius. A cornu etiā cornū arborem deductā existimant, quæ ramos habet duritie, & rigiditate cornibus similes, fructum circa solstitia reddit primo candidum, postea sanguineum. Ex eo genere fœmina post autumnum fert bacas acerbas, & cunctis animantibus ingustabiles, ligno quoque fungoso, & inutili. Ab hac cornu cornetum dicitur locus ijs plenus, sicut à salice salicetum, ab oliua oliuetum, à pinu pinetum. & fructus eius neutro genere cornum uocatur. Virgilius, Bacæ, lapidosaq; corna. Hinc Corniculum oppidum uocitatum est iuxta Tarquinios, à quo oppidani Corniculani sunt dicti. Et ab hac corneum dicitur, quod ex cornu ligno constat. Plau. Duram, ac corneam uirgam. Plinius cornus frequenter masculino genere usurpat: dentes mobiles confirmat ceruini cornus cinis. Idem: Quidā efficaciorem ad omneis usus crudi cornus farinā arbitrantur, cornua Liberi patris simulachro adijciebantur, eo quod homines nimio uino truces fieri manifestum est. CARES populi sunt in Asia minori contra Rhodum, quorū metropolis est Alicarnasus. Caria ipsa regio est, cuius rex fuit Mausolus, quē Artemisia uxor usqueadeo amasse traditur ditur, ut illo mortuo, luctu, ac desiderio mariti flagrans ossa, ac cinerē eius mista odoribus, cōtusaq; in aqua ebiberit. Sepulchrum præterea ædificauerit toto orbe celeberrimū, tādemq; continuo luctu, ac mœrore contabuerit. FERANT, efferant, extollāt. Ferre proprie portare est. Virgil. Vix illam famuli Phlegeus, Sagarisq; ferebant. Quamuis Caius iurisconsulta ferri proprie dicat, quæ nostro corpore gestamus: portari ea, quæ iumento nobiscum ducimus: agi quæ animalia sunt. Ferre ostentare. Virgi. Captiuo siue ut se ferret in auro uenatrix. ferre dicere. Idem: Et scelus expendisse merentem Laocoonta ferunt. Ferre offerre. Idē: Sacra Dionææ matri, diuisq; ferebā. ferre ducere. Idem. Hinc uia tartarei, qua fert Acheruntis ad undas. Ferre pati, Martia. Nam tantos rogo quis ferat labores. Virgil. Miserere animi nō digna ferētis. Ferre extollere, ut hoc loco. Quod si cū hoc uerbo præ me, uel præ te, uel præ se addatur. significat dicto, facto, uel gestu aliquid ostendere, ac confiteri: ut præ me fero laborem, præ te fers iracundiam, præ se fert auaritiā. Cicero: At beneficio sum usus tuo, quod quanquam illud ipsum, quod commemoras, præ me semper tuli, malui tamen meme tibi debere confiteri, quàm cuipiam nimis prudenti non satis gratus uideri. A fero feræ dictæ sunt, quod toto corpore ferantur: uel quod cum impetu, & sine ratione ferantur: uel dicuntur feræ, siue fera animalia improprie omnes quadrupedes pecudibus exceptis, proprie uero quæ ferocitatē habent, ut leones, pardi, lupi, quæ ubi mansuefacta sunt, cicures appellantur. cicurare enim. ut Varro ait, mā suefacere est. & quicquid à fero discretum est, dicitur cicur. Cicero: Nam aliæ sunt feræ, aliæ cicures, aliæ natantes, aliæ uolucres. Cicur ingenium dicunt mite, atq; māsuetum. A cicone natum cicur uidetur. Cicum ueteres dicebant membranam tenuem, quæ est in malo punico discrimen. Semifera uero animalia aliquando dicuntur, quæ ex fero, placidoq; nascuntur, ut ex apro & sue. ex lupo, & cane: illa Hybridas à contumelia, ὕβρις enim apud Græcos contumelia dicitur, hæc lyciscas uocant à lupo, qui λύκος à Græcis nominatur. Virgilius: Multum latrante lyciſca. Semifera etiam appellātur, quæ nec placida, nec fera sunt, sed mediæ inter utrunq; naturæ, ut in uolucribus hirundines, in campo lepores, damæ, cuniculi: in mari delphini. A fera ferinus adiectiuum. Apuleius: Ferino, ac belluino ritu. & feralis dirus à feralibus sacrificijs, quæ mortuis fieri solebant. Et feralia ipsa sacrificia, quod tunc epulas ferebant ad sepulchrum eius, cui uellent parentare. Virgil. Solaq; culminibus ferali carmine bubo Sæpe quæri. Et ferus, quod modo seuerum, atq; atrocē significat. Idem: Inq; feri curuā compagibus aluum Cōtorsit. Modo sæuū. Idem: Pectebatq; ferū, puroq; in fonte lauabat. Idē: Ferus omnia Iupiter argos Transtulit. à quo feritas dicta est naturæ quædā asperitas. differtq; à feroci, quod ferox fortis est, & præanimosus, & ipsum quoque à fero deducitur. Idem: Stat sonipes, & frena ferox spumantia mandit. Sallu. Ille animo feroci negat se fusum toties Numidā pertimescere. A quo fit ferocio uerbum. & ferociēs, & aduerbium ferociter, & ferocia, ac ferocitas nomina. Ferè quod significat festinanter, & parum abest, quin quasi continue ferendo: & ut Varro inquit, quod id, quod feratur, est in motu, atq; uentat, Vt ferè hominem occidit. hoc est, parum abfuit, quin occideret. Hinc frater dictus, quasi ferè alter. à quo fratria uxor fratris appellata. & fratrare, quod de puerarum mammis dicitur, cum primum tumescunt, quod ueluti fratres pares oriuntur: hoc etiam spica in frumento facere dicitur. Et fraterculus paruus frater, & fraternus possessiuum nomen: ut fraternus amor, fraterna charitas. & fraterne aduerbium ad similitudinem fratris. Aurelius: Cum eum à tene ris annis ardentissimo illo puerili amore mihi coniunctum, plus, quàm fraterne amarem. Et fratrueles duorum fratrum filij, qui & fratres patrueles à iurisconsultis dicuntur. Fratilli uero uilli sordidi in tapetis dicuntur. Sunt etiam qui fratrem à Græco deduci existiment. Græci enim φράτορας coniunctos appellant, & φρατρίαν uocant contubernium: & fermè eiusdem proprie cum ferè significationis. Terentius: Iam fermè moriens me uocat: id est, cum parum abesset, quin moreretur. ita tamen aliquando hæ duæ particulæ in oratione ponuntur, ut necesse sit quandam uniuersitatem subintelligere. Quintil. Hæ ferè sunt emendatæ loquendi, scribendiq; partes, id est, ferè omnes. Cicero: Memini in eum sermonē incidere, qui tum ferè erat in ore, id est ferè omnibus. Plini. Hoc fermè accidit, ut eo tempore lasciuiant greges, id est ferè semper. Et fessus, hoc est fatigatus, quoniam ferendo homines fatigantur. à quo festinus, de quo cum eius deriuatiuis inferius dicemus. & defessus, plus quàm fatigatus. Est autem fessus generale nomen. Dicimus enim fessus animo, fessus corpore, & fessus rerum à fortuna uenientium. Virgil. Fessi rerum, hoc est penuria fatigati. & ferio, hoc est percutio, quasi fero, atq; agito. Vir. Cornu ferit ille caueto. Vnde feralia Dijs manibus sacrata festa à feriendis pecudibus appellata: siue quod feruntur tum epulæ ad sepulchrum eius, cui parentatur: & ferculum, quod modo dapes significat, quia in mensam ferantur. Iuuenalis. Quis fercula septem secreto cœnauit auus: modo feretrū, in quo pompa feratur. Suetonius: Sed & ampliora etiam humano fastigio decerni sibi passus est. Sedem auream in curru, & pro tribunali tensam, & ferculum circensi pompa. Item feriæ ab epulis ferendis: in ijs enim epulæ fiebant ex pecorum, frugumq; prouentibus. Feriarum publicarum genera quatuor erant. Statiuæ uniuersi populi, communes, quæ certis & constitutis diebus fiebant: in quibus præcipue feruabantur Agonalia, Carmentalia, Lupercalia. Conceptiuæ, quæ quotannis à magistratibus, uel sacerdotibus concipiebantur in dies certos, siue in incertos, ut sunt latinæ. Sementinæ, paganalia, compitalia. Imperatiuæ, quas consules, uel prætores pro arbitrio indicebant. Nundinæ paganorum, ac rusticorū, quibus ad negotia & merces conueniebant. Erant præterea proprie familiarū feriæ, quas quæque familia ex usu domesticæ celebritatis obseruabat, ut Claudiæ feriæ, & Aemiliæ. Item singulorum, ut natalium dierum, quæ natalitiæ dicuntur, & fulgurum, & funerum expiationes. Item flamminica quoties tonitrua audisset, feriata erat, donec deos placasset. Affirmabant autem pollui ferias, si in ijs opus aliquod fieret. ideo per præconem denunciabatur, ne quod opus fieret, & præcepti negligens multabatur. Scæuola iurisconsultus interrogatus, quid ferijs agere liceret, respondit quod prætermissum non ceret. ut si bos in foueam decidisset, non erat piaculum patrem familias illum adhibitis operis extrahere. nec ille ferias polluebat, qui trabem tecti fractam fulciendo ab imminenti ruina liberasset. Vnde Virgilius, cum sciret lauari ouem, & lanæ purgandæ, & scabiei curandæ gratia, scripsit: tum demum mergi oues per ferias licere, si hoc remedij, non lotionis causa fieret. Balantumq; gregem fluuio mersare salubri, manifeste ostendit curandi duntaxat gratia hoc facere licere non lanæ purgandæ. A ferijs festi dies dicti sunt feriati, hoc est, in quibus feriæ celebrantur. Item à ferio feciales dicti, quod fœdus ferirent: quippe Romani, ut Varro refert, bella non nisi tarde, nec magna licentia suscipiebant, quod bellum nullum, nisi pium putabant geri oportere. itaque prius, quàm indicerent bellum ijs, à quibus iniurias factas sciebant, Feciales legatos quos oratores nominabant, ad res repetendas mittebant, si qui legati uiolati essent, qui id fecissent, quamuis nobiles essent, uti ciuitates delerentur, statutum est. Feciales autem uiginti constituti, qui de rebus huiusmodi cognoscerent, iudicarent, statuerent. ijdem bello confecto, fœdera feriebant in hunc ferè modũ. Fecialis Regem rogabat: iubés ne me rex cum patre patrato eius populi fœdus ferire? iubente rege: Sagmina dicebat: te Rex posco. Rex respõdebat: Purã tollito, Fecialis ex arce uerbenã puram tollebat, postea regem interrogabat: Rex, facisne me tu regiũ nuntiũ, populiq; Romani Quiritiũ, uasa, comitesq; meos? Rex respondebat: Quod sine fraude mea, populiq; Romani Quiritium fiat, facio. Tum Fecialis patrem patratum faciebat, uerbena caput, capillosq; tãgens: iegibus deinde fœderis recitatis, Audi dicebat Iupiter: audi pater patrate populi talis, audi tu populus talis, ut illa palàm prima, postremum ex illis tabulis, cerá ue recitata sunt sine dolo malo, utiq; ea hic hodie rectissime intellecta sunt. illis legibus populus Romanus prior non deficiet, si prior defecerit publico consilio dolo malo, tu illo die Iupiter populum Romanum sic ferito, ut ego hunc porcum hodie feriã, tãtoq; magis ferito, quanto magis polles: potesq;. Vbi dixerat, porcum silice percutiebat: sua deinde carmina alter populus, suumq; iusiurandum per suos magistratus, suosq; sacerdotes peragebant. hinc etiam fœdus quidam deductum existimant, quod in fœdere porca feriretur. de quo inferius dicemus. Item à fero ferabites pro agresti. Sisenna: Partim ferabite, partim lauro, ac pinu abundat. item à fero fit feruco uerbũ, quod est bullio, feror, agitor. à quo deducitur feruor, qui non modo fit ex igni, & flammis, sed etiam ex frigore, & uento. Vnde feruere hyemem, feruere æstatẽ, feruere mare dicimus. à quo & deferuere, siue deferbere pro mitescere, & placidum fieri. Vir. Omnia tũ pariter uento, nimbisq; uidebis Feruere. Et feruere opus dicimus, dum studio, & diligẽtia elaboratur: & hominem ira feruere, aut odio, aut calore, dum ira, aut odio, aut calore incensus est. Vnde à feruendo febris, quãuis aliqui à feritate potius morbi uocitatam uelint. ab hac per diminutionẽ febricula. à quo febriculosus. Gellius, Non morbus hic febriculosus aut nimium grauis. & uerbum febricito, hoc est febrẽ patior. & febrio eiusdem significationis. & febrilis adiectiuũ. Apuleius: Ardore æstuans febrili. & februare à feruco dictũ, quod est lustrare, purgare. hoc enim adolendo, & flammis feruentibus fieri solebat. à quo Februarius mẽsis, uocitatus, quod tum, id est, extremo mense anni populus februaretur. & Iuno februata, siue februalis. siue februlis, quod ei hoc mense sacra fiebant: eiusq; feriæ erant Lupercalia, quo die mulieres februabantur à Lupercis amiculo Iunonis, id est, pelle caprina. Quã ob causam is quoq; dies februatus appellabatur: & quæcunq; purgamenti causa in quibuscunq; sacrificijs adhibebãtur; februa appellabantur: & id quod purgatum erat, februatum dicebatur. Et Februus Ditis pater uocatus est, quod ei mense Februario sacrificaretur. Quidam tamen hæc non à feruco uerbo deducta opinantur, sed à Sabinorum lingua, qui februm, purgamentum dicunt. Item à feruco feruidus fit, hoc est, callidus, diligens. Et feruenter aduerbium, diligenter. Et fretum locus angustus in mari, ac etiã ipsum mare à similitudine, ut Varro existimat, feruentis aquæ, quod efferueat aqua maris, atque ebulliat. Vnde transfreto, & transfretatio deducuntur, & fermentũ, quod feruẽdo crescat. Est enim fermentum farina, quæ subigitur prius quã addatur ad pultis modum decocta, & relicta, donec acescat. Vulgo autem nec sufferuere faciunt, sed tantum pridie asseruata materia utuntur. Ab hoc fit fermento uerbum, cuius passiuum est fermentor. Pli. Palamq; natura est acore fermẽtari.

Idem: Cum fieret panis ordeacius cicerculæ farinæ admistione fermẽtabatur. A fermẽto fermẽtatio deducitur. Præterea à fero fertũ dicitur genus libi, quod sæpe ad sacra ferebatur, nec sine strue altero genere libi, quæ qui afferebant, strufetani appellabantur. A fero arferia aqua, quæ inferis libabatur, seu uas uini, quod adhibebatur sacris. Et fiscina instrumẽtum rusticum, quo comportantur fructus, ac res necessariæ. eius diminutiuum fiscella, in qua casei feruntur, & ab ea fiscelli uocitati mollis casei appetitores. quemadmodum catillones dicuntur catillorũ liguritores. Ponitur tamen aliquando fiscella pro boum, mulorum ue, aut iumentorũ capistro. Pli. Fiscellis capistrari boues oportet, ne germinũ tenera decerpant. A fero etiam furor, quod qui furore agitantur, huc, atq; illuc temere ferantur. Ab hoc furiosus, furio, furibundus, furiæ, Furialis, de qbus inferius dicemus. Et far, quod apud ueteres de omnibus fructibus dicebatur: quia id fert terra, ab eo farina dicta. Et furfur purgamentum farinæ, à quibus farinaceus, & furfureus adiectiua. Et farcio, quod proprie est saturo. quasi farre impleo. unde per metaphoram farcire pro implere dicimus, à quo infarcio, & refercio eiusdem significationis. Item offercio, à quo offertissimum pinguissimum. Plau. Sine sacris hæreditatem sum adeptus offertissimã. Et fertum genus libi, quod Dijs in sacrificijs offerebatur. Persius: Attamẽ hic extis, & opimo uincere ferto intẽdit. Et fartus, & refertus, & farcimen intestinum uaria, ac minutim concisa carne refertum. Et farreum genus libi ex farre factum. Plinius: Cum & in sacris nihil religiosius confarrationis uocabulo erat, nouæq; nuptæ farreum præferebant. Farreũ quoq; apud ueteres hordeum dicebant à farre, sicut granarium à grano, & horreum ab hordeo. & fartores nomenclatores quidam, quasi infarcirent nomina salutatorũ in aurem candidati. Et farrago, qua equi, & iumenta uerno tempore purgantur, & saginantur, quod primum in farraria segete seri cœpta sit: quamuis aliqui à farciendo potius, hoc est saturando dictã farraginem uelint. Et diffarratio genus sacrificij, quod inter uirũ, et uxorem fiebat. Et dissolutio dicta diffarratio, quia fiebat farreo libo adhibito. Et à farre secando per commutationem literæ ut Varro existimat, falx, & fartilia, quibus implentur ea, quæ decoquuntur. Plinius: Iecur anserinum fartilibus crescit mira magnitudine. fructus etiam à ferundo dicuntur res illæ, quas fundus, & quæ in fundo sunt, ferunt. Vnde fructiferum dicimus fructum ferentem, hoc est pinguem, fertilem. & fructiferæ arbores appellantur, quæ fructum ferunt, distinguuntur q; ab ijs, quæ neque feruntur, neque fructum ferunt: & propterea infelices arbores dicuntur. Et fructifico, quod est fructum facio. & fructificus, siue fructuosus, quã fructum, hoc est utilitatem præstat. Et Fructifica fructuum Dea. Et frutex, qui ab herba, & arbore differt. Est enim frutex, qui ad iustam magnitudinem arboris non assurgit, & statura similis est multis herbis, sed non demoritur, neque arescit, ut herba, uerum perennis est. à quo fit fruticor uerbum, hoc est pullulo, & quasi frutices emitto. Cicero: Excisa est enim arbor, non euulsa. itaque quasi fruticetum uides. Vnde fruticari pilum per metaphoram dicimus, & frutetum, & fruticetum, ubi multi frutices sunt: sicut uinetum, & oliuetum, ubi multæ uites, & multæ oliuæ. Veteres pro fructu fœminino genere etiam fructam dixerunt: & in genitiuo fructuis pro fructus. Varro: Quæro utrum fructuis, an delectationis causa uendatis. Dicebatur q; specialiter fructus oleum iustum ex oliuis expressum. quod uero post modum primum fluebat, flos fructus uocabatur. Et fruges, quod est generale nomen, & non modo frumenta, legumináque náque complectitur, sed quicquid ex fructu terræ in alimoniam uertimus. Vnde frugiferæ arbores dictæ sunt, quæcunq; fructum ferunt. à quo fit defrugo uerbum, quod est omni fructu spolio, omnem fructum exhaurio. Plin. Oraculum illud magnopere custodiendum, segetem ne defruges: Columella: Constat enim segetem nimia defrugatione exinaniri. Pompeius tamen, & Seruius, & Donatus, frugis uocabulum à frumine deductum existimãt. est autem frumen eminens sub mento gutturis pars, qua cibus in aluum demittitur, à ferẽdo cibo appellatum. & alio modo dicitur rumen, à quo fit rumino uerbum, siue ruminor, quod est reuomo, ac rursus cõsumo, à quo ruminatio deducitur, per quã demissus cibus reuocatur, ac mãditur. Et Rumina dea, quæ rumæ præest, hoc est pueris lactẽtibus. Rumam ueteres uocabant mammã, à qua rumare pro lactare dictum est, quasi mammam in rumen immittere. Vnde & irrumare deductum fœdæ significationis uerbum, quod penis in os quasi fugendus immittatur. Et subrumi agni dicuntur, quia adhuc sub mãma habentur. Et ruminalis ficus, sub qua lupa Remo & Romulo dicitur mammã præbuisse, quæ ei Rumula uocitata est. Ouid. Quæq; uocatur Romula nunc ficus, Rumula ficus erat: siue quod sub ea pecudes æstatis tempore frigora captantes herbas ruminare consueuerunt. Quidam strumam quoq; à ruma dictam existimant, quasi struens rumam. morbus est, quem uulgo à scrofis, ut opinor, quæ eo morbo afflictantur, scrofulam uocant, tumor scilicet, in quo subtus concretæ quædam ex pure, & sanguine quasi glandulæ oriuntur. Strumosi dicuntur, qui id uitium patiuntur. Et strumosa pars corporis quæ eo læsa est. Interdum tamẽ rumi nor per metaphorã accipitur, pro reuoco in memoriã. Varro: Non modo absens de te sæpius cogitabit, sed & ruminabitur humanitatẽ tuã. Liuius: Nemo hæc nostræ ruminabitur mulieri. Veteres in nominatiuo frux, pro fruge dixerunt. Varro: Frux legumen, triticum. à quo frugi indeclinabile nomen deriuatur. Sunt autẽ frugi homines, quos Græci χρησίμους appellant, qui in omni re motus animi moderãtur. Vnde est Pisonis illius cognomen tantopere celebratum. Inde etiam frugales dicuntur, & frugalitas dicta, quæ motus animi appetẽtens regit & sedat, moderatamq; in omni re nouit seruare constantiam. Et frugaliter aduerbium tẽperate, modeste. & frumentum, quasi frugamentum. & fruor quasi ex esu frugum delectationẽ capio. Vtor enim, & fruor differunt, quod uti, si cum homine iungatur, conuersari est. Cice. Cuius patre familiariter utebar, id est, cum quo familiariter cõuersabar. Si uero cũ alijs iungatur est usum habere. Mart. Vtere lactucis, & mollibus utere maluis. Hinc usus sit, quod interdum ipsam utendi significationẽ habet. Vir. Nam neq; erat corijs usus. Interdũ consuetudinẽ, conuersationẽ. Teren. Sic mihi est usus. Quint. mulierem, cum qua longus illi fuerat usus. Vnde usu uenire, pro accidere ponimus. Plin. Id enim frequẽter usu uenit, ut malis bonis præferantur. Aliquãdo ponitur pro opus est. Vir. nũc uiribus usus, nunc manibus. Item quia solemus uti rebus, ut ex ijs utilitatem percipiamus, usus aliquãdo pro utilitate accipitur. Apuleius: Cum id ex usu meo non esset. Hinc utilis, et utilitas dicuntur, & aduerbium utiliter. Item apud uris consultos usus fructus dicitur, cum res aliqua non nostra est, sed per inde ex ea fructum, atq; utilitatem capimus, ac si nostra esset: definitur q; ab Vlpiano: Ius alienis rebus utendi, fruendi q; salua rerum substantia. Abuti uero est perperam uti, siue nimis licẽter uti. Cicero: Noli abuti nimis patientia nostra. Vnde ab usus, & abusio dicuntur, cum aliqua re per licentiã male utimur. Item abusum dicitur, quod utendo cõsumptum est. Plau. Vbi illa quæ dedi ante abusa. si ea durarent mihi, mulier mit teretur ad te. Et usucapio abusa dicitur acquisitio, siue adiectio dominij per continuationẽ possessionis longi temporis defiiti, utputa triginta, aut quadraginta annorum, si res immobilis sit, quam possidemus. Item trium annorum, si res mobilis sit. Recentiores primam illam præscriptionem uocant, hanc uero usucapionem. Ita enim dicitur usucapio, sicut pignoricapio. Cato: Hæc pignoricapio ob æs militare facta est, quod æs tribuno ærario miles accipere debeat. Et usito, & usurpo eiusdem significationis. à quibus usitatio & usurpatio dicuntur. Cicero: Post inuenta conclusio est, qua credo usuros ueteres illos fuisse, si iam nota atque usurpata res esset, qua inuenta, omnes usos magnos oratores uidemus. & usura, quæ modo pro usu capitur. Sene. Si mihi unius dieculæ usurã permisisset. Modo significat fœnus, à quo fœnerator, à quibusdã usurarius dicitur. Frui autem est ex re, qua utimur, delectationem capere. Vnde fieri potest, ut eadem re unus utatur, alter fruatur, ut si per æstum duo frigida aqua manus lauent, alter ut abluat sordes, alter, ut frigiditate illa oblectetur. Habet hoc uerbum tria supina, Fruitũ, unde fruitio fit, quo uerbo theologi utuntur, uoluntq; ad deum tãtum referri. Et fretũ, unde fit fretus, id est cõfisus. Quin. Tua fretus humanitate id egerã. Et frutum, ut paulo mox ostendemus. à fruor fit fruiscor, sicut à fateor fatiscor. Lucil. æque fruiscor ego, ac tu. Et perfruor quod est in totum fruor. Et defruor, omnem fructum ẽcipio, à quo defrutum appellatum uini genus huiusmodi. Decoquitur mustum ad tertiã partem mensuræ, quod syreum dicitur. Græci ἀπὸ τοῦ ἕψειν, quod est decoquere ἕψημα uocant, nostri à sapiditate, ut arbitror, sapam nominant. hoc si ad dimidiam partem decoquatur, fit defrutum, quod omnis fructus ex eo musto detractus sit. frutum quoque & frutam ueteres dixerunt passiue eum, siue eam, quibus nos frui contigisset. Vnde frutinal dictum est templum Veneris frutæ. Cato etiam fruniscor pro fruor, & frunitum dixit prudentem, hoc est eum, quo perfrui liceret: siue è contrario infrunitum insipientem, ac stolidum, qui nulli usui esset. Sed nos frunitum & infrunitum à græco potius deducta existimamus. Nam græci φρόνιμον prudentem, ἄφρονα dementem dicunt. Item à ferendo frumẽtum dictum, siue, ut quidam putant, à frugibus, quasi frugamentũ. Frumenta autem dici putant quæcunque emittunt aristas. à frumento, fit frumentor uerbum, quod est frumẽtum colligo. Vnde frumentatio collectio frumenti, & frumentator, qui frumentatũ profectus est. & frumentarium, quod ad frumentum pertinet, ut frumentarius ager, frumentarium cribrum, frumentaria lex de frumentis, sicut agraria de agris. Item à ferendo frustum cuiusq; rei particula; quod facilè feratur. Vir. Pars in frusta secãt, uerubusq; tremẽtia figunt. M. Cato: Frusto panis cõduci potest, uel uti taceat, uel ut loquatur. Vnde fit aduerbiũ frustatim, & frustillatim, hoc est, minutatim, et p frusta. Ite ẽ Plautus, frustillum et frustillum usurpat pro paruo frusto. Frustra quoque aduerbium hinc deductum quidam existimant, quod significat incassum, quasi imperfecte. à quo fit frustro uerbũ, quod est fallo, deludo. Et passiuum eius frustror, quod etiã deponens reperitur. Vnde sunt uersus illi uetustissimi poẽtæ ab A. Gell. cõmemorati: Nam qui lepide postulat alterum frustrari, quẽ frustratur, frustra eum dicit, frustra esse. Nam qui sese frustra, quem frustrari sentit, qui frustratur, is frustra est, si non ille est frustra Quidam tamen hæc à frangendo potius deducta existimant. à ferendo etiam furca dictum instrumẽtum, quo stramenta feruntur. à quo bifurcum, & bifurcatum, & bifurcatim; et furcifer, à quo trifurcifer. Pla. Tu trium literarũ homo uituperas me, & fur trifurcifer. Et furculam, & furcillam deducimus, et furcilis, quo utimur ad extrahẽdum simum.

item ferax abundans. à quo feracitas, pro abundantia deducitur. Plin. Vt tam ferax bonarum artium seculum uideremus, & fertile eiusdem significationis, à quo fertilitas, & fertiliter aduerbium. & Feronia nemoris dea à ferendis arboribus. Tradunt enim, cum nemus eius aliquando fortuito arsisset incendio, & ob id transferre inde simulachrum incolæ uellent, subito nemus euiruisse. Vir. & uiridi gaudēs Feronia luco. Sunt qui scribant circa tractus Campaniæ, ubi Circæi sunt, Iouem coli solitū, qui Anxurus diceba tur, quasi ἄνευ ξυρεῦ, hoc est, sine nouacula: quia barbam nunquā rasisset: & Iunonem, quæ Feronia uocabatur. Fontem autē fuisse in Cāpania iuxta Tarracinam, quæ aliquando Anxur est dicta. Sed illud magis constat, sub monte Soracte urbem fuisse Feroniam, & in ipso mōte eiusdē nominis deam, quā finitimi mira religione uenerabantur. Erat in loco templum eius, mirificum sacri genus habens. Nam qui eius numine afflabantur, nudis pedibus super incensos carbones, & calidissimum cinerem sine aliqua offensione ingrediebantur. ingens eò mortalium multitudo conueniebat, & celebritatis eius, quæ quotannis fieri solebat, gratia & spectaculi. Et ferentarij milites leuis armaturæ, qui quicquid opus esset auxilio ferrent, ex cursu leui armis grauibus minime impediti: uel ab auxilio ferendo, uel quod fundis & lapidibus pugnarent, quæ tela feruntur, non tenentur. Cato eos ferentarios dixit, qui tela ac potiones militibus pugnantibus ministrabant. hi & uelati uocabantur. Velare enim licet proprie cooperire sit, unde & uelum pro tegmine accipitur: & ueliuolum mare dicitur, per quod uelis uolatur: & ueliuolæ naues, quæ uelis uolant. unde & reuelare nudare est atq; detegere: aliquando tamen pro ligare accipitur. Pompo. Reste uelet gulā. aliquādo pro ueſtire. Plau. muliebri uelatus toga. Velati ergo uocitati sunt milites, qui uestiti & inermes exercitum sequebantur, & in demortuorum locū substitui solebant. Hi postea mutatis literis uelites appellati sunt. Et uelitaris pugna dicta, quæ fundis ac lapidibus, interdum etiam hastis fieri ab inermibus solet. Hinc uelitor uerbum deductum est, pro contendo & iurgor: & uelitatio contentio. Plau. nescio quid uelitati estis inter uos. A. Gellius. Cum inquinatissimis hominibus nō est cōuitio decertandum, neq; maledictis aduersum impudentes & improbos uelitandum: quia tantisper similis & compar eorum fias, dum parua & cōsimilia dicas, atq; audias. A uelitor uelitatim aduerbium deducitur, quod significat per saltus, & interualla, quod uelites fundis, ac lapidibus pugnando huiusmodi saltibus utantur. Si senna. Nos una æstate in Asia & Græcia gesta, iccirco continentia literis mādauimus, ne uelitatim aut saltuatim scribendo lectorum animos impediremus. Item à fero feciales dicti, quod apud eos belli pacisq; ferendæ ius erat. neq; enim licebat bellum alicui inferre, nisi hi & iusta causa suscepta declarauissent, & prius indixissent. Varro. Itaq; bella tarde, nec magna licentia suscipiebant, quod bellum nullum, nisi pium putabāt geri oportere, & prius quàm indiceretur bellum ijs, à quibus iniurias factas sciebant, feciales legatos res repetitum mittebāt quatuor, quos oratores uocabant. Idē. si cuius legati uiolati essent, qui id fecissent, quamuis nobiles essent, ut ciuitati dederentur statuerunt: feciales q; uiginti, qui de rebus cognoscerent, iudicarent, & statuerent, cōstituerunt. Sunt tamen qui feciales à faciendo uocitatos existimant, quod apud eos belli, ac pacis faciendæ ius esset. Item ferrum à ferendo quidā dictum putāt, quod in agros colendi gratia feratur. Ego à feriendo potius appellatum arbitror, quod cætera eo feriantur, hoc est, domētur. Ab hoc ferrugo dicitur, quæ proprie est rubigo ferri, sicut ærugo rubigo æris. Plin. sudor uirgæ cornu arboris, lamina candente ferrea exceptus non contingente ligno illita, quæ inde ferrugo incipiēteis lichenas sanat. Rubigo atq; ærugo, ut Marcel. scribit, idem sunt: sed falsum hoc esse ostendit Pli. qui de auro scribit: Super cætera nō rubigo ulla, non ærugo, non aliud ex ipso est, quod cōsumat bonitatē. Non coniunxisset utrunq; hoc loco Plin. nisi inter se differrent. Dicendum est igitur, rubiginem esse, quæ in metallis situ quodam contrahitur arida, & rubra, metallum paulatim absumens, qualem in ferro uidemus. dicta rubigo à colore. Veteres enim robum rubeum dicebant, & bouem iccirco robum rusticiuocabant. unde & materia quæ plurimas huius coloris uenas habet, dicta est robur, & homines ualentes, ac boni coloris, robusti. Græci hanc ἐρυσίβην uocant, quod apud eos quoq; ἐρυθρὸν rubeum dicitur. hinc uitium illud quod segetes occupat robigo dicitur: quod ut illa ferrum atq; alia metalla, sic ista segetes exurit. Vnde et Robigus deus, & Robigalia dicta, quod huic deo sacrificia fierent, ne robigo segetes occuparet, & Rubigo dea. Ouidius. Flamen in antiquum lucū Rubiginis ibat. Aerugo uero est, quæ in metallis ex humore contrahitur, non rufa & sicca, qualem diximus robiginem esse, sed uiridis, atq; humida, dicta ab ære, quod proprie æris sit ærugo, ut ferri ferrugo. Scribit Plin. æs muliebribus menstruis cōtactum graue uirus odoris accipere, & ærugine m. ex lapide quoq;, ex quo coquitur æs ærugo deraditur, quemadmodum ex lapide, ex quo coquitur ferrum, rubigo. Sed in omnibus metallis, præsertim quæ non pura sunt, & ærugo simul, & rubigo esse possunt. Ferrum diuturno situ rubiginem cōtrahit. Si citro aut omphacio, aut alio acri tangatur, statim ærugo incessit, hoc ipsum accidit in argēto, nisi purum, putumq; sit, & in ære, atq; aliis metallis. Itaq; eadem sæpe metalla, & rubiginosa esse & æruginosa conspicimus. Aeruginem Græci ἰὸν χαλκοῦ nominant: ferruginem ἰὸν σιδήρου, id est, florem æris ac ferri. Non recte interpretatus est noster Hierony. locum illum in sacris literis. καὶ ἔδωκε τῇ ἐρυσίβῃ τὸν καρπὸν αὐτῶν, καὶ τὸν πόνον αὐτῶν τῇ ἀκρίδι. id est, Et dedit ærugini fructus eorū, & labores eorum locustæ. Rubigini enim interpretari debuit, non ærugini. A rubigine rubiginosus dicitur, sicut ab ærugine æruginosus. Ferrugo etiam per metaphoram dicitur color rufus subniger, qualis est hyacinthi floris, à colore ferri dum est rubiginosum. Virg. Cum caput obscura nitidum ferrugine texit. Ab hoc fit ferrugineus. Idē. Et ferrugineos hyacinthos. Manifestus est Marcelli error, qui ferrugineum colorē cœruleum esse scripsit. A ferro etiam ferreum deducitur, quod ex ferro est. & ferrarium, quod ad ferrum attinet. unde fodinas ferrarias dicimus, siue simpliciter ferrarias, sicut ærarias, argentarias, aurarias, loca in quibus ferrum, æs, argentum, aurumq; effoditur. Et ferramentum instrumentum ferreum. unde ferramenta fabrilia, & ferramenta tonsoria dicimus: & ferratum, cui ferrum inditum est. Vnde ferrata spicula, ferratas lanceas, ferratas sagittas nominamus. Et Saxum ferratum natale oppidum meum in Piceni atq; Vmbriæ finibus situ, à ferro uocitatum est propter fodinas ferrarias, quas eo in loco multas fuisse earum reliquiæ ostendunt. Et urbs Sentinum à ueteribus dicebatur à Sentino amne iuxta mœnia lambente, quē nunc quoq; Sentinum incolæ uocāt. Itē à ferro ferrumen uocitatum, quod gluten significat, & ferruminatio, conglutinatio, atq; iunctura. Sed proprie ea, quæ fit in metallis, quis & ad alia transferatur. & ferruminare est metalla coniungere, ac ut ita dicam, conglutinare, licet de aliis etiam dicatur. Pl. Nanq; furculo super bina oua imposito, ac ferruminato albi glutino sublata cer uice medio æqua utrinq; libra deportant aliò. Idē: Garris Arabiæ oppido muros, domosq; è massis salis faciunt, aqua ferruminantes. Idem; Sine ferrumine suo cemēta componentes. A ferrumino rumino conferua herba deducitur, de qua inferius dicemus. Ferrum uiuum uulgo dicitur, quod ex Magnete lapide uirus accepit: idq; mira quadam utriusq; natura longo tempore retinet, aliud apprehendens ferrum, ut aliquando annulorum catena spectetur. Fero ipsum à Græco deducitur. etenim Græci quoque φέρω dicunt. à quo tam apud illos, quàm apud nos pheretrum dictum, quo uel cadauer fertur, quod & à capiendo capulus appellatur. unde Plautus capularē senem nominat mortui uicinum: uel aliquid aliud cum pompa. Liuius: Spolia ducis suspensa fabricato ad id apte pheretro gerens in capitolium ascendit: ibiq; cum ad quercū pastoribus sacram deposuisset, templum designauit, & addidit cognomen Iupiter pheretrius. Rudes sunt, qui hunc locū deprauant, pro pheretro, ferculo scribentes: cum & nomen ipsum pheretrij Iouis pheretrum esse scribendum, & Græci quoq; pheretra uocent argentum, aurum, gemmas, imagines principum, spolia hostium, & cætera, quæ in pompa feruntur. Deprehenditur etiam hoc loco Plutarchi error, qui non à ferendo, sed à feriendo dictum Iouem pheretrium scribit: & Pompeij Festi, qui ideo appellatum censet pheretrium Iouem, quod pacem ferre putaretur: quoniam ex templo eius, quod Romæ primum à Romulo ædificatum est, sumebant sceptrum, per quod iurarent, & lapidem silicem, quo fœdus ferirent. Hinc etiam arcano quodam prouidentiæ consilio factum arbitror, ut tibi quoq; Federice, ac gentibus tuis pheretrij cognomen inditum sit, siue à spolijs hostium, quæ toties opima domum retulisti, siue quod pacem quandoq; Italiæ eras laturus. Quis enim ignorat huius tranquillitatis, qua hæc prouincia orbis regina in præsentia fruitur, te solum esse & autorem, et arbitrum? Malo itaque pheretrium montē à familiæ tuæ gentilitio nomine deriuari, quàm familiæ tuæ, tuumq; nomen à pheretrio monte pheretrium dici. Item à φέρω Græco pharetra dicta instrumentum, quo sagittæ feruntur: & qui eam ferunt, dicuntur pharetrati. Itē amphora uasis genus figulini duas ansas habens, ita appellata, quod ex utroq; latere capta feratur, cōtinet quadrantal. unde ἀμφορεὺς φόρου Græci, nos amphorariū uocamus eū, qui mercedis gratia amphorā gerit. et incitega machinula erat, in qua amphora uini cōstituebatur, unde uina subinde in cōuiuia subministrarentur. Itē epiphora, quæ latine eodem modo dicitur ἀπὸ τοῦ ἐπιφέρειν, hoc est ab inferendo dicta, morbus oculorū est, quem uulgo lachrymā uocant, cum descensus humoris oculos male angit. Plin. Caro peponū epiphoris oculorū, et doloribus prodest. Formica quoque à ferendis micis uocitata est. Mica proprie est puluisculus ille, qui in arena, quasi argentum fulget. à quo & panis, & omnium rerum minimæ partes micæ dicuntur, quasi minutim cadentes. à mica, quæ in arena fulget, deductum est mico uerbum, quod proprie est subinde, & per interualla, ut micæ faciunt, fulgeo. Virg. l. Micat ignibus æther. Idem: Ardentes clypeos, atq; æra micantia cerno. Et quoniam talis quædam uariatio, dum digitis sortimur, apparet, per metaphoram micare aliquando accipimus pro digitis sortiri. Varro: Micandum erit cum Græco, utrum ego illi us numerum, an ille meum sequatur. Cicero: Dignum esse dicunt, qui cum in tenebris mices. Quia uero hoc per uices fit, micare etiam capimus pro eo, quod est per uices, & sine ordine mouere. Virg. Micat auribus, & tremit artus. Idem: Et linguis micat ore trisulcis. Ab hoc cōposita fiunt promico qđ est extēdo, uel longe iacio. Neuius: Siquid loqui uis, nō perdocere, multa lōge promicāda oratio est. Emico, quod est resplendeo. Plau. Ex oculis quasi radij emicant solis. Dimico cōtendo, pugno, à quo dimicatio deriuatur. à formica fit diminutiuū formicula, et formicinus: sicut à bellua belluinus, et musca muscinus. Plau. Homo formicinus, ac muscinus. & formicatio uitiū corporis, quod Græci μυρμηκίαν uocant, cum parua tubercula, rotunda, pinguia corpus infestant. Plin. Cinis muliebrium crinium, cum fuerint combusti, addito melle, sanguinem sistit illico, & formicationem corporum. dicta formicatio, quod uel uti exesse carnem formicæ uideantur. & deformicatum à formicis submersum, quibus confoueri solitum erat. Item à fero formido, hoc est metus, cum uehementius in mouendo, ut ab se abeat, foras fertur. Ab hoc fit formido uerbū, hoc est timeo, & formidabile, timendū: & formidolosus, quod modo accipitur pro eo, qui formidat. Teren. Num formidolosus es mi homo? modo pro eo qui formidatur. Sall. Ita talibus uiris non labor insolitus, nō locus ullus asper, aut arduus erat, non armatus hostis formidolosus. Ab hoc formidolose aduerbiū cum timore. Itē à φέρω græco apophoreta munera, quæ dari Saturnalibus solebant, quē morem hodie quoq; seruamus mense Decembri. dicta apophoreta, quod ab ijs, quos salutabāt, referrentur. ἀποφέρειν enim modo auferre, modo referre significat. Hinc Mart. nouissimū librū operis sui apophoreta inscripsit, hoc est munera saturnaliorū. Suet. de Caligula: Agitatori Cithio comessatione quadā in apophoretis uicies sestertiū contulit. Idē de Vespasiano: Sicut Saturnalibus dabat uiris apophoreta, ita per cal. martias, fœminis. Item à ferendo forago dicitur filum, quod à textricibus fertur, ut diurnum opus distinguant, quamuis hoc à forando potius deductum existiment. Item Forda bos prægnans, quod testatur Ouid. Forda ferens bos est, fœcundaq; dicta ferendo. hinc fordicidia dies appellati, quibus prægnātes boues immolabantur, ut Varro testatur. Fore quoque à ferendo quidam dictum uolunt: cum nihil ferè aliud sit, quàm ferri. licet enim uocem habeat infinitiui præsentis, ut esse, significationem tamen potius futuri habēt. Idem sanè fore est, quod futurū esse: licet forem fores foret idem sit, quod essem esses esset. Quapropter fore raro cū participio, frequenter cū nomine iungitur. Cic. Spero amicitiā nostrā notam posteritati fore. Aliquando cum participio inueniri testatur Cæsar, quod mirum est Vallam nō animaduertisse. Nonnulli etiam Cæsari nunciabant, cum castra moueri, aut signa ferri iussisset, non fore dicto audientes militeis. idem, quod non fore dicto audientes milites, neq; laturi signa dicantur. Cū participio uero futuri nunq; iungitur fore. Cōposita uero à fore nudæ hoc est sine nomine, & sine participio ponūtur. Virg. Esse quoque in fatis reminiscitur affore tempus. quod uerbum Statius pro significatione præsentis accepisse uidetur: Sensit manifesto numine ductos affore, quos nexis ambagibus dugur Apollo ædiderat. Defore. Cic. Vtrū arbitrabātur nō defore, qui illam restituerent. Abfore, qđ rarius in usu est, unde dicūtur ab futuri. Confore, et perfore, apud poētas pro fore. Profore, pro futurū esse. Horat. Quæ nocuere sequar, fugiam, quæ profore credam. Nos tamen potius fore, quasi futurū esse dictū existimamus, quàm à ferendo deductum. ad hæc fortis à ferendo uocitatus est, quod æquo animo ferat aduersa. unde fortitudo à Cicerone ita definitur: Scientia rerum perferendarum, uel affectio animi in patiendo, ac perferendo summæ legi parens sine timore. & alibi: Fortitudo est considerata periculorum susceptio, & laborum perpessio. à fortis fit aduerbium fortiter, & fortifico pro fortem facio. Plautus: Fortifica animum. & Fortesco pro fortis fio. Neuius: Crescit animus, & fortescunt ires. & forticulus diminutiuū. Cicero: Quamuis idem Epicurus forticulū se in torminibus, & in stranguria sua præbeat. Fortis proprie est, qui animum habet infractum, uel qui ualidis uiribus præditus est. Virg. Fortēq; Cloantū. Aliquando tamē pro celeri ponitur, Idē; Si fœmina forti fidis equo. aliquan-

do pro formoso. Plaut. Ecquid fortis uisa est. Nonnunq̃ etiã pro diuite. Idem: Eam sororem spopondisse suam, in tam fortẽ familiã, hoc est diuitem, & copiosam. firmus quoq;, hoc est stabilis, constans à ferendo dictus, quod constãter omnia ferat. à quo firmitas, hoc est stabilitas, cõstantia, quæ & firmitudo dicitur. Plau. Si istã firmitudinem animi obtines, salui sumus. et firmiter aduerbium stabiliter, inconcusse. & firmo uerbũ, qđ est sisto, stabilio. à quo firmator, firmatrix, firmatio. Affirmo quod significat asseuero, unde affirmator, affirmatrix, affirmatio, affirmatiuũ. & aduerbium affirmatiue. Offirmo idem quod firmo. Plaut. Offirmo pessulum. Infirmo, debilito, à quo infirmus, debilis. & infirmitas, debilitas, imbecillitas. Refirmo rursus firmo. confirmo approbo, roboro. à quo confirmator, confirmatrix, confirmatio, confirmatiuum, & aduerbiũ confirmatiue. Et fortuna à ferendo dicta, quod temere, et sine ratione feratur. est enim fortuna accidentium rerum subitus, atq; inopinatus euẽtus. Hæc à ueteribus Dea credita est, à quibusdam etiam deus uarijs casibus humana deludens, & propterea cæca æstimata. Iuuenalis: Te facimus fortuna deã, cœloq; locamus. hæc eadem ratione et fors dicitur. Vir. Forte sua Libycis tempestas appulit oris. Fors, & fortuna ita à quibusdã distinguuntur, ut fors casus sit, hoc est id, qđ fortuito accidit: fortuna uero ipsa Dea. Acci. Nãq; audire uolo, quo captus modo, fortuna ne, an forte repitur. Terẽ. O fortuna, ò fors fortuna. Dona. Aliud fortuna est, aliud fors fortuna. Fortuna dicta est incerta res: fors fortuna, euentus fortunæ bonus. Nã fors fortuna est, cuius diem festum colunt, q̃ in arte aliqua uiuunt. huius ædes trans tyberim erat. Fortunæ uocabulum medium est, sed cum fortunam solam dicimus, intelligimus felicitatẽ. Vnde fortunatos felices nominamus: infortunatos uero infelices: & infortuniũ, malam fortunã. Fortunatos tamen pro propitijs ponimus. Afra. Deos ego omneis, ut fortunati sint, precor. Fortunare etiã prosperare est, ac bonis augere. Cic. Tibi patrimonium Dij fortunent. hinc fortunæ dicuntur diuitiæ. et fortunatim aduerbium, prospere, ac feliciter. Plau. Si dederit Iupiter, ut fortunatim omnia succedant. & fortunatæ insulæ à fructuum ubertate dictæ sunt in mari Atlantico ultra Gorgadas, aduersæ promontorio, quod uocatur ἑσπέριον κέρας. Prima uocatur Obrion, habens in montibus stagnũ, arboresq; ferulæ similes, ex quibus aqua exprimitur, ex nigris, amara, ex candidioribus, dulcis, & potui iucunda. Altera Iunonia appellatur, in qua una tantum ædicula erat lapide extructa. ab ea tertia eodem nomine, minor: deinde Capraria lacertis grandibus referta. in conspectu harum Niuaria, aêre nebuloso, ac coacto, & propterea semper niualis. Proxima ei Canaria ita uocitata à canum multitudine ingentis magnitudinis. Omnes pomorum, & auium omnis generis copia abundant. hæc ultima etiam palmetis cariotas ferentibus, & nuce pinea, & melle. Papyrum quoq;, ac siluros in amnibus habet. à forte, & eundo fortuitum dicitur, quod casu accidit. Item à forte aduerbium, fortassis, fortasse, forsitan, forsan, quæ aliquando pro temere accipiuntur, aliquando sunt aduerbia dubitandi. eodẽ modo fors, & forte, & fortuito. Item à ferendo forum appellatum negotiationis locus, quò uenalia ferũtur: ut forũ Iulium, forum Flaminium, forum Sempronium ab eorum nominibus, qui ea fora custodienda curarent. quod etiã in locis priuatis, & in uijs, & in agris fieri solet. Vnde forum boarium dicimus, in quo boues ueneuntur: forum olitorium, in quo herbæ uenduntur, quod erat antiquum macellum. quapropter nunc quoq; olerum locum Lacedæmonij macellum uocant. Forum piscarium, in quo pisces ueneunt: forum cupedinis, in quo uenduntur cupedia. Cupes enim, & cupedia, antiqui lautiores ci-bos nominabant. unde cupedinarij dicti sunt omnes, qui esculenta uendunt; ab eo, quod alimenta rebus cupidinis præbeãt. Dicitur tamen etiã forum locus, in quo cum populo agitur, cõciones habentur, lites tractantur, quod ibi iudicia ferũtur: unde & forenses dicuntur, qui in foro uersantur. & sæpenumero interponentes se, lites dirimunt; quos Græci πραγματικοὺς, hoc est pragmaticos appellant. & forensia uestes, quibus in foro utuntur. & circunforanei, qui circa forum spaciantur uenditantes aliquid, aut ementes, aut sciscitantes, aut tẽpus inaniter terentes. Forũ quoq; agere dicitur is, qui prouinciæ præest dum ciuitates uocat, & de controuersijs earum cognoscit, ac sententiam fert. Forum item ueteres appellabant, quod postea uestibulum sepulchri dictum est. Fori autem uirili genere, & multitudinis numero sunt tabulata nauiũ ab eo, quod incessus ferant, siquidem per eos nautæ discurrunt. Virgil. Implessemq; foros flammis. Cicero: Alij malos scandant, alij per foros cursitent. Itẽ spectacula, hoc est loca erecta, ut ex ijs spectetur. Liuius: Tum primũ circo, qui maximus dicitur, designatus est locus, diuisa loca patribus, equitibusq;, ut spectacula sibi quisq; faceret, fori appellati. ex ijs minores forulos dicimus, q̃ aliquãdo armariola significant, in quibus reponũtur libri. Iuuenal. Hic libros dabit, & forulos. hinc & forare penetrare, & quasi in forum exire. à quo perforare, & foramẽ, & foratus quartæ declinationis, & forago filum, quo textrices diurnum opus distinguunt, à forando dictũ. & fores, quibus ianuæ clauduntur, quod foris aperiantur, quemadmodum ualuæ, quod intus reuoluantur. hæ per diminutionem forulæ appellantur. unde Forculus deus, q̃ foribus præerat, sicut Cardinea dea, quæ cardinibus præerat. & Limentinus deus, qui præerat limini. Et foramina, hoc est paruæ fores. Cic. Nam nunc quidem, quanq̃ foramina illa, quæ patent ad animos à corpore, callidissimo artificio natura fabricauit. Et foras, & foris, quasi ad forum, & in foro. & forinsecus eiusdem significationis, cum foris. & foria stercora liquidiora, quod facile ferantur foras. Vnde cõforire uerbum, quod est stercore liquido fœdare, quod Plau. cõcacare dixit. Pomponius: Conforisti me. Diomedes. Et foriolus, qui uentrem habet solutũ, & foria facile emittit. Laberius: Foriolus es, in coleos cacas. unde forica dicitur locus publicus in quo licet omnibus uentrem exonerare: cum latrina in priuatos usus sit à latendo dicta. Cloaca uero locus cauus, per quem colluuies quædam fluit. à quo fit cloacare uerbum, quod est inquinate deduci. Cloacæ tamen appellatione Vlpianus scribit & tubos, & fistulas contineri. Pertinebat autem ad salubritatem ciuium, & tutelam, ut foricæ purgarentur, ac cloacæ reficerentur. Nam & cœlum pestilens, & ruinam immundæ minantur. Iuue. Inde reuersi Conducunt foricas. Sunt qui frenũ etiam à ferendo dictum existimant, quod equos uertat, feratq; quò uelit. unde effrenes, & infrenes, atq; effrenatos dicimus, qui cohiberi, & pro arbitrio nostro agi non possunt. & freno uerbum, quod significat cohibeo. & refreno eiusdem significationis. Sene. Cohibendus enim, ac refrenandus est animus. frenum in singulari neutri generis est, in plurali uero frena, & frenos dicimus. Quidam tamen frenum non à ferendo, sed à frangendo dictum putant: quod equorum, aliorumq; animalium ora frangat, ideoq; cum diphthongo scribi debere. Fistula quoq; ab aqua ferenda dicta est, quamuis alij à fundenda aqua dictam malint. proprie enim fistulæ sunt, ut Pompo. inquit, per quas aquas ducimus, à quarum similitudine instrumentum musicum fistulã uocamus, cuius Pan dicitur inuentor fuisse. Vir. Septem cõpacta cicutis fistula. Eadem quoq; similitudine fistula uocatur ulcus altum, angustum, callosum, siue ex uulnere sit, siue ex uitio intus orto, quod ad suppurationem peruenerit, quam primo tentare specillo medicus debet, ut quò tendat, & quàm alte perueniat, scire possit. Ab hoc fit fistulo uerbum, quod significat fistulã ago. Pli. Et pumicis fistulans uice. Item for faris à fero deductum est, quamuis prima persona in usu nõ sit. nihil enim aliud est fari, quàm ferre, hoc est loqui. Quanquam Varro inter fari, & loqui hoc interesse scribit: quod fatur is qui primus significabilem uocem ore emittit, nullo uerborum ordine seruato: unde pueri ante, quàm id faciant, infantes dicuntur. Loquitur autem is, qui suo loco unumquodq; uerbum sciens ponit. A for, faminor in imperatiuo deducitur, quod ueteres pro dicito usurpabant. & Fabolinus deus, qui pueris primo fari incipientibus præest. & fato dicitur, quod est multa loquor. à quo refuto, & confuto, de quibus inferius dicemus. & fatus, locutus. & fama, quæ proprie est inanis de aliqua re rumor sine ueri cognitione, siue bonus sit, siue malus. Et hoc tantũ differt à rumore, quod rumor semp̃ de recenti dicitur. Cic. Improbissimis rumoribus dissipatis. Liuius. Manat toto urbe rumor. Fabios ad cœlum laudibus ferũt. Fama etiam sæpe dicitur de re inueterata, firmataq; in hominum opinione, quãuis incerta. Mart. Quicquid fama canit, donat arena tibi: hoc est, quicquid incertum, fabulosumq; narrauit uetustas, tu opere præstas. Quint. Fama est Iouem olim in imbrem aureum conuersum puellæ in gremium descendisse. Ponitur tamen frequenter pro laude, ac celebritate, ut fama Fabiorũ, fama Camillorum, fama Scipionũ. Vir. Sum pius Aeneas, fama sup̃ æthera notus. Aliquãdo pro opinione. Pli. Huc eum liberalitatis tuæ fama perduxerat. Vir. Nos munera templis quippe tuis ferimus, famamq; fouemus inanem. Hinc fit famosum, & infame eiusdem planè significationis. Cicero: Non pol inq̃t audeo, nã me ad famosas uetuit mater accedere. Plau. Qui etiam me miserum famosum fecit flagitijs suis. Sall. Largitionem famosam, impudentemq;. Vnde infamia, & qua Apuleius utitur, infamatio deriuãtur. Et famiger, & famigero uerbum, hoc est diuulgo. & famigerabile uulgandum apud antiquos, ut Varro testatur. & famigeratio diuulgatio. Famam Græci φήμην nominant, quæ similiter ἀπὸ τῆς φάσεως, hoc est à fando deriuatur. differtq; fama à gloria, quæ constans, & solida est, atq; ita definitur: Gloria est frequens de aliquo fama cum laude. Est autem alia inanis gloria uitiorũ plerunq; laudatrix, quæ definitur popularis fama, ex honestatis simulatione proueniens. ab hac diminutiuum fit gloriola, & glorior uerbum notæ significationis. & gloriabundus, qui gloriatur. & gloriosus, q̃ se uel inaniter iactat, uel alterius inani laudatione effertur, & laudari quærit. & inglorius, qui nulla laude, aut gloria dignus est, ueluti ignobilis. Rumor & aliquando pro fauore ponitur. Virg. Ergo iter inceptũ peragunt rumore secundo. ab hoc rumusculus paruus rumor. & rumifero honeste dictum, pro rumores fero. Plau. Thebani uero rumiferant, probant. Quidam etiam rumigero usurparunt, & nõnulli rumito. Neui. Simul alius aliunde rumitant inter sese. Item adrumauit inuenitur pro eo, quod est rumorem fecit, siue cõmurmuratus est. quidam hæc à rumine, hoc est parte gutturis putant deduci. Fames uero, hoc est edendi cupiditas, non à fando, sed ἀπὸ τοῦ φάγω deducitur, quod est edo. unde famelicus, qui edendi cupiditate agitur, & famelicosus, qui frequenter famelicus est. unde famelicosam turrim palustrẽ ueteres uocitabant. Et fameo, esurio. à quo famesco. Falæ autẽ à fando dictæ sunt, quod Thusci cœlum fandũ uocabãt, sunt autẽ ligneæ turres. Item à fando infandum, magnũ, quod uix fari quis possit. Vir. Infandum regina iubes renouare dolorem. & infans puer, qui nondum fari cœpit: quod etiã de brutis dicitur, atque etiam auibus. Plini. Quadrupedes infanteis suos cognoscunt, Idem: Vespertilio uolucrum sola lacte nutrit, ubera admouẽs geminos uolitat amplexa infanteis. Item de inanimalibus. idem de boleto: Nec tunicæ minor gratia in cibo infantis boleti, hoc est parui, & nondũ adulti. à quo infantia fit, id est ætas infantilis. nam & ab infante infantile deducitur. Iustin. Hunc seu misericordia fortunæ eius, seu infantilibus blandimentis inductus diu protexit. Thusci fandũ cœlum uocabãt. à quo falæ ob altitudinem turres ligneæ uocitatæ sunt. à quibus falarica dicta telum maximum, quod in fulminis modum pugnantes de falis iaciebant. Virgil. Sed magnum stridens contorta falarica uenit. Falces autem, & harpagæ armorum genera erant, murorum oppugnationibus apta. Sisenna: Falces iniectas cõmuniũt, pluteos propius collocatis harpagis deijciunt è turribus. Plutei crates sunt, corio crudo intextæ, quæ apponi solebãt militibus opus facientibus, ideoq; appellabantur militares. Nunc etiam tabulæ, quibus quid præsepitur, eodem nomine significantur. Infantem etiam per metaphorã dicimus stultũ, & quasi loqui nescientem, & infantiorem, & infantissimum, pro stultiorem, & stultissimum. Et infantiam, hoc est stultitiam, & infantiliter, stulte, pueriliter. & infantilitas, puerilitas. Sic aũt à fero fari deducunt Latini, quemadmodum ἀπὸ τοῦ φέρω, φράζειν, quod est fari, & disserere. unde phrasis deducta est, quam Qu. definiuit eloquentiæ corpus, à qua Theophrastus appellatus, quasi diuina eloquentia præditus. Item à fando fas dicitur, hoc est pium, et religiosum, & fari dignũ. ad deos enĩ refertur, sicut iustũ ad homines. Vir. Fas, & iura sinunt, hoc est diuina, & humana iura permittunt. cuius contrariũ est nefas, hoc est impium, & execrabile. à quo fit nefandum, & nefarium, hoc est scelestum, & quod ne fari q̃dem liceat, quãuis aliqui nefarium à farre potius deductum uelint, quo scelerati, quasi uita indigni uti non debent. Item fasti dies dicti sunt, quibus licet fari prætori tria uerba: do, dico, addico. & nefasti his contrarij, quibus fari non licet. Ouidius: Ille nefastus erit, per quem tria uerba silentur. Fastus erit per quem lege licebit agi. hinc fastorum libri appellati sunt, in quibus totius anni descriptio continebatur. De quibus idem Ouidius scribit: Sacra recognosces annalibus eruta priscis, Et quo sit merito quæq; notata dies. Inuenies illic & festa domestica uobis. Sæpe tibi pater est, sæpe legendus auus. Priscis autem tẽporibus fastorum libri solis pontificibus noti erant, & sacrorum Regi, quos primus Numa ad Hetruscorũ imitationẽ dicitur instituisse. hos enim legens minor põtifex, & obseruatione sacrificulo Regi patefacta, celebrato ab utroq; sacrificio, idem põtifex calata, id est uocata in capitolium plebe, iuxta curiam Calabram, quæ casæ Romuli prope erat, dies populo quomodo obseruari deberent, indicebat. Sed postea fasti Cn. Flauij scribæ opera, etiam inuitis patribus, in omniũ notitiam peruenere. Omnes aũt totius anni dies ex institutiõe Numæ, aut festi erãt à ferijs ita dicti, aut profesti, aut intercisi. Festi erãt, in q̃bus uel sacrificia Dijs offerebantur, uel dies diurnis epulationibus celebrabatur, uel ludi in honorẽ Deorũ agebantur, uel feriæ obseruabantur. à quibus festiuus deducitur, & festiuitas, & festiuo uerbum, hoc est diem festũ ago. & festus. a. um. festus dies dicitur, res festiua, hoc est iucunda, & lepida. Frondem festiuam dicimus, quæ læta, & iucunda est: frondem festã, quæ festis adhibetur. Profesti, qui hominibus ad rem uel priuatã, uel publicam administrandam concessi erant. Hi autem fasti erant, quibus licebat prætori ius dicere: aut comitiales, quibus licebat cum populo agere: aut comperendini, quibus licebat uadimonium iubere: aut stati, qui iudicij causa cum peregrino instituebantur: Plau. Status cõdictus cum hoste intercessit dies. Hostem enim hoc loco more ueterum nominat peregrinũ, aut præliares, quibus fas est res ablatas repetere, uel hostes lacessere. Sed eligendi ad pugnandum diei tunc Romanis erat licentia, cum ipsi bellum inferrent. Alioquin, cum exciperent, nullus obstabat dies, quo minus uel salutem suam, uel publicã defenderent dignitatem. Intercisi dies erant Deorũ, hominumq; communes. hi inter se, non in alia diuidebantur. Illorum enim dierum quibusdam horis fas erat, quibusdam fas nõ erat ius dicere. Nam, cũ hostia cædebatur, fari nefas erat: inter cæsa, et porrecta fari licebit: rursus, cũ adoleretur, nõ licebat. Dies atros uocabãt prisci, quos nunc ab obseruatrice huiusmodi rerum prouincia Aegyptiacos uocamus: quidã ad emendationẽ infausti nominis cõmunes nuncuparunt, qui ueluti infelices ad omnia cauenda sunt: quales erãt apud Romanos postriduani dies, quod Qu. Sulpitius tribunus militum ad Alliam aduersus Gallos pugnaturus rem diuinam postridie Iduum Quintilis dimicandi gratia fecerat. Item à fando fanum deducitur, hoc est templũ, quod Põtifex in dedicatione templi certa uerba præfari solet: quamuis sint aliqui, qui ἀπὸ τοῦ φάνερου dictũ malint, quod significat manifestum, qđ è fano responsa dabantur. un de prophetæ dicti sunt antistites fanorum, et oraculorũ interpretes. & hypophetæ uaticinãdi ministri, quibus scilicet prophetæ imperabant. Et fanaticus insanus dicitur: quoniam sacerdotes cum responsa dabant, furore pleni insanire uidebãtur. Hinc Fanũ Piceni urbs dicta, in littore Adriatico inter Pisaurũ, ac Senogalliã, omniũ Italiæ urbium, meo iudicio amœnissima, siue loci naturã, seu ciuium ingenia consideres: qđ in ea pulcherrimũ Fortunæ tẽplum fuerit, cuius adhuc reliquiæ conspiciuntur. Hinc Fanenses, siue Fanestres appellati. Item profanũ irreligiosum, non sanctum. Plau. Sacrum, an profanũ habeas paruipenditur. Is enim profanus est qui fani religione non tenetur, quasi porrò à fano, & à religione secretus. Profanum etiã appellatur, quod ex religioso, uel sacro in hominum usum conuersum est. Vir. Faune precor miserere inquit, tuq; optima ferrũ Terra tene, colui uestros si semp honores, Quos contra Aeneadæ bello fecere profanos. dixerat enim superius: Sed stirpem Teucri nullo discrimine sacrum Sustulerãt. Hinc profanare est ex sacro humanis usibus promiscuum facere. un de profanatum templum dicimus, cum in eo uel dimicatũ est, uel aliqd turpe cõmissum. à quo profanatio deducitur. Quidã hæc oĩa à græco deducẽtes, per ph potius, q̃ per f scribẽda existimant. Veteres pro fanum hanũ scripsere, & hanulum pro paruo fano. A fando etiam fatuus deriuatur, hoc est simplex insulsus, & quasi fari nesciẽs. quapropter & cibos insulsos, atq; insipidos fatuos dicimus. & fatuitatem, stultitiam. Fatui etiã dicuntur Fauni, agrestes dij, quod fari nesciant. unde & infatuatæ mulierẽs dicuntur, quæ Faunorum ludibrijs agitantur. similiter infatuati uiri, quos nunc uulgus spiritu plenos nominat, quidam etiam dæmoniacos. & infatuo, atq; infatuor uerba. Itẽ Fatua dea dicta est terra, quod infantes partu editi nõ prius uocem edunt, quàm terrã attigerint. Eadem et bona dea nominata, quod omnium nobis ad uictum bonorum causa est. et Fauna, quod omni usui animantium fauet. à qua Fauni agrestes dij, quod è terra geniti sint. & Ops, quod ipsius ope, atque auxilio uita cõstat. et Damia, quia ei in operto sacrificabatur: unde & sacerdos eius Damatris appellabatur, & sacrificium quod ei fiebat, damium à contrario sensu, quod minime esset δημόσιον, hoc est publicum. A fando fateor, quasi uehementer loquor, & affirmo. fateri enim est sponte aliquid affirmare: confiteri aliquo modo coactum, profiteri ad gloriã aliquid præ se ferre, diffiteri negare. à confiteor confessio fit, & confessor, nõ qui peccata alterius audit, ut imperitum uulgus usurpat, sed qui propria confitetur rogatus. Item professio, cõfessio facta palàm. & professor, qui aliquid publice confitetur. unde professores bonarum artium dicimus uel eos, qui in ijs eruditi sunt, uel qui eas publice legunt. Nam & profiteri usurpamus pro publice legere. Item à fando præfari dicitur, quasi antefari. unde præfationẽ nominamus exordium, quod et principium & proœmium nuncupatur. & profari eiusdem significationis, à quo prophetæ dicuntur antistites fanorũ, oraculorumq; interpretes: quos Græci similiter ἀπὸ τοῦ προφαίνειν, quod ostendere est, προφήτας appellant. Præfari tamen aliquando significat per quandam ueluti præfationem id, quod dicturi sumus, uel indicare, uel remedijs quibusdã præmunire. unde præfanda dicuntur turpia, quod scilicet ea præfari oporteat. Val. Cassius nunqnã sine præfatione publici paricidij nominandus. Quint. Vitandum est, cum iunctura deformiter sonat, ut si cũ hominibus notis loqui nos dicimus, nisi hominibus mediũ sit, in præfanda uidemus incidere. qđ Virg. fecit: & numerum cum nauibus æquat. Solemus autem in præfando his uerbis uti, si licet dicere, si cõmemorare fas est, qđ dictu quoq; fœdum est, honore dicto, honor sit auribus uestris, & alia huiscemodi. Plin. Alius os uerberat, alius pectus, & uentrem, atq; etiam, fœdum dictu, uerecunda cõtundit. Quint. Honor sit auribus uestris, iubet prostare gladio cinctum. Itẽ à fando fastus, quod superbiam significat, & elationem quãdam cum iactantia uerborum. estq; quartæ declinationis, cum liber, qui dierum obseruationem continet, sit secundæ. Aliquãdo tamen & pro libro quartæ declinationis inuenitur. Lucanus: Nec meus Eudoxi uincetur fastibus annus. A fastu fit fastidio uerbũ, quod proprie est cum fastu quodam cõtemno. Virgil. Inueniat alium, si te hic fastidit Alexis. unde & pro stomachor accipitur. à quo fit fastidium, & fastidiose aduerbium, hoc est stomachose, quod & fastidiliter ueteres dixerunt. & fastigiũ, quod proprie altitudinem, ac summitatem operis significat. Virg. Et fastigia suspicit urbis. à quo fit fastigatũ, quod cacuminatum significat, & quasi in fastigium erectum. Plin. Germinat rosa omnis primo inclusa granoso cortice, quæ mox intumescẽte, et in uirides alabastros fastigato paulatim rubescẽs dehiscit. Aliquãdo tamen pro imo ponitur. Vir. Forsitan et scrobibus quæ sint fastigia quæras. Item à fando fit famen, quo uerbo poëtæ pro sermone, ac locutione utũtur. & fabulor, quod est loquor, à quo confabulor, simul loquor. Apuleius: Is enim, dum unà confabularemur, hoc mihi testatus est. A confabulando confabulatio deriuatur, hoc est collocutio. & à fabulando fabula. cuius diminutiuum est fabella. est autem proprie sermo, & confabulatio. Martialis: Quod̃q; tibi mœchum fabula nulla dabat. Item fabula, res ad utilitatem, siue delectationem hominum conficta, ut sunt poëtarum fabulæ: & hæ, quæ, licet ab Hesiodo poëta initium acceperint, nomine tamẽ dicuntur Aesopiæ, qđ his in primis usus fuerit Aesopus. hæ mirum in modum animos ducunt, præsertim rusticorum, & imperitorũ, qui & simplicius, quæ ficta sunt, audiunt: & ijs quibus delectantur, facilius capti uoluptate consentiunt, qualis est nota illa de membris humanis aduersus uentrem discordantibus, qua Meneuius Agrippa plebem cum patribus in gratiam traditur reduxisse: aut illa, cuius mentionẽ facit Horat. Olim quod uulpes ægroto cauta leoni. hæc & apologus, siue apologatio dicitur, definiturq; ex rebus humilibus cõposita quædã forma, ac species ad uidendum. Plautus: Priusq; abis præsente te huic, apologum agere unum uolo. Quidam fabulam, & argumentum ita distinguunt: ut fabula sit res contra naturam ficta, siue facta, siue non facta, ut de Pasiphaë: Argumentum quicquid secundum naturã dicitur, siue factum, siue non factũ est, ut de Phædra. Fabula græce μῦθος dicitur, à quo mythicus thicus fabulosus. & mythologia sermo fabulosus. Item à fando fatum, quod proprie à Chrysippo ita definitur: fatum, qđ do sit fatum, quod proprie à Chrysippo ita definitur: fatum, qđ Graeci εἱμαρμένην uocant, est sempiterna quædam, & indeclinabilis series rerum, & catena uoluens semetipsa sese, atque implicans per æternos consequentiæ ordines, ex quibus apta, nexaq; est. Aliquando tamen fatum pro natura ponitur. Virg. Nam quia nec fato, merita nec morte peribat. et pro uolũtate. Idem: Fatis Iunonis iniquæ. Item pro oraculo, quod dij fantur. Idem: Oblitus fatorum. Item pro morte, quia nihil tam necessario impendit homini, quàm mors. unde fato cõcedere pro mori usurpamus. & fatalis dies dicitur pniciosus, & fatiferũ, morti ferum. Fatale etiam uocamus quicquid ex nobis fato debetur, siue bonum sit, siue malũ. Fatidicus dicitur qui nobis fata, hoc est decreta deorum exponit, hoc est qui uaticinatur. & uates, quasi fates dicti. et uaticinor, quasi faticinor, hoc est fata cano. & uaticiniũ, quasi faticiniũ, quis sint qui à uiendis, hoc est à colligãdis uersibus uates dictos existimẽt. hinc Vaticanus collis, et uaticanus ager, & Vaticanus deus agri præses appellatur, uel à uaticinijs, quæ ui, & instinctu eius dei in eo agro fieri soliti erant: uel quoniã penes hunc deũ sint uocis humanæ initia, quo niã pueri simul atq; parti sunt, eam primam uocem edunt, quæ prima in Vaticano syllaba est. à qua fit uagire factitiũ uerbũ, & uagitus: uel quod eo colle potius fuerit populus Romanus uatum responso expulsis inde Hetruscis. Item à fando effata dicuntur, quæ augures in fine auspiciorũ extra urbẽ sunt effati. Et effari templa ab auguribus dicuntur, cum fines notãtur. effari enim proprie eloqui est. Virgi. Sic effatus uestigia pressit. Item à fando fallo deducitur, ut Varroni placet, quod fando decipiamus, ac contra, quàm diximus faciamus. nam si quis re fallit, improprie fallere dicitur. & fallax appellatur, qui mentiẽdo decipit. A fallo fit cõpositum refello. est enim refellere id, qđ dictum est, arguendo falsum ostendere. Teren. Cum tu horum nihil refelles. unde Rhetores refellere, et purgare ita distinguũt, ut refellere dicatur de eo, qui factũ negat: purgare uero de eo, qui fatetur quidem factum, sed defendit. & falsarij dicuntur, q̃ decipiendi gratia publica scripta falsificant. & falsifico uerbum. à quo falsificatio. & falsus, quod interdum significat eũ, q̃ deceptus est. Teren. Falsus es, hoc est deceptus. interdũ eum qui fallit. Paulus iurisco. falsum esse dicit, si quis chirographũ alterius imitetur, aut libellũ, aut rationẽ intercidat, aut describat. & falsum tutorẽ, qui tutor nõ est: siue habenti tutor datus, siue non, sicut falsum testamentum, quod testamentum nõ est. nam falsum librum pro mendoso improprie dicimus, recte tamen appellamus falsum iudiciũ, falsum nouũ, falsam sententiã pro nõ ueris: nõ quod fallendi gratia dicta sint, sed quod opinionem hominum fefellerint. hinc fallaciæ uerba ad decipiẽdum cõposita dicuntur, & cauillationes. est enim proprie cauillatio sub dola ratio, quã conscij nobis mendacij, uincendi tamẽ causa proferimus. & cauillari est fallacia, & dolo uti. unde iurisconsulti cauillationẽ pro calumnia usurpant. utrunq; enim à caluendo, hoc est decipiendo deducitur, ut inferius docebimus. Cicero tamen pro genere quodã facetiarum cauillationem accipit: Cum duo, inquit, sint genera facetiarũ, alterum æqualiter in omni sermone fusum, alterum peracutũ & breue, superior cauillatio, alter dicacitas nominatur. Veteres pro fallacia fallam dixere. & falsõ aduerbium, dicitur non uere. Sallu. Falsõ queritur de natura sua genus humanum. & falsitas, & falsi crimẽ, cum publica scriptura falsificatur. & fallaciter, hoc est causa decipiendi. falsissimus à scriptoribus usurpatur, quãuis falsior nõ sit in usu. falsum habere fallere est. Sall. Neq; ea res me falsum habuit. Falsum Græci ψεῦδος dicunt. hinc pseudoprophetæ falsi uates appellati sunt, & pseudopanchusa herba similis anchusæ, à quibusdam enchisa, & doris dicta lanuginosior, q̃ anchusa, & minus pinguis, tenuioribus foliis, et languidioribus, cõtra serpentes efficax potu foliorũ uel seminis. Anchusæ radix in usu est digitali crassitudine, scinditur papyri modo, manusq; inficit sanguineo colore: præparat lanas preciosis coloribus, uarijs ægritudinibus prodest, in primisq; lepræ & lentigini si liniatur. Galenus quatuor eius genera memorat, Onochilan, Lycapson, Onochilon, quartũ dicit esse sine nomine. Onochilõ à similitudine labiorum asini dictum est. propter quod quidã labrum asininum nuncupauere, siue quod asini labijs huius herbæ libenter pascãtur. Alij enchryson eã nominãt, paruo frutice, flore purpureo, asperis foliis, et ramis, radice messibus sanguinea, cætero nigra. Sunt qui eandẽ archenion uocant, alij rhexian efficacissimam contra serpentes. & pseudobunion alia herba napi folia habens, fructicans palmi altitudine, laudatissima in Creta contra tormina, atq; strangu riam efficax, ramis in potu sumptis quinis cyathis è niue. Hæc herba binio similis est, unde nomen habet, quã aliqui arction uocant, urinã mirifice prouocantem. & pseudodictamũ, quasi falsum dictamum, quod dictamo similis sit. dictãmum cum accentu in penultima pronunciandum est. Hanc herbam ceruæ monstrauere, quod dum uulneratæ sunt, si eo pascantur, statim decidunt tela. non est alibi, q̃ in Creta ramis prætenue pubescens, simile feruens, & acre gustu: foliis tantum utuntur, flos ei nullus est. radix tenuis, & superuacua. In Creta quoq; non speciose nascitur: mireq; à capris expetitur. Nam hoc quod uulgo pro dictamo ostenditur, ferè ubiq; nascens pseudodictamũ est, folio simili ramulis minoribus: à quibusdam condris uocatum, minoris effectus statim intelligitur. Dictamum enim minima portione accendit os. Sunt qui tradant utrũq; nasci multifariam, sed deterius in agris pinguibus. uerum quidem dictamum non nisi in asperis. & quod in Creta nascitur, ut cætera omnia in eadem insula nascentia, infinito præstat ijs, quæ eiusdem generis alibi gignuntur. Est & tertiũ genus dictami, qđ aliqui dictamum uocãt, sed neq; facie, neq; effectu simile, folio Sisymbrij, ramis maioribus. Tradunt Arcadas, neq; hac, neq; alijs herbis uti, sed lacte circa uer: quoniã tunc maxime succis herbæ turgeant. bibunt autẽ lac uaccinum, quoniã boues uerni feræ prorsus sint herbarũ. Potentia herbarũ in quadrupedibus manifesta est: quia circa Abderã, & Limitem, qui Diomedis uocatur, equi pasti inflãmantur rabie, circa Potniã uero, & asini, pseudosphecen uocãt uespã, quæ singularis uolitat. Hãc Magi sinistra manu apprehensam subnectunt ad quartanas pellendas, in quibus medicina clinice propemodũ nihil pollet. & pseudisodomon genus structuræ in ædificijs. Quippe Græci ueteres è lapide duro, ac silice æquo construebãt, ueluti lacterícios parietes, cum ita fecissent isodomõ uocabãt genus structuræ, quasi æqualiter directũ. At cum inæquali crassitudine structa essent, pseudisodomon. Tertium genus erat euplecton tantummodo frontibus politis, quasi εὐπλεκτον, hoc est bene cæsum. Reliqua enĩ fortuito collocabãt. et pseudosmaragdus, de quo inter lapillos dicemus. & pseudologus, falsidicus. pseudographus, falsarius. pseudomartyr, falsus testis. pseudadelphus, falsus frater, & pseudolus, falsus seruus. unde & Plautinæ fabulæ pseuduli nomẽ inditũ. in qua pseudulus seruus introducitur, q̃ se Syrũ alium seruũ esse simulauit. A fando etiã facundus dicitur disertus, & q ea, quæ mẽte cõcepit, ad audiẽtes, facile atq; ornate pfert. à quo fit facundia, hoc est facultas disserendi cum gratia. & facunde aduerb. pro diserte. Itẽ à fando facetus, hoc est elegans in dicendo, & delicias quasdam sermonis habens, quæ facetiæ dicũtur. à quo facete aduerbiũ hoc est exculte, elegãter, urbane. Sunt etiã qui fatim aduerbium quod significat abundãter, à fando dictũ uelint, quod uerborũ maior q̃ rerũ copia sit, uel qđ fari difficile sit. à quo fit cõpositũ affatim eiusdẽ significationis, & fatisco, quod est abundanter aperior, quasi affatim hisco. Virg. Rimisq; fatiscunt, id est aperiuntur, soluuntur. & fatigo, quasi fatim ago, hoc est abundãter agito. Proprie n. fatigare est ad lassitudinẽ deducere. Vir. Veloces iaculo ceruos, cursúq; fatigat. Ponitur tamẽ aliquando pro cõcutere. Vir. Versaq; iuuencũm terga fatigamus hasta. aliquãdo pro excitare. Idẽ: Sociosq; fatigat. Præcipites uigilate uiri. & alibi: Collecta fatigat Ex longo rabies, & siccæ sanguine fauces. Interdum pro cogere, cõprimere. Cic. Qui non uerbis sunt, & disputatione philosophorum, sed uinclis & carcere fatigandi. Quandoq; pro cõmouere, perturbare. Virgil. Quæ mare nunc, terrasq; metu, cœlumq; fatigat. Huius passiuum est fatigor. à quo fatigatus, et fatigatio. Itẽ à fando omnifariam, & multifariam aduerbia deriuantur, quæ significant omnis generis, & multorũ generum: siue in oẽs partes, & in multas partes: siue omnibus modis, siue multis modis, quasi qđ omnibus modis, aut multis modis fari possint. Item bifariã, trifariã, quadrifariã, in duas tres, quatuor partes: siue duobus, tribus, quatuor modis. Item plurifariam eodem modo dicimus etiã multifariam, & omnifarius, & plurifarius adiectiua nomina. Suet. Gladiatoria munera, plurifaria & multifaria exhibuit. Varro: Quod uolumen unũ nos lectitauimus, postea sẽptisarium, hoc est septifariã diuisum. Apul. Omnifario sermone depinxit. Itẽ faueo. proprie enim fauere est bona fari. Vir. Ore fauete omnes. hinc fauor uox est bene precans alicui, siue alicuius cõmodum, & laudem tuens. & fauentia, bona ominatio. Nam præcones clamãtes, populum fauere sacrificijs iubebant. & fautor, qui fauet, pro quo ueteres fabitorẽ dixere. & fœminiñ eius fautrix, & fauorabilis, à quo fauorẽ habemus, & fauorabiliter, cum fauore passiue. & fautum, felix, cui oẽs fauent. à quo aduerbium fauste, hoc est feliciter. Quorum cõtraria sunt infaustum, & infauste, hoc est infelix, & infeliciter. & Fauna dea, quod omni animantium generi faueat. Præterea à ferendo frons dicitur, quod indicia animi præ se ferat. est enim tristitiæ, hilaritatis, clementiæ, seueritatis indicium. Varro tamẽ à foraminibus potius oculorum dictã existimat. Antiqui frontẽ masculino genere dixerunt. à fronte fit cõpositum bifrons, quod geminã frontem habet. & deriuatum frontosus, quod nonnulli pro impudente usurpãt. Similiter à ferendo, frons frondis, quod frondes arborũ huc, atq; illuc à uento ferantur: propriéq; arborum dicuntur frondes, folia uero tam arborum, q̃ herbarum & florum, à quo frondescere arbores dicuntur, dum frondes emittunt, sicut florescere, dum emittunt flores. Item frondeum, quod totũ ex frondibus est. & frondosum, qđ abundat frondibus. & frondator, q̃ arbores amputat, & qui è frondibus manipulos facit, per hyemem animalibus in pastum offerendos. & qui manibus uitium folia euellit, quo ardor solis uuã reddat maturiorẽ. & frondarium, quod ad frondes pertinet. Pli. Vnus frondator quatuor frondarias fiscinas complere in die iustum habet. & fronditius, uici cognomen, de quo inferius dicemus. Item à ferendo deducitur fraus, hoc est, deceptio, quæ alicui infertur, sicut ab imponẽdo dicitur impostura. quandoq; tamen fraus pro periculo accipitur. sicut enim in iure legitur: Fraudi erit illa res, hoc est periculo. Vir. Quis deus in fraudem? Interdum pro pœna usurpatur. Idem: Iamnosces uentosa ferat cui gloria fraudem. Vlpia. de fraude, & pœna sic scribit: Fraus aliud est, aliud pœna. Fraus enim sine pœna esse potest, pœna sine fraude esse non potest. pœna est noxæ uindicta, fraus & ipsa noxa dicitur, & quasi pœnæ quædam præparatio, à fraus sit fraudulentus, hoc est fraudis ple-

nus. à quo fraudulenter aduerbiũ, hoc est cum fraude, & fraudo uerbum, cuius passiuum est fraudor. Quint. Primo iuuentæ flore fraudatus. & defraudo, quod est fructum minuo, uel per fraudem aliquid de cerpo. Teren. Suum de fraudãs genium comparsit miser. Plau. Ten' ego defraudem cui ipsi nihil est in manu, nisi qđ tu porrò uxorẽ defraudauerisẽ? Veteres frausum fraudatum dicebant, hoc est eum, qui ad fraudis fructum uenisset, & frausus erit, qui fraudem cõmiserit. A fraudo, & de fraudo uerbalia nomina fiunt fraudator, & defraudator. Itẽ à ferendo fritilli, sunt uilli sordidi in tapetis, quod per terram ferantur, & fritilli tabulæ lusoriæ, quod super his tesseræ ferantur: siue, ut quidã putant, à crepitu ipso tesserarũ. Marti. Dum blanda uagus alea Decẽber Incertis sonat hinc, & hinc fritillis. hi & alueoli dicuntur. Var. Quales sunt tesseræ, quibus in alueolo luditur, & simi. Hora. Mitteret in simũ. Item à fero fur, secundum quosdam quod ferat, hoc est auferat res alienas, ut inferius dicemus. Item femen, quasi ferimen, qđ hac maxime parte sustineatur homo, atque feratur. Præter hæc à præterito huius uerbi, qđ est tuli, fit tolero, quod significat patienter fero. à quo toleranter aduerb. hoc est patienter, & tolerantia, patientia. Item tollo, quod proprie significat effero, eleuo. Cic. Vel in cœlum nos, si fieri poterit, humeris nostris tollemus. Aliquãdo tamen capitur pro differo. Plau. Omnes tollo ex hoc die in alium diem. Aliquando pro neco, ut Nero matrem tulit, hoc est sustulit, interfecit. & pro aufero. differunt tamen tollo & aufero, quod tollimus erectũ, auferimus ligatũ. Vir. Tollite cuncta inquit, cœptosq; auferte labores. Interdũ pro capio, ut tolle quod tuum est, & abi. Nonnunq̃ pro educo. Iuuc. Tollere dulcem Cogitat hæredem, cariturus turture magno. Modo pro suspicio. Papin. Mando meæ filiæ pro salute solicitus ipsius, ut quo ad liberos tollat testamentum non faciat. A. Gelli. scribit, tollere aliquando pro corrigere accipi. Varro: Vitiũ uxoris aut tollẽdum, aut ferendum est. qui tollit uitium, uxorẽ cõmodiorem præstat: qui fert, sese meliorem facit. At ego hoc loco tollendum nõ pro corrigendum exponi debere existimo, sed pro auferendum. corriguntur enim errores, qui ex parte emendãtur: tolluntur, qui auferuntur in totum. est etiã, quando pro emitto accipitur. Vir. Vnius in miseri exitiũ conuersa tulere. & pro infero. Idem: Tollentemq; minas, & sibila colla tumentem. & pro offero, ostendo. Idem: Cui mater media sese tulit obuia sylua. Et pro sustineo, patior. Terenti. Ego te complures aduersus ingenium meum mensus tuli. quæ uis hæc duo extrema à fero potius, q̃ tollo deducta uideri possint. Ab hoc composita fiunt attollo, quod aliquãdo significat erigo. Virg. Attollit se diua Lacinia contra, aliquãdo aufero. Pacu. Custodite istum uos, ne eũ quis attollat, nẽ ue quis attingat. & extollo, quod proprie est effero. Vir. Extulit hæc Decios. Ponitur tamen aliquãdo pro differo. Cæcilius: Abi intro, atq; istæc aufer, tamen hodie extollat nuptias. Item à tollo, cũ pro suscipio accipitur, fit præteritũ sustuli, quod significat habui. etenim quẽadmodum de matre dicitur peperit filium, ita de patre sustulit filium. cum uero tollo pro educo capitur, sustuli significat educaui. Hoc idem aliquando pro submoui, & abstuli usurpamus. Vir. Iubet & sublata reponi Pocula. Ali quando pro in alium tuli. Idem: Et sublatum surgit in ensem: quæ duo significata ex illo in Neronem epigrammate declarantur: Quis neget Aeneæ natum de stirpe Neronem? Sustulit hic matrem, sustulit ille patrem. Sustulit inquit, matrem, hoc est occidit, & de medio sustulit. sustulit patrem, super humeros sumpsit, & de incendio eripuit. Hinc sublatũ modo pro suscepto accipimus. Vir. Troiæq; labores Sublatum eruditi, modo pro ablato. Idem: Sine me hic haud mollia fatu, sublatis

aperire dolis. Nonnunquã pro erecto. Terentius: Quia paululum nobis accessit pecuniæ, sublati animi sunt. Item à tollo toles dicuntur, quod tollantur, & tumeant: cuius diminutiuũ est tonsillæ. eæ autem sunt tonsillæ in homine, quæ glandulæ in sue. quãuis tonsillæ etiam à tondendo uocetur palus dolatus in acumẽ, & in cuspide præferratus, qui nauis religandæ causa in littore figitur. Acci. Tacete, & tõsillas litore edite. Item ab eodẽ tollutim nonnulli deductũ existimant, à tollendis equorum pedibus. & tollutariũ equum, & tollutiloquentiã, ideoq; per geminum ll scribunt. sed hoc falsum esse doctissimorum uirorum autoritate probatur. Quippe à uoluendo tolutim dicitur, quasi uolutim, hoc est uolubiliter: et tolutarius, quasi uolutarius equus, qui alio nomine ab Austria Hispaniæ regione Asturco appellatur, quemadmodũ inferius latius ostẽdemus. Item à fero composita fiunt affero, quod est apporto, circũfero, circumporto. offero, quod interdũ est reuerenter tribuo, unde offerre dijs frugum primitias dicimus: interdũ bonũ aliquod, aut malum repente oculis obijcio. Virg. Strictamq; aciem uenientibus offert. Teren. Nam uitium est oblatum uirgini olim. aliquando polliceor. Iustin. Cum ei auxilium obtulisset. Nonnunquam sponte do. Lucil. Homines ipsi hanc sibi molestiam, atq; erumnam offerunt. Teren. Offerimus iniuriã non merenti. Hinc oblationes proprie dicuntur, quæ dijs offeruntur. uetres offeruntẽta dicebant. perfero, tolero, aufero, tollo. Teren. Vos istæc intro auferte, id est tollite hinc, & intro ferte. Nec probandũ est, quod Donatus scribit: auferimus, quæ cum fastidio cernimus, ferimus, quæ cum honore tractamus: siquidẽ & fures, prædones ea auferunt, quæ iucundissima sunt. Defero, quod modo est adduco. Virg. Defer in Italiã. modo affero. Idem: Celeris mandata per auras Detulit. modo celatum aliquid prodo, & accuso. Cice. Certum est nomen deferre hominis. Hinc delatores occulti accusatores dicuntur, & calumniatores. Suetonius de Domitiano: Fiscales calumnias magna calumniantiũ pœna repressit: ferebatur q̃ uox eius, princeps, qui delatores non castigat, irritat. Hinc delatio, quæ græce διαβολὴ dicitur. Macrobius: Præter categoriam, quæ est ψόγος, & præter διαβολὴν, quæ delatio est, sunt alia duo nomina apud Græcos λοιδορία, & σκῶμμα, quibus nec uocabula Latina reperio, nisi forte dicas lœdoriam exprobrationem esse ad directam contumeliam. Scomma penè dixerim morsum figuratum: quia sæpe fraude, uel urbãitate cogitur, ut aliud sonet, aliud intelligat. Effero, quod interdum est sepelio. Lucilius: Depugnabant pro te ipsi, & moriẽtur, ac se ultro efferẽt. Nunc profero. Virg. Tunc satus Anchisa cestus pater extulit æquos. Idem: Vt belli signum Laurenti Turnus ab arce Extulit. Nonnunquam leuo, erigo. Idem: Ostendit dextram insurgens Entellus, & alte Extulit. Interdum proueho, extollo. Idẽ: Extulit hic Decios. Cic. Nimiũ forsitan hoc illi mirẽtur, atq; efferant. Plerunq; extra fero. Plautus: Ne pedem domo efferrem. Hinc tractum quidam existimant, ut efferri cadauer dicatur, dum celebratur funus, uel dum sepelitur, quasi extra domum ferri, sed falsum est. efferri enim dicitur, quasi prouehi, & extolli. quoniam cum pompa ferri solebat humeris clarorũ uirorum pheretro suppositis, quod nunc quoq; fieri uidemus: propter quod antiqui mortuos nõ modo elatos, sed etiã superbos uocabant. Plautus: Faciam ego hodie te superbũ, nisi hinc abis. Profero, quod modo significat protendo. Pli. Cum lineã protulisset longissimam, atq; rectissimam. Hinc Ennius prolato ære dixit pro eo, quod est scuto ante se protẽso. modo palàm dico, pronuntio. Seneca: Ante, quàm sententiã proferam. Lucilius: Proferat ergo iam noster ordo scelera, quæ in se admiserit. Hinc prolatio, hoc est denunciatio deriuatur. præfero, præ pono. Plinius: Quod hominem rudem, atq; ignarum sibi præferret. Item antefero, quod & ipsum à fero compositũ est. Sallustius: Postquam hi, qui signa præferebant, intellecto discrimine, constitere. Vnde præfericulum dictum uas æneum, sine ansa patens, ueluti peluis, quod præferre in sacrificijs solebãt. Item ostendo. Apule. Et uultu impatientiam præferens. Infero, facio, quasi contra fero. unde inferre bellum, inferre iniuriam dicimus. à quo infensus dicitur, qui ira in aliũ elatus est, & odium gerit. & infestus tamquis, qui alicui malum infert, & plus quàm inimicus est, iamq; aduersus eũ fertur: quàm is, cui aliunde malum impendet. Cic. Dolebam iudices, & acerbe ferebã, si huius salus ob eam ipsam causam esset infestior, quod is meam salutem, atq; uitam sua beneuolentia, præsidio, custodiaq; texisset. hinc infestare est crebris cursibus molestiam inferre. & signa infesta dicuntur, quæ aduersum tendũt, hoc est uexilla in hostem euntia, ut molestiam inferant. & infestatio, molestatio. unde infestuminare ueteres dixerunt, pro male latrocinando infestare. Nigidius tamen non ab inferendo, sed à festinando dictum infestum affirmat. Nam qui instat, inquit, alicui, eumq; properans urget, & opprimere eum studet, atq; festinat. uel contra de cuius periculo, & exitio festinatur, is uterq; infestus dicitur ab instantia fraudis, quam uel facturus alicui, uel passurus est. Interdũ infero, cõcludo, quasi in unũ fero. Sene: Cum ijs argumentis, quod proposuerat, intulisset. suffero, sustineo, patior. Virgilius: Nec claustra, nec ipsi custodes sufferre ualent. aliquãdo suppono. Plau. Intro ad uxorem meam, sufferamq; & meum tergum ob iniuriam. Differo, quod modo significat prorogo, & spatium temporis extendo. Virgilius: Distulit in seram commissa piacula mortem. un de dilationem temporis, prorogationem appellamus. modo diuulgo. Lucilius: Gaudes cum de me ista sermonibus differs. Nonnunquam diuido, scindo, dissipo. Virgilius: Atque aridã differt Nubila. Terentius: Miserã me differor doloribus. Virgilius: Haud procul inde citæ Metium in diuersa quadrigæ Distulerant. aliquando dispono. Idem: Ille etiam seras in uersum distulit ulmos. Sæpe etiam disto· Cicero: Ac uide quid differat inter nostram & illorum opinionem. Ab hoc sit differentia, differens, & indifferens, & differenter, atque indifferenter aduerbia: Veteres pro differentia, differitatem dixere. Refero, nunc recenseo. Virgilius: Cogere donec oueis stabulis, numerumq; referre Iussit. Nunc ascribo. Suetonius: Et in deorum numerum retulit. Cicero: Si ad unum omnia referenda sunt, dignissimum esse Pompeium. hoc est si uni omnium ascribenda sunt. Modo narro cum habet datiuum. Virgilius: Referes ergo hæc, & nuntius ibis Pelidæ genitori. Si uero accusatiuum habet cum præpositione ad, in consultationem pono. Quintilianus: Non retulit ad matrem, non propinquos consuluit, non amicos. Aliquando reporto, quasi retrofero. Quintilianus: Ad patrem arma non retulit. nonnunquam reuoco. Virgilius: Ille pedem referens, & inutilis, inq; ligatus. Item reddo. Idem: O mihi præteritos referat si Iuppiter annos. Item fero. Cornelius Tacitus: Cum ex agris segetes domum referrent. Vnde refrina dicebantur ea, quæ ex segete causa auspicij domum ad sacrificium referebant. quandoq; conuerto. Virgilius: Multa dies, uariusq; labor mutabilis æui Rettulit in melius. Plerũq; etiam renouo, & quasi rursus fero. Idem: Rettulit & priscos docuit celebrare penates. A refero relatiuum grammatici dixere, quod aliquid superius dictum referat, ut qui, quæ, quod. Item dialectici, quod aliquid referat, sine quo nec ipsum possit consistere, ut pater & filius: dominus, & seruus relatiua sunt: quia nec pater esse potest, nisi filium habeat: nec do minus, nisi seruum. & talis, ut ita dicam, respectus, relatio uocatur. A relatiuo fit relatiue aduerbium. Notandum autem, quod relatiuum sæpe ad se antecedens trahit, idq; fit sæpius antecedente postposito, nec apud poëtas modo, sed etiam apud oratores. Quintilianus: Timeo, ne quos porrexerim cibos, uenena fiant. Ouidius: Cecidere manu quas legerat herbas. In quo etiam habita est ratio uetustatis. Cicero: Sed hoc non concedo, ut quibus rebus gloriamini in uobis, easdem in aliis reprehendatis. Virgilius: Vrbem quam statuo, uestra est. Refero acceptum, idem est, quod fateor me accepisse, & tam in bonam partem capitur, quàm in malam. Cicero: Vitam acceptam refert clementiæ tuæ. Idem: Omnia denique, quæ postea uidimus (quid autem mali non uidimus?) si recte ratiocinabimur uni accepta referemus Antonio. Acceptũ fero est habeo pro recepto, & fateor me accepisse, quod non accepi, cũ nulla solutio interuenerit, unde acceptilatio dicta est, quam Iustinianus per interrogationem, & responsionem fieri docuit. Referre impensum, est rationem de expensis uel facere, uel reddere. Præterea refert in tertia duntaxat persona pro utile est, capitur. Plin. Quippe uictimas cædi sine precatione non uideatur referre, nec deos rite consuli. Item pro interest. Virgilius: Præterea iam nec mutari pabula refert. & in his duobus non cum re præpositione componitur fert, sed cum hoc nomine res, quasi res fert, ideo cum mea, tua, sua, cuia nominatiuis coniungimus: ut mea refert, res mea fert. tua refert, res tua fert. sua refert, res sua fert. cuia refert, res cuia fert. Alioquin cũ genitiuis semper iungimus, ut Platonis & Socratis refert, id est, res Platonis, & res Socratis fert. quod similiter accidit in hoc uerbo interest, cum cõpositum fit ex in, et re, & est, quasi in re est. Dicimus enim mea interest, hoc est mea in re, id est utilitate est. tua interest, tua in re est. Platonis & Socratis interest, in re Platonis ac Socratis est. & cum hoc uerbo coniuncta mea, tua, sua, cuia, ablatiui casus, non nominatiui sunt. Interdum̃q; separatim ponuntur. Liuius: Quid enim in re est aliud, si plebeiam patricius duxerit, si patriciam plebeius? quid iuris tandem mutatur? Plautus: Si tuam est quippiam in rem, hoc est, si tua interest. Idem: Vtrum ueniat, nec ne, nihil in re est mea. Aliquando tamen interest, ab inter præpositione, & est componitur, significat̃q; in medio. Plinius: Arborum succo manantium picem, resinam̃q; aliæ ortæ in oriente, aliæ in Europa feruntur. quæ interest Asia utrinque quasdam habet, hoc est, quæ in medio est, siue inter utranque partem est. Res sanè statum, ac conditionem significat. unde res publica, & res priuata dicitur. & res meæ, res tuæ, bonæ, aut non bonæ uocantur. Cicero: Id enim rebus nostris minime conducebat, hoc est statui nostro. Aliquando res est, quæ à persona distinguitur. Vnde loci argumentorum sunt à rebus, & à personis. Nonnunquam distinguitur à uerbis. Horatius: Verbaq; prouisam rem non inuita sequentur. Interdum accipitur pro contentione, atq; commercio, ut res est mihi cum latrone nefario: & res est mihi cum homine agresti. Plerunq; pro causa, unde dicimus ea re, qua de re, quam ob rem, quas ob res, id est propter quam causam, & propter quas causas. & ea de re, id est, ob eam causam. & ab re, id est sine causa. Vnde res cõperendinata dicitur, cum causa, hoc est iudicium in diem tertium cõstitutum est. & reus, qui in rem, hoc est causam, ac iudicium uocatus est. à quo reus stipulando est, qui stipulatur. reus promittendo, qui suo nomine quid pro altero promittit. ad hæc reus uoti est, qui suscepto uoto se numinibus obligat. Damnatus autem uoti, qui promissa uota iam soluit, & sunt propria sacrorum uerba. Virgilius; Constituam ante aras, uoti reus. reum agere, est accusare. reum peragere, est condemnare. reatus est culpa, & crimen. Item pro coitu. Terentius: Miles, cum quo tũ rem habebã. & pro censu. Idem: Eius frater aliquantulum ad rem est auidior. Horatius: Nunquam sic facies rem. & pro imperio. Virgilius: Postquam res Asiæ, Priamíq; euertere gentem Immeritam uisum superis. & pro utilitate. Plinius: Quod ex eius re magis, quàm nostra esset. Postremo res dicitur, qua substãtia, qualitas, actio cõprehenduntur, quod dialectici transcendens uocant. Paulus: Rei appellatio latior est, quàm pecuniæ: quia etiam ea, quæ extra computationem patrimonij nostri sunt, continet: cum significatio pecuniæ ad ea referatur, quæ in patrimonio sunt. A res fit reor uerbum, quod est existimo, opinor. nam & opinari putare est. à quo opinio, & opinatio, hoc est existimatio, iudiciũ, & inopinatum, quod præter opinionem accidit. & opinabile, quod opinione concipi potest. cuius contrarium est inopinabile. opinio græce δόξα dicitur, à quo paradoxa dicuntur, quæ admiratione digna sunt, & opinionem hominum superant. δόξα etiam gloriam significat. unde εὐδοξία uera gloria dicitur. & Eudoxus proprium nomen, quasi gloria insignis. fuit patria Cnidius, filius Aeschinis, geometer, & astrologus summus. didicit geometriam ab Archita. primus hic (ut aliqui tradunt) annum composuit, post quem Hipparchus, postea Cæsar. Fuit & alius Eudoxus Rhodius historicus. Item alius Siculus Agathoclis filius, poëta comicus. Ratus, putans. Interdũ etiam certus, ac firmus. unde ratum habere, ac ratificare est approbare, ac confirmare quod actũ est. Veteres id ratare dicebant, à quo facẽm irritare, quod est infringere, nec ratum habere. Vnde irritum dicitur, quod improbatum est. & irritum aduerbium, pro frustra. per metaphoram quoque irritare est ad nihilum redigere. Virgilius: Irrita perpetua soluent formidine terras. Hinc ritum uocatum existimant morem, & approbatam consuetudinem, quam omnes ratam habent. à quo rite aduerbium, quod significat bene, & secundum ritum. Item rituales Hetruscorum libri, in quibus scriptum est, quo ritu urbes condantur, aræ, ædes̃q; sacrentur: curiæ, tribus, & centuriæ distribuantur. Si uero irito penultimam productam habet, significet incito, stimulo, uel ab ira, quasi in iram prouoco: uel ab irruendo, à canum similitudine, qui in eos, à quibus prouocantur, irruunt. Virgilius: Irritat̃q; uirum telis, & uoce lacessit. Suetonius: Princeps, qui delatores non castigat, iritat. Et rates hinc dicuntur connexæ, & recte compactæ inuicem trabes, quæ per aquam trahuntur, & abusiue à poëtis usurpantur pro nauibus. Virgilius; Discrecit'que rates. Hinc etiam ratio deriuatur, quæ est motus animi, uera à falsis distinguens. à quo fit ratiocinatio, quæ à Græcis συλλογισμὸς dicitur, definitur̃q; oratio, in qua quibusdam positis, & concessis, necesse est per ea, quæ posita, & concessa sunt, aliud euenire. & rationale, rationis capax. & rationabile, cum ratione. Et ratiocinor συλλογίζω rationem habere, si cum genitiuo iungatur, est habere respectum, ut habenda est ratio salutis, ratio honoris, ratio rei familiaris. Si uero iungatur cum ablatiuo præposita cum præpositione, est habere negotium. Cicero: Rationem habet cum terra, quæ nunquam recusat imperium. Rationem constare, proprie est æquam, legitimam̃q; rationem ostendi, aut apparere ostendi posse. Plinius: Mirum est qua singulis diebus in urbe ratio aut constet, aus constare uideatur, pluribus, cunctis̃q; non constet. Ratissimum à rato superlatiuum est. Recula à re diminutiuum est, hoc est parua res. Reicula uero dicitur ouis, aut ætate, aut te, aut morbo grauis. Reapse ueteres dicebant pro reipsa. Pacuuius: Si non est ingratus reapse, quod feci. Item à re deducitur rego, quasi rem populi ago. à quo regula, quæ, ut Paulus definit rem, quæ est, breuiter enarrat. propter quod dicunt regulam esse breuem rerum præceptionem. Regulam etiam aliquando pro norma ponunt, qua lineæ diriguntur. hanc simul cum torno, et claue Theodorus Samius inuenit. Sed de ijs, quæ à rego fiunt, deriuatiuis inferius disseremus. & uerus, quasi non fictus, non simulatus, sed ipsa res. ue enim auget, ut in uestibulum, uehemens, & deriuatiua à uero, de quibus inferius dicemus. Item à fero confero, quod aliquando significat simul fero. Cicero: Omnes meas curas, cogitationes̃q; in eam conferebam. Aliquando contollo. Virgilius: Et conferre gradum, & procedere longius audet. Interdũ confero: Idem: Ergo etsi conferre manum furor, iraq; monstrat. Nonnunquã comparo. Cicero: Quæ conferri cum eorum studijs potest. Sæpe etiam pro sum. Plinius: Et ad tussim in uino sumptum maxime confert. Quandoq; transfero. Idem: Ad hoc nos studium potissimum contulissemus. Hinc collatiuum sacrificium dicitur, quod ex collatione offertur. Et collatiuum uentrem magnum, ac turgidum Plautus nominauit, quia in eum omnia edulia conge-runtur. Et Collatia oppidum, ac Collatina porta, & Collatina dea, de quibus inferius dicemus. Item à fero deductum est susque deque fero, quod & susque deque habeo dicimus. significat autem animo æquo sum, & quod accidit non magni facio, & interdum negligo, atq; contemno. Multa præterea à fero composita fiunt, quæ enumerare omnia difficile foret. ut legifer, ferens leges. Scutifer, ferens scutum. signifer, ferens signum. Mortifer, ferens mortem. pestifer, ferens pestem. furcifer, ferens furcam. Hi enim furciferi dicebantur, qui ob leue dictum cogebantur à dominis ignominiæ magis, quàm supplicij gratia circa uicinias furcam in collo ferre subligatis ad eam manibus, & prædicare peccatum suum, simul̃q; monere cæteros, ne quid simile admitterent. Terentius: Hoc uis tibi'n' ut credam furcifer? Fatifer, idem quod mortifer. Ouifera, quæ fert ouа. fœtifera ferens fœtum. Pomifera arbor ferens poma. Bacifera ferens bacas. Glandifera, ferens glandem. Frugifera, ferens fruges. Odoriferum, ferens odorem, quod & odoratum dicitur. Luctiferum ferens luctum. Letiferum ferens mortem. Letum enim mors est, siue à contrario sensu, quod minime læta sit, uel à leo uerbo, quo ueteres utebantur: nunc solo composito eius utuntur, quod est deleo, quia mors omnia delet, à quo delctile dicimus, non quod deleatur, sed quod delet. Varro: Spongiam deletilem. & deletionem, consumptionem. Lucilius: Delctionem nostri ad unum exercitus. Monstriferum, ferens monstrum. ostentiferum, ferens ostenta. Portentiferum, ferens portenta. Stelliferum, ferens stellas. Opiferum, ferens opem. salutiferum, ferens salutem. Plinius: Folia fraxini iumentis mortifera, cæteris ruminantium innocua, in Italia nec iumentis nocent: cõtra serpentes uero succo expresso ad potum, & imposita ulceribus opifera. margaritifera, quæ fert margaritas. Idem: Concharum genera, inter quæ & margaritiferæ cochleæ, & mille alia huiusmodi. IN ASTRA. Ad astra. In enim cum accusatiuo iuncta aliquando intra significat, ut in nauim ingressus, in domum profectus, id est intra nauim, & intra domum. aliquando contra. Plinius: Cum mihi sermo in adulterum esset, hoc est contra adulterum. Et Virgilius: Quid meus Aeneas in te commit tere tantum, Quid Troës potuere? modo pro. Idem: Accipit in Teucros animum mentem̃q; benignam. Nonnunquã ad, ut hoc loco, & apud Virgilium: Impulit in latus, id est ad latus. & Lucanum: In puppim rediere rates, pro ad puppim, Quan-

do uero hæc præpositio ablatiuo adiungitur, eandem uim habet, quam apud Græcos ἐν, ut in Italia, in urbe, in tempore. & aliquando significat, uel pro ad, ut hoc est in re tua, id est ad utilitatem tuam, uel pro utilitate tuã. In compositione uero aliquando priuatiua est, ut indoctus, iniustus, inutilis, impius, impurus. Aliquando intentiua, imprimo, incurso, irrumpo, impugno, incumbo. Illud in hac præpositione notandum, quod in marmore incisæ sunt literæ dicimus, in gemma, in lapide, in ligno: non autem in marmor, in gemmam, in lapidem, in lignum. Ediuerso uero in æs, non in ære. Liuius: Priusquàm urbem ingrederentur, leges decemuirales, quibus duodecim tabulæ est nomen, in æs incisas in publico proposuerũt. ASTRA. Cœlum pars pro toto. Astrum græcum uocabulum est. Græci enim ἄστρον uocant, quod à nostris dicitur sidus. Sidus & stella differunt, quod ostendit Cicero, cum inquit: Quæ sidera & stellas uocatis. Stellæ enim sunt singulares, quæq; non admistæ alijs, solæ feruntur. Sidera uero, quæ ad aliquod signum complurium stellarum composita sunt, ut Aries, Taurus, Andromeda, Perseus, & similia. Vnde ἀπὸ τοῦ συναθεῖν, hoc est, à simul uidendo dicta sunt, quod plures stellæ simul conspiciantur. Et ἀπὸ τοῦ πλανᾶσθαι, hoc est ab errando Planetæ. unde huiusmodi stellas quidam Errones uocitauere, quod modo ad austrum feruntur, modo ad septentrionem, modo cum mundo, modo contra mundum. Stella uero à stando appellata est, quod stare stellæ uideantur, uel quod aliqui senserunt, & tanquam nimis curiosum à Quintiliano reprehenditur, quod sit quasi luminis stilla, hoc est gutta. Apuleius: Et sanguinis eruptionem utriculo admoto excipit diligenter, ut nulla stilla compareret usquam: quamuis Palæmon Vincentinus insignis grammaticus interrogatus quondam, quid inter stillam guttam̃q; interesset: Gutta, inquit, stat, stilla cadit. A stiria autem per diminutionem dicta est stilla. Stiria proprie est aqua frigore concreta pendens, stillans̃q; gutta tim. Plinius: Distillanteis hyberno gelu stirias. Virgil. Stiria̅q; impexis induruit horrida barbis. Item ab eadem dicitur Stiricidium, sicut à stilla stillicidium, ubi è tectis guttæ fluunt. Item stillicidium ab Vlpiano ita distinguitur à flumine, quod stillicidium stillatim cadat, flumen continue fluat. à stillo fit stillo uerbum, quod aliquando significat guttatim fluo. Martial. Viuebant laceri membris stillãtibus artus. Aliquando guttatim emitto. Plinius: Frutex est resinam stillans. Ab hoc fit distillo, quod similiter aliquando est paulatim fluo. Vnde fluxus humoris à capite distillatio dicitur. Aliquando guttatim extraho humorem, unde distillare flores, distillare herbas, hoc est humorem ex ijs paulatim extrahere dicimur. & distillatio, humoris extractio. & substillum tempus dicitur, quod ante pluuiam, uel post pluuiam est, non sicum sed humidum, quod aut iam stillet, aut nondum stillare desistat. Eandem differentiam Græci faciunt inter Aster, & Astron. Aster enim stella una est, Astron signum stellis coactum, quod nos sidus uocamus. Quandoque tamen autores sidus pro stella usurparunt. Cicero: Itaque nescium hos siderum errores. Idem: Nam cum duo sint genera siderum, quorum alterum spatijs mutabilibus ab ortu ad occasum commeans, nullum unquam cursus sui uestigium inflectat, alterum autem conuersiones duas ijsdem spatijs, cursibus̃q; conficiat. Quintilianus: Quid hæc fulgentium siderum ueneranda facies, quæ quædam uelut infixa, ac cohærentia perpetua semel capta sede collucent. Alia tota sparsa cœlo uagos cursus certis emetiuntur erroribus. Stellam nunquam pro sidere posuere. A stella fit uerbum stello, quod est lucco, & quasi stellas facio, à quo fit participium stellans, hoc est lucens. Martialis:

Et numerosa linunt stellantem splenia frontem. & stellor passiuum. Plinius: Quoniam stellarum hyadum & numero, & dispositione stellantur. hinc stellatum stellis plenum. & stelliferum stellas ferens. utrunque cœli epithetum est. Sed stellatum proprie dicitur, cum serenum est, & stellæ ubique uideri possiunt. Item à stella stellio uocitatus est, quem medici nostri temporis magno errore putant, lacertum esse, cum longe aliud animal sit. est enim lacerta minor, à Græcis ἀσκαλαβώτης, hoc est Ascalabotes dicitur, quod apud eos ἄσκολος circulus est. stelliones autem circulis quibusdam depicti sunt, & ueluti lucentibus guttis, in modum stellarum. unde stelliones à nostris uocitantur pleni lentigine, stridoris acerbi. Romani uulgo nunc Tarantulas uocant. Ab hoc animali stellionatus crimen apud iurisconsultos nomen sumpsit, cuius cognitio, ut Vlpianus sentit, ad præsidem spectat, cum scilicet aliquid dolo factum est: ut si quis rem alij obligatam dissimulata obligatione per calliditatem alij distraxerit: aut si quis merces supposuerit, uel corruperit, aut si imposturam fecerit, cuius nulla ordinaria pœna est, sed extraordinarie plectitur. Causa autem nominis secundum quosdam hæc fuit, quod qui huiusmodi criminis rei sunt, astu & dolo, uelut quodam stellionis medicamento homines fallunt. fit enim è stellione malum medicamentum. etenim, cum mortuus est in uino, faciem eorum, qui biberint, lentigine obducit. Propter quod in unguento necant eum formæ mulierum insidiantes, cuius rei remedium est oui luteum, & mel, ac nitrum. Nos autem causam nominis ueriorem hanc esse existimamus, quod nullum animal fraudulentius inuidere homini tradunt. ideo nomen hoc uersum est in maledictum: & quoties insidiatorem aliquem significare uolumus, stellionem nominamus. à quo crimen stellionatus à uetеribus est deductum. Scit stellio nihil tuniculæ suæ in comicialibus morbis præferri: iccirco eam, simulatque exutus est, deuorat. Propter hoc obseruant cubile eius æstate, quod est in locis hostiorũ fenestrarum̃q, ac cameris, uel sepulchris. Ibi uere incipiente caueas exsissis harundinibus textas opponunt: quarum illi angustijs gaudentes, quo se facilius exuant, per eas egrediuntur, quapropter dimissa tunica remeare non possunt. Est & alius stellio ex araneorum genere, qui simili modo Ascalabotes à Græcis dicitur, & Colotes, & Galeotes, lentiginosius in cauerniculis debiscentibus, per æstum terræ habitãs. hic maiorum nostrorũ temporibus in Italia uisus non fuit, nũc frequens in Appulia uisitur. Aliquando etiam in Tarquiniensi, & Corniculano agro, & uulgo similiter Tarantula uocatur. Morsus eius perraro interemit hominem, semistupidum tamen facit, & uarie afficit. Tarantulam uulgo appellant. Quidã cantu audito, aut sono, ita excitantur, ut pleni lætitia, ac semper ridentes saltent, nec nisi defatigati, ac semineces desistant: alij semper flentes, quasi desiderio suorum miserabilem uitam agant: alij uisa muliere libidinis statim ardore incensi, ueluti furentes in eam prosiliant: quidam ridendo, quidã flendo moriantur. Multa sunt araneorum genera, omnesq; Græco uocabulo, sed apud latinos usitato phalangia dicũtur. Vnum genus est formicæ simile, sed multo maius, rufo capite, reliqua parte corporis nigra, albis guttis respersum. uiuit maxime circa furnos, & molas. Ictus eius, quàm uespæ acerbior est. Est secundum phalangij genus quod lupum uocant. Item tertium lanuginosum grandissimo capite, quo dissecto, inuenιuntur intus uermiculi duo, adalligatiq; mulieribus ceruina pelle ante solis ortum impediunt conceptum. propterea hinc araneus Atocius dicitur. Græci enim ἀτόκιον, hoc est Atocium, uocant omne medicamentũ, quod sterilitatem inducit. Quarum quoq; phalangij genus, Rachinon dicitur ore nigro, minimo, subalbo, pedibus breuissimis, tanquam imperfectis. dolorem morsu, qualem scorpio facit. Quintum genus Asiorion distinctum uirgulis albis, cuius ictus genua labefactat. Sextum cœruleum est, lanugine nigra, caliginem concitans, & uomitus araneosos, hoc est in quibus telæ araneæ conspiciuntur. Septimũ à Crabrone tantum penna differens, quod ad maciem perducit. Mirmecion octauum formicæ simile capite, aluo nigra, guttis albis distinguentibus. Præter hæc Tetragranthij duo genera habent, peior, in quo medium caput distinguit linea alba, & transuersum altera, hic oris tumorem facit. Alter cinericius est posteriori parte candicans. Vltimus ac minime noxius, qui eodem colore telas in parietibus late texit, ueluti relia muscis capiendis. Mus araneus exiguum animal est, mustellæ similitudine per tenuissimum filum, siue gladij aciem impune ambulans. μυγάλη à Græcis dicitur. Eius morsus uenenatus est. Tradũt equos, si herbas, in quibus hi fuerint, depascantur, statim exanimari. Araneus proprie ipsum animal uocatur, aranea tela. Sed poëte etiam fœminum pro animali usurpant. Virgilius: Nam sæpe in foribus suspendit aranea casses. Græci ἀράχνην dicunt. Arachne puella fuit Lydia lanificij peritissima, quæ, cum se temere Mineruæ præposuisset. conuersa est in araneum. è sidere autem fit sidereus, quod modo altum significat. Martialis: Hic ubi sidereus propius uidet astra colossus. modo fulgentem. Virg. Et splendidus æthra siderea polus. Aliquando etiam quod ex sidere est: ut sidereus ignis, sidereus afflatus, sidereus splendor. Item præsidero uerbum. præsiderare enim dicimus, cum maturius hyberna tempestas mouetur, quasi ante sideris tempus. Item considero à siderum contemplatione. à quo consideratus dicitur, qui agenda considerat. Et considerатio contemplatio, & considerate aduerbium cum consideratione, & maturitate. Item desidero à sidere deducitur, quod ueluti lucem sideris, quæ amamus optemus. à quo fit desiderum. Item à sidere sideror, quod est sidere affloг. à quo sideratio morbi genus, & qui eum morbum patiuntur siderati dicuntur: & qui mortui sunt, desiderati. Curtius: In eo prælio trecenti capti, quinquaginta desiderati sunt. quamuis ob id etiam desideratos dici uideri possit, quod mortuorum desiderio tenemur, quemadmodum absentium. Est autem sideratio morbus partem aliquam corporis sæpe etiam penè totum corpus percutiens subito, atq; exiccans, & plerunq; hominẽ enecans: quod cum repentino quodam impetu eueniat, non causa aliqua inferiori, sed è cœlo ui quadam sideris prouenire putatur. Vnde Plinius: Sideratio inquit tota è cœlo est, iccirco à sidere nomen sumpsit. hinc morbus ille notissimus, & formidolosus omnibus, quem Græco uocabulo ἀποπληξίαν, siue Epilepsiam nominamus, hoc est subitam percussionem. πλήττειν enim percutere est. Sideratio etiam dicitur, quod corpus stupore quodam attonito subito conficiat. Nec in humanis tantum corporibus, sed in arboribus etiam, ac plantis, uitibusq; sideratio est, humanæ prorsus similis, quando sub ortu canis uaporum siccitate arbores moriuntur. Græci à sideris percussione ἀστροβολίαν nominant. ἄστρον enim sidus dicunt, βάλλειν iactare, percutere. Sunt etiam qui astrobolia sphacelismum uocent. Martialis: Sidere percussa est subito tibi Zoile lingua. Idem: Hoc opus est, subito fias ut sidere mutus. Plautus: Sideratus est, moueri non potest. Sideritis autem non à sidere dicitur, sed ἀπὸ τοῦ σιδήρου, hoc est à ferro. est autem Siderитis lapis, quem alio nomine Heracleon, alio magnetem uocamus, à quo trahitur ferrum: & cum propius uenit, assistit, teneturq;, & complexu hæret. dictus magnes ab inuẽtore, ut Nicander tradit. Inuenisse aũt hic fertur in India, quod significat iam. Apuleius: Commodum limen cuaserant, quia aliud pro alio inuito creditore, solui non potest. appellata est autem mutui datio ab eo, quod est de meo fiat tuum. Mutuatio à mutuo deducitur. & mutuum, quod sic à fœnore differt, quia mutuum sine usuris est, fœnus cum usuris. Plautus: Nam si mutuo non potero, certum est sumam fœnore. & mudeas. Mutuor uero passiue significat mutuo accipio. Plautus: Decem minas à patre mutuatus. Aliquãdo cõmodare est com modum facere, siue commoditatem præstare. Cicero: Cui ego quibuscunq; rebus potero, libentissime commodabo. Commodatarius uocatur, cui aliquid commodatum est, sicut depositarius penes quem aliquid est depositum. Accommodare uero adiungere, & applicare est. Virgilius: Lateriq; Argiuum ac commodat ensem. Cicero: Qui se ad rempublicam, & ad magnas res gerendas accommodauere. interdum accõmodatum significat procliue, propensum. Cicero: Ad summum Græcorum otium potius, quàm ad ullam uim, aut tumultum accommodati. Interdum accommodare adhibere. Idem: Tantum dabit amicitiæ, ut ueram amici causam esse malit, ut orãdæ litis tempus, quo ad leges liceat, accommodet. Item à modo fit modifico siue modificor, à quo modificatio. & moderor, quod modo cum accusatiuo, modo cum datiuo coniungitur. à quo moderatio, & modestia. Cicero: Temperantem Græci σώφρονα uocant, eámque uirtutem σωφροσύνην, quam soleo equidem cum temperantiam, tum moderationem appellare, non nunquam etiam modestiam. Item à moderor moderator, hoc est rector, gubernator. & moderate aduerbiũ, & modeste, hoc est mediocriter, & temperate. Item modestia, moderatio, modus, modicum, mediocre: hunc habent ordinem, quod modestia fundamentum, soliditas, basis ipsa uirtutis est: ex qua gignitur moderatio, quæ temperat, aurigat̃q; modos, qui ex supra memoratis disciplinis in factis, & in dictis, & cæteris tabulis, quæ agendi officia sunt, iunguntur. à modo etiam moderatores magistri, & per syncopen mos, hoc est uitæ institutum consuetudine firmatum cum deriuatis ob eo, de quo inferius dicemus. & modius mensuræ genus continens duo & uiginti sestertia. à quo modiolus quarta pars modij. Est etiam modiolus paruum uasculum quadratum, quo cum tympanis ad hauriendum ex puteo, aut lacu, aut flumine aquam utuntur. Vitruuius: Ita cum rota à calcantibus uersabitur modioli pleni ad summum elati, & rursus ad imum reuertentes infundent in castellum, ipsi pro se quod extulerunt. & modulor, quod significat cum mensurá, & numerorum ratione compono. Virgilius: Et modulans alterna notaui. à quo modulus ipsa compositio, & cantus. Item modulatio, & modulamen. Modus etiam aliquando pro fine accipitur, atque euentu. Idem: Sed quis erit modus. Idem: Quis rebus dexter modus. Modo, cum ofinalem literam correptam habet, tempus significat præsens, uel mox præteritum, uel nondum præteritum, uel statim futurum, ut modo id ago, modo ueni, modo id dicebam, modo faciam. A quo fit, quo Apulcius, & quidam alij utuntur, amodo pro posthac. Vt nemo me amodo tam mane egredientem solum uidebit. Item postmodum, & quod non

In ſummo quadriga erat marmorea quam fecit Pythis,quæ adiecta centũ quadraginta pedum altitudine totum opus includebat. Pendere proprie eſt ſuſpenſum eſſe, tractumq́ eſt à pennis auium. Virgilius: Dependent lychni laquearibus aureis. Hinc per metaphoram pendere pro ſuſtentari accipitur. Ouidius: Pendet & à ueſtra noſtra ſalute ſalus. Item pendere dicitur, qui nimio deſiderio alicui rei intentus ceſſat ab omni alio opere, & ad unum ſolicitus expectat.Idem:Pendetq́ iterum narrantis ab ore.Idem:Dum conſulta petis, noſtroq́ in limine pendes. unde pendere pro dubitare accipimus. Seneca: Pendet animus, & in diuerſa trahitur.Item pro ceſſare. Virgilius:Pendent opera interrupta,minæq́ Murorum ingentes.Ab hoc fit dependeo,quod modo eſt ex aliquo pendeo, modo ſuſtentor. Cicero: Omnis enim illorũ ſalus à noſtra ſalute dependebat. Et pendulus,qui pendet. Ouidius: Laſſaret uiduas pendula tela manus. Vnde penſa dicuntur manipuli lanæ,qui pendent ex colo,& fuſo trahuntur. & penſiles horti, ſupra ædificia facti ſunt. Et penſilis urbs, quæ ſubter cauata eſt. Plinius: Leguntur penſiles hortos,immo uero totum oppidum feciſſe nullo oppidanorum ſentiente. Idem:Magnitudo, & frequentia cloacarum urbem penſilem fecit. Item penſilis homo,qui ſuſpenſus eſt. Plautus: Reſtim uolo mihi emere,qui me faciam penſilem.Certum eſt ante tenebras perſequi tenebras.& lucernæ,ſiue lychni penſiles,quibus in delubris utebantur, arborum modo mala ferentium lucentes, qualis fuit Romæ in templo Apollinis palatini, quem Alexander Thebarum expugnatione captum in Cyma eidem deo dicauerat. Cyma oppidum eſt Aeolicum in Aſia. & pons,quod uelut in aëre pendeat. Significat autem omne, per quod ſuper aquas tranſimus,unde & pro ſcala nauium ponitur.Virgil.Interea Aeneas ſocios de puppibus altis pontibus exponit. Hinc fit ponticulus paruus pons. Et depontani ſenes poſtulatores,qui ſexagenarij de ponte deijciebantur. Et pontones naues, quibus in traijciendis amnibus loco pontiũ utimur.

Papinianus: Flumine publico interueniente uia conſtitui poteſt, ſi aut uado tranſiri poteſt, aut pontem habeat diuerſum, ſi pontonibus traijciatur.Idem:Quia uia confirmari ſolet,uel ciuitate tenus,uel uſq; ad uiam publicam,uel uſque ad flumen, in quo pontonibus traijciatur. Et pontifex ſacer magiſtratus, de quo inferius dicemus, quod inſtaurandorum pontium curã haberet. Erant autem minores, & maiores pontifices, inter quos unus ſummus, qui pontifex maximus, ſiue ſummus pontifex dicebatur: quod à Romanis ueteribus ſumptum noſtræ quoque ſectæ homines ſeruant. Ab hoc pontificatus dicitur,ſicut à conſule conſulatus & pontificius: à quo ius pontificium, & pontificalis. Vnde pontificales libri, in quibus ſacræ ceremoniæ continentur. Item à ponte Pons Vmbriæ oppidum, quod pulcherrimum pontem ſupra Narem amnem habeat. Et Tripontium aliud oppidum huic propinquum, quod treis habeat ponteis. & Pontina palus iuxta Circeios, quæ uiginti quatuor quondam urbium fuit, quod pontonibus traijceretur, unde Pontia urbs dicta.Et Pontia inſula,ſicut Pandaria huic oppoſita. Et Romæ pontia tribus.Erat autem Pontina palus iuxta uiam Appiam, quæ Brunduſium uſque lapidibus ſtrata cernitur,latronibus quondam abundans. Iuuenalis: Armatæ quoties uitæ cuſtode tenentur, Et Pontina palus, & Gallinaria pinus. Lucanus: Et qua Pontinas uia diuidit uda paludes. Et pendo, quod proprie ſignificat pondero,quoniam quæ ponderantur ex libra pendent. Et per translationem conſidero, æſtimo: unde fit magnipendo, floccipendo, paruipendo, multipendo, nihilipendo: id eſt in magna, parua, nulla æſtimatione habeo. Et penſito, ac penſiculo eiuſdem ſignificationis.Gellius:Penſicula,utrunq; modulare, reperies ſuo quodq; in loco ſonare aptiſſime. A pendo pondus dictum, quod grauue eſt. Virgilius: Ignotum argenti pondus,& auri. interdum pro numero, hoc eſt multitudine ponitur. Varro: E Græcia comportaſſe magnum pondus omnium artificum.Item pondero,quod aliquãdo ſignificat libro. Plautus:Dum numularius ponderaret argentum. Aliquando per metaphoram capitur pro conſidero, examino. Plinius: Sed hoc pluribus uiſum eſt. Numerantur enim ſententiæ non ponderantur. Ab hoc ponderitatem ueteres pro grauitate dixere. Accius: Quod ponderitatem,grauitatemq́ hominis agnoſcerent. Et ponderoſum,graue. Et pondo,quod licet aliquando pro libra inueniatur, proprie tamen ſignificat pondus duodecim librarum, & indeclinabile eſt. Liuius: Argenti pondo bina, & ſex libras in militem præſtaret. Nec caret ſingulari,ut nonnulli exiſtimant,ſed ſic pondo pro duodecim libris dicimus, ut aſſem pro duodecim unciis, item dicimus duapondo,& trepondo. Quintilian. Dua, & trepondo diuerſorum genera ſunt barbariſmi. At coniunctim duapondo,& trepondo uſque ad noſtram ætatem ab omnibus dictum eſt, & recte dici Meſſala confirmat. Ab his dipondium & tripondium deducuntur. Et aſſipondiũ pro unum pondo,quod as erat libræ pondus.pendo etiam aliquando pro ſoluo accipitur.Virg. Tum pendere pœnas Cecropidæ iuſſi. quod ex eo tractum eſt, quia Romani ueteres penſo non numerato ære utebantur. Seruius rex primus ſignauit æs. Argenti ſignati ante Pyrrhum regem deuictum uſus non fuit. Hinc libram dixerunt aſſem, quod eſſet pondus duodecim unciarum, cum proprie libra inſtrumentum ſit, quo res cum lancibus ponderantur: alio nomine bilancem uocant. Cicero: Critolaus libram conſtituebat, in cuius alteram lancem animi bona ponebat, in alteram corporis, & externa, tantumq́ pendere illam bonorum animi lancem putabat, ut terram, & maria deprimeret. Nam ſtatera inſtrumentum eſt, quo res ſine lancibus ponderantur. A libra fit libro, quod eſt pondero, & aliquando graue facio. Plin. Apes,ſi oriatur procella,apprehenſis peduſculo lapillis,ſe librant,hoc eſt grauiores faciunt.Interdum ſuſpendo. Ouid.Et iam finitima ſeſe librabat in herba.Et libella, quæ erat de argento parua: & æris libra ualebat, hoc eſt aſſe. Et Simbella libellæ dimidium, hoc eſt ſemis aſſis. Item inſtrumentum paruum, quo ſinguli numi ponderantur. Et libralis unius libræ. Et libripens ſtipis ponderandæ penſator. Et librile ſcapus libræ. Et libella inſtrumenta bellica, hoc eſt ſaxa ad brachij groſſitudinem in modum flagellorum loris deuincta, quod librari manu, hoc eſt ponderari uideantur. Aliquando librare, pro examinare ponitur. Apuleius: Omnia prius quàm aliquid ſtatuas,libranda ſunt. Et pro æquare. unde libramentũ dicitur æquilibriũ. Et libra cœleſte ſignũ uocatur, quod octauo calendarũ Octobris ſol per illud tranſiens,æquinoctium facit. Librare etiam trutinare dicitur.Et Trutina proprie foramen eſt,in quo examen regitur.ponitur tamen aliquando pro iudicio. Cic. Quæ non artificis ſtatera, ſed populari quadam trutina examinatur. Apuleius:Trutinatam ſententiam uocat grauem, & recte examinatam.examen proprie lingua dicitur, qua trutina regitur.Virgilius.Iuppiter ipſe duas æquato examine lances.Non nulli æquamentum, alij libramentum, alij æquilibrium uocant.Nam æquimentum capitur pro mercede,ut pro eo, quod dicitur admiſſum. Varro: An ſi equam emiſſes quadrupedem, ut meo aſino Reatino admitteres, quantum poposciſſes dediſſem æquimenti? Hinc examinare eſt inquirere, & ueluti æquandi gratia inueſtigare. Et examen inquiſitio, & æquatio iuris. Dicitur etiam examen apum congregatio, uel locuſtarum, aliorũmque huiuſmodi. à pendendo ære, æris grauis pœna appellata eſt, cuius pluratiuum Cato protulit æribus grauibus. Et expenſa in rationibus dic, & expenſæ hoc eſt, ſumptus. Et impendia eiuſdem ſignificationis, & impendio aduerbium,quod ſignificat magis. Plautus: Atque ille minus minusq́ impendio curare. Item compendiũ appellamus, quod parſimonia quadam ſeruamus, ſicut econtrario diſpendium, quod uel incuria, uel negligentia, uel immoderatione diſpendimus. Plin. Bubulas carneis cauleis caprifici magno lignorum compendio percoquunt.Idem:Magno id lignorũ diſpendio fit addito ſale. Nam percoqui integro die uix poteſt. In uacuo aëre, hoc est uacante, ut pendere opus ostendat, quasi non sustentetur solo. uel uacuum, epitheton est aëris, quia aër nõ habitatur. Epitheton enĩ figura est, quæ interpretari impositum potest, q̃d aut ad augmentũ, aut ad diminutionẽ, aut ad discretionem poni solet, ut Cœlum profundũ, uenusta Venus, uacuus aër, & similia. Inde Epithesis, quod modo impositionem, modo imposturã significat, de qua inferius dicemus. Et epithetes impostor, fraudator. Et epithima, quicquid alicui rei imponitur. ex quo medicamenta, quæ ad refrigerandũ cor imponuntur, epithimata uocamus. Vel uacuo dixit, quo magnitudinem opis ostentaret, ut sit in uacuo aëre, in magno aëris spatio. Nã, quia quæ magna sunt, plurimũ uacui habere necesse est, uacuum sæpe pro magno usurpamus. Vir. Quintil. Reum oderit turba aucupantem, et anxium de fama ingenij, & cui esse diserto uacet. ab hoc deriuatur uacillo, q̃d est incõstans sum, & quasi alternatim moueor, à quo fit uacillatio. Idem: Est & illa indecora, in dextrũ ac læuum latus uacillatio alternis pedibus insistentium. utiq; & naues uacuæ dicuntur uacillare. Cicero de quodam præ infirma ualetudine non recte scribente inquit, uacillantibus literulis. Ad animum quoq; hoc uerbum aliquando transferimus: ut apud iurisconsultos de fide testis uacillante, qui incõstantia, & diuersa testimonia dixerit. Itẽ uacare interdũ accipitur, pro superabundare, quod ociosum esse uideatur, quod superabũdat. Vnde superuacaneũ dicitur, quod est superfluum. idem etiam, quod uacuũ, hoc est otiosum sit, superuacuũ dicitur. Superuacanea quoq; auis dicebatur, quæ ex summo cacumine uocẽ emisisset, q̃d sup uacuũ aëra uolitet, canatq;. Itẽ à uacuo uanum deriuatur, quod interdũ eandẽ cũ primitiuo suo significationẽ habet. Quidã falsum, fictũ, uanũ ita distingunt, ut falsum loqui mendacis sit, fictum callidi, uanum stulti: Falsum loqui culpæ sit, fictũ uirtutis, uanũ uecordiæ: falsis decipiamur, fictis delectemur, uana spernamus. Gellius tamen uanos scribit proprie dici mẽdaces, et infidos, & leuia, inaniaq; pro grauibus, & ueris astutissime componenteis. ab hoc fit uerbum uano, quo ueteres usi sunt pro fallo. Accius Sic illum uanans in angiportum deduxit. & euanesco, quod significat inanis fio, & in nihilũ redigor. Virg. Et procul in tenuẽ ex oculis euanuit aurã. Et uanitas. Plin. Id uero magica uanitas est. Et uanitudo. Plau. Vt rem uideo, tu inuẽtus à uanitudine. Et uaniloquẽtia. Apule. Nihil hoĩs uaniloquẽtia cõmotus. Et uane aduerbiũ, quod modo stulte, modo mendaciter significat. Itẽ à uacuus fit uacuo uerbũ, & euacuo, & uacuefacio, quæ omnia significant exinanio. unde uacuatio, & euacuatio, & uacuefactio pro exinanitione ponuntur, & uacuitas pro inanitate. Item à uaco, siue uacuo deducitur uastus, quod proprie magnũ significat. Nam quæ magna sunt, ferè uacare, seu uacua esse solent. Virg. Vastũq; caua trabe currimus æquor. Sed quoniã quæ magna sunt corpora, ferocia esse etiã solent, ponitur aliquãdo uastus pro feroci. Cicero: Quæ barbara India uastior aut angustior. Ab hoc fit uasto, & deuasto, quod est deprædor, spolio, profligo, & quasi uacuũ reddo. Idem: Omnemq; eã regionẽ ferro, igniq; uastauit. Hinc uastitas, & uastitudo deducuntur, quæ modo magnitudinẽ significant. Apule. Cui in primis tanti corporis uastitas horrori fuit. modo uastationem, siue deuastationem, quæ à uasto uerbo deriuãtur. Accius: Propterea tot, tantasq; habemus uastitates funerum. AERE. Aër proprie dicitur mediũ spatium, quod est inter cœlum et terram. Virg. Vbi aëra uincere summum Arboris haud ullæ iactu potuere sagittæ. Idem: Aëra dimouit tenebrosum, & distulit umbras. dictus est à Græco ἀὴρ quod mutatis literis ἀπὸ τῆς ἥρας deducitur, hoc est à Iunone, quæ aëris dea est, & à nostris quoque aliquando Hera appellatur. Ennius: Vos'ne uelit, an me regnare Hera, quid'ue ferat fors uirtute experiamur. Ab aëre fit aërius, quod aliquando altum significat, unde aëriæ arces dicuntur, aliquando quod ex aëre cõstat, ut aëria corpora, aërius fulgor. Itẽ aëripes celer, quasi aërios pedes habens, hoc est leuis. Virg. Fixerat aëripedẽ ceruam. Ab aërius æstus deducitur, quod proprie significat calorem, & æstiui flagrantiam temporis. Idem: Aestibus in medijs umbrosam exquirere uallem. Vnde & pro æstiuo tempore ponitur. Idem: Propiusq; æstus incendia uoluunt. Significat aũt fluctuationem, atq; impetũ maris, quod feruore quodam id fieri uideatur. Plaut. Quo magis te in altum capessas, æstus te in portũ referet. Ab hoc fit æstuo, quod est ferueo, agitor. Virg. Fundoq; exæstuat imo. & æstas, quæ proprie significat tempus quod incipit ab æquinoctio uernali: & finitur æquinoctio autumnali, cõstatq; senis mensibus. & totus annus in æstatem hyememq; diuiditur. Idem: Incipiẽs stabulis edico in mollibus herbas, Carpere oues, dum mox frondosa reducitur æstas. hic enim de Vere loquitur. Particularius tamen æstas capitur pro quarta parte anni, hoc est pro tribus mensibus, qui incipiũt sole Cancrum ingrediente. Nam sole ingrediente Libram, autumnus est: ingrediente Capricornũ hyems: ingrediente ariẽtẽ, Ver. ab æstate fit æstiuus, unde æstiuũ tempus, æstiuũ ardorẽ, æstiuã siccitatem dicimus. & æstiua loca dicũtur umbrosa, in quibus per æstatẽ pecora uitant calorẽ. Statius: Et umbrosi patuere æstiua Lycei. abusiue tamẽ & pro gregibus usurpãtur, quæ morãtur in æstiuis. Virg. Nec singula tantũ Corpora corripiũt, sed tota æstiua repente. Ab æstu etiã æstuaria appellata. Dicũtur aũt æstuaria loca, quæ marinis aquis referta sunt ex inundationibus pelagi, per quas sæpe in mediterranea fluuiorũ instar nauigantes ascendũt. aliq̃n nõ nisi nando transiri possunt, à græcis ἀνάχυσις, hoc est inundatio dicitur. Cæsar: Pedestria esse itinera concisa æstuarijs nauigationem impediri. Aër unũ est ex quatuor rerum principijs, quæ elementa dicuntur. Ita enim disposita est hæc mũdi machina, ut in medio omniũ sit terra posita circa eam aqua globũ terræ circũdans parua parte immuni relicta ad uitã animantiũ tuendam, circa aquã aër, circa aërem ignis purus, atq; integer lunæ globũ attingens. ex ijs omnia gignuntur, alunturq;: unde ab alendo elementa sunt dicta. Terra primũ elementum est à terendo dicta, quod scilicet teritur. Itaq; terra in augurũ libris cum simplici r scribi solebat. ab hac locus cõmunis qui circa oppidũ colonis relinquitur, territoriũ appellatur, quod maxime teratur. quamuis Pomponius iuriscõsultus territoriũ scribit esse uniuersitatẽ agrorũ intra fineis cuiusq; ciuitatis, dictum ab eo quod magistratus eius loci terẽdi ius habent. In singulari terra elementũ est totũ, cũ pluratiue proferimus, plureis terras significamus. Virg. Multũ ille & terris iactatus, & alto. Ponitur tamẽ aliquando terra & pro territorio, & pro prouincia, siue regione. Cic. Eorũ, qui in hac terra fuerunt, magnãq; Græciã, quæ tũ florebat institutis, & præceptis suis erudierũt. unde cõterraneus dicitur, qui ex eadẽ terra est, quapropter Catullũ conterraneũ suũ Plinius uocat qui nõ Veronæ, sed in Benaci insula natus erat. A terra fit terreus, q̃d ex terra est, ut uas terreũ. Terrenus, & terrestris, quod uel in terra natum est, uel in terra uiuit, uel aliquid cõmune cum terra habet, ut terrenũ, siue terrestre animal, terrena labes, terrestris exercitus, terrestres copiæ & terrigena, quod ex terra natũ est, unde terrigenæ gigantes dicũtur. & terricola, quod colit, hoc est habitat terras. & Terentũ locus in cãpo Martio, q̃d in eo ara Ditis patris in terra occultaretur. erat hic locus Diti, ac Proserpinæ sacer, in quo omniũ, qui aut nascerentur, aut morerentur, nomĩa scribi solebant, quoties ciuitas lustrabatur. quæ res initium habuit huiusmodi. Cũ ingenti pestilentia urbs uastaretur Valesius uir locuples, sed rusticæ uitæ cũ duobus filijs, et filia ad desperationẽ morbo laborantibus, aquã calidam à foco petebat, ubi genibus nixus lareis familiareis orauit, ut puerorũ periculũ in eius caput transferrent, audita statim uox fuit eos saluos habiturũ, si continuo Tyberi deuectos Terentũ deportasset, ibiq; ex Ditis patris, & Proserpinæ ara petita aqua, recreasset. Quapropter mente cõfusus quasi nimis longa, et piculosa nauigatio Terentum imparetur, pueros tamẽ ad ripã Tyberis statim detulit ex uilla, in qua habitabat propè uicinũ Sabinæ regioni fretum, ac lintre Ostiã petẽs, intẽpesta nocte ad campũ Martiũ appulsus est: ubi sitientibus ægris subuenire cupiens, cũ ignis in nauigio nõ esset, à gubernatore didicit fumũ nõ procul apparere: iussusq; Terentũ egredi (id nomen ei loco est) haustã calice aquã eò detulit, unde uisus fuerat fumus oriri: locũq; fumantẽ potius, q̃ ulla flãmæ uestigia habentẽ tenacius cõcitãs, cõtractis quæ sors obtulit, nutrimentis, ptinaci flatu ignẽ exciuit: calefactãq; aquam pueris bibendã dedit, qua epota, salutari quiete sopiti, statim liberati sunt, & uocato patre indicauerũt ei uidisse se in somnis, à nescio quo deorũ corpora sua spongia tergi, & præcipi, ut ad Ditis patris, & Proserpinæ aram, à qua potus eis allatus fuerat, furuæ hostiæ immolarentur, lectisterniaq;, & ludi nocturni fierent. Is quoniã eo in loco nullã arã inspexerat, desiderari credens, ut à se institueretur, aram empturus in urbem perrexit, relictis qui fundamentorũ gratia terram ad solidum foderent. hi cũ ad uiginti pedũ altitudinẽ humo egesta peruenissent, animaduertũt arã Diti patri, Proserpinæq; inscriptã. Quod postq̃ Valesius nuntiante seruo accepit, omisso emendæ aræ proposito, hostias nigras, quæ antiqtus furuæ dicebãtur, Terento immolauit: ludos quoq;, et lectisternia cõtinuis tribus noctibus, quia totidem filij periculo liberati erant, fecit. Cuius exemplum Valerius Publicola, qui primus consul fuit, studio succurrendi ægris secutus, apud eandem aram nuncupatis publice uotis, cæsisq; atris bobus, Diti maribus, Proserpinæ fœminis, lectisternio, ac ludis trinoctio factis, aram terra, ut ante fuerat, obruit. Religionem deinde ludorũ crescentibus opibus lautitia secuta est. Primus Quintus Catulus Campanã imitatus luxuriã spectantiũ cõsessum uelorũ umbraculis texit. Primusq; Cn. Pompeius inductis per semitas aquis æstiuum feruorem moderatus est. Hoc secularium ludorum initium fuit: qui ideo appellati sunt seculares, quod uno seculo, hoc est centũ annis semel tantũ fierent, quãuis hic mos aliquando fuerit interruptus. Seculũ centum annorum spatium dicitur à sene, quod longissimum spatiũ senescendorũ hominũ id putarent, ut Varro inquit. Huiusmodi ludos pro hominum salute faciebant, & renouari atq; instaurari hoc sacrificio ciuitatem putabant, ac morbos omneis, præcipueq; pestilentiã expelli. Aperiebatur autem ara Terenti in secularibus ludis, deinde rursus occultabatur. Mart. Bis mea Romano spectata est uita Terento. Et nihil extremos pdidit ante rogos, hoc est mortua sum omni mea prole superstite, bis uisis secularibus ludis, hoc est ætate prouecta. nam ludos seculares nõ seruato centum annorũ ordine, & Augustus, & Claudius, & Domitianus ædiderunt. Papinius: Nec tantũ induerint fatis noua secula crimen, Aut instaurati peccauerit ara Terenti. hoc est nõ cõmittat tantum scelus ara Terenti, ut instauratis à Domitiano pro salute hominũ ibi sacrificijs sinat Gallicum hoc morbo perire. Item extorris, quasi extra terram dicitur: quemadmodum exul, quasi extra solum. & terraneola auis alaudæ similis, præterquam quod in capite apicem non habet: quemadmodum alauda, quæ olim à galeæ similitudine galerita uocabatur, postea gallico uocabulo appellata est alauda. Galli enim hoc nomine significant galeam, unde milites qui galeis utuntur, dicti sunt alaudæ. Legionis alaudarum meminit Cæsar ĩn commentarijs. Alauda à Græcis uocatur κορύδαλος. κόρυς enim galea est. quidam hanc parcum quoque dici existimant, sed falsum est. Parcus enim auium la est palumbá minor aliquanto, sub corpore alba, colore superioris plumæ, & crista ferè similis pauoni. Dicta est autem Terraneola, quod non in arboribus, sed in terra uersetur, ibiq; nidificet. Sunt qui terreo quoq; uerbum à terra deductum existimant. est enim terrere timorem alicui incutere, quasi cum in terram prosternere uelimus. ab hoc fit terror, hoc est timoris incussio: et terrificus timorem incutiens: & terribilis, id est formidabilis, atque horrendus: & terrefacio, & perterreo, & perterrefacio, & exterreo, & deterreo, & absterreo, eiusdem ferè cum suo simplici significationis. Exterritum tamen aliquando pauefactum dicimus. Virgilius: Plausumq; exterrita pennis Dat tecto ingentem. modo accensum, inflammatũ. idem: Sæuit agris, asperq; sitim, atq; exterritus æstu. Item à terra terræmotus dicitur, cum terræ incluso spiritu contremiscunt, magno sæpe habitantium damno: alibi prostratis urbibus, alibi hiatu profundo haustis, alibi egestis molibus, alibi emissis amnibus, nonnunquam etiam ignibus, & calidis fontibus, alibi auerso fluminum cursu. quod ipsi nostra ætate Callisto pontifice maximo in Appulia, atque Campania uidimus, tanta earum prouinciarum ruina, ut fuerint, qui de natali solo relinquendo perpetuo cogitauerint. Item à terra tellus, per diminutionem deducitur, quod proprie deam terræ significat. ponitur tamen pro ipsa terra. Item tripudium, quasi terræ pauium. Cicero: Sed quia cum pulli pascuntur, necesse est aliquid ex ore cadere, & terram pauire, terripauium primo, post terripudium dictum est, deinde tripudium. Cum igitur offa iam cecidit ex ore pulli, tum auspicanti tripudium solistimum nuntiatur. Hanc unam rerum naturæ partem propter eximia in nos merita matris cognomento ueneramur. Hæc enim nascentes nos excipit, natos alit, semelq; æditos perpetuo sustinet. Nouissime complexa gremio, & quasi à reliqua natura abdicatos tum maxime ueluti mater operit, hæc sola nunquam irascitur hominũ. Aër densatur nubibus, furit procellis, aquæ subeunt in imbres, rigescunt in grandines, tumescunt in fluctus, præcipitant in torrentes: ignis cuncta exiccat, cuncta comburit. At terra mitis, benigna, indulgens, ministra hominũ, quæ coacta non generat? quæ sponte non fundit? hæc nobis odores ac sapores præparat: hæc succos, hæc fructus, hæc colores, hæc bona fide creditum reddit fœnus: hæc nostri causa cuncta alit, & semper homini noua parturit: hæc frugem, uinum, carnem, lignum, lapidem, herbam, ferrum, æs, argentum, aurum, cæteraq; metalla, margaritas, gemmas, & quicquid uitæ hominum non modo utile, ac necessarium, sed etiam decorum, ac iucundum est, abunde suppeditat. Secundum elementum est aqua, quæ secundum quosdam ab æqualitate dicta est. nihil enim est illa dum quiescit, æquabilius, ut ego sentio, quasi à qua uiuamus. Aqua enim & ignis humanam uitam maxime continent. Vnde aqua, & igni interdici solebat damnatis. aquam, & ignem sumebant nuptæ, & qui funus prosecuti fuerant, redeuntes ignem supergrediebantur aqua asperſi, quod purgationis genus uocabant suffitionem. Hoc elementum cæteris omnibus uidetur imperare. Terras enim deuorant aquæ, flammas necant, scandunt in sublime, & ipsum quoque sibi uendicant cœlum. Quid esse mirabilius potest, quàm stare in cœlo aquas? At illæ non modo in tantam altitudinem perueniunt ipsæ, sed secum piscium quoque examina, & lapides rapiunt. Eædem cadentes omnium terra nascentium causa fiunt. fruges, arbores, fruticis iuuant, migrant in cœlum, ut uitalem animam deferant herbis. Præterea alibi calidæ sunt, alibi frigidæ, alibi tepidæ, & penè omnibus morborum generibus auxiliantur. Aliæ sulphuris, aliæ aluminis, aliæ salis, aliæ nitri, aliæ bituminis, aliæ ferri, aliæ æris, aliæ acidæ sunt, aliæ falsæ, & cunctæ hominum tantum causa uidentur erupisse. Generatim ueruis prosunt omnes, aliæ pedibus, aliæ coxendicibus, aliæ luxatis, aliæ fractis, aliæ exinaniunt aluos, aliæ sanant uulnera, aliæ capiti, auribusq;, & oculis priuatim medentur, aliæ sterilitatem mulierum, & uirorum insaniam abolere produntur: nonnullæ iuuant calculosos, aliquæ prohibent abortum, sunt quæ tollunt uitiligines, aliæ podagricis prosunt: aliæ tertianas febreis discutiunt, aliæ denteis sistunt: aliæ ungulas etiam iumentorum indurant, aliæ subtiliores faciunt sensus, aliæ memoriam afferunt, aliæ oblitionem inducunt, aliæ canoras uoces faciũt. Sed, ut de cæteris taceamus, Perottæ, quas ipsi paucis ante annis non mediocri opere, ac sumptu in agro Viterbiensi deduximus, lethargicos, & hydropicos, & colicos curant: luxatos statim sanant, collutæ denteis sistunt, scabiem, lichenas, uitiligines mira celeritate tollunt, eruditati medentur, famem sublato omni fastidio inducunt, fœcunditatem mulieribus afferunt: Venerem, si debilitata fuerit, excitant, calculorum uitia discutiunt: Lymphaticos sudando mox sanant, aptissimæ stomacho, neruis, uniuerso corpori. Ab aqua fit aquor uerbum, quod est aquam haurio, siue aquam fero. Curtius: Cum miles aquatum profectus esset. Virgilius: Sed circum tutæ sub mœnibus urbis aquantur. à quo fit aquatio, hoc est aquæ uectio. Aquilex, qui aquã colligit. Varro: An hoc præstat hero filius Diogenis, quod ille è uentre aquam emittit? an hoc te iactas? At hoc pacto utilior te Thuscus aquilex. & aquilegium collectio aquæ. Plaut. Si pluet, aquilegio me iuuabo. & aquæductus, & quod eiusdẽ significationis est, Aquagium, quasi aquæ agium. & aquæ licium, cum aqua pluuialis remedijs quibusdam elicitur. & aqua intercus, quod significat hydropisin. hydropici dicuntur, quos aqua inter cutem male habet: ideoq; ἀπὸ τοῦ ὕδατος. quod aqua est, Græci hunc morbum ὑδρωπικα uocant. Eius tres species sunt. Aut enim uentre uehementer intento creber intus ex motu spiritus sonus est, aut corpus inæquale est tumoribus aliter, aliterq; per totum id orientibus: aut intus in uma aqua cõtrahitur, & moto corpore, ita mouetur, ut impetus eius conspici possit. Primum tympaniten: secundũ leucophlegmantiam, uel hyposarca: tertium asciten Græci nominant. Communis omnium est humoris nimia abundantia. Item ab aqua aqualiculus dictus est, quod proprie uas est, in quo porci sorbent: per metaphoram uero pro uentre usurpatur. Persius: Cũ tibi Calue pinguis aqualiculus propenso sexquipede extet. & aquarium, siue aquariolum locus, in quem sordida aqua iactatur, qui & lauacrina à lauando appellatur. & aqualis uas ad aquam tenendam, quod & matula dicitur, & matella, & matellio. Plaut. Ne tu postules matellam unam tibi aquæ infundi in caput. & aquilus color subniger, ita dictus, quod cum antiqui duos omnino naturaleis colores nossent album, & nigrum, interueniret autem is quoque, qui ita neutri similis est, ut ab utroque proprietatem trahat, eum potissimum ab aqua denominarunt, cuius incertus est color. hinc Aquilius prænomen factum. à colore subnigro & aquila appellata, quamuis aliqui ab acute uidendo dictum potius aquilam uelint. Aquilo uero uentus ob uehementissimum uolatum ab aquila denominatus est. Item ab aqua aqueus dictus, quod ex aqua est, ut color aqueus. Item aquatus, aqua infusus, ut aquatum uinum. & aquosus, plenus aquæ: ut aquosus hyems. aquosus autumnus, aquosus Orion. & aquaticus, quod in aqua degit. Plin. Terrestres, & aquatici pisces, & adaquo uerbum, quod est aquam infundo. & aquifolia arbor ex genere ilicis, quã Græci quidam similacem uocant. Theophrast. Similacẽ uitant arborem ilici similem, folio tamen nõ aculeato, sed molliori: nec

materia, ut illa, solida, spissaq;, sed soluta, molliq; in opere. Arcades phyllodryn nuncupant. Quidam hanc fœminam ilicem putant esse. Dores agrestem ilicem uocant. Vtriusque ilicis fructus breuior, et gracilior, quàm quercus. Homerus aũt acylon appellat roboris glandem. Et æquus, id est æqualis, quod aqua, dum quiescit, perfectam æqualitatem habet. de quo, atq; deriuatiuis ab eo inferius dicemus. et Aquæ Galliæ urbs, iuxta quam sunt calidæ aquæ. Et Aquitani a regio ab obliquis aquis Ligeris. Hæc à Circio Oceanũ habet, qui Aquitanicus sinus dicitur: ab occasu Hispaniam: à septentrione Lugdunensem prouinciã: à meridie Lugdunensem. Sunt etiã qui Aquileiam à legendis aquis appellatam existiment urbem extra Venetiæ fines, iuxta quam defluit Timauus, in Carnorum regione, iuxta regionem Lapidum à Romanis condita, & imminentibus imposita Barbaris, ad quã flumine aduerso, onerarijs nauibus per Natisonem flumen nauigatur plus stadijs sexaginta. Et aquarius cœleste signum, pedes habens in hyemali circulo defixos: manum sinistram usque ad Capricorni porrigens tergus: dextra iubã Pegasi propè cõtingens, spectat ad exortum. occidit, oriturq; capite prius, q̃ reliquis membris. Habet in capite stellas subobscuras, in utrisq; humeris singulas, magnas, in sinistro cubito grandem unam: in utrisq; mãnis singulas: obscuras: in lumbo interiori unã: in utrisq; genibus singulas, in dextro crure unam: in utrisque pedibus singulas: effusio aquæ cum urna ipsa, triginta. Aquarium putant Ganymedem esse Troi regis filium, quem Iupiter pulchritudine eius captus, ab aquila in cœlum raptum, ministrum suum fecisse existimatur. alij putant Deucaliona esse, quod eo regnante tanta uis aquæ se de cœlo profuderit, ut factũ sit diluuiũ. Nonnulli Cecropem esse affirmant. Cecrops enim ante uini usum regnauit, quo tẽpore aqua in sacrificijs deorum usos fuisse homines manifestum est. Tertium elementum est aër, de quo diximus. hũc maiores nostri cœlum appellauere, quicquid inani simile, uitalem hunc spiritũ fundit. Hinc nubila, tonitrua, fulmina: hinc grãdines, pruinæ, imbres, procellæ, turbines: hinc plurima mala, & inter se rerum naturæ discordia. Aër aliquando pro sono accipitur. Varro: Anima, ut concluſa in uesica, quando est arcte ligata, si peculeris, aëra reddet. ab aëre aërius deducitur, & aëripedes, hoc est pedes leuissimos, & quasi aërios habens. Virgi. Fixerit aëripedem ceruam. ubi secundus pes proceleusmaticus est. Quartum elementum est ignis, ita fœcundum, ut scipsum pariat, paruisq; scintillis crescat in immensum. In Comagene urbe Samosata stagnũ est emittens limum: Maltam uocant flagrantem, & cum quid solidi attigerit, hærentem: tactum præterea sequentem fugientis. Sic defendere muros olim oppugnante Lucullo, flagrarunt q; proprijs armis milites. Similis ferè naturæ est Naphthe, circa Babyloniam profluens, bituminis liquidi modo. Huic magna cognatio ignium, transiliunt q; prorsus in eam undecunq; uisam. Sic ferunt à Medea cre matam pellicem, postq̃ sacrificatura ad aras accesserat, coronam igne corrupta. Ignem dictum existimant, quod nihil ex eo gignatur, præterquam in Cypri ærarijs fornacibus ex medio igni pennatum quadrupes, maioris muscæ magnitudine, quod Pyralis appellatur, à quibusdam Pyrausta, quãdiu est in igne uiuit: cum ea sit longiore paulo uolatu, tũc moritur. Ab igne uero igneus deducitur, quod ex igne est, ut calor igneus, fulgor igneus. Et ignitus candens, ut ignitum ferrum. Et ignesco, & ignesio eiusdem significationis. Et ignarius lapis, ex quo ignis excutitur. Et ignefacio, accendo ignem. & ignigena, ex igne genitus. & ignipotens Vulcanus, quod ignis potestatẽ habeat. & igniuomum, quod ignem uomit. & ignia uitia uasorum fictilium, quæ coquendo contrahuntur. Et ignitabulum, ignis receptaculũ. & ignis sacer, morbi genus, cuius duæ species sunt, alter est subrubicũdus, aut mistus cum rubore atq; pallore, ex asperatusq; per pustulas coninuas, quarum nulla altera maior est, plurimæ perexiguæ, in quibus semper ferè pus est, & sæpe rubor cum calore, serpitq; id nonnunquam senescente eo, quod primum uitiatum est. fit maxime in pectore, aut lateribus, aut eminentibus partibus, præcipueq; in plantis. Altera species est in summæ cutis exulceratione, sed sine altitudine. hoc latum est, subliuidum, inæqualiter tamen, mediumq; senescit extremis procedentibus: ac sæpe id, quod iam sanũ uidebatur, iterum exulcerarur. cutis colorem habet ex rubro subnigrum. hoc morbo corpora ferè seniora tentantur, aut quæ mali habitus sunt, sed in cruribus maxime. Ignis elementũ quidã æthra uocant græco uocabulo, quod ἀπὸ τοῦ αἴθω deducitur, quod est cremo: à quo fit æthra, quod ætheris splendorẽ significat. Virgilius: Nec lucidus æthra siderea polus. Interdum æther pro aëre ponitur, quemadmodũ cœlum. Virgilius: Resonatq; fragoribus æthèr. Aristoteles æthera pro cœlo ponit, quem sequitur Ouidius: Sic habites terras, & te desideret æther. Cleantes physicus æthera summũ deũ esse existimauit. Quod Virgilius uidetur quoq; sensisse, cum inquit: Tum pater omnipotens fœcundis imbribus æther, Coniugis in gremium lætæ descendit. Aethra quoque Aegæi Athenarum regis coniux fuit, mater Thesei. & alia eiusdem nominis Helenæ comes. Ouidius: Cætera per socias Clymenen, Aethrãq; loquamur. Quæ mihi sunt comites, consiliumq; duæ. Ab æthere fit ætherius, quod modo id quod ex æthere est, modo altum, sublimemq; significat. OMNIS LABOR. Omne opus labore, ac sumptu factum. Omnis distributiua dictio est, & tamẽ differt à toto. Nam omnis ad numerum refertur, totus ad quantitatem. totũ dicimus corpus aliquod integrũ, ut tota domus, tota urbs. omne de uniuersis dicitur, numero distinctis: ut omne pecus, omnis grex. Poëtæ tamen hanc proprietatẽ sæpe cõfundunt. Totus à tot deriuatur, quemadmodum quotus à quot, unde frequenter quotus pro quot ponitur. Martial. Dic quotus es, quanti cupias cœnare, nec ullum addideris uerbum, mensa parata tibi est. id est, quot estis, & quot tecum habes. Cicero: Quotus enim istud quisq; fecisset. id est nullus, aut rarus. Ali quando quotus continuã quantitatem significat, et ponitur pro quantus. Iuuenal. Quota portio fecis Acheæ. à quot compositæ sunt quotquot, & quotcunq;, quorum significatio nota est. & quotannis, singulis annis. & quotidie, singulis diebus. à quo quotidianus. à tot totidem, id est planè tot, nec plures nec paciores. Item à quot fit aduerbium quoties, à tot toties notæ significationis. Ab omni uero duo aduerbia deriuantur: omnino, quod significat prorsus. unde apud Iurisconsultos omnino recessisse dicitur is, qui recessit animo permutandi domicilium. & omnifariã, quod significat omnis generis, siue omnibus modis. Item nomina omnigena, ex omni genere. omnipotens, omnia potens. à quo omnipotentia, omnium rerũ facultas. omnialens, omnia ualens. à quo omnialentia. omnimodus, omniũ modorũ. omniuagus, per omnia uagans. omniparens, q̃ omnia genuit. omnitenens, qui omnia complectitur. omnipudens, quẽ omnia pudent. omnifactor, qui omnia fecit. omnicreator, qui omnia creauit. omnimorbus, omnibus morbis subueniẽs. unde omnimorbiam herbam quidam maluam appellant. Tradunt enim, siquis quotidie succi eius dimidium sorbeat cyathũ, omnibus morbis caritурum. Alij omnimorbiam herbam uocant helenium, quod ab Helenæ lacrymis, ex quibus natum creditur, nomen sumpsit. fauet formæ, & cutem mulierum in facie, ac reliquo corpore nutrit incorruptã. Existimant præterea quandam gratiam ijs usu illius dari, & Venerem conciliari. à malua, maluaceus deriuatur, pro eo, quod ex malua est: ut malua ceus caulis, & maluaceæ frondes. CEDIT. Dat locum, uictum se fatetur. cedere enim proprie est abire, & locum dare uictori. Virgilius: Cõuenit Euandri uictos discedere ad urbem. Idem: Cede deo. Cicero: Cui quidem exercitus nostri, imperatoresq; cesserunt. Ab hoc per metaphoram cedere accipimus pro uenire in ius alicuius: ut cedunt mihi ea bona, hoc est in ius meum ueniũt. Virg. Hæc omnis regio, & celsi plaga pinea montis Cedat amicitiæ Teucrorum. Idem: Aut abeat uictus, cedat Lauinia coniux. Item cedere, pro discedere accipimus. Lucil. Quandoq; pudor ex pectore cessit. Hinc cedere iræ dicimus dare locũ iræ, & quasi ab ira discedere. cedere bonis, discedere à bonis, & quicquid nostrum erat, tradere creditori. cedere iuri, discedere à iure, & ius, quod habebamus, alteri tradere, quod & de iure cedere dicimus. Item cedere accipimus pro dare. Enni. Saluete optima corpora, cedite manus uestras, measq; accipite. Hinc cedere ius nostrũ alijs dicimus, hoc est dare. à quo cessio iuris, & cessio bonorum. Item cedere est subtrahere se. Virgilius: Celeriq; elapsus corpore cessit. Plautus: Cedamus imbri. cedere, cõcedere, obsequi, nõ repugnare. Virgilius: Cedamus Phœbo, et moniti meliora sequamur. Idē: Cedo equidem, nec nate tibi comes ire recuso. cedere, incedere. Varro: Cedit uelocibus iuuenis membris, leuibus, nitidis oleo. cedere, succedere. Virg. Cesserit Ausonio si fors uictoria Turno. cedere diem, ut Vlpianus inquit, est incipere pecuniam debere. Sicut uenire diem, est eum diem uenisse, in quo pecunia peti possit. non cedere honori, quemadmodum supra diximus, est parem meritis esse. & hæc omnia in præterito faciunt cessi, ac sine diphthõgo scribũtur. Ab hoc cedo fit cesso, quod est ab opere uaco. Virgilius: Et si quid cessare potes, requiesce sub umbra. à quo concesso eiusdem significationis. Plau. Postquã aurora est, nunquam concessauimus lauari, aut fricari, aut ornari. & cessabundus, otiosus. & necessa, siue necessum, quod uialiqua cogente fieri opus est, quia non sit in eo cessandũ. à quo necessarium eiusdem significationis. unde fit necessario aduerbium. & necessitas, ac necessitudo eiusdem significationis. modo enim pro ui quadam urgente accipiuntur, modo pro uinculo quodam religiosæ coniunctionis. à quo necessarij dicuntur qui iure affinitatis cõiuncti sunt, quod nulla inter eos cessatio, hoc est separatio sit, uel quod necessaria inter eos officia conferantur. Cæsar: Equidẽ mihi uideor pro nostra necessitate non labore, non opera, non industria defuisse. Sallustius: Coactus rerum necessitudine statuit armis certare. Item cello, quo ueteres utebantur, pro cedo, nunc cõpositis tantum utimur, excello, & præcello, quod est excedo, & antecedo. à quo excellentes, & præcellentes dicũtur, excellentia, et præcellentia. & aduerbiũ excellenter, & præcellenter. Item celsus altus, sublimis. excellens. à quo celsitudo excellentia. & à præcello, præcelsus. ab excello, excelsus. Item antecello eiusdem significationis. & præcello, quod significat differo. Lucilius: Ad nonũ hoc præcellit annũ. composita fiũt accedo, quod est aduenio, appropinquo. à quo fit accessus, pro aduẽtu. & accessio, quod modo accessium significat, sicut decessio recessium. Cicero: Eorum neq; accessione uita meliorem fieri, neque decessione peiorem: modo additamentum, & accumulationem. Seneca: Magna rebus nostris facta erit accessio. Intercedo, quod modo significat interuenio cõciliandi gratia. Apuleius: Dum pro inope, ac calamitoso intercederem. Itẽ intercedit mihi tecum amicitia, intercedit tibi cum illo affinitas, hoc est media est, quæ me tibi, & tebi conciliat. modo uerbis, & ui medium me oppono, ut tribuni interfecerunt, hoc est opposuerũt se, & rem impediuerũt. ab hoc fit intercessio, & intercessor, quæ in utroque significa-to capiuntur. Abscedo, discedo. à quo abscessus fit, quod interdum discessum significat, interdum concursum mali humoris in aliquam partem corporis, ex quo suppuratio fit, quam Græci uocant apostema, à pure suppuratio dicta. pus sanies est, & quicunq; humor in putredinem uersus. à quo fit purulentum plenum sanie. Et putreo, & putresco, quod est in putrem uertor. & putrefacio, corrumpo. & putre corruptum, ac resolutum. Virgilius: Et Zephyro putris se gleba resoluit. & suppuratus locus, in quem factus est malorum humorum cõcursus, qui, si in saniẽ uertitur, maturari ac maturescere dicitur, sin minus discuti, siue resolui. Et putredo, & putrefactio, id est corruptio. Et putridum, corruptum. Et puteo, quod significat fœteo. à quo putor, fœtor. & putidum, siue pututentum, quod est odoris mali. Cice. Putidas, ac pernitiosas aureis. unde per metaphoram orationem quoq; putidam dicimus, quæ auribus auersa, insuauis, & (ut ita dicam) rancida est. Et putide aduerbium fœtide, ac rancidule. Et præputium, quod est ante putidum, hoc est ante id quod putet. Est enim præputium pellicula in summitate penis, quæ operit glandem, quam qui mutilantur dicũtur circumcisi, siue recutiti. Et puteus, quod fœtet, dũ cauatur, & aliquando hominem perimit. à quo puteal, à quo puteus cooperitur. Et putearius, fossor puteorum. Pli. Depressis puteis sulfurata, uel aluminosa occurrentia putearios necant. & puteanus. Idem: Quod si tantum aquæ puteanæ adijcias. Et puticuli quoddam uetustissimũ genus sepulturæ, quia ibi cadauera putrescerent. Et Puteoli urbs Cãpaniæ ab aquarum calidarum, & sulfuris fœtore, siue à multitudine puteorum huiusmodi aquarum gratia factorum. & putitius, quod Plautus pro stulto usurpauit. Et pustula, quod significat tuberculum ex inflammatione quadam in summitate cutis nascens, subrubicundum. Pustularum, quædam sunt humidæ, quædã siccæ. Pessima autem pustula est, quæ surgit in summitate digitorũ, sæpe scabriciem unguiũ faciens cum dolore maximo: Martial. Feruida ne trito tibi pollice pustula surgat, exorncẽt docilem garrula plectra lyram. Item à pus, sputum deducitur, hoc est saliua. Et spuo saliuam emitto. à quo fit sputo, cuius passiuũ est sputor. Plau. Nam illic isti, qui sputatur, interdũ morbus uenit. qui sputatur ingt, hoc est in quẽ insputur. & cõspuo actiuũ, quod significat sputo aliquẽ fœdo, cuius passiuũ est cõspuor. Plau. Ab omnibus derisus atq; consputus. Item inspuo, in aliquẽ spuo, expuo, extraspuo, respuo, repudio, & quasi cum sputo, per contemptũ reijcio. Et per metaphoram cum contemptu expello. Terentius: Vbi illam expueret miseriam ex animo. Despuo, idem quod conspuo. Præterea à spuo, spurcũ, qđ proprie significat impurum, obscœnum, lutulentũ. Plautus: Tot uoctes reddat spurcas, quod puras habuit. Aliquãdo per metaphoram capitur pro fœtidum. Apuleius: Tam multæ res spurcæ, & graues nareis infestant. Nonnunquam pro uehemens, asperum. Cicero: Iactati tempestate spurcissima. Var. Nunc de re meliuscula spem habeo, qui rem spurcissimã gestare noluerim. Interdum pro sæuum, ac sanguinarium. Varro: Spurcus gladiator, & carnifex. ab hoc spurcitia deducitur, quæ significat immunditiam. & spurce aduerbium, hoc est, turpiter, atque immunde. & spurcum uinum, aqua admissum, aut igne calefactum, aut mustũ ante, quàm deferuescat, quod genus offerre in sacrificijs nefas habebatur. & spurius, nõ qui græco uocabulo dicitur nothus, hoc est ex adulterio natus. nãis Latinum uocabulum non habet, ideoq; utimur peregrino: sed incerto patre natus, quem Modestinus uulgo conceptũ appellari scribit, siue is, qui eum patrem habet, quem habere nõ licet. unde spurios etiam uersus dicimus alterius, ac incerti autoris. Ausonius de Arsitarcho: Quiq; notas spurijs uersibus

apposuit. Item à spuo spuma dicta, quæ quasi sputum est, hoc est sordes earum rerum, à quibus eijcitur. à quo fit spumeus, quod ex spuma est. & spumosus, quod spumam facit. & spumo, spumã facio. & despumo, mundo, spumã extraho. à pure etiam fit purgo uerbum, hoc est mundo, & quasi purem ago. hoc est educo. à quo purgamenta dicũtur sordes, quæ purgando colliguntur, à poëtis dicta purgamina. & purgatio, emundatio. Vnde purgamus corpora à ueneno, aut clysfere, aut baneo, aut alio simili, & hoc purgatio dicitur. Purgationes etiã mulierum, menstrua uocantur. & ipsæ purgari dicuntur, dum menstrua patiuntur. Purgo etiam per metaphorã capitur pro excuso. & purgatio apud rhetores est, cum factum quidẽ conceditur, sed culpa remouetur: quæ tres habet partes, imprudentiam, casum, necessitatem. Item à pure puro uerbum, quasi purem extraho. à quo depuro. unde depuratum dicimus defecatum, atque mundatum: & purum mundum, sine sorde, hinc pura uestimenta à ueteribus dicebantur, quæ sacerdotes ad sacrificia sumebant, id est non obsita, non fucata, non maculam habentia. & pure lautum, quod aqua pura lotũ erat. & purum aurum, quod rectè expurgatũ, coctũq; esset, siue quod in usu profano non fuisset. & purime tenuero, pro purissime tenuero. Vlpianus purum locum esse desinit, qui nec sanctus, nec sacer, nec religiosus est, sed ab omnibus huiusce modi nominibus uacare uidetur. à puro deducitur puritas, qđ modo pro munditia, modo pro inani simplicitate accipitur. Huius cõtrarium est impuritas, hoc est turpitudo, siue improbitas, quẽadmodum contrarium puri est impurus, quod modo est sordidus, contaminatus. à quibus pure, & impure aduerbia deriuantur. Cicero: Quàm multis illum ingenuis, quàm multis matribus familiàs in illa terra, atq; impura legatione uim attulisse existimatis? Modo ponitur pro improbo. Terenti. Mei loci, atque ordinis hominem haud impurum. & purifico, à quo purificatio. &, quo nonnulli utuntur, purificus. Sunt etiã qui puto uerbum à puro deductum existimant. Putare enim proprie ueteres dicebant deputare, hoc est, uacantia ex quacunque re, & non necessaria, aut etiam non obstantia, & aliena auferre, atque excidere. Sic putari arbores, ac uites dicuntur. Et putamina appellantur sarmenta, & cortices, & argentum. atque aurum putum, hoc est expurgatum, excoctumq;, atq; omni alia materia carens. Hinc factum est ut putare pro cogitare, atq; animo uoluere capiamus. cogitando enim reputamus mẽte quæ falsa, aut inutilia, aut superuacua sunt, & qđ uerum, ac bonum est hinc cogitando hæremus. Terentius: Recte putas. Virgilius: Multa putans, sortemq; animo miseratus iniquam. Ob eandem causam, & putare pro conferre, & colligere usurpamus. Plau. Putatur ratio cum argentario. & pro rarefacere. Virgilius: Fingitq; putando. Ab hoc composita fiunt deputo, quod pro ascribo accipitur. Apuleius: Ad ergastuli curã deputatus. Imputo, quod ad significationem exprobrantis accedit, sed citra reprehensionem. Quintilianus: Neq; ego grauissimum patrem summa sua iuueni iactasse crediderim, quod hæredem filium scriberet, non est res, quæ imputetur. Idem: Imputas nobis propitios uentos, & secundum mare, ac ciuitatis opulentæ liberalitatem, quæ tantum frumenti uendidit, quantum duobus populis satis esset. Nonnunquam tamen imputo, pro adnumero, & computo ponitur, quod & ipsum à puto componitur. Vlpianus: Præterea si matrem aluit pupilli tutor, putat Labeo imputare eum posse. sed est uerius, nõ nisi per quem egenti dedit, imputare eum oportere. Item reputo, quod aliquando pro considero, & recolo capitur. Apuleius: Cum id mecum sæpe reputarem. Aliquando pro computo. Vlpianus: Item sumptus litis tutor reputabit, & uiatica si ex officio necesse habuit aliquò exire, uel proficisci. Disputo, hoc est discepto, dissero. à quo disputatio, cuius diminutiuũ est disputatiuncula. & amputo, quod est circuncido, quasi circunputo. Item sunt qui à pure pudorem dictum uelint. Nihil enim aliud est pudor, quàm ob aliquam rem sordidam timor. Quippe ab Aristotele ita definitur: αἰσχύνη ἐστὶ φόβος ἀπαίου ψόγου, hoc est, pudor est timor iustæ reprehensionis. Quidam pudorem à uerecundia sic separant, ut pudor sit rei turpiter actæ, uerecundia uero etiam rectè factæ, atq; honesti. Ab hoc fit pudibundus, qui pudore ducitur. & pudibunde aduerbium, cum pudore. & pudenda, uirilia, quæ & uerecunda dicũtur. & pudicus, castus. à quo pudice aduerbium, caste. & pudicitia, castitas. quorum contraria sunt impudicus, & impudice. ponitur & pro religiosa mundicia, ac puritate. Virgilius: Casta pudicitiam seruat domus. Item pro dea gentilium. Quippe Pudicitiæ signum Romæ colebatur, quod nefas erat attingi, nisi ab ea, quæ semel nupsisset. hinc depudicare uerbum, quo ueteres utebantur, hoc est uiolare, stuprare, & quasi pudicitiam auferre. Ennius leuiter rubentem auroram pudoricolorem appellauit. Ab eodem etiam pudet uerbum deducitur, quod à piget ita distingunt, ut pudere sit in ijs, quæ turpiter fiunt, pigere in ijs, quæ cum malo, damnoq;: pudere ad dedecus, pigere ad dolorem referatur. Pudet enim eius, quod turpe est: piget eius, quod dolet, ac molestum est. Alij pudere uerecundiæ esse dicunt, pigere pœnitentiæ. Terentius: Fratris me quidem pudet, pigetq;. Sallustius: Nam postea quæ fecerit, incertum habeo, pudeat, an pigeat magis. Ab hoc fit impudens, hoc est temerarius, qui nullo pudore ducitur. à quo impudenter temere, petulanter, uerecunde. Et impudentia, temeritas. Quidã etiam dispudet usurparunt pro bis pudet, seu ualde pudet. Veteres etiam pudeo, & pudesio dixere. Gellius: Tibiam pudefactus oris deformitate abiecit. Et propudium, à quo pudor, & pudicitia procul sit. Decedo, quod aliquando pro discedo accipitur. proprie tamen decedere est à mandato custodiæ suæ loco recedere. Vnde consules, proconsules, præsides dicuntur è prouincia decedere. Item præsidia ex urbibus, aut castellis. Sine appositione pro mori accipitur, quasi è custodia, & gubernatione corporis proficisci, ut eo modo dicatur decessit, quo defunctus est, & subintelligatur uita. Excedo, discedo, & simili modo pro morior usurpatur, sed additur semper uita, non subintelligitur. Cic. In ipsa cura, & meditatione obeũdi sui muneris excessit è uita. Procedo, quod modo significat progredior, modo succedo: à quo fit processus, quod & progressum significat, & successum. præcedo, antecedo, quod & ipsum à cedo componitur. Incedo, pro ambulo capitur. à quo incessus fit, siue celer sit, siue tardus, siue compositus, siue immoderatus. Proprie tamen incedere, est cum grauitate quadam, & ueluti fastu ambulare. Virgilius: Regina ad templum magna stipante caterua, incessit. Idem: Et uera incessu patuit dea. Sene. Tenero, ac molli passu suspendimus gradum, nec ambulamus, sed incedimus. Aliquando incedere, subire est. Vt incessit mihi cupiditas. hoc est subijt. Ab hoc fit incesso, quod est accuso, impeto, molesto. Gell. Cũ me maledictis incesseret. Succedo, quod modo significat in alterius locum uenio. Cice. Vt ueros hæredes moueat, in eorum locum ipse succedat. à quo successor, & successio deducitur notæ significationis. modo ingredior. Virgilius: Et nostris succede penatibus hospes. aliquando etiam succedere capimus pro euenire. unde successus pro felici euentu usurpatur. Plin. Facessite hinc, atq; à nobis discedite. aliquando hio, diuido, distendor. Cicero: Hinc ille Giges inducitur à Platone, qui cum terra discessisset, magnis imbribus, descendit in illum hiatum, ab hoc discessus pro recessu deducitur. & discessio pro hiatu. recedo, abeo, discedo. unde recessus pro discessu. Itē recedo, protrahor, extendor. à quo recessus pro spatio ponitur. Curt. In eo nemore longo recessu domus erat. Itē retrocedo. à quo fit aduerbium recessim, quod significat retro cedendo. Plaut. Recessim cedā ad parietem. Secedo, seorsum abeo. à quo secessus, quod modo discessum significat, modo sinum secretiorem. Virg. Est in secessu longo locus. Interdum etiā secedere spatiari est, & à negotijs uacare. unde secessus, siue secessiones, uacationes dicūtur. Concedo, quod modo est trado, uel permitto. Terent. Hui metuisti, si nunc de tuo iure concessisses paululū. modo cedo. Idem: Hic uideo me esse inuisam immerito, tempus est concedere. Aliquando proficiscor. Plautus: Cum domū concessisset, inuenit patrem. Nonnunquā consentio. Terentius: Nunquamne hoc die cōcedes mihi, neq; intelliges? Ab hoc concessio fit pro consensu. Est & aliud cædo, quod ad differentiā huius cum diphthōgo scribitur, & præteritum facit cecidi, et supinum cæsum. hoc proprie significat flagello. Terentius: Verberibus te cæsum in pistrinum Daue dedam. Ponitur tamen aliquādo pro excido. Virgilius: Cæditur & tilia ante iugo leuis. Cicero: Aut eius partes, quasi membra quædam cædenda. Interdum pro occido. Virgilius: Non aliā ob culpam Baccho caper omnibus aris cæditur. Idem: Cæduntur uigiles. Cicer. Cædit greges armentorum. per metaphorā quoque cædo pro immolo usurpatur. Virgilius: Cædunt binas de more bidenteis. & pro frango. Cicero: Cædere ianuam saxis, instare ferro. Hinc cello eiusdem significationis. à quo percello, hoc est percutio, euerto. Varro: Alius tenerā abietem solus percellit. Procello eiusdem significationis. à quo procella, de qua tertio epigrāmate disseremus. Item detracta una litera cælo, quod est signo, sculpo. à quo cælata uasa appellata sunt, quæ ueteres ancesa uocabant, quod circūcædendo fiāt. et cælū ipsum instrumentum quo cælantur, sicut cæstrum, quo ebur cauatur. Et centrum, punctum, siue stimulus. Item cælum, quod alio modo dicitur mundus, cuius circunflexu cuncta tegūtur, quod cælatum, hoc est signatum sideribus sit. Nam quod Varro à cauo dictum existimat, nimis durum est. à Græco uero, hoc est ἀπὸ τοῦ κοίλου, quod significat concauum, deduci non est putandum, siquidem per œ scriberetur, quod nusquam animaduertimus. à cælum deriuatur celsus, hoc est altus, sublimis. à quo fit excelsus, & præcelsus eiusdem significationis, & excelsitas. Cicero: Etenim magis est secundum naturam excelsitas animi, & magnitudo. & excello, ac præcello, hoc est extollor, supero. à quo excellens, excellētior, excellētissimus. præcellens, præcellentior, præcellentissimus. excellenter, et præcellenter. excellentia, & præcellentia. excelse, & præcelse. & recello, quod significat reclinor, humilis fio, & interdum actiue pro reclino usurpatur. Item cælestis, quod ex cælo est. unde cælestia numina dicuntur, & cælestia auguria uocantur, quæ à cælo fiunt, cum uel fulminat, uel tonat. & cælicola habitator cæli. & cælebs, quod cælestem uitam agat. Is enim proprie cælebs dicitur, qui caret, semperq; caruit uxore. Abusiue tamē ponitur pro eo, qui uxorem non habet, etiam si alias habuerit. Hinc cælibatus, dicitur uita, quæ agitur sine uxore. Plautus: Vtrum nunc te cælibem esse mauis liberum, an maritum seruium ætatem agere. Suetoni: Verum amissa uxore lepida, duobusq; ex ea liberis, mansit in cælibatu. Ex ijs constat cælibem, & maritum relatiua esse. Quod etiam Quintilianus ostendit: Clarus, an obscurus: magistratus, an priuatus: ciuis, an peregrinus: liber, an seruus: maritus, an cælebs: parens liberorum, an orbus sit. Hinc etiam cælibaris hasta dicebatur, qua caput nubentis comebatur. ea oportebat in corpore gladiatoris stetisse abiecti, occisiq;, ut quemadmodum illa coniuncta fuerat cū corpore gladiatoris, sic ipsa cum uiro esset, uel quia matronæ in tutela Iunonis Curitis sint, quæ ita appellabatur à ferenda hasta, quæ Sabinorum lingua dicitur Curis: uel quod fortes uiros geniturā ominaretur: uel quod nuptiali iure imperio subijciatur nubens, quia hasta summa armorum, & imperij esset, quam ob causam uiri fortes ea donātur, & captiui sub eadem ueneunt, quos Græci δορυλήπτους, & δορυσρώτους nominant. Hanc consuetudinem nunc quoque in nuptijs Romani obseruant, pro hasta gladium supra caput nubentis tenentes. Item à cælo fit cælicus, hoc est cælestis. unde cælica regna poētæ dicunt. & cælitus aduerbium, quod significat ex cælo. Ab huius cæli similitudine, palatum quoque cælum appellatur. Plinius: Cerebrum, uiscerum excellentissimum est, proximumq; cælo capitis, sine cruore, sine sordibus. Aristoteles: ὑπὸ δὲ τὸν οὐρανὸν ἐν τῷ στόματι ἡ γλῶττα τοῖς ζώοις ἐστί, hoc est: Sub cælo autē lingua animalibus est. Idem: πολλοὶ δ' ἔχουσι καὶ ἐν ταῖς γλώτταις ὀδόντας, καὶ ἐν τοῖς οὐρανοῖς. id est, multi autem habent & in linguis denteis, & in cælis. hinc cælostomia dicitur, cum uox quasi in recessu oris auditur. à cælo hoc de quo loquimur, & στόμα quod significat os, quamuis possit & à concauitate oris uideri deducta. κοῖλον enim Græci (ut diximus) concauum dicunt. & hoc modo per œ diphthongum scribendum erit, quemadmodum Græci scribunt κοιλοστομίαν. Celeusma uero clamor est nautarum, cum uno aliquid iubente, omnes uniformiter respondent, quasi sibi inuicem iubentes, ἀπὸ τοῦ κελεύω, quod est iubeo. Vnde & proceleusmaticus dictus est pes, ex quatuor breuibus constans, quod uersus hoc pede constans prior cani in sacris Mineruæ solebat: uel quod propter breuitatem, & quasi cursum syllabarum simile clamori nautico, canticum facere uideatur. Item à cælum fit cælo cælas, quod est tego, abscondo: quoniā cælum omnia tegit. Ouidius: Ante mare, & terras, & quod tegit omnia cælum. unde cælasso pro cælauero ueteres dixere. ab hoc cælla deriuatur, quod in ea cælatur, quod uolumus esse occultum. Græci hanc apothecā dicunt, in qua res esculentæ, & poculentæ reponuntur: quamuis proprie apotheca cælla uinaria sit. capitur tamen abusiue cælla pro omni loco, in quo quid reponitur. Vir. fauorum cauernas cællas appellauit: Distendunt nectare cællas. Item loca quædam in domibus, in quibus lauamur, ac ungimur, cellæ dicuntur, ut inferius ostendemus. Et cællarium similiter, quod sic differt à penu, quod cællarium est paucorum dierum, penus uero temporis longi. quicquid enim lōgæ usionis gratia reconditur, ex eo quod non in promptu est, sed intus. & penitus habetur. & locus ipse dicitur penus. Penitus enim proprie intrinsecus significat. Vnde penitior dicitur interior, & penitissimus intimus. Vnde fit penetrare, quasi penitus intrare. à quo penetrabilis, qui facile penetrat. Virgilius: Penetrabile telum, & penetrabile frigus. Itē qui facile penetratur. Liuius: Et in asperis locis silex sæpe impenetrabilis ferro occurrebat. Et penetrale substantiuum, quod significat id, quod est in intimis partibus. unde penetrale sacrificium dicebatur, quod in penetrali, hoc est in intima parte domus fieri solebat. Item penates, quod penes nos nati sunt. Penitus à penes deductum est. id enim penes nos maxime uidetur esse, quod est penitus reconditum. Ponitur aliquando penitus pro longe. Virgilius: Penitusq; alias aduexerat oras. Aliquando pro ualde. Idem: Penitusq; sonanteis accestis scopulos. Sunt qui uelint in penu thus, cereos, ligna, carbones, aliaq; similia contineri, sed proprie ea sola penui tribuuntur, quæ ad uictum pertinent. Penuarium significat omne id, quod in penu reponitur, & ipsum penu, & quod penu est. unde penuaria cælla appellatur. Dicimus autem hic penus, &

hæc penus quartæ declinationis, & hoc penus ris tertiæ, & hoc penum peni secundæ. à penu (ut quidam putant) penuria deducitur, quasi urens penū. Significat autem inopiam omnium rerum, præsertim'que earum, quæ in penu recondi solent, quemadmodum inferius latius dicemus. Alij penuriam à penè dictam uolunt, quod penè urat, uel quod penè minus sit, quàm necesse est. Item à cælla siue cællarium deriuatur cællarius: significatq;, ut Vlpianus inquit, eum, qui ideo præpositus est, ut rationes saluæ fiant. Item à cælla cællares palumbæ, quæ domi nutriuntur. Item à cælo fit cōpositum occulo. à quo occulto, quod ueteres etiam deculto dixerūt. & occulte aduerbium: & oculus, quod ciliorum, quæ & ipsa à cælando dicuntur, unde supercilia, tegminibus oculatur. à quo oculatus præsens. Plaut. Quomodo dixit oculata die? id est præsenti. Idem: Pluris est oculatus testis unus, quàm auriti decē, id est qui præsens fuerit, uideritq;. & oculissimus charissimus. Idē: Oculissimum hostium amicæ. et oculitus, sicut medullitus, animitus, quod significat aliquid tam charum esse, quàm oculum. Idem: Qui amant ancillam meam oculitus. & ocellus ab oculo fit, hoc est paruus oculus. & monoculus, unum oculum habens. & lanoculus, qui lana tegit oculi uitium. & occo, à quo occatio, quod occulat, hoc est occultet semina. Est enim occare, cū rustici satione facta, bobus dimissis, grandiores glebas cancellāt, ac ligonibus frangunt. & oculeus, perspicax, & quasi ex oculis cōstans. Apulei. Perspicatiorē ipso Lynce, uel Argo, & oculeum totum. & cocles, quasi ocles, qui unū habet oculum. Plautus: De Coclitū prosapia esse arbitror. Nam hi sunt unoculi. Idem etiam monoculus dicitur, quod μόνον, hoc est solum oculum habeat. Item μονόφθαλμος. Nam Græce ὀφθαλμὸς oculus dicitur. à quo ophthalmia oculorum ægritudo uocitata est. Et triophthalmus, & ægophthalmus lapilli, de qbus inferius dicemus. Et procul, quasi porrò ab oculis. unde potest & satis longe significare, & non ualde, hoc est præ oculis. Virgil. Est procul in pelago saxum. quod satis lōge fuisset intelligi non potest: periret enim spectaculi uoluptas. Idem: Serta procul tantū capiti delapsa iacebant. à procul uero proculos, ac proculeios cognominatos putant, qui nati sunt patre peregrinante à patria procul. Item proculeio uerbum, extendo, promitto. Item cilia à cælando dicuntur, quasi cælia, quod oculos cælent. Item clàm aduerbium, hoc est occulte. à quo clanculum diminutiuum. & perclam compositum, id est ualde occulte. & clandestinus occultus. à quo clandestine aduerbium occulte. & clandestino dictum inuenitur. Lucilius: At enim dicis clandestino tibi quod commissum fuerit. Item callim, quod ueteres pro clam usurparunt. Et claudo, & clauis, ut quidam putant. Item à cædo cudo dictum, quod proprie est ferio. à quo incus incudis dicitur instrumentum in quo aliquid cudimus, hoc est feriendo formamus. Item à cædo cædes, hoc est occisio dicta, siue nex. & excido. à quo excidium, siue excidio, peremptio, & quasi nex urbis, aut prouinciæ, quæ tamen à cadendo deducta uideri possunt. Veteres etiam excissatum pro uulnerato, & laniato dixerunt. Plautus: Capillo scisso, atq; excissatis auribus. Et homicida, qui hominem occidit. à quo homicidium. & tyrannicida, qui tyrannum, à quo tyrannicidium. & bouicida, qui bouem, à quo bouicidium. & paricida proprie qui patrem. à quo paricidium. & matricida, qui matrem, à quo matricidium. & cestus, quod proprie significat cingulum, à uarijs cæsuris, hoc est incisionibus, quibus insigniri cingula solebant, quamuis sint, qui ἀπὸ τοῦ κεντεῖν, hoc est à uarijs punctis appellatum cestum existiment. κεντεῖν enim pungere est. à quo centrum dicitur, id est punctus, qui est in medio circuli, à quo omnes lineæ ad circunferentiā ductæ in ter se sunt æquales. Quàm ob rem admirabile illud Veneris cingulum à poëtis tātopere decantatum, quo Venus Martem, & ab illa mutuata Iuno Iouem sibi cōciliabant, quoties in pellices erant proniores, cestum dixere. Martialis: Collo necte puer meros amores, Ceston de Veneris sinu calentem. Idem: Sume citheriaco medicatū nectare ceston. Vssit amatorem baltheus iste Iouem. hoc alibi idem poëta nodū Acidalium uocauit: Ludit Acidalio, sed non manus aspera nodo, Quem rapuit collo parue Cupido tuo. Nam de cesto intelligi sequētes uersus ostendunt. Vt Martis reuocetur amor, summiq; tonantis, à te Iuno petat ceston, & ipsa Venus. Ab hoc cesto cesticillus dictus est, quasi paruum cingulum circulus ille, quem quasi corollam capiti superponunt, qui aliquid oneris supra caput impositiuri sunt, quod facere inprimis mulieres consueuerunt. Item cestus quartæ declinationis instrumentum illud, quo palestritæ, ac pugiles utebantur. Nihil enim aliud erat apud uetustissimos, quàm lorum ex corio bubulo manibus circunuolutum, quo & ictum minus ipsæ sentirent, & aduersarium grauius ferirēt. Homerus: Ζῶμα δέ οἱ πρῶτον παρακάββαλεν, αὐτὰρ ἔπειτα, δῶκεν ἱμάντας ἐϋτμήτους βοὸς ἀγραύλοιο. Primum inquit, subligar ei adhibuit, deinde lora dedit apta bouis agrestis. Quintus: Εἱστήκει περὶ χερσὶν ἔχων βοὸς ἶφι δαμέντος ῥινοὺς ἀζαλέας, hoc est: Stabat manibus tenens bouis ualidi mactati sicca tergora. Idem: Ὣς τῶν ἀζαλέῃσι περικτυπέοντο γένεια ῥινοῖς. id est: Sic eorum maxillæ aridis obstrepebant tergoribus. Idem: Τῶν δ' ἐσσυμένως θεράποντες ῥινοὺς αἱματόεντας ἄφαρ σθεναρῶν ἀπὸ χειρῶν λῦσαν. quod est: His certatim famuli tergora sanguinolenta statim à ualidis manibus soluērunt. Valerius Flaccus: Aspice & hæc crudis durata uolumina tauris. Sed postea huiusmodi loris, hoc est uoluminibus coriorum, ut est auida semper nouarum rerum mortalitas, insuere magni ponderis plumbeas massas cœpere, ferro etiam addito, quibus inter se pugiles magno discrimine, immo certa morte dimicabant. hi sunt memorabiles illi cestus, quos latini duntaxat poëtæ decantant. nam in græcis nihil legitur præter lora fuisse magnæ quidem molis, & non nisi fortissimis uiris tentatæ. Virgilius: In medium geminos immani pondere cestus proiecit, quibus acer Eryx in prælia suetus, Ferre manum, duroq; intendere brachia tergo. Obstupuere animi tantorum ingentia septem Terga boum plumbo insuto, ferroq; rigebāt. Papinius: Ac dum nigrantia plumbo Tegmina cruda boum non mollior ipse lacertis, Induitur. Item à cædo, cæsaries dicta, quod comam significat, quæ cædi solet. Virorum enim duntaxat cæsaries est, non mulierum. unde cæsariati, comati dicuntur. Item Cæsar, non quod cum cæsarie natus sit (ut stulte Pompeius affirmat) uel quod elephantum in Africa occiderit (ut ait Seruius) Afri enim elephantum cæsam uocant. sed quod cæso matris utero prolatus sit. Hoc natiuitatis genus à ueteribus auspicatius putabatur. Sic natum tradunt Scipionem Africanum priorem, qui præterea primus omnium Cæsar appellatus est. Qui ita nascuntur, cæsones à ueteribus dicti. A cæsare cæsareus dicitur, hoc est imperatorius: quoniam imperatores omnes, qui post Iulium Cæsarem fuerunt, Cæsares dicti sunt. Item cæsarianus. unde cæsariani milites, dicti sunt milites Cæsaris. & Cæsaria urbs Palæstinæ, & altera Philippi, à Philippo fratre Herodis, in honorem Cæsaris condita, & tertia Capadociæ, & quarta Mauritaniæ. Item Cæsaraugusta urbs Hispaniæ Taraconēsis à Iuba Maurorum rege ædificata. Item à cædo cæsim aduerbium, quod significat cædendo: sicut punctim, pungendo. unde cæsim, ac punctim ferire hostem docebantur tirones. & cædua, sylua quæ habetur in eum usum, ut ex ea materia cædatur.

Item cæsitium linteolum purum, ac candidum, uel quod cædendo ad candorem perueniat, uel quod oras circuncisas habeat. Plautus: Linteolum cæsitium. & cæsa Gallicum telum. Varro: Qui gladijs cincti sine scutis, cum binis cæsis essent. hæc & Gallorum lingua gæsa dicuntur, unde & uiros forteis Galli gæsos uocant. Virgilius: Alpina coruscat gæsa manu. Et cæsa particulæ orationis, quæ Græci κόμματα uocant. Differuntq; à membris, quæ Græci uocant κῶλα. Membrum enim est pars orationis ex pluribus uerbis absolute aliquid significans, hoc modo: Et si uereor iudices, ne turpe sit pro fortissimo uiro dicere incipientē timere. Cæsum autē pars orationis non dum ex duobus, aut ex pluribus uerbis quicquam absolute significans, hoc modo: Et si uereor iudices, ne turpe sit. Interdū tamen cæsam dicimus orationē, cum non efficiuntur membra ex connexione uerborum, sed singula uerba aliquid significantia proferūtur, hoc modo: Quis est iste Gellius armiger Catilinæ, stipator tui corporis, concitator tabernariorum, latrator fori, depopulator curiæ? Eadem & incisa dicuntur, unde fit aduerbium incisim. Cicero: Hæc quidem duo binis pedibus incisim, deinde membratim dicere solebas. Et cæsura à cædenda uoce, quæ definitur decora terminatio uocum, in medio uersuum notata: ut quādo post duos primos pedes superans syllaba inuenitur, quæ dictionem terminet cæsura est, quæ pentimemeris dicitur, ut: Arma, uirūq; cano. Cum uero id post treis pedes fit, est cæsura heptimemeris, ut. Arma, uirumq; cano, Troiæ. hic enim uersus utranq; cæsurā habet. Item cæspes, quod est terra, cum herba in modum lateris cæsa, uel frutex recisus, abtruncatus, quod pedem cædat. Ab hoc fit cæspito uerbum. cæspitare autem dicimur, cum pede aliquid percutientes, quasi ruere cogimur. dictum cæspitare, quasi cæspitem offendere, uel in cæspitem ferri. Vnde cæspitatores equi dicuntur, qui sæpe in cæspitem, aut lapidem, aut aliud offendiculum, pedem impingunt. Item à cædo cudo, quod est percutio, à quo incus dicta, instrumentum fabri ferrarij, supra quod ferrum cuditur. Item aliorū metallorum. à cudo fit compositum excudo: per metaphoram tamen pro inuenio usurpatur. Virgil. Vt uarias usus meditando excuderet arteis. Item à cudo recudo, quod est iterum cudo. Varro: Vt ij solent, qui uetera metalla recudunt. & procudo, cudendo dilato. Virgilius: Durum procudit arator uomeris obtusi dentem. Itē à cædo cæcus dicitur, quod sit oculis concisus, quamuis alij cæcum quasi oculis captum, alij quasi carentem oculis appellatum uelint. Est autem cæcus, qui caret lumine. Item insidiosus, occulte malus, latens, tacitus, qui uideri non potest. Virgilius: Cæca regens filo uestigia. à quo cæcum uallum dicimus, in quo præacuti pali terræ affixi herbis, uel frondibus occuluntur. Et cæci dolores uocantur à medicis, quorum causa ignoratur, cum mox ueniant, abeantq;: transfertur etiam ad animum. unde cæcos consules, improuidos dicimus. Ab hoc fit cæco uerbum. & obcæco, & excæco, quæ significant luminibus priuo. Et cæcitas tam corporis, quàm animi orbitas. & cæcutio uerbū, quod proprie significat parum uideo. & cæcutientes dicūtur, quasi semicæci. Varro: Vtrum oculi mei cæcutiunt, an ego uidi seruos in armis contra dominos? & cæculus diminutiuum. & cæcultor, obtusam aciem habeo, & quasi cæco sum similis. Plautus: Num nam mihi oculi cæcultantur? Estne hic noster Hermio? Cæculus etiam nomen proprium fuit eius, qui condidit Præneste. à quo Cæcilios ortos putant, quorū familia Romæ nobilissima fuit. Cæcum intestinum est, quod à dextra parte incipiens, in sinisteriorem peruium, & longum est, in dexteriorem non est, ideòque dicitur cæcum. nam id, quod peruium est, late fusum, ac sinuatum, minusq;, quàm superiora intestina neruosum, ab utraque parte huc, atque illuc uolutum, magis tamen sinisteriores, inferioresq; parteis tenens, & iecur, ac uentriculum contingens, ac deinde cum quibusdam membranulis à sinistro rene uenientibus iunctum, atque hinc dextra recuruatum, quia in imo, qua excernit, dirigitur, rectum appellatur. Ieiunum uero intestinū est, quod ab ea iunctura est incipiens, quam Græci πυλωρὸν uocant, non ita implicitum est. Dictum ieiunum, quod nunquam quod accipit, continet, sed protinus in inferiores parteis transmittit. Inde tenue intestinum est, in sinus uehementer implicitum, cui id, quod diximus, cæcum adhæret. omnia hæc contegit omentum ex interiore parte lene, & strictum, ex superiore mollius. Item cæcisma ragdi dicūtur, qui sunt obscuriores. Item à cædo cæmentum. Sunt enim cæmenta cæsi lapides parui, apti ad ædificandum. Liuius: Nec erat difficile murum subruere, quod cæmenta nō calce durata erant, sed interlita luto. Var. Non te pudet Mani, cum domi tuæ uides commilitonum tuorum cohortes seruis tuis ministrare cæmenta? Aliquando cæmentum ponitur pro ipso opere cæmētario. hoc est ædificio, quod structo lapide erigitur. Plinius: Pallidus lapis in cæmento raro utilis. licet enim contra iniurias fortis ad structuram, tamen infidelis est, nisi multa suffrenatione deuinctus. Hinc cæmentarij dicuntur ædificiorum, quæ ex lapidibus fiunt, structores, quos aliqui fabros murarios uocant. Item ab hoc cædo cæsius color, de quo inferius dicemus, quod quasi cæsus, atque apertus. Vnde cæsuliæ dicti sunt, qui cæsios oculos habent. Quidam tamen cæsium à cœlo dictum uolunt, quasi cælium. Præterea ab eodem composita fiunt circuncido. unde Iudæi circūcisi dicuntur, qđ pelliculam illam circa glandem, quæ præputium uocatur, cæsam habeant. Intercido, reseco, siue interseco. decido penultima longa, quod proprie est amputo: per metaphoram tamē capitur pro determino, quasi amputando superflua, quod integrū est, ostendo. unde decidere dubia, decidere quæstionē dicimus, & decisionem iuris, hoc est determinationem. excido, exseco, cædo. Cicero: Excidant Clodij fluenta. ab hoc excisso frequentatiuum, quod est dilanio. Plautus: Capillo scisso, atque excissatis auribus. Præcido, quod proprie est ante cædo, hoc est immolo. unde præcidanea agna uocabatur, quæ ante alias cædebatur. & præcidanea porca, quæ mactabatur Cereri ab eo, q mortuo iusta non fecisset, quod facere mos erat, prius quàm nouas fruges gustarent. Præcidere etiam capitur pro re turpi, marem intra podicem coēundo labefactare, quemadmodum pædicare est puerum inter fœmina fœdare. Martialis: Præcidi gaudes, præcisus Papile ploras. & præcisum uocatur pars carnis uiscerū, hoc est circa quod uiscera inuoluta sunt, quod oras circum cæsas habeat. Lucilius: Illi præciso, atque epulis capiuntur opimis. Nam omasum appellamus intestinum pingue. Plinius: Socium laboris, agriq; culturæ habemus bouem tanta apud priores cura, ut sit inter exempla à prætore damnatus, Romæ die dicta, qui cōcubino procaci ruri omasum edisse se neganti occiderat bouem, actusq; in exilium est, tanquam colono suo interempto. Incido, cædo, scindo, sculpo. unde incisas literas in marmore dicimus. Ab hoc fit, quod oratores uocant incisum, hoc est sensu nō expleto numero cōclusum: quod plerisque uidetur esse pars membri. Et incisim aduerbiū, quod significat minutatim. Cicero: Hæc quidē duo binis pedibus incisim, deinde membratim dicere solebas. & incile, locus depressus (ut Vlpianus inquit) ad latus fluminis, ex eo dictus, quod inciditur. Scinditur enim uel lapis, uel terra. unde primum aqua ex flumine agi possit, quemadmodum in pistrinis frumentarijs fieri uidemus. quod autem ad incile opponitur aquæ deriuandæ, cōpellendæ ue ex flumine causa, quod uulgo clau

sa dicitur, eodem Vlpiano teste Latine septum appellatur, siue id ligneum sit, siue lapideum, siue ex qualibet alia materia ad continendam, transmittendamq; aquam excogitatum. Item ex quocunque riuo aqua irrigādi causa deducatur, incile dicitur, locus per quem primum deducitur. Incilare uero ueteres dicebant increpare, uel improbare. Accius: Qui me incilant probris, sermone indecorant. Plautus: Melius est tamen ita uiuere, ne quis nostra incilet facta. Et recisamentum paruū frustum, & quasi ramentum ex aliquo recisum. Plinius: Ocissime uero æruginem contrahit æs coronarium, recisamentis in acetum additis. Succido, quod significat post cædo, sicut præcido, antecædo. Hinc succidaneæ hostiæ uocabantur, quæ secundo loco cædebantur. Apud ueteres enim, si primis hostijs litatū non fuerat, aliæ post easdē ductæ hostiæ cædebātur duæ, quæ prioribus iam cæsis luendi piaculi gratia subdebantur. Item à cædo succisiuum tempus dicitur, quod subtrahitur à rebus necessarijs, ut ad aliquem usum accomodemus. Gellius: Quantum autem uitæ mihi deinceps deûm uolūtate erit, quantumque à cura, & à re familiari, procurandòque cultu liberorum meorum dabitur ocij, omnia succisiua, & subsecundaria tempora ad colligendas huiusmodi memoriarum delectatiunculas conferam. Plinius: Homines enim sumus, & occupati officijs, succisiuisq; tēporibus ista curamus, id est nocturnis, nequid nostris putetis cessatum horis. Dies uobis impendimus, cum somno ualetudinem computamus. Et succida lana à succidendo, quod talis sit, qualis succisa est, hoc est plena sordibus, impura, non lota. Quod si lento igni in æneo uase sufferueat, deinde refrigeretur, & pingue illud, quod supernatat in uas fictile colligatur, rursusq; priore materia decocta, utraq; pinguitudo frigida aqua abluatur, & in linteo siccetur, ac torreatur sole donec candescat, & translucida fiat, posthac in stamnea pixide reponatur, fit cœsyppum: quod innumeris medicinæ usibus adhibetur, præsertimq; ulceribus genitalium cum adipe anserino. Hoc Galenus medicus, & alij quidam autores æsopum succidum uocant. Varro tamen succidam lanam à sudore uocatā existimat, quod cum tondetur, sudare oues incipiāt. à succidendo etiam succidia deducitur. est autem succidia caro salita, & in necessariū usum seruata, quæ quoties opus est, succiditur. Cicero: Iam hortum ipsi agricolæ succidiam alteram appellāt. Succidium quoq; lardum uocant. Varro succidiam, non à succidendo, sed à suibus edendis nominatā putat, quod pecus primum occidere cœperunt domini, & ut seruarent, salire. Vnde succerdam quoque à sue deductam opinatur, quæ est stercus suillum. Tintinnius: Quid habes, nisi unā arcam sine claui, quò condis succerdas? à succido quoq; subscudes appellatæ sunt tabellæ, quibus tabulæ inter se cōfiguntur, quia quo immittuntur, succiditur. Pacu. Nec ulla subscus prohibet cōpagem. Intercido, in medio cædo, à quo intercisi dies, de quibus supra diximus, appellati, quod quibusdā eorum horis ius dicere liceret, quibusdam non liceret, & ideo cæsi uiderentur. Recido, reseco. unde recisos ramos dicimus, hoc est cæsos, resecatos. & recidua post casum restitutā, & quodāmodo renascentia ab arborum similitudine, quæ sectæ repullulāt, ac nouæ fiunt. Virgilius: Et recidiua manu posuissem Pergama uictis. Nam rediuia est morbus, cum circa unguem cutis resoluitur, non sine dolore id patientis, dicta à rediuiendo. Rediuire enim ueteres pro resoluere usurpabant. hæc & neutro genere rediuiū appellatur, à Græcis dicitur παρωνυχία. nam παρὰ ad præpositionem significat, ὄνυξ dicitur unguis. Pterygium uero ulcusculi genus est, quod nascitur iuxta ungueis. Plinius: Lana succida rediuias sanat ex aqua frigida. Idem: Cum etiam cū oleo paronychias, & pterygia tollit. Oc-cido penultima longa interficio, à quo ueteres occisitantur dicebant, pro frequenter occiduntur. quidam occisum, & necatū ita distingunt, ut occisus cum ictu, & uulnere sit, necatus etiā sine ictu. Vnde uero necatos, non occisos dicimus: qui aliter usurpant, loquūtur improprie. Ab occido fit occisio, hoc est cædes, & quo ueteres usi fuere, occidiū. Quidā etiam occidionē usurparunt. Occisam etiam rem dicimus desperatam, & perditam. Plautus: Occisa iam est hæc res, hæret hoc negotium. unde & occisiorem, & occisissimum ueteres dixere. Plaut. Occisissimus omnium, qui uiuunt. Concīdo, quod aliquando significat minutatim cædo. Plinius: Caro eius concisa, ac decocta adhibenda est. aliquādo frango. Idem: Et nucleus dentibus cōcisus, supra uulnus imponitur. Ab hoc concisa oratio dicitur, quæ non continua, sed ueluti membratim cæsa est. Reperitur etiam cedò prima breui, accentum in ultima habens, quod modo da, modo dic significat. Plautus: Cedò hominem. Idē: Quid sit cedò. Sunt qui existiment Cæsenam quoque Flamminiæ urbem à cædendo appellatam, quod exiguo intus amne cæsa, hoc est diuisa sit, uel quod ager eius duobus fluminibus, Sapi, ac Rubicone sit diuisus. Mirum uidetur adeo maiorū nostrorum temporibus in contemptu fuisse, ut Cicero duorum ciuium Romanorum, qui designati consules fuerant, indignitatem ostensurus, ita scripserit: Nam isti duo uix sunt digni, quibus alteri Cæsenam, alteri Cossutianarum tabernarū fundamenta credas. à Cæsena, Cæsenas deriuatur. unde cæsenatum agrum, et cæsenatia uina frequenter legimus, quæ apud maiores nostros inter generosa connumerabantur. Cæditiæ tabernæ, nō à cædendo dictæ sunt, sed à domini nomine, qui Cæditius uocabatur, à quo in uia Appia ædificatæ sunt. à cædo ancile quoq; dictum esse manifestum est. Scutum breue fuit, quod regnante Numa Pompilio, cum pestilens annus esset, è cælo cecidisse fertur, ideo sic appellatum, quia ex utroq; latere erat recisum, & summum infimumq; eius latius medio pateret. Eo tempore una simul uox audita est, omnium potentissimam fore ciuitatem quandiu id in ea mansisset. Itaque facta sunt eiusdem generis plura, quibus admiscerentur, ne internosci cœleste posset. Probatū est maxime opus Mamurij Veturij, qui præmij loco petijt, ut suum nomen inter carmina salij cantarent. Ideo Mamurij Veturij nomen in cantibus Romani maxime frequentabant. Circunferebantur autem ancilia mense Martio à duodecim salijs. Ita enim Martis sacerdotes appellabantur, uel à Salio Samothrace, uel à Salio Mantineo, uel potius (ut ego arbitror) à saliendo: siquidem gladiolis ancilia pulsantes, saltare solebant, primo Martis, deinde Mamurij laudes canentes. Plutarchus dubitare uidetur an ab am, quod significat circum, ancile dicatur, quod in orbem esset figuratum, an ab ἀγκών, quod est cubitus, an uero ab ἄκος, quod significat remedium: quoniam pestilentiæ remedium fuit ancile. CAESAREO. à Cæsare ædificato. Amphitheatrum, de quo loquitur, ab Augusto destinatum fuit, à Vespasiano ædificatum, à Tito consecratum. Id tamen Domitianus ad gloriam suam referebat, iactare in senatu solitus, & patri se, & fratri imperium dedisse, & illos sibi reddidisse. Quapropter & operibus omnibus, quæ post mortem illorum uel restituit ipse, uel perfecit, suum duntaxat titulum addidit, sine ulla pristini autoris memoria. AMPHITHEATRO. Amphitheatrum locus erat spectaculorum gratia, forma rotunda, & ueluti ex duobus constans theatris. Vnde amphitheatri nomen impositum. theatrum hemicycli specie constructum erat, ἀπὸ τοῦ θεῶμαι, quod est uideo, appellatum: Latine dici spectaculum potest. Consuetudo eius à Græcis sumpta est. Nam cum agrorum cultores feriatis diebus sa-tra diuersis numinibus per pagos celebrarent, Athenienses hoc in urbanum spectaculum transtulerunt, theatrum græco uocabulo appellantes, quod in eo conueniens turba à longe sine aliquo impedimento spectaret. hunc morem postea Romani, ut pleraque alia in urbem transtulerunt. Theatrum ita dispositum erat, ut à fronte inter duo cornua Scæna esset, dicta ἀπὸ τῆς σκηνῆς, quod apud Græcos tabernaculum significat: ita appellatum à facienda umbra, quam Græci σκιὰν nominant. Vnde Scænitæ nobiles Arabiæ populi dicti sunt, quod tentorijs utantur, & raras, paruasq; habeant domos. per diphthongum scribitur consuetudine potius, quàm ratione. Inuenta primo est scæna inumbrationis gratia, in qua incondita carmina decantabantur: quapropter quidam tabernaculum interpretati sunt. unde scænophegia tabernaculorum festa dicuntur. Apud uetustissimos theatralis scæna pariètem non habebat, sed frondibus tantum tegebatur, postea tabulata cœperunt cōponere in modum pariètis. unde permansit cōsuetudo, ut ab ijs, qui theatraleis ludos edunt, pægmata cōponantur. Scæna à Labeone definitur, quæ ludorum faciendorum causa quolibet loco, ubi quis consistat, moueaturq; spectaculū sui præbiturus, posita sit in publico, priuatoq;, uel in uico, quo tādem loco passim homines spectaculi causa admittātur. Hæc autem uersatilis erat, aut ductilis. Versatilis, quæ subito tota machinis quibusdam uertebatur, & aliam picturæ faciē ostendebat. Ductilis, quæ contractis tabulatis hac, atque illac interiorem picturæ speciem denudabat. Vtrunque tetigisse uidetur Virgilius cum inquit: Vel scæna inuersis discedat frontibus. Primus Claudius Pulcher scænam uarietate colorū adumbrauit, cum antea tabulis pictura uacuis extenta esset, quā totam argento C. Antonius, auro Petreius, ebore Quintus Catulus prætexuit: uersatilem quę fecerunt locum, quem argentatis corigijs P. Lentulus Spinther adornauit. à scæna fit adiectiuum scænicus, unde scænicos ludos dicimus, & scænicas uestes, hoc est histrionicas. Item obscœnum secundum Varronem, quod significat turpe, fœdum, quasi ob cænam: quia ad scænam turpia perpetrabantur. Virgili. Obscœnæq; canes. importunæq; uolucres. Alij tamen à Græco potius deducunt κοινῶ, quod est inquino: unde cœnum, hoc est lutum dictum putant. à quo cœnosus sordidus, lutosus. Obscœnum etiam aliquando pro pernitioso, & uitabili ponitur. Idem: Obscœnāq; famem, quæ prima pericula uito. Ab hoc fit obscœnitas turpitudo. & obscœne aduerbium turpiter. & obscœno uerbum, quod significat malum omen affero. Nam obscœnæ uolucres dicuntur, quæ canendo aduersa significant: propter quod obscœnum quidā ex ob, & cantu deductum existimant, quasi aduersi, & infausti cantus. Plautus: Sed quid illuc, quod exanimatus currit huc Leonida? metuo quod illic obscœnauit me falsæ fallaciæ. obscœnauit inquit, hoc est obscœnum, & malū omen attulit. Scæna theatri binis, & sæpe pluribus contignationibus constabat: deinde erat proscænium pulpitum, scilicet ante scænam ædificatum, in quo ludi exercebantur. Virgilius: Et ueteres ineunt proscænia ludi. In medio orchestra, in qua Senatorum sedibus erant loca designata, unde omnium agentium gestus spectari possent. Item liberarum, sociarumq; gentium legatis, quos postea uetuit Augustus in orchestra considere, quod quosdam libertini ganeris mitti deprehendisset. Iuuenalis: Quæq; reportandis posita est orchestra cathedris. Scænæ longitudo ad orchestræ diametrum duplex erat. Orchestra in cuneos diuisa, ut mediæ uiæ relinquerentur. Dicta orchestra, quod in ea saltationes fieri consueuissent: Nam apud Græcos ὀρχοῦμαι salto est, ὄρχησις saltatio, ὀρχηστὴς saltator, ὀρχήστρια saltatrix. Refert Titus Liuius, cum ludi Circenses Apollini aliquādo celebrarentur, & Annibal nunciatus esset circa Collinam portam urbi ingruere, omneis repertis armis eò concurrisse, quos deinde reuersos, cum piaculū sese fecisse formidarent, inuenisse saltantē in circo senem quēdam, hunc interrogatum dixisse minime à se intermissam esse saltationem. Itaque ortum exinde esse prouerbium: salua res est saltante sene. In cauea, quæ pars media theatri erat, similiter subsellia equitum erant, in cuneos eodem modo diuisa. In circunferentia hemicycli erant gradus ita dispositi, ut altiores in ambitu semper excrescerent. in ijs plebs promiscue sedebat: quibus non erat sedendi locus, ij stantes in cauea spectabant. Caueæ theatrorum nullis fornicibus obductæ, uelis tegi solebant. Primus omnium Catullus linteis in theatro umbram fecit. Primus etiam byssina uela in theatrum duxit. Principio temporaria fiebant theatra, primumq; M. Scaurus in ædilitate sua triginta tantummodo diebus scænicorum ludorum duraturum theatrum extruxit, opus (ut Plinius inquit) maximum omnium, quæ unquam fuere humana manu facta. scænam habuit triplicem, columnas Lucullei marmoris trecentas sexaginta, duodequadraginta pedum altitudine. Signorum inter columnas tria milia: summæ columnæ tabulis erant inauratis: pars scænæ inferior è marmore, media è uitro: cauea ipsa octuaginta hominum millia capiebat. C. uero Curio theatra duo fecit amplissima è ligno, quibus inter sese auersis, ne inuicem obstreperent scænæ, & repente circumactis, ac cornibus inter se coëuntibus faciebat amphitheatrum, & gladiatorum spectacula edebat. Mansurum uero theatrum è quadrato lapide primus Romæ construxit Pompeius Magnus, propter quod Cornelius Tacitus incusatum eum fuisse à senioribus scribit, quod mansurā theatri sedem posuisset: cum antea subitarijs gradibus, & scæna in tempus structa foret, sed parsimoniæ consultū, quod perpetua sedes theatro locata esset potius, quàm immenso sumptu singulos per annos consurgeret, ac strucretur. Nero princeps nobilibus Germanis populi Romani magnitudinem ostensurus, eos in hoc theatrum populo plenum introduxit. Idem etiam aliâs insano sumptu inaurauit, ut in eo Tiridatem Armeniorum regem exciperet. Amphitheatri uero molem primus in campo Martio posuit C. Iulius Cæsar, quā paulò post Augustus mausoleū ædificaturus, destruxit. Hoc autem amphitheatrum, de quo poëta loquitur, in parte domus aureæ Neronis ædificatum fuit, quam diui Vespasianus, & Titus penitus deleuere: unde in sequenti Epigrammate inquit: Hic ubi conspicui uenerabilis amphitheatri, Erigitur moles, stagna Neronis erant. à theatro theatralis deducitur. & Amphitheatro Amphitheatralis, unde theatrales, & amphitheatrales ludi dicuntur. Theatrum figurate aliquando pro spectaculo ponitur. Martialis: Quicquid in Orpheo Rodope spectasse theatro dicitur, exhibuit Cæsar arena tibi. Item pro multitudine spectante, ut magno theatro hæc acta sunt, id est, multis spectantibus. LOQVATVR. Prædicet, extollat. Proprie loqui est uerba proferre, & à dicere differt, quod est eleganter, & facunde loqui. Quintilianus: Nam mihi ne dicere quidem uidetur, nisi qui disposite, ornate, copiose dicit. Cicero: Vt non modo græcarum literarum rudes, sed etiam docti aliquantum se arbitrentur adeptos, & ad dicendum, & adiudicandum: id est, & in oratoria arte, & in philosophia. Loquor à loco deductum est, quod is, qui loquitur suo loco quodque uerbum, sciens ponit. Nam, qui primo incipit iam fari, & uocabula, & reliqua uerba dicit ante, quàm suo loco ea ponere possit, hunc Chrysippus affirmat non loqui, sed ut loqui. Quapropter ut imago hominis non sit homo, sic in coruis, cornicibus, pueris primitus incipi-

entibus fari uerba, non esse uerba, quod loqui non dicantur. A loquor fit loquentia, quod in compositione duntaxat usurpatur, ut breuiloquentia, & multiloquentia, quæ Græci βραχυλογίαν, μακρολογίαν nominant. Magniloquentia, grandiloquentia, stultiloquentia, blandiloquentia, & siqua alia sunt huiusmodi. quamuis Valerius Probus grammaticus illustris illud Sallustianum sic legendum, & sic ab eo relictum affirmare solitus sit: Satis loquentiæ, sapientiæ parum. quod loquentia nouatori uerborum Sallustio maxime congrueret, eloquentia cum insipientia minime conueniret. & loquium, quo similiter in compositione duntaxat utimur, ut breuiloquium, multiloquium, stultiloquium. à quibus fiunt breuiloquus, multiloquus, grandiloquus, stultiloquus, blandiloquus. Item soliloquium, quod significat sermonem illius, qui contemplando solus ipse secum loquitur: unde & soliloquus dicitur. & anteloquium, primus loquendi locus, seu principatus loquendi. Macrobius: Hic assensiones prætextato anteloquium detulerunt. Item à loquor loquax, hoc est uerbosus, garrulus. unde & corui, & aliæ aues, quæ humanam uocem imitantur, loquaces dicuntur. à quo fit comparatiuum loquacior, & superlatiuum loquacissimus, & loquaciter aduerbium. & loquacitas nomen, quæ est stulta, & inanis copia loquendi. Cicero: Dum modo hoc constet, neque infantiam eius, qui rem norit, sed eam explicare dicendo non queat, neque inscitiam illius, cui res non suppetat, uerba non desint, esse laudandam. quorum si alterum sit optandum, malim equidem indisertam prudentiam, quàm stultam loquacitatem. loquacitatis uitium in M. Cœlio insectatus est Cato, qui inquit: Nunquam tacet, quem morbus tenet loquendi, tanquam ueternosum uiuendi, atq; dormiendi. quod si non conueniat, tamen conuocari iubet, ita est cupidus orationis, ut conducat, qui auscultet. Itaq; auditis non auscultatis, tanquam pharmacopolam. Nam eius uerba audiuntur, uerum ei se nemo committat, si æger est. Idem de eodem Cœlio: Frusto panis conduci potest, uel uti taceat, uel uti loquatur. Ob idem uitium, Homerus Thersitem ἀμετροεπῆ καὶ ἀκριτόμυθον, hoc est sine iudicio, & sine modo loquentem appellabat: & uerba illius multa, & ἄκοσμα, id est, incompta, strepentium sine modo graculorum similia esse dicebat. Nihil enim est aliud ἀμετροεπὴς ἐκολῴα, hoc est, supra modum loquax conturbabat. Eupolis loquacem hominem ita describit: λαλεῖν ἄριστος, ἀδυνατώτατος λέγειν, hoc est ad loquendum optimus, ad dicendum ineptissimus. Quod Sallustius noster imitari uolens, loquax inquit magis, quàm facundus. Item à loquor, locutor deducitur. Gellius: Qui sunt leues, & futiles, & importuni locutores, quiq; nullo rerum pondere innixi uerbis humidis, & lapsantibus defluunt. & locutuleius, quod significat eum, cuius lingua tam prodiga, infrenisq; est, ut teterrima quadam colluuione uerborum fluat semper, & æstuet. hunc maiores nostri modo à lingua linguacem, siue lingulacem, seu lingulacam, modo à blacterando blacteronem dixere. Blatire, & blaterare ueteres dicebant incondite, & inaniter loqui. factitia uerba sunt, à uoce Camelorum tracta. Plautus: Qui malum intelligere quisquam potis est, ita nugas blatis? Idem: Vbi tu es, quæ blaterauisti iam uicinis omnibus? Quidam uolunt hoc uerbum, à Græcis deductum, apud quos βλὰξ appellatur, qui sese inaniter iactat. & βλακία iactatio dicitur. quapropter C. literam addentes, blacteronem, & blacterare scribendum existimant. nobis prior sententia magis placet. Qui hac licentia loquendi utuntur, uocem ex ore mittere dicuntur. Contra, Homerus Vlyssem sapienti facundia præditū, uocem scribit non ex ore, sed ex pectore mittere, quod seruandū esse sapienti existimat, ut non tam inanem sonum uerborum, quàm sententiarum cōceptam altitudinem promere uideatur. ideo libertati linguæ uallum esse oppositum dentium dixit, ut temeritas loquendi non modo cordis uigilijs, sed etiam dentium excubijs separetur. Aristophanes poëta facetissimus uastam illam, atque inanem hominum insipientium loquacitatem pluribus uocabulis insigniuit. ἄνθρωπον ἀγριοποιὸν, αὐθαδόστομον, ἔχοντα ἀχάλινον, ἀκρατὲς, ἀπύλωτον στόμα, περιλάλητον, κομποφακελορρήμονα. hoc est, hominem agresti ferocia, ore temerario, infreni, prodigo, petulante, loquacem, futilem, & quadam uerborum congerie, ac fastu profusum. Hesiodus uitium hoc detestans nō uulgandam linguam, sed recondendam esse dicit, quasi thesaurum. magnam quippe eius gratiam esse, si parca, & moderata sit: Γλώσσης τοι θησαυρὸς ἐν ἀνθρώποισιν ἄριστος φειδωλῆς, πλείστη δὲ χάρις κατὰ μέτρον ἰούσης. quod dici latine potest: Optimus est homini linguæ thesaurus, & ingens Gratia, quæ parcis mensurat singula uerbis. Lepide etiā Epicharmium illud se habet: Οὐ λέγειν δεινὸς, ἀλλὰ σιγᾶν ἀδύνατος. hoc est, non idoneus ad dicendum, sed ad tacendum impos. ex quo illud sumptum est, qui, cum loqui non posset, tacere non poterat. De hoc genere hominum locutus est Euripides, cum inquit: Ἀχαλίνων στομάτων, ἀνόμουτε ἀφροσύνας, τὸ τέλος δυστυχία. hoc est, effrenatioris, & immoderatæ dementiæ finis est infelicitas. Item à loquor locutio, & loquela, quæ sermonem, & uerbum significat. præter hæc composita ab eo fiunt alloquor, quod est conuenio. Cicero: Cum pridie eius diei cum allocutus fuissem. ab hoc allocutio, & alloquium deriuantur. Circunloquor, per circuitum quendam declaro. à quo circunlocutio deriuatur, quam Græci περίοδον nominant, ut si elephanti dentem pro ebore dicamus. interloquor aliquid inter agendum definio. à quo interlocutoria sententia uocatur, quæ non definit controuersiam, ea enim definitiua dicitur, sed aliquid obiter decernit ad causam pertinens. Obloquor, quod proprie est contra loquentem loquor. Virgil. Nec nō Threicius longa cum ueste sacerdos Obloquitur numeris. Ponitur tamen aliquando pro maledico, unde oblocutores dicuntur maledici, obtrectatores. et oblocutio, obtrectatio. eloquor, quod aliquando pro loquor ponitur. Virgilius: Eloquar, an sileam? à quo fit elocutio, quæ est sermonis expressio. unde rhetores, & grammatici σχήματα λέξεως figuras locutionis nominant, sicut σχήματα διανοίας figuras sententiarum. Aliquando significat dico, quod proprium oratoris est. à quo eloquentes dicuntur, qui in dicendi ratione perfecti sunt. Et eloquentia dictio ex omni parte perfecta. & eloquenter aduerbium pro facunde: ut M. Antonius dicere solebat disertos se uidisse multos, eloquentem uero neminem. Eloquium quoque ab eloquor dictum, quod modo sermonem, modo facundiam significat. Aliquando etiam pro elogio ponitur. Est autem elogium testificatio de aliquo siue honoris, siue uituperationis causa: honoris. Cicero: In quem illud elogium plurimum consentiunt gentes, uirum esse ciuitatis primarium. uituperationis. Quintilianus: Si exhæredatum à se filium pater testatus fuerit elogio, propter quod is meretricem amaret. pro simplici autem sententiæ suæ testificatione. Cicero: Solonis quidem sapientis elogium est, quo se negat uelle suam mortem dolore amicorum, & lachrymis uacare. De eloquio. Plautus: Dulci, ac blando eloquio amicam solatus. Apuleius: Platonis eloquio monitus non nobis solis nos natos esse. Claudianus: Eloquio dulceis quondam solatus amicos. proloquor, decerno, sententiam fero. à quo proloquium proprie dicitur sententia, in qua ni-

hil, desideratur. ponitur etiam pro exordio, & principio, quod & anteloquium, ut diximus, & à præloquor præloquium dicitur, & à Græco λόγος, prologium. Plautus: Exanimauit me prologio suo. Differtq; à prologo, quod prologus tantum est, ubi aut poëta excusatur, aut fabula commendatur. Item prolocutio à proloquor fit, quod pro proloquio ponitur. Colloquor simul loquor. à quo colloquiũ, & collocutio pro confabulatione, & collocutores, qui simul loquuntur. perloquor quoq; apud aliquos inuenitur pro perfecte loquor, hoc est sermonem perficio. VNVM OPVS. Amphitheatrũ scilicet. Vnus aliquando numeri principium est. Ouidius: Vnus erat toto naturæ uultus in orbe, Quem dixere chaos. Aliquando pro solo ponitur. Plautus: Vnus tum domi eram, & fores erãt clausæ. Aliquando significat præcipuum, ut hoc loco, & apud Virgilium: Cadit & Ripheus iustissimus unus, Qui fuit in Teucris, & seruantissimus æqui. illud notandũ est, qđ quando pro solo accipitur, cum genitiuo iungitur. Plinius: Accipenser unus omnium, squamis ad os uersis contra aquas natando meat. Ab unus fit unose aduerbium, quo ueteres usi sunt pro simul, & unitas, & unicus, id est singularis, ut phœnix est unica auis. à quo fit unice aduerbium, hoc est singulariter. & aduno uerbum, quod est in unum congrego. unde adunati dicuntur, qui simul congregati sunt: & ad unum aduerbialiter sumptum, quod significat nemine excepto. Curtius: Omnes ad unum periere. Virgilius: Iuppiter omnipotens si nondum exosus ad unum. & unio uerbum, quod est coniungo, & quasi unum facio. unde uniti animi dicuntur, quando unius sunt uoluntatis. & unitio pro coniunctione, & iunctura accipitur. & unio nomen, quod aliquando concordiam significat. Aurelius: Nam hoc fieri posse in tanta animorum unione quis dubitet? Aliquãdo margaritam, quod nullæ duæ margaritæ simul reperiantur, sed semper discretæ, & unæ. Magnus in ijs hominum luxus semper fuit, quas Indicus maxime Oceanus mittit. Veruntamen etiam Britannicus, fertilissima earum est Taprobane insula, & Perinula Indiæ promontorium. In primis autem laudantur circa Arabiam in Persico sinu maris rubri. conchæ sunt haud multum ab ostrearũ conchis diuersæ, quæ margaritiferæ dicuntur. Hæc, ubi genitali libidine stimulantur, pandunt sese, & quodam roscido conceptu grauidæ fiunt, deinde pariunt margaritas, pro qualitate roris accepti. Si purus influxit, candore conspicuæ sunt: si turbidus, sordescit & fœtus. Si tempestiue satiantur, partus grandescunt: si fulgurat comprimuntur conchæ, & pro ieiunij modo minuuntur. Tonitruis pauefactæ, ac repente compressæ faciunt, quæ uocant Physemata à bullarum similitudine. Græci enim φυσήματα ampullas nominant, siue quas nos dicimus bullas. hæ margaritarum quidem speciem habent, sed aëre inflatæ corpus non habent, concharum abortus dicuntur. Sole rubescunt margaritæ, candoremq; perdunt, ad similitudinem corporis humani, flauescunt etiam senecta, ac rugis torpescunt: adhærescunt conchis, nec ab his, nisi lima auelli possunt, quæ ab una parte rotundæ sunt, ab altera planæ. à tympanorum similitudine, tympana nominantur. Tympanum quippe instrumentum est ex una parte planum. membrana clausum, intus uacuum, quod baculo pulsatur, uti eo solebant in sacrificio matris deûm, à quo fit Tympanites genus hydropisis, de quo supra diximus, & tympanistria tympana pulsans, & tympanizo tympana pulso. Suetonius de Augusto: Et assensu maximo cõprobauit uersum in scena pronuntiatũ de Gallo matris deûm tympanizante: Vidés ne, ut cinædus orbem digito temperet? Est etiam tympanum uehiculũ tectum. Virgilius: Hinc radios tenuere rotis, hinc tympana plaustra.

Item tympanum instrumentum, seu machina est ad hauriendam aquam summa celeritate, quod hominibus calcantibus uersatur ad hortos irrigandos, & salinas utile: cuius alterum genus dicitur tympanum dentatum, quo similiter ad hauriendas aquas utuntur. Simile est ei tympano, cuius dentes impellendo cogunt fieri molarum circuitionem, & impendens in ea machina infundibulum subministrat molis frumentum, & eadem uersatione farina subigitur. Præter hæc Fenestella, qui nouissimo tempore Tiberij Cæsaris claruit, tympana scribit se iuuene appellata Patinas, & lances, quas antiqui Magidas appellauerunt. in aqua mollis est unio, excmptus, protinus durescit. Tradunt huiusmodi conchas, quas lapes, examina facere: his duces esse, quæ uetustate, ac magnitudine præcipuæ sunt. Eas urinantium cura peti, quibus captis, cæteras palanteis statim retibus includi, tum mergi sale in uasis fictilibus, quarum erosa carne, nucleos quosdam corporum, hoc est uniones in ima decidere. Atteruntur usu, coloremq; in diligentia mutant. Dos omnis in candore, magnitudine, orbe, leuore, pondere. Qui colore præstant, exaluminati uocantur. Sunt etiam quos Elenchos appellant, fastigiata longitudine, alabastrorum figura in pleniorem orbem desinentes. hos digitis suspendere, & binos, ac ternos auribus fœminarum gloria est. Crotalia hæc à sono uocantur, propter collisionem ipsam margaritarum. Nam crotala instrumenta sunt, quæ manu pulsantur laminis quibusdam ex ære rotundis sonum ex collisione reddentibus, dicta à pulsatione. κρότον enim Græci plausum uocant, & κρούειν dicunt pulsare, atque percutere. utebantur hoc instrumento Aegyptij in deorum solennitatibus. Virgilius: Copa Syrisca caput Graia redimita mitella, Crispum sub crotalo docta mouere latus. Elenchi autem dicuntur, quia Græci ἔλεγχον proprie indicem dicunt. etenim quomodo librorum indices & pulchritudine, ac uarietate colorum, & magnitudine literarum libros exornant, & res alias sui indices, ita hi gestantium habitum illustrare, & quasi indices eorum uidentur esse. Iuuenalis: Auribus extensis magnos committit elenchos. Magna eorum stultitia est, qui Cylindrum, & elenchum idem esse affirmant. Quippe cylindri lapilli sunt teretes, hoc est oblongi, atque uolubiles, instar eius columellæ, qua æquandis areis utimur. huiusmodi enim formam Cylindrum uocamus, ἀπὸ τοῦ κυλίειν, hoc est à uoluendo. Virgilius: Area tum primum ingenti est æquanda Cylindro. Atqui tali forma non reperiuntur margaritæ, quas natura, non ars facit. etenim, si artificium addas, statim deficit fulgor, in quo omnis earum dos consistit. cæteri uero lapilli magna ex parte fieri teretes possunt, utputa Berylli, Smaragdi, & alij similes: quos non auribus suspendere mulieres, sed circundare collo, aut innectere monilibus, siue alijs ornamentis consueuerunt. Iuuenalis: Tu nube, atque tace, donant arcana cylindros. Idem: Nil non permittit mulier sibi, turpe putat nil, Dum uirideis gemmas collo circundedit. hos antiqui Cylindros à forma, quemadmodum aliarum figurarum lapillos gemmas uocauere à similitudine gemmarum, quas in uitibus, siue arboribus cernimus. Gemmæ enim proprie sunt pupuli, quos primo uites emittunt. & gemmare uites dicuntur, dum gemmas emittunt. Plinius de Beryllo: Indi mire gaudent longitudine eorum, solosq; gemmarum esse prædicant, qui carere auro malint, & ob id perforatos, Elephantorum setis religant: & alios conuenit non oportere perforari, quoniam sit absoluta bonitas umbilicis statim ex auro capita comprehendentibus: ideôque Cylindros ex ijs facere malunt, quàm gemmas, quoniam est summa commendatio in longitudine. In nostro mari reperti sunt aliquando uniones circa Bosphorum Thraciũ rusi, ac parui in genere concharum, quas myias uocant, & in Acarnania, quæ pinna uocatur, eos gignit. Itaq; non in solis margaritis reperiuntur uniones. In Britania paruos, ac decolores nasci manifestum: quoniam diuus Iulius thoracem, quem Veneri genitrici in templo eius dicauit, ex Britanicis margaritis factũ esse testatus est. Lolliam Paulinam Caij principis coniugem uulgatum est habuisse tunicam ex margaritis sestertio tunc quadringenties æstimatam. Duos autem cõstat fuisse uniones ob eximiam magnitudinem toto orbe celeberrimos. Vtrunque Cleopatra Aegypti regina possedit, quæ cum Antonio edixisset una se cœna centies sestertium absumpturam, idq; fieri posse nequaquam putaret Antonius, additæ sunt sponsiones. Postero itaq; die magnificam cœnam, sed quotidianam Antonio apposuit, qui cũ eam irrideret, computationemq; expostularet, Corolarium id esse Cleopatra dixit, consumpturamq; se in ea cœna quantum promiserat, confirmauit. Inferri itaq; secũdam mensam confestim iussit. cumq; ex præcepto eius ministri unũ duntaxat uasculum aceti ante eam posuissent, spectante Antonio, quid nam agere uellet, detractum ex auribus alterum unionem in uasculum mersit, ac mox liquefactum absorbuit. iniecerat alteri manum, ut idem faceret, sed nequaquam id passus est sponsionis eius iudex L. Plancus, uictumq; Antonium pronuntiauit. Is postea unio, qui superfuit, dissectus in duas parteis, in utrisq; Veneris auribus Romæ in Pantheo positus fuit. Prior hoc idem in unionibus fecerat Clodius tragœdi Aesopi filius in amplissimis opibus hæres relictus, singulis unionibus in cœna ad sorbendum conuiuis appositis. unionis nomen maioribus margaritis impositum tempore Iugurtini belli nonnulli prodidere. Margaritam, & margaritum dicimus: eandem generali nomine uocamus etiam lapillum. Nam lapillus & gemmarum, & margaritarum commune est nomen, subintelligiturq; preciosus. Quod si maiusculi fuerint, pretiosi lapides dicuntur. Nam quod Seruius scribit, gemmas diuersi coloris esse, Margaritas uero albas, uel gemmas integras margaritas pertusas, planè ridiculum est. A gemma fit gemmula diminutiuum. Sabinus iurisconsultus margaritas scribit lapillorum nomine non contineri, sed hoc falsum esse multorum exemplo docetur. Curtius: Lapilli auribus pendent. idem: Pendebant ex auribus insignes candore, & magnitudine lapilli. Horatius: Nec magis huic intra niueos, utrideis q; lapillos. Vbi profecto de margaritis, & Smaragdis iutelligit. Item ab unus unedo dicta, fructus est arboris, similis terrestribus fragis. Arbor ipsa unedo etiã dicitur, folio citro similis fruticosa. fructus anno maturescit, pariterq; subnascens floret, prior maturatur. Pomum inbonorum est. ideoq; unedo dicitur, quod unum tantum mandi possit, græci νόμαφον, & μεμόνιον uocant. A nostris alio nomine Arbutus appellatur. Virgilius. Et quæ nos rara uiridis tegit arbutus umbra. Et poma ipsa arbuta dicuntur. Idem: Dant arbuta syluæ. Sunt qui scribant quinquagenum cubitorum altitudine in Arabia reperiri. fructus eius concoctioni difficilis, & stomacho inutilis est. Putant succum foliorum sudore excitato pestilentia laborantibus prodesse. Item ab unus unà aduerbium fit, quod significat simul. & undeuiginti pro decem, & nouem, quasi uno dempto de uiginti. eodem modo undetriginta, undequadraginta, undecentum, & undeuigesimus, undetrigesimus, undequadragesimus, undequinquagesimus, undecentesimus, & similia. Et unigenitus filius, qui unicus est, quasi solus genitus. sicut primogenitus, qui primo genitus est, etiam si alij nõ sunt geniti. Et unanimis, qui unius animi, unius sententiæ, unius uoluntatis cum altero est: unde & unanimem consensum dicimus, cum animorum concordia est. Ab hoc unanimitas, hoc est animorũ concordia deriuatur, & unicolor unius coloris. Et unicaulis herba, quæ unum caulem habet, nec in ramulos spargitur. Et unicuba mulier, quæ cum uno tantum uiro concumbit. Et uniuira, quæ unum tantum cõiugem habuit. Et unicornus animal, quod græce μονόκερως uocatur. Et unioculus, qui & monoculus dicitur, qui unum tantũ oculum habet. Plautus: Vnioculo salue. Græci μονόφθαλμον appellant. Et uniuocum, cuius & nomen commune est, & eadem substantiæ ratio: quod græce συνώνυμον dicitur. sicut Aequiuocum, cuius nomen tantum commune est, sed substantiæ ratio diuersa. Et à Græcis ὁμώνυμον appellatur. homo, & equus uniuoca sunt, quia sub uno animalis nomine comprehenduntur, & eadem est utriusque substantia. homo uerus, & homo pictus æquiuoca sunt, quia de utroq; animal prædicatur, sed substantia eorum diuersa est. grammatici homonyma dicunt esse, quæ uoce, non significatione conueniunt, ut nepos filius filij, uel luxurio sus. Synonyma quæ non uoce, sed significatione conueniunt, ut ensis, & gladius. Ab æquiuoco, & uniuoco fiunt uerba æquiuocare, & uniuocare, & æquiuocatio, & uniuocatio nomina. Et æquiuoce, & uniuoce aduerbia. Et uncia, quod una sit ex duodecim partibus assis. Est etiam uncia mensuræ genus exiguæ. à quo quincuncem uocamus uasculum, quinq; unciarum capax. Martialis: Quincunces puto post decem peractos. Et ullus quasi unus aliquis. ullus enim idem est, quod aliquis. Sed hoc ab eo differt, quod nunquã ponitur affirmatiue. Neq; enim licet dicere, ullus homo currit, sicut aliquis homo currit, sed semper ponitur uel negatiue, ut non erat ullus, qui curreret, uel interrogatiue, ut est ne ullus, qui me uocet, uel subiũctiue, ut si ullus me uocabit, statim adero. Ab hoc fit compositum nullus, quasi non aliquis, uel ne unus quidem, quod uetares etiam ningulum dixere, quasi nec ullum. Ennius: Nec ningulus mederi queat. Huius significationis est nemo. Neq; enim uerũ est, quod Seruius affirmat: Nemo idem significare, quod nullus homo. nam si ita esset, non adiungeretur homo, ut sæpe fit. Cicero: Vtrum autem sit melius, dij immortales sciunt, hominem quidem scire arbitror neminem. Sallustius: Quo nemo uir melior, nec præstantior. uerum est quod nemo de hominibus tantum dicitur. Plautus: Neminis me miseret, nam mei miseret neminem. Et de fœmina. Idem: De lanificio mulierem neminem metuo una ætate quæ sit. Aliquando etiam de dijs. Virgilius: Turne quod optanti diuũm promittere nemo Auderet. A nullus fit nullatenus, quod significat nulla ex parte, nullo modo. & nullibi, hoc est nullo loco. & nonnullus, hoc est aliquis: & quo quidam utuntur, nulliter, hoc est frustra. Item ab unus deducitur uniuersus, quasi omnis ad unum, hoc est sine aliqua exceptione. Significat autem in singulari totus, ut uniuersus ager, uniuersa Campania, uniuersus exercitus. In plurali uero omneis coniunctim. aliud enim est, si dicamus, omnes sibi domicilium constituerunt, aliud uniuersi sibi domicilium constituerunt: illic significatur domicilium sibi unumquenque constituisse, hic omneis simul, unum sibi pro omnibus domicilium fecisse. In quam significationem cunctus etiam, et cuncti accipere solemus: propter quod cunctos quasi coniunctos dici existimant, & uniuersos quasi in unum omneis redactos. Ab illo fit cunctor uerbum, quod proprie significat differo, moror: tractum ab eo, quod cuncti, hoc est omnes simul sine difficultate moueri non possunt. Ennius: Vnus homo nobis cunctando restituit rem. Per metaphoram tamen aliquando cunctari pro dubitare accipitur. Virgilius: Cunctantem amplexu molli fouet. aliquando pro manere. Idem: Reginam thalamo cunctantem. Idem: Cunctanteis glebas scri bit,pro eo,quod eſt ualidas,magnas, graueis. nam quæ graua, & magna ſunt, ita in loco manent, ut non niſi cum difficultate inde moueri poſſint. A cunctor fit cũctatio,hoc eſt tardatio,mora,dubitatio. & cunctanter aduerbium,hoc eſt cum mora, & tarditate. Et percunctor, quod ſignificat diligenter inquiro. Plautus: Quid iſtuc in mente eſt tibi ex me mi uir percunctarier? percunctari,hoc eſt,quærendo immorari,ſiue percuncta inquirere. Nos tamen non cunctari, & cunctatio, & percunctari, ſed contari, & contatio, & percontari cenſemus ſcribi debere,& non à cunctis,ſed à conto deduci: tractumq; eſſe à nautis, qui altitudinem aquæ contis pertentant, hoc eſt teretibus lignis,atq; acutis,qui et fuſtes,& ſudes dicũtur. itaq; contari eſt immorari,& quaſi contis uada rimari. Percontari uero interrogare, quamuis proprie ad finem coarguendi, ut Quintilianus teſtatur,cum inquit: Quid enim tam commune, quàm interrogare,& percunctari? quorum utroq; indifferenter utimur, cum alterum noſcendi, alterum arguendi gratia adhiberi uideatur. Interrogare igitur adhibetur noſcendi gratia,percontari uero arguendi. Vniuerſale dicitur, quod ad uniuerſos pertinet. Et uniuerſitas generalitas. Et uniuerſaliter generaliter. Et in uniuerſum pro uniuerſaliter,et quod græci dicunt καθόλου. Quintilianus: In uniuerſum autem præcipere,id eſt generaliter,& in commune præcipere: quod etiam generatim dicimus. Cicero: Infinitum mihi uidetur id dicere, in quo aliquid generatim quæreretur. Aliquando tamen generatim capimus pro eo, quod eſt per ſingula genera. Virg. Generatim diſcite cultus,ſicut ſummatim,quod modo ſignificat per ſingulas ſummas. Apuleius: Omnia ſummatim tetigerat. modo breuiter, & omnibus quaſi ſimul comprehenſis. Plin. Sed ut de hac re ſummatim dicam. Cuius ſignificationis ferè eſt in ſumma,& ad ſummã. Perinde enim eſt,ac ſi diceremus,quod ut ſummatim comprehendam,& magis modo loquendi,quàm ſignificato à ſummatim differunt. Quintil. In ſumma non recedo, fas mihi inuitis etiam parentibus pie facere. Cicero: Ad ſummam,ne agam de ſingulis, cõmunem totius generis humani ſocietatem,congregationem, & conciliationem colere, tueri,conſeruare debemus. Differt tamen ad ſummam,et ad ſummum. Nam ad ſummum refertur ad numerum, & aliquando ſine ad, dicitur ſummum, quod perinde eſt, ac ſi diceremus ad plus. Cicero: Vnus, aut ad ſummum duo inuenti ſunt, qui Milonis cauſam non probarent: id eſt non plures,quàm unus, aut duo. Quint. hoc modo dicendi uti frequenter ſolet per aduerbium ſemel. Deniq;,ut ſemel finiam,ſic ferè componendũ, cum pronuntiabis,erit. Idem: Et ut ſemel omni a complectar. Idem: Et,ut ſemel,quod eſt potentiſſimum dicam,ſecretũ meditando perit. id eſt in ſumma dicam. Cuius rei cauſa eſt illud ſemel, quod ſignificat uno,ut ita dicam, tempore, uel uno loco pro omnibus. ideoq; accipitur pro immutabiliter, & irreuocabiliter: quia quod ſemel tantum fit, non habet regreſſum, ut rurſus fiat. Idem: Quid hæc fulgentium ſiderum ueneranda facies, quod quædam uelut infixa, & cohærentia, perpetua ſemelq; capta ſede collucent, alia toto ſparſa cœlo uagos curſus certis emetiuntur erroribus? Virgilius: Procubuit moriens, & humum ſemel ore momordit. Ouidius: Nulla reparabilis arte, Læſa pudicitia deperit illa ſemel. Lucanus: Dixitq; ſemel naſcentibus autor. Quicquid ſcire licet. In eundem ſenſum Quintil. accipit breuiter, & alij quidam præclari autores. Quintil. Breuiter tamen longæ crudelitatis explicanda ſæuitia eſt, ex omnibus,quæ protuli,leuiſſimũ fuit, quod occiſus eſt. Plin. A reliqua uero Gallia,cultu uirorũ, morum dignatione, amplitudine opum, nulla ei prouinciarum præferenda, breuiterq; Italia uerius, quàm Prouincia. Idem de luſcinia:

Spiritus plenus,grauis,acutus,creber, extentus: ubi uiſum eſt, uibrans, breuiterq; omnia tam paruulis in faucibus, quæ tot exquiſitis tibiarum tormentis ars hominum excogitauit. Item ab unus deriuatur uter, quod ſignificat, quis unus ex duobus, ponitur q; uel interrogatiue, ut uter ueſtrum hoc fecit? uel indefinite, ut neſcio uter ueſtrum hoc fecerit. hoc eſt quis unus ueſtrum hoc fecit, uel fecerit. Notandumq; eſt in hoc nomine, quod uter alterum eleganter dicimus. Plinius: Vter alteri dixerit neſcio, & uter utrum ſimiliter Cicero: Vter utri inſidias fecerit. Ab hoc ſit uterque, quod ſignificat ambo. hoc tamen inter ſe hæc duo nomina differunt,quod, cum utrunq; aliquid feciſſe dicimus, & ab hoc, & ab illo ſeparatim id factum intelligimus,ut uterq; ſibi domũ ædificauit, id eſt & hic ædificauit ſibi domũ,& ille. cum uero ambo dicimus feciſſe,ab utroq; coniunctim id factum oſtendimus, ut ambo ſibi monimentum conſtituerunt,hoc eſt hic, & ille ſimul unum ſibi cõmune monimentum fecere. propter quod utrunque alterum uerberaſſe recte dicimus, hoc eſt hunc illum, & illum hunc uerberaſſe. Cicero: Quorum uterque ſuo ſtudio delectatus contempſit alterum. Quint. Cũ enim uterq; alteri obiiciat, palàm eſt utrunq; feciſſe. Eodem modo utrunq; utriq; aliquid feciſſe. Terentius: Quia uterq; utriq; eſt cordi. Hircius: Interim diſcuſſione orta inter Achillem, & Arſinoën, cum uterque utriq; inſidiaretur,& ſummam imperij ipſe obtinere uellet. ambos autem alterum uerberaſſe, uel ambos uerberaſſe, ambos non recte dicimus: ſignificaretur enim ambos ſeipſos uerberaſſe. Quod ſi recte loqui uelimus,ita dicendum eſt: ambo ſe mutuo uerberarunt. Ambo à Græco deductum eſt. Græci enim ἄμφω dicunt. Item ab uter fit utrum aduerbium interrogantis. Plaut. Vtrum id uerum putas,an non? Aliquando etiam dubitantis. Senecа: Vtrum id uobis conueniat, animaduertendum. Item uterlibet,quod non ſignificat uterque, ut quidam ignari exiſtimant,ſed alter ex duobus, hoc eſt uter quem tibi capere libet, ſicut uteruis uter quem tu uis. Quod idem in quiuis, & quilibet accidit, quæ non ſunt uniuerſalia, ut multi exiſtimant, ſed particularia. Nihil quippe eſt aliud quiuis,quàm unum,quem tu uis: & quilibet, quàm unus, qui tibi magis libet. hoc enim differunt uteruis & uterlibet, à quiuis, & quilibet, quod, illa unum ex duobus ſignificant, hæc unum ex pluribus. Terentius: Ab quouis homine, cum eſt opus beneficium accipere gaudeas. uerum enimuero id demum iuuat, ſiquem æquum eſt facere, is benefacit. Quintilianus: Periculoſum,& cum cura intuendum genus, quia ſi in proponendo unum quemlibet amiſerimus, cũ riſu quoq; tota res ſoluitur. Tutius ſic interrogare, ſi hæc actio non ſit, quæ ſit. ſimul enim remouentur omnia, uel cum duo ponentur inter ſe contraria, quorum tenuiſſe utrumlibet ſufficiet. Ecce in eodem loco Quintilianus utrumlibet, & quodlibet uſus. altero pro eo, quod eſt unum de duobus, altero pro eo quod eſt unum de pluribus. Hieronymus: Adducetur ad Aaron, uel ad unum quemlibet filiorum eius,quod græce ita ſcribitur: πρὸς ἕκαρὸν ἱερέα ἕνα τῶν υἱῶν αὐτοῦ, hoc eſt: Ad Aaron ſacerdotem,ſeu ad unum filiorum ipſius, quod in cæteris quoque à libet compoſitis accidit: Etenim quantalibet ſtatura,quantumlibet ſpatium nõ omnem quantitatem ſtaturæ, & ſpatij ſignificat, ſed unam quantam tibi capere libuerit. præterea utrobique aduerbium, quod ſignificat in utroque loco. Et utrinq; ex utroq; loco. Et utraq; per locũ,& utroq; ad utrunq; locum. præterea neuter quod eſt uterq; cõtrariũ, ſignificatq;,nec hic,nec ille. In quo animaduertendum eſt,quod neuter alterum ſemper dicimus, non autẽ neuter neutrum, ſicut uterq; utrunq;. Nam ſi ita dicamus: Neuter alterum diligit, hoc ſignificamus,neq; ille hũc diligit, neq; hic illum. quod ſi neuter neutrum diligeremus, ſignificaremus, neſe quidem ipſum utrũq; diligere. Item ab unus deriuatur unuſquiſq; dictio uniuerſalis, & unuſquiſlibet,ac unusquiuis,quæ idem ſignificant, quod quilibet, omni loco, ex omni parte, ex omni regione. & unquam quaſi uno quouis tempore, à quo nunquam, id eſt nullo tempore. unde deducitur nonnunquam, quod ſignificat aliquando. & nunquamnon, quod ſignificat ſemper. Item uſquam, quod ſignificat alicubi, quaſi uno quouis loco. Et nuſquam nullibi. à quo nonnuſquam alicubi. Et nuſquamnon ubicunq;. Et uſquequaq;, hoc eſt paſſim, quaſi in unoquoq; loco, ſiue in unoquoque tempore. & uſque quaſi ad unum uel locum, uel tempus, uel aliud huiuſmodi: ut uſpiam, quod ſignificat uſquam. & unde quaſi de quo uno loco. à quo undeuis, & undelibet, id eſt ex uno quouis loco. & uſquequò quaſi ad unum aliquod tempus, uel locum. Item ab unus unda deducitur, quod unà ſit, hoc eſt ſimul unita, et in ſe coacta. Vnda enim proprie pars aquæ in ſe collecta appellatur, & in unam partem tendens, ut cum fluctuat mare. unde undoſum pelagus, hoc eſt fluctuoſum dicimus, & undabundum. Gellius: Quibus nihil ſpirantibus, undæ tamen factæ diutius tument, & à uento quidem iandudum tranquillæ ſunt, ſed mare eſt etiam,atque etiam undabundum. & undiſonũ, quod undis ſtrepat, unde mare undiſonum dicitur. Et undatim,fluctuatim. uel undatim ad ſimilitudinem undarum: & undare fluctuare, hoc eſt undas facere. à qua ſimilitudine, & aërem, & nubeis, & fumum undare dicimus, quoties undarum inſtar mouentur. Ab hoc fit inundo, quod interdum abſolute ponitur, & ſignificat creſco, & extra alueum uerſor. Plinius: Ante, quàm Nilus inundaret. aliquando actiue, & ſignificat abluo. Idem: Agros, & ſata omnia inundauit. hinc fit inundatio, quæ pro diluuio ponitur. Seneca: Quidam conflagrationi, atque diluuio tempus aſſignant. Arſura enim terrena contendunt, quando omnia ſidera in Cancrum conuenient: inundationem futuram, cum eadem ſiderum turba in Capricorno conſiſtet. Item abundo, quod proprie ſignificat affluo, & ſupra modum aliquid habeo. Virgilius: Ergo apibus fœtis idem, atque examine multo Primus abundare. tractum ab amnibus, qui, quo maioribus, ac crebrioribus imbribus augentur, tanto eriguntur magis, & ideo abundare dicuntur. Idem: Præſertim incertis ſi menſibus amnis abundans Exit. ab hoc abundanter, & abunde aduerbia pro copioſe deducuntur. Item redundo, quod aliquando pro redeo capitur. Plautus: Hoc facinus in tuum redundabit caput. Interdũ pro abundo. Plinius: Redundant opes, uitia rebellant. Item exundo, quod eſt alueum exeo. à quo fit exundatio. Ab unda fit diminutiuum undula, & compoſitum undiſonus, hoc eſt fluctuando ſonitum reddens. & undulata ueſtis, quæ fit ex hircorum, & caprarum pilis potius, quàm lanis: quod ad undarum ſimilitudinem picta ſit, non, ut quidam exiſtimauerunt, quod pura ſit. ſic enim ab undis undulatæ ueſtes dicuntur, quomodo à ſcutulis ſcutulatæ. Varro: Et à quibuſdam dicitur eſſe imaginis fortunæ ſimulachrũ, ab eo, quod duabus undulatis togis eſt opertum, perinde ut olim reges noſtri undulatas, & prætextas togas ſoliti ſunt habere. Item aliud compoſitum undiuomus, hoc eſt aquas uomens. Vnda enim aliquando pro aqua ponitur, ut pars pro toto. Ouidius: Et terris miſcuit undas. Item ab unus uncus, ut quidam exiſtimant, quod unicus ſit, cum duo eſſe uideantur. Eſt enim uncus fuſtis, ab uno latere incuruus, ac ſeſe retorquens. ſed hoc falſum eſt, nam uncus à Græco fit. Græci enim ὄγκοῦσθαι extuberare, & intumeſcere dicunt, & ὄγκον tumorem. à quo ὀγκίνον uncum, ſiue uncinum, quod ubi incuruatur, quodammodo intumeſcere, atque extuberare uidetur. Ab hoc fit uncus adiectiuum, hoc eſt incuruus. à quo aduncus, & uncinatus uncinis armatus. Cic. Nec ut ille qui aſperis, & leuibus & hamatis, uncinatisq; corpuſculis concreta hæc eſſe dicat. & inunco uerbum, quaſi unco inuado, & arripio. Lucilius: Aut qui numos triſtis inuncat. Item ab unus deriuatur ungo, ſiue unguo quaſi unum ago. ungendo enim cõplanatur caro, atq; unitur. Ab hoc fit unguentum, ſiue ungentum, quod non eſt (ut uulgus exiſtimat) tenax illa compoſitio, qua chirurgi utuntur ad uulnera curanda, ſed commiſtio diuerſorum odorum addito oleo, aut balſamo, aut aliquo pingui ad unguenda corpora, deliciarum, & luxuriæ cauſa inuenta. Qui primus unguentum inuenerit, non conſtat: Iliacis certe temporibus nõ erat in uſu. Primum de eo legitur, quod caſtris Darij regis expugnatis, inter reliquum apparatum Alexander unguentorum ſcrinium cepit. Poſtea uoluptas eius inter laudatiſſima uitæ bona admiſſa eſt, cœperuntq; etiam defunctorum corpora ungi. unguentorum alia à locis, in quibus fiunt, cognomina habent, ut deliacum à Delo inſula una Cycladum. mendeſium à Mendeſo Aegypti urbe. Panathenaicum ab Athenis. Suſinum à Suſis urbe Perſidis. Aliquando ab odoris ſimilitudine, ut pardalium, quod pardalis odorem reddat. Tradunt enim ex omnibus animalibus, hanc ſolam eſſe odoratam, panthera à noſtris dicitur, inferius oſtendemus. Nonnunquam ab ijs, apud quos huiuſmodi unguenta in uſu ſunt, ut regale unguentũ quo Parthorũ reges utebantur. Conſtat myrobalano, coſto amomo, cinamomo, comaco, cardamomo, nardi ſpica, maro, myrrha, caſia, ſtyrace, ladano, opobalſamo, calamo, iuncoſyrio, œnanthe, malobrato, ſericato, cypro, aſpalatho, panace, croco, cypero, amaraco, colato melle, uino. Interdum à dignitate, & excellentia ſua, ut megalium à magnitudine. Græci enim μέγα magnum dicunt. unde Megalenſia, ſiue Megalenſes ludi dicti ſunt, qui in honorem magnæ matris deũm fiebant. Liuius: M. Iunius Brutus ædem magnæ matris deũm in palatio dedicauit, & ludos ob eandem dedicationem factos Megalenſia appellauit. frequentiſſime à rebus, ex quibus ipſorum unguentorum oleum conficitur, ut irinum, quod oleum eius ex iride fiat. Irim medici noſtri temporis magno errore putant narciſſum eſſe. Eſt autem narciſſus lilij genus, radice carnoſa, atque odora, flore purpureo, folia in radice habens ad ſimilitudinem foliorum arundinis, ſed aliquanto craſſiora. dictus ab adoleſcente eiuſdem nominis Cephiſi amnis, & Liriopes nymphæ filio, qui in eum mutatus eſt florem. Nam, cum pulchritudine præſtaret, uenationi indulgens à multis nymphis amatus eſt. Inter cæteras uero Echo miro amore in eum exarſit, quas omneis cum ſuperbe nimium contempſiſſet, tandem illarum precibus factum eſt, ut ſua ipſius pulchritudine caperetur. Etenim, cum feſſus aliquando ad propinquũ fontem decubuiſſet imaginem ſuam in aqua conſpicatus, ac nympham exiſtimans, cum potiri ea non poſſet, nimio deſiderio contabuit. Alij non à fabuloſo adoleſcente, ſed à narce, hoc eſt torpore Narciſſum dictum exiſtimant. quippe odor eius maiorem in modum aggrauat caput. Græci νάρκην torporem uocant. Hinc narciſſites gemma eius coloris appellata eſt. Iris autem longe alia herba eſt, radicem ſimili modo odoratã habens, & unguentis, ac medicinæ utilem: caulem habet cubitalem, & rectum: radicem raphano ſimilem, quæ ſternutamenta mouet. floret diuerſorum colorum ſpecie, quaſi arcus cœleſtis, à quo nomen habet. Natura eſt feruens, tractataq; ambuſti modo puſtulas facit: laudatiſſima in Illyrico eſt. Irim poëtæ, hoc eſt cœleſtem arcum deorum nunciam dicunt eſſe, & ferè ad diſcordiam mitti, ut Mercurium ad concordiam. Huius arcus causa est radius solis cauæ nubi immissus, qui repulsa acie, in solem refringitur. nubes enim formam arcus discoloris efficiunt: quia aliæ partes earum tumidiores sunt, aliæ submissiores, & quædam crassiores, quàm ut solem transmittant: aliæ imbecilliores, quàm ut excludant. hæc inæqualitas alterius lucem, umbramq; commiscet, & exprimit illam mirabilem arcus uarietatem. est & alia causa arcus tenuis pluuia, solaribus radijs eam intrantibus, ut cum fistula aliquo modo rupta, uidemus aquam per tenue foramen elidi, quæ sparsa contra solem oblique positum, arcus faciem repræsentat. quod etiam accidere uidemus, cum fullo os aqua impleuit, & uestimenta tendiculis deducta leniter aspergit. apparet enim in illo aëre asperso uarios edi colores, qui quasi fulgere in arcu solent. Aristoteles noctu aliquando uisum fuisse arcum affirmat, sed id nisi trigesima luna fieri posse: quia tunc plus solet uirium à sole habere.. Nunquam plures simul, quàm duo arcus sunt uisi. Item nardinum, quod fit ex nardo. nardus, siue nardum frutex est graui, & crassa radice, sed breui, ac nigra, fragiliq;, quamuis pingui, aspero sapore, folio paruo, densoq;. Cacumina in aristas spargunt. Ideo geminam dotem eius spicas, ac folia celebrant, unde unguentum ex eo factum nardinum, & foliatum dicitur. Apud Gangen damnatur, quod uirus oleat, ideoq; ἀπὸ τοῦ ὄζειν, quod olere est, ozenitis dicitur. Adulteratur, & pseudonardo herba, quæ ubiq; nascitur, crassiore, ac latiore folio, & colore languido in candidum uergente. Quod è spica fit, preciosius putant unguentum esse: quod ex folijs distinguitur amplitudine foliorum. Nardum enim maioribus folijs Nardosphærum uocant, minoribus mesosphærum. Principalis hic frutex est in unguentis. Laudatur maxime nardum Syriacum, mox gallicum, tertio loco Creticum, quod aliqui uocant agrion. Al[illegible]phum folio olusatri, caule cubitali, geniculato, in purpura albicante, radice obliqua, uillosaq; imitante auiũ pedes. Baccarem quoq; nardum rusticum uocant, de qua alibi diximus. Hæc omnia herbæ sunt, præter Indicum nardum. cum Gallico nardo semper nascitur herba, quæ à grauitate odoris Hirculus uocatur. Quidam & assarum syluestre nardum appellauere. est autem ederæ folijs rotundioribus tantũ, mollioribusq; flore purpureo, radice gallici nardi simile, acinosum, saporis calidi, ac uinosi, montibus in umbrosis locis bis anno florens. Item Rhodinum unguentũ, quod rosaceo, hoc est rosarũ oleo fiat. Græci ῥόδινον roseum dicunt. Crocinum, quod oleum eius ex croco. Oenanthinum, quod ex flore labruscæ. Oenanthe enim uitis labruscæ uua est, quæ cum flore colligitur, cũ optime olet. siccatur in umbra substrato linteo, atque in cados conditur. dicta quasi οἴνου ἄνθος, hoc est uini flos. Amaracinum, siue sansucinum, quod ex amaraco, siue sansuco, herba est notissima, quam uulgo persam uocant. Hinc factum est prouerbium: Nihil cum amaracino sui. quod illi simile est: Nihil cum fidibus asello. Amaracus puer regius fuit unguentarius, qui casu lapsus, dum ferret unguenta fregit alabastrum: deinde, cum nimio dolore contabuisset, uersus est in sansucum, quæ ex eius nomine Amaracus cœpta est appellari. Virgilius: Vbi mollis Amaracus illum Floribus, & dulci aspirans complectitur umbra. Seritur & semine, & ramo: odoris est iucundissimi, & semen habet copiosissimum. oleum eius ad excalefaciendos, ac molliendos neruos mirifice prodest. Melinum, quod è struteo. Cotoneum enim per excellentiam μῆλον, hoc est melum uocamus. à quo fit melinum. cotonea Græci cydonia uocant, Cydone insigni Cretæ oppido aduecta. Plura corũ genera sunt. alia chrysomela dicũtur incisuris distincta, colore aureo, à nobis mala aurea interpretantur, alia appellantur no-stratia, quæ candidiora sunt. minora ex eodem genere strutea odoratius fragrant, seroq; proueniunt. Præcocia mustea nominantur. Struteis cotonea insita suum genus efficiunt, quod dicitur meluianum, & hoc solum manditur crudum. Sunt prætereà syluestria parua è struteis odoratissima, quæ in sepibus nascuntur, ex quibus oleum fit, seruaturq; in cubiculis salutatorijs, odoris gratia. Cyprinum, quod ex Cypro arbore, hoc est ex eius arboris flore. Cyprus est arbor oliuæ similis folio, semine coriandri, flore candido, & mirum in modum odorato. Coquitur hoc in oleo, premiturq; postea, quod cyprinum nocatur. Hanc arborem in Italia Ligustrum nominant. Nascitur in multis locis, sed in Cypro insula odoris suauitate præstat, et ideo Cyprus appellata est. Cyprus insula est in Carpathio mari ab ortu, occasuq; Siliciæ, ac Syriæ obiecta, quondam nouem regnorum sedes. Antea Acanantida uocatam tradunt, & cerastin, & aspeliam, & amatusam, & macharam, è cuius aduerso Eleusa insula est. Vrbes in ea præclaræ, Paphos, & Palæpaphos, & Salamina. Cõtra quam est insula Salamine. A Cypro Cyprius deducitur, hoc est ex insula Cypro. unde tres paruæ insulæ huic propinquæ, & steriles Cypriæ nominantur. Et cypricus possessiuum. Cyprium Sabini bonum dicunt, unde cyprius uicus Romæ appellatus est, quo Sabini ciues additi consederant. sic enim à bono omine uocitandũ censuere. A Cypro etiam Cypria dicta est Venus, quod eo primum loco templum ei conditum sit. Cyprio boui merendam uice prouerbij ueteres dicebant, turpem cœnam, ac uilem significare uolentes: quoniam in Cypro insula boues humano stercore pascebantur. Item à cypro Cyprianus proprium uiri nomen deriuatur. Magnus est Seruij error, qui uersum illum Maronis exponens: Alba ligustra cadunt, uacinia nigra leguntur. ligustrum, inquit, lilium est album, uacinium uero flos nigri coloris, qui græce hyacinthus dicitur. Nos quid ligustrum sit ostendimus, ex cuius ligno tesseræ fiunt aptissimæ. Vacinium simili modo arbor est, quæ in Italia aucupiorum gratia seritur, nec nisi in aquosis locis prouenit: in Gallia uero prouide seritur, quod ex flore eius tinguntur sericorũ uestes. Taceo quod hyacinthum scribit nigrum esse, quo nihil potest dici absurdius, cum ipse quem interpretatur, Virgilius scribit: Et sua uerubens hyacinthus. Est autem hyacinthus ruber flos ex herba eiusdem nominis nascens, à cuius similitudine rubræ uestes hyacinthinæ nominantur, hoc est hyacintho flori similes. Homerus: Οὔλας ἧκε τρίχας ὑακινθίνῳ ἄνθει ὁμοίας. Persius: Hic aliquis, cui circa humeros hyacinthina læna est. Vnde inter gemmas, quæ berylli dicũtur hyacinthizontes uocantur, qui rubore quodam suffusi sunt. & hyacinthus per se gemma est Amethysto similis, et hoc solo distans, quod ille emicãs in amethysto uiolaceus fulgor, dilutus est in hyacintho: & ita oculos implet, ut non satiet, citius, quàm floris sui color euanescens. Hyacinthinus color hysginus etiam dicitur à genere herbæ, quæ hysge uocatur. hic uero supradicto similis est. Cõstat autem Hyacinthum, qui in Gallia plurimus prouenit, Hysginum tingere, radicemq; habet bulbaceam, quam mangones iccirco habent in precio, quod pubertatem arcet, nec sinit pilos erumpere: florem uero (ut diximus) coccinum ita discurrentibus quibusdam uenis, ut Græcarum literarum figuram exhibeant, de quo duplex extat fabella. Nam & Hyacinthum puerum dilectum ab Apolline, quem disco imprudens interfecit, in hunc florem mutatum tradunt: unde in eo primæ duæ literæ inscriptæ cernuntur αι, quæ uox lugubris, hoc est dolentis interiectio est, propter quod Apollo, apud Ouidium dicit: Flósque nouus scripto gemitus imitabere nostros. Et alibi: Ipse suos gemitus folijs inscribit, & ai Flos habet inscriptum, funestaq; litera dicta est. Et Aiacem in eundem florem conuersum affirmant, dum impatientia prælati sibi Vlyssis seipsum interemit, cuius nomen similiter in principio ai literas habet. Ouidius: Littera communis medijs, pueroq;, uiroq; Inscripta est folijs, hæc nominis, illa querelæ. Et Virgilius de his floribus loquens, multitudinis numero usus est. Dic quibus in terris inscripti nomina regum Nascuntur flores, & Phyllida solus habeto. Regum dixit, Hyacinthi & Aiacis. non quod ipsi fuerint reges, sed quia regum filij fuerunt. quemadmodum alibi: Magnum reginæ sed enim miseratus amorem. de Ariadne dixit, quæ Pasiphaës reginæ filia fuit. Ob hanc causam quidam diligentiores primam huius nominis syllabam, & sine aspiratione, & non per ypsilon, sed per iota scribendam esse censuere, quanquam, ut aliter scriberetur, usus obtinuit. Item Telinum, quod fit ex oleo fœnogræci, quod alio nomine Siciliam uocãt, alio Buceras. Plinius: Quædam cum urent, non olent propter humorem nimium, ut Buceras, quod est fœnogræcum. Alij Aegoceras, quod semen eius corniculis simile sit, alij Carphos. Nam id Græci nominãt τῆλιν. Constat oleo recenti, cypro, calamo, meliloto, fœnogræco, melle, mello, maro, amaraco. hoc Menandri poëtæ ætate celeberrimum fuit. Balaninum, quod ex glande Myrobalani. βάλανον enim Græci glandem dicunt. Vnde Myrobalanum dixerunt, quasi unguentariam glandem. Solis enim unguentis nascitur, quæ Græci μύρα appellant. unde Myropolas nominant unguentorum uenditores, quos nostri unguentarios uocitant. A quibus Myropolia officinæ eorum nominantur. Plautus: Quem sum defessus quærere per medicinas, tonstrinas, in gymnasio, atque in foro, per myropolia. Myron etiam proprium nomen. Sic enim uocatus est elegans statuarius. Item Myronides similiter proprium nomen Et myristica nux dicitur unguentaria, quam uulgo muscatam uocant. Myrobalanũ arbor est heliotropij folijs, fructus glandis similis, ad magnitudinem nucis auelanæ. Vnguentarij tantum cortices premunt, Medici etiam nucleos tundunt. De myrobalano locutus est Martialis, cum inquit: Quod nec Virgilius nec carmine dicit Homerus, Hoc ex unguento constat, & ex balano. huiusmodi unguentum propter gloriam appellatum est megalium. fit ex oleo Balanino, balsamo, calamo, iunco, xylobalsamo, casia, resina. Ventilatur in coquendo, donec desinat olere: refrigeratum odorem suum recipit. De balsamo multa mentiti sunt ueteres. Arbuscula est uni terrarũ Iudææ quondam concessa, & in duobus tantum hortis, utroq; regio. Ostenderunt hanc primum urbi imperatores Vespasiani: quorum temporibus simul cum earum gente seruire Romanis, & pendere tributa cœpit. Viti similior est, quàm myrto. Seritur maleolis, ut uitis, & colleis implet uinearum modo, sustinens sese sine adminiculis: intra tertium annum est fructifera: proceritas intra bina cubita subsistit. Tria huius arboris genera. Tenui, & capillacea coma Anthericeum uocatur. ἀνθέρικες enim Græce aristæ dicuntur. Alterum scabro aspectu incuruum, fruticosum, odoratius, Cyrthacum nominant. κυρτὸν enim incuruum significat, τραχὺ scabrum. Tertium eumeces, quod leui cortice cæteris sit procerius. græce εὐμήκης procerus dicitur. inciditur cortex uitro, lapide, osseis'ue cultellis. Ferro lædi uitalia odit statim moriens. Libratur manus artifici temperamento, nequid ultra corticem uiolet. Succus è plaga manat, quem opobalsamum uocitant, quod omnibus odoribus in unguentis præfertur. Iuuenalis: Hirsuto spirant opobalsama collo. tenui aũt gutta fluit, uix concham toto die æstiuo implens. Adulteratur multis modis, raroq; ad nos syncerum affertur. Sarmentum quoq; eius in precio est. Xylobalsa mum uocatur, & coquitur in unguentis. pro succo id substituere officinæ. corticis etiam ad medicamenta precium est, præcipua gratia lachrymæ, secunda semini, tertia cortici. Summa opobalsami probatio est, ut lac coagulet, & in ueste maculas non faciat. Narcissinum, quod ex flore Narcissi fieri solebat, sed statim obliteratum fuit. Metopium, quod fit ex ammoniaco. Metopion quippe arborẽ uocant, quæ in Aethiopiæ subiecta Africa nascitur, stillans in arenis suis lachrymam ueluti resinam, quæ & ab Ammonis templo, quod iuxta est, ammoniacum dicitur. genera eius duo sunt: Traston masculi thuris similitudine, quod maxime probatur, & alterum pingue, ac resinosum, quod pyramia appellant. Sunt qui oleum quoque Amygdalinum metopium uocent, quod in eo conficiendo Aegyptij Galbanum, & ammoniacum addere excogitauerunt. Ex baccaris quoq; radice unguentum fieri solitum Aristophanes Comicus poëta testatur. baccaricũ id dicitur. Baccar herba est radicis odoratæ ad Cinamomi similitudinem gracili solo, nec humido prouenit ederæ penè folijs rotundioribus, mollioribusq;. quidam Nardum rusticum appellant, alij Asaron, quod in coronas non addatur. σαροῦν enim ornare significat. sed hoc falsum est, ut alibi dicemus. Vnguenta exotica dicuntur externa, & aduentitia, quæ à Græcis ἐξωτερικὰ nominantur. Plautus: Non omnes possunt olere unguenta exotica. rege Antiocho deuicto urbis anno quingentesimo sexagesimoquinto, P. Licinium Crassum, & Iulium Cæsarem censores edixisse constat, nequis unguenta exotica uenderet. L. Plocium proscriptum à triumuiris, in Salernitana latebra unguenti odore proditum tradunt. Diuus Vespasianus adolescentem fragrantem unguento, cum sibi pro impetrata præfectura gratias ageret, nutu aspernatus, uoce etiam grauissima increpuit: Maluissem allium oluisses, literasq; reuocauit. uilissimum genus unguenti, quo passim uulgo utebantur, à limo (ut quidam putant) epilima dicebantur. Malobratum uero unguenti genus erat ex Syria. Horatius: Caronatus nitentes Malobrato Syrio capillos. Schœnum pessimũ unguenti genus uocabant, unde meretrices propter eius unguenti usum schœniculæ sunt appellatæ. Schœnos etiam Græca uoce funis est à quo Schœnobates, qui per funeis discurrit ludendo, quasi funambulo. Item Schœnos urbs fuit Bœotiæ sic dicta, ut Aristarcho placet, à Schœno patre Atalantæ. Vnguentis omniũ prouinciarum accommodatissima est Aegyptus. ab ea propter rosarum, ac citrorum, & myrti multitudinem proxima Campania est. Vnguenta omnia, aut succo constant, & hæc stagmata uocantur, quasi distillationes: quippe σαγὼν stillam significat: aut corpore, & hæc appellantur hedysmata. Græci enim ἥδυσμα condimentum dicunt. his addi interdum ad gratiam corporis augendam color solebat, in quo cinnabari tantum, & ancusa utebantur. Cinnabaris sanguis est draconis elephantorum morientium pondere elisi, dum simul pugnant, utriusq; animalis cruore permisto. nec est alius color, qui magis proprie sanguinem reddat humanum, antidotis præterea, medicamẽtisq; miscetur. Ancusa uero herba est, cuius duo genera sunt. Alterum habet folia penè lactucæ similia, sed acuta, aspera, subnigra, spinosa. Radix eius ad digiti crassitudinem coloris sanguinei inficit æstate maxime digitos, folia habet supra terram in gyrum sparsa. Altera est, quam plerique Alcibiadion uocant, quod uti ea ad formã conciliandam solitus sit Alcibiades, maioribus folijs, & asperioribus, radice rufa, oblonga, nascens præcipue aridis, atque arenosis locis. Addunt quidam & tertium genus simile supradictis, nisi colorem haberet purpureum, quo Sentinates mei in pueritia utuntur ad oua tingenda, quibus ludere uerno tempore mos patrius est. Veteres ceram ea ungere solẽbant ad reddendas similitudines, & tabularum picturam. Vnguentorum feces, quibus etiam in pastillos reda-ctis odoris gratia uti solebant, magmata appellantur, hoc est massæ quædam, & pastilli, ἀπὸ τοῦ μάττειν, quod est te-rere, & commiscere. Atqui ea, quæ siccis odoribus constant, ut sunt ij pulueres, quos uulgo nunc Cyprios uocant, & aliæ hu-iuscemodi cõpositiones, quæ ex siccis odoribus fiunt sine oleo, aut alio liquore: utputa ex ladano, cinamomo, casia, thure, costo, myrrha, styrace, calamo, iuncoSyrio, xylobalsamo, aliisq; similibus, non unguenta, sed diapasmata dicuntur, ἀπὸ τοῦ διαπάσσω, quod est inspergo, ut dici diapasma inspergimen possit. Sparguntur enim huiusmodi odores, cum unguentis linantur corpora, uel perfundantur. Mart. Quid quod olet gra uius missum diapasmate uirus. Sic etiam uocari possunt pastil li ex diuersis odoribus facti, quos adolere consueuimus. Item ij, quos in paruas pilas redactos manibus gestare solemus, præ sertim pestilentiæ tempore. Quæ uero nunc unguenta uulgo à latinæ linguæ ignaris appellantur, à doctis Græco uocabu-lo dicuntur emplastra: quæ autem emplastra uulgo nominantur, cataplasmata, siue malagmata uocitantur à peritis. Constant sanè cataplasmata ex floribus ferè, eorumq; furculis, & axungia: emplastra, pastillique magis è quibusdam metallicis.

Item malagmata contusa abunde mollescunt. nam super inte-gram cutem iniiciuntur, unde ἀπὸ τοῦ μαλάσσειν dicta sunt, quod est subigere, & mollire. laboriose uero conteruntur ea, ex quibus emplastra, pastilliq; fiunt, ne lædant uulnera, cũ imposita sunt. inter emplastrum autem, & pastillum hoc interest, quod emplastrum utiq; liquati aliquid accipit, in pastilo tantum arida medicamenta aliquo humore iunguntur. Em plastrum imponitur, pastillus illinitur, aut alicui molliori mi-scetur. A pane dictus est pastillus, quod parui panis formam habeat, cum sit rotundus, & planus ad rotæ similitudinem: propter quod à Græcis τροχίσκος appellatur, quod dici latine rotula potest. Pastillus etiã libi genus dicitur rotũdi. Cera tum, nec emplastrũ est proprie, nec pastillus, sed plerũq; expa stillis fit. constat ex rebus sicciorib⁹: & igni appositum molle scit, postea applicatum corpori durescit, ac pertinacius hæret: dictum à cera, quæ ferè omnibus ceratis adhiberi solet. qui-dam hoc non ceratum, sed cerotum appellant à Græco, quod est κηρωτόν. Cæterum quæ uulgo haud quidem inepte pi-lulæ dicuntur, quod sint ueluti exiguæ pilæ, à doctis tam Græcis, quàm latinis catapocia nominantur, ἀπὸ τοῦ καταπίνειν, quod est deuorare: quoniam neque estur, neq; lingitur id genus, sed deuoratur. Recte tamen & pilulæ dici possunt. Si-quidem Plin. rotundum illud, quod in robore nascitur, pilulã uocat, & ex bulbis fieri pilulas tradit, quæ ad conuulsa cum silphio dantur. Lingere proprie dicimur, cum aliquid in ore tenentes paulatim distillando sorbemus: & quæ in hunc usum fiunt dicuntur eclygmata. Plinius: E semine lini fiunt eclyg-mata. & actus ipse lingendi dicitur linctus. Idem: Multi tussim ueterem linctu salis discussere. quod uero per inferiorem partem purgandi gratia in uentrem immittitur, clyster uo-catur ἀπὸ τοῦ κλύζειν, quod abluere est. Plinius: Cucurbita infusa clysteribus intestinorum omnium uitijs medetur. Quod autem in orificio durum ponitur ad excrementum prouocan dum, & uulgo suppositorium dicitur, docti honestiori uocabu lo, à glandis similitudine Balanum dixere. Idem: Cepas subs ditas pro balanis scribit Asclepiades hæmorrhoidas tollere.
Item ab ungo unctio dicitur, & unctura notæ significationis, & unguen, quod significat omnem succum, ex quo aliquid un-gi potest. Virg. Ideas q; pices, & pingues unguina ceras. Plin.

Epiphoras bubulo seuo, cũ oleo cocto illinũt, ceruini cornus, cinis scabricies eodẽ unguine sanat. Item axungia ab axe plau strorum unguendo appellata est, quamuis Græci quoq; hoc uo cabulo usi fuerint. Est autem axungia adeps suillus inueterа tus, aut cum sale, aut syncerus, qui quanto uetustior, tanto uti lior est: et multas uireis habere creditur, quoniã id animal her barum radicibus uescitur. Apud antiquos religiosius etiam ha bebatur. siquidem nouæ nuptæ domum intrantes solenne ha bebant illo postes iniungere. unde uxores, quasi unxores dictæ sunt, quemadmodũ inferius latius disseremus. Vnguis quoq;, ut nõnulli putant, ab ungo deducitur, quod politus, ac translu cidus sit, & quasi unctus: unde marmorarij planiciem operis ungue experiuntur, & cum non sentiunt iuncturas, perfe-ctum id esse intelligunt, quapropter ad unguem capimus pro perfecte. Horatius: Ad unguem factus homo, hoc est omni ex parte perfectus. Alij unguem ab uno, & ago deriuatum exi-stimant, quod in ijs nerui ad unum agantur. sunt enim ungues clausulæ neruorũ summæ. Alij à Græco deduci. unguis enim à Græcis ὄνυξ uocatur. Ab ungue fit ungula diminuti-uum, & unguicula: sed hoc inter se differunt, quod unguis est eorum animalium, quæ digitos habent separatos, penitusq; di stinctos: ut sunt homines, simiæ, aues. Plinius: Vngues simiæ imbricati sunt, hominibus lati, rapacibus unci, cæteris recti, ut canibus, præter eum, qui à crure plerisq; dependet. Idem de aquila: Vngues quoq; huic generi inuertũtur. Vngula uero de ijs dicitur, quæ digitis carent. Item de Strutiocamelo, qui ex genere uolucrum est: Vngulæ huic sunt ceruinis similes, quis bus dimicant bifulcæ comprehendendis lapidibus utiles, quos in fuga contra sequentes ingerunt pedibus. Idem: In quadrupedibus solidas habent ungulas, quæ non sunt cornigera. Igitur pro his telũ ungula est illis. Idẽ: Sues in Illyrico quibusdã locis solidas habent ungulas. Idem uno in loco, utrunq; posuit, & hanc differentiam apertissime demonstrauit, sic inqui ens: Omnia digitos habent, quæ pedes, excepto elephanto. huic enim informes numero quidem quinque, sed indiuisi, ac leuiter discreti, ungulisq; non unguibus similes. idem uno uersu fecit Ouidius, dum Io describit è bouis effigie in primam formam redeuntem: Vngula, quæ in quinos delapsa absumitur ungues. Vnguicula autem de ijs tantũ dicitur, quæ ungues ha bent: unde à teneris unguiculis dicimus pro eo, quod est ab infantia, ab ineunte ætate, à pueris, à pueritia, à tenera ætate, ab incunabulis. hæc quippe omnia penè idem significant. Ab ungula Cato ungularios uocauit ungues magnos, ac scabros, quasi ungulis similiores, quàm unguibus. Vngulum Oscorum lingua significat anulum, quidam tamen ideo appellatum un-gulum putãt, quod sicut in digito unguis carne, ita in illo gem ma, uel signum aliquod in auro clauditur. Vnguis etiam morbus est oculorum, quem Græci pterygium uocant. cum mem-branula neruosa oritur sub angulo oculi, & ad pupillam quo-que peruenit, eiq; sæpenumero officit, aliquando à narium, non nunquam à temporum parte. Vnus uero ipsum à Græco deducitur, quippe Græci ἕνα unum dicunt. OPVS, Aedificium. Opus & opera differunt. Opera enim actio est, & diurnum officium. Cic. Non male præcipiunt qui seruis uti iubent, ut mercenarijs iusta præbenda, operam exigendam: hoc est laborem, et operationem corporis. Item operæ ipsæ per sonæ laborantes uocantur. Modestinus: Operarum nomine ipsas personas, quæ aliquid faciũt significamus. Opus uero est finis, fructusq; operæ. unde opera autorum dicuntur, & opе ra tam publica, quàm priuata, hoc est ædificia. Aliquando ta-men opus pro opera capi uidetur. Vir. Mollibus è stratis, ope ra ad fabrilia surgit, quasi ad operas. Vbi notandum est, quod

quoties non ad laborem corporis, sed ad laborem animi, & ad artem, industriamq; respicimus, magis opus, quàm operam di cimus, ut in opere rustico, in opere fabrili, in opere faciũdo. Opus etiã aliquando pro necesse, siue necessario capitur, ut opus est sessum quiescere, id est necesse est: & nihil mihi opus est, hoc est, nihil mihi est necessariũ: & ægrotanti opus est medico, id est necessarius est medicus ægrotãti. Quod etiã per accusatiuũ dicitur. Apu. Cui eam rẽ factã opus fuerat. Ab hoc fit oportet, quæ similiter significat necesse est. Paulus: Oportere uerbũ, non ad facultatem iudicis pertinet, qui potest uel pluris, uel minoris condemnare, sed ad ueritatem refertur. In hoc uerbo notandũ est, quod, oportet legere libros, oportet habere, quos sequamur in eundem sensum eleganter dicitur. In præterito autẽ secus: nã & fecisse hoc oportuit legitur, & factum hoc oportuit sine uer bo aliquo. Cic. Tamen id factũ nõ oportuit. Idem: Apollinis signum ablatũ certe non oportuit. Idem: Totã rem illi integram seruatã oportuit. Non dissimilis huic oratio fit per uerbũ uolo.
Idem: Liberis cõsultum uolumus, etiã si posthumi futuri sint.
Idem: Percurram tamen breui, ut non minus hominem ipsum, quàm ius cõmune defensum uelitis. Opportunus uero quod per duplex pp scribitur, non ab opere deducitur, sed ab ob præpo sitione, & portus, quod nauigantibus maxime utiles, optatiq; portus sint. opportunũ quippe esse, siue opportune accidere di-cimus, quod pro desiderio nostro accidit. à quo fit opportuni-tas, quod cõmoditatem significat, quemadmodũ è diuerso importunũ esse, et importune fieri dicimus, quæ sunt, fuúntue præ ter rationẽ loci, seu temporis, seu personarũ. Virg. De auibus, quæ cum noctu tantum uolare soleant, die apparent: Importu naq; uolucres Signa dabant. Propterea importunũ hominem dicimus procacem, atq; molestũ. à quo importunitas dicta. Po nitur etiã aliquando importunũ pro inquieto, & quasi portu ca rente. Idem: Bellũ importunũ ciues cum gente deorũ. Ab ope re opificem quoq; dici quidã opinãtur: nos ab opera potius de-ductum existimamus. Opifex enim artifex est, atque operator, & (ut ita dicam) laborator non modo rerum, sed etiam uerborum. Cice. Aduena quidã ignobilis uerborum opifex insinuasse se in antiquã philosophiã uidetur. Vnde etiam coquinarij, & blandarũ artiũ sectatores opifices appellantur. Cic. Omnes au tem opifices in turpi sunt exercitio. Hinc deũ opificem, hoc est operatorem omnium rerum dicimus. Ouid. Ille opifex rerum.

AD DOMITIANVM EPIGRAMMA SECVNDVM.

IC VBI SIDEREVS. Laudat Domitianum, quod ex una Neronis domo plura ædificia publica in solatiũ populi cõstruxerat. INVIDIOSA ATRIA. Odiosa. quia totã urbem occupare Neroniana domus uidebatur, & ad eã ædificãdam ut spatia quædã circa eam haberet, urbẽ Nero incẽderat: quinetiã horrea quædã propinqua, quod saxeo muro cõstructa erãt, bellicis machinis aperte fuerat demolitus, et incendiũ ipse è turre Mecœnatiana prospectãs, ac flammæ pulchritudine lætus, Halosin Ilij scænico habitu decantauerat. Inuidere proprie est ex alicuius rebus secũdis dolore affici: tractũ à nimis uidendo, quod nimis intuemur fortunã illius, de cuius felicitate sumus soliciti. Quapropter minus fortasse usitate, sed præclare Accius accusatiuo cõiunxit: Quis nã florẽ liberũ inuidit meũm: ut eñ uidere, sic inuidere florẽ rectius, q̃ flori dicitur. Nos cõsuetudine (ut Cic. inqt) prohibemur. Poëta ius suũ tenuit, & dicit audacius. Ab hoc fit passiuũ inuideor, à quo inuisus, hoc est odio habitus. Cic. Dijs hominibusq; inuisus. Itẽ inuidia, & inuidentia, quæ inter se differũt, ut ebrietas, ebriositas. quippe inuidia est, cum inuidetur, hoc est actus ipse inuidendi: Inuidentia uero est ægritudo animi, quæ propter res secundas alterius suscipitur, quæ nullam iacturã afferant inuidenti. Nam si quis doleret eius rebus, à quo ipse læderetur, nõ rectè diceretur inuidia. Item inuidus, & inuidiosus, quæ eo modo inter se differunt, quo ebrius, et ebriosus. Inuidus enim dicitur, qui actu alicui in uidet: inuidiosus, qui morbo inuidentiæ laborat. Ouidi. Tempus edax rerũ, tuq; inuidiosa uetustas Omnia destruitis. Interdum tamen inuidiosus passiue capitur pro eo, cui adhibetur inuidia. Idem: Pactolonq; petit, quanquã nõ aureus illo Tempore, nec charis erat inuidiosus arenis. Est etiã quando inuidia pro odio capitur. Quin. Ne ei tot scelerũ cõmemoratione concitarem inuidiam. Teren. Ita, ut sine inuidia laudem inuenias, & amicos pares. Liuius: Nactus superbum ingenium, immodicamq; linguam, quam iritando, agitandoq; in eas compelleret uoces, quæ & inuidiæ essent, hoc est odiũ cõcitarent. Hinc inuidiosum pro inuiso, atq; odioso accipitur, ut hoc loco, & inuidiosa res dicitur, quæ atrocitatẽ facti auget, & maius cõcitet odium. Aliquando etiam inuidiosus actiue accipitur pro odio flagrans. Ouidius: Ante Iouem passis stetit inuidiosa capillis. Idem: Etiam contigerant portam, Saturnia cuius dempserat oppositas inuidiosa seras. inuide facere dicitur, qui per inuidiã aliquid agit. inuidiosè uero, uel qui per inuidiam, uel qui in aliquem excitat odium, eumq; inuisum facit. Au. Gellius usus est comparatiuo inuidius, pro inuidiosius, hoc est concitatioris odij in aliquem: Fortius, atq; inuidius potuisse dici nõ uidentur. Ab inuidia fit diminutiuũ inuidiola. Cicero: Cum nescio quid inter eos inuidiolæ exortum fuisset. Odium uero ab odi deducitur anomalo uerbo, quod significat odio habeo. à quo osus, & perosus dicitur, qui odio habetur. Pla. Inimicos semper osa sum optuerier. & osor, qui aliquẽ odit. & odiosus, modo q̃ odio habetur. Cice. ò rem grauem, & omnibus odiosam. à quo odi ose aduerbiũ, cum odio. modo molestus. Terent. Si porrò esse odiosi pergitis. Nam & odium à ueteribus pro molestia accipiebatur. In osus terminata nomina, partim à nomine descendunt, partim à uerbo, partim ab utroque. Et ea quidem, quæ descendunt à nomine, habitudinem, siue uehementiam, copiam ue, aut affectionem significant, ut animosus, ingeniosus, lacertosus, neruosus, saxosus, aquosus: quod habent in se uehementiã, siue copiam saxorũ, neruorum, lacertorum, ingenij, animi. uinosus, libidinosus, mulierosus, seditiosus, factiosus: quod amãt uinũ, libidines, mulieres, seditiones, factiones. Rursus quæ à uerbo sunt, partim actionem significant, partim passionẽ, partim utrunq;. Studiosus, fastidiosus, stomachosus, iniuriosus, cõtumeliosus, curiosus: qui operam dat studio, qui fastidit, qui stomachatur, qui iniuriam, cõtumeliam facit, qui nimis curat. Odiosus, inuidiosus, passiue accipiũtur (ut diximus) quando à uerbo descendunt: quando uero à nomine ueniunt, significant actionem. Formidolosus, laboriosus, operosus actiue, & passiue capi possunt. Voluptuosus, religiosus, licet à uerbo non ueniant, istis tamen similia sunt, & affectionem significant, siue habitudinem, siue plenitudinem, simulq; actiue accipiũtur, & passiue. uoluptuosus homo, qui uoluptatẽ amat: uoluptuosa res, quæ plena est uoluptatis, qua homo delectatur. ille recipit, hæc recipitur: ita religiosus homo, religiosa sepulchra. Gloriosus, famosus, imperiosus, licet interdũ significẽt eum, qui plenus sit gloria, fama, imperiumq; possideat, tamen sæpius glorioſum hominem dicimus affectantem gloriam, famosum, infamem, & turpem. Imperiosum, ostentatorem imperij in exercenda sæuitia. Quæstuosus, sumptuosus ab affectione magis, quàm ab habitudine, siue plenitudine dicuntur, & ad homines magis pertinẽt, quàm ad rem. Luctuosus uero magis ad rem, ut res luctuosa, quæ luctu plena est. Morosus à more, hoc est à nimia diligentia, & securitate, sicut curiosus à nimia cura, siue peruersa cura. & cerebrosus, à peruerso cerebro. Horat. Donec cerebrosus prosilit unus. id est insanus, & peruersi cerebri. Cerebrũ, cuius diminutiuum est cerebellũ, uiscerum omnium excellentissimum est, proximumq; cœlo capitis, sine carne, sine cruore, sine sordibus. Hic homo sensuũ arcem habet, huc uenarum uis omnis à corde tendit, hic desinit, hic culmen altissimum, hic mentis est regimen: ab eo proficisci tur somnus. Quæ cerebrum non habent, non dormiunt: homo portione maximum, atque humidissimum habet, omniumq; uiscerum frigidissimum, duabusq; supra, subterq; membranis uelatum, quarum alterutram ruptam mortiferum est. Aliud esse, quàm medullam, ex eo percipitur, quod coquẽdo durescat. insunt medio ossicula parua: uni hominum in infantia palpitat: nec roboratur ante primum sermonis exordium. Pãnosus dicitur, qui crasso panno, ac uili opertus est. ATRIA. Prima pars domus, pluralis pro singulari. Atrium prima pars domus appellatur, quæ continet mediam aream, in quam collecta ex omni tecto pluuia descendit. Dictum atrium, uel quia id genus ædificij Atriæ primum in Hetruria fuit institutum, uel quod à terra oriatur, quasi aterarium, uel quod atrum ex fumo esset propter culinam. in atrio enim tria habitacula erant. Vestibulum locus sportularum, qui & ipse Sportula dicebatur, ubi proponebantur eo die, quæ dono danda erant, & culina: quanquam uestibulum proprie locus sit ante ædes, quemadmodum inferius ostendemus. Atrum proprie nigrum significat. unde atritas à ueteribus nigredo dicebatur. Virgili. Quinquaginta atris immanis hiatibus hydra. Idem: Hic piscibus atram improbus ingluuiem. Ex hoc atramentum deducitur, cuius duo genera sunt. Atramentum scriptorum, quod & librarium dicitur. & à tectorijs tectorium, quo in scribendo, ac pingendo utimur: & atramentum sutorium, quod inficiendis pellibus sutores usurpant. Græci à quadam similitudine æris uocant chalcanthum: quippe apud eos æs dicitur χαλκὸν. Vulgo hoc à uitri similitudine uitriolum nominant. fit multis in locis, præcipueq; in Hispania à puteis, stagnisq; æs habentibus. Id genus aquæ decoquitur, ea admista pari mensura dulcis ra dulcis aquæ, & in piscinas ligneas funditur. Immobilibus super has transtris dependent restes lapillis extentæ, quibus adhærens limus uitreis acinis imaginem quandam uuæ reddit, exemptum triginta diebus siccatur. Color est cœruleus spectabili nitore, utrumq; esse creditur. diluendo fit atramentum tingendis aptum corijs, & hoc factitium uocant. Est & aliud genus, quod fossile dicitur, uarijs medicinæ usibus adhibetur, præsertimq; in astringendo: in quo tanta est uis eius, ut furfurum, & leonum ora eo aspergantur, mordere non possint. Hinc etiam atra bilis dicitur, quam Græci melancholiam uocant. nam bilis cholera est, unde bilioſi dicũtur cholerici. Afri tamen bilim uocant semen humanum humi proiectum, & bilutes ueteres dixere bestijs similes, quasi bellutos. Item olus atrum, siue in compositione olisatrum, alio nomine hipposelinum dictum, quod folia habeat subnigriora: propter quod Columella pullum olus appellat: Atq; oleris pulli radix. Quidam etiam smyrnium uocant, à smyrna, id est myrrha, quod lacryma caudicis sui myrrha sit: quidã petroselinon, quod inter petras, & iuxta maceriã seri à ueteribus consueuerit. Gal. ὀνομάζουσι δ' ἐν ῥώμῃ συνήθως ἤδη πάντες οὐ σμύρνιον, ἀλλ' ὁλίσατρον τὸ πετροσέλινον. hoc est: Vocant iam omnes in urbe Roma non smyrnium, sed olisatrum herbã hanc, quæ petroselinũ dicitur. radicem myrrhæ similem odore habet etiam libanotis, quam alio nomine rosmarinum uocamus. Plini. Libanotis radicem habet olisatri, nihil à thure differentem. Sunt qui atriplex quoq; ab atro dictum putent, quod homines pallidos faciat. Pythagoras hanc herbam accusat, tanquã facientem hydropicos, & morbos regios, & pallorem: ac ne in hortis quidẽ aliquid circa id, nisi languidum nasci affirmat. Veteres hanc atreplexum dixere. Item ab atro atritatem pro immanitate dictam constat. & atratum lugubri habitu indutum. & atrocem, hoc est asperum, crudelem, quod qui atro ultu sunt, asperitatem, ac sæuitiam præ se ferunt. Alij tamen atrocẽ à græco potius appellatum censent, quod Græci ἀτρῴωτα appellant quæ cruda sunt: uel ab eo, quod atroces nihil de se timẽt. τρέω enim timere est. ab atrox fit atrocia, & atrocitas, & aduerbium atrociter. Atraces populi sunt Aetoliæ, quibus nomen dedit Atrax Aetoliæ filius. Aliquando etiam atrum pro funesto accipitur. unde atros dies supra diximus eos appellari, qui alio nomine communes, & uulgo Aegyptiaci dicũtur. Ab atterendo autem atrum dictum est, quoniam quæ atteruntur, liuorem contrahunt. Atrium Græci uocant αὐλὴν, propter quod poëtæ quoq; nostri aliquando aulam pro atrio usurpant. Item aulæ principum domus, hoc est regiæ dicuntur. Sene. Notissima uox est eius, qui in cultu regum consenuerat: cum quidam illum interrogaret, quo modo rarissimam rem in aula consecutus esset senectutem: iniurias inquit, accipiendo, & gratias sæpe agendo. Ab hac aulæa dicta sunt uela, & ornamenta, quibus paricẽtes, & aulæ teguntur, quæ parapetasmata, & peristromata nominantur. sicut tapetes, siue tapeta, seu tapetia dicuntur, quibus equi, mensæ, siue pauimenta sternũtur. Plaut. Vt ne peristromata quidem æque sint Cãpanica, neq; Alexandrina belluata consuta tapetia. Virg. Instratos ostro alipedes, pictisq; tapetis. Varro: Et minutæ pictis tapetibus capiunt somnos. Ideo autem ab aula aulæa dicta existimant, quod primũ in aula Attali regis Asiæ inuenta sunt, cui successit populus Romanus. Genus etiã uestimenti est, de quo inferius dicemus. Item adulor uerbum, quod est uoce uel gestu fauorem capio, de quo inferius dicemus, quasi adulor, quod hoc in aulis maxime fieri soleat. quidam tamen à græco potius hoc deriuatum existimant, hoc est ἀπὸ τοῦ δουλεύειν, quod est inseruire. Veteres aulas dicebãt, quas nos dicimus ollas: unde aulicocia uocantur exta, quæ in ollis coquuntur, hoc est elixa: & Plaut. fabulam suam ab aula, hoc est olla inuenta, aululariam nominauit. Aulula aulæ diminutiuum est, & interdum uocatur auxilla. Eosdem pecuniam quoq; in atrio tenere solitos legimus, unde honoratiores serui liminum custodiæ adhibebantur ab atrio atrienses. FERI. Crudelis, quemadmodum supra diximus. hoc autem Neronis epitheton est, qui omnium, quos terra sustulit, crudelissimus fuit: cuius rei illa eius uox insigne testimonium est. Nam cum quidam in sermone communi (ut fieri solet) dixisset: ἐμοῦ θανόντος γαῖα μιχθήτω πυρί, hoc est, me moriente, terra misceatur igni: immò inquit ἐμοῦ ζῶντος, hoc est, me uiuente. Hinc proprium nomen in appellatiuum commutatum est: & Nerones nunc crudeles dicimus, & neroniores, crudeliores. REGIS. Domini. rex proprie dicitur, qui regnum possidet. regna autem dicuntur integræ regiones, quæ ab uno principe, hoc est rege possidentur: ut Galliæ regnum est, & qui Galliam possidet, rex Galliæ dicitur. Sic enim distinctus erat olim orbis terrarum, ut singulæ ferè regiones regna dicerentur, & reges proprios haberent, à quibus & ipsæ regiones appellatæ, quos ad fastigium maiestatis non ambitio popularis, sed uirtus, & spectata inter bonos moderatio prouehebat: populi nullis legibus coërcebantur, arbitria regum pro legibus erant: regna, nationes ipsæ, & morum, ac linguæ similitudo definiebant. Sic Assyriorum rex primus Ninus fuit, sic Aegypti Vizores, sic Syriæ Tanaus, sic aliarum nationum alij reges fuere, quibus principio mos fuit fines imperij tueri, magis quàm proferre. Postea uero gerere inter se bella cœperunt, seq; inuicem regnis spoliare. Sic plurium, ac diuersorum regnorum unus aliquando rex fuit. Quod si non in unius regis, sed in alicuius populi imperium regnum peruenit, fit ex regno prouincia: quod nomen inde tractum est, quod porrò, id est longe uinci uideatur. Prouinciæ enim proprie dictæ sunt longe ab Italia bello acquisitæ: à quibus prouinciales uocati, qui ex prouincijs sunt, siue (ut Vlpianus inquit) qui in prouincia domicilium habent. & prouinciatim aduerbium per singulas prouincias. Et quoniam prætores ad eas gubernandas mitti solebant, factum est etiam, ut ipsi magistratus, & omne opus nobis impositum, prouincia appelletur. Terentius: ò Geta prouinciam cepisti duram. aliquando etiam diuisa sunt regna, & pars una subiecta alicuius imperio, is non rex, sed regulus dictus est, quasi paruus rex. à quo principes, qui hac etiam ætate urbeis aliquas, aut oppida possident, reguli, siue generali uocabulo domini, aut principes dicuntur. quamuis proprie reguli sint filij, aut nepotes regum, dici tamen reges possunt, etiam si unius tantum urbis imperium habeant. Sic principio reges Romanorum dicti sunt, quibus imperium urbis permittebatur. hinc regnum dictum tam ipsa regio subiecta, quàm ipse dominatus. Vnde interregnum proprie appellatur id tempus, quo regnum uacat rege, hoc est ante, quàm in demortui locum nouus rex præficiatur. & interrex, qui interea regis locum tenet. per metaphoram tamen interregnũ est dictum, cum loco magistratus interrex creatur. Liuius: Cum sine curuli magistratu respub. esset, patritij coiere, & interregem creauere. contentio consules ne, an tribuni militum crearentur in interregno, rem complureis dies tenuit. Aliquando rex ponitur pro domino, etiam si per tyrannidem occupauerit imperium, ut hoc loco. Est etiam quando rex capitur pro potentiore, & eo, quem nobis ueluti in patronum eligimus, quem sequamur. Martialis: Qui rex est, regem maxime non habeat. Columella: An honestius duxerim mercenarij salutatoris mendacissimum aucupium circumuolitantis limina potentiorum, somniumq; regis sui rumoribus aucupantis? neque enim roganti quid agatur intus respondere serui dignantur. Item rex aliquãdo pro diuite accipitur. Terẽ. Regem me esse oportuit. & alibi: Quia solæ utuntur his reginæ. à rege regina dicitur regis uxor, uel quæ possidet regnum, etiam si uirum nunquam habuerit, utpote ad quam regnum ex successione peruenit. & regno uerbum, quod est dominor, & regnum possideo. & regia domicilium, & aula regis. & regius, ac regalis, qui rege dignus est. quamuis regium proprie dicatur, quod est regis, ut regius equus, regia iussa: hinc Regium appellatum Cisalpinæ Galliæ oppidum, à Lepido ædificatum, & ob pulchritudinem, atque amœnitatem loci Regiũ nominatum. Item Lepidum, à quibusdam etiam Regiumlepidum. Est tamen & aliud Rhegyum in ultimo Calabriæ, seu Brutiorum sinu, quo loco Sicilia ab Italia dirupta est, sed hoc cum aspiratione, atque y græca litera scribitur. ἀπὸ τοῦ ῥηγνύω dictum, quod est dirumpo. Ab illo Regienses appellati, ab hoc Rhegyni, sicuti Cumani à Cumis oppido Campaniæ, Comenses à Como oppido Galliæ. & Albani ab Alba oppido Latij, & Albenses ab Alba oppido iuxta lacum Fucinum. Item regilla uestis, qua reges utebantur. Plau. Basilicã, an regillam tunicam induam? & regius morbus, quod mulso, quod genus potionis in regum delitijs erat, curaretur (ut Varro sentit) ut alij quia eo morbo affectos, & lecto, & conclaui cultiore, & ludis, & lasciuia uti perutile est, per quæ mens ægrotantis exhilaretur. Idem morbus aurigo antea dicebatur à colore auri, quem bilis per totum corpus diffusa repræsentat. & morbus arquatus, quod cœlestis arcus concolor sit de uirore: uel quod ita stringat humana corpora, ut in arcum ducat. Græci ictericum nominant (ut quidam putant) ἀπὸ τοῦ ἰντεροῦ, hoc est à miluo, quod oculi bile suffusi miluinis oculis similes uidentur. Alij scribunt auem icterum esse, quæ si spectetur, sanari morbum regium, & auem mori: hanc latine uocari galgulum. & regalia exta, quæ potentibus imperium pollicebantur: humilioribus, hereditates: filiosfamiliâs, donationẽ. & regiesco, quod ueteres usurparunt pro cresco. & regie, ac regaliter aduerbia, pro splendide, & munifice. & regifugium sacrum, quo die Tarquinius fugit ex urbe Roma. & regale unguentum, de quo supra diximus, quo Parthorum reges utebantur. & regulus, quæ inter omneis ferè aueis minima est, à quibusdam regaliolus creditur esse. Suetonius: Pridie autem easdem idus auem regaliolum cum laureo ramo Pompeianæ curiæ se inferentem, uolucres uarij generis è proximo nemore persecutæ, ibidem discerpserunt. Rex à rego deriuatur, quod est guberno. rego autem dictum, quasi rem ago. Ab hoc fit regula, de qua supra diximus. à quo regulo uerbum, quod est dirigo. & regulare, quod secundum regulam est, uel quod in regulam trahi potest. Vnde æs regulare dictũ est, quod à caldario, & coronario ære differt. Coronarium est, quod tenuatur in laminas, taurorumq; felle tinctũ; speciem auri præbet in histrionum coronis. Caldariũ, quod funditur tantum, maleis fragile est. Regulare, quod obsequitur maleis, & ab alijs ductile appellatur. sed & in cæteris metallis regulare dicitur, quod excoctum igni diligentius est, uitijsq; purgatum. Item à rego fit regio, quod prius quàm prouinciæ fierẽt, regiones sub regibus erant, atque ab ijs regebantur. postea maiores in urbe partes regiones appellari cœptæ. unde fit aduerbium regionatim, hoc est per singulas regiones. & è regione, hoc est aduerso, quod ueteres etiam conregione dixerunt. Eius præterea uerbi passiuum est regor. à quo rectũ dicitur, modo quod regitur, sicut rector, qui regit, modo quod stat, atque erectũ est. à quo rectæ appellatæ sunt uestimenta uirilia, quæ à stantibus, & ab imo in altum texuntur. modo quod nullam in partem flectitur, cuius contrarium est obliquum. unde per metaphoram recti homines dicuntur iusti, & rectum iustum. Item perfectum officium, quod Græci uocant κατόρθωμα. nam ὀρθὸν rectum græce dicitur. à quo orthopnœa, & orthopnœci, de quibus alibi dicemus. & orthographia, recta scriptura. & orthopeia, emendata (ut Quintilianus definit) cum suauitate expositio. Et Orthochorybantij populi Scythiæ, quæ est in Asia. & rectitas, siue rectitudo iustitia. & recte, bene iuste. & recta aduerbium. Plin. Cum domum recta proficisceretur. &: Non assis faciunt, euntq; rectà. & apud grammaticos rectus primus casus, qui tamen improprie dicitur casus, cum nominatiuus à nullo flectatur, cæteri casus ab eo flectãtur, & cadãt, atq; ideo nũcupentur casus. Rego etiam aliquãdo capitur pro rectum teneo. Cornelius: Cum nimio dolore regere caput non posset, hoc est rectum tenere. Ab hoc uerbo composita fiunt arrigo, proprie de uirili membro dicitur. Martia. Arrigis ad uetulas. Veruntamen ad alia quoq; transfertur. Terent. Arrige aureis Pamphile, hoc est erige, eleua. nam & erigo ex è præpositione, & rego componitur. Item surgo à sursum, & rego, quod proprie significat erigor. Teren. Vt triduo hoc perpetuo è lecto nequeat surgere. Hinc surgere uenti dicuntur, cum uelut se erigentes, flare incipiunt. Virgilius: Et fando surgenteis demoror austros. Idem: Continuo uentis surgentibus, aut freta ponti Incipiunt agitata tumescere, sicut è contrario quãdo flare desinunt, ponere, & residere dicuntur. Idem: Cum uenti posuere, omnisq; repente resedit Flatus. Aliquando etiam surgo per metaphoram pro cresco usurpatur. Idem: Queis sine, nec potuere seri, nec surgere messes. Idem: Ascanium surgentem, & spes hæredis Iuli Respice. Veteres surrego pro surgo, & surregit pro surgit scripsere. Ab hoc surrectio deriuatur. Item composita ab eo fiunt assurgo, quod est erigor, requiritq; datiuum: fitq; in alicuius honorem officij, aut beneuolentiæ gratia. Assurgunt enim sani, ut stent, aut obuiam eant: assurgunt ægroti, ut sedeant. hinc aduenienti magistro omnes assurgimus. Et pater, cum iaceret in lecto, redeunti è militia filio assurrexit, optatissimum illud caput amplexurus. Virgilius: Vtq; uiro Phœbi chorus assurrexerit omnis, hoc est, honorem fecerit. Exurgo, è lecto surgo. Cicero. Excitamini omnes, atq; exurgite. Præsurgo, ante surgo. Insurgo, in aliquem insilio. Resurgo, rursus surgo. unde qui reuixerunt, resurrexisse dicuntur. & ab hoc fit resurrectio, quæ proprie dicitur de defunctis. Consurgo, simul surgo. Sallustius: Consurrexere omnes, simulque in eum impetum fecerunt. Item surrigo eiusdem significationis est. Virgilius: Toti surrigit aureis. Item dirigo, quod proprie est obliquum emendo. Plinius: Tum regis dirigendus, ne ullam in partem inclinet. Plautus dirigere aliquando capit pro dissidere. Corrigo, emendo, à quo corrector, emendator. & correcte, emendate. Corgo uero ueteres pro eo, quod est profecto usi fuere. Irrigo autem nõ à regendo, sed à rigando deductum est. Rigare enim madefacere est. Seuerinus: Et ueris elegi fletibus ora rigant. unde irrigare dicimus adaquare, & quasi riuos in agrum, aut hortum deducere, à quo irriguus dicitur, & qui irrigatur. Varro: Ager qui est irriguus. & qui irrigat. Virgi. Irriguumq; bibant uiolaria fontem. hinc riuus dictus, quasi riguus. Est autem riuus (ut Vlpianus inquit) locus depressus per longitudinem, quò aqua decurrit. à quo fit deriuo uerbum, & passiuum eius deriuor, quod est deduco, & deducor; & deriuatio, & deductio. & deriuatiuum, quod ab alio deducitur. Item riuo, & corriuo, quod proprie de brutis dicitur, cum potandi gratia ad eundem riuum conueniunt. unde riuales, & corriuales dicti, qui duo, aut plures eandem amicam habent, uel quod ad eundem ri-

uum accedere uideantur, uel quod inuicem contendant, ut feræ, quæ ex eodem riuo haustum petunt. Terent. Militem ego riualem recipiendum censeo. Rigo à græco deductum est: quoniã ea, quæ irrigamus, frigefacere uidemur. Apud græcos autem ῥιγῶ algeo est. Vnde ῥῖγος dicitur frigus. Ab hoc fit rigeo, quod proprie est frigeo. à quo rigesco. per metaphoram tamẽ, quoniã quæ frigent, horrent, & durescunt, rigere, & rigescere pro indurari usurpamus. Virg. Vestesq; rigescũt Indutæ, cæduntq; securibus humida uina. Hinc rigor, non modo pro frigore, sed etiam pro duritie capitur. Idem: Et ferri rigor. & rigidus modo frigidum significat. Virgilius: Tellurem Borrea rigidam spirante moueri. modo durũ, unde rigidus homo dicitur asper. & rigiditas, asperitas. Aliquando etiam erectum, quod non nisi ex duritie accidit. Idem: Tum rigidas motare cacumina quercus. & rigide aduerbium dure, atque aspere. & obrigere, frigore contrahi, & quasi obdurescere. Seneca: Ita membra frigore obriguerãt, ut seminecem putaremus. RADIABANT. Fulgebant propter magnitudinem atrij aërem undique admittentis, uel allusit ad nomen domus Neronianæ, quæ aurea dicta est. Radiare, fulgere est, dictum à radio, qui proprie est splendor à sole micans. Varro: O summe sol, qui totam hanc mundi compagem tuis radijs illustras. Transfertur etiam ad fulgorem oculorum. Plini. Cuius ex oculis radij nocte micantes cernuntur. Gellius: Stoici causas esse uidendi dicunt radiorum ex oculis in ea, quæ uideri queunt, emissionem. Item radius dicitur uirga philosophorum, qua geometræ lineas indicant. Virgil. Descripsit radio totum qui gentibus orbem. Item instrumentum textoris, quod uulgo druellam nominant. Virgilius: Excussi manibus radij, reuolutaq; pensa. Radij etiam rotarum dicuntur. Idem: Hinc radios triuere rotis. & instrumentum est, quo raduntur mensuræ, quod alio nomine dicitur hostorium. Plautus: Dij, deæq; omnes tantã nobis lætitiam, tot gaudia sine radio cumuletis. Item oliuæ genus oblongæ. Virg. Nec pingueis unam in faciem nascũtur oliuæ Orchades, & radij, & amara pausia bacca. à radio fit compositum irradio, quod est illustro, & quasi intus radio. Plaut. Faciunt, quod consueuerunt, irradiant salibus mensam, omneis ad risum prouocant. HIC. In hoc loco. etenim hic, illic, istic, hinc, illinc, istinc, hac, illac, istac, huc, illuc, istuc, horsum, illorsum, istorsum, aduerbia localia, modo demonstratiua sunt, modo relatiua: sicut pronomina, à quibus deducuntur, quæ sunt hic, ille, iste. hæc enim aliquando demonstrandi uim habent. Teren. Viden' tu illum Thais? Virg. Sic Iuppiter ille monebat. Aliquando referendi. Seneca: Et qui hoc facit, sanè prudẽs appellandus est. & tunc hic eandem significationem habet, quàm is. & in nominatiuo pluralis numeri, ac masculino, & fœminino genere sola scriptura mutuo distinguitur. hi enim, & hæ cum aspiratione, & una uocali, ab eo, quod est hic, & hæc, descendunt: ij uero, & eæ cum duabus uocalibus, & sine aspiratione, ab is, & ea deducũtur. Hoc autem inter hæc tria uel pronomina, uel aduerbia interest: quod hic significat rem, siue locum loquenti proximum. Cicero: Nihil hic noui est, quod ad te possim scribere. Iste uero, siue istic rem, aut locum proximum ei, cum quo loquimur. Idem: Tu istis faucibus, istis lateribus, ista gladiatoria totius corporis firmitate tantum uini exhauseras, ut tibi necesse esset in conspectu populi uomere postridie. Ille, uel illic locũ, aut rem remotam ab utroq;. Plau. Quis est, quem uidemus uenientem pannosum, ac squallidum? Illéne est noster Syrus? Plinius: Hæc omnia ad uos ex illa prouincia comportantur, illinc succi, illinc odores, illinc extremo orbe quæsitæ luxuriæ opes. Aliquando tamen iste accipitur pro hic. Cice. Cum isto tempore stent cum gladijs armati. Quintilia. Iuuenis iste, de quo summa in rebus humanis monstra finguntur. Nonnunquam etiam ille per dignitatem quandam, aut eminentiam ponitur, ut Architas ille Tarẽtinus, Cato ille Censorius, Alexander ille magnus. Aliquando maiorem duntaxat expressionem significat. Virgilius: Ille ego, qui quondam gracili modulatus auena Carmen. Interdum ille ponitur pro is. Horatius: Qui didicit patriæ quid debeat, & quid amicis: Quo sit amore parens, quo frater amandus, & hospes: Quod sit conscripti, quod iudicis officium, quæ partes in bellum missi ducis: Ille profecto reddere personæ scit conuenientia cuique. Hieronymus: Non qui seipsum commẽdat, ille probatus est, sed quem dominus commendat. Hic, & is alio etiam modo ab autoribus usurpari solet, ut Alexander paruis copijs fretus, superauit Darium cum infinito exercitu, & id in adolescẽtia. Itẽ hoc modo pauca uestis, & ea detrita, ac sordida. Hic aliquando accipitur pro talis. Et quando aduerbium est pro tali loco. Virg. Hic pietatis honos? sic nos in sceptra reponis? Idem: Hũc ego te Euriale aspicio? Plautus: Hic'ne esse oportuit, qui frugi essent? hoc est in tali loco, & tam sordido. Hæc in plurali numero, & genere neutro. Aliquando de fœminis dicitur. mos enim ueterum fuit, ut neutra iungerent fœmininis. Virgilius: Hæc quoque non cura nobis leuiore tuendæ, cum de capris loquatur. Terent. Hæc adornant, ut lauent, cum sermo sit de ancillis. Quod si componatur cum præpositione ad significat præterea. Sallustius: Cognoueram paruis copijs bella gesta cũ opulentis regibus. Ad hæc scientia belli Gallos ante Romanos fuisse. Ab hic tam pro nomine, quàm aduerbio, hicce, & hiccine fiunt. illud eiusdem cum hic significationis est. Hoc semper interrogatiue ponitur, quasi hic ne? Item ab eius genitiuo fit compositum huiusmodi, & huiuscemodi. nã ab is, isce fit, sicut ab hic, hicce. Ab is deriuatur idem, quod accipitur pro is demum. Aliquando tamen poni solet pro etiam. Cicero: Et huic coniuncta beneficentia, quam eandem uel benignitatem, uel liberalitatem appellare licet, id est quam etiam. Quint. Si causam ueneficij dicat adultera, non Marci Catonis damnata iudicio uidetur, qui nullam adulteram non eandem esse ueneficam dixit. Ab idem fit itidem, quasi item idem, quod significat similiter, eodem modo. & identidem, quod est frequenter eodem modo. Plinius: Centummillia numorum pro domo eius, identidem promittens. Idem: Stupeo patres conscripti, nec dum satis, aut oculis meis, aut auribus credo, atq; identidem me, an audierim interrogo. Item ab is deriuatur ibi aduerbium, quod dicitur, dum locus semel demonstratur. à quo ibidem, dum locus sæpius demonstratur. & inibi, quod aliquando significat in eodem loco, aliquando sic, nonnunquam etiam mox. Apuleius: Multa inibi dicta sunt, quæ commemorare non est opus. Cæcilius: Liber ne es? Non sum. uerum inibi est. Plau. Nos domum properamus, uos inibi adeste. & nullibi, quod significat in nullo loco. & ideo, & idcirco quæ significant ob eandem causam. Veteres im in accusatiuo pro eum dixere, & inde ex ea parte, seu loco, à quo indidem ex eadem parte, siue ex eodẽ loco. Plautus: Indidem unde oritur facito, uti facias stultitiam sepelibilem. Item em pro eam, & eum pro eorum. Is etiam urbs fuit à Babylone distans itinere dierum octo, apud quam est Is fluuius, quo bitumen totius Babylonis subministrabatur. Ismenius uero fluuius est Bœotiæ ab Ismeno filio Pelasgi cognominatus. VBI. In quo loco. Vbi enim aliquando aduerbium loci est, ut hoc loco, aliquando temporis. & tunc significat postquam. Cicero: Vbi id audiuimus, statim profecti sumus. Quando autem ubi est aduerbium loci, aliquando interrogatiuum est. Plaut. Vbi id audisti? Aliquando relatiuum. Virg. Vbi Aeacidæ telo iacet Hector, ubi ingẽs Sarpedon. Ab hoc fi unt, alicubi, hoc est in aliquo loco. Necubi, in nullo loco. Vbiuis, & ubilibet, in quolibet loco. Vbicunq;, in quocunque loco. Vbinam interrogatiuū, in quo loco. COLOSSVS. Statua ænea Domitiani ingens equestris, quam post uictoriā germanicam supra ingentem molem columnarum pulcherrimis marmoribus constructam sibi dicauit in foro, de qua Papinius: Quæ super imposito moles gemmata colosso, Stat latium complexa forum. Et Martialis alibi: Inde sacro ueneranda petes palatia cliuo, Plurima qua summi fulget imago ducis. Colossi dicuntur statuarum moles turribus pares, uel à Colasse artifice, q solis colossum, qui Rhodi fuit traditur fecisse, uel ut quidam putāt ἀπὸ τοῦ κολάζειν, quod cruciare est, quia διὰ τὸ μέγεθος καταπληκτικὸς ὢν οὐκ ἦν ἐράσμιος οὗτος, οὐ δὲ σεβάσμιος. διὰ τὸ ἀφιλοχρήματον θαυμαστὸς ἦν. hoc est, propter magnitudinem toruus aspectu inamabilis erat, nec cultu, ac ueneratione dignus, ob sumptus magnitudinem. Talis fuit in Capitolio Apollo translatus à Lucullo ex Apollonia Ponti urbe triginta cubitorum. Talis in campo Martio Iupiter à Claudio Cæsare dicatus, qui à uicinitate theatri Pompeianus dicebatur. Talis & Tarenti factus à Lysippo quadraginta cubitorum. Scribit Plinius ante omneis alios in admiratione fuisse solis colossum Rhodi à Colasse Lysippi discipulo factum septuaginta cubitorum altitudinis, post quinquagesimum sextum annum terræmotu prostratum, qui iacens quoq; miraculo est. Pauci pollicem eius amplectuntur, maiores sunt digiti, quàm pleræque statuæ. Duodecim annos perfectum fuisse tradunt, trecentorum precio talentorum. Visus & Romæ est Apollinis colossus in bibliotheca templi Augusti quinquaginta pedum à pollice, nō minus pulchritudine, quàm ære spectabilis. & Sp. Seruilius Iouem fecit, qui erat in Capitolio uictis Samnitibus, è pectoralibus eorum, ocreisq;, & galeis tanta amplitudine, ut à latiario Ioue conspiceretur. Reliquijsq; limæ suam statuam fecit, quæ ante pedes eius simulachri conspiciebatur. Nero sibi colossum à Zenodoro fieri fecit, centum decem pedum longitudine, qui postea damnatis sceleribus, & sæuitia eius principis, uenerationi solis dicatus fuit. Dignum memoria uidetur fuisse Rhodi præter eum, quem diximus centum alios colossos minores quidem, ueruntamen taleis, ut singuli per se eum locum nobilitare potuissent. SYDEREVS. Altus quemadmodum supra diximus.

PROPIVS. Magis ex propinquo. Prope modo significat iuxta, dum præpositio est. Curtius: Cum prope id oppidum copiæ constitissent. Modo ex propinquo, ut hoc loco. Cum uero est aduerbium significat ferè. Plinius: Et in foribus templi propè collapsus expauit. à propè fit depropè, quod significat ex propinquo, & propior comparatiuum, hoc est propinquior, & proximus propinquissimus, ac nobis adhærens etiam si solus sit. Veteres tamen non solum propinquum, & nobis hærentem proximum dicebant, uerumetiam longe remotum, si tamen inter duo discreta nihil medium extitisset. Virgil. Proximus huic longo, sed proximus interuallo. Paulus iurisconsultus proximum dicit esse eum, quem nemo antecedit. Supremum uero, quem nemo sequitur. Aliquando proximus pro maxime propitio accipitur, & propior pro magis propitio. Varro: Gradiuum testor, qui deus est nobis omnium proximus. Martialis: Nec propior, quàm Phœbus amet. Item proximus aliquando non habet uim superlatiui, sed propinquum significat, quapropter comparatiuum facit proximior, quod est idem, quod propinquior & ab eo fit proximitas, & proxime aduerbium. Veteres proximi tertiæ declinationis dixerunt pro proximo. Cato: Die proximi hoc dixit. Eadem declinatione & crastini, & pristini usi sunt. Item à propè fit propinquus, & propinquior, & propinquissimus, & propinquitas, & propinque. Propinqui non modo ij dicuntur, qui iuxta nos sunt, sed interdum etiam affines. Vnde & propinquitas pro affinitate accipitur. & propinquo uerbum. & appropinquo, quod significat proximior fio. à quo appropinquatio, & proprium, quod significat peculiare, & id, quod uniuscuiusque est. hoc enim maxime propè est, quod proprium est. Virgilius: Nunc mihi da proprium uirgo sata nocte laborem. à quo proprietas notæ significationis. & proprie aduerbium peculiariter. Quorum contraria sunt improprium, improprietas, improprie. Aliquando tamen proprium pro diurno ponitur. Sisenna: At qui metu, & suspitione propriam habere quietem non poterat. Aliquando pro perpetuo. Plaut. Atq; illum amatorem tibi proprium futurum in uita. Virgilius: Da propriam Tymbræe domum. Idem: Propria hæc si dona fuissent. Teren. Ego uitam deorum propterea sempiternam esse arbitror, quod uoluptates eorum propriæ sunt. & propediem, quasi prope est dies, quo hoc futurum est. & propemodum, quasi iuxta mensuram. Idem enim significat, quod ferè. & propter, quod modo idem significat, quod propè. Virgilius: Et uiridi in campo templum de marmore ponam Propter aquam. Modo causalis præpositio est. Idem: Te propter Libyæ gentes, Numidumq; tyranni Odere. hoc est tua causa. ab hoc fit propterea aduerbium, quod significat ob eam causam. & quapropter, hoc est propter quam causam. Item à propè, & ito itas fit propitium, quod significat placidum, fauens. etenim qui nobis fauent, propè nos ire consueuerunt. Ab hoc fit propitio, siue propitior, quod est placo, & propitium reddo. & propitiabile, ad propitiandum aptum. Vnde propitiabilis hostia dicitur, & propitialis. Item propitiabile, quod facile flectitur, ut propitiabile numen. Item propitiatio, hoc est sacrificium. Nec me latet esse nonnullos, qui propitium dictum uolunt, quasi prorsus pium, hoc est ualde pium. Porrò enim aliquando ualde significat. Terentius: Dehinc ut quiescant porrò moneo, & desinant maledicere, maledicta ne noscant sua. Proprie tamen porrò eo modo ponitur, quo uero, & autem, quæ collocantur frequenter in oratione duntaxat, ut sententiam à sententia distinguant. Sed hoc ab illis differt, quod illæ nunquam in fronte sententiæ collocantur, porrò uero sæpius. Quintilia. Porrò qui consensum defendit, non absolutionem sceleris petit, sed licentiam per illa diceremus. quū uero, uel qui autem consensum defendit. Apud aliquos autem, præsertimq; apud poëtas porrò pro longe, certe, postea, ultra accipitur. Virgilius: Hinc maxima porrò accepit Roma, & patrium seruauit honorem, id est postea, uel post longum interuallum. & est aduerbium temporis. Item à propè secundum quosdam fit propero, quod est festino. nam qui in aliquem properat, id agit, ut illi propinquior sit. Ab hoc fit properatio, & properantia, & quo ueteres usi sunt properitas. Item aduerbia propere, & properatim, & properiter. & quo plerique utuntur, properanter. Sallustius: Tum propere consul educit exercitum. Cæcilius: Properatim in tenebris istuc confectum est opus. Accius: Remisq; nixi properanter nauim in fugam tradunt. Catullus: Animula miserrima properiter abit. Properus etiam ab eodem deducitur, hoc est celer, cuius comparatiuum properior, & superlatiuum properrimus ueteres usurparunt. Plautus: Properam uideo ancillam uenientem. Properare, & festinare antiqui distinxerunt: Cato: Qui unum quod mature transigit, properat, qui multa simul incipit, nec perficit, festinat. Alij dicunt properare esse animi studiose ad aliquam rem contendentis, festinare corporis necessitati obsequentis. Virgilius: Et medijs properas aquilonibus

aquilonibus ire per altum. Idem: Festinate uiri, nam quæ tam sera moratur segnicies? Nos tamen propero à præparo compositum existimamus, ut inferius dicemus. VIDET. Aspicit, cernit. Video enim idem significat, quod cerno. Virgilius: Quæq; ipse miserrima uidi, Et quorum pars magna fui. Interdum transfertur ad animū. Ouidius: Video meliora, proboq;, deteriora sequor. Nonnunquam etiam pro curo accipitur. Plautus: Tu domi uidebis, hoc est parabis. Idem: Intus para, cura, uide quid opus sit, quod idem fit intueor. à quo æditus dictus, qui ædes curat sacras. Ab hoc fit frequentatiuum uiso, & ab eo aliud frequentatiuum uisito. uisere, & uisitare, proprie ad officium pertinent, & eiusdem ferè sunt significationis. Hinc fit uisitatio, & reuiso, quod proprie significat reuertor, ut iterum uideam. Terent. Reuiso quid agat Pamphilus. Video facit passiuum uideor. à quo uisus, & uisio pro ipso uidendi actu, sicut gustus pro actu gustandi, odoratus pro actu odorandi, auditus pro actu audiendi, tactus pro actu tangendi. Virgilius: Horrendum uisu. & uisum pro eo, quod uidemus. Apuleius: Quo non modo uisa à nobis, sed etiam ab alijs audita referrem. Hinc uisa somnia dicuntur: & nocturna, siue etiam diurna phantasmata, quæ etiam uigilantibus apparent. Virgilius: Hoc uisum nulli, non ipsi effata sorori est. Visiones etiam phantasiæ dicuntur. Quintilianus: Quas φαντασίας Græci uocant, nos sanè uisiones appellamus: per quas imagines rerum absentium ita repræsentantur animo, ut eas cernere oculis, ac præsenteis habere uideamur. Has quisquis bene conceperit, is erit in affectibus potentissimus, quale est apud Virgiliū: Excussi manibus radij, reuolutáque pensa. Hinc etiam euidentia, quam alio nomine illustrationem: Græci ἐνέργειαν uocant. Alij ὑποτύπωσιν, proposita quædam forma rerum ita expressa uerbis, ut cerni potius uideatur, quàm audiri. & euidenter aduerbium, hoc est clare, dilucide, expresse. à uideo composita sunt transuideo, quod est uideo aliquid per corpus aliquod perspicuum. Præuideo, ante uideo. Plinius: Id nos futurum præuideramus. Prouideo similiter futurum aliquid uideo ante, quàm factum sit. Idem: Hoc enim sapientis est, omnia, quæ uentura sunt, prouidere. Quoniam uero ea, quæ prouidemus, si mala sunt, aut uitamus, aut emēdamus, factum est, ut prouidere modo uitare, seu cauere sit. Terentius: Quæ si non astu prouidentur. modo remediū præbere. Cicero: Satis iam omnibus, quæ necessaria erant, prouisum putabant. Hinc prudentia, & prouidentia dicuntur. Idem: Id enim sapientis est prouidere, ex quo sapientia appellata est prouidentia. Idem: Quid plura? Sic mihi persuasi, sic sentio, cum tanta celeritas animorū sit, tanta memoria præteritorum, futurorumq; prudentia. Quidam prudentiam à prouidentia ita distingunt, ut prudentiam dicant in rebus humanis, prouidentiam in diuinis. Alij prudentiam definiunt rerum bonarum, & malarum, & utrarunq; scientiam: prouidentiam uero, per quam futurum aliquid uidetur ante, quàm factum sit, unde prouidentiam aliquando pro deo ponimus. Quintilia. Nullam ego res humanas despicere prouidentiam reor. Idem de Cicerone: Dono quodam prouidētiæ genitus, in quo omneis uireis suas eloquentiam experiretur. Item à prouideo fit prouidus, hoc est ante uidens, uel solers, diligens. & prouide aduerbium solerter, diligenter. & prudens, quasi prouidens, quod interdum significat sapiens, interdum sciens. Vnde iuris prudentes dicuntur, qui ius sciunt. & iuris prudentia, iuris scientia. & prudens feci, id est sciens me hoc facere feci, quemadmodum è contrario imprudens hoc feci, id est non putaui me hoc facere, quod feci. hoc tamen inter se differunt prudens, & sciens: quod prudens est, qui intelligētia sua aliquid cognoscit, sciens, qui alterius indicio rem percipit: hoc est prudens per se, sciens per alios. Item prudenter aduerbium, quod modo scienter significat, modo sapienter. & imprudentia pro inscitia, & insipientia, siue stultitia. & imprudenter pro insipienter, & stulte. Item à uideo fit euideo, hoc est clare, & expresse uideo. à quo euidens clarus. & euidenter clare. Item inuideo, de quo unà cum ab eo deriuatis late superius disseruimus. à uideo etiam fit uisibile, quod uideri potest. & inuisibile, quod non potest uideri. & uidelicet aduerbium confirmandi, quasi uidere licet. Terent. Videlicet de psaltria hac audiuit, hoc est certe audiuit: sicut scilicet, quasi scire licet. Virgilius: Scilicet is superis labor est, ea cura quietos sollicitat. & ilicet, quasi ire licet, ueluti iam finis rei sit. Plautus: Ilicet hoc curato Samio. Ilicet etiam pro statim accipitur. Virgilius: Ilicet ignis edax summa ad fastigia tecti Voluitur. Item à uideo uideor deponens, ut uideor tibi bonus, uisus mihi fuit imprudens. In quo notandum est rustice quosdam ita loqui: uidetur tibi quod recte faciam, & mihi nō uidetur quod recte loquaris, & uobis uidetur, quod male faciamus. sic enim dicendum est, si latine loqui uelimus. Videor tibi recte facere, & nō uideris mihi recte loqui, & uidemur uobis malefacere, & alia huiusmodi similiter. Sunt etiam qui auidum à non uidendo dictum putant. Auidus enim proprie dicitur, qui propter nimiam cupiditatem non uidet quid agat. à quo auide aduerbium cupide. & auiditas, cupiditas. & aueo, cupio. de quo auarus, qui nimium cupidus est pecuniæ. & auaritia, habendi cupiditas. & auare aduerbium tenaciter. & comparatiua, & superlatiua eorum auarior, auarissimus, auarius, auarissime. Quidam etiam auarum, quasi auidum æris dictum putant. & ab auido ita distinguunt, ut auarus semper in malam partem accipiatur. Auidus autem etiam rerum honestarum dicatur. Sallustius: Laudis auidi, pecuniæ liberales erant. Auara terra dicitur, cum id, quod in se recipit ampliore fœnore non reddit. Auere etiam à nimia cupiditate pro gaudere accipitur. Vnde salutantes quoque aue dicimus, hoc est gaude, lætare. ET. Atq; & coniunctio aliquando copulatiua est. Plaut. Collaudato formam, & faciem, & uirtutes commemorato. Aliquando ponitur pro id est. Idem: Annos natus iam sexaginta, & senex. Nonnunquam pro quia. Virgilius: Audieras, & fama fuit. Martialis: Quod nummos cernis, mitti nos credis amice, Falleris, & nummos ista tabella rogat. Quintilia. Has primum audiat puer, harum uerba effingere imitando conabitur, & natura tenacissimi sumus eorum, quæ rudibus animis percipimus. Interdum uenustatis gratia duplicatur, estq; completiua coniunctio. Virgilius: Multum ille & terris iactatus, & alto. Plerunque sententiarum initijs competit. Quintilia. Et finitæ quidem sunt partes duæ, quas hæc professio pollicetur. Est etiam quando seruit affectui, & quasi interrogandi uim habet. Cicero: Et sunt, qui de uia Appia loquantur, taceant de curia. Idē: Et ad eum legatos de pace mittemus, qui pacis nuntios repudiauit. Et postea miramur, quare id moleste ferat populus Romanus. Sæpe etiam ponitur pro quamuis. Idē: Defendi legem Voconiam magna uoce, bonisq; lateribus, & uidetis annos meos: ac si dixisset, quamuis sum ita senex. Item pro etiam, quod tamen apud Ciceronem nunquam reperitur. Quintilianus: Tamen si quid aduersus te ipse commisit, sit hostis & meus. Cicero dixisset: Sit hostis etiam meus. Virgilius: Natus & ipse dea. Quandoque etiam tum, & quanquam, copulatiuæ coniunctiones pro disiunctiuis ponuntur. Sicut disiunctiuæ pro copulatiuis. Paulus iuriscōsultus coniūctam, uel disiunctam orationem accipit ex mente pronuntiantis, quamuis nec coniunctionē habeat, nec disiunctionem. Coniuncta pro disiun-

Eis accipiuntur (ut Labeo asserit) quemadmodum in illa stipulatione: Mihi, hæredíq; meo, te hæredemq; tuum. Item disuncta pro cõiunctis, ut cum dicimus: Super pecunia, tutelaue sua, cum tutor seperatim sine pecunia dari non possit. sed dubitandum uideri potest, uerba illa quomodo accipienda sint, ope, & consilio, utrum ex sententia coniungentium, an separantium: uidetúrque melius, quod Labeo scribit, separatim accipienda: quia aliud factum est eius, qui ope, aliud eius, qui consilio furtum fecit. Sic enim alij condici potest, alij non potest. Et sanè post ueterum autoritatem conuentum est, ut nemo uideatur furtum fecisse, nisi & consilium malignum habuerit, nec consilium habuisse nocendi, nisi & factum secutum fuerit. Ab & cõposita fiunt etsi, & tametsi, quæ significant quamuis. Plini. Dedit enim quantum maximum potuit, daturus amplius, si potuisset: tametsi quid huiusmodi dari potest maius, quàm gloria, laus, & æternitas? Quintilianus: Etsi iudices in hac aspernima conditione fragilitatis humanæ hæc omnibus natura est, ut sua cuiq; calamitas præcipue misera, atq; intoleranda uideatur. Item etiam ex et, et iam, quod significat quoq. Plau. Túne etiam id rescisti miser? & etiamnum eiusdem significationis. Plinius: Quod eo magis miror, si etiamnum Homero prodente Aegyptus non erat. Item enim, quod significat quia. & hoc solum differt ab enim, quod enim nunquam primum locum sortitur in oratione. Suetonius: Par enim utriusq; arrogãtia fuit. Etenim uero aliquando primum, aliquando secundum locum obtinet. Plinius: Etenim multa de hac magi tradiderunt, quæ non sunt à nobis commemoranda. Seneca: Quis etenim inter tot corporis cruciatus, felicem esse quenquã posse existimat? PEGMATA. Moles pluratiuus numerus pro singulari. eam enim molem intelligit, super qua impositus erat colossus Domitiani. Pegma græcum uocabulũ est. etenim ἀπὸ τοῦ πήγω, quod est figo, πῆγμα dicitur. significãtque machinam in qua statuæ collocantur, & quasi figuntur ad illas sustinendas, siue aliud quicquam eiusmodi. Interdum pegmata cum ludicris producebantur in scænam pueris, etiam considentibus ex lignis, & tabulis, quæ constabant uario picturæ genere. Iuuena. Et pegma, & pueros inde ad uelaria raptos. Claudium tradunt obiecisse aliquando bestijs, qui pegma in scænam parum feliciter produxissent. Scribit Plin. Caium principem in circum pegma duxisse, in quo fuere argenti pondo centum uigintiquatuor. CELSA. Alta, sublimia, de quo supra diximus. MEDIA VIA. hoc est quod Papinius inquit: Stat latium complexa forum. Viam definiunt esse dimidium actum, qua potest ire uehiculum. Paulus Iurisconsultus uiam constituit inquit uel latiorem octo pedibus, uel angustiorem posse, ut tamen eam latitudinem habeat, qua uehiculum ire possit, alioquin iter esse, non uiam. Abusiue tamen usurpamus uiam pro omni loco, per quem habere iter omnibus licet. Plinius: Cum te de uia uocassem. Aliquando accipitur pro itinere, hoc est pro ipso actu ambulandi. Cicero: Cumq; de uia languerem, & mihimet displicerem. Interdum pro ratione. Virg. Inueni germana uiam gratare sorori, Quæ mihi reddat eum. Nonnunquã pro consuetudine. Terentius: Sed uia peruulgata patrum quotidie accusabam. Hinc uiatores dicti, qui magistratibus parebant, homines q; ex agris ad magistratus frequenter euocabant. Cicero: à uilla in senatum accersabantur, & Curius, & cæteri senes, ex quo qui eos accersebant, uiatores nominati sunt. Item à uia auium, & iniuium dicitur, per quod iri non potest. Vnde auem quoque quidam appellatam putant, quasi sine uia, ut inferius dicemus. & peruium, per quod facile transitur. Et præuium, quod antecedit. Cicero: Præuius auroræ, solis, noctisq; satelles. Itẽ Biuium, quod duas uias habet. triuium, quod treis. quadriuium quod quatuor. Vnde Dianam Triuiam appellatam superius ostendimus. Et triuialis scientia grammatice dicta, quia in triuijs docebatur. Triuialis uero lingua uulgaris, qua in triuijs pueri grammaticam discentes utebantur. Item deuiũ, quod à uia remotum est. & deuiare, à uia recta recedere. Abusiue tamen pro delectare ponitur. & deuius, qui à uia recedit. Et dubius, quasi duas uias uidens, & utram eligat nesciens. de quo & eius deriuatiuis inferius dicemus. Et uiaticum, quicquid iter agenti necessarium est. unde est illud prouerbium: Suam cuiq; artem pro uiatico esse. Veteres tamen aliquando uiaticũ pro facultate, siue apparatu posuere. Quintus Claudius in annalibus: Simul forma, factis, eloquentia, dignitate, acrimonia, confidentia pariter præcellebat, ut facile intelligeretur magnum uiaticum, hoc est magna facultas magnus apparatus. Hoc modo Græci ἐφόδιον, quod proprie uiaticum, hoc est sumptum uiæ significat, ad aliarum quoque rerum apparatus traducunt, ac sæpe ἐφοδίαζε dicunt pro eo, quod est instituc, instrue, aggredere. & obuio, quasi ad uiam eo. à quo obuius, qui alicui occurrit. & obuiam eo, idem quod obuio, quasi ad uiam eo. & uiatorium, quod ad uiam attinet. Vnde uiatorium uas, quo iter agentes ferendi potus gratia utimur. Plinius: Vasa uiatoria ex taxo uinis in Gallia facta mortifera fuisse compertum est. Viare quoque ueteres pro iter facere dixerunt. Via ab eundo deducitur, quasi ia, quod per eam eatur, quamuis aliqui uiam quasi ueiam dictam uelint à uehendo, quod per eam fructus ad uillam uehantur. Iter à uia differt, quod arctius est, quàm uia, nec uehiculum capit, significãtque etiam ipsum actum eundi: & ab eundo dicitur, cuius supinum est itum, siue ab ito, quod frequentatiuum est huius uerbi eo: dicitur q; & in mari iter, & in terra. Virgilius: Hac iter elysium nobis. Terentius: Ain tu tibi hoc incommodum euenisse iter? Non hercle Parmeno uerbis dici potest, quantum re ipsa nauigare incommodum est. facit in genitiuo iteris. Næuius: Ignoti iteris sumus. Tu te scis. Accius: Præstò adsum, exprome quid fers. Nam te longo itere cerno uidere. Veteres etiam itiner dicebant, cuius nominatiuus nunc in usu non est: obliquis autem utimur, cum obliqui huius nominis iter, ab usu discesserint. Varro: Expectant itiner longum sermone leuare. Plautus: Quin tu ergo itiner sequi meum me sines. Iter facere, & iter habere dicimus. Iter facere, ire, proficisci. Plinius: Cum per eam regionem iter facturi essent, quod etiam iter tenere dicimus. Virgilius: Quibus aut uenistis ab oris, Quó ue tenetis iter? Habere uero iter, idem est, quod iturum esse, ut iter habeo ad Cæsarem, hoc est oportet me ire ad Cæsarem, uel iturus sum ad Cæsarem. Cicero: Habebat iter ad Deiotarum regem. At uiam facere, non est iter facere, sed locum, ubi non erat uia, & transitus aperire: sicut uiam munire est reficere, repurgare, interdum lapidibus sternere, quod proprie sternere uiam dicimus. Cicero: Ideó ne Appius ille cæcus uiam muniuit, non qua populus uteretur, sed qua posteri sui latrocinarentur. Quo uerbo etiam per translationem utimur de corporeis ad incorporea. Quintilianus: Propterea quod plurimi autores, quamuis eodem tenderent, diuersas tamen uias munierunt, & in suam quisque induxit sequentes. Quemadmodum autem munire uiam dicimus, ita munire ripam, munire alueum, munire aditum, cum illa uel reficimus, uel paramus. Ab iter fit itero uerbum, quod est rursus aliquid ago, & quasi per iter factum reuertor. Et iterum, quod est rursus: & itineror uerbum, hoc est iter facio, quo Apuleius, & quidam recentiores usi sunt. Et itinerarium uiatorium: unde

itineraria à quibusdam uocantur commentarij earum rerum quæ in itinere acciderunt. Et itidem, atque item, quæ significant similiter, quasi iterum idem. & obiter quod non est, ut Valla, & alij quidam existimarunt, specialiter, sed quod uulgo dicitur incidenter, hoc est præter propositũ, quasi in itinere occurrens. Iuuenalis: Atq; obiter leget. Plinius: Ego planè meis adijci posse multa confiteor: nec his solis, sed & omnibus, quæ ædidi, ut obiter caueam istos Homeromastigas.

VNAQVE IAM TOTA STABAT IN VRBE DOMVS. Inuidiosa oratio est, quasi uelit significare ea ratione incensam urbem à Nerone, ut unã domum ædificaret. Allusitq; ad distichon illud de ea factũ: Roma domus fiet Veios migrate quirites, Si non & Veios occupat ista domus. Plinius quoque de ea sic scribit: Vidimus urbem nostram claudi duabus domibus Caij, & Neronis principum. Traduit hanc à palatio ad Esquilias usque protensam fuisse. in uestibulo eius colossus erat erectus. Tanta erat latitudo eius, ut porticus miliarias haberet, & stagnũ maris instar circũseptum ædificijs ad urbis similitudinem. Rura præterea aruis, uinetis, pascuis, syluis ornata cum multitudine omnis generis ferarum. Reliqua pars auro picta erat, gemmisq;, & unionum conchis distincta: cœnationes eburneis tabulis laqueatæ uersatilibus, ut flores, & unguenta desuper spargerentur. Præcipua cœnationum rotunda die, noctúque instar mundi circumagebatur: balneæ marinis, & albulis aquis fluebant. Cum eam perfecisset, dixit (ut Suetonius refert) se iam quasi hominem habitare cœpisse. Hanc luxuriam notat Poëta in laudem Domitiani. Mos enim ueterum fuit, in laudatione uiuentium principum defunctos iam principes damnare, quo uiui admonerentur, nullum locum, nullum esse tempus, quo defunctorum principum manes, si mali fuissent, à posterorum exercrationibus conquiescerent, sicq; à uitijs ipsi retraherentur. Merito præterea laudari uidẽtur uiuentes principes, si pariter mortui reprehendantur. Nam cum de malo principe posteri tacent, manifestum est timeri præsentem, quo eadem faciat. Ad hæc damnare priores principes nihil aliud est, quàm hortari præsentẽ, ut corruptos longa consuetudine, ac deprauatos mores reformet, & corrigat: postremo (ut inquit Plinius) nihil non parum grate sine comparatione laudatur. DOMVS. Neronis scilicet. Domus proprie dicitur ædificium ad habitandum factum, quod ex tecto, atque pariẽte constat. Ponitur tamen pro habitaculo quocunque: unde & templa, & auium nidos domos appellamus. Virgilius: Hostia nanq; domus patuere ingentia centum Sponte sua. Idem: Antiquasq; domos auiũ cum stirpibus imis Eruit. Sed hoc notandum, quod domus duos genitiuos habet, unum secundæ declinationis domi, & alterum quartæ domus, datiuum semper quartæ, accusatiuum indifferentem, uocatiuum quartæ, ablatiuum secundæ: sed cum utimur domi, locus significatur, in quo quis manet: cũ uero utimur domus, significatur corpus ipsum, atq; ædificium, quod ex parietibus constat, & tecto: ut domi maneo, non domus: & partem domus demolitus sum, siue superiora domus ascendi, non domi. Aliquando domus pro familia capitur, continens pro contento: ut domus meæ imperium habeo: domi, & in domo eiusdem planè significationis sunt. Quintilianus: In domo furtum factum ab eo, qui domi fuit. Quidam dicunt domi aduerbiascere, ut cum dicimus sum domi: & similiter alios casus, ut domum propero, seu domo uenio: sed nomen potius esse pronomina indicant, quæ cum hac uoce iunguntur, quæ sunt mea, tua, sua, nostra, uestra, & aliena, ut eram domi meæ, tu eras domi tuæ, ille uiuit domi suæ, nos sumus domi nostræ, uos eratis domi uestræ. Cicero: Qui cum ista ætate, & forma alienæ domi nolo dicere. Quod siquando hæc pronomina supprimantur, tamen subintelliguntur, ut domi ero, id est meæ, domi eritis, id est uestræ, & domi eris, id est tuæ, domi erimus, id est nostræ, domi erit, id est suæ. Domus à græco deriuatur. græci enim δῶμα tectum appellant. à domo sit domesticum, quod modo significat quicquid ad domum pertinet, ut domesticæ curæ, domestici labores, domestica negocia. Modo mansuetũ, & mite. Plinius: Mite animal, atq; domesticum. Item domestici dicuntur, qui ex eadem domo sunt, & nobiscum habitant. hinc fit domesticatim, quod significat per uarias domos. Item à domo domicilium, quod habitationem significat longi temporis. Vnde mutare domicilium dicuntur, qui migrant, ut aliam urbem habitent. & domuncula parua domus, quæ & domuscula uocatur, & domuncio. Apuleius: Iam denique nec larem requiro, nec domuncionem paro. & domo, quod proprie significat mansuefacio, & quasi domesticum reddo, unde equorum domitores dicuntur, & domiti, atque indomiti equi, & domitura equorum, siue aliorum animalium pro ipso actu domandi. Plinius: Domitura boum in trimatu optima. & indomitæ gentes, hoc est feroces. Domitor etiam domator dicitur. Per metaphoram tamen capimus pro uincere, superare. à quo domitos hosteis dicimus uictos. & domitos populos in potestatẽ redactos. Item à domo dominus deducitur, qui domui præest. is enim proprie dominus appellatur, qui domus imperium habet, & cui omnis familia paret. ex quo factum est, ut dominus, & seruus relatiua sint, & domini appellatio ad omneis eos propagata sit. qui alicuius rei proprietatem habent, etiam si usus fructus alienus sit. Abusiue tamen & filij familiàs, & cæteri liberi, qui in potestate sunt, & usu fructuarij domini dicuntur. Item dominus dicitur, cui populi subsunt. Virgil. Romanos rerum dominos, gentemq; togatam. Hic etiam domnus dictus à poëtis. Lucretius: At cum membra domnus præsentit frigida seruis. Item dubenus. Pacuuius: Tum dubenus ligatos seruos pessime uerberat. Hinc dominium pro imperio, & principatu accipitur. & domnor, hoc est imperium gero. & dominatio, imperium. & domnatus, principatus. Item domnus, qui conuiuium exhibet. Varro: Aut dominum conuiuij, aut uinum, aut aliud quid laudato. Plautus: Dum cœnitant alij, ego foris furio dominus. unde & domina, conuiuia nominãtur. Lucilius: Primum domina, atque sodalitia omnia tollantur. Dominus etiam amans uocatur, & domina amica Ouidius: Hæc tibi sub domino est Pyrrhe puella suo. Idem: Nam furor in dominam temeraria brachia mouit: Flet mea uesana læsa puella manu. Item dominus pro marito accipitur. Virg. Connubia nostra Reppulit, & dominum Aeneam in regna recepit. Dominos quoq;, & dominas deos, & deas dicimus. Idem: Et uincti currum dominæ subiere leones. Ouidius: Et domino soluere uota Ioui. Hinc dies dominicus dictus, qui antea dies solis dicebatur, quod deo sacer sit. Domitius quoq;, & Domitianus à domo deriuari uidentur. Item à domo fit cõpositum domiporta, quam græci à ferẽda domo φερέοικον uocant, de qua inferius dicemus. IAM. Iam aduerbium temporis est, & idem penè significat, quod tunc. Cicero: Ipsa uerba compone, & quasi coagmenta, quod ne græci quidem factitauerunt, iam neminem antepones Catoni. Aliquando festinantis est. Terentius: Ego iam prospiciã mihi. Aliquando hortantis, & ueluti moram increpantis. Virg. Iam diua precor. Interdũ ponitur pro modo, siue nunc. Idẽ: At puer Ascanius mediis in uallibus aeri Gaudet equo, iãq; hos cursu, iã præterit illos. Nõnunquã significat præterea, & quasi nodus est quidã cõiungens sententias. Idẽ: Iã maris immensi prolẽ, & genus omne natantum. Iam uarias pelagi uolucres. & idem est ficit coniunctum cum uero. Cicero: Iam uero urbibus constitutis. Est quando geminatur, & significat mox, repente, ut iam iam aderit. Et cum præsenti ponitur, licet ad futurum resoluatur. Virgilius: Iam iam manu tenet, & premit hasta, quasi mox tenebit, & nunc uidetur tenere. Plerunque figurate per indignationem accipitur. Idem: Iam iam nec maxima Iuno, Nec Saturnius hæc oculis pater aspicit æquis. Et per miserationem. Sallust. Iam iam animo meo charissime frater quam tibi immaturo, & unde minime decuit, uita erepta est, tamen lætandum magis, quàm dolendum puto casum tuum. Et per exhortationem. Quintilianus: Iam iam commilito qui cunque casus manet, etiam si imperator damnaturus est, habes solatium, satius est, quàm à patre occidi. A iam compositi sunt iandudum, & iandiu, & iampridem, de quibus supra diseruimus. & iam olim, quod modo significat iandudum. Cicero: Iam olim à principio id statueram. modo aliquando. Virgilius: At iam olim seras posuit cum uinea frondeis. & olim iam pro iampridem. Quintilianus: Olim iam Imperator interfulgenteis uirtutes tuas liuor locũ quærit, hoc est à longo tempore. Et iam tum, quod significat ex eo tempore. Plauus: Iam tum occepit uirginem amare. Veteres etiam iamtum pro tantum usi fuere, & iam pro tam. Item à iam composita sunt etiã, & etiamnum, de quibus superius diximus. STABAT.

Erecta erat, permanebat, quod inuidiose dictum est, ut significaret cæteras domos urbis conflagratas, ac dirutas esse. Stare aliquando consistere est. Virgilius: Stare loco nescit. & Apelles interrogatus, cur fortunã sedentem pinxisset: quoniam inquit stare non potest. Stare permanere, durare, ut hoc loco. Cicero: Facere promissa, stare conuentis, reddere depositũ. Virgilius: Et bene apud memores ueteris stat gratia facti. Stare erectum esse. Seneca: Alios stanteis, alios genibus flexos uidisses, sedentem, aut cubantem neminem. Virgilius: Obstupui, steterunt q; comæ, & uox faucibus hæsit. Stare horrere. Cæcilius: Stat ager sentibus. Virgilius: Iam pulucre cœlum Stare uident. Stare prominere. Lucilius: Hic corpus solidum iuuenis, hic stare papillas, Pectore marmoreo. Stare præstitutum esse. Virgil. Stat sua cuiq; dies. stare, in animo esse. Idem: Stat conferre manum Aeneæ. & alibi: Stat casus renouare omneis. Stare positum esse. Idem: Stant manibus aræ. Idem: Omnis in Ascanio chari stat cura parenteis. Stare constare, in precio esse. Seneca: Tanto ei stetit improuisa urbanitas. Gell. Magno ei stetit ea nocte absentem fuisse. Stare quiescere. Plautus: Stabat in portu nauis. Apuleius: Dum forte starent in taberna ludentes. Stare firmum, est, non moueri, constantem esse. Liuius: Resistis autem aduersus famam, rumoresque hominum, si stabis firmus steteris. hinc statio dicta locus (ut Vlpianus inquit) in quo naues tutò stare possunt. Quidam stationem à portu ita distinguunt, ut statio sit, ubi naues ad tempus stare, portus ubi hyemare possunt. Statio etiã dicitur quicunq; locus, in quo frequenter consistitur. Vnde & locus, in quo castrametatur exercitus, statio uocatur. Curtius: Cognitũ id per exploratores, qui stationes hostium fuerant ingressi. Et locus ad custodiam assignatus. Ouidius: Dent tibi cœlestes, quos tu cœlestibus annos Proq; tua maneant in statione domo. Virgilius: Vigiles simul excitat, illi Succedunt, sternunt q; uices statione relicta, Ipse comes Niso graditur. Hinc stationarij milites dicuntur, quibus custodiæ, aut præsidij gratia statio assignata est. Item qui in urbibus, aut prouincijs tenentur ad populorum quietem tuendam. & officina, in quam multi conueniunt, ut de aliqua re decernatur, & ius ibi dicatur. Gellius: In plerisque urbis stationibus ius publice dicentium. Item stabulum à stando dicitur, significat q; proprie non præsepe, ut uulgus putat, hoc est locum, in quo equi, muli, iumenta, asini, boues, aliaq; huiusmodi animalia domi tenentur, pascuntur q;, sed hominum diuersorium, siue hospitium. Petronius: Sed nec uiam diligenter tenebam, quia nec quo stabulum esset sciebam. Idem: Cum errarem inquit, per totam ciuitatem, nec inuenirem quo loco stabulum reliquissem. Idem: Ego sum ancilla Quartillæ, cur uos sacram ante cryptam turbatis? Ecce ipsa uenit ad stabulũ, petitq; ut uobiscum loqui liceat. Hinc stabula dicuntur loca, in quibus armenta, gregesq; consistunt in agris, & sub diuo, ueluti quædam stationes huiusmodi animalium. Ouidius: In stabula alta trahit. Virgilius: Montano flumine torrens Cum stabulis armenta tulit. Idem: Quatuor à stabulis præstanti corpore tauros Auertit. Idem: Interea, cũ iam stabulis saturata moueret Amphytrioniades armenta, abitum q; pararet. Ab hoc fit stabulo, siue stabulor, quod est sto, diuerto commoror, & quasi stationem habeo. Idem: Centauri in foribus stabulant Gell. Tubero in historijs scriptũ reliquit bello primo Punico, Attilium Regulum consulem in Africa castris apud Bragadam flumen positis, prælium grande fecisse aduersus serpentem unum in illis locis stabulantem inusitatæ magnitudinis: eumq; magna totius exercitus conflictatione balistis, & catapultis diu oppugnatum, occisumq; eius q; interfecti longum corium pedes centum et uiginti Romam misisse. Hinc stabulatio mansio in stabulo. & stabularij à ueteribus dicti sunt hospites. Plautus: Pallium stabulario dedit. Apuleius: Et ne inquit, immerito stabularios hos omnes hospites detestantur, nam iste curiosus, dum importune irrũpit, credo studio rapiendi aliquid, clamore uasto marcidus alioquin me altissimo somno excussit. Idem: Sumo farcinulam, & precio mansioni stabulario persoluto capessimus uiam. Potest tamen & ipsum præsepe in hospitijs stabulum dici. Apuleius: Durissimo casui meo seruiẽs ad equum illum uectorem meum probissimum in stabulum concedo, ubi alium etiam Milonis quondam hospitis mei asinum stabulantem inueni. Stabulantem inquit, quasi hospitantem. Nam quod Varro inquit: Equinum pecus pascendum in pratis potissimum herba, in stabulis, ac præsepibus arido fœno, profecto stabulum pro statione quacunq; præsepe pro septis, quæ domi fiunt. stabulum etiam pro quacunq; habitatione, & loco, ubi quis stare consuerit, accipitur. Virgilius: Saucius at quadrupes nota intra tecta refugit, Successitq; gemens stabulis. idem: Ardua tecta petit stabuli, et de culmine summo Pastorale canit signũ. Hinc etiã uestibulũ, quod non est prima pars domus, hoc est atriũ, ut aliqui putãt, sed locus ante ianuã domus uacuus, per quẽ à uia ad ædes itur. Nam qui domos antiquitus faciebant, locũ ante ianuã relinquebant, qui inter fores domus, & uiam medius esset in eo loco: qui dominum eius domus salutatũ uenerant, prius quàm admitterentur, consistebant, & neque in uia stabant, neque intra ædes erant. Ab illa ergo constitutione, & quasi quadam stabulatione uestibulum est appellatum. Nam ue modo intensionem significat, ut uetus, uehemens: quorum alterum ab ætatis magnitudine compositum est, alterum à mentis ui, atque impetu dictum. modo minutionem. uescũ Lucilius appellat cũ edendi fastidio: quamuis Lucretius uescum salem dicat ex edendi intensione, quod est exue, & esca compositum. Seruius: uestibulum non ab intentiua, sed à priuatiua significatione dictum existimat: quod per eum locum transeant, & nemo stet: ut sicut Vesanus non sanus, ita uestibulum non stabulum dicatur. Alij quod ianuam uestiat. Nonnulli quod uestæ consecratum sit sicut limen: & Vesta ipsa à ui stãdo nominata est, quod terra ui sua stet. Ouidius: Stat ui terra sua. à ui stando Vestã uocauit. Item à stõ status dicitur, qđ modo conditionẽ significat. Cic. Qui status rerũ quæ conditio temporum. Modo apud Rhetores id, in quo causa maxime uertitur: unde quidam testem dictum uolunt, quasi uentem statum, quod causæ statum tueatur. Ego potius testem, quasi antestem, hoc est ante stantem, nominatum opinor. Idem: Status est, in quo primo insistit, quasi ad repugnandum congressa defensio. Statum quidam constitutionem uocant: alij quæstionem: alij quod ex quæstione appareat. Theodorus caput, hoc est κεφάλαιον γενικώτατον, ad quod omnia referantur. Græci στάσιν uocant. Quod nomen alij ab Eucrate Socratis discipulo repertum tradunt. Alij à Zopyro Clazomenio. quanquam uidetur Aeschines quoq; contra Ctesiphontem uti hoc uerbo, cũ à iudicibus petit, ne Demosthenem permittant uagari, sed eũ dicere de ipso causæ statu cogant. quæ appellatio dicitur deducta uel ex eo, quod ibi fit primus causæ congressus, uel quod in hoc causa cõsistat. Hinc genus illud philosophiæ ἀσύστατον dictum, quod latine instabile, uel inconstans possumus dicere. Vt enim nihil sciendum sit, aliquid sciri necesse est. Nam si omnino nihil scias, id ipsum sciri nihil posse tolletur. Ita qui hæc, ueluti sententiæ loco pronuntiat, nihil sciri, tanquam præceptum profitetur, & cognitum, ergo aliquid sciri potest. In asystati generis exemplum & illud afferri solet: somniasse quendam, ne somnijs crederet. si enim crediderit, tamen sequetur, ut non sit credendum: Si autem non crediderit, tamen sequetur, ut credendum sit. Proprie autem στάσις à nobis dicitur, & quod ab eo componitur κατάστασις. Vnde catastam quoque nostri appellant machinam ligneam, qua serui uincti tenentur. Persius: Cappadocas rigida pingueis clausisse catasta. Tibullus: Parua loquor, regnum ille tenet, quẽ sæpe coegit Barbara luxatos ferre catasta pedes. Martialis: Nõ de plebe damus, nec auaræ uerna catastæ. Plinius: Tandem in catasta uidere Chrysogonũ Syllæ. hanc & longam, & magnam compedem uocant. Iuuenalis: Squalidus in magna fastidit compede fossor. Apuleius: Et longæ compedis diuturno squalore fœdati caldarium quærunt. Item à sto statua, quod stet, hoc est promineat. proprie enim statua ab imagine hoc differt, quod statua est, quæ nõ modo superficiem, sed solidum corpus, atque perfectum reddit, imago uero, quæ superficiem tantum refert eius rei, cuius est imago. Vnde pictores imagines faciunt colorum diuersitate, & lineamentis quibusdam similitudinem reddenteis. Statuas uero ij, qui dicuntur Statuarij effigies rerum lignis, uel marmoribus, uel ebore, uel metallis exprimenteis, quorum ars statuaria uocatur. Solebant autem statuæ hominum exprimi, quando ob aliquam illustrem causam perpetuitatem mereri uidebantur: & primo sacrorum certaminum uictoria, maximeq; olympiæ, ubi omnium, qui uicissent, statuas dicari mos erat. corum uero, qui ter ibi superauissent, ex membris ipsorum similitudine expressa, quas iconas uocabant. Primum omnium Athenienses Armodio, & Aristogitoni tyrannicidis publice statuas posuerunt: excepta inde res est à toto orbe terrarum, ut memoria hominum prorogaretur, quorum nomina basibus inscribi solebant. Togata effigie apud Romanos statuæ ducebãtur. Græci nudas hastam tenenteis faciebant ab Epheborum gymnicis exemplaribus, quas uocant Achilleas. Erant q; & equestres, & pedestres statuæ. L. Accium poẽtam tradunt in camœnarum ædem maxima forma statuam sibi posuisse, cum ipse admodum paruus esset. Transierunt deinde & ad deos statuæ, & ad bruta etiam animalia. Imago tamen aliquando ponitur pro quacunq; similitudine. Virgilius: O mihi sola mei super Astyanactis imago. Idem: Atque ipsius umbra Creusæ Visa mihi ante oculos, & nota maior imago. Vnde aliquando etiam pro uagina accipitur, quod uelut imago sit eius rei, quam claudit.

Idem: Curuam seruans sub imagine falcem. A b imago sit imaginor uerbum, quod proprie est alicuius rei similitudinem mente comprehendo. à quo imaginarium dicimus, quod re non est, sed tantum cogitatione comprehenditur, & imaginatio actus ipse. Item à sto statuo, quod est decerno, significatq; (ut Vlpianus inquit) rem perfectam, & consummatam. & ideo hæc uerba, quod statuerit, qui iurisdictioni præest, cum effectu accipimus, non uerbotenus. Nam si, cum uellet statuere, prohibitus sit, neque effectum decretum habuerit, cessat edictum. Ab hoc composita fiunt destituo: quod modo significat dissoluo. Næuius: In alto nauem iubet destitui ancoris. Modo derelinquo, desero. Plautus: Sola in litore destituta. interdum statuo. Cæcilius: Destituit omneis seruos ad mensam ante se. Prostituo meretricandã præbeo. Vnde prostibulum appellatur locus, in quo stabulant, ac se prostituunt meretrices. Quamuis aliqui prostibulum dictum uelint, quod meretricum stationes ante stabula, hoc est hospitia esse solebant, propter concursum aduenarum. Propter quod & meretrices ipsæ prostibulæ uocantur. & hoc inter se differunt, quod meretrix proprie est, quæ honestius quæstum capit, copiam sui secretius faciens noctu tantum: Prostibula uero, quæ ante stabulum stat, quæstus diurni, ac nocturni gratia. Plautus: Intro ad bonam meretricem. Astare in uia solam prostibula est. Præstituo, præscribo, prædestino. Ouidius: Dij summum præstituere diem. Instituo, quod aliquando significat incipio. Plinius: Prius quàm id opus instituerem. Aliquando instruo, doceo. Seneca: Sunt enim non modo literis, sed etiam bonis moribus instituendi adolescentes. Nonnunquam statuo, decerno. Apuleius: Scilicet Solon, aut Lycurgus instituit. hinc instituta, & institutiones dictæ. Instituta aliquando principia dicuntur. Plinius: Hæc sunt rerum principia, & instituta naturæ. Aliquando mores boni, consilio, & ratione sumpti. Quintilianus: Nam is, quanquam nutricibus triennium dederit, tamen iam tum formari optimis institutis mentem infantium iudicat. cur autem ad literas non pertineat ætas, quæ ad mores iam pertinet? Interdum decreta legum, atque sanctiones. Vnde Diuus Iustinianus opus suum instituta inscripsit. institutiones uero sunt præcepta, quibus instituuntur homines, atque docentur. à quo Quintilianus opus suum inscripsit de institutione oratoria. institutio autem actum ipsum, hoc est institutionem significat. Substituo subrogo. Liuius: In cuius locum substitutus centurio est. Restituo modo reddo. Terentius: Gnatum ei restituit. Modo in pristinum statum reduco. Iustinus: Hunc regno à patre priuatũ filius restituerat. Hinc restitutio ipsa reponitio dicitur. Caius iurisconsultus restituere (inquit) plus est, quàm exhibere. Nam exhibere est præsentiam corporis præbere. Restituere uero est etiam possessorem facere, fructusq; reddere. Ab hoc restibilis ager dicitur, qui quotannis restituitur, de quo inferius dicemus. Constituo, quod aliquando est dispono. Virgilius: Qui teneant, nam inculta uidet, hominesne, ferane. Quærere constituit. Aliquando moderor, guberno. Cicero: Ineuntis enim ætatis insciția, senum constituenda, & regenda prudentia est. Interdum instituo, decerno, à quo constitutiones decreta, atque instituta dicuntur. Nonnunquam etiam constituo pro paro accipitur. Idem: Tametsi erat ignarus quantum sibi, ac liberis suis iam tum mali constitueretur. Item à sto sisto deriuatur, quod est stare facio. Vnde sistere gradum, sistere fugam, sistere lacrymas, quasi retinere dicimus, atq; comprimere. huius supinum est statum, à quo stator dicitur, qui aliquẽ sistit: ob idq; Iupiter stator est uocatus, quod Romulum precantem, ut fugam suorum sisteret, audiuit. Sisto etiam aliquando pro repræsento capimus, & quasi præsentiam corporis exhibeo. dictum ab eo, quod non tantum comparere quis debet, sed etiam manere: unde de iudicio sisti, hoc est de sistendo aliquem in iudicio dicimus. Cicero: Des operã id, quod mihi affirmasti, ut te ante calendas Ianuarias ubicunq; erimus sistas. Idem: Vas factus est a terra eius sistendi, ut si ille non reuertisset moriendum esset sibi. Virgilius: Et patrio te limine sistam. Hinc stator dictus nuntius, seu tabellarius consulis, aut alterius iusdicentis. Et status, siue statutus dies iudicij gratia constitutus: et stata sacrificia, quæ constitutis, ac certis diebus fiebant. Cato: Sacra stata, solennia sancta seruasti. Virgilius: Annua, quæ differre nefas. Cato ita scripsit: Quod si uadimonium capite obuoluto stutisses. quem locum quidam deprauarunt pro stitisses scribentes stetisses. Ennius modicam, & modestam formam mulieris statam uocauit. Bias cum rogatus esset à quodam, deberet ne uxorem ducere, an uitam uiuere cœlibem, ἤτοι inquit, καλὴν ἕξεις, ἢ αἰσχράν. καὶ ἐὰ καλὴν, ἕξεις πονηρόν. ἐὰδ' αἰσχρὰν, ἕξεις πονηρόν. ἑκάτερον δ' οὖν ἀγαθόν. οὐ λητέον ἄρα. Aut pulchrã inquit, duces, aut deformem. Si pulchram, habebis cõmunem: si turpem, habebis dolorẽ. Neutrũ autem bonum, nõ est igitur ducenda uxor. Omisit Bias tertiũ genus inter duo ista, quæ distiungantur: quippe inter pulcherrimam fœminam, & deformissimam, media quædam forma est, quæ à nimio pulchritudinis periculo, & à summo deformitatis odio uacat. Ennius igitur eas fœminas incolumi pudicitia esse scribit, quæ stata forma forent. Verum hoc non à sisto deducitur, sed à sto, cum pro quiesco accipitur. Sed Cato eleganter stitisses scripsit: quoniam sisteretur uadimonium, non staretur. A sisto composita fiunt assisto, quod significat asto alicui, opis & præsidij gratia, ut medicus assistit ægroto. Circunsisto, qd modo circũdo est. Cæsar: Et mercatores in oppidis uulgus circũsistit, quibusq; ex regionibus ueniant, quasq; ibi res cognouerint pronuntiare cogit. Aliquando pro inuado, & irruo capitur, & quasi cũ terrore aggredior. Virg. At fessi tandem ciues infanda furentem Armati circunsistunt. Nonnunquam accipitur pro faueo, & consolor. Cæsar: Si quis grauiori uulnere accepto decederat, circunsistebant. Obsisto, obsto, cõtra sto. Persisto, duro, perseuero. Apul. Cũ me rogasset an in proposito persisterem. Absisto, desino. Claudianus: Absiste rogari. De sisto eiusdem significationis. Plin. Iam id desistit quærere. Desistere etiam (ut inquit Vlpianus) est à negotio abstinere, quod calumniandi animo instituerat. inde destitisse is uidetur, non qui distulit, sed qui liti renuntiauit in totum. Planè si quis cognita rei ueritate negotium suum deseruerit nolens in litem improbam perseuerare, quam calumniæ causa non instituerat, is destitisse non uidetur. Existo, emineo, prodo, exurgo. Cicero: Submersus equus uoraginibus non existit. Idem: Existit hoc loco quæstio subdifficilis. Exisso etiam pro sum usurpatum aliquando inuenitur. Præsisto, antesisto, insisto, urgeo. Plinius. Frequens q; ut id agerem, insistebat. Subsisto, substo, sistor. Apuleius: Ad hæc ille stupore quodam affectus subsistit. Resisto, repugno, aduersor. Cicero: Cum resistere eius improbitati non possem. Consisto modo sto, firmor. Virgilius: Hic primum paribus nitens Cyllenius alis Constitit. à quo Cõsistorium nouum quidem, sed elegans uocabulũ pro loco, in quo patres cũ Pontifice maximo consultandi gratia consistunt. Itẽ pro ipsa consistentium multitudine, ueteres constitutum hominum dixere. modo erigor. Idem: Cõstitit in digitos. item à sto deducitur manifestum, hoc est clarum, apertum, quasi ad manus foris stans, à quo manifesto uerbum, & passiuum eius manifestor, & manifeste aduerbium, hoc est clare, aperte, & manifestarius, qui uulgo notarius dicitur. Plaut. Capio fustem, obtrunco gallum furem manifestarium. Item à sto stagnum deducitur, quæ est aqua stans. à quo fit stagno uerbum, hoc est stagnum facio, & aquam contineo. Notandum tamen quod & stagnare aquam dicimus, cum non effluit, neque sorbetur. Plin. Vbi marini fluctus effusi stagnare solent. & stagnare terram, quæ non absorbet, sed continet aquam. Idem: Agrus humidis, atque stagnantibus. Virgilius: Stagnum pro parte maris profundissima posuit, quod ea minime moueatur, semperq; stet, hoc est quiescat. Emissamq; hyemem sensit Neptunus, & imis Stagna refusa uadis. Stannum quoque metallum à standō dictum uideri posteà, quod in fornacibus primum fluat, ac per se stet. Est autem stannum plumbum album. Duo sunt quippe plumbi genera, nigrum & candidum. quod Græci cassiterũ appellant. Homerus: Χαλκὸν δ' ἐν πυρὶ βάλλεν ἀτειρέα κασσίτερόν τε. Ex albo plumbo non fit argentum, cum fiat ex nigro. Iungi inter se plumbum nigrum sine albo non potest, nec hoc ei sine oleo, ac ne album quidem secum sine nigro. Plumbi nigri duplex origo est. aut enim sua sponte nascitur uena, nec quicquam aliud ex se parit: aut nascitur cum argento, mistisq; uenis conflatur. Primus liquor, qui in fornacibus fluit, album plumbum est, & stannum uocatur. Secundus argentum, quod remansit, galona dicitur. plumbi, & argenti uena communis, quæ & molibdæna uocatur, & latine dicitur plumbago. Hæc rursus conflata dat nigrum plumbum. stannum illitum æreis uasis saporem gratiorem facit, & tollit æruginis uirus, mirũq; quod pondus nõ auget. Specula olim ex eo laudatissima Brundusij fiebant. Postea uti argenteis cœperunt. Si albi plumbi, nigriq; singulæ libræ misceantur, fit stannum, quod argentarium uocant, & tertiarium nominant, in quo duæ nigri portiones sunt, & tertia albi. India neq; æs, neque plumbum habet, gemmisq; suis, ac margaritis hæc permutat. Aqua feruenti non liquescunt uasa è plumbo. Sed si in eadem aqua calculus aut æreus quadrans addatur, uasa uritũtur. Plũbi laminis lumborum, & renum parti adalligatis ob frigidiorem naturam impetus ueneris cohibetur. Caluus orator usa in quiete uenerea sponte naturæ erumpentia usque in morbi genus, his laminis traditur repressisse, & uireis corporis studiorum labore custodisse. Nero lamina plumbi pectori imposita, uocem alebat. Fit è plumbo spondium, sicut ex ære, quod deraditur ex parietibus fornacum mistis scintillis, aliquando etiam carbonibus. Scoria tam in plumbo, quàm in argento, ære, & cæteris metallis dicitur quicquid subsidet, & quasi fex est metallorum, sicut spuma, quæ ex feruescente materia tollitur. Item è plumbo fit psimythium, quod nos ceruſam nominamus, uel per se in plumbarijs officinis, uel ramentis plumbi tenuissimis, super uas aceti asperrimi impositis: atque ita distillantibus, quod ex eo in acetum cecidit, arefactum mollitur, & cribratur, iterúmque aceto misto diuiditur in pastillos, & æstate in sole siccatur. Potus eius letalis est, sicut spuma argenti, ad candorem tamen fœminarum adhibetur, quæ ex eo dicuntur ceruſatæ. Ceruſa ipsa si coquatur, rufescit. A stanno stanneum dicitur, quicquid ex stanno est: unde stannea uasa, sicut plumbea, & argentea dicimus. Item plumbeum nigrum appellamus. Martialis: Plumbea selibra. Plautus plumbeum hominem liuidum uocat. A plumbo plumbatio deducitur, hoc est ferruminatio. & plumbare, ferruminare est. Plinius: Neque argentum ex stanno plumbatur, quoniam prius liquescit argentum. Et plumbata genus teli, hoc est plumbatæ pilæ, quas ueteres peregrino uocabulo manobarbulos uocabant. à quo et milites ipsi, qui his utebantur, quinos manubarbulos insertos singulis scutis gestãtes manobarbuli sunt uocati. hos postea D. Maximianus, qd sc fortiter, sirennue q; in Illyrio gessissent, Iouinianos, et Herculanos appellari uoluit.

Legionem q; eorum cæte is legionibus prætulit. A plumbo etiam plumbago dicitur, de qua diximus: quemadmodum Græci ἀπὸ τοῦ μολίβδου quod plumbum est, uocant molibdænam. & plumbatura, quod modo feruminationem significat, modo quancunque coniunctu ram plumbo factam. græce μολίβδωσις appellatur. & plumbarius, qui opera facit ex plumbo, & μολιβδουργος nominatur. per metaphoram quoque plumbeum ingenium dicitur obtusum, & quod penetrare cogitando non potest. Itẽ à sto statura dicitur, quæ proprie corporis quantitatem significat. Suetonius: Statura fuit eminenti, colore pallido. Idem de Nerone: Statura fuit prope iusta, corpore maculoso, & fœtido. Idem de Othone: Fuisse enim & modicæ staturæ, & male pedatus, caluusq; traditur. Idem Statilius & Statanus dij præsides, quasi nobis astantes. horum nomina habebant scripta pontifices, sicut Fabolini dei, cui sacrificare solebant, cum primo fari incipiebant infantes. Item à sto insusum dictum, quasi intusium, quasi intus stet, genus est uestis, de quo inferius dicemus. Item statim aduerbium, quod proprie significat perseueranter, & continue, quasi insistendo. Terentius: Bina talenta capiebam statim. Plau. Nec recedit loco quin statim remigret. unde pro mox usurpatur, quod ea, quæ mox fiunt, continenter fieri uideantur. Per me, aut te, aut illũ aut aliquid aliud stare dicitur, cum nos aut aliquid aliud causa sumus ne quid fiat. Plin. Omnia iam parata erant, nisi per eum stetisset. Quintil. Non per me stetit, sed per illa. A sto cõposita fiunt asto, quod uerbum significat sto. Virg. Arrectisq; auribus astant. interdum sum, cum de rebus loquimur, quæ cadere non possunt, ut cum dicimus terram astare. Veteres astare sent pro statuerent scripsere. Ab asto hasta dicta, ideoq; cum aspiratione scribitur, ut à prima persona imperatiui huius uerbi differat. Hæc apud ueteres subijci solebat rebus, quas publice uenundabant, ideo astare id signum dicebatur. erat & belli signum, quemadmodum inferius dicemus. Ab hac hasta ti milites uocantur. & hastula dimmutiuum Antesto, excello. Gellius: Qui & uiribus, & magnitudine, & adolescentia, stimulq; uirtute cæteris antestabat. Ab hoc fit antistes, qui in aliqua re excellit. Vt si dicamus: Seruius Sulpitius ciuilis, ac pontificij iuris antistes. Circunsto, circundo. Virg. Circũstant animæ dextra, læuaq; frequentes. à quo circunstantiæ dictæ, quæ in unaquaq; controuersia quæri solent, & quasi quæstionẽ circunstant. de quibus inferius dicemus. Contrasto, aduersor. Næuius: Cõtra stat semper, nec me sinit loquier. Interesto, inter aliquid sto, intercedo. à quo interstitium pro distantia, & interuallo. item pro interstantia: unde interstitium lunæ dicitur interlunium. Apuleius: Difficultas itineris, & glorioſi sideris interstitium. Higinus: Quod ab eo sidere paruo interstitio differt. Obsto, aduersor, impedio. unde obstaculum impedimentum. Itẽ contra sto. Curtius: Obstant oppido gemini colles. Hinc obstetrix mulier, quæ parturientium curam habet, quod contra parientem stet. Et obstino uerbũ, quod significat obfirmo. unde obstinatis animis, hoc est obfirmatis. & obstinatio, hoc est firmitas animorum. & obstinate aduerbium firme. Obstitũ ueteres modo pro uiolatum, modo pro obliquũ usurparunt. Persto, permaneo, perseuero. Gellius: Hoc modo perdius, pernoxq; perstabat. Exto, emineo, supersum. Virg. Stant circũfusa pruinis Corpora magna boum, confertoq; agmine cerui Torpent mole noua, & summis uix cornibus extant. Hinc extare libros, extare opera dicimus, quæ nõ perierunt. Cicero: Quæ (ut scis) extat oratio. Nam, ut de homine, qui adhuc uiuit, dicimus superest, quasi nõ est sub terra humatus, ita de rebus, extant quasi extra stant, & non intra, atq; in tenebris latent. Ab hoc exta dicta sunt, quæ ex uisceribus sacrificantur dijs, & ex quibus aruspices futura prænoscunt, dicta, quod ad hunc usum præsecentur, quæ maxime extant, eminentq;, propter quod cor olim non solebat inter exta numerari: postea pinguitudo illa, quæ in summo corde est, læta exta fecit. Ab extis inspiciendis extispices dicti sunt aruspices, & extispicium aruspicium.

Prosto modo ante sto; modo prostituo, de quo supra diximus, modo subdor scortandi gratia. Quintil. Iubet prostare gladio cinctum. Præsto interdũ facio. Cicero: Emptorem indemnem præstare oportet. Interdum beneficium do. Plin. Plura hic mihi præstitit, quàm parentes. Nonnunquam exhibeo. Cicero: Tu talem te præstare debes, ut dignus nostra commendatione fuisse uideare. Aliquando antecello. Sallustius: Omneis homines, qui sese student præstare cæteris animãtibus. Præstat etiã pro melius, atq; utilius est frequentissime usurpatur. Virgilius: Præstat Trinacrij metas lustrare Pachyni. Hinc quidã Præneste dictum uolunt oppidũ Italiæ urbi uicinum, quod locus, in quo conditum est, montibus præstet. Hoc oppidum à Cæculo Vulcani filio conditum fuit, ut sensisse uidetur Virgil. Nec Præneſtinæ fundator defuit urbis, Vulcano genitũ pecora inter agrestia regem, Inuentumq; focis omnis quẽ credidit ætas Cæculus. Alij hoc oppidum à Prænestæ Latini filio, & Vlyssis nepote conditũ malũt. Dicitur q; hoc Prænestæ, et hæc Prænestiis, unde deducitur prænestinus. Item iurisconsulti, atque oratores præstare accipiunt pro polliceri, nequid alicui fiat incõmodi: aut si fiat, satisfacere, qd uulgo dicitur cautionem dare. à quo præs prædis dictus, qui populo se obligat: & interrogatus, an præs sit à magistratu, respondet præs, hoc est qui promittit se, si quid incommodi fiat, plene satisfacturum. Cicero: Cum id, quod ab homine non potuerit præstari, euenerit. Præsto etiam aduerbiũ est, nec ferè cum alio uerbo iungitur, quàm cum sum, & apud poëtas cum adsum. Proprie autem præstò sum idem, quod præsens sum. Cicero: Quibus quidem omissis tu etiam Brute præstò fuisti. Per metaphorã tamẽ aliquando capitur pro uiuo, faueo, defendo. Idẽ: Ius ciuile didicit, multum uigilauit, laborauit, præstò multis fuit. Aliquando pro aduenio. Idem: Hirundines æstiuo tempore præstò sunt, hyeme pulsæ, recedunt. Idem: Stator tuus cum literis mihi præstò fuit. eandem planè significationem habet adsum, de quo paulo post dicemus. A præsto fit præstans, hoc est excellens. Virg. Sũt mihi bis septẽ præstanti corpore nymphæ. Idẽ: O præstãs animi iuuenis. à quo præstantia, hoc est excellentia, & præstes antistes. Sic enim antiqui præstites, ut nũc antistites. Præstanter quoq; pro excellenter inuenitur. & præstabilis, hoc est præstans. Aliquando præstabile dicitur, quod præstari potest, & præstolor uerbum. præstolari enim is dicitur, qui ante stando ibi moram trahit, quò uult uenturum excipere. Donatus uero præstolari inquit, est præstò esse, et parere, hoc est obsequi. Terentius: Quem præstolare hic Parmeno? Additq; noue dixisse Terentium quem pro cui. Verum superior opinio magis mihi placet. Reperitur q; frequenter præstolor cum accusatiuo iunctum. Plautus: Dum eum domi præstolor, adolescens aduenit. Apuleius: Equidem magno gaudio eum præstolabar, cum hic rumor increbuit. Item à sto fit compositum insto, quod est insto, urgeo. Plautus: Poscit, instat, urget, hominem nõ sinit quiescere. unde instans momentum temporis dicimus, quod immineat. & instanter, sedulo. & instantia, sedulitas. & instar, quod significat ad similitudinem status, aut conditionis, aut ad æquiparationem. Virgil. Instar montis equum diuina Palladis arte Aedificant. à quo fit uerbum instauro, quod proprie est renouo, & quasi instar alterius facio. unde instauraticus dies dictus, qui additus est Circensibus ad propitiandum Iouem iratum. & instauratio, redintegratio, uel renouatio. Quidam ex recentioribus,ut Solinus, Apuleius, Aurelius, ad instar dixere. Solinus: Mesopotamiam opimat annuæ inundationis excessibus,ad instar amnis ægyptij terris superfusus inuecta soli fœcunditate. Primus autem Serenus Lyricus ad instar scripsisse memoratur. Item ab instito institor ex eo (ut Vlpianus inquit) quod negotio gerendo instet. Institor enim dicitur cuicunq; negotiationi præpositus. unde non multum facit tabernæ sit præpositus,an cuilibet alij negotio,cum interdum etiam ad hominum honestos afferant merces,& ibi uendant. Nec mutat causam actionis locus emendi,uendendi ue,quibus uestiarij,uel lintearij,hoc est uestium,linteorumq; uenditores dant uestem circunferendam,ac distrahendam,quos uulgo circuitores appellamus,etiã institores uocat.item muliones.Item si tabernarius seruum suum peregre mitteret ad merces comparandas,sibiq; mittendas loco institoris esse putatur.Ouidius:Institor ad dominam ueniet discinctus emacem.Iuuenalis:Institor hybernæ tegetis,niueiq; cadurci.Ab institor institoria actio dicitur,qua dominus institorem conuenit, uel pro institore conuenitur.& enim siquis aliquẽ ædificio præposuerit,uel frumento coëmendo,uel pecuniis fœnerandis,uel agris colendis,uel mercaturis, redemptursq; faciendis in solidum teneri,Labeo scribit. Item siquis in mensa seruum præpositũ habuit,nomine eius tenetur. Si libitinarius polinctorem habuerit, isq; mortuum spoliauerit,dandam in eum institoriam actionem,quamuis & furti,& iniuriarum actio competeret.Plau.Ancillam quoq; pro domina negotiantem institricem uocat.Vergiliarum quoq; sidus institor uestis dicitur,quod mense nouembri,cũ earũ occasus est ex hoc sidere coniecturam byemis faciunt. nam si nubilus fuerit Vergiliarum occasus,pluuiosam hyemem denũtiat.ideoq; negociatores statim augent lacernarum precia,quo genere uestiũ pluuio tempore utimur. Si uero sereno tempore occiderint, asperitas hyemis denuntiatur.iccirco reliquarum uestium precia accendunt.Sic institor uestis uidetur hoc sidus esse,quod,ut pluris,minoris'ue uendatur uestis,efficiat.Vergiliæ autem uocantur,quod uere exoriantur. est enim circa æquinoctium earum ortus matutinus.hæ à Græcis pleiades uocantur à pluralitate. πλειόνες enim Græca lingua plures dicuntur.Plures autem simul apparere manifestum est.Pherecydes tradit septem sorores fuisse Lycurgi filias ex Naxo insula,& quia Liberũ educauerunt,à Ioue inter sidera fuisse relatas.Harũ nomina putantur Electra, Alcione, Celæno, Merope, Sterope, Taigeta, Maia:quarũ septima(ut ait Aratus)uix cerni potest propterea quidã existimant eam timore Orionis fugisse. Alij solẽ hanc persecutũ existimant,uocatãq; Electrã. Sunt qui pudore occultasse se dixerint,qã cũ aliæ diis nupsissent,sola Electra nupserit mortali. Seu quod in amplexus sex hinc uenere deorũ Nam Steropen Marti concubuisse ferunt,Neptuno Alcionen & te formosa Celæno, Maian,& Electrã,Taigetamq; Iouis: Septima mortali Merope tibi Sisyphe nupsit,Pœnitet et facti sola pudore latet: Sue quod Electra Troiæ spectare ruinas Nõ tulit,ante oculos oppositumq; manũ. Alij has Atlantis filias esse dixere,ex Pleione nympha genitas, unde sint Pleiades appellatæ.Item à sto fit substo,hoc est substisto.à quo substantia, quæ proprie est, quæ per se stat nullis adminiculis fulta: uel quæ accidenti,seu qualitati substat, atq; substitit, & quasi illi subiaceat,siue quia illã contineat. Aliqñ tamen substantia ponitur pro materia,& quasi essentia,& soliditate, ac neruis cuiusq; rei. Plin. Substantia omnis orationis fuit cohortatio eius ad pacem. Cicero: In his autem causis, ubi aliquid recte factũ defenditur,cum est facti substantia ratio. Quint. Prima apud rhetorem elementa, & quæ de ipsa rhetorice substantia quæruntur,tractabimus. Idem:Illa autem de qua loquimur rhetorice,talis est,qualis eloquentia. Nam ipsam uolumus significare substantiam. Grammatici quoq; hanc duplicem significationem distinguere uidentur, cum aiunt,nominum quædam esse substantiua,quædã adiectiua.Rursus nomen ipsum definiũt, quod significat substantiam, uel qualitatem propriam,uel cõmunem cum casu. Atq; hoc nomen qualitas,& infinita huiusmodi non significant substantiam, & tamen substantiua sunt. Ab hac fit substantiale nomen,& substantialiter aduerbium. Substantia etiam pro facultatibus ponitur. Quint. Vt plus substantiæ filio relinquerem. & in sacris literis de filio legimus qui consumpsit omnem substantiam. Græci hanc modo ὑπόστασιν, modo οὐσίαν uocant. Vtrũq; enim latini interpretãtur substantiã,quãuis sint qui ὑπόστασιν substantiã, οὐσίαν essentiã uocẽt. Hæc uocabula raro in usu apud ueteres fuerũt,nũc passim omnes usurpant,quod in plerisq; alijs contigit.Cic.Beatitas,& beatitudo dura esse iudicauit,tamen ea putauit usu fieri posse molliora. & beatitas magis latinũ esse sensit,q̃ beatitudo, tamen beatitas repudiata est, beatitudo recepta in usum. Reatũ primus Messala dixit, munerariũ Augustus, piraticã, & musicã,& fabricam Quintiliani tempore uix quisquã usurpare audebat. fauorem, & urbanũ Cicero noua esse testatur. In epistola quippe ad Brutum: Eum, inquit, amorem, & eum (ut hoc uerbo utar) fauorem in cõsilium aduocabo. Et ad Appium pulchrum:Te hominem nõ solum sapientem,uerũ etiam (ut nunc loquimur) urbanũ.idem putat à Terentio primũ dictum obsequiũ.Ceruicem,si Varroni credimus,primus Horatius dixit. Veteres plur aliter tantum proferebant,ex quo apparet falsum esse, quod Seruius scripsit: Cum ceruix numero singulari dicitur,collum significat,si plurali uero superbiam, ostendimus. Sic etiam multa, quæ olim in usu erant nunc repudiantur, ut expectorat, quod ita olim in usu erat, ut nunc exanimat: significabatq; expectorare extra pectus eijcere, quo tamen ego utendũ censeo,quandoquidem usus est Cicero. Accius: Incusant ultro fortuna, opibusq; omnibus desertum, abiectum, afflictum, & animo expectorant. Item antigerio, quo ueteres pro ualde utebantur.& morsicatum. Plau. Qui suis labellis morsicatim ludunt. Propter quod præcipiũt quidam ita uerbis utendũ esse,ut numis,publicaq; moneta. Quod sensisse Cæsar uidetur, qui scripsit:Tanq; scopulũ uitandũ esse inauditũ,atq; insolens uerbũ.& Hora.cũ inquit: Vt syluæ foliis pronos mutantur in annos,Prima cadunt,sic uerborũ uetus interit ætas: Et iuuenũ ritu florent modo nata, uigentq;. Quam ipsi fecerunt ultro iniuriã,expostulant, hoc est de iniuria conqueruntur. sed frequenter post se habet ablatiuum cum præpositione cum,ut: Quid habes quod mecum expostules?id est cõquereris.Hinc expostulatio pro querela accipitur.Quidam peto,postulo,& posco ita distinguunt,ut petere precario sit,poscere imperio,postulare iure.Ponitur tamẽ aliquando postulare pro uelle.Plaut.Hos tibi mores esse,hanc uitam postularem. Item postulare(ut Vlpianus inquit) est desiderium suum,uel amici sui in iure apud eum, qui iurisdictioni præest,exponere, uel alterius iudici contradicere. Postulatio, & expostulatio differunt, nam expostulatio apud eum fit,qui fecit iniuriam.Postulatio est querela de altero apud alterum. Item postilena à post, & stando dicitur, quod stet à parte posteriori. Est enim postilena incuruum lignum, quod sub asmi, aut iumenti cauda ponitur.Plautus:Ita te à gerunda curuum aqua faciam, ut postilena possit ex te fieri. Liuius: Iustitium edicit, claudi tabernas tota urbe iubet, uetat quenquam priuatæ quicquid rei agere. IN. Econtrario in æs, non in ære. ita enim usos ferè autores inuenimus. Liuius: Prius quàm urbem ingrederẽtur, leges decemuirales, quibus duodecim tabulis est nomẽ,in æs incisas in publico proposuerũt.item in cõpositione in aliquando priuatiua est, ut indoctus,impurus, iniustus,impius. Modo intentiua, ut imprimo, irrumpo, impugno, irrideo. Aliquando simplicis sui significationem seruat, & significat in loco, ut insum, impono. Aliquando ad locum,ut infe-

A quo deinde,id est postea, & perinde, quod aliquãdo significat ita: quando scilicet post se habet ac,uel acsi, uel atque,uel atquesi, ut fac perinde, ac si tua res esset,id est quasi,uel ita,& aliquando tantum, cum negatio adest. Suetonius: Nulla tamẽ re perinde motus,quàm responso mathematici. Quod sinec,acsi,uel atquesi, uel negatio sequatur,significat ita,quod est multum. Idem: Quare aduentus eius non perinde gratus fuit. Et proinde quod significat ideo, uel quapropter. Semper enim dependet à superiore sententia. & subinde quod aliquando pro deinde, uel statim post usurpatur. Curtius: Hinc subinde armatus in medium prosiliit. Horat. Si dicet rectè primum gaudere subinde Præceptũ auriculis hoc instillare memento. Frequentissime tamen subin de accipitur pro identidem,hoc est crebro,cũ quodã interuallo. Plin. Tales tum etiã uiatores erant,quibus idipsum nomen indutum est, subinde ex agris senatum, ducésq; accersentibus. At nunc eadem illa uincti pedes, damnatæ manus, inscripti uultus exercent. Item ab in fit deinpro deinde, sicut proin, & subin,pro proinde,& subinde. à quo deinceps,quod aliquando capitur pro deinde. Proprie tamen significat gradatim,quasi per singula capita. Vnde ueteres deincipem proximum quenq; capitum dicebant,quemadmodũ principem primum capitum. Cicero: Sed tamẽ treis fratres summo loco natos,promptos,nõ indisertos, quos uideo deinceps tribunos plebis per triennium fore,te nolo habere iratos. Idem: Rhodium quendam morientem sex æquales nominasse, & dixisse, qui primus eorum, qui secundus, qui deinde, qui deinceps morituros esset. Exinde quoque,& exin ab eodem deducuntur,& significant deinde. Sunt tamen qui inde non ab in,sed ab is pronomine deductum existiment. Item ab in fit aduerbium intus,quod in loco significat. Plaut. Quis intus est? A quo indusium uestis genus, quasi intusum, de quo inferius differemus. & intro quod ad locũ. Terent. Vos istæc intro auferte. & inter,quod significat μετα ξύ. Gellius: Inter os, & offam multa interuenire possunt. aliquando tamen pro propter accipitur. Virg. Hunc inter fluuiũ Tyberinus amœno. Ab hoc fiũt inter hæc,et interea,et interim aduerbia eiusdem significationis. Interim tamen nõnunquam accipitur pro aliquando. Quintilianus: Prima barbarismi, ac solœcismi fœditas absit, sed quia interim excusantur hæc uitia aut consuetudine,aut autoritate, aut uetustate,aut denique uicinitate uirtutũ,acriter se in illud tenue discrimen grammaticus intendat. Idem: Et quod aliàs uitiosum est,interim rectum est. Infinita præterea ab inter composita fiunt, ut internuntius,intercapedo,interuallum,interpres,& similia. Item ab in deriuatur intra. Lucanus: Intra castrorum timuit tentoria ductor. intra diem mortis,ut aliquid fiat,siquis dixerit, ipse quoque dies (ut inquit Vlpianus) in quo quis mortuus fuerit, numeratur. intra, citra, ultra, quibus uocibus certi locorum fines demonstrantur singularibus syllabis, apud ueteres proferebantur,in eis,uls,quibus particulis, quoniã exiguo sonitu obscurius promebantur, addita est eadem syllaba tra, dicíq; cœptum est intra,citra,ultra. Itaque intra idem significat, quod in, ut intra oppidum,intra cubiculũ,intra tentorium significat in oppido, in cubiculo,in tentorio,intra calendas,intra ferias,hoc est in calendis,in feriis. Sed consuetudo obtinuit, ut intra significet interdum id,quod citra,& ante. Cicero: Sed tamen quoniam effugi eius occasionem, qui fortasse arbitraretur me hanc remp. non putare,si perpetuo tacerem,modice hoc faciam,aut etiam intra modum, ut & illius uoluntati, & meis studijs seruiam. Modice inquit,hoc est,cum modo,intra modũ, id est citra mo dum,hoc est minus, quàm modice. Ab intra deriuatur intrinsecus aduerbium, sicut ab extra extrinsecus. Item ab intra antiqui interos dicebant, sicut nunc ab extra dicimus exteros. Ab illo sit interior comparatiuum, & intimus superlatiuum, & interius,atq; intime aduerbia. Ab hoc fit exterior,extimus,exterius,extime. Item ab intra,internus,& interraneus,& interne. Ab extra externus,& exterraneus,& externe. Illa significant,quæ intus sunt,& secreta: hæc quæ foris,& palàm sunt. Item externi,et exterranei dicuntur aduenæ,quasi ex alienatera,sicut conterranei,qui sunt ex eadem terra. Plin. Vt obijcere moliar Catullum conterraneum meum. Item ab intra introrsum, ab extra extrorsum, quæ significant intra uersus, uel extra uersus. Item ab intra,intraneus. ab extra extraneus. Postremo ab intra intro intras. ab extra extro extras. Afranius: Simul limen intrabo, illi extrabunt illico, hoc est exibunt. Ab ijs intrarij dicuntur, qui intimi sunt. Plaut. Caros mihi, atque intrarios amicos. extrarij alieni. Afranius: Vt me esse in hac re ducat abs te extrarium. Pompeius extrarium ab extraneo ita distinguit, ut extrarius sit, qui extra focum, sacramentum, iusq; est: extraneus ex altera terra, quasi exterraneus. Exteraneus tamen etiam is uocatur, qui ante tempus natus, uel potius eiectus est. dictus exterraneus, quod cum mater exterrita eiecerit. Ab extra quoq; extremus deriuatur. Significat autem extremum modo initium alicuius rei. Plaut. Ab extremo narrare incipiam,hoc est à principio. Sic Virg. Et tu sanguinis ultimus autor,id est primus. modo finem. Idem: Extremum hũc Arethusa mihi concede laborem. Idem: Tristis ad extremi sacrum caput astitit amnis. Ponitur etiam aliquando pro sæuo, pessimo. Idem: Illam terra parens ira irritata deorum, Extremam (ut perhibent) Cœo, Encel. doq; sororem progenuit. Extremam,inquit,hoc est pessimam,quod non sine ratione esse uetetur, quandoquidem medici affirmant deteriores esse, qui ultimi nascuntur. Ab intra quoq; intestinus dicimus, quod significat intimum. à quo intestina ilia dicuntur, quod interiori corporis parte claudantur. Item intestinum odium,uel occultum, uel magnum,hoc est cor,& animum premens. Item industriũ, quod ueteres industruum dicebant, quod quicquid ageret, intro strueret,& studeret domi. Est enim industrius, studiosus, uigilans,callidus. A quo industria, studium, uigilantia,calliditas. Item indusium uestis genus, de quo inferius dicemus. A quo indusiatus dicitur,qui huiusmodi uestem indutus est. Præterea ab in fit infra. A quo inferius, cuius comparatiuum,inferior,& superlatiuum infimus. Teren. Ego te esse infra omneis infimos puto. Item aduerbia inferius, & infime. Hinc inferi dicti,quibus nihil est inferius. Et infernus adiectiuum,qui infra est,sicut supernus,qui supra. A quo inferne aduerbium,& infernas infernatis,sicut supernas supernatis. Plin. Et ideo Romæ infernas abies supernati præfertur. Et infernus inferorum locus. A quo infernalis, & infernales furiæ, & inferiæ sacra mortuorum, quæ inferis soluuntur. & inferum mare Tyrrhenum, sicut superum Adriaticum, quod ex urbe Roma uersus Adriaticum euntes ferè semper ascendunt, quousq; transierint Apenninum,et contra ad urbem,& mare Thuscum uenientes descendunt. Sunt qui insulam quoque ab infra dictam putant, propter uittas, quæ ex ea inferius pendent. Est autem insula in modum diadematis, à qua uittæ ab utraque parte dependent. VRBE. Roma scilicet. Vrbẽ cũ dicimus,per antonomasiã intelligimus Romam. nam proprie hæc urbs dicta est, cætera hac una excepta oppida sunt uocitata,uel ab ope,qd opis causa mœnibus cingantur: uel ab opere quod opus sunt ad uitam gerendam: uel ab opponendo se hostibus, uel ab opibus. huius enim rei gratia mœnia constituta sunt, ut homines opes suas eò conferrent, eò conferrent,ubi nullum esset hostium periculum. Ab oppido oppidani dicti sunt incolæ oppidorum. oppidatim aduerbium, quod significat per uaria oppida. Item aliud aduerbium oppido, quod significat ualde multũ. Plautus: Oppido interij obsecro hercle quantus,quàm ualidus est. Ex eo originem habet hoc uerbum. rustici inter se confabulantes,quantum quisq; frumenti faceret, quoties copiam, atque abundantiam eius significare uolebant, dicere soliti erant, quantum oppido satis esset. Hinc uenit in consuetudinem,ut de quacunq; re loquẽtes, oppido pro ualde multũ capiamus. Aliquando cum quam iungitur, sicut præpositio per. Gellius: Oppidoquam libens id feci. Cæsar: Quibus rebus oppidoquam pauci sub pellibus acquiescebant. oppidum locus quoq; in circo erat, unde quadrigæ emittebãtur. Vrbs autem ab uruo dicta est, quod antiqui Hetrusco ritu iunctis bobus tauro, & uacca, interiore aratro circumagebant sulcum,intra quem urbem ædificarent. hoc faciebant religionis gratia die auspicato, ut urbs fossa, muróq; munita esset: & locum unde terram sodissent fossam uocabãt, & introrsum factum murum. Alij ab orbe, & uruo appellatam urbem opinantur, quod sulcus in orbem duceretur. uruũ aratri curuatura dicitur. à quo urinare tractum,siue urinari, quod non est urinã facere, ut falsò ignarum uulgus existimat, sed in aquam mergi, & natando emergere. nam & uruum ita flexum deorsum est, ut redeat sursum. Vrinare ergo dictum,quasi ad similitudinem urui nare,hoc est natare. Plinius Caniculares multitudo circa eas urinanteis graui periculo infestat. Hinc urinatores appellati teste Callistrato, qui mercẽs è mari extrahunt leuandi nauigij gratia iactatas. & urna dicta, quod in aqua haurienda urinat, quemadmodum urinatorfacit, hoc est mergitur, atque emergit. uas quippe aquariũ est, cuius diminutiuum urnula. à quo urnarium uocatur mensa quadrata, in qua urnæ cum aqua ponuntur. & urceus (ut Paulus Iurisconsul. affirmat) uas, quo aqua in ahenum infunditur, cuius diminutiuum est urceolus. Vrina uero quid sit,& unde dicatur, inferius dicemus. Vrbs à ciuitate ita distinguitur,quod urbs mœnia ipsa significat. Virg. Vrbs antiqua fuit, Tyrij tenuere coloni Carthago. ciuitas, colonos, qui ciues dicuntur. Apul. Quod omnis ciuitas approbauit. Item ius ciuium: Cicero: Qui ciuitate donatus est. Aliquando tamen hæc cõfunduntur, & modo contentũ pro continente ponitur. Sene. Cum plerasq; ciuitates uiderimus terræmotu funditus collapsas. modo continens pro contento. Virg. Inuadunt urbem somno, uinóq; sepultam. Ciuitas à ciuibus appellata est, quasi ciuium multitudo. Ciues autẽ dicti à coëundo, quod uinculo quodam societatis in unum coëant cœtum, & sub legibus uiuant. Ab hoc fit ciuile, quod ad ciues pertinet. Vnde ciuile odium, ciuileis discordias, & ius ciuile dicimus. & aduerbium ciuiliter. & ciuilitas nomẽ, quasi ciuilis mos, & ciuicus ad ciues spectans, à quo ciuica corona, quã ciuis ciui, à quo seruatus fuisset in prælio testẽ uitæ, salutisq; perceptæ dare solebat, ex fronde querna: quoniã cibus, uictusq; antiquissimus è quercu capi consueuerat. Item à ciue conciuis dictus est, qui ex eadem, qua ego ciuitate est. Sicut conterraneus, qui ex eadẽ, qua ego terra, uel territorio est. Terra enim maior est, quàm urbs, oppidumq; cuius habitatores uocantur ciues: ponitúrq; pro territorio, et pro regione, siue prouincia, ut supra diximus. Ab urbe suburbia dicuntur duntaxat plurali numero, frequentes extra urbem domus instar uici urbani. Vicus proprie pars urbis est: quippe urbs in uicos, quasi in minora membra diuiditur, ut sunt suburra, carinæ, esquiliæ. Nam regiones in urbe Roma circa uiginti fuerunt, quarũ hodie tredecim duntaxat seruant nomina. dictæ regiones à similitudine earum regionum, in quas orbis diuiditur, de quibus supra diximus. Vicus appellatus, quòd uicas circum haberet. uici & olim, & nunc supra mille. Extra urbem ergo frequentes uillæ, ac frequẽtes domus instar uici urbani suburbia appellantur. Item uici. Liuius: Incẽdijs deinde nõ uillarum modo, sed etiam uicorum, quibus frequenter habitabant Sabini exciti. à suburbio fit suburbanum, quod significat prædium in suburbijs, & suburbanum meum, & suburbana mea, si plura sunt, talia sunt, cum dicimus in Cumano meo, in Thusculano prædio tuo, in Pompeiano agro Varronis. dicitur etiam uicus paganus; si plures simul uillæ, quæ & pagi dicuntur, hoc est plures rusticanæ domus coniunctæ sint, et aliquo spatio remotæ ab urbe, dummodo non sint clausæ mœnibus. Nam si mœnibus clausæ fuerint, castella uocantur à Castro, quod significat locum muris munitum, & castello maius est, minus oppido: quamuis castellum aquæ conceptaculum dicitur, quod locis opportunis fit, ut si aquæ exhaustæ solis ardoribus fuerint, aut uenas sitiens terra consumpserit: nihilominus de receptaculis, hoc est castellis aqua ministretur. Frontinus: Omne plumbum, & omnes impensæ ad aquæductus, & castella, & lacus pertinentes inde erogantur. castrum à casa deducitur, quod sit coniunctio quædam casarum. Nam in plurali castra locus est, ubi milites tentoria figunt, à castri similitudine, quod fossa, uallóq;, quasi muro circũdari solent: à quo castrense dicitur quicquid ad castra pertinet. unde castrensis labor, castrenses curiæ, castrenses uigiliæ, castrense priuilegiũ. Hinc castrense peculium uocat Marcellus Iurisconsultus, quod à parentibus, uel cognatis in militia agenti donatum est, uel quod filiusfamilias in militia acquisiuit, quod nisi militaret, acquisiturus non fuisset, & quasi castrensia bona dicuntur, quæ licet in militia à filiofamiliàs non acquirantur, ita tamen fiunt illius, ac si acquisita in militia fuissent: ut sunt ea, quæ ex offcijs acquiruntur. Item à castro, siue castris procestria dicta sunt munimenta quædam, quæ fiunt ante mœnia castrorum, siue ante castra. Quidam etiã procestria aditum, & uestibuli portam castrorum appellauerunt. à castello dicuntur castellani, sicut ab oppido oppidani. Item à uico uicini, non tam hi, qui eundem incolunt locum, quàm qui propè domum nostram habitant. Hinc uicinia deducitur, & conuicinium, ubi plures inter se uicini sunt. & uicinitas pro propinquitate uicinorum, nonnunquam pro uicinorum multitudine, ut laudanda est, uel potius amanda uicinitas. Item uicatim per uarios uicos. hæc enim ferè omnia, quæ in tim desinunt huiusmodi significationem habent: ut oppidatim, per uaria oppida, catervatim, gregatim, manipulatim, turmatim: per diuersas catervas, diuersos greges, diuersos manipulos, diuersas turmas. Domesticatim, regionatim, municipatim, prouinciatim: p uarias domos, uarias urbis Romæ regiones, uaria municipia, uarias prouincias. Nominatim per nomina singulorũ, quamuis & de uno dicatur. Plau. Nominatim quis fuerit exprome. quemadmodum uiritim per singula capita uirorum: ut Gracchus diuidebat uiritim semodia frumenti. Et aliquando de uno dicimus. Curti. Si quis uiritim dimicare uellet, prouocauit. Guttatim per singulas guttas. Plau. Aedepol cor miserũ meum quidem guttatim contabescit, quasi in aquã indideris salem. Nam gutta minima pars aquæ dicitur, aut alterius liquoris, hoc est stilla. Vnde gutturnium dicitur uas, ex quo aqua in manus datur, ab eo,quod propter angustias guttatim fluat. & guttũ uasculum,in quo odorifera unguenta seruantur, quod inde guttatim sumantur unguenta. Genus etiã poculi guttus erat,quo in sacrificijs utebantur. à gutta fit guttula diminutiuum. & à guttus guttulus. Plau. Vt guttulá hauiret ex guttulo. Membratim per membra, cæsim per incisionem gladij,punctim per punctiones, insixiones q; gladij, sue incidendo, & pungendo. Strictum singula stringendo: carptim hinc, atq; illinc sine ali quo ordine decerpendo. Tractim trahendo, ut series non interrumpatur. generatim per singula genera. Virgilius: Generatim discite cultus. speciatim per singulas species: differunt à generaliter, & specialiter, quæ significãt omnia simul sub uno genere, aut una specie complectendo. Summatim per singulas summas. Aliquando tamen dicimus generatim, & summatim: & speciatim non per singulas summas, & singula genera, & singulas species, sed per unã, unum'ue, ut dicam de hac re summatim. Cicero: Infinitũ mihi uidetur id dicere, in quo aliquid generatim quæreretur. hoc modo, expetendá ne esset eloquẽtia, expetendi honores. Aliquando tamen huiusmodi aduerbia nihil ab alijs aduerbijs differunt, ut priuatim nihil differt à priuate, nec separatim à separate, nec properatim à properanter, nec dissimulatim à dissimulanter, nec ubertim à copiose, nec affatim ab abundanter, sue abunde, nec raptim à festinãter, nec cursim à currendo. Vrbium, sue oppidorum aliæ sui iuris sunt, nec quicquam commune cum alijs habent, aliæ coloniæ, aliæ municipia. Sui iuris sunt, ut Roma, Carthago, Thebæ, Athenæ. coloniæ dicuntur quæ non ueniunt extrinsecus in ciuitatem, nec proprijs radicibus nituntur, sed quasi ex ciuitate propagatæ, iura, institutaq; populi Romani, non proprij arbitrij habent, ut Bononia, Fesulæ coloniæ sunt. quæ conditio licet magis obnoxia, & minus libera uideatur, quàm cæterorũ oppidorum, potior tamen, ac præstabilior existimatur, propter amplitudinem, maiestatemq; populi Romani, cuius huiusmodi coloniæ, quasi effigies paruæ, & ueluti quædam simulacra esse uidentur. unde à colendo coloniæ uocitatæ, quod populum Romanum colerent, uel quod ad eas colendas Romani profiscerentur. Municipia autem uocabantur, quæ aliunde uenientes in ciuitatem, & cum suo iure uiuerent, muneribus tamen populi Romani, honoribusq; fungebantur: à quo munere capessendo sibi nomen uẽdicauere, nullis alijs necessitatibus, neq; populi Romani legibus astricta. Eorum incolæ municipes uocati sunt. Primos autem municipes sine suffragij iure Cærites factos fuisse cõstat, cõcessumq; illis, ut ciuitatis quidem Romanæ honorẽ caperent, sed negotijs, oneribusq; uacarent, pro Saeris bello gallico receptis, ac custoditis. Hinc tabulæ cærites appellatæ, in quas Censores referri iubebant, quos nota causa, suffragijs priuabant. Quidam etiam cerimonias ab his putãt appellatas, quãuis alij à carendo dictas malint, quemadmodũ inferius dicemus. De his Strabo ita scribit: Cærites capta urbe Roma redeuntes Gallos in Sabinis, aggressi prælio, armisq; fuderunt: & spolia, quæ à Romanis sponte offerentibus acceperant, ab inuitis ipsi eripuere. Præterea eos, qui ad se urbe capta confugerant, beneficijs affectos benigne exceperunt, simulq; æternum, atque inextinctum ignem, sacerdotesq; uestales summo studio protexere: cuius beneficij Romani sanè parum memores uidentur fuisse. Nam cum eos ciuitate donassent, suffragiorũ tamen iure fungi noluerunt, quos aliqua causa suffragijs priuabant, ad Cæritum tabulas iubebant referri. hunc locum, quàm inepte in latinum uerterit Strabonis interpres, operæpreciũ est uidere. Cære oppidum fuit Thusciæ non longe à Tarquinijs, quondam Agilla nominabatur, quæ à Pelasgis è Thessalia profectis cõdita fertur. Verum, cum Lydis quos postea Tyrrhenos uocauere, aduersus Agillinos bellũ gerentibus, quidam murum subiens urbis nomen percontatus fuisset, responsum est à quodam Thessalo è muro χαῖρε, quod significat salue, quo ueluti bono omine à Thuscis accepto, captam urbẽ mutato priori nomine Cære uocauere, à quo Cærites dicti, et cæritiana balnea. Cæretũ uero Vmbriæ oppidũ est inter Spoletum ac Nursiam. à quo Cæretani appellantur, totũ orbem uano quodam, ac turpi superstitionis genere ludificantes, ob quam causam ferè continue peregrinantur, familia, atq; uxoribus domi relictis. Municipiorum iura iam penitus obliterata sunt. Municipem (ut Vlpianus inquit) facit aut ciuitas, aut manumissio, aut adoptio: quoniam municeps, & qui liber in municipio natus est, dicitur, & qui in municipio à seruitute se liberauit, & qui in ciuitatem quancunq; ascitus est. proprie tamen municipes dicuntur, qui in ciuitatem Romanam recepti munerum participes fiunt. Sed abusiue nunc municipes dicimus suæ cuiusq; ciuitatis ciues, utputa Cãpanos, Puteolanos, Neapolitanos. à quo municipale ius dicitur priuatum ius uniuscuiusq; ciuitatis. Item municipalia sacra uocabãtur, quæ ante urbem conditam colebantur. & municipale urbanum. & à municipe municipaliter dicimus, quemadmodum à ciuile ciuiliter. Ab urbe fit suburbiũ, de quo postea dicemus. & urbicus, urbica, urbicum, quod significat quicquid ad urbem pertinet, sicut rusticus rustica rusticum, quod pertinet ad rus, unde rusticum poëtam, & urbicum poëtam dicimus, rusticam domum, & urbicam domum. Martialis: Quod non optimus urbicus poëta. Gellius: Si quod autem posset remedium esse, ut ne tam assidue domus Romæ arderent, uenum hercle dedissem res rusticas, & urbicas emissem. Itẽ urbanus, urbana, urbanũ, quod modo eandem significationem habet, quam urbicus. Vnde urbanas tribus appellabant, in quas urbs à Seruio Tullo Romanorum rege dispartita fuerat, ut suburra, palatina, esquilina, collina, & alia huiusmodi: quamuis à principio in treis tantum tribus diuisa urbs fuerit, ut postea docebimus. Item prædia urbana, mores urbani, curiæ urbanæ, & similia. Vnde suburbanum, & anteurbanũ deriuantur, de quibus inferius dicemus. modo urbanum dicimus cultum, atque desertum, hoc est cum, qui in uerbis, & sono, & usu proprium quendam præ se fert urbis gestum, & sumptam ex conuersatione doctorum tacitã eruditionem: denicq; cui contrarius est rusticus, hoc est inepte, & barbare loquens. & hoc differt à dicaci, quod dicax est cuius sermo cum risu aliquem incessit, ideo Demosthenem urbanum fuisse dicunt, dicacem negant. à dicace dicaculus deducitur, à quo aduerbium dicacule. Apuleius: Eadem amatoris sui uxorem, quod in eam dicacule probrum dixerat, perpetua peregrinatione damnauit. Quemadmodum autem urbanum, & dicacem hominem dicimus, ita urbanum, & dicacem sermonem, unde urbanitas, & dicacitas tam de homine, quàm de oratione dicitur. eodẽ modo uenustus homo, & uenusta oratio: lepidus homo, & lepida oratio: falsus homo, & falsa oratio: insulsus homo, & insulsa oratio: facetus homo, & faceta oratio: iocosus homo, & iocosa oratio. & uenustas, lepor, sales, insulsitas, facetiæ, ioci tam de homine, quàm de oratione dicũtur. Hæc autẽ ita inter se differunt, quod uenustum uocamus, quod cum gratia quadam, & Venere dicitur. Lepidum quod rotunditate quadam, & breuitate, & quasi celeritate, atq; acumine uerborum uenustum est. Quapropter Lælius uir doctrina excellens, quemadmodum id animal, quod lepus uocatur, à leuitate pedum dictum existimat, ita enim lepõrem in oratione à pedum suorum leuitate putat appellatum. habet enim oratio quoque suos pedes sine soluta, sue numerosa sit. à lepido fit lepidior, lepidissimus, lepide, illepidus, illepidior, illepidissimus, illepide, lepiditas, illepiditas. Salsum in consuetudine pro ridiculo tantum capimus, quamuis non utiq; hoc sit, licet ridicula oporteat esse salsa. nam Cicero omne quod salsum est, ait esse Atticorum, non quia sunt maxime cõpositi. Et Catullus, cum dicit: Nulla in tã magno est corpore mica salis. hoc dicit nihil in corpore eius esse ridiculum. Salsum ergo erit, quicquid non

erit insulsum, uelut quoddam simplex orationis condimentum, quod latente iudicio ueluti palato sentitur, excitatq; & à tædio defendit orationem. facetum non tantum circa ridicula cõsistit, cum dicat Horatius facetum Catoni genus natura cõcessisse, cum Virgilio decens, sed excultæ cuiusdam elegantiæ hæc sum esse, Virgilio decens, sed excultæ cuius sdam elegantiæ hæc appellatio est. Itaq; in epistolis Cicer. hæc Bruti uerba refert: Nec ulli sunt pedes faceti, ac delitijs ingrediendi mollius. Iocũ uocamus quod est contrarium serio. Nam & fingere, & terre re, & promittere aliquando iocus est. Ab urbano urbane adu erbium deducitur, hoc est culte, eleganter. & urbanatim pro urbane, modeste. Pomponius: Ego rusticatim tangã, urbanatim nescio. Cæterum quam nos urbem uocamus, Græci πόλιν appellant. Quamuis πόλις non modo urbem, sed etiam ciuitatem significet. Vnde politicus ciuilis dicitur. & Constantinopolis Constãtini urbs, Neapolis noua urbs, Metropolis mater urbs, hoc est cæterarum urbium caput. Item polio uerbũ, quod est colo, orno, & quasi urbano, & politico more, qui rustico cõtrarius est, compono. Hinc politum dicimus cultum, ornatum, & ad nitorem deductum. & polite, culte, ornate. & politior, politissimus, politius, politissime, & politule diminutiuum, quo utitur Plautus. Et politiones agrorũ cultus diligentes, sicut politiones uestimentorũ, hoc est munditiæ, & cultus. & polimenta testiculi porcorum, cum castrantur, quod ad similitudinem uestium poliantur. & depolio compositum, quod modo polio significat, modo perficio. unde depolitũ perfectum dicimus, quoniam omnes perfectiones antiqui politiones appellabant. Polit tamen aliquãdo ueteres scripsere pro eo, quod est pila ludit. Atq; ut cætera ad urbem pertinentia obiter dicantur, mœnia sunt proprie quæ urbem cingunt. Virgilius: Et mœnia pandimus urbis. Significant tamen & alia ædificia. Plautus: Prohibentq; mœnia alia, unde ego fungar mea. & à munendo dicta sunt mœnia, quasi munia. Veteres enim œ & u indifferenter ponebant. Vnde pœnio pro punio dixere, & mœrus pro murus. Virgilius: Atq; ipsis prælia miscent aggeribus mœrorum. à mœnibus summœnium, quasi submœnium dictum, quod sub mœnibus urbis esset. à quo Summœnianum, de quibus alibi dicemus. Meniana uero non à mœnibus dicta, sed à Menio quodam, qui primus id genus ædificij inuenit extensis tignis ultra columnas, quo superiora ampliarentur, uulgo nunc quoq; Meniana, sue Podioli dicũtur. Suetonius. Pauci è proximis Menianis spectabant. murus quoq; à muniendo similiter dictus est, ut Varro affirmat. à quo muralis corona appellatur, qua donari solebat ab imperatore, qui primus murum subijisset, et in hostium oppidum per uim ascendisset. hæc aurea dari solebat. Et proximum rum pontificale pomerium proximi muri. & Murceus Auentinus mons, quod è lapidibus, & ueluti muro constaret. à quo Murcia dea, cuius sacellũ sub Auentino monte erat. & Murmillonica scuta (ut quidam putant) cum quibus de muro pugnabant. Erant enim ad hoc ipsum apta. Muria uero, sue muries non à muro, sed à mari (ut quidã existimant) deducitur. Est enim aqua salsamentorum. Murrhinia uero, sue murrhina uina dicũtur, quæ myrrha condita sunt. Laudatissima enim apud priscos fuere uina myrrhæ odore condita, quibus & calamus odoratus addi solebat. Fabius: Mittebant uinum pulchrum murrhinũ. Idem: Panem, & polentam, uinum murrhinum. Plautus: Quod si opus est, ut dulce promant ijdem, ecquid habeant roga myrrhinum, passum, defrutum, mella. Idem unum & myrrhatum dicebatur, & myrrhata, sue murrhata potio, & (ut Varro testatur) murrhiola. Myrrha arbuscula est in Arabia præcipue nascens, altitudo ei ad quinq; cubita, nec sine spina, caudi ex duro, & intorto, crassiore q; quàm Thuris, corticem lenem habet, similemq; unedoni, folium rotundius, sed sapore Iunis peri. Inciduntur bis ijsdem temporibus, quibus thus. Sudant autem sponte, priusquã incidantur, Stacten dictam, cui nulla præfertur. Fuit autem Myrrha Cinaræ Cypriorũ regis filia, quæ patris amore capta clàm cum eo concubuit, quapropter persequente agnitam patre, in arborem sui nominis conuersa est. Item Murrhina uasa dicuntur ex gemma, quæ murrha appellatur. hanc oriens mittit, præcipueq; insignia quædã loca Parthici regni, & Carmania. humorem putant esse calore sub terra densatum: splendor huic sine uiribus, nitorq; uerius, quàm splendor, sed in precio est colorum uarietas circumagentibus se subinde maculis in purpuram, candoremq;, & tertium, qui fit ex utroq;. Sunt qui maxime in his laudent extremitates, & quosdam coloris repercussus, quales in cœlesti arcu spectãtur, his maculæ pingues placent. translucere quicquam, aut pallere uitiũ est. T. Petronius iurisconsultus moriturus, inuidia Neronis principis, ut mensam eius exhæredaret, trullam murrhinam CCC sestertijs emptam fregit. Sed Nero (ut par erat principem) CCCC sestertijs fragmenta emit, & capedinem unam parauit, qua potaret. Et muralis herba, quæ uulgo uitreolum dicitur, quod uasa mirum in modum confricata purificet, ideo Vrceolaris à ueteribus dicta. Eadem parietaria uocatur, quod in muris, sue pariẽtibus frequenter nascatur, et perdicium, quoniam perdices ea præcipue uescantur, & helxine ἀπὸ τοῦ ἕλκω, id est traho: quoniam caulicolos densos leuiter rubentes habet, & semina in capitibus lapaceis, quæ uestibus adhærescunt. & Parthenium, quod uirgineum significat, cuius nominis hæc ratio est, quod uernula quidam Periclis Athenien sium principis nomine Splanchnoptes, cum forte repsisset super altitudinem templi, quod tum Pericles in arce ædificabat, & inde cecidisset, hac herba dicitur sanatus mõstrata Pericli in somnis à Minerua, quæ græce παρθένος, hoc est uirgo appellatur. hic est uernula, & nobilis ille Splanchnoptes, cuius effigies ex ære fusa inter præclara opificũ opera connumerata fuit. Herbam hanc uarijs ægritudinibus utilem esse constat, sed in primis contra ulcera rupta, lapsusq; & præcipitia, ac uehiculorũ euersiones singularem. Magica uanitas contra tertianas sinistra manu euelli eam iubet, dicitq; cuius causa euellatur nec respicere: dein eius folium ægri linguæ subijcere, ut mox in cyatho aquæ deuoretur. à παρθένος parthenius etiam, hoc est uirgineus mons dictus Arcadiæ à uirginibus, quæ in eo uenari frequenter solebant. Est etiã Parthenius Paphlagonum fluuius. Paphlagones populi è Paphlagonia minoris Asiæ prouincia. Item Parthenope propriũ nomen unius ex Sirenibus, à qua præclara urbs Campaniæ, quæ nunc Neapolis dicitur, nomen sumpsit. hanc Cumani à parentibus digressi condidisse produntur, qui cum in eo loco, Parthenopes corpus in ueteri monumento conditũ reperissent, nomen eius urbi indidere. Sed postquam ob locorum ubertatem, atq; amœnitatem maiorum immodum frequentari ea ciuitas cœpit, ueriti ne Cumæ desererentur, diruendi Parthenopen consilium iniuere, quo facto mox immani pestilentia uexati, oraculo moniti sunt, ut urbem restituerent, itaque subito instauratam Neapolim, hoc est nouam urbem uocauere. à Parthenope parthænopeius deducitur. Murus, & paries hoc differunt, quod murus urbis est lapideus ambitus: paries uero domorum. Maceria murus est, sue paries constans ex lapidibus sine calce, aut alio genere ferruginis. Paulus: Si precario uicinus in tuo duxerit maceriem interdicto, quod precario habet agi non poterit, nec maceria posita donatio seruitutis perfecta intelligitur. eadem & maceries dicitur. Extra murũ agger est ab aggerenda terra, quæ foditur, & fossa ab eadẽ terra effossa. Pomœrium tam intra, quàm extra murum est, dictum quasi post mœrium. De quo Liuius ita scribit: Pomœriũ est circa murum locus, quem in condendis urbibus, quondam Hetrusci, quâ murum ducturi erant, certis circa terminis inaugurato consecrabant: & hoc spatium, quod neq; habitari, neq; arari fas erat, non magis, quod post murum esset, quàm quod murus post id pomœrium Romani appellarunt, sicuti pomœridianum dixerunt pro post meridiano. Nam locus pomis consitus non pomœrium (ut quidam existimant) sed pomarium appellatur. Ouidius. Id metuens solidis pomaria clauserat Atlas Montibus. In summitate uero murorum pinnæ ab ijs, quas insigniti milites in galeis habere solent, ita dictæ. Pinnæ enim propriæ sunt pennæ, quæ plumæ, hoc est molliores, & exiguæ pennæ non sunt. nam pennæ generale nomen est, ad plumas, & pinuas. à penna pennatus, & penniger, & pennarium theca pennarum, quibus nunc pro calamis utimur: & impennatus, sine pennis. Quamuis ueteres pennatas, impennatasq; agnas in saliari carmine pro spicis usurparunt, quæ habent, quæq; non habent aristas. agnas enim nouas uoluerunt intelligi, & bipennis, de quo inferius dicemus. à pluma, plumeus, & plumiger, & puluinus, & puluinar deducuntur. Dictum enim puluinum existimant quasi pluminum, & puluinar, quasi pluminar. Est autem puluinus, quasi lectulus quidam exiguus, lana, uel tomento, uel pluma, aut alio genere huiusmodi plenus. quo utimur in sedendo. Cicero: Afferri iussit puluinos, & omnes in suis sedibus sederunt. Iuuenalis: Et de puluino surgat equestri. à quo puluinatum dicimus, quod ad puluini similitudinem molle, ac conuexum est. Plinius: Lanuginoso, ac puluinato calice. & puluinum in hortis uocamus partem terræ erectiorem sulcum ex utroque latere sepientem, qui & Lira uocatur. habet enim ueluti puluinorum, in quibus sedemus, similitudinem, propter quod & torus à quibusdam nuncupatur. Plinius: Areis distingui, easq; resupinis puluinorum toris ambiri singulis tramitum sulcis, qua datur accessus homini scatebrisq; decursus. Columella: Vlpicũ habet, uelut allium plureis cohærenteis spicas, hæq; cum sint diuisæ, literatim seri debebũt, ut in puluinis positæ minus infestentur hyemis aquis. Puluinaria autem dicuntur, quæ capitibus dormituri supponimus ad puluinorum similitudinem. Iuuenalis: Fœda lupanaris tulit ad puluinar odorem. His in templis quoque Deorum ueteres utebantur, ut nos quoque hac tempestate facimus, in quibus collocabantur numina, ac Deorũ imagines, ut eminentiora uiderentur. Item à pluma plumatile, aut clauatum, aut ex plumis factum. Plautus: Cumatile, aut plumatile * plumis implere. & plumarium ex pluma, unde plumariam culcitram dicimus, quæ pluma plena est. & implume sine pluma, unde implumis culcitra sine pluma. & implumes aues, nuper natæ, & quæ nondum plumas emiserunt. Pinnas etiam gestare gladiatores solebant. unde pinnirapi retiarij dicuntur, quod pinnas è galeis mirmillonum iacto rete exciperent. Iuuenalis: Hic plaudat nitidi præconis filius, inter Pinnirapi cultos iuuenes, iuuenesq; lanistæ. huiusmodi pinnam græco quidem, ueruntamen apud Latinos usitato uocabulo petalum dicimus, quod aliquando ex ære, uel argento, uel auro fieri solebat. Plinius: Achamenes Phidiæ discipulus æreum petalum fecit, qui uocatur Encrinomenos, & ἀπὸ τοῦ πετᾶσθαι, quod est uolare, deducitur. tenuis quippe brattea est instar pinnæ. à pinna pinnaculum dicitur fastigium, & summitas ædificij in acumen tendentis, siue quod ueteres pinnam acutum dicebant, unde bipennis appellata est securis, quæ utrinque aciem habet: siue quod pinnaculis addi pinna consueuit, quæ facili motu uentorum indicet flatum, quod ge nus uulgo nunc penniculum dicimus. Hoc etiam à uolatu petasum nominant. Plinius: Supra id quadratum Pyramides stant quinque, quatuor in angulis, & in medio una: in imo latæ pedum septuagenum quinum. Aliæ centum quinquagenum, ita fastigiatæ, ut in summo orbis æneus, & petasus unus omnibus sit impositus ex quo pendeant excepta catenis tintinabula, quæ uento agitata longe sonitus referant. Petasi etiam alæ dicuntur, quibus Mercurij talaria nectuntur, & ipsa talaria. Item uela tenuissima, quibus uti in theatris solebant ex lino æstiuo tempore. à quibus, qui petasis utuntur, petasati uocãtur. Suetonius de Augusto: Aestate apertis cubiculi foribus, ac sæpe in peristylio saliente aqua, atque etiam uentilante aliquo cubabat: Solis uero ne hyberni quidem patiens, domi quoque nõ nisi petasatus sub diuo spatiabatur. petaso autẽ ea pars suis dicitur, quæ ab alis incipit, & costas cõprehendit quibusdam ueluti uirgulis pinguibus distincta. Martialis de perna: Ceretana mihi fiat uel missa licebit De Menapis lauti de petasone uorent. Nam pernæ tam priores, quàm posteriores coxæ dicuntur. Plinius: Castrantur sues post bidui inediam suspensæ pernis prioribus. Ab huius pernæ similitudine piscis quoque genus perna appellatum est, ex concharum genere circa Pontias insulas frequentissimum. Stant pernæ uelut suillo crure longo in arena defixæ, hiantesq;, qua limpitudo est, pedali non minus spatio cibum uenantur. Dentes in circuitu habent pectinatim spissatos, intus pro spondylo grandis est caro. Veteres pernas pedes appellabant, quod nomen hodie quoque seruant Hispani. Hinc pernio appellatur morbus pedum ex nimio frigore proueniens, & calcaneum præcipue infestans, quem Græci χείμεθλα uocant. Plinius: Rapum domesticum perniones feruens impositum sanat, & crudum tusum; cum sale prodest cuicunque uitio pedum. Hinc fit diminutiuum perniunculus. Idem: Perniunculos curat, & cotyledon cũ axungia. à petaso fit diminutiuum petasunculus, de quo Martialis: Musteus est propera, charos ne differ amicos, Nam mihi cum uetulo sit petasone nihil. Musteum petasonem uetulo præferri ostendit. Apitius: Ex musteis petasonem elixas, cum bilibri ordei, & caricis uigintiquinque: cum elixatus fuerit decarnas, & armillam illius candenti batillo uris, et melle contegis: uel quod melius est, missum in furnum, melle obligas, cum colorauerit mittis in cacabum, passum, piper, fasciculũ rutæ, merum temperas. cum fuerit temperatum, dimidium in petasonem profundis, & alia parte piperati bucellas mustei fractas profundis: cum sorbuerit, quod mustei remanserit petasoni refundis. Petaso ob pinguitudinem facile rancescit, ideo uetus improbatur, musteus uero pernis longe præponitur. Hic obiter ostendendum est batillum, quod Apitius nominat, ferreum instrumentum esse, quo pruna colligitur ad similitudinẽ pilæ. id & batalum, quasi patulum primo uocatum, deinde batillum per diminutionem dictum. Plinius: Batillis ferreis candentibus ramento argenti imposito, quod candidum permaneat, probatur. in muris sunt turres arcta, atque alta ædificia à torrendis hostibus dictæ, sicut arces ab hostibus arcendis, uel quod aspectu toruæ sint, hoc est terribiles. Toruum quippe terribile dicimus uel à terendo, uel à tauris. Toruitas enim propric taurorum est dicta, quasi taurorum acerbitas. Ab hoc sunt torue, & toruum, & torua aduerbia. Plautus: Quid me torue aspectas? Apuleius: Cum toruum in eos intueretur. Virgilius: Talibus Aeneas ardentem, & torua tuentẽ, Lenibat dictis. à turris turritus deducitur, hoc est altus, atque excelsus: ut turrita domus alta, sublimis, & ad turris similitudinem ædificata. Interdum turritus turribus plenus. à quo turritæ urbes dicuntur, & mater deûm Turrita cognomi ta cognominatur, quia terra est, quæ urbeis sustinet. Virgilius: Qualis Berecynthia mater Læta deûm partu Phrygias turrita per urbeis. Et turriger. Lucanus: Turrigero canos effundens uertice crineis. Pli. Sed turrigeros elephantorũ miramur humeros. Turricula quoque à turris per diminutionem dicitur, quæ modo paruam turrim significat, modo uasculi genus à turris similitudine ita dicti, quo iactari tali ludendo solebant. Mar. Quærit compositos manus improba mittere talos. Si per me misit nil nisi uota facit. Eadẽ pyrgus appellatur, quoniam Græci πύργον turrim uocant. Horatius: Talos mitteret in Pyrgum. Quamuis Pyrgũ oppidum quoq; Thusciæ fuerit nobilissimum eo tempore, quo piraticã Thusci exercebant. Dicitur etiã orca. Persius: Angustæ collo nõ fallier orcæ. Quod nomen sumit à similitudine marinæ beluæ. est enim species teres, atque uniformis. Bellua ipsa orca uocatur balenis infesta, cuius imago nulla alia repræsentatione exprimi potest, quàm carinæ inuersæ. dentibus truculenta irrumpit in secreta, ac uitulos balenarum, uel fœtus, uel etiam matres grauidas, onere immobileis lacerat morsu. Orca in portu Hostiensi uisa oppugnata est Claudio principe. Venerat tunc eo portum ædificante inuitata naufragijs tergorum aduectorum è Gallia, satiansq; per complureis dies alueum in uado sulcauerat usque adeo fluctibus accumulata, ut circũagi nullo modo posset. profectusq; eò Cæsar cũ prætorianis cohortibus populo Romano spectaculum præbuit milite è nauigijs lanceas congerente quorum unus mergi uisus est, reflatu belluæ unda oppletus. turriũ inuentores (ut Aristoteles refert) Cyclopes (ut Theophrastus) Phœnices fuere. Itẽ quia uiæ relinquuntur in muro, quibus necessaria portari in urbem possint, à portando portæ appellatæ, quæ fores habent, quibus clauduntur, aperiunturq;. Item post se alias fores pendulas ex ligno, ferró ue, quæ demitti, ac tolli pro uoluntate custodũ possunt, hæ cataractæ appellãtur. Liui. Porta cataracta deiecta clausa erat, eam partim funibus subducunt in tantum altitudinis, ut subire recte possent. Dictæ cataractæ, quod ex alto defluere uideantur. Græci enim καταῤῥεῖν defluere dicunt. unde cataractæ etiam appellantur è terra exeuntes aquæ, & ita ex alto defluentes, ut ruere potius, quàm defluere uideantur, qualem Tyburi cernimus Anienem, & qualeis esse in Aegypto Nili cataractas legimus. Item loca ipsa, è quibus exeunt, cataractæ dicuntur, unde in maximis imbribus apertas esse cœli cataractas dicere solemus. Reperitur autem hæc cataracta fœminino genere, & hic cataractes masculino. à Græcis καταῤῥάκτης masculino genere dicitur. à porta diminutiuum fit porticula. Item Angiportum intra urbem est uia angusta non facile peruia, quasi uicus inter domos. Veteres quippe domos partim portus, partim insulas uocabant à portando. unde etiam porticus appellatæ, quæ propter repentinos imbreis, & umbrarum, ac deambulationis gratia ædificantur. Ouidins de porticu Pompeiana: Tu modo Pompeia lætus spatiare sub umbra, Cum sol Herculei terga leonis adit. Varro angiportum ab angendo propter loci angustiam, & portu dictum affirmat. Terentius: Egomet in pedes quantum queo in angiportum quoddam desertum. Portus proprie dictus (ut Vlpi. scribit) locus cõclusus, quò importantur merces, & inde exportãtur. Nunc quartæ declinationis est. Veteres in secunda usi fuere. Turpi. Nec nautæ, cum essent circunuenti uentis, incerto itinere, porti indigentes. à portu porticulus deducitur, qui modo est paruus portus, modo is, qui in portu modum dat classi, modo malleus, & portisculus. Marcel. Portisculum scribit esse hortatorem remigum, qui eam perticam tenet, quæ portisculus dicitur, qua excursum, & hortamenta moderatur. Plautus: Tu ha bes portisculũ. Et Portumnus deus à portu dictus, qui portubus præest, græce παλαίμων uocatur. Hic idem Melicerta est Inûs filius. & portoriũ merces, quæ portitoribus datur. Itẽ uectigal, quod soluitur portitori. Lucilius: Facit idem, quod illi, qui inscriptum è portu exportant clanculum, ne portorium dent. & portitor, qui uectigal portus, hoc est portorium cõduxit. Item qui traducit homines, ac uehit uel ad nauim de litore, uel ad litus de naui, uel ad ulteriorem fluminis stagni, aut lacus ripam, quem græca uoce πορθμέα dicimus. Iuuenalis: Iam sedet in ripa, tetrumq; nouicius horret Porthmea. Item abusiue interdũ is, qui portatur, sicut uector. Præterea importunus, importune, importunitas. Opportunus, opportune, opportunitas, de quibus supra diximus. Intra urbem quoque forum est, de quo supra diximus, in quod uenalia feruntur, uel in quo iudicia feruntur. Vnde forum boarium, forum olitorium, forum piscarium, forum cupedinis, quæ omnia postquam Romæ contracta fuerunt in unum locum, quæ ad uictum pertinebant, & locus ædificatus appellatum Macellum, seu quod ibi fuerit hortus (ut quidam putant) quem Macellũ à Lacedæmonijs appellari diximus, unde Iones quoque hostia hortorum macellotas uocabant: siue quod ibi domus fuerit eius, cui Macello cognomentum fuerit, quæ ibi publice diruta, at ex ea ædificatum hoc, quod uocatur macellum in foro. Tradunt enim hunc Macellum latrocinium in urbe exercuisse, ideoq; eo damnato censores Aemilium, & Fuluium statuisse, ut in domo eius obsonia uenderentur. Sunt qui macellum à mactandis pecoribus existimant appellatum. mactare enim interficere est. Plautus: At ego certe cruce, & cruciatu mactato. tractũ à sacris, ubi mactari oues dicũtur, quæ immolãtur. Virgilius: Et nigram mactabis ouem, lucumq; reuises. Dictũ est autem macto, quasi magis aucto, hoc est augeo. Nam prius q̃ uictimam immolarent, thus, aut uinum super eam fundebãt. Vnde mactum esse taurum dicebant thure, uel uino, hoc est, cumulatam hostiã, & magis auctam. Hinc mactare pro magis augere ueteres usurparunt. Cicero: Ferunt laudibus, mactant honoribus. Et macte uirtute dicimus eũ, qui uirtute præditus est, quasi magis aucte semper in uocatiuo. Virgilius: Macte noua uirtute puer, sic itur ad astra. Cicero: Macte uirtute esto. Lucilius: Macte inquã uirtute, simulq; his uersibus esto. Apul. Macte uirtute esto. Liuius: Tum uero abi inquit, in te magis, quàm in me hostilia ausus. iuberem macte uirtute esse, si pro mea patria ista uirtus staret. Nunc iure belli liberum te intactum, inuiolatumq; dimitto. Per metaphorã tamen mactare aliquando pro male tractare accipimus. Plautus: Mactantem malo, & damno uiros. Aliquando pro præcipitare. Accius: Aut illorum copias fundam in campo, aut naueis uestras mactabo in mare. Nonnunquam pro honorare. Plaut. Tum honeste mactatum reducam domum. Quidam etiam macellum à macerando deductum arbitrantur, quod pecora, dum eò ducuntur, ibiq; tenentur, macerantur. A macello macellarij dicuntur, qui macellum exercent non solum carnium, sed omnium obsoniorum, quin etiam panis, & frumenti uenditores. quippe hæc omnia in macello uenundabantur. Nam locus ubi carnes tantummodo uenduntur, carnarium appellatur. Plautus: Cœnam è carnario emit iam factus satur. Varro tabernam carnariam uocat. carnariũ tamen proprie dicitur, ubi salitæ carnes domi reponuntur. Plinius: Quippe è macello, aut carnario uiuendum est. Qui uero carneis in carnario uendunt, etiam lanios constat appellatos fuisse. Plaut. In uelabro uel pistorem, uel lanium, uel haruspicem. Vnde lanienas officinas uocamus, in quibus fiunt ac uenduntur carnes. Idem: Per Myropolia, & lanienas, circumq; argentarias rogitando sum raucus factus. & lanionius ad lanium spectans. Vnde lanionię mensæ dicuntur, in quibus scinditur caro. Sueton. Carnificem statim acciri cum machæra, mensaq; lanionia flagitauit. & lanium aliquando pro carnario positum: hinc lanistas dictos, qui laniandis gladiatoribus præsunt, quemadmodum inferius ostendemus. Carnariũ quoque Plautus accipit pro ipsa carne: Qui mihi carnarium parauit ridiculus ad ientandum. Item Carnarius masculino genere dicitur, & qui carnem uendit, & qui in edenda carne delectatur. Martialis. Carnarius sum, pinguiarius non sum. quod significat carnosam, hoc est corpulentam amicam opto, non nimis pinguem. Macellum etiam per diminutionem dicimus macrum. Lucilius: Si nosti non magnus homo est, nasutus, macellus. Macer proprie uocatur exilis, atque extenuatus. Virgil. Heu heu, quàm pingui macer est mihi taurus in aruo. Et à græco (ut ego arbitror) deducitur. Græci enim μακρὸν longum dicunt. quæ autem tenuia sunt longiora uidentur. à μακρὸς macrocosmus dictus, hoc est longus mundus. Sicut Microcosmus paruus mundus, & macrologia lõga oratio, multiloquentia, sicut brachylogia breuiloquentia, & macrobius longæuus. βίος enim uitam significat, & macrochir longimanus. à macer uero macilẽtus dicitur eiusdem significationis, & macresco uerbum, quod est extenuor, & macies extenuatio. Apuleius: Vnde ista tam subita macies, & tantus pallor? & macritudo, & macor eiusdem significationis. Plautus: Ossa, atque pellis sum miser macritudine. Pacu. Corpusq; meũ tali mœrore, errore, macore senet. Ab hoc fit macesco. Varro: Riualis homo iturus in curiã ante macescebat. Item maceror eiusdem significationis, frequenter tamen ad animum transfertur, & capitur pro affligor. Itẽ maceries, hoc est paries sine calce factus, quasi sine pinguitudine, qui & maceria dicitur solis lapidibus cõstans. Maceries etiam ipsam macritudinem, siue macerationem significat. Macæra uero græca uox est, & latine sica dicitur, & culter, siue cultellus. Iuuenalis: Ames nomen, uictumq; machæræ. notum instrumentum est ad scindendum simul, uulnerandumq;. unde machærophori sicarij dicuntur. Item macula, quod significat turpitudinem, quoniã macies animal decolorat, ac fœdum facit. Plinius: Fullones eas maculas è uestibus tollũt. hinc maculo, & commaculo, id est fœdo, deturpo. capitur etiã macula pro nota, hoc est signo quocunq;. Vnde genitiuæ notæ in corpore maculæ dicuntur. Item pro infamia. Cicero: Cuius ut adolescentiæ maculas, ignominiasq; præteream. Item pro foramine in rete. Idem: Reticulumq; ad nareis sibi admouebat tenuissimo lino, minutis maculis, plenum rosæ. à macula maculosum dicitur, quod modo sordidum, immundumq; significat. Plautus: Sordida, ac maculosa facie. modo uariũ, ac notis plenum. Virgilius: Succinctam pharetra, & maculosæ tegmine lyncis. Item à macro, siue macie fit marceo, quod est putreo, & marcesco putresco, quoniam quæ macie attenuata sunt, facile putrescunt: hinc marcor, putredo, & marcidus putridus, & (si Varroni credimus) mœreo, doleo, quod mœror, hoc est dolor corpus marcescere faciat. ab eo mœstum deducitur, hoc est triste, miserandum. Virg. Et mœstas promere uoces, à quo mœstitia, & mœstitudo deducuntur. Quintil. Dolore, atque animi mœstitia langues. Accius: Ni uestitus teter, mœstitudo, uastitudo, prædicarent hominem esse. Plautus: Cui tanta mœstitudo obtigit. Veteres etiam mœro pro mœstum, & mœrentẽ facio usurparunt. Pacu. Qui multis me mœrauit modis. At cũ sine diphthongo scribitur mereo longe diuersam significationẽ habet, merere enim proprie est lucri gratia aliquid operari. unde merere dicimus stipendij gratia militare. Varro: Qui in exercitu donati essent, & ære publico mererent. Lucanus: Aere merent paruo, à quo emeriti dicuntur, qui iam à militia absoluti sunt. unde mors ab emerita uita dicta est. Quidam tamen emereor, & emeritum à mereor potius deductum existimant, ut inferius docebimus. & merere mulieres dicuntur, quæ sordidissimi quæstus gratia prostant. à quo meretrices sunt appellatæ. à quibus meretricium pro meretricia arte, & meretricari, quod est scortari. & meretricius, meretricia, meretricium, quicquid quæstum facit corpore suo. unde equi meritorij dicuntur, & meritorij muli, & meritoriæ rhedæ, quæ quæstus gratia locãtur, aut cõducuntur. & scorta meritoria, quæ lucri gratia prostituũtur. & pueri meritorij, qui uel iussu dominorũ, uel sua sponte prostant. Cicero: Ingenui pueri cum meritorijs, scorta cum matribusfamiliãs uersabantur. Corpus quoque meritorium dicitur, & oratio meritoria, quasi uilis, et male capta. & taberna meritoria stabulũ, siue diuersoriũ est. hinc merces appellata, quæ pro labore, & stipendio soluitur. Iuuenalis: Scire uolunt omnes, mercedem soluere nemo. et mercenarius, qui operam mercedis gratia præstat, & mercor uerbum, quod est modo emo, modo emẽdi aut uendendi causa mercaturam exerceo. à quo mercator, qui emit siue ut teneat, siue ut alteri uendat, & qui mercaturam exercet. & merx, ac mercatura, quæ ita inter se differũt, quod merx est species ipsa, quæ emitur, uenditur'ue. à quo mercimoniũ, & cõmercium, quasi contrectatio quædam merciũ deriuantur: mercatura uero actus ipse emendi, ac uendendi merces. Cicero: Mercatura autem si tenuis est, sordida putanda est: sin magna, & copiosa, multa undiq; apportans, multisq; sine uanitate impertiens, nõ est admodum uituperanda. Item mercatus locus, in quo agitur mercatura. Idem: Quò cum tanquam ad mercatum bonarum artium profectus sis, inanem redire turpissimum est. Mercis appellatio (ut Vlpian. inquit) ad res tantũ mobiles pertinet. Afranius addit mercis appellatione homines non contineri, & ob eam rem mangones, nõ mercatores, sed uenalitiarios appellandos censet. Mercem Varro à merendo ære dicit appellari. à merce uero Mercurius deriuatur Iouis filius ex Maia Atlãtis filia, qui mercaturæ deus est, & Deorum interpres, ideo à Græcis Hermes dictus ἀπὸ τοῦ ἑρμηνεύειν, quod est interpretari. hic palæstram docuit, lyram inuenit. Hermaphroditum ex sorore Venere genuit, & ex Lycaone Deucalionis filia Autolium. Idem precibus Iunonis Martem è duris carceribus liberauit, Argum interemit, Prometheũ in Caucaso religauit. Argiphontes cognominatur, quod Argum peremerit, quem ferunt multis circa caput oculorum luminibus ornatum custodisse Iunonis imperio Inachi filiam eius deæ pellicem, in bouis speciem conuersam. Simulachrum eius Aegyptij pennatis alis insigniunt, alij petaso, hoc est talaribus alatis, & addunt capiti galerum. Stati. Obnubitq; comas, & temperat astra galero. Item dant ei caduceum, quæ uirga est, qua bellum dirimitur. Nam quia Mercurius orationis deus est, et deorũ nũtius, merito à dijs mittebatur, ut dissidentium animos oratione sedaret. Hinc legati pacis Caduceatores dicti. sicut enim per fetiales bella indicebãtur, ita per caduceatores finiebantur. Caduceum Aegyptij in speciem draconum maris, ac fœminæ coniunctorũ figuraueruũt, & Mercurio consecrarunt. hi dracones parte media uolumnis sui nodo, quem uocant Herculis, inuicẽ obligantur, primæq; partes eorum reflexæ in circulum pressis oculis ambitum circuli iungunt, & post nodũ caudæ reuocantur ad capulum caducei. Causam autẽ cur exteræ gentes caduceum in pace tractanda circundata anguiũ effigie fecerint, quidam hanc esse tradunt. Cum Mercurius lyrã in Cyllene mõte Arcadiæ septicordem ad Atlantidum numerum instituisset, qã Maia mater eius ex illarũ numero esset, ac non multo post de-

prehensus ab Apolline fuisset boues suas abigere, quo facilius ueniam ab eo impetraret, Apollini traditur concessisse, ut lyram à se primo inuentã prædicaret. propter quod Apollinem ferunt uirgam quandam Mercurio dono dedisse, quã cum manu tenens in Arcadiã proficisceretur, inuentos ab eo fuisse dracones duos simul ligatos, & inter se mutuo pugnantes, quo uiso uirgam interposuisse, & dicto citius prælium diremisse. Eo facto huiusmodi uirgam pacis gratia dixit esse constitutam. & huius rei exemplo uirgam postea duorum draconũ similitudine finxerunt, eaq; & in palæstra, & in reliquis certaminibus usi sunt ad prælium dirimendum. Sed hæc fabulosa sunt. Veritas autem historiæ hoc habet. Oui genus est in magna fama Magorum, angues enim numerosi, quorum conuoluti saliuis, faucium, corporumq; spumis artifici complexu glomerantur. Id ouum anguinum appellatur. Magi dicunt sagulis in sublime iactari oportere, sagoq; intercipi, ita ut terrã non attingat, raptorem equo profugere. serpentes enim insequi, donec interuentu alicuius amnis arceantur. Experimentũ eius esse si contra aquas fluitet, uel auro cinctum. certa quoq; luna capiendum censent ad uictorias lituum, ac regum aditus maxime laudatur. à diuo Claudio principe interemptus est quidã eques Romanus non ob aliam causam, quàm ut eam uanitatẽ Cæsar experiretur. hanc igitur Caducei causam esse affirmant: ideo cristatos angues in caduceo non esse. A Mercurio mercurialis herba dicitur, quam Græci ἀνάβασιν uocant, quam hermupoam, quasi ἑρμοῦ πόαν, hoc est Mercurij pabulum. Duo eius genera masculus, & fœmina, ocimo penè similibus foliis, caule cubitali, ramoso in cacumine, geniculis densis, nascũtur in campestribus cultis. Mirum est, quod de utroque proditur. Masculum ut mares gignantur efficere, fœminã, ut mulieres, hoc fieri si post conceptum succus statim bibatur in passo, edantur'q; folia decocta ex oleo, & sale, uel cruda ex aceto. Ab hermes autem etiam Hermopolis dicta urbs, quã Mercurius condidit. Nam cum Argũ occidisset, fugit in Aegyptũ, & quoniã in omni disciplinarum genere eruditissimus erat, maximo in honore habitus est, primumq; anni mensem Aegyptij ex illius nomine nuncuparunt. ipse uero Trismegistus, hoc est ter maximus appellatus est. Item ab Hermes, et Aphrodite, quod Venerem significat, Hermaphroditus est dictus Mercurij, & Veneris filius. Ouid. Mercurij puerum, & diua Cythereide natum Naiades Idæis enutriuere sub antris. Cuius erat species, in qua mater'q;, pater'q; Cognosci possent, nomen quoq; traxit ab illis. Hunc poëtæ finxerunt, quod uagabundus in Cariam aliquando peruenisset, limpidissimum fontem conspicatum fuisse, quem nympha Salmacis nomine incolebat. hãc subito amore eius correptam, cum nullis flectere eum blandicijs, nullis precibus posset, tandem simulato recessu, post ueprẽ latuisse, iuuenem autẽ dum abijsse nympham existimat, nudum fontem intrasse, quod conspicatam nympham decurrisse subito, & abiectis uestibus iuuenem arctissime complexam fuisse. Sed cum obstinatum exorare non posset, petijsse à dijs, ut ex duobus corporibus in unũ redigerentur, itaq; factũ, ut qui uir fontem intrauerat Androgynus, hoc est utrunq; sexum habens exiret. Quamobrem à superis exorasse fertur, ut quicunque eum fontem intraret, idem patereur. quod aliqui ea ratione fictum fuisse à poëtis existimant, quia Salmacidis fontis aqua, potantes eam molles, atq; effœminatos redderet. Sed hoc falsum est, neq; enim molles, & impudici ex ea aqua potantes fiunt, sed & color fontis perlucidus est, & sapor aquæ egregius, aquaq; ipsa salubris. Ratio autem fictionis hæc est, quod cum Græci eò coloniã deduxissent, Caras, & Lelegas inde eiecere. hi autẽ ad montes fugati congregari inter se, ac discurrere, latrocinariq; solebant, agrumq; omnem crudeliter uastare. Inter hæc unus ex colonis ad eum fontem propter bonitatem aquæ quæstus causa tabernam omnibus copijs instruxit, eamq; exercendo Barbaros allectabat. ita singulatim decurrẽtes, & ad cœtus cõuenientes è duro, feroq; more, cõmutati in Græcorũ consuetudinem, & suauitatẽ sua uoluntate inducebantur. Ergo ea aqua non impudico morbi uitio, sed humanitatis dulcedine mollitis animis Barbarorũ eam famam esse adeptã. Ab hoc Hermaphrodito, hermaphroditi dicti sunt omnes utrunq; sexũ habẽtes olim in prodigijs, postea in delitijs habiti, & à Græcis uocibus, quæ uirũ, ac mulierem significant Androgyni appellati. Hos eius sexus existimandos Vlpianus putat, qui in eis præualet. uisi sunt & aliquando mares ex fœminis facti. Licinius Mutianus scripsit uisum à se Argis Aristonem, cui nomen Aresusæ fuerat: hũc nupsisse etiã, mox barbã, ac uirilitatem prouenisse, uxoremq; duxisse. eiusdem sortis & Zinyrtiæ puerum à se uisum. Item Plin. prodit uidisse in Africa mutatum in marem nuptiarum die L. Consicium ciuem Tisdritanum. Item ab ἑρμηνεύω ἑρμηνεία dicitur, quod interpretationem significat, unde extat Aristotelis liber περὶ ἑρμηνείας, hoc est de interpretatione. Item in urbe ærarium est, ubi pecunia publica continetur, ab ære dictum, & carcer à coërcendo, quod uincti in eo custodiuntur, & prohibẽtur exire. Est enim custodiæ locus, quæ græce φυλακὴ dicitur. Plautus: Illic est abductus recta in Phylacam, ut dignus est. & carceres, ex quibus equi mouẽtur ad cursum, quod coërceantur equi, ne inde exeant ante, q̃ magistratus miserit signum, quãuis hæc aliquando à poëtis confundantur. Virg. Ruunt'q; effusi carcere currus. Comitiũ, in quo coitur ad litiũ, & suffragiorũ causas. Curiæ, ubi uel sacerdotes res diuinas, uel magistratus humanas curãt. Senaculũ, ubi seniores cõsultandi gratia consistunt, dictũ ut gerusia apud græcos. Lautulæ à lauando, quas græci thermas appellant, de quibus paulo post dicemus. à quo locus extra urbẽ Romã, in quo propter fluenteis aquas lauandi usum exercebant, lautulæ uocabãtur. Itẽ in maritimis urbibus portus, de quibus paulo ante diximus, in quibus naues à tẽpestatibus defendũtur. & naualia, in q̃bus fiunt naues, & remi, & omnia ad classem necessaria tenẽtur, & emporia, hoc est mercatus rerũ, quæ mari uehũtur. Item in urbe uici, de quibus supra diximus, & regiones, & templa compita, quadriuia ab eo, quod multæ uiæ in unum confluant, & quasi unũ petant locũ. unde cõpitalia festa dicta, quæ in compitis peragebãtur. & cõpitalicius dies, in quo cõpitalia celebrantur. Item areæ, plateæ, cãpi, de q̃bus paulo post dicemus. nam amphitheatra, theatra, circos, aliaq; permulta, quæ nunc in usu nõ sunt, sponte præterimus. Item uestibulũ, qã ante domos esse supra memorauimus, & græce propylæum dicitur. Plin. Protogenes, cum Athenis celeberrimo loco Mineruæ delubro Propylæũ pingeret, adiecit paruulas naueis lõgas in his, quæ pictores parerga appellãt. Hic obiter notandũ est parergõ dici, quod alicui rei præter propositum additur, ut si pictor Iunonẽ pingens ornandæ tabellæ gratia arbusculas, & auiculas, siue naues, mariaq;, aut aliquid aliud huiusmodi addiderit. Postremo domus uocabulũ (ut supra diximus) à græcis sumptũ, quæ ædes etiã multitudinis numero dicũtur, ut meas ædes non præscribam. In singulari uero templũ significat, seruatq; eandẽ significationẽ in plurali, habens tamen semper in utroq; numero adiectionẽ. ut in æde Iouis, in æde Mercurij, in æde Mineruæ, in æde sacra, ædes sacræ, ædes deorũ. Cic. Ex eo die quo in ædẽ Telluris cõuocati sumus, in quo templo, quantũ in me fuit, ieci fundamẽta pacis. Aliquãdo ædes pro sepulchro ponitur. Ouid: Est mihi marmorea sacratus in æde Sicheus. ædes ab aditu dictas Varro testatur, alij q̃ in edito poni solerent. alię ædem pu-tant appellatã, quod in ea sacrificantes edere cõsueuerunt. Aediũ appellatione omnes ædificiũ species cõtineri Paulus iurisc. affirmat. Ab hoc fit ædifico, qđ proprie est ædẽ facio. Hor. Diruit, ædificat, miscet quadrata rotũdis. Ponitur tamẽ in omni gẽe cõstructionis, unde ædificiũ ois cõstructio dicitur, utputa quadrigæ, currus, portus, põtis, nauiũ, & aliorũ huiusmodi. ædificij quoq; appellatione nõ solũ superficiẽ significari, sed solũ quoq; ipsum, cui ædificiũ superpositũ est, Vlpi. putat. Ab ædifico fit proædifico. Veteres qppe proædificatũ dicebãt quod ex priuato loco processerat in publicũ solũ. Item ab ædefit Aedepol iurandi aduerbiũ, quasi per ædem Pollucis. et ædituus, qui curat ædes sacras ab æde tuenda. à quo fit ædituor uerbũ pro ædẽ tueor. Veteres non æditũ, et ædituor, sed æditimũ, et ædimor dixere. M. Varro æditimũ dicendũ existimat, non æditũ, quod alterũ sit recenti nouitate factũ, alterũ antiqua origine incorruptũ. Cic. in Verrẽ: Aeditimi, custodes q; mature sentiũt. Aedituentes quoq; legimus pro ædes sacras tuẽtes, hoc est ædituos, & ædilis ab ædibus dicitur: siue (ut quidã uolũt) qđ facilis ad eũ plebi aditus esset. Hic magistratus erat, qui nõ modo sacrarũ, sed etiã priuatarũ ædiũ curã gerebat. Ludos quoscũq; et ex quacũq; causa instituere ad eos pertinebat. Vnde Põpeiũ legimus ædilẽ factũ theatrũ, quod summa impẽsa ædificauerat, magnificentissimis ludis dedicasse, in quibus currus cum elephãtis induxit. Comœdiæ quoq;, & tragœdiæ ædiliũ iussu recitabãtur, & loca in theatro assignabãtur. Vnde Attiliũ Seranũ, et L. Scriboniũ legimus, dũ ædiles essent, senatus, ac plebis loca secreuisse. Si quispiã seruũ, aut iumentũ morbosum, uitiosum'ue pro integro, sanoq; uẽdidisset ædicto ædiliũ emptori succurrebatur. Hi etiã curã gerebãt ut cloacæ, et aquæductus cæteraq; ædificia tam priuata, q̃ publica, lauta, mũda, & integra seruarentur. Deniq; qcqd utiosum pro sincero, fractũ pro integro uenũdatũ esset, ædiliũ imperio redhibebatur, idq; ædilitiũ ædictũ dicebatur. Aediles ab initio duo ex plebe creati fuere. Postea alij duo patricij additi, q̃ quoniã sella curuli uterentur, ædiles curules uocitati sunt alij plebei dicti. Primi ex patricijs ædiles creati sunt Gn. Capitolinus, et P. Cornel. Scipio, cũ ludos soleneis pro ordinibus in cõcordiã redactis faciẽdos, & in fastis referẽdos senatus iuberet, idq; ædiles plebis se facturos negarẽt. Tunc. n. conclamatũ à iuuẽtute patricia dicitur, se id honoris deorũ immortaliũ gratia libenter facturos. Quibus cum ab uniuersis gratiæ actæ forẽt, senatusconsultũ factũ est, ut duos ex patribus, q̃ ædiles essent, dictator populũ rogaret, patres comitijs autores forent. Duos quoq; ædiles alios à Iulio Cæsare creatos legimus, q̃ frumẽto præessent. à quo Cereales sunt nominati. Ab ædili ædilitas, et ædilitatus, & ædilitiũ deducũtur, pro ipsa dignitate, siue magistratu ædiliũ. In prima parte ædiũ hoc est post uestibulũ, de quo iã disseruimus, ianua est dicta à Iano, qđ huic deo cõsecratum sit omne principiũ. hinc ianitor, cui ianuæ custodia demãdata est, cuius fœmin. est ianitrix, et ianeus quoq; à ueteribus dicebatur. Ianus aũt ab hiatu dictus est detracta aspiratione, eo qđ fuerit omniũ primus, cui ueluti parenti omniũ supplicabãt, & à quo rerũ omniũ factũ putabant initiũ. Etenim chaos appellarũt ueteres, in primis q; Hesiodus confusam quandã ab initio unitatẽ hiantẽ, patẽtemq; in profundum: à quo & χάσκειν Græci, & nos hiare deduximus. & qđ nos hiatum, illi χάσμα dixere. Ouid. Ante mare, & terras, & quod tegit omnia, cœlũ, Vnus erat toto naturæ uultus in orbe Quẽ dixere chaos, rudis, indigesta q; moles, Nec quicq; nisi pondus iners. Dicitur aũt ianua etiã ostiũ, uel ab obstãdo, uel ab ore, quod quasi os sit, per quod sit ingressus, & exitus. Quidã tamen ianuã ab ostio ita distinguũt, ut ianua domus sit, ostium uero partiũ. nam et triclinioru, & cubiculorũ, & cellarũ, atq; aliarũ partiũ hostia dicũtur. Confundũtur tamen hæc sæpenumero, & græce θύρα dicũtur. à quo thyridiõ ostiolũ, & obturo uerbũ, qđ significat claudo. à quo obthurator, obthuratrix, obthuratio. Mox atriũ est, quod à gbusdã etiã aula dicitur, de quo supra diximus, cui proximũ est tablinũ locus hybernæ stationis à tabulis dictus, deinde porticus, gbus includi areæ solẽt, egregiũ aduersus tẽpestates, ac feruorẽ solis receptaculum. Ab hoc cryptoporticus dicitur nomẽ ex græco, latinoq; cõpositum κρύπτας enĩ græci subterraneas testudines uocãt. Sũt aũt cryptoporticus subterraneæ porticus cum amplis fenestriis, gbus refrigerãdi gratia per æstatẽ utimur. Nec à porticu dissimile est peristyliũ, qđ latine interpretari circũcolumniũ potest, περὶ enĩ circũ significat, στύλος dicitur colũna. est aũt locus circũquaq; porticũ habẽs, uel saltẽ à tribus lateribus, qualia fieri in rusticanis domibus solent. Quædã etiã domus atriolũ habent, hoc est aliud paruũ atriũ. Cic. Quo loco te scribere aiunt, ut atriolum fiat mihi, ut est magis placebat. neq; enim satis loci uidebatur esse atriolo. nec ferè solet, nisi in his ædificijs fieri, in quibus est atriũ maius. Postea cauũ ædiũ, quod & cauædiũ à quibusdã uocatur. qui locus intra pariẽtes relingtur patulus, qui fit ad cõmunẽ omniũ usum. in hoc si nullus locus relictus est, q̃ sub diuo sit, testudo dicitur, à testudinis similitudine, ut Romæ in prætorio, et rostris fuisse legimus. Si uero relictus est in medio locus, ut lucẽ capiat deorsũ, quo impluit, impluuiũ dicitur. Sursum, qua cõpluit, cõpluuiũ, utrũq; à pluuia Thuscanicũ quoq; appellatũ à Thuscis positq; illorũ cauũ ædium imitari Romani cœperũt. Reliquarũ partiũ ordinẽ qđ referre supuacuũ est, cũ magna sit ædificiorũ ubiq; diuersitas. Quapropter partes tantũ ædiũ sunt loca ad res necessarias reponẽdas septa, quæ à cælãdo (ut supra diximus) cellæ uocãtur, & penariũ, siue penu, in quo res in longiorẽ usum cõseruantur, & granarium, in quo reponitur granũ, quod & ab hordeo horreum dicitur, & à ueteribus à farre farreum uocabatur. Quibusdã tamen locis granũ seruatur in scrobibus in sicco solo factis, & palea substratis, q̃ Syri uocantur. Præterea apothecæ, quæ latine cællæ uinariæ dicũtur. Plin. Vina in apothecis canis ortu mutãtur, postea q; restituuntur sibi. Proprie tamẽ apothecæ dicũtur, in quibus uinũ & seruatur, & uenditur. Item apothecas fuisse, & diffundi solita uina anno sexcentesimo tricesimotertio urbis apparet. Idẽ. Tantũ pecuniarũ detinent uini apothecæ, nec aliares magis incrementũ sentit. fœnilia, farinaria, pistrina, hoc est loca, in quibus fœnũ, & farina seruãtur, ac pinsitur triticum, & panis fit. etsi aliquãdo in domibus sint, potius tamen extra domũ faciẽda uidentur, ut ædes ab ignis periculo sint tutiores. Similiter præsepia equorum nisi testudinata fiant, qualia tu Federice imperator in ista tua regia fecisti, tanto sumptu, decore, ac magnificentia, ut connumerari inter præclara totius orbis opera merito possint. Præsepia loca sunt non tantum in quibus equi, muli, iumenta, cæteraq; huiusmodi pascuntur, sed omnia loca clausa, in quibus animalia continentur. Virg. Ignauum fucos pecus à præsepibus arcent. Idẽ: Stabãt tercentũ nitidi in præsepibus altis. Dicimus etiã præsepiũ, sed hoc potius locus est, in quo pabulũ animalibus porrigitur. Pli. Elephãti maxime oderemurũ, et si pabulũ in præsepio positũ attingi ab eo uidere, sastidiũt. præsepia etiã dicimus paruã nubeculã in cœlo, qđ in ea ea asselli, de quibus inferius dicemus, stabulari uideantur. Plin. Sunt in signo Cãcri duæ stellæ paruæ asselli appellatæ, exiguũ inter illas spatium obtinẽte nubecula, quã præsepia appellant, hæc cum cœlo sereno apparere desierit, atrox hyems sequitur. Post hæc triclinũ est locus, in quo discũbitur, dictũ à tribus lectis. nam treis mẽsas in cõuiuio apponere ueteres solebant, & iacendo cœnare, unde à cubo, quod est iaceo, factũ est discum

bo, quod ad mensam solum modo pertinet. τρεῖς dicunt treis κλίνην lectum. Quintil. de loco, ubi Simonides artem memoriæ traditur inuenisse: Vix eo limen egresso triclinium illud supra comitas corruit. Cicero eundẽ locũ interpretatus nõ triclinium, sed conclaue dixit, ex quo notari potest tricliniũ à nostris cõclaue appellari. Verba eius hæc sunt: Nec iter cõclaue illud cecidit, proprie tamen cõclaue appellatur, quicũq; locus secretior, in quo uel uiri colloqui, uel mulieres cõfabulari solent, habetq; clauẽ unam cõmunem domesticis, nec est omnibus ad eũ eundi potestas. Vitruuius: In triclinijs autẽ, cæteris q; conclauibus maximus est usus luminum. ab hoc conclauatæ res dicuntur, quæ sub eadem sunt claui. A triclinio architriclinus uocatur, qui triclinio præest. & triclinarius minister, qui in triclinio ministrat. & triclinariæ res, quæ ad triclinium pertinent. Triclinium tamen proprie instrumentũ est, à quo locus ipse denominatur, & treis toros, siue treis mensas habet, ita cõiunctas ut transferri huc, atq; illuc possint. Plin. Antiquissima æris gloria Deliaca fuit, mercatus in Delo celebrante toto orbe. et ideo cura off. cinis tricliniorũ pedibus, fulcris q; ibi prima nobilitas æris. Idem: Nam triclinia ærata, abacos q;, & monopodia Cn. Manliũ Asia deuicta, primũ inuenisse triũpho suo, quẽ duxit anno quingẽtesimo, sexagesimo septimo, L. Piso autor est. Idẽ: Antias quidem refert L. Crassum hæredem Lucilij Crassi oratoris, multa etiã triclinia ærata uendidisse. Sunt autem in potentiorum præsertim domibus triclinia autumnalia, et uerna, quorum fenestræ ad orientem spectant, hyberna, quæ meridiem aspiciũt, æstiua, quæ septentrionem. Eadem est & cubiculorũ diuersitas, quæ tamen ita sæpe disponuntur, ut altera fenestra orientem, altera occidentem aspiciãt, uel altera meridiem, altera septentrionem. Cubicula à cubando dicta sunt, hoc est iacendo, quod in ijs quiescere interdiu solemus. nam ea, in qbus nocte quiescimus, dormitoria cubicula dicuntur. & ea, ad quæ salutatores admittuntur, cubicula salutatoria. & ubi uir cũ uxore dormit, græco uocabulo thalamus uocatur. à quo epithalamium dictũ sacer hymnus, qui in nuptijs canitur, quale est illud Papinij in Stellam, & Vtolantillã: Procul ecce canoro Demigrant Helicone deæ, quatiũt q; nouena Lampade solennẽ thalamis cõeuntibus ignem. Ad hæc cœnaculũ est, siue cœnatio, siue diæta, locus, in quo æstate cœnamus, satis à nobis superiũs declaratus. Item bibliotheca, et pinacotheca, hoc est librorũ, et tabularũ repositoria, quæ spectare ad orientẽ debet, tum quia usus matutinũ postulat lumẽ, tũ quia in his libri, ac tabulæ non putrescunt. etenim quæcunq; ad meridiem, & occidentem spectant, à tineis, & humore uitiantur: quoniam uenti humidi aduenientes procreant eas, & alunt, infundentes q; humidos spiritus pallore uolumina corrumpunt. Item sacellum, in quo res diuina fit. & basilica locus amplus, in quo & consilia priuata, & iudicia, & arbitria conficiuntur, in qua expectant aliquando salutatores, & conuiuia maxima fiunt, & saliationes, & ludi, dicta quasi regia. Nam Græci βασιλικὴν, hoc est basilicam, regiam dicũt, quã uocem nos quoq; in eadem significatione frequentissime usurpamus. & basilicam dicimus etiam uestem, de qua inferius loquemur. & basilice aduerbium usurpamus pro eo, quod est regie, excellenter. Plau. Basilicè ornatus incedit, et fabre ad fallaciã. Tum zetæ, quæ in usu nostra tempestate nõ sunt, ueteres autem frequentissimas in domibus habebant, loca erant in uarijs partibus domus, ad quæ per meatus quosdã intra pariẽtem relictos, qui tubuli dicũtur, ascendentes ex imo spiritus frigidæ, seu calidæ aquæ in pauimento inferiori sparsæ, locum ipsum, aut tepefaciebãt, aut refrigerabant, prout ratio temporum exigere uidebatur. unde Paulus iuriscon. tubulos esse desinit, per quos paries calore torretur. Non erat tunc ignis usus in cubiculis, nec ædes spiracula habebant, unde fumus exiret, quæ nunc uulgus alieno uocabulo caminos uocat, dici autem latine meo iudicio infumibula possunt. Etenim caminus Græcum uocabulum est, ac latine dicitur fornax. Papinius: Cœlóue peractum Fluxit opus, Siculis an conformata caminis Effigies lassum Steropen, Brontemq; reliquit. à zeta fit diminutiuum zetecula. Plin. Mox zetecula refugit, quasi in cubiculum. Præterea pergula locus apertus est omnibus, aut saltem pluribus lateribus aẽrem excipiens, aliquando extra pariẽtem porrectus, & modo tectus, modo sub diuo expositus, à pergendo dicta, quod in ea deambulare solemus, forumq;, aut hortum, aut nemora, aut plateas, aut uias perspectare. Cœnare quoq; ibi aliquando mos est æstiuo tempore. Iuue. Sed nunc structor erit, qui cedere debeat omnis Pergula. Plin. L. Fuluius argentarius bello Punico secũdo cum corona rosacea interdiu è pergula sua in forum processisse dictus, ex autoritate Senatus in carcerem adductus, non ante finem belli emissus est. Idem: Apelles perfecta opera proponebat in pergula transeuntibus, atque post ipsam tabulam latens, uitia, quæ notarentur, auscultabat. Pergula etiam in naui dicitur excursus, qui est per totam nauim, & portisculus etiam appellatur. Sunt quoque in domibus balneæ, in quibus ad lauandum aquæ calidæ, & frigidæ sunt, quæ & balneadria dicuntur. Cice. Eo latere, quod proximũ est balnearijs, columnas posuerat. & hypocaustum locus ad sudandum, quod παρὰ τὸ ὑποκαίειν, hoc est à succendendo dicitur. habet enim sub pauimento locum uacuũ, in quo succensus ignis calidos uapores emittit, excitatq; sudorem. habet etiam ab uno latere præfurnium, hoc est paruam fornacem, in qua incluſus ignis, partim hypocaustum calefacit, partim aquas temperat ad lauandum. etenim supra eam tria ahena componuntur, unum caldarium, ex quo aqua calida hauritur: alterum tepidarium, ex quo tepida: tertium frigidarium, ex quo frigida: quantumq; aquæ calidæ ex caldario exit, tantum ex tepidario in caldarium, & ex frigidario influit in tepidarium. hoc latine uaporarium dicitur. Cicero: In balnearijs hypocausta, in alterum apodyterij angulum promoui, propterea, quod ita erant posita, ut eorum uaporarium, ex quo ignis erumpit esset subiectum cubiculo. Est & aliud hypocaustum temperatius, quod unctuarium dicitur, in quo post sudarem, ac lotionem homines ungũtur. Item hypocaustum dicitur locus, in quo proiectis calidis, aut frigidis aquis per spiracula means uapor zetas, uel calefaciebat, uel refrigerabat. & apodyterium ante balnei, siue hypocaustij ingressum, in quo se exuunt homines, ἀπὸ τοῦ ἀποδύειν, quod exuere est, ita appellatur. Sunt & cubicula seruorum, ac libertorũ usibus deputata. Sunt & turres, quæ cubicula sua habent, & zetas. Præterea cœnationes, quæ uel latissima rura, uel longissima litora, uel uiridissimos colleis, monteisq;, uel amœnissimos campos, uel placidissimos amneis prospiciãt. Quidã etiã fructibus rusticis seruientes in eorũ uestibulis stabula, hoc est diuersoria habent, & tabernas. Item in ædibus cryptas ad fructus seruandos magis, quàm ad elegantiæ decorem. Sunt præterea culinæ in ædibus hoc est coquinæ, dictæ qđ locupletiorẽ in his ignẽ colimus (ut Marcellus sentit) uel à colluuie, ut inferius docebimus. Quidam & torcular, quod etiã torculũ dicitur, domi habent, quod significat tam locum, in quo uuæ calcatæ premuntur, quàm instrumentũ ipsum, quo premuntur, à torquendo dictũ, si cochlea sit: alioquin prelũ à premendo uocatur, siue (ut quidã uolunt) à præluendo. Itẽ trapetũ locus, in quo est mola olearia, & ipsa mola, dictũ à terendo. Vir. Venit hyems, teritur Sicyonia bacca trapetis. Itẽ putei, de quibus supra diximus, & cisternæ, quæ ita inter se differunt; quod putei aqua uiua constant, cisternæ imbribus colo purificatis implentur: dictæ (ut Pompeio placet) quod cis sit, id est infra terrã. Item scalæ sunt, per quas gradatim ab inferioribus partibus ad superiores ascenditur: quæ cum rotundæ sunt, & per circuitum scanduntur, à coclearum similitudine coclides appellantur, quemadmodum torcularia ad similitudinem coclearum facta, cochleæ nominantur. Coclides etiam gemmæ sunt in Arabia, quæ fiunt repertis ingentibus glebis, melle excoctis septenis diebus, noctibusq; sine intermissione. ita enim omni terreno puluere decusso, purgatam ingenio artificum glebam uarie distribui in uenas, ac maculārum ductus tantæ interdum magnitudinis, ut aliquando equis regum pro faleris adhibuerint. Cochlea autem id animal est, quod alio nomine à limo, in quo uiuit, limacem uocamus: quamuis proprie limax sit, quæ sine testa sit, cochlea uero, quæ testam habet. Cochlearum aliæ marinæ sunt, aliæ terrestres. utraq; tamen pro pisce estur, adeo in delitijs apud ueteres habitæ, ut earum uiuaria instituerit Fuluius Lupinus in Tarquinensi, paulo ante ciuile bellum, quod cum Pompeio magno actum est, generaq; illarum distinxerit, ut essent albæ, quæ in Reatino agro nascuntur. Illyricæ, quibus magnitudo præcipua. Africanæ, quibus fœcunditas. Olitanæ, quibus nobilitas ex Olito, scilicet Africæ oppido. Item Astypaleicæ ex alio oppido, cui nomen Astypale. Sunt præterea Siculæ, quæ modicæ dicuntur. Balearicæ, quas cauaticas uocant, quia in speluncis nascuntur, & aceratæ, quæ latæ sunt, multifariam nascentes. Saginare quoq; eas cōmentus è sapa, & farre, ut cochleæ quoq; altiles essent, cuius artis gloria in tantam magnitudinem perducta est, ut scribat Varro octingenta quadrantes singularum calices cepisse. A coclea cocleare dictum instrumentum notum, quo cochleæ, et alia huiusmodi uescendo sumūtur. Martial. Sum cocleis habilis, sed non minus utilis ouis, Nūquid scis potius cur cocleare uocer? & coclea lapis ex flumine rotundus ad cochleæ similitudinem. scalas numero tantum plurali dici oportere Valla, & alij quidam existimarunt moti autoritate Sallustij ita scribentis: Deinde ubi unæ, atque alteræ scalæ comminutæ sunt, qui superstiterant afflicti sunt. Sed numero quoque singulari scala frequentissime reperitur. Proprie tamen singulari numero ea significatur, quæ ex teretibus lignis, aut funibus, aliáue simili materia constans huc, atq; illuc transferri potest. Plurali uero ea, quæ latiores habet gradus, & immobilis, ac fixa permanet. De hac Plinius: Etiamnum scalis tectū Ephesiæ Dianæ scanditur. De illa Caius iurisco. uel scalam sciens commodauerit ad ascendendum. Cor. Celsus: Necessaria est scala lignea, quæ crassitudinem duorū digitorum habeat, longitudine ab ala ad digitos perueniat. Idem: Si brachium deligatum super scalæ gallinariæ gradum posuerit. Romanus Aquila: Malo enim ascensum, quàm scalam, aut gradiculos, ut quidam dixere. Aliquando tamen hæc apud autores confunduntur. Gradus autem hi sunt, ex quibus scalæ constant, & per quos ad ædificiorum altiora conscendi tur, à gradiendo, hoc est eundo dicti, quod per eos eatur. Vir. Aerea cui gradibus surgebant limina. Interdū gradus est gradientium pedum uicissitudo. Idem: Gradibusq; sonare composītis. à quo gradarij equi dicuntur, qui sine succussatura molliter, quieteq; incedunt. Interdum etiam gradus est ipsa firmitas standi. Cice. Nec tumultuantes de gradu deijciuntur. Hinc gradum facere dicimus, non transitum facere, sed ex aliqua re gradum, & quasi scalam ad aliam facere, quod à quibusdam gradum iacere dicitur, ut si in arborem, tectum'ue scandere uelim ex saxo, aut scamno aliquáue alia re gradum facio. Cicero: Hunc quasi gradum quendam, atq; aditum ad cætera iactum intelligetis. Gradus quoq; cognationis Paulus iurisco. affirmat dictos esse, ad similitudinem scalarum, locorūm ue declīuium, quos ita ingredimur, ut à proximo in proximum, id est in eum, qui quasi ex illo nascitur, ueniamus. quapropter graduum huiusmodi alios superioris ordinis esse Caius scribit, alios inferioris, alios ex transuerso, siue latere. Superioris ordinis, ut sunt parentes: inferioris, ut liberi: ex transuerso, siue latere, ut fratres, & sorores, liberiq; eorum. A gradus fit gradatim aduerbium, quod significat per gradus, & ordinate, & lente. Item apud rhetores gradatio, quam Græci κλιμακα uocant, cum ex prima sententia secunda oritur, ex secunda tertia, atque ita deinceps complures. Nam quemadmodum in catena multi inter se circuli coniuncti uinciuntur, sic in hoc schemate complures sententiæ inter se connexæ continentur. Lysias: Constat igitur iudices Simonē domo sua à suis dijs penatibus ui cum summa iniuria esse exturbatum. Nam Cheremenes cum hominibus armatis ad eum uenit: cum uenisset, sine ulla religione doumm eius expugnauit: ui domo facem iniecit: cruciatam uinxit, uinctam in publicum proiecit, ne suum maleficiū tacitum lateret. Sed cum prætereuntes prostratam familiam uiderent, & ab ijs rem gestam audirent, simul & oculis, & auribus scelus illius animaduerterunt. Item à gradu, siue gradior grallatores appellati sunt pantomimi, qui ut saltatione imitarentur ægipanas adiectis perticis furculas habentibus, atq; in his superstantes ad similitudinem crurum eius generis gradiebantur, utique propter facultatem consistendi. Plaut. Vinceretis cursu ceruas, & grallatorem gradu. Gradiuum'q; à gradiendo dictum quidam existimant, quod in bello ultro, citroq; gradiatur. Est enim Gradiuus Mars, belli deus, Iouis filius ex Iunone, uel (ut quidam sentiunt) Iunonis filius sine patre. nam cum Iuno animaduertisset Iouem maritum percusso capite sine muliĕre emisisse Minerua armatam, uersus Oceanum profecta est, ut scrutaretur, quo pacto et ipsa parere posset sine uiro. Sed cum itinere fatigata ante ostiū deæ Floræ uxoris Zephyri cōsedisset, interrogata ab ea dicitur, quā ob causam ad Oceanum pergeret, qua cognita, factura se uoti cōpotem deam pollicita est, si id Iuno Iouem cælaret. Quod cum facturam se Iuno iureiurando affirmasset, mox illam Flora monuit in campis Olenijs florem esse, quo tacto repente sine uiro conciperet. Id experta Iuno Martem concepit, deinde peperit. Quapropter Flora apud Ouidiū loquitur: Mars quoq; si nescis, per nostras editus arteis. Iuppiter hoc, & adhuc nescit usq; precor. Hinc gradiuum quidam non à gradiendo sed à gramine dictum uolunt, quod herbam significat, quia gramine sit ortus. unde & graminea corona in re militari maximæ est dignitatis. Alij à uibratione hastæ dictum gradiuum uolunt, quoniam Græci, κραδαίνειν uibrare dicunt. Sunt qui gradiuū nec græcum esse, nec latinum uocabulū uelint, sed thrax, significareq; bellicosum, & fortem. Mars uero ideo uocitatus est, qđ maribus in bello præsit, siue quod à Sabinis acceptus est, apud quos Mamers uocatur, unde Mamertus præno mē est. à quo Mamertini in Sicilia dicti, qui Messanā habitābāt, Veteres etiā Maspitrē, hoc est Martē patrē appellauerūt. à poētis Mauors quoq; uocatur. Ouid. Sic ego, sic posita dixit mihi casside Mauors. Hinc martius siue mauortius dicitur, quod aliquando significat quicquid ad Martē pertinet, ut martia auis. Idem: Martia picus auis gemino pro stipite pugnat. &: Martia ter senos proles adoleuerat annos. Hinc Martius mensis dictus est primus anni mensis, quoniam Romulus primum anni mensem genitori suo Marti dicauit. Idem: A te principium Romano dicimus anno. Primus de patrio nomine mensis erit, & Martius campus, quod Marti consecratus sit.

Liuius: Ager Tarquiniorū, qui inter urbem, et Tyberim erat consecratus Marti, martius deinde campus fuit. Ab hoc martialis campus, in Cœlio mōte appellatus est, quod in eo equiria solebant fieri: si quando aquæ Tyberis campum martium occupāssent. Aliquando martius bellicum significat, ut martius furor, martia arma. Aliquādo bellicosum, ut martiæ gentes, martius populus. Siquidē & Mars pro bello ponitur. Ouid. Sæuo cōtendere Marte. Liuius: Aliquandiu ibi Marte incerto uaria victoria pugnatū fuit. Martius etiā aliquando propriū nomē est, ut in Qu. Martio, qui iussus à Senatu aquarū ductus Anienis reficere, nouam à nomine suo aquam martiam appellatā cuniculis per montem actis intra præturæ suæ tempus adduxit. Martialis quoq; à Marte deducitur, & modo natū sub Martis stella significat, modo uiri cognomen est, ob id præcipue felix, quod ab hoc, quem interpretamur, poēta illustratum est, cuius causa fit, fietq; indies Latina lingua locupletior. A gradior etiam gramen deriuatur herba uulgatissima, ita appellata, quod geniculatis internodijs mirifice serpat, crebroq; ab ijs, & ex acumine nouas spargit radices. Non est herba gratior iumentis, siue uiridis sit, siue in fœno siccata. Gramen capiti circundatū sanguinis è naribus fluxiones sistit. Est genus eius aculeatum quod dactylon uocant, eo quod digitis medeatur. & paronychias, ac pterygia unguium, carnemq; quæ unguibus excreuerit, tollat. Gramen tamen generali uocabulo quancunq; herbam uocant, unde graminea corona dicta est, quæ ab uniuerso exercitu seruato seruatori datur, hoc est à milite imperatori, quæ & à liberatis obsidione castris obsidionalis appellatur. Dabatur hæc uiridi è gramine decerpto, inde, ubi obsessos aliquis seruasset, quodcunq; id genus herbæ foret. Plin. Nullæ ergo herbæ fuere certæ in hoc honore. Sed quæcūq; fuerant in periculi sede quamuis ignobiles, ignotæq; honorem nobilem faciebant. Item à gradior grassor deducitur uerbum frequentatiuum. Est autem grassari aliquando gradi, ambulare. Næuius: Sæpe haceadem grassatus uia. Afranius: Consimili grassantur uia, à quibus hic est omnis cultus. à quo oggrassari simili modo pro gradi usurpamus. Plaut. Nisi cū pedicis didicistis oggrassari gradu. Grassari etiā est gradiendo sæuire. Cæsar: Grassari in hostes uetat. Hinc latrones quoq; uias obsidentes grassari dicuntur. à quo grassatores dicti, qui hostiliter gradiuntur. Callistratus: Grassatores, si prædæ causa id faciūt, proximi latronibus habentur. A gradior composita fiunt tardigradus, qui tarde graditur. Vnde testudinem tardigradam dicimus, & spissigradus, qui frequenti passuum motu in ambulando utitur. à quo spissigradior, & spissigradissimus. Plaut. Homines spissigradissimos, tardiores, quàm corbitæ sint in tranquillo mari. Spissum enim (ut inferius dicemus) ueteres aliquando pro tarde usurpārūt. Aggredior, quod proprie est insulto, inuado. Iustinus: Quos ex improuiso aggressus facile fudit. Vir. Talibus aggreditur Venerē Saturnia dictis. Enni. Aggretus fari scripsit pro eo, qđ est aggressus fari. Trāsgredior, transeo. hinc apud rhetores transgressio dicitur, cum ab ea sententia, quam proposuimus, conuertimus sermonem ad aliquā personā, aut rem, aut fortunā, & tanquā præsentem appellamus. Mycon. Hæc mulier nuper fuit locuplex, & potens in amore, atq; delitijs necessariorū: ornatus eius opibus abūdabat, magnus ancillarū, quæ sequebantur, comitatus appellabatur. Nūc cōtra subito, & graui casu afflicta, uix mediocris ancillulæ dignitatē retinet. O fortuna, quàm uehementer te rerū uarietas oblectat, et quàm magno odio est tibi beatæ uitæ permanens, & constans fructus. Egredior ex eo, à quo egressus, & egressio deriuātur. Progredior, procedo, unde progressus pro processu accipitur. Interdū prægredior, hoc est antecedo. Pa-

etu. Extremū intra carcerē ipsum prægreditur Parthenopæū. Prætergredior, prætereo. Apuleius: Cumq; stabulum prætergressus fuissem, re cognita, cœpi retrocedere. Ingredior, modo intro, quod & introgredior dicimus. Cice. Cum paulo ante nostra ingressus consedisset: modo gradior, eo. Vir. Cōtinuo pecoris generosi pullus in aruis Altius ingreditur, & mollia crura reponit. Cic. Si dormis, expergiscere: si stas, ingredere: si ingrederis, curre: si curris, aduola. Supergredior, superius eo: subtergredior, subter eo. Digredior, discedo. à quo digressio processu. regredior, reuertor. à quo regressus, & regressio proreditu. Congredior, manus cōsero, dimico. Gellius: Qui ter cū hoste congressus uictor rediit. A quo congressus pro pugna accipitur. Sall. Multi in eo cōgressu perierūt. Interdū simul gradior. Varro: Omnesq; in unam domum congressi simul discubuere. Præterea à gradior tardigradus, qui tarde ambulat. Pacuuius de testudine: Quadrupes tardigrada, agrestis, humilis, aspera, capite breui, ceruice anguinea, aspectu truci, euiscerata, inanima cū animali sono. Fenestræ quoq; in ædibus sunt: aliæ amplæ, aliæ minores, partim ad lucem, reddendam factæ, & ἀπὸ τοῦ φαίνειν, quod est lucere, nomen habentes: partim, ut uenientes auras accipiant, transmittantq;, ne aēre pigro, et manente locus ingrauescat. Ab hoc fit fenestro uerbum, quod est aperio, perforo, & ueluti fenestras facio. Plau. Nulla est fenestratior domus. Ab hac fenestella, & fenestricula per diminutionē deducuntur, & per detractionem mediæ syllabæ, Fenestra, quod est ostium minusculum in sacrario. Item latrinæ, de quibus supra diximus, quæ ita constituī in domibus debent, spiraculis etiam quibusdā adhibitis, ut fœtorē reddere non possint. Item lauatrinæ, in quas lotura proijcitur, quæ & aquaria & aquariola dicuntur, ne in culina tantum, sed in triclinijs quoque, & cubiculis, & cœnationibus cum dignitate, & elegantia fiunt. Ad hæc in parietibus ædium armaria inseruntur, & armamentaria non minus utiliter, quàm eleganter. Armaria proprie sunt, in quibus libri reponuntur. Armamentaria, in quibus arma bellica, & naualia, ac cætera domus instrumenta: illa ab armis dicuntur, hæc ab armentis. Plin. Laudatus & Ctesipho Gnosius æde Ephesiæ Dianæ mirabiliter fabricata: & Philon Athenis armamentario mille nauiū. Arma quidam affirmant proprie dici bellica instrumenta, nec omnia, sed ea tantum, quæ ab humeris dependent, hoc est armis, ut scutum, gladius, pugio, sica: ea uero, quibus procul præliamur, tela esse non arma, cuius sententiæ est Pompeius. Seruius uero arma dicit esse, quæ armos tegunt, quod sanè uidetur absurdū, quasi ocreæ, caligæ, lanceæ, scorpiones, baliſtæ, cætera'q; huiusmodi bellica instrumenta arma non sint. At Varro arma uocari existimat omnia bellica instrumenta, quibus arceri hostes possint, ideoq; non ab armis, sed ab arcendo hoste appellata. quapropter, & fustes, & lapides, & alia huiusmodi arma esse, Caius iurisconsultus affirmat, quoties his ad hosteis arcendos utimur. Nos arma dici putamus, nō tantum bellica, sed omnium generum instrumenta. Quapropter Virgilius non ita simpliciter scripsit: Arma, uirumq; cano, sed hoc modo scriptū reliquit: At nunc horrentia Martis Arma, uirūq; cano. Quamuis priores uersus, ab his, qui emendare opus imperfectum uoluerunt, propter humilitatem principij detracti fuerint. Erunt ergo Martis arma instrumenta omnia, quibus in bello utimur. unde fraudes quoq; & consilia insidiantis, arma uocantur. Virgilius: Et quærere consciis arma. Arma uero rusticorum, rastra, ligones, qualli, crates, fiscinæ, & alia huiusmodi uillatica instrumenta. Idem: Cerealiaq; arma. & alibi: Colligere arma, iubet. Item alibi: Dicendū, & quæ sint duris agrestibus arma. Arma coquinaria, lebes, patella, tripus, olla, ueru, & similia ad inſtruendum aliquid pertinent, ut in nauibus armamenta

Item ab arma armentum deducitur, quod armis aptum, atque animalia armant ex corijs. Armenta quippe proprie maiorum animalium congregationes dicuntur, utputa Camelorum, bo lud obiter addendum eſt armos ab humeris differre. Humeri enim proprie eorum ſunt, qui recti in cœlum ſpectant, unde ſoli homini inter mortalia humeros eſſe dicimus. Virgil. Os, humeroſq; deo ſimilis. Armi uero ſunt proprie brutorũ, quam uis & de hominibus aliquando dicantur. Humeros ab humo deductos exiſtimant, quia humeri, ſicut humus, ferendis oneri bus apti ſunt. A grege uero fit gregatim, quod ſignificat per diuerſos greges. & gregarius ex grege uulgaris, unde grega pauſa uero dicitur requies ulicuius rei. Accius: Sed iam eũ huc uadere cerno, & nobis datur pauſa loquendi. Lucil. Hæc ubi dicta dedit pauſam facit ore loquendi. Ab hoc pauſo uerbum quieſco, à quo repauſo, quod eſt requiem capio. Deducuntur autem à Græco παύομαι, quod ſignificat deſiſto ab ope quo pauimentata loca dicuntur, in quibus ſtrata ſunt pauimenta.

Plin. Ergo pauimentandũ ubi ſit fata cenſent, ut lachryma nõ mugitu, quod per eam uenale pecus intraret: hæc & trigonia, hoc eſt trium angulorum cognominata. Addita præterea ab eodem intra urbem Ianualis porta eſt, à Iano dicta, & ideo ibi poſitum Iani ſignum, & inſtitutum à Pompilio, ut eſſet erat, claudere festinarent, quia hostes in eam irruebant, postquam clausa fuerat, mox sponte patefacta est: cumq; iterum, ac tertio idem contigisset, quoniam claudi non poterat, armati pro limine plurimi appositi sunt custodes: cumq; ex alia parte acerrimo prælio certaretur, subito fama pertulit fusos Tatio Romanos: quam ob causam, qui aditum tuebantur, territi profugerunt. Cunq; Sabini per portam patentem irrupturi essent, magna uis torrentium ex æde per eam portam dicitur erupisse, multasq; perduellium cateruas, aut exustas feruenti, aut deuoratas rapida uoragine deperisse. Ob eam rem placitum est belli tempore, uelut ad urbis auxilium profecto deo, fores reserarentur. Hinc Patuleius, & Clusinus dictus est Ianus, quia bello portæ eius patent, pace clauduntur. Dictus est etiam deus geminus, quasi utriusque Ianuæ cœlestis potens: quod sol sit, & exoriens aperiat diem, occidens claudat. Vnde & simulachrum eius fingi solebat manu dextera trecentorum, & sinistra sexaginta, & quinque numerum tenens, ad demonstrandum anni dimensionem. Item deus bifrons, quod & præterita sciuerit, & futura præuiderit, uel quia superûm, atq; inferûm ianitor est: & Ianus pater, quasi deorum deus, & Ianus Iunonius, quasi non solum ianuarij, sed mensium omnium ingressus tenens. in ditione quippe Iunonis sunt omnes Calendæ: unde & Varro scribit, Iano duodecim aras pro totidem mensibus dedicatas. Ianus consiuius à conserẽdo, hoc est à propagine humani generis, quæ Iano autore conseritur. Ianus Quirinus, quasi bellorum potens ab hasta, quã Sabini curim uocant. Aliæ quoq; deinde diuersis temporibus portæ additæ fuerunt, inter quas celebriores sunt flumentana, quam Tyberis urbem intrans, in sinistra ripæ parte relinquit: dicta, quod Tyberis quandoq; in eam influxerit, quod in aliam fieri non poterat. Liuius: Prædicta die in Petilinum lucum extra portam flumentanam, unde conspectus in capitolium non est, concilium populi inductum. Collatina, quæ per eundem circuitum ad sinistram Tyberis partem proxima est, à Collatia appellata oppido propè Romam, in quod aliarum urbiũ opes collatæ fuerũt. post eam gabinia, quæ recta in Gabios ducebat: subsequens Quirinalis ita uocata, uel quod ea itur in collem Quirinalem, uel quod proxime eam Quirini sacellum erat. Eadem Aegonensis (ut quidam existimant) uocabatur, quod mons ipse Quirinalis prius Aegonus cognominatus est. Hinc porta collina ab eodem colle, ad quem alia uia iter erat. huic portæ propinquũ fuit Erycinæ Veneris templũ. Ouidius: Templa frequentari collinæ proxima portæ, Nunc decet, à Siculo nomina rege tenet. eadem nunc Salaria uocatur, quod nomen uiæ quoq; est, in quam exit. Cornelius Tacitus tertium agmen per Salariam Collinæ portæ appropinquabat. per eam sal Sabini deferebant, ideo salaria uocitata. deinde uiminalis, quæ ad uiminalem collem ducebat, appellatum à sylua uiminũ, quæ ibi dicitur fuisse. eadem Numentana à Numentana uia, quæ in salariam intrat, hæc uero à Numentano agro, de quo inferius dicemus. Post hæc Exquilina, quæ in exquilias ducit. Tyburtina etiam dicta aliquando Taurina à capite tauri, quod illic insculptum erat. Exquiliæ sunt gemini in urbe montes, dictæ (ut Varro affirmat) uel ab excubijs regis, uel quod excultæ à rege Tullo essent. In altero eorum nunc arcus extat, quem literæ indicant appositum honori Galeni imperatoris fuisse. In altero sunt Diocletiani thermæ, & duo equi marmorei ingentes, cum uiris seminudis lora tenentibus, miro artificio insignes, quorum unus inscriptum Latinis literis habet opus Praxitelis: alter, Opus Phidiæ. Constat hos à Tyridate Armeniorũ rege Romam delatos, quẽ Nero, ut laute exciperet theatrum Pompeij unius diei opera totum inaura-

uit. Tum Næuia à Næuio, qui ea loca tenuit, et Cœlimontana à Cœlio monte, & Latina, quod in Latium duceret, & Trigemina, per quam trigemini fratres Horatij exierunt. Sed tertius, qui superstes fuit porta Capena redijt. Liuius: Minutius extra portã Trigeminã boue aurato donatus est. Eadẽ Ostiensis appellatur, quod per eam iter sit Ostiam proficiscentibus. Aurelia ab Aurelio, qui eum tenuit locum. Querquetulana, quod quercum intra muros iuxta se habebat. Lauernalis à Lauerna dea, cuius in obscuro, atq; abdito loco fures prædam furtaq; inter se partiri soliti erant, & ideo lauerniones uocabantur, quod sub tutela deæ Lauernæ essent, cuius ædes erat iuxta portã Lauernalem. Rauduscula, quod ærata esset. Aes raudus à ueteribus dictum: unde in uenditionibus mancupi scriptum erat raudusculo libram ferito. Proprie autem rudus, siue raudus dicitur res rudis aspera, & imperfecta, ideo hominem imperitum rudem nominatus. A quo fit erudio, quod est doceo, & instruo, & eruditio doctrina, & erudite aduerbium docte, & ruditas imperitia, & obtusitas ingenij, & rudis impolita uirga dicitur. A quo fit rudiculus diminutiuum. Plinius: Non est opus in hoc usu lanas rudiculis esse curatas. Idem: Vritur autem in pannis per laminas minutas cum sulfure uersatum rudibus ferreis, aut ferulaceis, donec liquor mutetur in cinerem. Quoniam autem gladiatores iam ætate ingrauescentes, dum libertate à prætore donabantur, ne gladiatoriam amplius exercerent, uirga donari solebant, factum est, ut pro libertate, & pro fine, rudis aliquando metaphorice ponatur. Iuuenalis: Ergo sibi dabit ipse rudem. Hinc nouum rudus, & uetus rudus dicimus. Nouum rudus est materia pauimenti, hoc est saxa de nouo contusa, seu testæ fractæ ad pauimentum faciendum. Vetus uero rudus est materia ueterum pauimentorum, & diruptorum ædificiorum quæ lapidibus, & testis confractis, calceq; arena cõmista constant. Plinius: Complanatæ ueteri rudere erant uiæ. Hinc ruderatus ager dicitur, qui ueterum ædificiorum materia scatet, hoc est lapidibus confractis, arena, calce. Plinius: Rosam siccis locis, quàm humidis odoratiorem constat nasci. Serendam nec pinguibus, nec argillosis locis contentam raris, proprieq; ruderatum agrum amare, de rudere nouo. Vitruuius: Tunc superstratum duces rudus, hoc est saxa contusa duabus partibus, & una calcis temperante cõstitues. Rudo uero factitium uerbum est, proprieq; de asinis dicitur, sicut hinnio de equis. Persius: Findor, ut Arcadiæ pecuaria rudere credas. hinc rudẽtes asini dicuntur. Virg. Sera sub nocte rudentum. Rudentes etiam appellantur nautici funes, quoniam cum uento agitantur rudere uidentur. Idem: Insequitur clamorq; uirum, stridorq; rudentum. Item Rutumenta porta, quæ à nomine cuiusdam aurigæ cognominata est prope eam habitantis. & Catularia, quod nõ longe ab ea ad placandum Caniculæ sidus inimicum frugibus rufæ canes immolabantur, ut fruges ad maturitatem perducerentur. & triumphalis porta, per quam triumphantes imperatores pompam agebant. Erat & in urbe illa porta, quæ à Roma Romanula dicebatur, habens gradus in naualia ad Volupiæ sacellum. Item alia in palatio Mutionis appellata à mugitu, quod ea pecus exigebatur. A fonte etiam fonticulus deducitur, hoc est paruus fons. Plinius: Vbicunq; moueris humum fonticuli scatent. Fons Græce πηγὴ dicitur. unde plures simul domus rusticæ, hoc est plures uillæ, Pagus uocatur, quod circa fonteis condi huiusmodi uillæ consueuerũt: hinc pagani dicti, quasi ex eodem fonte potantes, hoc est uillani hinc paganus uicus, hinc semipaganus, quasi semiuillanus. lapis, in quẽ aqua scaturiẽs colligitur modo crater, modo labrũ, modo à gustãdo gustatoriũ appellatur. Cratera à similitudine uasis huiusmodi. Est enim crater, siue cratera uas rotundum amplum. Virgilius: Crateras læti statuunt, & uina coronant. Idem: Craterasq; duos statuam tibi pinguis oliui. Et alibi: Fuso crateris oliuo. Nam quod Marcellus ait: crateras dici uasa uinaria, crateres uero uasa olearia, falsum est. magnũ, atq; amplum esse idem Virgilius ostendit: Sed magnum metuens se post cratera tegebat. Græcum uocabulum est κρατήρ, & à capacitate, hoc est ἀπὸ τοῦ κρατεῖν deducitur, quod est tenere, capere. Quidam scribunt treis urnas continere. Vrnam uero quartarium dici manifestum est, quod quatuor sextarios capiat. ab huius uasis similitudine crater in monte Aetna appellatus est foramen illud, per quod ignis, cinisq; euomitur, quod cum aliquando duobus in locis fieri uideatur, duos esse huiusmodi crateres dixere. Strabo: Ipsa uero mõtis Aetnæ cacumina flagrantibus incendijs multipliciter mutari manifestum est. Nunc quidem in craterem collabitur ignis, nunc diuisus egreditur, modo igniti defluunt riui, modo flammæ, aut fumus, fuligóue consurgunt. Aliquando ardens lapis exundat. Ouidius de raptu Proserpinæ: Et pronos currus medio cratere recepit. Exigua fistula ex ære, siue marmore, aut alia materia, ex qua aqua exilit è fonte, & propter signa, quæ fieri in ea solent, persona aliquando uocatur, proprie siphunculus dicitur. Plinius: Aqua uelut expressa cubantium pondere siphunculis effluit, cauato lapide suscipitur, gracili marmore continetur. Item baptisteria in domibus sunt, hoc est ueluti lacus quidam ex ligno, aut marmore, alióue genere lapidis ædificati, in quibus lauandi gratia mergimur, dicta ἀπὸ τοῦ βαπτίζειν, quod mergere est. hæc in cællis ædificari solent, hoc est secretioribus locis, in hunc usum factis, quarum aliæ caldariæ sunt, in quibus calda lauamur, aliæ frigidariæ, in quibus lauamur frigida. Plinius: Cælla frigidaria, in qua est baptisterium amplum, & opacum. Sunt etiam piscinæ in areis, in quibus natari latius possit. Piscinæ ab initio dictæ sunt, in quibus uiui pisces coërcentur, quod nomen ipsum facile indicat. In his quoniam natare etiam solebant, inualuit consuetudo, ut omnes in hunc usum collectæ aquæ, siue frigidæ sint, siue calidæ, siue tepidæ piscinæ dicantur. Mart. Piscinam peto, non licet natare. Cicero: Latiorem inquit piscinam uoluissem, ubi iactata brachia non offenderentur. Plinius: Si natare latius, aut tepidius uelis, in area piscina est, in proximo puteus, ex quo possis rursus astringi. Quinctiam uasa lignea ampliora ad tenendam aquam, & ipsa baptisteria aliquando piscinæ uocantur. Idem: Decoquitur in aqua, & in piscinas ligneas funditur. Eadem generali uocabulo natatoria, & natationes appellantur. à piscina Cicero piscinarios uocat Lucullum, Philippum, & Hortensium piscinas habenteis. Piscina à pisce dicitur, à quo diminutiuum pisciculus. Terentius: Olera, & pisciculos minutos. & piscor uerbum, quod est pisces uenor. à quo expiscor, quod proprie est diligenter, ubi nam pisces lateant, quæro. Metaphorice tamen expiscari pro indagare accipimus. Terentius: Perinde expiscare, quasi non noris. Item pro lucrifacere. Plautus: Tandemq; nescio quid ab eo expiscatus. & adipiscor, quod significat acquiro. Veteres appiscor dicebant. Lucilius: Magnam inde appiscatus infamiam. quod si adipiscor cum persona iungatur, significat peruenio, & in præterito facit adeptus. Cicero: Nam medio itinere eum adeptus amplexus sum, hoc est cum medio itinere ad eum peruenissem. idem accidit in nanciscor, quod cum similiter acquiro significet, si tamen cum homine iungatur, frequentissime capitur pro inuenio. Cicero: Eum tu hominẽ teneto, siquem eris nactus istis mortis, aut exilij minis. Ab hoc ueteres renanciscor dixere pro eo quod est reprehendo, & indipiscor, quod similiter significat assequor. Dicitur etiam in actiuo indipisco. Plautus: Neque partem tibi adeo indipisces, neque furem excipies. Ab indipiscor fit indeptus, à quo indepto frequentatiuum. Varro: Nec partem aliquam indeptauit hæreditatis. A piscor piscator deducitur, qui piscatur. & piscatus, ac piscatio pro ipso actu piscandi. Plinius: Quos uenatus, aucupia, piscatusq; alebant. & piscatorium, quod ad piscatorem pertinet: ut piscatorius hamus, piscatoria scapha, piscatoria fiscina, piscatorium tugurium. & piscosum, quod modo significat piscibus plenum, modo in quo piscari facile est, quod & pisculentum ueteres dixerunt. Cato: Fluuium magnum, pulchrum, pisculentum. piscatorij ludi dicebantur, qui pro quæstu piscantium fiebant. Item piscariæ, loca in quibus pisces uenduntur, & piscarij, qui pisces uenditãt. Varro: Nullus in piscaria piscis erat, inter piscarios nemo uendebat. ijdem & cetarij dicuntur, quamuis cetarij potius sunt, qui magnos pisces & salsos uendunt. Cete enim maiores pisces in mari sunt, non ouum, sed animal parientes, quod nulli ex paruis accidit, præterquàm ranæ. Virgilius: Immania cete. Cetarij etiam piscatores magnorum piscium dicuntur, utputa thynnorum, et aliorũ huiusmodi. Varro: Aduertis cetarios, cum uidere uolũt in mari turmas ascendere in malum, alti ut penitus per aquam perspiciant. Hinc cetariæ dicuntur loca iuxta mare stagnante lacu, in qbus thynni & alij huiusmodi pisces capiuntur, & iuxta saliuntur. Plinius: Carteiæ in cetarijs assuetus polypus exire, atque ibi salsamenta populari. Idem: Scombris in aquis sulfureus color, extra, qui cæteris. Hispaniæ cetarias hi replent thynnis non commeantibus. pisces aliquando à terrestrium animalium similitudine nomen habent, ut uitulus, scorpius, anguilla. Aliquando à similitudine auium, ut passer, hirundo. Nonnunquam ab aliquo inanimato, ut à testa testudo. ab acu acus, qui & belone dicitur, quod Græci βελόνην acum nominant. Plinius: Acus, siue belone unus piscium dehiscente. propter multitudinem uero parit, à partu calescit uulnus, quod & in cæcis serpentibus tradunt. Interdum à colore, ut aurata à colore auri, & mulus à colore muleorum calceorum, quibus primo reges Albani, postea patritij usi sunt. erant autem purpurei coloris à milando, hoc est suendo dicti. Vnde millus collare canum uenaticorum consutum, factumq; ex corio clauis ferreis eminentibus aduersus impetum luporum. Scipio Aemilianus ad populum: Nobis inquit, reiq; publicæ præsidio eritis, quasi millus cani. Mulus piscis est marinus maximæ nobilitatis, & gratiæ, magnitudinis modicæ. raro enim binas libras ponderis superat. Martialis: Nolo mihi ponas rhombum, mulumq; bilibrem. Mutianus tamen tradidit mulum octuaginta librarum in mari rubro semel captum fuisse. uescitur alga, ostreis, limo, & aliorum piscium carne, barba gemina insignitur inferiori labro: propter quod Veneti barbonem uulgo nominant, à Græcis trigla dicitur, quo nomine in præsentia utuntur Romani. Hinc trigles lapillus dictus, quod muli colorem habet, sicut Carcinias, quod cancri marini, echites, quod uiperæ, scorpites, quod scorpionis, scarites, quod scari. Vilissimus inter eos est, quẽ lutariũ nominant. Hũc semper comitatur sargus, alius piscis: & illo cœnum fodiente, hic excitatum pabulum deuorat. Asinius Celer Claudio principe mulum unum septem millibus numûm mercatus traditur. M. Apicius in sociorum garo, de quo alibi dicemus, mulos necandos putauit, & ex iecore eius alecem excogitauit. Mulum expirantem multiplici quadam colorum uarietate spectare proceres gulæ præclarum putabant, præsertim si uitro esset inclusus. Seneca: Parum uidetur recens mulus, nisi qui in conuiuæ manu moritur. Vitreis ollis inclusi afferuntur, & obseruatur morientium color, quem in multas mutationes mors luctante spiritu uertit. Idem ante illa audiebamus: Nihil est melius saxatili mulo, at nunc audimus nihil est moriente formosius. Da mihi in manus uas uitreum, in quo exultet, & diu laudatus est. ex illo perlucido uiuario extrahitur. Tunc, ut quisque peritior est, monstrat. Vide quàm exarserit rubor omni acrior minio: uide quas per latera uenas agat. Ecce sanguineum putes uentrem: quàm lucidum quiddam cœruleum sub ipso tempore effulsit. Iam porrigitur, & pallet, & in unum colorem componitur. Non tempero mihi, quin utar interdum temerarie uerbis, & proprietatis modum excedam. Non sunt ad popinam dentibus, & uentre, & ore contenti, oculis quoque gulosi sunt. Muli nunc præstantissimi capiuntur in mari Tyrrheno iuxta Corniculum, & Tarquinios. habent enim & pisces sua loca, sicut carpio in Benaci lacu: salmo in Rheno, ac Rhodano, qui duo pisces omnibus ferè marinis præferuntur. Attilus in Pado: Zeus, qui & faber appellatur Gadibus: mustellæ, in lacu Brigantino Retiæ murenis ferè similes, et cæteros omneis pisces nostra ætate excedentes precio, quas à lambendis petris, uulgo nunc lampetras nominant. Circa Ebusum salpa, obscœnus alibi, & qui coqui non potest, nisi ferula uerberatus. Plerunq; nomen trahunt pisces ab ingenij, aut morum similitudine, ut canes, siue caniculæ à morsu. hæ enim graui periculo urinanteis infestant, ob id stilos præacutos lineis adnexos habent, quia nisi perfossæ non recedunt. atrox cum his dimicatio est. Inguina, & calces, omnemq; candorem corporum appetunt. Salus una in aduersas eundi, sic enim territæ retrocedunt, pauentq; hominem æque, ac terrent. Verum ubi ad summam uentum est, ibi periculum adempta facultate eundi contra, dum conantur emergere. omnis spes salutis in socijs est, nisi præceleri ui repente rapiant, absumi spectant. Omnis cura ad speculandum hoc malum adhibetur ante, quàm mergatur. Certissima est securitas conspexisse ibi planos pisceis, quia nunquam ubi sunt caniculæ uersantur. Qua de causa urinantes sacros eos appellant. Item lupi à uoracitate, unde à Græcis hic piscis λάβραξ dicitur, hoc est uehementer edax. λα enim intensiua particula est, βορὸς edax dicitur, à quo Picentes mei uarolum nominant: Romani uulgo lupum. laneus, siue lanatus lupus dicitur à candore, ac mollitia carnis. Tales enim inter eos laudatissimi sunt. Martial. Laneus Euganei lupus excipit ora Timaui æquoreo dulceis cum sale pastus aquas. Varro lupo tyberino palmam tribuit his uerbis: Ad uictum optima fert, ager Campanus frumentum: falernus, uinum: cassinas, oleum: Thusculanus, ficum: mel, Tarentinus: piscem Tyberis. Optimi inter duos pontes lupi capiebantur, propter urbis latrinas, & cloacas, quas insectantes maxime pinguescunt, quæ res præcipua causa est, ut è mari nantes inter fluminum hostia meliores sint, utpote pinguiores. Refert Macrobius Lucilium acrem, & uehementem poëtam ostendere se scire hunc piscem egregij saporis esse, qui inter duos ponteis captus esset, eumq; quasi liguritorem appellare catillonem. proprie autem catillones dictos gulosos, quasi catillorum liguritores, & præcipue eos, qui ad polluctum Herculis ultimi ueniebant, quod catillos liguribant. A catino per diminutionem catillus dictus. catinum autem à capiendo putant deductum, uas est escariæ mensæ, ubi pultem, aut aliquid iurilenti ponebant. Catillatio graue opprobrium obijciebatur hominibus generosis, siqui prouincias amicas populi Romani expoliassent, quod bona eorum liguriisse uiderentur. Lucilij uersus hi sunt: Fingere præterea afferri, quod quisq; uolebat, Illum sumina ducebant, atque altilium lanx. Hunc ponteis Tyberinos inter captus catillo, Caium quoq; Titium ita scripsisse cōmemorat:

Quin potius potamus mulsum mistum uino Græco: edimus turdum pinguem, bonumq; piscem lupum germanum, qui inter duos pontes captus fuit? Refert Aristoteles mugilem, & lupum perpetuo inter se odio conflagrare. Nos certe Puteolis sæpenumero congrum cum murena, cum lupo mulum acriter pugnantes Bessarione nostro præsente animaduertimus, mugilemq; in metu, cum caput occultasset, totum se absconditū esse existimantem, propter quod cephalum à Græcis uocari uerisimile est. Galenus quoque excellens medicus de eo sic scribit: Λάβρακα οὐ τεθέαμαι γεννώμενον ἐν γλυκέσιν ὕδασιν. ἐκ μέντοι τῆς θαλάσσης ἐπαναβαίνοντα ποταμοῖς ἢ λίμναις ἑώρακα. διὸ καὶ μοχθηρὸς ὀλιγάκις εὑρίσκεται. καθάπερ ὁ κέφαλος πολλάκις. οὐ φεύγει δὲ οὐδὲ τὰς λιμνοθαλάσσας καὶ τὰ στόματα τῶν ποταμῶν, καίτοι πελάγιος ὤν. τουτὶ γὰρ τοὔνομα τίθεται τοῖς εἰς τὸ βάθος ἀποχωροῦσιν. Lupum, inquit, in dulcibus aquis natum non uidimus, sed ex mari in flumina ascendentem conspeximus, propter quod parumper limosus inuenitur aliquando, quemadmodū cephalus. Non fugit autem stagna salsa, nec ostia fluminum, quamuis in profundo maris uersari sit solitus. Constat autem à lupo quadrupede animali appellatum hunc piscem fuisse, cuius tanta uarietas est, ut cibo alio deficiente, terra uescatur. Luporum uisus creditur homini noxius esse, uocemq; ei, quem priores uiderint, adimere. Virgilius: Nunc oblita mihi tot carmina, uox quoq; Mœrim Iam fugit ipsa. Lupi Mœrim uidere priores. Hinc factum est prouerbium: Lupus est in fabula, quoties superueniente eo, de quo sermo erat, necesse est tacere. homines in lupos uerti, rursusq; restitui sibi, usqueadeo uulgi animis infixum est, ut hinc uersipellis contumeliosum nomen ortum putetur. Hi enim dicuntur uersipelles, qui modo unum, modo aliud ostendunt, & quo libet se fraudulenter commutant. Lucilius: At Libertinus tricorius Syrus iste ad mastigias, qui cum uersipellis fio, & commuto omnia. Plautus: Versipellem se facit, quando lubet. Scribit Varro Arcadas quosdam sorte ductos stagnum quoddam eius regionis tranare, uestitu in quercu suspenso, atq; abire in deserta, transfigurariq; in lupos, & cum similibus feris per nouem annos uictitare. Quo in tempore si humana carne abstinuerint, rursus ad idem stagnum reuerti, & cum tranauerint, priorem effigiem, habitumq; recipere, nouem annorum ætate addita. Et quia nullum tam impudens mendacium est, ut teste careat, nominatim exprimit Demenetum quendam in sacrificio, quod Arcades immolato puero facere deo suo Lycæo solebant, cum humana exta degustasset, statim in lupum conuersum, & anno decimo in figuram pristinam restitutum. hunc pugillatu sese exercuisse, & olympiaco uicisse certamine. Nec ob aliam causam Varro existimat in Arcadia Panem Lycæum, & Iouem Lycæum nominatos, quàm propter hanc hominum in lupos mutationem. Lupus enim Græce λύκος dicitur, à quo lupi nomen deriuatur. & simili modo Lycæum Arcadiæ montem appellatum, qui Pani deo sacer est, quod magis mihi placet, quàm quod scribit Seruius Lyceum dictum, quod lupos non sinat in oueis sæuire. Lupi caudæ uulgus existimat amatorium uirus inesse in exiguo uillo, eumq;, qui capiatur, statim abijcere, nec enim habere uillum, nisi uiuenti detrahatur. A lupo ceruarius lupus dicitur aliud animal uulgo notum, cuius tanta obliuio est, ut maxima etiam in fame mandens, si respexerit, non recordetur cibi, sed digressus aliū quærat. Item à lupo Lupercal dictum, locus, siue spelunca sub Palatino monte sacrata ab Euandro Pani deo Arcadiæ, qui Lyceus uocatur: quamuis alij, ita appellatum uelint, uel quod lupa ibi Remum, & Romulum nutriuerit, uel quod ibi per caprum luebatur, hoc est sacrificabatur, ut sit dictio ex tribus

orationis partibus cōposita: hinc Lupercalia sacra, quæ in eo loco fiebant, appellata. & Luperci à Romanis dicti, quasi ex illorū mysteriorum semiue exorti, siue (ut Varro putat) quod lupercalibus in lupercali sacra facerent. à lupo etiam meretrices lupæ appellatæ, quod, ut illi cibi, ita hæ uel libidinis, uel quæstus appetentes sint. Vnde turpia earū loca lupanaria uocantur. & lupari scortari, ac meretricari est. Accius: Qui cū meretrice per uias habitu nostro lupātur. Hinc datum fabulæ locum uolunt, ut Remus, ac Romulus expositi, à lupa nutriti esse dicantur, quod, cum uagientes in ripa Tyberis iacerent, à nescio qua meretrice primum collecti fuisse, & primas eius mamillas suxisse putētur, deinde ad Faustulum peruenisse pastorem. Alij tamen existimant hanc non fabulam, sed historiam esse, & geminos infanteis à lupa uere fuisse nutritos, quod Marte geniti essent, in cuius tutela lupi esse dicuntur, ut ideo lupa paruulis ubera admouisse credatur, quia filios esse dei sui Martis agnouerat. Lupata quoq; genus freni asperrimi à lupinis dentibus nomen sumpsere, qui inæquales sunt, & propterea morsus eorum asperrimus. Virg. Pressiq; negabūt uulnera dura pati, & duris parere lupatis. Lupinū dicitur quicquid ad lupum pertinet, ut lupini dentes, lupini oculi, lupina rabies. Plinius: Masurius palmam lupino adipi dedisse antiquos tradit: ideo nouas nuptas illo perungere postes solitas, ne quid mali medicamenti inferretur. Lupinum quoque leguminis genus appellamus, quod non minus terrā appetat, uoraxq; illius sit, quàm lupus. hoc unum coli non uult, seriturque non aratro, & tellurem adeo amat, ut quamuis frutetoso solo coniectum inter folia, uepresq;, ad terram tamē radice perueniat. Quotidie cum sole circumagitur, horasq; agricolis etiam nubilo die demonstrat. ter floret, ab omnibus animalibus amaritudine sua tutum est: maceratum calida aqua in cibo est homini. Lupus etiam instrumentum est aduncum, quo uasa, quæ in puteum forte ceciderint, extrahuntur. Harpax græco uocabulo, & harpago nominatur, quod rapax interpretari potest. ἀπὸ τοῦ ἁρπάζειν, quod est rapere. Item lupus genus aranei est, de quo supra diximus, à Græcis λύκος appellatus, & herba quæ asparagi uice mandi solet, quæ & lupus salictarius, quod salices ad similitudinem uitis ascendat, & uulgo lupulus dicitur ex aculeatorum genere. Germani ex ea ceruisiam faciunt admista frugibus, hoc genus potionis, quo pro uino utuntur, quale est in Aegypto zythū celia, & cerea in Hispania. horum omnium spuma cutem fœminarum in facie nutrit. A lycos etiam Lycus deducitur propriū uiri nomen. Multi autem hoc nomine clari fuerunt. Vnus troianus. Virg. Fata Lyci. Alius Thebanus ignobilis genere, qui, cū à Creōte Herculis socio in exilium missus fuisset, Hercule deinde cum Pirithoo ad inferos profecto, regnum Thebarum occupauit. Item alius Thebarum rex, alius Pandionis filius, qui à se Lyciam nominauit. Item à lycus Lycaon Calistonis pater, Arcadiæ rex, qui cum solitus esset hospites necare, idq; in Iouem hospitem moliretur, in lupum ab eo conuersus est. Fuit & alius hoc nomine Priami filius, pater Pandari. & Lycastus urbs Cretæ à luporum, quæ ibi est, multitudine, & Lyciola pastoris nomē, & Lycimnius frater Astioches, & Lycinus proprium nomen, & Lycomedes Creontis filius, & Lycopa urbs Aetholiæ, & Lycon Pythagoricus philosophus, alius Socraticus, tertius poëta, quartus epigrammaton scriptor. & Lycophron Periandri Corinthiorum tyranni filius, qui patri, quod matrem occiderat, nunquā conciliari potuit: cumq; patris ætate iam grauescente in successionē tyrannidis uocaretur, respondit se nunquā Corinthum patre uiuente, rediturum. & Lycopolis urbs Aegypti, & Lyctus oppidum Cretæ sub Idomenei imperio, à quo Idomeneus Lyctius est dictus, & Lyctonia similiter urbs Cretæ, & Lycurgus Lacedæmoniorū rex, philosophusq; clarissimus, qui Lacedæmonijs leges sanctissimas condidit, astrictisq; ciuibus iuramento, quod tandiu eas intemerate obseruarent, donec ipse rediret, è patria nunquam rediturus emigrauit, quo leges à se editæ perpetuo obseruarentur. Fuit & alius Lycurgus Nemeæ regionis rex. Item alius rex Thracū, qui, cum Bacchum deum esse negaret, uitem amputare conatus, sibi crura præcidit. unde eum tradunt abstemium fuisse. & lycisca nomen habens compositum à lupo & cane, hoc est, ἀπὸ τοῦ λύκος, καὶ σκύλαξ. Est enim canis natus ex commistione canum, luporumq;. Virg. Multum latrante lycisca. & lynx, & lycius Apollo, & lux de quibus inferius dicemus. Item urticæ dicuntur, quod uredinem tactu excitent. Græce hoc genus ἀκαλήφη uocatur. piscis est carnosæ frondis, nocte uagatur, uescitur carne, contrahit se primo, mox prænatante pisciculo frondem suam spargit, complectensq; deuorat. Dum admoueri sibi manum sentit, mutat colorem, & contrahitur uis, pruritu mordax. nam tactu uredinem mittit instar terrestris herbæ, quæ ab urēdo urtica dicitur, quod folia eius tacta acerrime urant, quamuis genus urticæ est, quod ononiū uocant, multo cæteris mitius, & folijs ferè nihil mordentibus. Cōstat, si quis decocto urticæ pedes hyeme lauauerit, eo die nō frigescere. Si equæ marem non admittant, & urtica infricetur natura, libenter coitum pati. Phanias physicus utilissimam esse urticam scripsit in cibis coctam, conditamue, lieni, duritiæ uentris, intestinis animalium articularibus, & podagricis morbis, arteriæ, tussi, uentris distillationi, stomacho, panis, parotidi, pernionibus. Pectus præterea purgare, urinā ciere, sanguinē narium sistere, calculos rumpere, uuam reprimere. Nonnunquam etiam à figura pisces nomen accipiunt, ut solea, quæ crepidæ similis est, quam soleam uocamus ex planorum piscium genere. & Rhombus commendatus patinis, à solea, & passere situ tantum corporis differens. etenim dexter rhombo, resupinatus est soleæ, & passeri læuus. Rhombi mentionē facit Iuuenalis, quem fingit Domitiani temporibus incredibili magnitudine captum fuisse. Cum iam semianimum laceraret Flauius orbem Vltimus, & caluo seruiret Roma Neroni, Incidit adriaci spatium admirabile rhombi Ante domum Veneris, quā Dorica sustinet Ancon, Impleuitq; sinus. Rhombos tradunt optimos esse Rauennæ, sicut lupos inter duos ponteis Romæ. Rhombus græca uox est, significatq; proprie figurā quadratam solidam, cuius latera omnia sunt æqualia, anguli uero omnes obliqui hoc modo ◇ Hic Rhombus si in terra iactetur, uoluitur ad similitudinem ferè cylindri. Vtebantur eo maleficæ mulieres, quibus maxime Thessalia abundat, ad deducendam lunam. Martialis: Quæ nunc Thessalico lunā deducere rhombo. Idem: Numerare quis pigri damna possit somni, Dicere quot æra uerberent manus urbis, Cum secta Cholco luna uapulat rhombo? Solebant quippe ueneficæ mulieres ad deducendam lunam noctu æra percutere. Ouidius de anu lunam deducente: Themesæaq; concutit æra. Themes enim antiquū oppidum Cypri est, in quo repertum primo æs, ab eo sumpsit cognomen. Theocritus in Egloga, quam pharmaceutriam inscripsit, mulierem maleficam inducit amore adolescentis captam inter multa alia, quibus allicere sibi amantē conabatur, hoc rhombo usam fuisse: χὼς δινεῖθ' ὅδε ῥόμβος ὁ χάλκεος ἐξ ἀφροδίτας, ὣς κεῖνος δινοῖτο ποθ' ἁμετέρῃσι θύρῃσι. Vt rhōbus iste, inquit, æneus uertitur, ita uertatur meus amans ad meas fores. Est etiā rhombus cylindrus, item torques, & instrumentum illud, quo uertendo mulieres nent: utunturq; eo similiter in Thessalia mulieres maleficæ. ῥομβεῖν Græci dicunt uertēdo fundam, lapidem iactare. Quandoq; nominantur ab effectu, ut torpedo, quæ limo mersa occultat sese, & pisces supra natantes torpentes facit, postquã uero obtorpuere, deuorat. Et squatina ex planorum pisciũ genere, quod propter squalorem, hoc est asperitatẽ cutis ligna ea, & ebur poliantur. hæc in aqua mira solertia pinnas exertas mouet, ut Rhombus, ut specie uermiculorum assultãtes pisciculos attrahat, quos propè accedentes assiliat. Et Echeneis, quod nauem retineat. ἔχειν enim tenere est, ναῦς à græcis dicitur nauis. Magnus nostri seculi, & superioris error circa hoc uocabulum fuit omnibus pro echeneis echinus apud Lucanum legentibus. In medijs echinus aquis, in quo præter sensum etiam uersus ipse corrumpitur, cum echinus primam syllabam correptam habeat. Echeneis igitur non echinus legendum est, hoc modo: Non puppim retinens euro tendente rudentes, In medijs echeneis aquis, oculiq; draconũ. Est autem pisces admodũ paruus in petris uiuens, qui adhærens carinis naueis retardat, ideo ἐχενηὶς dictus à græcis. A quibusdam uero è nostris latinis remora appellatus, quod naues remoretur. Hunc Plin. scribit ob eam causam amatorijs ueneficijs infamem esse, tum propter iudicorum, ac litium moram. Sed hæc crimina una laude compensat, quod fluxus grauidarum utero sistit, partusq; ad puerperium continet, in cibos tamen non admittitur. Pedes cum habere arbitratur Aristoteles. Mutianus muricẽ esse latiorem pura, neq; aspero, neq; rotundo ore, neq; in angulos prodeunte rostro, sed simplici concha utroq; latere sese colligente, quibus adhærentibus, plenam uentis stetisse nauem portantem nuntios à Periandro, ut nobiles pueri castrarentur. Alij pedalem esse tradiderunt, & crassitudine quinque digitorum naueis morari. Plinius de hoc elegantissime scribit in hunc modum: Quid uiolentius mari, uentis ue & turbinibus procellisq; quo maiore hominum ingenio in nulla sui parte aduta est, quàm uelis, remisq; Addatur his et reciproci æstus inenarrabilis uis, uersumq; totum mare in flumen. Tamen omnia hæc, pariterq; eodem impellentia, unus, ac paruus admodum pisciculus echeneis appellatus, in se tenet. Ruant uenti licet, & sæuiant procellæ, imperat furori, uiresq; tantas compescit, & cogit stare nauigia, quod non uincula ulla, non ancoræ irreuocabili pondere faciũt. Infrenat impetus, & domat mũdi rabiem nullo suo labore, non retinẽdo, aut alio modo, quàm hærendo. Hæc tanta illa est satis contra tot impetus, ut uetet ire nauigia. Sed armatæ classes imponunt sibi turrium propugnacula, ut in mari quoq; pugnetur, uelut è muris. Heu uanitas humana, cum rostra illa ære, ferroq; ad ictus armata semipedalis inhibere possit, ac tenere deuincta pisciculus. Fertur Actiaco Marte tenuisse prætoriam nauim Antonij properantis circumire, & exhortari suos, donec transiret in aliam, ideoq; cæsariana classis impetu maiore protinus uenit. Tenuit & Caij principis ab Astura Antium remigantis, ut res est etiam, auspicalis pisciculus. Siquidem nouissime tamen in urbem reuersus ille imperator, suis telis confossus est. Nec longa fuit illius moræ admiratio, statim causa intellecta, cum è tota classe quinq; remis sola non proficeret, & exilientibus protinus qui id quærerent, circa nauim inuenere adhærentem gubernaculo, ostenderuntq; Caio indignanti hoc fuisse, quod se reuocaret, quadringentorumq; remigum obsequio contra se intercederet. Cõstat etiam peculiariter miratum, quomodo adhærens tenuisset, nec idem polleret in nauigium receptus, qui tunc, postea quam uidere eum, limaci magnæ similem esse dicunt. Quidam è græcis autoribus hunc alio nomine odinolyontem appellauere, ὀπὸ τοῦ λύειν τὰς ὠδῖνας, hoc est à partu soluendo. Quippe sale asseruatum, & alligatum grauidis partum soluere prodiderunt. Echinus uero piscis est calicem habens echinatum instar castaneæ, propter quod echinus est dictus. Græci enim ἐχῖνον hirtum uocant, spinas pro pedibus habet. ingredi huic est in orbem uolui, itaque detritis sæpe aculeis inuenitur. Ex hoc genere echinometræ appellantur, quorũ spinæ longissimæ, calices minimi, nec omnibus idem rufus, & uitreus color. Circa Turonem candidi nascuntur, sæuitiã maris præsagientes operiunt sese, ut mobilitatem stabiliant pondere, ne nimia uoluptione atterant spinas, quod aspicientes nautæ pluribus moxan coris nauigia firmant. oua omnium amara sunt, quinã numero, ora in medio corpore in terram uersa. Vidi ego & sæpe piscatus sum piscem hunc in scopulis quibusdam maris nostri aqua contectis apud Antij reliquias, & iuxta Baias purpureo colore, cœruleo, ac uiridi misto: usque adeo grata oculis ea uarietate, ut si colores durarent, nulla esset cum gemmis comparatio. sed mortuo pisce colores tabescũt. Scinditur leui pressu hirta testudo, in duasq; partes diuiditur, abicitur altera, altera uero leuiter aqua abluitur: decidunt sordes, quæ in ijs pro uisceribus sunt, remanent quinq; partita oua subrusa, ad stellæ imaginem formata. hæc cruda sumuntur sapore non iniucundo, quãuis nescio quid amaritudinis habeant. præstãt qui Miseni nascũtur. Horat. Ostrea Circeis, Miseni oriũtur echini. Sæpe etiam à uitæ consuetudine uocantur, unde mulum lutarium dicimus, quod in luto uersetur, & terrestrem testudinẽ chersinam, quod χέρσος apud Græcos dicitur continens, Martialis: Fœmineam nobis cherson si credis inesse, Decipe ris, pelagi mascula turba sumus. Sæpe etiam ab ipsorum piscium specie, ut nautilus, quod nauigantis effigiem habeat. ναυτίλλομαι enim apud Græcos significat nauigo. hic piscis est, qui ab alijs Pompilus nominatur, supinus in summa æquorum peruenit: ita se paulatim subrigens, ut emissa omni per fistulam aqua, uelut exoneratus, sentina facile nauiget, postea prima duo brachia retorquens membranam inter illa miræ tenuitatis extendit, qua uelificante in auras cæteris brachijs subremigans media se cauda, ut gubernaculo dirigit: ita per altum uadit liburnicarum imagine ludens, & si quid pauoris interueniat, hausta aqua se mergens. Item Polypus à pedum multitudine, quasi multipes. piscis est ex mollium genere, multos habens pedes, quos modo brachia, modo crines uocamus: item caudam, quæ bisulca est, & acuta, fistulã præterea in dorso, qua mare transmittit, eandemq; modo in dextram, modo in sinistram partem transfert. natat obliquus in caput, per brachia uelut acceptabula quædam dispersa habet, quibus haurit quodammodo, cui adhæsit: & ita tenet, ut nequeat diuelli, comprehensum hominem in terram deijcit: exit in siccum duntaxat asperũ, leuia odio habet, colorem mutat ad similitudinem loci. Captus olim fuit in Hispania tantæ magnitudinis, ut caput eius Luculło ostensum quin decim amphorarum capax fuerit: crines qui uix utroque brachio complecti possent, acceptabula, siue caliculi instar peluiũ urnam æquauerint. Reliquiæ eius miraculo asseruatæ septingenta pondo pependerint. Ex polyporum genere est ozæna dicta à graui capitis odore, propter quod murenæ maxime eam consectantur. Polypi semper ferè tabe pereunt, fœminæ celerius, auidissimi sunt concharum: illæ ad tactũ comprimuntur brachia eorum præcidentes, ultroq; escam ex prædatore capiunt. carent conchæ uisu, omniq; alio sensu, quàm cibi, & periculi. insidiantur Polypi apertis, impositoq; lapillo extra corpus, ne palpitatus eijciatur, securi prædam faciunt, & deuorant carnes: illæ se contrahendo discumbentur. Negant aliqui ullum esse atrocius animal ad conficiendum hominem in aqua. In naufragos, urinanteś ue maiorem immodum impetum

facit. Ab huius similitudine Polypus etiam narium morbus dicitur, à quo eum morbũ patientes dicuntur Polyposi. Martialis: Nasutum uolo, nolo polyposum. Crescit caruncula modo alba, modo subrubra, quæ narium ossi inhæret: & modo ad labra pendens narem implet, modo retro per id foramen, quo spiritus à naribus ad fauces descendit, ita crescit, ut post uuam conspici possit. strangulat hominem, austro præsertim, atque eurofl antibus. ferro in modum spathæ facto ab osse resoluitur, adhibita diligentia, ne chartilago lædatur, in qua difficilis curatio est. Est etiam quãdo pisces nomina habeant, quorũ nulla ratio reddi possit, ut torsio piscis delphinorum similitudinem habens, nisi quod tristior est, caretq; illa lasciuia, rostris caniculæ similis. & Attilus piscis grandis satis, qui in Pado inertia pinguescens ad mille aliquando libras captus est catenato hamo, nec nisi boum iugis extractus. & Carpio piscis notus, qui capitur in Benaco. Piscis quoq; cœleste signũ est. Duo hoc pisces constituunt, alter Notius, alter Boreus appellatur. Boreus inter æquinoctialem, & æstiuum circulũ sub Andromedæ brachio collocatus, & arcticum polum spectans constituitur: Notius in zodiaco circulo positus est, spectans ad occasum. Tradunt Venerem aliquãdo cum Cupidine filio in Syriam ad flumen Euphratem uenisse, eodem repente superueni se unum ex gigantibus nomine Typhona, cuius aspectu territam Venerem sese cum filio in flumen proiecisse, & in piscium figuram esse mutatos, ita demum periculo liberatos fuisse. Quapropter Syros ea loca incolentes ab esu, & captu piscium postea destitisse, ne numina sua lædere uiderentur, uel edendo, uel capiendo. Hoc pisces in propriam deinde effigiem reuersos, eam imaginem in cœlo collocasse. Fuere etiam qui lacus, & stagna in domibus habuerint, ut Nero princeps, qui marinas, atque albulas aquas domi habuit. Item stagnũ maris instar circunseptum ædificijs ad urbium speciem. Quid stagnum sit, diximus superius. Lacus uero à stagno (ut Vlpianus inquit) ita differt, quod lacus est qui perpetuam habet aquam: stagnum uero, quod temporalem aquam habet ibidem stagnantem, quæ plerunq; hyeme colligi solet, æstate siccari. In stagnis hyeme cygni, anseres, anates, onocrotali, grues, fulicæ, aliæq; aquaticæ aues mira uoluptate spectantur, et uarijs aucupioru generibus capiuntur. Est etiam lacus fontium, si ue fluuiorum receptaculum. Virg. Iamq; domum mirans genitricis, & humida regna, Speluncisq; lacus clausos. Itẽ uas, in quo uua calcatur, ac mustum defluit. Plinius: Ipse uindemias colligo: si tamen colligere est nonnunquam decerpere uuã, torculũ inuisere, gustare de lacu mustum. Tibullus: Nec spes destituat, sed frugum semper aceruos Præbeat, & pleno pinguia musta lacu. Lacus etiam trabs est in ædificijs plana, à quo fit diminutiuum lacunar, à quo lacunarium, & per antistichon laquear, & laquearium. Virgilius: Dependent lychni laquearibus aureis. Iuuenalis: Doctus spectare lacunar. Item à lacu, quando aquæ receptaculum significat, deriuatur lacuna, quæ aquæ collectio est, quam alij lamam, alij lustrum nominant. Virgilius: Præsertim incertis si mensibus amnis abundãs Exit, & obducto late tenet omnia limo. Vnde cauæ tepido sudant humore lacunæ. Lacuna etiã dicitur fossa ad siccandos agros parata. Item: Et totæ solidam in glaciem uertere lacunæ. Lacus à græco sumpsit nomen. Græci enim λάκκον lacum nominant. Piscis græce ἰχθὺς dicitur, à quo ichthyophagi dicti sunt populi montanas regiones Indorum habitantes, quos subactos Alexander magnus iussit à piscibus abstinere, cum antea solis piscibus alerentur, à quibus habent nomen. ἰχθὺς enim piscis est, φάγω edo. Sunt præterea in ædibus Sphæristeria loca rotunda, uarijs lusibus, & uarijs ex-ercitationũ generibus apta. Item exedræ, loca spatiosa, quasi triclinia, quæ quasi ferè ad occidentem uersæ esse solebant. Cicero: Tunc dedita opera quiescentibus alijs, in eam iam exedram uenisse, in qua Crassus posito lectulo requieuisset. Sunt Oeci, in quibus duntaxat matres familiãs cum lanificis sedent. Qui locus etiam gynæcium dicitur, & gynæconitis. Aemilius Paulus: Materfamiliãs apud Romanos primum locum tenet ædiũ, atq; in celebritate uersatur. quod multo aliter fit in Græcia. Nam neq; in conuiuium adhibetur, nisi propinquorũ, nec sedet, nisi in interiore parte ædium, quæ Gynæconitis appellatur. hæc autem ἀπὸ τοῦ οἴκου deducuntur, quod significat habito, unde οἶκος domus dicitur. à quo œconomus administrator rei familiaris, & œconomica, quæ ad rem domesticam, ac familiarem pertinent. & œconomia administratio rei domesticæ, & œconomus uillicus, & œconomo uillicor. & οἰκονῶ, quod significat administro, à quo διοίκησις, hoc est Diœcesis, administratio dicta. hinc pontificũ Diœceses dicuntur, in quas administrandi officium suum liberam habent potestatem. propter quod à quibusdam nouo quidem, sed non inepto uocabulo Diœcesani uocantur. Oecumenicus autẽ uniuersalis dicitur, & ad totum orbem pertinens, unde Oecumenicum concilium dicimus. nam Græci οἰκουμένην orbem terrarum appellant. Et à ξένος, quod significat hospes, hospitalia ipsa xenodochia dicuntur, quasi hospitum receptacula. Item ab eodem proxeneta deducitur, quod proprie significat eum, qui inter aliquos est conciliator, & medius, ut qui in uendendo aliquid, aut emendo medius est. Item Xenodotus nomẽ proprium. fuit hoc nomine excellens apud Græcos historicus, patria Trœzenus. & Xenocrates uir Calcedonius Agathonis filius, Platonis auditor, qui in Academia Speusippo successit, scholam tenuit uigintiquinq; annis, obijt secundo & octogesimo ætatis suæ anno, cum forte in sartaginem offendisset. et Xenophanes uir Colophonius (ut Apollodorus refert) Octomenis filius, qui cum esset uiginti annorum, patria pulsus fuit, scripsit elegias contra Hesiodũ, & Homerũ. Fuit & alter Xenophanes Lesbius poëta, Iãbici carminis scriptor. Xenophon philosophus, & dux insignis patria Atheniẽsis, Grilli filius, Socratis discipulus, Platonis æmulus, qui omnium philosophorũ scripsit historiam, & exultimis Babyloniæ finibus exercitum asperis itineribus in patriã reduxit. Septem fuisse Xenophontes leguntur. Primus & secundus Athenienses philosophi: tertius Cous: quartus qui Annibalis historiam scripsit: quintus qui prodigiosa quædam, & fabulosa commentus est: sextus Pæphius sculptor egregius: septimus antiquæ eomœdiæ scriptor. Græcorum ædes præter hæc, quæ diximus, etiam hospitalia habent, hoc est domunculas quasdam dextra, ac sinistra constitutas, quæ proprias ianuas, triclinia, & cubicula habent. Item cum penu cællas. Mos enim Græcorum erat primo die ad cœnam hospites inuitare, postero mittebant pullos, oua, olera, poma, reliquasq; res agrestes. Ideo pictores ea, quæ mittebantur hospitibus, picturа imitantes, xenia appellauerunt. nam ξένος græce hospes uocatur. Hinc Martialis tertium decimum librum operis sui, in quo eiusmodi munera distichis describit, xenia nominauit, quod uersus ipsos pro xenijs mitteret. Hinc per diminutionem xeniola dicuntur. Apuleius: Commodum meridies accesserat, & mittit mihi xeniola porcum optimum, & quinque gallinulas, & uini cadum iam ætate preciosi. Omnis in hoc gracili xeniorum turba libello, Constabit nummis quatuor empta tibi. Quatuor est nimium, poterit constare duobus. Et faciet lucrum bibliopola Triphon. Hæc licet hospitibus pro munere disticha mittas, Si tibi tam rarus, quàm mihi, nummus erit. Inter hospitalia, et porticus, siue peri stylia ædium itinera sunt, quæ mesauli, hoc est, μεσαυλοι dicuntur à græcis, quod inter duas aulas, hoc est inter duo atria sint interposita. nostri andronas appellant, nec à græco, nec latino uocabulo. Græci enim ἀνδρῶνας uocãt loca, in quibus bina triclinia ponuntur, & uirilia conuiuia fiunt, quod in his mulieres non interessent. post hæc in ædibus sunt horti. horũ alij in solo sunt, alij pensiles, hoc est supra ædificia constituti: quales à te Federice princeps supra regiæ tuæ amplissima præsepia ædificati sunt, tanto artificio, decore, sumptu, ut stuporẽ potius, quàm admirationem spectantibus afferant. In inferioribus hortis diætæ sunt modo paruæ, modo maiusculæ, in quibus etiam cubicula fiunt: sunt stibadia, hoc est paruæ cœnationes in quibus scriptum esse solebat, quot conuiuas cœnatio caperet. Martialis: Stibadium. Accipe lunata scriptum testudine signũ, Octo capit, ueniat quisquis amicus erit. Plinius: In capite stibadiũ candido marmore uite protegitur. Fiebant etiam stibadia è tabulis, quæ ebore, atq; auro ornabantur, transferebanturq́; de loco ad locum, prout libido animi ferebat. de hoc locutus est Martialis, cum inquit: Et testudineum mensus quater hexaclinon, Ingemuit atrio nõ satis esse suo. Hexaclinũ uocãt stibadium sex capiens conuiuas. Sunt Hippodromi, hoc est loca ad cursus equornm disposita, quæ statim intrantium oculis tota simul offerũtur, hinc, atq; hinc platanos, aut buxos, aut cupressos, aut alias arbores perpetuo uirenteis habentia, & à cursu equorum appellata. Græci enim ἵππον equum uocant, δρόμον cursum. Sunt xysti, hoc est loca exercitationi corporis accommodata, quas Græci παροδρομίδας uocant, à Latinis etiam ambulationes dicũtur. Plinius: Ante cryptoporticum xystus est uiolis odoratus. Cice. Sed tamen nihil ei restabat, præter balnearia, & ambulationem, & auiarium. Idem: Qua basis uillæ erat, qua inter columnia ambulationis. ambulacra etiam appellantur. Plinius: Tum fora, atque Gymnasia, & pro suis extructa porticibus ambulacra miremur. Græci tamen xystum uocant porticum ampla latitudine, in qua athletæ per hyberna tempora exercentur. Xenophon ἐν τῷ ξυστῷ περιπατεῖν, à quo xystici dicuntur athletæ in xystis pugnantes. Suetonius: Nec tamen eo minus aut xysticorum certationes, aut gladiatorum pugnas seuerissime semper exegit. significat enim ξυστὸς spiculum, hastam, telum. Item adiectiuum est, & dicitur ornatus, tersus, politus. Et sedilia in hortis uarijs locis disposita sunt, quæ ambulatione fessos, ut cubiculum ipsum iuuant, à sedendo sedilia appellata. hæc maxima in hippodromo, xystoq́; cõstituuntur. Sunt præterea in hortis topiaria, hoc est opera ex arboribus, aut fruticibus, aut herbis facta ad decorem, ut sunt testudines, cameræ, naues, columnæ, auiculæ, aliaq́; huiusmodi, quæ ex sansuco, libanotide, edera, buxo, alijs herbis, atq; arboribus fieri conspicimus, dicta ἀπὸ τῶν τόπων, hoc est à locis, quæ in his uaria constituuntur. Cicero: Topiarium laudaui, ita omnia conuestiuit edera. Plinius: Accidit in topiario opere lauri genus, quæ taxa dicitur excrescente in medio folio paruula ueluti lacinia. Idẽ: Ramos spargit à radice topiarij, ac coronarij operis. hinc topiarij dicũtur, qui topiaria faciũt, sicut coronarij, qui faciũt coronas. Idem: Satiuæ myrti genera topiarij faciunt. Tarentinam folio minuto, nostratem patulo. exoticam densissimo senis foliorum uersibus. item ars ipsa faciẽdi huiusmodi operis topiaria uocatur. Cicero: Vt deniq; illi topiariam facere uideantur, & ederam uendere. Extra urbem uero ager est, dictus, ut Varro existimat, quod in eo aliquid agatur, quamuis aliqui à græco potius deriuatum uelint, quod est ἀγρός. Est autem ager modo territorium, quod urbi circumpositum est, ut ager Romanus, ager Leontinus: modo locus in rure, quẽ colimus, siue arando, siue cõserẽdo, & is qui seritur frumentis, ab arando dicitur aruum. Primus ager plurali caret, dum tantum loquimur de singularium urbiũ territorijs, & complectitur nemora, saltus, pascua, monteis, lacus, flumina, cæteraq́; huiusmodi. Quod si dicamus Romanos agros, Cãpanos, Leontinos, priuatim ciuium agros intelligimus, in quibus hæc includuntur. Si uero Romanũ, Campanũ, ac Leontinũ agros, prorsus territoria significamus, ideoq́; omnia illa cõplectimur. Ab agro fit agricola, hoc est cultor agrorum, & agrestis, qui syluestrem uitam agit, ac feram, sicut apud Græcos ἄγριος dicitur ferus. unde in cõpositione onager dictus est asinus ferus, de quo alibi dicemus. Item agreste, quod ad agrum attinet, unde agreste uocamus, quod in agris, non in hortis nascitur, aut fit, sicut campestre, quod in campis, ut agreste olus, agreste opus, & similia, & agricultor, qui agrum colit. & à colendo etiam colonus dicitur. & peragro, quod est inquirendo circumeo. Virgilius: Illa fuga syluas, saltusq́; peragrat: à quo fit peregrinus, id est aduena, & aliena loca peragrans, & peregrinatio itio per alienas terras. & peregrinor uerbum, quod est per aliena loca proficiscor. unde peregrina sacra dicta sunt, quæ ex alijs urbibus religionis gratia sunt aduecta. & peregre aduerbium, hoc est peregrinando. Terentius: Peregre profectus. In hoc enim differt peregrinus ab hospite, quod peregrinus simpliciter eum significat, qui in sua ciuitate non est: hospes uero eum, qui in aliena ciuitate est. Hospites ergo uocantur, qui siue in priuato, siue in publico hospitio sunt, & tã qui recipiunt, quàm qui recipiuntur. Ouidius: Non hospes ab hospite tutus. Cicero: Per dextram istam, quam hospes hospiti porrexisti. Sed proprie hospes dicitur, qui priuatim, & amicitiæ causa uel recipit, uel recipitur, unde & pro amico externo capitur, & hospitiũ pro amicitia. idem: Fuit mihi cum illo uetus hospitium, hoc est amicitia, uel familiaritas, uel me hospitante apud illum, uel illo apud me contracta. Hospitium etiam diuersorium significat. Idem: Ex hac uita discedo, tanquã ex hospitio, non tanquam ex domo. Commorandi enim natura diuersorium, non habitandi dedit. Ab hospes deriuatur hospitor, quod est stabulor, diuerto. & hospitium, de quo diximus. & hospitale, hospitiũ, domus, de qua superius diximus. & hospitalis adiectiuum, quod modo significat liberalem, & facile suscipientem. hospitio, aptumq́; ad seruiendum hospiti. modo ad hospitem pertinentem, ut hospitalis lex. & hospitalitas, ipsa facilitas, & (ut ita dicã) benignitas in recipiendo: & hospitaliter aduerbium, benigne, faciliter. & hospita, quæ facile suscipiunt, unde hospitam terram dicimus, in qua facile suscipimur, & hospita æquora, siue hospita flumina, per quæ nauigari, aut transiri potest. Virgilius: Puppibus illa prius patulis nunc hospita plaustris. Aliquando etiam hospita pro eo, quod est uicina accipimus, quia nihil nobis hospitio uicinius esse potest. Inter agrum, fundum, aruum, prædium, & possessionem hanc esse differentiam tradunt. Ager est (ut diximus) locus in rure, quem colimus. Aruum ea pars agri, quæ sementi datur. Sallustius: Quia Numidæ pabulo pecoris magis, quàm aruo student. Quintilianus: Pauper & diues in agro uicini erant iunctis hortulis, sed ex omni parte circumuectus diuitis ager, uix tenuem ad gressus meos semitam dabat. Quid agimus? Vndique uallo diuitiarum clausi sumus: Hinc horti locupletis, hinc arua, inde uineta, hinc saltus. Ab aruo aruales fratres dicti sacerdotes, quos Romulus primus instituit, seq́; inter illos duodecimum fratrem appellauit, ut arua fruges ferrent, eisq́; sacerdotio Acca Larentia, quæ postea populũ Romanum hæredem instituit, Romuli nutrix, tribuit albas infulas, & spiceam coronam pro religiosissimo in-

signi, quæ prima apud Romanos corona fuit, & hic honor nõ nisi uita finitur, exulesq́;, & captos comitatur. Fundus etiam pars agri est. Singula enim prata, singulæ uineæ, singuli horti, singula olíueta, pomaria, arbusta, pascua, salicta, nemora aucupatoria, uenatoria, piscatoria loca, siue uillam, atq; ædificium, siue piscinam, siue uiuaria habeant, siue non habeant, singuli fundi sunt, & hoc in agro duntaxat. Nam in urbe, oppido, uico, castello quicquid tale est, prædium dicitur, à præstando, sicut prædes (ut Varro uult) ut alij, à prius dando, siue ualde dando. Sunt tamen prædia etiam in agro. Itaque definire possumus fundum esse rusticam possessionem: prædium uero & rusticam, & urbanam. unde anteurbana prædia uocabantur, quæ urbi erant propinqua. Possessiones generale nomen est. nam & tabernæ, & hospitia, & horrea in urbe possessiones dicuntur, & simpliciter omnia bona, quæ uulgo uocantur immobilia. Cicero: Possessiones notabat & urbanas, & rusticas. Idem: Etenim isti callidi æstimatores prata, & agros magis æstimant, quod ei generi possessionum minime noceri potest. Dicitur tamen etiam possessio, non ipsa proprietas, sed usus, & actio possidendi. Modestinus: Quicquid enim apprehendimus, cuius proprietas ad nos non pertinet, aut nec potest pertinere, hoc possessionem appellamus. Fundum à funda dictum quidam existimant. Vnde extant ridiculi uersus Ciceronis: Fundum uero uocat, quò possit mittere funda, Ni lapis exciderit qua caua funda patet. Alij à fundo, quod est ima pars uniuscuiusque rei, quod scilicet fundus sit ac fundamentum pecudum, atque pecuniæ, uel quod fundit quotquot annis multa, uel quod sit planus ad similitudinem fundi uasorum. Campus obiter est planicies terræ ampla, & grandis, ideoq́; speciosæ plateæ, siue areæ campi uocitantur, ut Romæ campus Martius. diciturq́; à capiendo, quod animalium, seu rerum multitudinem facile capiat, siue quod ueteres principio ex agro tantum plano fructus capiebant. Collis est exiguus monticulus, siue per se sit à monte separatus, siue pars montis ita uocatus, quia colles post campos cœperunt colere. Ab hoc Collatina dea, quæ collibus præest. Hinc urbs Roma septicollis dicta, quod septem habeat colleis, Palatinum, Quirinalem, Auentinum, Cœlium, Viminalem, Exquilinum, & Ianicularem. Iugũ ipsum montis procliuitas, & (ut ita dicã) prona supinitas, qualis est in colle cliuus: quamuis cliuus ponatur etiam pro colle minore, uelut cliuus Capitolinus, cliuus qui ducit ad Ianiculum, quos in urbe scimus colleis esse, propter quod dicitur septicollis, & apud ueteres festa quædam fiebant septimontialia. Liuius: Quantum in altitudinem egrediebantur magis, magisq́; syluestria, & pleraque inuia loca excipiebant, ut uero iugis appropinquabant, quod rarum in alijs esset, adeo omnia contenta nebula, ut haud secus, quàm nocturno itinere impedirentur. Dictus autem cliuus à clino, quod est inclino, & iugum à iungendo, quod iungatur, & in acutum arctetur. Ab hoc Iugantinus deus, qui præest iugis. & iugosum dicitur, quod in iugum acuitur. & decliuis inclinatus, atque incuruus. & accliuis, erectus, & in cliuum acuminatus. à quo accliuitas. Cæsar: Ab eo flumine pari accliuitate collis nascebatur. Item cliuium ueteres difficile dicebant. Vnde cliuia auspicia uocabantur, quæ aliquid fieri prohibebant. Monteis definiunt esse terrarum tumores altissimos. Diminutiuum montis est monticulus, hoc est paruus mons. sicut colliculus paruus collis, cum per duplex ll scribitur. Nam si per simplex l scribatur colis, significat exiguum, ac tenerum brassicæ caulem. Diuiditur autem mons in radices, latera, iugum, uerticem pro qualitate locorũ. Interdumq́; mons pro saxo ponitur. Virgil. Prensantemq́; uncis manibus capita aspera montis, Ferro inuasisset. Sicut aliquando saxum pro monte. Idem: Saxi de uertice pastor.

à monte deriuatur montanus, ut montani imbres, montanæ nebulæ. & montosus, ut montosa regio, montosa loca. & montiuagus, qui per monteis uagatur, & montigena, qui in montibus genitus est, & septimontium locus septem monteis habens, unde septimontialia dicta. Ab eminendo quidam montem appellatum existimant, quasi eminentem, propter quod omne, quod eminet, dici mons potest. Virgilius: Præruptus aquæ mons. Promontorium quasi præeminens mons dictum. Significat enim montem in mari prominentem. Plinius: Promontoria aperiuntur mari, & rerum natura agitur in planum. Idem: Adiunctáque insula Eubœa, & excurrente uelut in altum promontorio Attica terra. Vallis dicitur id spatium concauum, quod est inter duos monteis, uel colleis, siue quascunque rupeis altiores, quod hinc, atque hinc uallata sit. Cuius diminutiuum est uallicula. A ualle Vallonia dea, quæ uallibus præest. Item conuallis, quæ nostra sententia est arcta uallis, & quasi coniuncta, quales sunt, quas metaphorice fauces appellamus, quamuis ab alijs dicatur esse planicies ex omni parte comprehensa montibus, uallibus'ue. Vnde conuallis appellatur scissio terræ manu facta ad deducendam aquam. Plinius: Flumina ad lauandam hanc materiam iugis montium duxere. Corrogos uocant à corriuatione. Præcepisse libramento oportet, ut fruaris quando influat. Itaque altissimis partibus dicitur conuallis, & interualla substructis canalibus iunguntur. Vallare firmare est, atque munire, & quasi uallum facere. à quo fit circunuallare. Vallum est munitio castrorum, quod ex uallis fiat. Vallus sudis est, siue palus, cui uitis alligatur. Virgilius: Et uallos primus sub tecta referto. Solebant autem milites sudeis secum gestare, quibus castra muniebant. Idem: Quadrifidasq́; sudeis, & acuto robore uallos. à uallo ueteres uallescit pro perierit dixere, quod qui uallo eijciuntur, pro perditis habentur. Item à uallus interuallum, hoc est spatium, quod inter palos est, uallum castrense constituentes, à quo omne spatium interuallum est nuncupatum. à uallum uero uallaris corona, qua donari solebat, qui primus uallum hostium fuisset ingressus. Vallus etiam per diminutionem fit ab eo, quod est uannus. Cereale hoc cribrum est, dictum (ut Varro putat) à uolatu, quod inde dum iactatur, leuia uolent. Virgili. Et mystica uannus Hiacchi. in hoc etiam ob capacitatem coloni frugum primitias congerere solebant, ut Libero sacrificarent. Ideo poëta mystica dixit. Quippe mysticum Græci dicunt omne id, quo in arcanis deorum sacris utimur, qualia erant Bacchi orgia, quæ noctu clàm à solis mulieribus celebrabantur. & mysteria arcana sacra appellabantur, hinc non sine mysterio fieri dicimus, quod occulta aliqua, quasi sacrorum ratione perficitur. à Vannus fit uerbum uanno. à quo euanno, quod est uentilo, moueo. Cuius passiuum est euannor, sicut uannor à uanno. Lucilius: Nunc molere illa, aut ut frumentum euannetur uis. Varro de re rustica: Vt quod leuissimum est in ea, atque appellatur acus, euannatur foras extra aream. Euadne Martis filia fuit ex Thebe uxore Asopi, uxor'que Capanei, quæ, cum maritum apud Thebas captum audiuisset, in mortis stuporem diriguit, deinde, cum funus eius celebraretur, se in rogum proiecit. Ouidius: Accipe me Capaneu, cineres miscebimus inquit. Rupes sunt præruptæ partes terræ propter altitudinem, ac procliuitatem inaccessæ. Hinc à rumpendo dictas existimãt, quales sunt, quæ ui torrentium fiunt. Vnde fluminum quoque altiores, atque inaccessas (ut ita dicam) ripas, rupeis appellamus. Nam ripæ planæ sunt, quas Vlpianus definit esse, quæ

ripariæ hirundines dictæ, quæ in ripis nidos faciunt. Num litus maris proprie dicitur, definiturq; à Celso quousque maxi-mus fluctus à mari peruenit, idq; M. Tullium aiunt primum constituisse, cum arbiter fuisset electus. Poëtæ litus aliquãdo capiunt pro terra mari uicina. Virgilius: Cui littus arandum.
Interdum etiam pro ripa litus usurpant. Est præterea litus locus circa aram pedes duodecim, à litando dictum, quam uis lito primam syllabam correptam habeat. A litore litoreum, & litorale deducitur, ut litorea arena, litoralis plaga. & à linendo dicitur litus, quod fluctibus oblinatur. Sylua proprie dicitur, quæ cædua est, hoc est, quæ habetur in eum usum, ut ex ea materia cædatur. Quod si succisa sit, nihilo minus sylua dicitur, quoniam rursus ex stirpibus, aut radicibus renascitur. Sylua à græco dicitur ὕλη, quod significat materiam.
Quapropter materia denotat omne lignum, cum tigna dican tur duntaxat ea materia, quæ ædificijs apta est. à quo con-tignatio deducitur, hoc est strues è lignis in domo habitandi gratia facta, unde superior contignatio, & inferior contigna tio dicitur. Hinc materiarius faber, hoc est lignarius dicitur.
& materiaria fabrica lignaria. & materiari lignari. Hinc etiam syluam uocant subitum illud scribendi genus, quod qua dam festinandi uoluptate defluit: estq; uelut prima materia. quales sunt Papinij syluæ, de quibus ipse sic scribit: An hos li bellos, qui mihi subito calore, & quadam festinandi uoluptate fluxerunt, cum singuli de sinu meo prodissent, congregatos ipse dimitterem? Quintilianus: Diuersum est huic eorum uitium, qui primo decurrere per materiam stilo quàm uelocissi-mo uolunt, & sequentes calorem, atque impetum ex tempore scribunt, hanc syluam uocant. Repetunt deinde, & cõponunt quæ effuderant, sed uerba emendantur, & numeri manet in rebus temere contextis, quæ fuit leuitas. Materiam quidã exi-stimant à matre dictam esse. est enim materia, ex qua aliquid fit, ut materia libri est membrana, & atramentum. Item materia libri, ipsa hypothesis. Horatius: Sumite materiã uestris, qui scribitis æquam Viribus. Materia domus, calx, cemẽta, ti gna, tegulæ. Quapropter non immerito materiæ appellatione ligna comprehenduntur, siue quod ex his diuersa ædificia fiant, seu quod Græci ὕλην pariter & syluam, & mate-riam uocent. Ab hoc fit materiale, quod materiæ est, & ma terialiter a uerbium. Materialiter enim sumi aliquid dicitur, cum non forma rei, sed materia significatur. A sylua sylue strem, & syluaticum dicimus incultum moribus, atq; asperũ.
& Syluanum syluarum deum, quem Græci Pana uocant. & sylueculam, ac syluulam paruam syluam. & syluicolam syluarum habitatorem. & Syluium, quod in sylua ortus fuerit.
Lucus nequaquam cæduus est, ut sylua, quin potius manu con situs, religiosusq;, ac alicui deo, uel alicuius hominis cineribus cõsecratus. ideoq; aut circa delubra deũm, aut circa sepulchra positus est, & à luce sacrificiorũ, lucus appellatus. Saltus sylua est non facile peruia, ideo à saltando dictus, in quo pasci & æstiuare pecudes solent, & si locus, atque aër patiatur, hyemare. A quo saltuarij huiusmodi syluarum custodes dicuntur, sicut insularij insularum custodes. Pomponius: Dominus proprietatis etiam inuito usi fructuario, fundum uero ædes per saltuarium, uel insularium custodire potest: Nemora uolu ptatis causa comparata sunt, & plena amœnitatis, dicta ἀπὸ τοῦ νέμω, pasco, quod in his greges, atq; armenta depasci soleant. à nemore nemorale dicitur, quod nemoris est, ut nemo-ralis umbra, nemorale frigus. Item Nemorensis. Sueton. Nemorensi regi, quod multos iam annos potiretur sacerdotio, uali diorẽ aduersariũ subornauit. Nemus appellabatur lucus qui-dam haud longe ab Aricia, in quo lacus est, quod speculum Dianæ dicitur. Item nemorensis lacus, & nemorensis ager, & nemorense, sicut Thusculanum, et Nemorensis rex, qui Dianæ Aricinæ sacrificijs præerat. Suetonius de Cæsare: Villam in Nemorensi à fundamentis inchoatã, magnoq; sumptu absolu-tam, quia non tota ad animum ei responderat, totam diruit.

Nunc eo in loco exiguum oppidum, quod incolæ ueteri loci ap pellatione nemus appellant. Quidam dumum à nemore non distinguunt. græce δρυμὸς, hoc est dumus dicitur. Hinc du-mosum frondosum dicimus, & dumetum locum nemoribus cõ situm, qui dusmosus locus à ueteribus dicebatur. Interserebãt enim frequenter S literam consmittere pro committere dicentes, & casmœnas prò camœnas. Prata sunt, ex quibus fœnum colligitur. Vnde pratum Vlpianus appellat, in quo ad fructum percipiendum falce duntaxat opus est, ex eo dictum, quod sponte suo paratum sit ad fructum faciendum: quapropter & fructus ipse fœnum uocatur à fœnore, quoniam idipsum manens quotannis nouum parit. A quo festuca appellatur, & à fœno fœnifex, qui fœnum secat, & fœnisecium sectio, et uoluti messis fœni, & fœnariæ falces, quæ apertæ sunt, sicut arboriæ, quæ non apertæ, & lumariæ, quibus lumeta, hoc est spinas secamus. Luma enim genus spinæ est, quæ in pratis nascitur, dicta, quod agricolæ eam è terra luunt, hoc est soluunt. A quo lumeta loca lumis plena. & scirpiculæ, qui bus in scirpandis, hoc est ligandis uineis utimur ad amputanda superflua ligamentorum. Scirpi fragiles, palustresq; sunt, nec in fruticum ueprium ue, aut caulium, siue herbarum gene re numerantur. ex his teguntur domus, & tegetes fiunt. Item detracto cortice candelarum luminibus, & funeribus seruire olim consueuerunt. his uelificant in Pado nautici, & in mari piscatores Afri præpostero more uela intra malos suspendentes. Mauri quoq; mappalia sua hoc genere tegunt. Hinc factũ est prouerbium: Nodum in scirpo quæris: de his, qui in rebus claris, atque apertis difficultatem faciunt. Ab hoc scirpo uer-bum deriuatur, quod est uincio, ligo. Hinc scirpita dicuntur do lia quassa, cum alligata sunt. Item scirpea, quæ uirgis scirpa-tur, hoc est colligando implicatur, in qua stercus, aliudue ali quid simile uehitur iumentis. Sunt etiã præliares falces, quibus Cæsar Venetos superauit. Sunt itẽ uineaticæ falces, quibus pu tantur uites, & syluaticæ, quibus syluæ cæduntur, & rustica riæ, quibus passim ad diuersa opera utuntur rustici. A falce falcarij dicuntur, qui falces gestant, hoc est messores, & falci feri falcem ferentes, & falcati currus falcibus instructi. Macrobius: Inducebat etiã currus cum falcibus, & elephãtos cum turribus. & falcariæ cotes, quibus falces acuũtur, siue illæ ole ariæ sunt, siue aquariæ. & falcatũ quodcunq; in falcis formã arcuatum est. Plinius: Falcatæ siliquæ sunt. & falcare, ac de falcare, quod significat tollere, amputare. & falcones quorum digiti pollices in pedibus intro sunt curuati ad similitudinem falcis. A quo & falcones aues ex accipitrum genere appellatæ, inter quas præstant ij, quos Græci ἱεροκάκους, hoc est, sacros uocant. Apud Thuscos ueteres falco, capis uocabatur, un de Capuam urbem Campaniæ à se conditam Capuam uocita-uere, quod ui o falconis augurio, eam condidissent. Sunt item qui uelint eam à locis campestribus, in quibus sita est, appella-tam. Ab hac ea regio Campania dicta est, à qua Campani, nisi malimus Campaniam quoq;, quod campestris regio sit à campis uocitatam. & Falcidia lex, quæ falcat, hoc est amputat legata, quando saltem quarta pars bonorum non superfit hæ redibus. Ea est huiusmodi: Quicunq; ciuis Romanus post hãc legem rogatam testamentũ faciet, quantam cuiq; Romano pe cuniam iure publico dare, legare ue uolet, ius, potestasq; est, dum ita

dum, ita detur legatum, ne minus, quàm quartam partem hæ reditatis eo testamento hæredes capiant: eis, quibus ita datum, legatum ue erit, eam pecuniam sine fraude sua capere licet, isq; hæres, qui eam pecuniam capere iussus, damnatusq; erit, eam pecuniam iam debeto dare, quam damnatus est. Falcem à farre dictam supra demonstrauimus. In Campania à se cando secula appellatur. A prato fit pratense, quod prati est, ut pratensis herba, pratenses fungi. Hortus est siue in urbibus atque oppidis, siue in uillis, ruriq; locus, in quo arbores, & olera oriuntur. Apud ueteres omnis uilla hortus dicebatur, qđ ibi, qui arma capere possent, orirentur. Ea autem ratione à quibusdam aspiratur, ut differat ab ortus, quando natum, siue natiuitatem significat. Quidã ita distingunt, ut hortus tam in singulari, quàm in plurali hortum olitorium, hoc est herba rium significet, cuius diminutiuum est hortulus. In plurali uero duntaxat arborarium, qui à nostris pomarium, à Græ-cis παράδεισος, hoc est paradisus uocatur. Olitor est qui olerum hortum exercet. Olus enim dicitur omnis herba folijs mtubo similis, cuius folijs & caule in edulium utimur. Inde horti olitorij dicuntur, horti herbarum, & hostia olitoria, ho stia hortorum huiusmodi. Plinius: Est lactucæ genus adeo lati caulis, ut hostiola olitoria ex his factitari prodiderint.
Theophrastus: Olera enim uocamus, quæ in usu cibario sunt, ut intubum, aphaca, porcellia, senecio, atque in totum quæ-cunq; intubacea sunt propter foliorum similitudinem. Plini.
Gemma betis natura, & oleris, & capite ipso exilientis. Idem: Vsus betis & cum lente, ac faba, idemq; qui oleris. Idẽ: Olus caules que, quibus nunc principatus hortorum apud Græcos in honore fuisse non reperio. Villa non ager est, sed domus in agro. Plinius: Modus hic probatur, ut neq; fundus uillã quæ rat, neque uilla fundum. Non ut fecerunt iuxta diuersum eadem ætate exemplum L. Lucullus, & Quin. Scæuola, cum uilla Scæuolæ fundus careret, uilla Luculli agro. Hinc domus, quæ in urbe est, urbana domus dicitur. Villa uero, hoc est domus, quæ ruri est, domus rustica, quæ Pœnorũ lingua Ma gar appellatur, unde uillæ magalia dicuntur. Mapalia uero eadem Punica lingua agrestes casæ, & furnorum similes ap-pellantur. Virgilius: Et raris habitata mapalia tectis. Dicta autem uilla est à uehendo, hoc est trahendo, quasi uehilla, quod in eam fructus conuehebant ex agris, & euehebant, cum eos uendebant, sicut uia, quod per eam uehebant, pro-pter quod à principio uocabant uheam, non uiam, & uel-lam, non uillam: & qui uecturis uiuebant, uellaturam face-re dicebantur. Quidam tamen uiam quasi iam dictam existimant, quod per eam itur, ut supra diximus. A uilla fit uillula diminutiuum, hoc est parua uilla. Item uillicus, & uillica, quæ uillæ præsunt. & uillicari, quod modo est rusticari. Pom ponius: Ego rus eo, ut aliquot diebus uillicer. modo uillæ præ-esse. Idem: Longe ab urbe uillicari, quò herus rarenter uenit, non uillicari, sed dominari mea est sententia. A quo uillicatio ipsa (ut ita dicam) negotia rustica, & uillaticum, quod uillæ est, unde uillaticæ pastiones dicuntur alimenta, quæ pertinent ad animalia muta, quæ ruri nutriuntur, utputa, ad pecudes, aues, feras, pisces. Apuleius: Modesto uero hospiti quies uilla tica, omniq; deniq; prouinciæ uoluptarij secessus sumus. & uil-lanus, qui in uilla habitat, sicut paganus, qui in pago, unde semiuillanus, & semipaganus dicuntur, hoc est semirusticus: Persi. Ipse semipaganus Ad sacra uatũ carmen offero nostrũ.
Sunt qui uile quoque à uilla dictum uelint una litera abiecta, quod omnia in uilla uiliora sint, hoc est minori precio uendan-tur, quàm in urbe. Vile enim proprie dicitur, quod parum ualet, cuius contrarium est carum. L. Piso Romulum dicũt ad cœnam uocatum, ibi non multum bibisse, quia postridie nego tium haberet. ei dicunt Romule, si istuc omnes homines faciãt, uinum uilius sit. Is respondit immo uero carum, si quantum quisq; uolet, bibat: nam ego bibi quantum uolui. Hinc uile eti-am pro abundanti ponitur, quia quicquid nimis abundat, ui-le est, hoc est paruo uenditur precio. Virgilius: Vilemq; faſellum. Ab hoc fit uilitas, & uilito, quod est uile facio, & uile-sco uile fio, & uiliter aduerbium, hoc est exiguo precio, & quasi cum contemptu. Rus locus dicitur extra urbem ubi agri sunt, & uillæ, dictum, quòd in agris quotquot annis rursus eadem fiant, ut rursus capias fructum. Hinc ruro fit, & ruror, & rusticor eiusdem significationis, hoc est ruri dego. Plaut.

Dum rurant homines, quos liguriant: Varro: Dum in agro studiosius ruror. Plinius: Cum simul æstate rusticaremur. et ru sticus, qui modo ruris est, ut domus rustica: modo uita, et moribus incultus, quasi semibarbarus. Vnde ueteres rustice pro barbarè usurpabant, & rusticanus adiectiuum. A quo aduerbium rusticane. Item rusticatim pro rustice. Pomponius: Ego rustica: im tangam, urbanatim nescio. & rusticitas cõtra ria urbanitati. Est autem urbanitas, qua significamus propria um quendam, ut supra diximus, gestum urbis, & sumptam ex conuersatione doctorum tacitam eruditionem. & rustica uinalia, quæ quartodecimo Calendarum Septembris celebra-bantur, quo die primum in urbem uinum deferebant. & rusticula auis perdici similis, nisi quod rostrum longius habet.
Martialis: Rustica sum perdix, quid refert si sapor idem? Carior est perdix, sic sapit illa magis. & rurigena, qui ruri gigni tur, & ruricola, qui rus colit, & ruresiris, idem quod rusticus: Apuleius: Ruresiri uocabulo uulgus indoctũ rosas Lau-reas appellat. & rusci uirgulta, quibus uites ligantur. Virgilius: Nec non etiam aspera rusci Vimina per syluam. Frutex est, ex quo nunc scopæ fiunt. Graeci χαμαιμυρσίνην, καὶ ὀξυμυρσίνην nominant, hoc est humilem myrtum, & acutam myrtum: folia quippe myrto similia, sed acutiora & rigidiora habet, producitq; bacas rufas ad cerasiorum similitudinem.
Item ruspor, quod est diligenter scrutor, & quasi rus quoque perquiro. Accius: Vacantes ruspantur syluas. proprie autem ruspantur gallinæ, hoc est scalpunt. Ab hoc fit compositũ cor ruspor, quod significat examino, inquiro. Plautus: Corruspa re tua consilia in pectore. Agrorum diuersæ species sunt. est ager cultus à colendo dictus, siue (ut Varro sentit) ager, quod ibi cum terra semina coalescant, & incultus. Item ager consi-tus, in quo satæ arbores sunt & inconsitus, ubi non sunt arbores. Ager restibilis qui restituitur, ac reseritur quotãnis. Pli-nius: Ordeum in nouali, & in agro, quod restibile possit fieri. Idem: Vbertatis tamen tantæ sunt, ut sequente anno spon-te restibilis fiat seges impressis uestigio seminibus. Columella: Pastinum uocant agricolæ ferramentum bifurcum, quo semina panguntur. Vnde etiam repastinari dictæ sunt uineæ ue teres, quæ resodiebantur, hæc enim propria appellatio restibi lis uineis erat. Nunc antiquitatis imprudens consuetudo quicquid emoti soli uineis præparatur, repastinatium uocat, & ab hoc repastinatio dicta. Ager noualis è contrario, qui inter mittitur, ut nouetur. Noualis, inquit Paulus, est terra proscis sa, quæ anno cessat. & Plinius: Nouale inquit, est quod alter nis seritur. Virgilius: Alternis idem tonsas cessare noualeis, & segnem patiere situ durescere campum. Hinc & nouatus ager dicitur. Cicero: Vt agro non semel subacto, sed nouato Accipitur tamen etiam nouale, siue noualis ager, seu noualis proſciſſus. Virgilius: Impius hæc tam culta noualia miles habebit? Ager aruus dicitur qui aratur. Agri enim apud ueteres Romanos binorum duntaxat iugerum erant, nullúq; maiorem modum Romulus tribuit. Iugerum uocabatur, quod uno iugo boum in die exarari potuiſſet. Actus, in quo boues agerentur, cum aratur, uno impetu iuſto. hic erat centumuiginti pedum, duplicatus'q; in longitudinem iugerum faciebat. In domo ruſtica eædem ferè partes eſſe poſſunt, quæ in urbana, ſed in ruſtica loco atrij cors eſt. Sunt autem cortes uillarum intra maceriam ſpatia. Eſt etiam in domo ruſtica ædificium propè aream ex una parte apertum, in quod nubilo tempore reponi tota meſſis poteſt, dum tritura inſtat, quod ex ea parte feneſtras habet, unde commodiſſime perflari poſſit, id à nubibus nubilariũ appellatur. STAGNA NERONIS. Habuit Nero (ut ſupra diximus) in domo ſua ſtagnum maris in ſtar circunſeptum ædificij ad urbium ſpeciem. ERANT. Sum es eſt uerbum eſt ſubſtantiuum ita dictum, quia per ſe ſubſtat, nec indiget alio, in ipſum uero cætera uerba reſoluuntur, ut ego lego, id eſt ego ſum, qui lego: tu dicebas, id eſt tu es, qui dicebas: ille intelliget, hoc eſt ille eſt, qui intelliget. & in hunc modum cætera, propter quod huiuſmodi uerbũ ſæpenumero præpoſitis pronominibus demonſtratiuis, non poſitum intelligitur. Virgil. Hic Cæſar, & omnis Iulia progenies. Idem: Tu ne ille Aeneas, quem Dardanio Anchiſæ? Idem: Nam Polydorus ego. Sæpe etiam demõſtratiuis aduerbijs poſitis nõ eſt neceſſe huiuſmodi uerbũ ponere. Idem: Ecce tibi Auſoniæ tellus. Item nomine ſubſtantiæ poſitum idem uerbum frequẽtiſſime deficit. Lucanus: Quis furor ò ciues, quæ tanta licentia ferri? Virgilius: Quis tibi tunc Dido cernenti talia ſenſus? Quos'ue dabas gemitus. Qualis quoq;, & quantus, ſi addantur in oratione, deſunt aliquando uerba ſubſtantiua. Iuuenal. ò qualis facies, & quali digna tabella. Copulat autem ſubſtãtiuum uerbum aliquando ſimiles caſus. Virgi. Rex erat Aeneas nobis. Aliquãdo genitiuo adiungitur. Idem: Grates perſoluere dignas Non opis eſt noſtræ. Nonnunquã datiuo. Idem: Sunt mihi bis ſeptem præſtanti corpore nymphæ. Interdũ ablatiuo, uel accuſatiuo cum præpoſitione in, uel ſub, uel apud, uel alia huiuſmodi, ut ius eſt in armis. Omnes ſub cœlo ſumus. Non eſt hoc apud Perſas, non penes Aegyptios. Prætor cum hæc agerentur, pro tribunali erat. Aliquando etiam ablatiuo ſine præpoſitione, ut magno animo ſum. Plerunq; duobus datiuis, ut ſum tibi impedimento, hoc mihi curæ erit. Sæpe etiam aduerbio. Virgilius: Hic illius arma, Hic currus fuit. Itẽ infinitiuo alterius uerbi, ut animi fortitudo eſt aduerſa cõtemnere. Interdum nullum poſt ſe caſum habet, ut quæ ſunt, quæ fuerint, quæ mox uentura trahantur. Ab huius uerbi infinitiuo, quod eſt eſſe, fit eſſentia, quæ idem, quod eſſe ſignificat, quando eſſe nominaliter accipitur, quale apud Perſium: Et noſtrum illud uiuere triſte. & alibi: Velle ſuum cuique eſt, nec uoto uiuitur uno. item alibi: Vſq; adeo'ne Scire tuum nihil eſt, niſi te ſcire hoc ſciat alter. Quod genus loquendi apud Græcos frequentiſſimum eſt, qui infinitiuo tanquam nomini apponunt articulum, & præpoſitionem, infinitiua non planè uerba, ſed uerborum nomina eſſe dicentes. Vt ergo uelle ipſum idem eſt, quod uoluntas, & ſcire ipſum, quod ſcientia, & poſſe ipſum, quod potentia: & uiuere ipſum, quod uita: ita ipſum eſſe, quod eſſentia. à quo eſſentiale dicimus, quod ipſius eſſentiæ eſt, & eſſentialiter aduerbium, quo nonnulli utuntur ſecundum eſſentiam. Aurelius: Sicut enim ab eo, quod eſt ſapere, uocatur ſapientia: ſic ab eo, quod eſt eſſe, uocatur eſſentia nouo quidem nomine, quo uſi ueteres non ſunt Latini ſermonis autores, ſed iam noſtris temporibus uſitato, ne deeſſet etiam linguæ noſtræ, quod Græci appellant οὐσίαν. hoc enim uerbum è uerbo expreſſum eſt, ut diceretur eſſentia. Item ab eodem ens, & entia deducuntur. Præterea compoſita fiunt aſſum, quod non ſignificat præſens ſum, ut quidam putant, ſed propè ſum. Propter quod Virgilius, cum præſentem ſignificare uellet, addidit coràm, libro primo Aeneidos: Coràm quem quæritis aſſum Troius Aeneas. Hinc ueteres aſſas uocabant nutrices, quod aſſint ijs, quos nutriunt, nec ab eis uel exiguo tempore diuellantur. & aſſeclæ ſerui, quod omnibus dominorum imperijs aſſint, hoc eſt præſtò ſint. Huius contrarium eſt abſum, hoc eſt longe ſum, quod ex ipſa componentium præpoſitionum ſignificatione percipitur. Ad enim propè ſignificat. Vnde admouere dicimus aliquid propius facere. Ab uero longe. Vnde ammouere aliquid longius facere. Declarat præterea hoc Cicero: Inter hominem, & belluam hoc maxime intereſt, quod hæc tantum, quantum ſenſu mouetur, ad id ſolum, quod adeſt, quodq; præſens eſt, ſe accommodat. Quod adeſt, inquit, hoc eſt quod propè eſt. Alioquin non addiſſet, quod præſens eſt. hoc idem ipſe Cicero declarat mox ſubiungens: Paululum admodum ſentiens præteritũ, aut futurum, id eſt ſentiens tantum quod adeſt, hoc eſt, quod mox abijt, uel mox futurum eſt. Aſſum per duplex ſſ & non per d ſcribi debere declarat Plautus: Nilphio aſſum apud te, eccum. Agoraſtocles: At ego elixus ſis uolo. Perſum, ualde ſum. Gell. Platoni & Socrati perfuit familiaris. Exum, extra ſum. Sic enim lictor in quibuſdam ſacris clamitare ſolebat: hoſtis uictus, mulier uirgo exeſto, hoc eſt non introito, quia ſcilicet ingredi ea ſacra prohibebantur. interſum, præſens ſum, & quaſi in re ſum. ex in enim, & re, & ſum componitur, ut ſupra diximus. Obſum, quod eſt noceo, quaſi contra, & aduerſus te ſum, cuius contrarij eſt proſum, hoc eſt iuuo, quaſi pro te ſum. Veteres aliquando pro oberit obeſſet ſcripſere, aliquando etiam pro eo, quod eſt aderit. Præſum, uel ante alios ſum, ut homo cæteris animantibus præeſt, hoc eſt ſuperat, antecedit: uel præfectus ſum. Cicero: Hi, qui portui faciendo præerãt, ab eo ſubornati fuere. Ab hoc fit præſens, quod ſignificat non eũ, qui præfectus eſt, ſed qui coràm, hoc eſt ante nos, & in conſpectu noſtro eſt. A quo præſento uerbum, quod eſt offero, & in medium adduco, & repræſento, hoc eſt rurſus præſento, interdum & in mentem reuoco. & præſentia ipſa (ut ita dicam) interuentio. & duo aduerbia impræſentia, & impræſentiarum, quæ ſignificant præſenti tempore, hoc eſt, quod uel præſens eſt, uel præſens fuit, uel præſens erit, ut impræſentia diſputandum non eſt. & cum à Cicerone quæretur, quid eſſet uirtus, Reſpondit non eſſe impræſentia de uirtutis nomine diſceptandum. Et, ſi quis difficultatis aliquid obiecerit, differendum tibi in poſterum diem erit potius, quàm impræſentia reſpondendum. Item præſens eodem modo accipitur, hoc eſt non tantum ſignificat, quod huius temporis eſt, ſed etiam alterius, aut præteriti, aut futuri. Cicero: Ego incolumitati ciuium primum, & poſtea dignitati, ille præſenti potius, quàm futuræ dignitati conſulebat. De mortuo loquitur. Ergo non nunc præſenti, ſed tunc. Horatius: Pleraque differat, & præſens in tempus omittat, hoc eſt in ſuum tempus. Capitur tamen aliquando impræſens pro impræſentiarum. Idem: Lætus impræſens animus; quod ultra eſt, Oderit curare, & amara lento temperet riſu. nihil eſt ab omni parte beatum. Præſens quoque pro ſubito capitur, & non dilato in alterum tempus. Virgilius: Præſentem'que uiris intentant omnia mortem. Iuuenalis: Pœna tamen præſens. & præſens ultio, unde præſentaneum uenenum, & præſentiſſimum dicimus, quod mis, quod ſtatim occidit, uel liberat. Et quoniam ea, quæ præſentem uim, atque effectum habent præſtantiora, ac potentiora cæteris uidentur, ideo præſens accipere ſolemus pro efficaci, fortis, potens, ut præſens uirtus, id eſt potens. Virgilius: Nunc ſi cui uirtus, animusq; in pectore præſens. Hinc præſens etiam pro propitio accipitur. Idem: Et uos agreſtũ præſentia numina Fauni. In rem præſentem non tempus, ſed locum ſignificat, quaſi in locum differentiæ. Cicero: Vt ſi conſtitueris cuipiã te in rem præſentem eſſe uenturum, id eſt ad locum, de quo controuerſia eſt. Liuius: Reſpõderi legatis utriuſq; partis placuit miſſuros ſe in Africam, qui inter populum Carthaginenſem, & regem in re præſenti diſceptarent. Idem: Eodem anno inter populum Carthaginenſem, & regem Maſiniſſam in rem præſentem diſceptatores Romani de agro fuerunt. Valerius Quintus Labeo arbiter à Senatu finium conſtituendorũ inter Nolanos, & Neapolitanos datus, cum in rem præſentem ueniſſet, tũ utroſq; nominatim monuit. Veteres præſente pro præſentibus dixerunt. Pomponius: Qui id apud forum præſente teſtibus mihi uendidit. Nouius: Dona pulchro donare uolumus præſente omnibus. præſum, & præſideo differunt, & ab hoc fit præſes, ſicut ab illo præſens. Præſidere enim eſt duntaxat ad opem præſtandam præeſſe, quam præſtant proprie, uel Dij precantibus hominibus, uel homines ipſi alijs hominibus iniuriam patientibus, uel in diſcrimen adductis. Aliquando tamen indifferenter accipitur. Sueton. de Tiberio: Præſedit & Acciacis ludis, hoc eſt præfuit. Cicero: Noli animos eorum ordinum, qui præſunt iudicijs offendere. Idem: Quamobrem uos Dij, & patrij penates, qui huic urbi, atque imperio præſidetis. Quint. Nam & beneuolum auditorem inuocatione deorum, quas præſidere uatibus creditum eſt, & intentum proposita rerum magnitudine, & docilem ſumma celeriter compreſita rerum magnitudine, & docilem ſumma celeriter comprehenſa facit. Idem: Quæ præſidentes ſtudijs deæ propius audirent. Hinc tam dij, quàm homines præſides dicti ſunt: illi in ſuo quiſq; numine, ſuaq; ui, hi uero in ſita quiſque prouincia à rege, uel populo ſibi commiſſa. Quintil. Quod omnia ſic egerit, ut genitus præſide bellorũ. Vlpianus: Præſes is eſt, qui maius in prouincia imperium habet, omnibus poſt principem. Aliquando tamen præſes pro auxiliatore ponitur. Liuius: Dij deæq;, qui capitoliũ incolitis, ſiccine noſtrum militem, ac præſidem ſinitis uexari ab inimicis? Hinc præſidium dictum principale auxilium, ut milites, qui in tutela alicuius oppidi collocati ſunt, præſidium dicuntur. Subſidium uero, quod in auxilium ſuccedit. Quemadmodum autem à præſum fit præſens, & præſentia, ita ab abſum fit abſens, & abſentia, dicimusq; abſente pro abſentibus, ſicut præſente pro præſentibus. Plautus: Abſente nobis id actum eſt. Afranius: Si hanc abſente nobis inueniret puer. Terentius: Neſcio quid profecto abſente nobis turbatum eſt. Deſum, deficio. Seneca: Felix eſt, cui nihil deeſt, niſi ſextans, quemadmodum deunx, & duodeuiginti. Inſum, quod ſignificat in aliqua re ſum, ut meſt mihi cupiditas, hoc eſt in me eſt. In quo notandum, quod ineſt huic rei dicimus, & ineſt in hac re. Quintilianus: Verum hoc melius faciet natura ipſa duce, ſed naturis ipſis ars inerit. Cicero: Illud honeſtum, quod ſæpe diximus, ſi in alio cernimus, tamen nos mouet, atque illi, in quo id ineſſe uidetur, amicos facit. ſubſum, quod proprie eſt infra ſum. Plinius: Suberant tecto abiegnæ trabes. Aliquando tamen ſubeſſe accipimus pro latenter ineſſe: Virgilius: Quippe ſolo natura ſubeſt. Superſum, quod interdum eſt affluo, abundo. Virgilius: Auxilio urbes Italiæ, populiq; ſuperſint. Interdum reſto, reliquus ſum. Ennius: Inde ſibi memorat unum ſupereſſe laborem. Aliquando ſuperſtes ſum.

M. Aſinius Pollio ad Ciceronem: Neque deeſſe reipub. uolo, neque ſupereſſe. Nonnunquam uinco, ſuperior ſum. Cicero: Nec uero ſcientia iuris maioribus ſuis Quintus Lælius Tubero defuit, doctrina etiam ſuperfuit. Virgilius: Florenteisq; ſecant herbas, fluuiosq; miniſtrant, Farraq;, ne blando nequeant ſupereſſe labori, hoc eſt uincere, & ſuperare laborem. Quando q; ſuperfluus, ac ſupuacuus ſum. Gellius: Memini ego prætoris docti hominis tribunali me forte aſſiſtere, atque ibi aduocatum eum nõ habere, & cum is, qui uerba faciebat, reclamaſſet, ego illi ſuperſum, reſpondiſſe prætorem feſtiuiter, tu planè ſuperes, non ades. Superes, inquit, hoc eſt ſuperfluus, ſuperuacaneus es. Plerũq; longus, ac diutius duro. Virgilius: Primus ego in patriam mecum, modo uita ſuperſit. Aliquando etiam ſuperſum reperitur pro nimis, & ſupra neceſſarium modum abundo. Cicero: Non grauarer Læli, niſi & hos uelle putarẽ, & ipſe cuperem te quoque aliquam partem huius noſtri ſermonis attingere, præſertim cum heri ipſe dixeris, te nobis etiã ſuperfuturum. uerum id, quod fieri non poteſt, ne deſis, omnes te rogamus. Græci in eoſdem ferè omneis ſenſus περιττὸν ac cipiunt. Poſſum quoque à porrò, hoc eſt ualde, & ſum compositum. Valde enim eſſe uidentur, qui ualidi, ac potentes ſunt, quamuis aliqui poſſum à potis, & ſum compoſitum malint. Ego à poſſum potius deriuatum eſſe potis exiſtimo, quod & potе neutrum habet. ſignificat autem eum, qui poteſt. Virgilius: At non Euandrũ potis eſt uis ulla tenere. Propertius: Qua potе quiſq; in ea conterat arte diem. Ab hoc fit aliud uerbum poteſſum. Terentius: At pol ego amatores audieram mulierum eos eſſe maximos, ſed nihil poteſſe. A poſſum deriuatur potens, qui poteſt, cuius contrarium eſt impotens, hoc eſt inualidus. A quibus potentia, & impotentia, & potenter, atque impotenter aduerbia. Impotens tamen aliquando pro ualde potens uſurpatur, & impotẽtia pro potentia. Cic. Qui nihil metuant, nihil agant, nihil cõcupiſcant, nulla impotentia efferãtur. Item poteſtas, quod Paulus iuriſconſultus inquit, plura ſignificat. In perſona magiſtratuum, imperium. In perſona liberorũ, patriam autoritatem. In perſona ſeruorum, dominium. At cum agimus de noxæ deditione cum eo, qui ſeruum non defendit, præſentis corporis copiam, ac facultatem. Item poteſtates dicuntur principes potentes, quos græci δυναστὰς uocant, et ij, qui magiſtratus gerunt, & iudicijs præſunt. unde non inepte, nec parum Latine prætores urbium uulgo nunc poteſtates appellamus. Plinius: Pingue draconis in pelle dorcadum neruis ceruinis adalligatum in lacerto, uictoriam iudiciorum conferre exiſtimant, primum ſpondylum aditus poteſtatum mulcere. Apuleius: Sed iuſſit poteſtas officialem ſuum magna ſeueritudine coẽrceri. ubi notandum eſt, officialis quoq; non inelegans uocabulum eſſe pro miniſtro magiſtratus. Idem alibi: Iam enim, faxo ſcias, quemadmodum ſub meo magiſterio mali debeant coẽrceri, & profuſa in medium ſportula iubet officialem ſuum ſuper piſceis inſcendere, ac pedibus ſuis totos obterere. Poteſtam quoq; ueteres pro poteſtate uſurparunt. Plautus: Neque deſidiæ in otio operam dediſſe, neque poteſtam ſibi fuiſſe, adeo arte cohibitum eſſe à patre. Item à poſſum poſſibile, quod fieri poteſt, aut nõ poteſt, quibus uerbis uſi ueteres nõ fuere, nũc autem paſſim omnes utuntur. Item impos, qui alicuius rei potis non eſt. Compos, qui uel habet aliquid, uel ſuo ſtudio aſſecutus eſt. Accipitur'q; & in bonã, & in malam partem. Cic. Omniũ deſideriorũ ſuorum compos factus. Plaut. Cedo manum, accipe erumnarum, et miſeriarum compotem, hoc eſt qui ſimul tecũ erumnas, ac miſerias habet. ſic eni cõpotem mentis, cõpotem rationis dicimus, hoc eſt qui mentẽ, & rationẽ habet: & impotem, qui nõ habet. Cic. Nam quomodo uictores di-cimus uoti compotes, qui quicquid uolunt faciunt, sic uictos econtrario uoti impotes, qui non possunt facere, quod uolunt. Item possideo, quasi in posse, hoc est in potestate mea habeo. A quo possessor, qui possidet, cuius fœmininum est possestrix apud Afranium, ita dicitur tonstrix, ita impulsatrix, ita curatrix, ita plantrix, ita assestrix. et possessio, quod modo actum ipsum possidendi significat, modo bona, quæ uulgo uocantur immobilia, quemadmodum superius diximus. & possessorium iudicium, quod non super re principali, sed super possessione est. Et apud grammaticos possessiuum nomen, quod aliquid significat, quod possidetur, ut Euandrius ensis, qui Euandri est & regiæ ædes, quæ regis possessio est. Item potior, & potius comparatiua, hoc est melior, & melius, quasi potentior, & potentius, & potissimum superlatiuum pro optimo. Præstant enim, hoc est potentiora sunt, quæ meliora sunt. Item potius, & potissimum, &, quo iuniores quidam utuntur, potissime, aduerbia, quæ significant magis, & maxime. potius enim de duobus, potissimum, siue potissime de pluribus dicitur, ut hoc potius, quàm illud elegi: & ex omnibus hoc potissimum elegi, id est magis, & maxime elegi: & quasi pro meliori, atque optimo elegi. Item à pote utpote aduerbium deducitur, quod confirmantis est, et quasi causatiuum. Cicero: Me incommoda ualetudo, quia iam emerseram, utpote cum sine febri laborassem, tenuit. Idem: Ea nos ut pote, qui nihil contenere solemus, non pertime scebamus. quod perinde est, ac si dixisset, quia uel quoniam uel quandoquidem sine febri laborassem, & quia, uel quoniam, uel quandoquidem nihil contemnere solemus. Sallu. Antonius procul aberat, utpote qui magno exercitu locis æquioribus expeditus in fugam sequeretur. Aliquando sine cum, & sine relatiuo reperitur. Vt Antonius aberat à bello, ut pote æger, ac iacens. In eadem forma reperitur & quippe. Quintil. Si alienum, & ignotum tanquam communis omnium mortalium. (quippe sub uno parente naturæ cognatio est) hominem cibo forte iuuissem pœna dignum uideretur seruasse perituram animam. Ti. Liuius: Notam iudici fabulæ petitur, quippe apud quem autorem argumenti peragit. Profecto quoque, et utique eodem modo affirmant. Sed utique nunquam ferè apud Ciceronem, apud posteriores frequenter reperitur. Quint. Solent huiusmodi negotiatores aliquid proprium, ac priuatum stipulari. Vtique, cum rem alienam uendant. profecto potius ad responsionem ad hibetur. Cicero: Quis hæc renuntiat? is profecto, qui interfuit. Quod etiam per certe facimus. Idem: Tantam solicitudnem bonorum, tantum amorem omnium, in quo meminimus certe in nullo. & per nimirum. Quint. Demus id, quod nullo modo fieri potest, idem ingenij, studij, doctrinæ, pessimo, atque optimo uiro uter melior dicetur: orator nimirum, qui homo quoque melior. & per nempe, quod usitatius est. Cicero: Apud quem hæc dico? nempe apud eum, qui, cum hoc sciret, me tamen ante, quàm uidit, reipublicæ reddidit. Ali quando sine interrogatione ponitur nempe. Horatius: Nempe hoc quæsisti. Persius: Nempe hoc assidue, iam clarum mane se nestras intrat. Quintilianus: Nempe enim in hoc plurimum laboris exhausimus, ut rhetoricam ostenderemus bene dicendi scientiam, & utilem, & artem, & uirtutem esse. Veteres nem quoque aliquando pro nempe scripserunt, quamuis & pro nisi etiam quandoque sumpsere. Sanè quoque aliquando affirmatiua est, ut ita sanè. Sanè uero nonnunquam pro ualde ponitur, ut homo sanè nobilis, iungiturq; interim suplatiuo. Suetonius: Bellum sanè difficillimum gessit. quandoque permissiue accipitur. Quintil. Tulerit sanè filius noster merito pœnas, dederit spiritū supplicio: nihil de præteritis loquimur, quasi esto ita sit, ut tu uis. Certe quoque modo affirmat, modo per saltem accipitur, ut si non tangere, at certe potero uidere. Adiungitur autem illud at, quomodo iungitur sed, cum tamen alterum eorum sufficeret. quippe at nonnunquam idem significat, quod saltem. Virgilius: At Messapus erit. Certe coniuncta cum coniunctione &, semper affirmat. Cicero: Et certe contra Cæsarem est ingressus armatus. Eodem modo sanè. Quintilianus: Et sanè quis concipiat, uel declamantis habitum, uel orantis uocem, incessum, pronuntiationem: illum deniq; animi, & corporis motū? Certe coniuncta cum scio, & similibus uerbis e in o solet mutare. Cicero: Et si certo scio. Item à potis fit potior uerbum, quod est modo teneo, quasi in potestate habeo: modo obtineo, & in potestatem uendico. In primo significato ferè genitiuum semper requirit. Vt Lacedæmonij rerum diu potiti sunt, id est rerū imperiū diu tenuerunt. In secundo significato frequentius habet ablatiuum, ut potitus sum uictoria, potitus sum amica. id est pugnādo, uel laborando obtinui uictoriā, uel amicam. Aliq̄n etiam potior pro fruor accipitur. Cice. Quod si his uoluptatibus bona ætas fruitur, libētius primum paruulis fruitur rebus (ut diximus) deinde ijs, quibus senectus, etiam si non abunde potitur, non omnino caret. Pro eodem posuit fruitur, ac potitur. hoc uerbum nō modo quartæ, sed etiam tertiæ coniugationis reperitur. Ouidius: Tuque tuis armis, nos te poteremur Achille. A potens quoq; fit omnipotens, à quo omnipotentia, & armipotens, & bellipotens, qui armis, & bello potens est. & uiripotens mulier, quæ coire iam cum uiro per ætatem potest. & uniuersipotens dicitur deus, quod uniuersa possit, à quo uniuersipotentia deriuatur. Possum quando caret apposito, modo accipitur pro potens sum. Plaut. Non hic, ut possit edit, sed posse cupit, ut edat: modo pro eo, quod diuinari ab alijs malo, quàm exprimire. quale est apud Terentium: Amatores mulierum audieram eos esse maximos, sed nihil posse. Item ab est tertia huius uerbi persona fit ambest, quod significat circum est, nullamq; aliam habet declinationem. præterhæc à sum sumo uerbum deriuatur, quod proprie est multum, & penè nimium mihi tribuo, & quasi sum mihi. Cice. Quamquam non tantum mihi sumo iudices, neque arrogo. ponitur tamen pro accipio, tollo. Sallustius: Epistolá super caput temere positam sumit. Aliquādo pro eligo. Horatius: Sumite materiā uestris, qui scribitis, æquam Viribus. Plautus: Sumat aliquem ex populo monitorem officij sui. Interdum pro conduco. Cicero: Quoad enim peruentum, quo sumpta nauis est, non domini est nauis, sed nauigantium. Veteres etiam sumo pro impendo accipiebant. Ab hoc summum deriuari quidam falsò existimant. Summum enim per syncopem fit à supremum (ut inferius ostendemus) nam significat, quod est omnium altissimum Virgilius: Summoq; ululārunt uertice nymphæ. Cicero: Summam aquam attinget enectus siti Tantalus. Modo extremū. Virgilius: Venit summa dies, & ineluctabile tempus Dardaniæ. Aliquando laudabile, gloriosum. Idem: Mē ne igitur socium summis adiungere rebus Nisi fugis? Hinc summates appellati sunt principes ciuitatis, qui & optimates dicūtur. & summitas altitudo, ex quo altior pars montis summitas dicitur. & summa, quæ est sententiæ alicuius, aut rerum, de quibus uerba fiunt, collectio. Virgilius: Hæc summa est, hoc est præcepti mei succincta collectio. Hinc summatim, ad summā, in summa summum, ad summum, de quibus supra diximus. Summitudo quoq; apud aliquos pro summitate reperitur. & summula, parua summa, et summe, maxime, excellēter. Sum pro eū Ennius, & plericq; alij ex ueteribus posuere. Summanalia appellantur liba farinacea in modū rotæ facta. Itē à sumo dicitur sumptus hoc est, impensa, quod pecunia impendatur, uel exponatur. Pli. qui eā domū magno sumptu ædificauerat. ab hoc fit aliud uer-bum sumptifacio. Plautus: Si nunc me suspendam, meam operam luserim, & præter operam restim sumptifecerim. Item sumptuosus, qui prodige pecuniam expendit, & magnos sumptus facit. & sumptuariæ leges, quæ de moderandis sumptibus latæ sunt, quas Cato cibarias appellauit. Prima omnium de cœnis lata ad populum Lex orchia fuit, quam tulit Cains Orchius tribunus plebis de Senatus sententia tertio post anno, quàm Cato censor fuerat. Hæc numerum tantum conuiuarum præscribebat, ubebatq;, ut patentibus ianuis cœnitaretur, quo obseruatio eius uideri posset. Post hæc, cum plures præscripto in conuiuio uocarentur, ideoq; autoritatem nouæ legis aucta necessitas implorāret, post annum uigesimum secundum legis Orchiæ, Fannia lex lata est anno post urbem conditam quingentesimo octauo. neque eam prætores, aut tribuni, ut pleraſque alias, sed ex omnium bonorum consilio, & sententia ipsi consules pertulere: cum respublica luxuria conuiuorum, maiora, quàm credi posset, detrimenta pateretur. Quippe eò redacta res erat, ut plerique ingenui pueri pudicitiam, & libertatem suam uenditarent: plerique ex plebe Romana uino madidi in comitium uenirent, & ebrij de Reipublicæ salute consulerent. Hæc non conuiuijs tantum, ut Orchia, sed sumptibus etiam modum imposuit assibus centum præscriptis, propter quod à Lucilio lepidissimo poēta, centussis appellata est. Fanniam legem post duodeuiginti annos secuta est lex Didia, cuius ferendæ duplex ratio fuit, prima ut non sola urbs Roma, sed uniuersa Italia, lege sumptuaria teneretur. Secunda ut non modo qui conuiuia maiore sumptu fecissent, sed etiam, qui ad ea uocitati essent, atque omnino interfuissent, pœna legis tenerentur. Post Didiam lata est Licinia à Publio Licinio Crasso diuite, cuius ferundæ tantum studium ab optimatibus impensum est, ut senatusconsulto iubere tur, & tantummodo promulgata ante, quàm trinundino confirmaretur, ita obseruaretur ab omnibus, quasi iam populi sententia comprobata esset. Hæc lex nihil à Didia, seu Fannia differebat: autoritas tantummodo per eam quæsita est, exolescente metu antiquioris, quemadmodum olim de decem tabulis factum fuerat, quarum antiquitas, cum contemni cœpisset, eadem illa, quæ ijs legibus cauebantur, in alia legum latorum nomina transierunt. Legis autem Liciniæ summa hæc erat, ut calendis, nonis, nundinis liceret cuique in dies singulos triginta duntaxat asses edundi causa consumere: cæteris uero diebus, ne amplius apponeretur, quàm carnis aridæ pondo tria, & salsamentorum libra, & quod ex terra, uite, arbore ue natum esset. Harum omnium legum causa fuit nimia luxuria. Quippe uetus prouerbium est: Leges bonæ ex malis moribus procreantur. Post has secuta est lex Cornelia, quam Cornelius Sylla dictator tulit. In ea non conuiuiorum luxuria prohibita est, nec gulæ modus impositus, sed minora rebus facta sunt precia: ea opinor ratione, ut gulæ seruire etiam qui parcus essent facultatibus, possent. Sylla mortuo, Lepidus consul legem tulit sumptuariam, quæ Lepidiana dicta est. paucis deinde interiectis annis aliam legem ad populum tulit Antius Restio, quæ Antia nominata, licet optima esset, luxuriæ tamen obstinatione nullo abrogante obliterata est: propter quod Restionem ipsum latorem legis tradunt, quandiu postea uixit foris non cœnasse, ne legem à se latam contemni uideret. A sumo composita sunt assumo, quod aliquando significat accipio Cicero: Neque id onus inuitus assumpsit. modo nimium tribuo. Idem: Si id mihi assumo, uideor id mihi meo iure quodam modo uendicare. Ab hoc assumptio deriuatur. transumo, ex alio sumo. unde, quæ ex primis tabulis transcripta sunt, solennitate iuris abhibita dicuntur transumpta, & actus ipse transumptio. Item transumptio figura est apud rhetores, quam Græci μετάληψιν uocant, cum rem ex alio ad alium transmouemus. Demosthenes: Cum bellum Phocense conflatum esset, et non per me, nondum enim ego ad Rempublicam accesseram. Cicero: Refertum tribunitijs legibus exhaustum, à quibus sit, ipsi sciunt. Absumo, & consumo notæ significationis. Plinius: Sarcophagus lapis est fissili uena, corpora defunctorum condita in eo absumi constat intra quadragesimū diem. ideo nomen habet à carne edenda. σάρξ enim caro est, φάγω edo. Quidam sarcophagū pro sepulchro usurpant. Idem: Mitior est autem seruandis corporibus, nec absumendis, chemites ebori simillimus, in quo Darium conditum ferunt. Solmus: Sunt etiam in Lycia saxa, quæ uiuentiū quoq; corpora adalligata consumunt. Ab his consumptio, & semiconsumptum, hoc est magna ex parte consumptum, & absumptio deriuatur. Item aliud consumo primæ cōiugationis, quod significat perficio. à quo consummatū opus dicimus perfectū, & consummatio perfectio, quod quæ perfecta sunt, omnia sibi sumpsisse uideantur. Martialis: Quod magni Thraseæ, consummatiq; Catonis. Resumo, rursus sumo. Plinius: Resumptis post longam ægritudinem uiribus. Præsumo, antecapio. Apuleius: Qui ætatis meæ flosculos præsumpsisti. Hinc rhetores præsumere pro præoccupare accipiunt: & præsumptionem dicunt, quam Græci uocant πρόληψιν, cum id, quod uel in aduersarij causa, uel in iudicis opinione contrarium nobis esse, aut fore arbitramur, præoccupamus dicere, & cum ratione dissoluere. Demosthenes: Atq; ego illum iudices arbitror Lycurgum laudatorem producturū scilicet, qui sit testis eius pudori, ac probitati, sed ego Lycurgum uobis præsentibus hoc unum interrogabo, uelit ne se similem esse illius factis, & moribus: quod si negarit, satis uobis factum esse de ueritate nostra debebit. Lysias: Hac oratione sæpius apud me utebatur, & orabat, ut suarum erumnarum misereret, inopiæ subuenirem. Quid multa? Cōmotus humanitate, precibus deprecantis, quod petebat, dedi solus soli, quo minus nota calamitas hominis esset. Sed ut paratus uenisse uidebatur, iam se negabit accepisse, & flens uobis supplicabit, ut se à calumniatoribus eripiatis. Vos autem, cum eum ita agentem uideritis facitote, ut & illius et mei memineritis. A sum postremo fit esto, quod modo futurum est imperatiui, modo aduerbium cōcedentis. Virgilius: Esto ægram nulli quondam flexere mariti. Item sum in præterito facit fui, à quo ueteres fuam pro sim frequentissime usurparunt. Item fore, quod licet declinatione præsentis sit temporis, significatione tamen est futuri. Cic. Quos puto iam tecum esse, uel propediem fore: & eodem modo affore. Ouidius: Esse quoq; in fatis reminiscitur, affore tempus. Statius tamen uidetur affore in significatione præsentis temporis accepisse: Sensit manifesto numine ductos Affore, quos nexis ambagibus augur Apollo: MOLES. Magnitudo. proprie enim moles dicitur res magna, ac magni ponderis. unde molestus dicitur, qui alicui grauis est, nec sinit eum quiescere. à quo molestia solicitudo, & grauitas. & molestè grauiter. & molesto, ango, solicito, & quasi molem affero. Apuleius: Toties quoque molestatus obmutui. In hunc sensum molem accepit Virgilius: Totámque infusa per artus Mens agitat molem, hoc est magnitudinem mundi. Quoniam uero, quæ magna sunt, difficilia esse consueuerunt, capitur aliquando moles pro difficultate. Idem: Tantæ molis erat Romanam condere gentem, hoc est tantæ difficultatis. Item in mari moles dicitur, quoties excluditur aqua. Accipitur etiam aliquando pro motu. Virgilius. Inde Gyan, ipsamq; ingenti mole Chimæram Consequitur. & à mouendo dicitur moles, à quo fit molior, quod significat uel ingenio, uel corpore moueor ad aliquid agendum. & pro uarietate appositi uarie exponitur. etenim moliri classem est parare. Virgilius: Classemq; sub ipsa Antandro, & Phrygiæ molimur mõtibus Idæ. moliri iter, est peragere. Idem: Datum molitur iter. moliri habenas, est gubernare. Idem: Et manibus molitur habenas. moliri insidias, est meditari. Apuleius: Dum mihi moliuntur insidias. moliri arcem, est ædificare. Virgilius: Moliriq; arcem, & manibus subuoluere saxa. unde fit demoliri, quod est diruere. Cicero: Demoliri ea, quorum altitudo officeret auspicijs. & amoliri, expellere, submouere. à quo amulauas, & amuletum, de quibus inferius dicemus. Terentius: Proinde hinc uos amolimini, nam mihi impedimẽto estis. Moliri etiam simpliciter positum inuenire est. Plautus: Aliquid moliar, quo me hoc discrimine liberem. hoc etiam machinari dicimus à Græco μηχανῶμαι, quod est inuenio, molior. Vnde μηχάνημα inuentum, & molimen dicitur. & μηχανὴ molitio, machina. à quo bellicas machinas uocamus opera fabrilia, quibus in bello utimur. Item ipsa consilia, quibus decipere hostem conamur. ἀπὸ τῆς μηχανῆς etiam dicitur mechanicus, quod significat fabrum, hoc est opificem eorum operum, quæ ingenio simul, ac manibus fiunt: & mechanica ars fabrilis. unde quidam arteis diuidunt in liberaleis, atque mechanicas. A machinor machinator, machinatrix, & machinatio deducuntur. Aliquando moliri passiue accipitur pro retardari. Lucilius: Mutilamur, molimur, subducimur. ab hoc fit molimen pro eo, quod molimur, & molimentum pro conatu. Sisenna: Magno cum molimento, ac perpetuo sono procedunt. & emolumentum utilitas, quam ex opera, & labore, & (ut ita dicam) molimine nostro assequimur. & molitio, ac demolitio, quibus autores frequenter utuntur. Item mola, qua ueluti mole quadam, frumentum, legumina, & aliæ res quæcunque teruntur. unde molas frumentarias, molas fabarias, & molas olearias dicimus. Quanquam mola etiam far tostum dicitur sale conspersum, quo utebantur ueteres in sacrificijs. Virgilius: Sparge molam. unde fit immolo uerbum, quod est sacrifico, & quasi molam spargo. à quo immolator, immolatrix, immolatio. & molucrum lignum quadratum, quo ueteres immolabant. Est etiam molucrum tumor uentris, qui etiam uirginibus incidere solet. Afranius: Virgini crescit uterus, tanquàm grauidæ mulĕri, molucrum uocatur, transit sine doloribus. Est enim etiam mola à molæ, de qua diximus, similitudine appellata in utero muliĕris caro informis, inanimata, ferri ictum, & aciem respuens, quæ sistit menstrua, ut partus: & licet ijs quoque accidat, quæ coitu utuntur, quoties menstrua uitiosa sunt, aut semen uiri ad formandum fœtum debile est, atque ineptum, frequentius tamen ijs accidit, quæ à coitu abstinent solitæ aliâs coire, quales uiduæ sunt. Fit enim in his tumor præter naturam, & semen, cum sanguine mistum indurescit in carnem, quamuis aliquando ex solo spiritu fit mola, quin maior uis caloris semen illud cum sanguine conuertit in spiritum crassiorem, quo ita sæpenumero uterus intumescit, ut prægnantis speciem præ se ferat. Mouetur mola, natura tentante eam expellere, quamuis medici motus causam assignent spiritum genitiuum, qui inclusus est in semine muliĕris, sed huic opinioni philosophi repugnant. Simile quiddam, & uiris in uentre gignitur, quod σκίῤῥον Græci, hoc est scirrum nominant, hoc splenis, & epatis uitio extuberat, præsertim in hydropicis, quod euenisse Oppio Capitoni prætorio uiro memoriæ proditũ est. Item à mola fit molo uerbum, & molaris lapis, ex quo mola fit. hunc quidam pyritem uocitant, uel quod ei insit plurimus ignis, quem πῦρ Græci nominant, uel à frumento, quod nominant πυρόν. Est enim aliud pyritarum genus. ἀπὸ τοῦ πυρὸς, hoc est ab igne appellatum, quod plurimum ignis habet, & est ponderosum. nostri modo uiuum, modo ignarium lapidem uocant, exploratoribus castrorum maxime necessarium, quoniam clauo, uel altero lapide percussum scintillas edit, quæ sulfure exceptæ, aut fungis aridis, aut folijs mira celeritate ignem trahunt. Item molares dentes, quod cibum à cæteris dentibus confractum ipsi molunt. Hi & maxillares à maxillis dicuntur. Sunt enim maxillæ, in quibus fixi sunt dentes, & inferiores tantum in omni animantium genere mouentur, præterquam in crocodilo, qui mouet superiores. Hæ per diminutionem à malis uocitatæ sunt. Malæ à mali similitudine dicuntur partes illæ, quæ homini tantum sunt inter oculos, & buccas ad mali speciem rotundæ. has prisci genas uocabant. Ouidius: Sæpeq; purpureis figere labra genis. Pacuuius: Nunc primum opacat flore lanugo genas. Hinc lex illa duodecim tabularum erat: Muliĕres genas ne radunto, ne'ue lessum funeris ergò habento. Dicuntur tamen etiam genæ, quæ superius, inferiusq; ambiunt oculum. Ennius: Pandite quæso genas, & corde relinquite somnum. Plinius: Aquatilia dormire existimant, non oculorum argumento, quia non habent genas, sed ipsa quiete placita, seu soporata. Extremus ambitus superioris genæ cilium dicitur, unde supercilia appellata. Cilium, uulnere aliquo diductum non coalescit. Quadrupedi superiores tantum genæ sunt, uolucribus inferiores, & quibus molle tergus, ut serpentibus, & quadrupedibus, quæ oua pariunt ut lacertæ. Strutio camelus alitum sola utrinque genas habet, & palpebras. Palpebræ sunt capilli, quos in genis homines utrinque habent, dictæ uel à palpitando (ut quidam dicunt) hoc est tremendo, uel (ut ego sentio) à palpando, hoc est prætentando obiecta. ob hoc enim natura palpebras homini dedit, ut ceu uallum quoddam uisus esset, & prominens munimentum circa occursantia animalia, aut alia fortuitu incidentia. Palpare, siue palpari (utroque enim modo dicitur) proprie est leuiter, & quasi tentando tangere, unde pro adulari frequenter accipitur, & palpatores ex eo dicuntur adulatores. Plautus: Vt palpator nullus est, quando occepit blandior. Hic palpo etiam dicitur. Idem: Palpo percutis. Quidam etiam palpum pro blanditijs usurparunt. A palpo fit frequentatiuum palpito, quod est leuiter, ac frequenter moueor, & quasi palpando, unde palpitare cor dicitur ob frequentem motum. Plinius: Palpitat certe cor, & quasi alternatim mouetur. A palpo fit compositum ex palpo, quod est elicio. Plautus: Quid faciam? exora, blandire, expalpa. Idem: Nunc seruus argentum à patre expalpabit. Pomponius: Siquid expalpare possim ab illo. Defluere palpebras tradunt abundantibus Venere. præter hominem, & strutio camelum nulli animali sunt, nisi quibus & in reliquo corpore pili. Strutiocamelus maxima auium est, si tamen auis est dicenda, cum pennas duntaxat habeat, ut adiuuent ad currendum, cætero uolucris non sit, nec à terra tollatur. In Africa altitudinem equitis equo insidentis excedit, celeritatem uincit. Vngulas habet ceruinis simileis bisulcas comprehendendis lapidibus utileis, quos in fuga contra sequenteis lapidibus ingerit. Concoquit quæcunque deuorat sine aliquo delectu. Mira in eo stoliditas est. etenim in tanta corporis altitudine, si colla frutice occultauerit, latere se putat. Oua eius in precio sunt propter amplitudinem pro quibusdam uasis habita. Item pennæ, quia conos bellicos, & galeas uarijs coloribus infectæ adornãt. Conus proprie à Græcis uocatur nux pinea, propter quod Geometræ eiusmodi figuram conum appellant.

Hoc autem differt à meta, siue pyramide, quod meta lateribus constat, conus rotunditatem habet sine lateribus. Hinc conus appellatur curuatura, quæ est in summitate galeæ, super qua cristæ ponuntur. & coniferæ arbores dicuntur, quæ conos ferũt, hoc est nuces pineis simileis. Ouid. Et coniferæ cyparissi. Quicquid præterea tali forma est, conoides dicitur. Vnde cupressus fœmina conoides est, quæ in fastigium cõuoluitur. nam mas sprgit extra se ramos, deputaturq;, et uitem accipit. Græci etiam κωνοφόρους, hoc est coniferos uocant eos, qui in Bacchi exercitu, dum in Indiam proficisceretur, thyrsos ferebant, quod thyrsi pineæ nucis speciem habeãt. Ob hanc causam muliĕres postea in Bacchi sacris conos, hoc est pineas nuces gestare consueuerũt: siue quod hic fructus cordis similitudinem habeat. Græci autem humano cordi existimant Bacchũ præesse: quoniam cor hominis, in quo mens habitat, uino accenditur. à molendo præterea moletrina deducitur, quod pistrinum olim dici solebat, quo tempore tundebantur frumenta, nõ molebantur. Quidam etiam molendinũ uocant. à quo molendinarij opifices ipsi dicuntur. Item molendinariũ quicquid ad molendinũ pertinet. unde molendinariã molam, & molendinarios asinos dicimus. Paulus iuriscon. asinam molendinariam, & molam negat ea appellatione contineri. Idem aũt est meta molendinaria inferior pars molæ, catyllus superior. Pistrinũ aũt à pinsendo dicitur. Pinsere enim tundere est. Var. Nec pinsorẽ ullum nossent, nisi eũ, qui in pistrino pinseret farinã. Vnde pinsores, siue pistores ueteres uocabãt, tam eos qui frumenta pinsebant, quàm qui panes coquebant: ijdem quippe erant utriusq; rei artifices. Ab eodem etiam pistillum dicitur, quo quid in mortario pinsitur, et pistura actus ipse pinsendi. Plin. Pistura nõ omniũ facilis. Quippe et Hetruria spicã farris tosti pinsente pilo præferrato festula ferrata, & stella intus denticulata, nisi intenti pinsant, cõcidantur grana, ferroq; frangrãtur. Secundum quosdam molæ dictæ sunt, quod res molendo fiant molliores. Quidam molam, non à mole, sed à Græco dictum existimant, quod est μύλος, unde μύλος ἐλαιῶν mola olearia nuncupatur, quam nos trapetum diximus appellari. Ab hac deducitur amylon, quod sine mola fiat ex omni tritico, ac siligine: optimũ uero ex trimestri fit, inuentum primo in insula Chio. Id ita fit. Madescit triticum aqua dulci in uasis ligneis, ita, ut totum tegatur. quinquies in die mutatur aqua, ut misceatur pariter emollitum ante, quàm acescat, linteoq;, aut sportis siccatum tegulæ infunditur, quæ illita sit fermento, atque ita in solo densatur. probatur leuitate, leuore, candore, recentia. Molossa autem pars Epiri est, à Molosso Pyrrhi, & Andromaches filio sic nominata. Ab ea uero fit molossus adiectiuũ. Molossus etiam pes est ab eius patriæ saltatione ita nominatus. VENERABILIS. Digna ueneratione, sicut amabilis dignus amore. Nomina enim, quæ in bilis desinunt à uerbis uenientia, aliquando infinitiuum passiuum eius uerbi significant cum dignus, ut spectabilis, dignus spectari, formidabilis, dignus formidari, admirabilis, qui dignus admirationi sit. Aliquando infinitiuũ uel actiuum, uel passiuum cum potest, uel natura aptũ est, ut risibilis, qui potest uel natura aptus est ridere: hinnibilis, qui potest, uel natura aptus est hinnire. Itẽ penetrabilis, qui potest, uel natura aptus est penetrari: stabilis, qui potest, uel natura aptus est diu stare. Possibilis dicitur, qui fieri potest, nec aliorũ regulam seruat: propterea id nonnulli cum suo composito, quod est impossibilis, tanquã parum latina respuerũt. Venerabilis à ueneror deriuatur, quod est colo, significatq; eum, qui cultu, & ueneratione dignus est. Plin. Vir grauis, & ipsa iam senectute uenerabilis. Idem & uenerandus dicitur. Seneca: Vocem æstimatione dignam, & omni seculo uenerandam.

Poëtæ ueneratũ quoq; aliquando pro uenerabili, seu uenerando posuerũt. Virgilius. Cursusq; dabit uenerata sacerdos. Veneror autem compositum existimant à uenia, & oro ut sit uenerari, quasi ueniam orare. ab eo fit ueneratio pro honore, & cultu, & ueneranter aduerbium. Apuleius: Et ab eo ueneranter acceptus paululum quieui. Quidam etiam uenerabiliter usurparunt. CONSPICVI. Clari, spectandi. Specio uerbũ in usu apud ueteres fuit pro aspicio, uideo. Vnde augures specere, hoc est inspicere aueis dicebantur. & spectionem auiũ pro contemplationem, & inspectionem. Ennius: Vos epulo postquam spexit. & uestispici custodes uestium serui, quod frequenti diligentia uesteis inspiciebant. Plautus: Tum familia tota, uestispici, unctor, auri custos. Afranius: Noui non insciã ancillulam uespere, & uestispicam. ab hoc fit frequentatiuum specto, quod interdũ uideo significat. Virgilius: Heu magnũ alterius frustra spectabis aceruum. Interdum inspicio, caueo. Plautus. Spectandum ne tibi anulum det, neq; roget. Aliquando approbo. Terent. Spectandæ an exigendæ sint uobis prius. Cicero: Non igitur ex singulis uocibus philosophi spectandi sunt. Nonnunquã tendo, ut hic ad mortem spectat, hoc est quasi respiciendo tendit. Cicero: Ad extremum si ad perniciem patriæ res spectabit, patriæ salutẽ antepones saluti patris. Quintil. Et quod ad pessimum spectat euentum, miserabilis sis oportet, ut amator esse uidearis. Hinc spectabilis dicitur spectatione dignus, & quasi admirabilis. Apuleius: Iubet construi pulchrum, ac spectabilem currum. & spectatus probatus, cuius scilicet spectata iam uirtus est. Virgilius: Sunt nobis fortia bello Pectora, sunt animi, & rebus spectata iuuentus. & spectatores, qui ad ludos spectandi causa conueniunt. Plautus: Nunc spectatores Iouis summi causa clare plaudite. Itẽ generaliter quicunque aliquid aspicit, eius rei spectator dici potest. & spectaculum, quod modo significat id, quod spectatur. Virgilius: Nocte pluit, tota redeũt spectacula mane: modo ipsam spectationem. Cicero: O graue, acerbumq; spectaculum. Aliquando locum, qui ad ludos spectandos ædificatur, quem supra diximus pluratiuo numero foros appellari Sueto. De spectaculo excitatus descendit. Liuius: Tum primum circo, qui maximus dicitur, designatus est locus, diuisa loca patribus, equitibusq;, ut spectacula sibi quisque faceret, fori appellati. Item à specto cõposita fiunt aspecto, & circũspecto, quod est frequenter aspicio. à quo circunspectus dicitur, non qui circunspicitur, hunc enim conspicuum, uel circunspicuum uocamus, sed, qui circũspicit, & in omnem partem spectat, hoc est prudens, & sagax. Plinius: Quis eo acutior? quis circunspectior? expecto, præstolor, quia dum uenturum aliquem præstolamur, an ueniat, frequenter aspicere solemus. Plautus: Domi te expecto. Aliquando tamen expectare accipimus pro moram trahere. Virgil. Tyria Chartagine, qui nunc Expectat. nonnunquã pro desiderare. Idem: Expectate uenis. Cic. Nihil unquã expectatius fuit. Hinc fit expectatio, quæ modo præstolationẽ, modo morã modo desiderium significat. In expectatione enim esse aliquem dicimus, dum eum cum spe, & desiderio expectamus. Prospecto, prospicio. despecto, deorsum aspicio. Apuleius: In puteum forte despectans. Suspecto, modo sursum aspicio, et tunc à sursum componitur. Martianus: Oculisq; suspectans sidera. modo deorsum aspicio, & tunc à sub deducitur. Martialis: Sed suspectat oculis deuorantibus draucos. Item à specio fit specimen, quod est argumentum quoddam, & probatio, siue exemplar. Seneca: Virtutis specimen, & patriæ ornamentum. Virgilius: Tale dabit specimen. & species, quæ modo formam significat, & ueluti effigiem rei, estq; uocabulum medium. Idem: Neque enim specie, famáue mouetur, hoc est nec præsenti deformitatẽ, nec rumore mox futuro. Speciosus tamen semper in bonam partem accipitur, hoc est pro pulchro, quemadmodum formosus, licet forma medium uocabulum sit. Virg. O formose puer, nimium ne crede colori. Vlpianus tamen speciosas personas dici affirmat clarissimas personas utriusq; sexus. Item eorum, qui ornamentis senatorijs utuntur. modo species pro aspectu, & re uisa accipitur. Virgilius: Non tulit hanc speciem furiata mente Corebus. modo definitur: quod dicitur de pluribus differentibus numero, quomodo genus, quod dicitur de pluribus differentibus specie, utputa animal genus est, qđ de homine, elephanto, equo, auibus, piscibus, reptilibus, aliisq; specie differentibus prædicatur. Homo uero est species, quoniã de Socrate, Platone, Aristotele, Fabio, Catone, Cicerone, aliisq; non specie, sed numero differentibus dicitur, ob eam rationem ita appellata, quod multorum collectio una quasi uisione comprehendatur. Hinc speciale, & specificum pro particulari accipiuntur, & specialiter, ac speciatim pro particulariter, quod quidam etiam specifice dicunt. & speculum in quod aspicimus, ac speciem, hoc est effigiem nostram contemplamur. quod datum nobis à natura fuit, nõ, ut pilos è supercilijs, aut barba uelleremus, nõ ut faciem inficeremus coloribus, nõ ut rugas traheremus, sed ut nosmet ipsos nossemus, & formosi deuitaremus infamiam, deformes redimendũ sciremus esse uirtutibus quicquid corpori deesset: propter quod Socrates hortari adolescenteis solebat, ut sese frequenter in speculo intuerentur. Nam si inquit formosi estis, elaborandũ est, ut digni ea specie sitis, si in autem deformes, ut eam deformitatem uirtute, ac bonis artibus tegatis: quamuis aliæ quoq; sint speculi utilitates longe præstantiores. in primis enim quid pulchrius est, quàm naturam eius speculari, & rerum ad id pertinentium rationes inquirere? cur concauum maiorem uera effigiem reddat, conuexum minorem, planum æqualem? Cur concauum modo intra, modo extra speciem repræsentet, modo rectam, modo conuersam? Conuexũ uero, planumq; semper eandem, & eodem modo? Cur concauũ non lucem tantũ, ac radios conuersum ad solem reflectat, sed etiã calorem emittat talem, ut facilius accendat, quàm aliquis alius ignis? Planũ uero, lucem tantum reflectat sine calore, conuexũ nec lucem, nec calorem? Ad hæc, quia imbecilli oculi, quod sustinere comminus solem nõ possent, formam eius, habitumq;, & uerum illum igneum colorem contemplari non ualebant, inuentum est ope, atq; adiumento speculi non modo orientem, occidentemq; illum conspicere, uerum etiam supra nos stantem, & nullo rubore perfusum, sed candida luce fulgentem. Præterea duorum siderum occursum, quem defectum, uel defectionem solis, siue Græco uocabulo eclipsin nominamus, quo interpellari aliquando dies, solet, quis unquã cernere potuisset, aut causam eius comprehendere, nisi liberius in speculo solis, lunæq; imagines uideremus? Taceo quod iuuenis in speculo se uidens admonetur flore ætatis, tempus illud discendi esse, & fortia audendi. Senex uero, ut quæ canis indecora sunt, deponat, & de morte imminente iam cogitet. Quid quod uiri fortes cicatrices suas, siquas in facie habent, speculis contemplantes memoria uirtutis excitantur. Audiui ego sæpenumero Federice princeps te, quoties faciem tuam in speculo contemplaris, nullo amissi luminis desiderio affici, sed læto, ac sereno uultu modo uerba illa proferre: θάῤῥει φιλότιμε, καὶ σαυτὸν βλέπε φανερῶς, ἵνα τῆς ἀρετῆς καθ' ἡμέραν μνημονεύῃς. hoc est: Bono animo sis Federice, teq; ipsum manifeste aspice, ut uirtutis tuæ continue memineris. modo ita dicere: Dij boni, quos ego uel uirtutis, uel fortunæ socios habeo, Philippos, Horatios, Annibales, Sertorios Expergiscere, expergiscere aliquando Federice, & illos nõ mo do unius luminis, sed factis etiam, ac rerum gestarum gloria æquiparare cõtende. Hæc nobis ab aliys relata sunt, illud uero ex meipso uideor augurari, te quando peruigilem istum tuum oculum in speculo contemplaris, non mediocri lætitia affici, quod scias per omnem iam Italiam prouerbij loco haberi: Plus unum Federicũ, uno oculo uidere, quàm cæteros omneis principes duobus. Illa præterea Sertorij uerba frequenti tecũ usurpare sermone: Alij non semper uirtutis suæ insignia secum ferunt, sed hastas, torques, coronas domi relinquunt, ego uero, rei militaris insignia mecum assidue porto, eosdemq; & uirtutis meæ, & fortunæ habeo spectatores. Ad hæc igitur comparata est materia excipiendarum imaginum potens, & inuenta sunt specula ex ferro, plumbo, argento, crystallo, uitro, mistisq; materijs. Quinetiam natura ipsa nobis specula parauit, quæ semper essent in promptu. Fons cuiq; perlucidus, & quiescens aqua, ac leue saxum imaginem reddit. Virgili. Nec sum adeo informis, nuper me in littore uidi, cum placidum uentis staret mare. A speculo specularis lapis dictus, quod ad speculi similitudinem luceat, atq; imaginẽ reddat. Finditur in tenuissimas crustas. hunc olim tantum citerior Hispania mittebat, postea Cyprus & Sicilia, & Africa misere. Est & in Bononiensi agro breuis, maculosus complexu silicis alligatus, nunquã uisus est quinque pedum longitudine amplior. Humorem hunc terræ eristimant crystalli modo glaciari, in lapidemq; concrescere. Huius olim ramentis circum maximum ludis Circensibus strauere, ut esset commendatio candoris. Item à specio specula dicta, de qua aliquid cõspicimus. Virgilius: Specula Misenus ab alta. à quo speculor uerbum, quod proprie est indago, perquiro, & ueluti è specula prospecto. à quo speculatores dicti, qui uel è speculis aspiciunt, uel in bello ante exercitum explorandi gratia mittuntur. & præspeculor uerbum, ante speculor. Suetonius de Cæsare: Exercitũ neq; per insidiosa itinera duxit unquã, nisi præspeculatus locorũ situs. per metaphoram tamen speculari accipimus pro scrutari, & exactè considerare. à quo speculatio, consideratio. Specus quoque à specio deriuatur, quod locus sit (ut Vlpianus definit) ex quo despicitur, uel quod uox, in eo repercussa hominẽ ibi alterũ uideri faciat. Dicimusq; hic specus, hæc specus, & hoc specus. Item hoc specu, & in plurali hæ specus. Item specium, cuius diminutiuum est specillum, à specio deducitur, instrumentum teres, ac paruum, quo medici ad tentandam uulnerum, aut fistularum uiam uel profunditatem, utũtur. Pacu. Vt medici faciunt, qui prius specio uulnus tentat. Cornelius Celsus: Ante omnia autem demitti specillum in fistulam conuenit, ut quò tendat, & quàm alte perueniat scire possimus. Hinc oricularium specillum dicitur, quod curandis auribus adhibetur. A specu, siue specilli similitudine spiculum telum dicitur ad similitudinem sagittæ. Item ipsa sagitta. à quo spiculor, configo, & spiculator carnifex. & spica, quod ad spiculi similitudinem acuta sit, dicitúrque, & masculino, & neutro genere spicus, & spicum. Est enim proprie cum per culmi folliculum, id est extremum tumorem aristæ adhuc tenues in modum spiculi eminent. Abusiue tamen, & de maturis frugibus hæc uocabula dicũtur. A spica, siue spico fit spico uerbũ, quod significat spicas emitto. Item inspico, quod est ad spicarum, & aristarum similitudinem incido, uel fodio. Virgilius: Ferroq; faces inspicat acuto. & spiceus. Idem: Spicea iam campis cum messis inhorruit. Item ab eodem spina, hoc est sentis, qđ ad spiculi similitudinẽ acuta sit. à quo spineũ, qđ ex spina est, ut corona spinea, & spinosum spinis abũdans. & spinus pirorũ arbor, quod spinis referta sit. Idem: Et spinos prunaferenteis. Item à specio cõposita fiũt aspicio, qđ est uideo. Virg.

Aspice bissenos lætanteis agmine cygnos. à quo fit aspectus, id est intuitus, atque effigies cuiusque animalis, ut horridus aspectu, hoc est uisu horribilis, & qui effigiem habet horrendam. Transfertur q; etiam ad manimata. Plinius: Prærupta rupes, & aspectu horrida. Despicio, quod proprie est deorsum aspicio. Quintil. Nullam ego res humanas despicere prouidentiã reor, hoc est rerum humanarum curam habere. Quoniam uero ea, quæ contemnimus, quasi deorsum, & ad pedes nostros proiecta aspicere solemus, capitur despicio, pro cõtemno. Cic. Despectus ab omnibus, ac pro nihilo habitus. Ab hoc fit despicuus, hoc est intentus, uigil, cuius exempla apud Apuleium frequentissima sunt: & despicientia, & despectus quartæ declinationis pro contemptu. Excipio, cuius frequentatiuum est expecto, quod proprie significat obseruo, quasi diligenter aspicio. Terentius: Expecto quid uelis. Quoniam uero aspicientes aliquid diligenter manere diutius eodem loco solemus, expectio aliquando pro maneo usurpatur. Vir. Tyria Chartagine, qui nunc Expectat. Martialis: Expectant, curæq; catenatiq; labores. Item pro desidero, quoniam quæ desideramus cum uoluptate aspicimus. Idem: Expectate uenis. & prospero, quoniam quæ speramus, quasi cum præsentia aspicere uidemur. Idem Sed illos Expectata seges uanis elusit aristis. Ab hoc expectabũdus, et expectatio deducũtur. Suspicio sursum aspicio. Vir. Et fastigia suspicit urbis. Ab hoc fit suspicor notæ significationis, dictum, quod cum timore quodam ea uidemur aspicere, de quibus dubitamus. Virgilius: Suspectaq; dona Præcipitare iubet. Hinc fit suspicio, quod, si cum uenio iungatur, semp passiue accipitur, ut ueni in suspicionẽ, id est factus sum suspectus. & suspiciosus tam qui suspicatur, quàm qui suspectus est. Pro spicio longe uideo, quasi porrò specio. unde fit prospectus, hoc est libera, & non impedita prospectio. Item prospicientia, hoc est cura, prouisio: nam & prospicio pro curo, & pro uideo capitur. Plin. Nam & rebus illius non minus, quàm meis prospiciebam. & prospicuus intentus, ac uigil. Præspicio, ante uideo: inspicio, cerno: introspicio, introrsum aspicio. Respicio, retro aspicio, siue rursus aspicio, siue aspicio. à quo fit respectus, qđ modo ipsam (ut ita dicã) respectionem significat. Plaut. Et me respectu tenuit: modo rationem, qua ad aliquid agendum mouemur. Plinius: Nanq; eo respectu commotus abscesserat. Conspicio, cerno, unde fit conspectus pro aspectu. Virg. Vix è conspectu Siculæ telluris in altum, Vela dabant læti. & conspicilium instrumentum, quod adhibemus oculis, ut res maiores uideantur. Plautus: Vitrũ cedo, necesse est conspicilio uti. & conspicuus adiectiuũ, quod modo significat sagacem, perspicacem acutum. Quintilianus: Conspicuus, sagax, callidus. modo clarum, & qui ab omnibus conspicitur, quemadmodum hoc loco Martialis conspicuum amphitheatrũ appellat. Dispicio, prouideo, discerno: hinc dispicientia, hoc est discretio, consideratio. Perspicio intueor, animaduerto: à quo perspicax, hoc est cõsideratus, acutus. unde perspicaciter aduerbium, quod est consideranter, acute. Item perspicuus, clarus, translucidus, ut aqua, uitrum, crystallum, aliiq; translucentes lapilli. à quo aduerbium perspicue, hoc est clare. unde perspicuam quoq; orationem dicimus, hoc est claram, atque apertam. & perspicuitas à quibusdã, sicut perspicacitas usurpatur. illud splendorem, ac facilitatem, hoc aũt considerationẽ, et acumen significat. Præterea hæc aruspex à uictimis in ara aspiciendis. is enim est aruspex, qui inspectis extis, futura prædicit, qui & extispex dicitur. à quo aruspicium inspectio extorum, sicut extispicium: & ars ipsa aruspicina, quæ extispicina quoque dicitur. Item auspicia ab inspiciendis auibus, cum per inspectionem captabat auspicium. hinc factum est, ut dicamus auspicia ductum, atq; principiũ, quæ à solo duce capiuntur. à quo fit auspicari, quod non modo significat auspicium capere, sed etiam incipere: nec in bonam tantum partem accipitur, quod frequentissime est, sed etiam in malam. Plinius: At homo infeliciter natus, manibus, pedibúsque deuinctis animal cæteris imperaturum à supplicijs uitam auspicatur. nam quando non est uerbum, ferè semper in bonam partem accipitur. Terentius: & quasi repugnãtibus auto huc me attuli, id est non feliciter, & quasi repugnãtibus auspicijs. Quintil. Itaq; apud illos Homerus, sic apud nos Virg. auspicatissimũ dederit exordium, hoc est felicissimum. auspex dicebatur, qui nuptijs præerat celebrandis, quia auspiciũ pro nuptijs capere solebant. Adhibebatur q; hic pro parte maritis: sicut pronuba, quæ præest & ipsa nuptijs celebrandis, pro parte uxoris. Aliquando etiam pro eo ponitur, qui dux militiæ est Horatius: Nihil desperandũ Teucro duce, & auspice. Virg. auspicium pro potestate posuit: Communem hunc ergo populum, paribusq; regamus Auspicijs. ab eo, quod præcedit id, qđ sequitur, quod ijsdem auspicijs creati consules parem habent potestatem. Inter auspicium, & augurium quidam hanc differentiam faciunt, ut auspicium sit auium conspectio, & quod ex uolatu auium, & uocibus significatur. Augurium uero, quod rerum omnium coniecturas prudenter, ac diligenter complectitur, & tamen augurium quoque ab auibus, ac gerendo dicitur, quasi auigerium, siue ab auium garritu. Hinc augur, qui futura præuidet, & auguro, atque auguror uerbum eiusdem significationis. quamuis aliqui ita distinguant, ut auguro dicamus, cum præsagio mentis futura colligimus. Virg. Et si quid ueri mens augurat opto. Auguror uero, cũ futura ueris captamus, augurijs. Ab eodem auguraculũ ueteres dicebant, quam nos arcem uocamus, quod ibi aues publice auspicarentur. Augustum quoq; inde dictum opinantur. etenim proprie augustũ tectum augurio consecratum, sed per metaphorã ponitur pro nobili, & sacro, ac maiestatis pleno. Vnde augusti dicti sunt omnes Romani imperatores post Iulium Cæsarem ab Octauio Augusto, qui primus meruit hoc cognomen, sicut à Iulio Cæsare dicti sunt Cæsares: & omnes Albani reges dicti sunt Syluij à Syluio Ascanio Aeneæ filio: & Aegyptij reges dicti sunt Ptolomæi: Persæ, Arsacidæ: Latini, Murani. Augustũ quidã ab auiũ gestu, alij à gustatu dictũ putant, quia aues pastæ id ratum fecerunt. ERIGITVR. Eleuatur, ædificatur, in altum tollitur, de quo supra diximus. AGER. Qui in ædibus Neronis erat inclusus cum syluis, atque nemoribus. SVPERBVS. Ingens, magnificus, excellens. Superbus à superbiendo dicitur. Superbio autem à supereundo: unde quicquid in aliqua re excellit, superbum dicere possumus, quasi supra aliqua iens. Virgilius: Cecidit q; superbum Ilion, hoc est nobile, magnificum. hinc aliquando pro elato ponitur, atq; alto. Idem: Et gressus glomerare superbos. Idem: Quinque adeo magnæ positis incudibus urbes Tela nouant, Aruina potens, Tyburq; superbũ. Aliquando pro ornato. Idem: Barbarico postes, auro, spolijsq; superbi. Interdum pro opulento. Idem: Simul ense superbũ Ramnetem aggreditur, qui forte tapetibus altis Extructus. Hinc fit quod superbũ aliquando etiã pro arrogãti, ac truculento accipimus. Idem: Stirpis Achilleæ fastus, iuuenemq; superbum. Idem: Te Turne superbũ Cæde noua quærens. & pro uitabili. Idem: Foribusq; affixa superbis Ora uirũ tristi pendebant pallida tabo. Et pro iniquo. Idẽ: Quos illi bello profugos egere superbo. Antiqui etiam superbos propter pompã funeris, quemadmodũ supra diximus, mortuos dixere. Plautus: Faciam ego hodie te superbum, nisi abis. & mox addidit, auferere, non abibis. Item à superbio, quod est efferor, extollor, superbia deriuatur, quæ definitur supergrediens elatio mentis, ex qua nascitur arrogantia. nam nisi præcesserit occulta elatio mentis, non sequitur aperta iactantia. Item superbe aduerbium, hoc est elate, arroganter, & superbiloquens, qui superbe loquitur. à quo superbiloquentia, elatus, atque elegans sermo. Cicero: O scelera, animiq; impotentiam, & superbiloquentiam. Ennius pro superbe superbiter scripsit. TECTA. Domos, quas Nero incendi fecerat, ut domos suas ædificaret. Tectum proprie pars domus est, ea scilicet, quæ domum tegit. ponitur tamen frequentissime pro domo, ut hoc loco, et generaliter pro omni loco, in quo tecti homines possunt habitare. unde spelunceæ, tuguria, præsepia, casæ, & generaliter omnia ædificia, tecta dicuntur. Vnde architecti, & architectones dicti, qui ædificandi scientiam habent. & architectura ædificandi scientia dicitur. Plin. Grande, & Archimedi machinalis scientiæ testimoniũ. hinc fit architectari, quod est componere, machinari. Cic. Vt optime possit architectari uoluptates. A tegendo autem tecta appellantur. Tegere proprie operire est, cuius contrariũ est nudare, detegere. Plin. Hæ plantæ palustri arundine per hyemem tegendæ sunt. per metaphorã tamen tegere pro cælare accipimus. Mart. Quod tegitur maius creditur esse malum. Virgil. Vix adeo agnouit pauitantem, & dira tegentem supplicia. Quemadmodum econtrario nudare pro indicare usurpamus. Idem: Traiectaq; pectora ferro Nudauit. à tego fit etiam tegmen, quod etiam tegimen dicitur, tegmentumq; pro quacunq; re aliquid tegente, & tegulum eiusdem significationis. Plin. Tegulo enim aquatarum arundinum domos suos septentrionales populi operũt. Item tectum ouium genus, quod maiori lana opertũ sit. Idem: Ouium summa genera duo tectum, & colonicum, illud mollius, hoc in pascuis, delicatius, quippe cum tectum rubis uescatur. Colonicum loca magis culta appetit, unde habet nomen. Præterea toga uestimẽti genus, de quo inferius dicemus, quod corpus tegat, cuius diminutiuũ est togula, & tegulæ quod domos tegant: ex quibus, quæ ad balneas adhibentur, à laxitate dicuntur mammatæ, aliæ coctiles appellantur. & tugurium, quasi tegurium rustica habitatio ita uocatur tecta ex ulua palustri. tugurijs uti ab initio cœperunt mortales, prius quàm ad meliorem uitæ cultum se trãsferrent: quippe aut de frondibus facere tecta, aut speluncas fodere sub montibus, quæ à Græco uocabulo, unde originem habent, spelæa dicuntur. Virgilius: Certum est in syluis inter spelæa ferarum, Malle pati. aut hirundinum nidos imitantes de luto, & uirgultis sibi habitacula facere solebant. Tum obseruantes aliena tecta, & cogitationibus suis res nouas quotidie adijcientes casas efficere cœperunt, à facile cadendo ita appellatas. quippe à cado fit frequentatiuũ. Paulus: Si antea ex tegula casitauerit stillicidium, postea uel ex tabulato, uel ex aliqua materia casitare non potest. Primum enim furcis erectis, & uirgultis interpositis luto parietes texere. Alij luteas glebas arefacientes, struxere muros, & addita materia, quo imbres uitarent, & æstus arundinibus texerunt, & fronde: postea stramentis, & ulua palustri. Deinde paulatim ingenij solertiam exercendo ad fabricationes ædificiorũ gradatim progressi, non casas modo, sed etiam domos fundauere è lateritijs parietibus, siue è lapide structas: materiaq;, & tegula perficere tecta cœperũt, quæ ut hybernis temporibus imbreis sustinerent, fastigia faciẽtes proclinatis tectis stillicidia deduxere. Lutei ædificij inuentor Doxius fuit Gellij filius, exemplo ab hirundinibus sumpto. laterarias domos constituerunt primi Eurialus, & Hyperbius fratres Athenis. oppidum Cecrops à se appellauit Cecropiam, quæ nunc est arx Athenis. Quidam tamen Argos à Phoroneo rege ante conditum uolunt, quidã &

Item forcipẽ, marculum, uectem incudem, puteos, Danaus ex Aegypto aduectus in græciã. lapidicinas Cadmus Thebis, Archeophrasius phœnice, Trason muros. turres (ut Aristoteles refert) Cyclopes (ut Theophrastus) Phœnices. Aerariã fabricã alij Chalybas putant inuenisse, alij Cyclopas. ferrũ in Creta eos, qui uocati sunt Dactyli Idæi. Ferrariam fabricam Cyclopas. Quæ ergo nũc ueteri more ita ædificantur, ut nec parietes habeant, nec luto crustata sint, sed stramentis, aut arũdinibus, aut ulua, alió ue simili genere tegantur, tuguria dicũtur, olim teguria uocitata. à tugurium diminutiuũ fit tuguriolũ, quod sit arctius, atq; angustius. gurgustiũ nominatur à gurgulione uerme, qui in horreis nascens frumentũ absumit. eius diminutiuum est gurgustiolũ. Apuleus: Ergo breuitatẽ gurgustioli nostri ne spernas peto, sis cõtentus lare paruulo. Item à tego tectorium deducitur, quod modo adiectiuũ est: nam et tectorium opus dicimus, modo substantiuum. est autem illud, quo ædificatus paries incrustatur supra, quod postea illinitur, quod uocatur albariũ, nisi pingi tectorium oporteat: etenim, cum pingendum est, non illinitur albarium. In ædilitate Murenæ, & Varronis excisum Lacedæmone è lateritijs parietibus opus tectorium fuit propter excellentiam picturæ, & inclusum ligneis formis Romam deportatum ad comitium exornandum. quod opus, quod per se mirum esset, translatum, tamen maiori miraculo fuit. Item teges straguli genus è scirpo aut sparto, quo uiliores utuntur. Martial. Nec est amici filius ue uicini, sed in grabatis, tegetibusq; concepti. Var. de re rustica: Sicq; fiunt de cannabi, lino, iunco, palma, scirpo, ut funes, restes, tegetes. Plin. Nec in fruticũ, nec in uepriũ, caulium ue, nec in herbarum, aut alio ullo, quàm suo genere nominentur iure scirpi fragiles, palustresq; ad tegulum, tegetesq;. Ouidius. mattam scirpeam uocat: At dominus discedite ait, plaustroq; morantes Sustulit, in palustro scirpea matta fuit. Iuuenalis: Ausa palatino tegetem præferre cubili. Hanc uulgo nunc storiam uocant, quo uerbo etiam ueteres usi fuere ἀπὸ τοῦ στρωμνύειν, quod Græci sternere dicunt. Plinius: Cadiua mala separari oportet, & stramentis storijs, paleisue substerni. Hircius: Storias autem ex funibus ancorarijs treis fecerunt. & tegillum, paruum tegmen, Varro: Ob aquam è nubibus tortam indicat. fore, ut tegillum pastor sibi sumat. Tignum quoque, cuius diminutiuum est tegillum, à tegendo dictum esse quis dubitat? significat proprie trabem, cui tectum imponitur. Sed Vlpianus putat tigni appellatione contineri omnẽ materiam, ex qua ædificium constat. unde contignatio textura ipsa trabium, ac tignorum, sicut coassatio assium dicitur. Quidam etiam putant tegulam, & lapidem, & calcem, & arenam tignorum appellatione nominari. Item quæcunq; uineis necessaria sunt, ut pedamenta, perticæ, & similia. Est etiam tegillũ cuculli uinculum è scirpo. Plautus: Tegillum mihi aret, id si uis, dabo. Corticem quoque à tegendo quidam dictum arbitrantur, quasi coriũ tegens. Est enim cortex ueluti corium cuiusque rei, ut in arboribus liber, & in cæteris rebus ueluti crusta quædam ad tegendum data: nam corium proprie animalium est, præsertim eorum, quæ crassiorem pellem habent, ac duriorem, quod & scortum dicitur. unde scorta appellatæ sunt meretrices, uel quod sicut pelliculæ subigantur, cũ solum calciamentorum omnibus subiectum sit, uel quod in grabatulis pelleis stratas tenere consueuerunt. & scorteum quicquid ex pelle est, & scortor mercricor, & scortes arietinorum testium pelles. Quidam etiam scranteum dictum à scorto existimant pellem, in qua sagittæ reconduntur, sed scortum à græco tractum est ctum est. οὐτρὸς enim pellis est, unde scutica flagellum expelle, cuius diminutiuum est cuticula, & scutum, quod non sine pellibus fit. De quo scutulæ dictæ, quasi parua scuta: & scutulata uestis, de qua mox dicemus: & scutra id ipsum uasis genus, quod & scutula dicitur. Horatius: Vilia uendentem tunicato scutra popello, & scutilum tenue, ac macrum, in quo tantum exilis pellicula cernitur. Ponitur tamẽ corium pro qua cunq; pelle, etiam rerum inanimatarum. à quo fit excorio, hoc est corium detraho, sicut à cortice decortico, hoc est detraho corticem, & ab eisdem excoriatio, & decorticatio. Coriũ etiam tergus dicitur. Virgilius: Tergora diripiunt costis, & uiscera nudant. Nam tergum dorsum est. Vnde à tergo dicimus à parte posteriori membranæ, siue papyri, aut alterius cuiuscunque rei. Iuue. Scriptus & in tergo, nec dum finitus Orestes. Hinc fit postergo uerbum, hoc est posthabeo, relinquo, postpono. & quasi post terga iacio. à quo postergator, & postergatio, et tergiuersor, quod est fallo, & dicta muto. aliquãdo etiam contradico, quasi terga uerto. Nam uertere terga proprie fugere est, quod & terga dare dicimus. Plau. Quid expectas? Quid tergiuersaris? Proprie tamen tergiuersari est eorum, qui terga uertentes adhuc tamen pugnant, nec sese uictos rationibus uolunt agnosci. Cicero: Et huc, atq; illuc tergiuersantem testimonium contra se dicere cogo. Liuius: Monebant consulem hæc, sed tergiuersari res cogebat, id est quibuscunq; rationibus poterat ueritatem dissimulare, & quasi subterfugere. Hinc tergiuersator dicitur, qui tergiuersatur. & tergiuersatrix fœminum, & tergiuersatio ipse actus. Ponitur tamen aliquãdo tergum pro tergore. Virgil. Obstupuere animi tantorũ ingentia septem Terga boum, plumbo insuto, ferroq; rigebant. quod de pellibus intelligi Papinius indicat: At dum nigrantia plumbo Tegmina cruda boum. Vnde quoniã scuta pellibus tegi solent, tergũ nonnunquã pro scuto accipitur. Virgi. Dentibus infrendens, & tergo decutit hastas. à terendo autem tergum, & tergus dicuntur, quoniam uehendis oneribus teruntur. à pellis pellio dicitur, de quo post dicemus, & pellicula diminutiuum, & pelliceum, quod ex pelle est, & uersipellis fallax, de quo dicemus inferius. Plautus: Versipellem se facit quãdo lubet. à pelendo autem dicitur pellis, quod externas iniurias tegendo repellat. Hæc postq; concinnata est ad calceos, & cætera opera facienda aluta dicitur. Varro: Pasceolus sacculus est ex aluta factus. Cato: Pueris in ludo pasceolos furare. Ab aluta alutamen, siue alutamentum ueteres dixere opus ex concinnatis pellibus factum. Item alutarij, siue coriarij, hoc est pellium & coriorũ concinnatores. Plau. Hic alutarius cerdo. Proprie tamen alutarij tenuiorũ pellium dicuntur, coriarij crassiorũ. Pella autem urbs Macedoniæ fuit in litore Aegei maris illustrata maxime natalibus Philippi Macedonum regis, & Alexandri eius filij, unde uterq; Pellæus uocitatus est. Iuuen. Vnus Pellæo iuueni non sufficit orbis. Lucanus: Illic Pellæi proles uesana Philippi. Peleus uero Aeaci regis, et Aeginæ filius fuit ex Tyro filia Salmonei regis, quæ uxor fuit Cratei, cui Aesonẽ genuit patrẽ Iasonis. Pelion mons est Thessaliæ, ab oriẽtali parte, in cuius uertice pineta abũdant, in reliquis partibus quercus. Ouidius: Pelion Hæmoniæ mons est obuersus in austros Summa uirent pinu, cætera quercus habent. Item à pelle pellirem galerũ dixerunt, quod fieri soleat ex pelle. Est aũt genus clypei. à quo galerita auis, de qua supra. & galerus masculino, ac galerum neutro genere dicitur. Virgilius: Et temperat astra galero. Idem: Nec Arcadij bene protegit umbra galeri. & palear, quasi pellear. Sunt enim palearia pelles pendentes ex gutture, quales in bobus uidemus. Virgilius: Et crurum tenus à mento palearia pendent. & pallor secundũ quosdam, quasi pellis liuor. à quo pallidus, & palleo uerbum. à quo pallesco, quod significat pallidus fio. & expalleo, à quo expallesco. Pallorem etiam ueteres pro uetustate, & negligentia posuerunt. Lucil. Otium, inertia, pallor eum ad pauperiem rede git. pellem quoq;, siue corium alio nomine cutem uocamus, à græcis sumpto uocabulo, qui νάδιον nominant. Plinius: Ergo cutis ipsa sensu caret, maxime in capite, ubicunq; per se, ac sine carne est, uulnerata non coit, ut in bucca, cilioq;. Ab hoc fit cuticula diminutiuum: & recutiti dicuntur Iudæi, hoc est circuncisi, & cute, hoc est præputio priuati. & intercus, aqua quæ inter carnem, & cutem est. Item morbus, de quo supra diximus. & intercutaneum, siue subcutaneum, siue subtercutaneum, quod intra cutem, siue sub cute, siue subter cutẽ est, & cicatrix, quasi circa cutem. Est enim cicatrix signum, quod ex uulnere remanet, unde cicatricare dicimus cicatricem inducere. Item cicuta, quod ueluti cutem circũcirca habeat, intus autem uacua sit. est enim cicuta, quod inter cannarum nodos est. Virg. Est mihi disparibus septem cõpacta cicutis Fistula. unde & cicuta herba appellatur caule uiridi, & geniculato, ac uacuo, ut calami: altiore sæpe binis cubitis, & in cacumine ramoso: foliis coriãdri tenuioribus, graui odoratu, semine anisi crassiore, radice concaua, nullius usus. Semini, & foliis refrigeratoria uis. quæ, cum enecat, incipiunt algere ab extremitatibus corporis. Remedium est prius, quàm perueniat ad uitalia, uini natura excalfactoria, sed in uino pota, irremediabilis est. hac extinctus est Socrates. Fit ex ea ad refrigerandum stomachum malagma. Cohibet epiphoras omneis, dolorẽ in pleuresi supposita mirifice sedat. Anaxilaus tradit mammas à uirginitate succo cicutæ illitas semper stare. Compertũ est, si testibus circa pubertatem illinatur, uenerem extingui. Item à tego texo, quod quæ texuntur, magna ex parte tegũtur. Ab eo contexo, cõpono. detexo, dissoluo. intexo, simul texo. retexo interdũ aperio, dissoluo. interdũ rursus texo. prætexo, quod interdum significat antetexo. à quo prætexta, de qua inferius dicemus. interdum contego, abscondo, exeuso, quasi aliud q̃ sit ostendo. unde prætextum dicimus illud quo moueri nos ostendimus ad aliquid agendum, cum tamen alia causa moueamur. Sueton. Et prætextum quidem illi ciuilium armorum hoc fuit, causas autem alias fuisse opinamur. Virgilius: Non tamen Anna nouis prætexere funera sacris Germanam credit. Ouidius: Quamuis prætexens picta ferrugine cœlum, Venturam amittat imbrifer arcus aquam. Textile, quod texendo factum est, ut textilis corona, textile opus. & textor, ac textrix uir & mulier qui texunt. & à textrix textricula per diminutionem deducitur. & textura opus, & actus ipse textoris, siue textricis. & textrina locus, in quo texitur. & textim texendo. Item à tego composita fiunt circũtego, hoc est circumcirca operio. a quo circuntectum amictus genus, quod circum habeat purpuram. obtego, intego, contego, quæ ferè à simplicis sui significatione non differunt. Protego, quod est foueo, tueor, unde protector, & protectio deducuntur. retego, & detego, quæ pro denudo, & aperio capiuntur. MISERIS. Infelicibus, calamitosis, qui proprijs domibus expulsi fuere. Miser proprie dicitur flebilis, ac calamitosus. Virgilius: Stridenti miserum stipula disperdere carmen. Plautus: Studeo hunc lenonem perdere, ut meum herum miserum macerat. Cicero: O miserum atque infelicem hunc diem. Sunt, qui existimant miserum dictum, quasi missum, hoc est dimissum, & derelictum ab omnibus. Aliquando miser pro ægroto ponitur. nam & ægritudo genus est infelicitatis. Plautus: Miseram esse prædicat buccam, sibi fortasse medicos non esse putat. à miser miseria fit, hoc est infelicitas. Idem; Seruire amanti miseria est, qui præsertim, quod amat, caret. Item miseritudo eiusdē significationis. Accius: Qui infelix miseritudine factus est aliena. & misellus diminutiuum. Plautus: Censen' misello mali aliquid facturum? & misereor, ac miseror uerba, quæ ita distinguntur, quod misereri passiuum affectum habet. Est enim cor de anxiū esse ex alicuius miseria: miserari uero actiuū, estq; uerbis, aut lacrymis, aut ope dolorem, quē ex miseria alicuius habemus, ostēdere. Ab illo fit misericordia, quæ est ægritudo cordis ex miseria alicuius iniuste laborantis suscepta. nam dolor ex paricidæ, aut proditoris, aut alterius scelerati supplicio susceptus, mollicies quædam animi, non misericordia est. Ab hoc fit miseratio, quæ est significatio misericordiæ, qua ex alicuius infelicitate mouemur. Item à miserendo fit misericors, qui ex alicuius calamitate dolorem animo suscipit. à miserando miserator, qui opus aliquod misericordiæ exhibet in eum, cuius miseretur. Item à miser uerbum aliud impersonale deducitur miseret, quod simili modo passiuum habet affectum. Idem est enim miseret me illius, & misereor illius, quippe utrūque significat ex illius me miseria angorē suscipere. Exemplis plena sunt omnia. Cicero: Miseret me infelicis familiæ. Virg. Miserere animi non digna ferentis. Idem: Num lacrymas uictus dedit? aut miseratus amantem est? quod perinde est, ac si dixisset: Num saltem lacrymis ostendit se amantis misereri? Veteres misereo pro misereor dicebant, & misero pro miseror, & econtrario miseretur pro miseret. Ennius: Miserete manus, date ferrum, quo me anima priuem. Accius: Atq; ita de illis merui, ut iure hæc nunquam miserarent mala. Turpilius: Nunc patris me miseretur magis. Pacuuius: Vt accepisti me cum isto uerbo miseretur me tui. A miseror fit miserabilis, hoc est miseratione dignus. & miserandus, miseratione prosequendus. & à misereo, quo ueteres utebantur, miseresco, hoc est moueor misericordia. Apuleius: Cōmodum omnes miseresc imus. Virgi. Hic lacrymis uitam damus, & miseresc imus ultro. Item à miser fit aduerbium misere. quod interdum infeliciter significat. Cicero: Neque moueri eius desiderio non possum, qui tam misere periit. Interdum ponitur pro ualde. Terentius: Eam misere amat. Miserū aliquando dolentis est, ac si diceremus nefas. Virgil. Cecropidæ iussi miserum septena quotannis, Corpora natorum. Miserabiliter etiam aliqui usurpant. Apule. Oppido quàm miserabiliter illacrymans. Item à miseratione commiseratio fit. Est autem commiseratio, cum uel aspectu alicuius, uel oratione, uel etiam cogitatione adducimur, ut eum miseremur, & à misericorde fit aduerbium misericorditer. & à misero miseriter. Laberius: Mens incorrupta miseriter corrūpitur. THERMAS. Balneas publicas. Thermæ dictæ sunt ab aquarum caliditate. Græci enim θερμὸν calidum dicunt. Vnde Thermopylæ dictus est mons longissimus, qui mediam Græciam diuidit, ut Apenninus Italiā, incipiens à Leucade in occidentem, & in Aegeū mare, haud longe à Demetriade protēdens, fauces habens angustissimas, iuxta quas calidæ aquæ scaturiunt, ideo à caliditate portarum nomen inditū. nā πύλας Græci portas appellant. Hic locus plurimorum ducum facinoribus inclytus est, sed in primis memorabili morte Leonidæ: & sexcentorum commilitonum, nec tam grandi, quàm turpi strage Persarū. Mos ueterum fuit singulis diebus lauari. Itaq; omnes ferè ditiores priuatas in domibus suis balneas habebant. Erant præterea aliæ in publicum usum ædificatæ, hæ thermæ uocabantur. In primis celebres Romæ fuere Agrippinæ, Neronianæ, Titi Vespasiani, Domitiani, Antonianæ, Alexandrinæ, Gordianæ, Seuerianæ, Diocletianæ, Aurelianæ, Cōstantinianæ, Nouatianæ. hæ crescente principū luxuria, magno sumptu, ac splēdore ædificabātur, ita ut lauacra sæpe instar urbium uiderentur. Erant in his areæ amplissimæ: erant porticus, in porticibus exhedræ spatiosiores, habentes sedes, in quibus philosophi, rhetores, reliquiq;, qui studijs delectantur, sedentes solebāt disputare. tam peristylia quadrata, siue oblonga ambulationis circuitionem habent, quā græci uocant diaulam. una ex quatuor porticibus, quæ ad meridianas regiones spectabat, duplex solebat esse, uti cum tempestates uentosæ essent, non posset aspergo in interiorē partem peruenire. In duplici porticu ephœbeum in medio erat, hoc est exhedra amplissima cum sedibus, tertia parte longior, q̄ latior: proxime conisterium, quod & apodyterium uocitant, ubi uestes deponebantur. à conisterio inuersura, porticus, frigida, lauatio, quam Græci λοῦτρον uocitant. Ad sinistram ephœbei ἐκλουθήσιον, quod nostri unctuarium dicunt, iuxta id elæothesium, frigidarium. è regione frigidarij cōcamerata sudatio, ex aduerso calida lauatio. Atq; hæc omnia non in solo tantum, sed etiam pensilia erant. Tum quæ dicebatur palæstra, in qua exercebantur athletæ. in palæstra peristilia erant, qualia supra diximus. Extra treis porticus disponebantur, una ex peristylio exeuntibus: duæ dextra, atq; sinistra stadiatæ: ex quibus una spectans ad septentrionem perficiebatur duplex amplissima latitudine. Altera simplex ita facta, ut in partibus, quæ essent circa parietes, atq; etiā quæ ad columnas margines haberent, in semitas non minus pedum denū, mediumq; excauatum, uti gradus essent marginibus in descensum sex qui pedes ad planiciem, quæ planicies foret non minus pedes duodecim, ut uestiti circum margines ambulantes à cunctis se exercentibus minime impedirentur. Hæc porticus xystos apud græcos (ut supra diximus) uocitatur, quod athletæ per hybernā tempora intectis stadijs exercentur. Inter porticus syluæ erant, aut platanones, aut daphnones, hoc est loca platanis, uel lauris consita, quæ plataneta quoq;, & laureta dicūtur, in quibus perficiebantur inter arbores ambulationes, quas à nostris etiam xystos, & ambulacra diximus appellari. Quidam etiam neutro genere xysta nominarunt. Græci παραδρομίδας uocant, in quas per hyemem sereno cœlo athletæ è xysto prodeuntes exercebantur. post xystum stadium erat ita figuratum, ut possent hominum copiæ cum laxamento athletas certantes spectare. Stadium græca uox est. στάδιον enim Græci dicunt, Latine appellatur curriculum, in quo equi currunt, & certant athletæ. dictum ἀπὸ τῆς στάσεως, hoc est statione, quod Hercules eo spatio uno spiritu confecto constitisset. instituta quippe ab Hercule stadium tradunt, eumq; pedibus suis metasse id stadium, quod est Pisis apud Iouem Olympium, fecisseq; id longum pedes ducentos. Inde postea cætera stadia in terris Græciæ ab alijs instituta pedum quidem simili modo ducentorum, ueruntamen aliquantulum breuiora. ex quo collegisse Pythagoras philosophus dicitur plantam Herculis tanto fuisse, quàm aliorum proceriorem, quanto Olympicum stadium cæteris longius foret, cōprehensaq; pedis mensura secundum naturalem membrorum omniū proportionem statuisse, tanto fuisse Herculē corpore cæteris excelsiorē, quanto Olympicum stadium alia pari numero anteiret. Continet autem stadium octauam mille passuum partem: ex quo institutum, ut terrarum spatia, uiæq; in stadia diuiderentur ante, q̄ Romani mille passus inuenirent. Hinc Eratosthenes in omniū literarū subtilitate solertissimus, uniuersum orbis circuitum ducentorum quinquaginta duorum millium stadiorū esse prodidit: quæ mensura secundum Romanam computationem efficit tricentiesquindecies centena millia passuū. Hipparchus addidit stadiorum paulo minus uigintiquinq; millia. Dionysiodoro uero, qui Geometriæ scientia nobilissimus fuit, uita functo inuen cto inuēta est in sepulchro eius epistola Dionysiodori nomine ad superos scripta. Peruenisse eum à sepulchro ad infimam terram, essēq; id spatium stadiorum quadraginta duorum millium. ex quo Geometræ interpretati sunt, à summo terrarum orbe, unde missa erat epistola, ad pilæ medium esse longissimum spatium: & ex eo consequi, ut in circuitu sint ducenta quinquaginta millia stadiorum, cui mēsuræ harmonica ratio, quæ cogit rerum naturam sibi ipsam congruere, addit stadiorum septem millia, terrarumq; nonagesimam sextam millesimam totius mundi partem constituit. Efficit nūc autē stadium centumuigintiquinq; nostros passus, hoc est pedes sexcētos uigintiquinq;. Possidonius non plus quadraginta stadiorum alitudinem esse, in qua nubila, ac uenti, nubesq; perueniant, arbitratur. Inde purum, liquidumq;, & imperturbatæ lucis aērem esse. Sed à turbido ad lunam uiciescentum stadiorum, inde ad solem quinquies millies. Persæ non stadio, sed alio genere mensuræ utebantur, quod uocant parasangen. Id uerbum apud historicos frequentissimum est. Præter hæc nemora erāt prata, saltus, natatoria, ædificijs superbissimis fornicibus camerata, columnæ marmoreæ diuersorū colorum immensæ, insignia pauimenta, testudines auro refertæ, aliæq; delitiæ, quibus non mirum est, si principes quoque ad frequentem thermarum usum alliciebantur. Commodum imperatorem septies in die lauisse, frequenterq; in thermis cœnitasse memoriæ proditum est. Successorem uero eius Pertinacem, quamuis in multis esset modestissimus, in balneis tamen publico die natalis urbis commodianis ministris lauisse. Gordianū iuniorem ita lauandi fuisse cupidū, ut bis hyeme, quater & quinquies æstate thermas adire consueuerit. Galenum iuniorem hyberno tempore ter in die, æstiuo septies lauisse. hunc cum in hortos proficisceretur, uniuersa officia sequi solita: isse cū eo præfectos, & magistratus omneis, adhibitosq; conuuijs, & natationibus simul cum principe lauisse: sæpe etiam admitti solitas mulieres formosas, & puellas, & cum ijs commistas aliquando deformo sissimas anus, quod ioci causa à se fieri dicere principē consueuisse. Vsque adeo autem thermarum usus promiscuus erat, ut frequentissime principes cum populo lauarentur. Tradunt Adrianum in primis hoc facere solitum. Is, cum aliquando ueteranum quendam notum sibi in militia conspexisset, in balneo dorsum, ac posteriores partes corporis parietī atterentem, percontatus eum fuisse dicitur, cur se marmoribus distringendum dedisset, cumq; ille iccirco hoc à se fieri respondisset, quod seruis careret, & seruis eum, & pecunia liberaliter donauit. Paucis uero interiectis diebus, cum complures senes ad prouocandam principis liberalitatem eodem uenissent, seq; parietī identidem attererent, euocari eos iussit, & alium ab alio mutuo confricari. Heliogabalus beacteariorum, hoc est eorū, qui bracteas, siue per diminutionem bracteolas, hoc est tenuissimas ex auro, uel argento, uel alio metallo laminas faciebāt, quorum ars bractearia uocacur, & quod bracteis tegitur, bracteatum dicitur. & uitrariorum, & pellionum, hoc est eorum, qui uestes pelliceas, & alia ex pellibus opera faciunt. & claustrariorum, id est eorum, qui claues, & cætera, quæ ad claudenda hostia pertinent, laborant, & argentariorum, & aurificum, aliarumq; artium uectigal maximum instituit, ex eoq; iussit thermas tam à se fundatas, quàm superioribus principibus factas populi usibus exhiberi. syluas in thermis publicas deputauit, tintinnabulum ammouit. hoc instrumentum æneū erat, quo populus lauandi hora uocari solebat, uulgo nūc campana uocaur. Martial. Redde pilam, sonat æs thermarum, ludere pergis? Virgine uis sola lotus abire domū. de huius sono tintinire, & tintinabunt Næuius scribit. Oleum præterea luminibus thermarum addidit, cum antea non ante auroram paterent, & clauderentur ante solis occasum. Ipse thermis frequentissime usus est cum populo, æstate maxime, & sæpe uisus est cum balneari ueste domum reuerti. Econtrario Alexander promiscua balnea in urbe prohibuit. Item M. Aurelius Antonius à quodam philosopho monitus lauacra mista tradi tur submouisse ea lege, qua & defluentes matronarum mores cōposuit, & federi in ciuitatibus, equis, uehiculisq; prohibuit. Facete Diogenes philosophus, cum aliquando balneas exiret, interrogatus an in his multi homines essent, paucissimos esse respondit, rursusq; rogatus an turba multa? confessus est. Idem in balneis pedes unxerat, à capite in aērem spirare unguentū dictitans, à pedibus uero in nares prodire. MVNERA. Thermas inquit appositiue munera, hoc est dona data populo. Donum, munus, & præmium sic separat Donatus: quod donum, & munus, tam ante factum, quàm post factum dari dicit, præmium non nisi post factum: Donum uoluntariū esse, præmium deberi: donum dijs dari, munus hominibus: præmium uiris fortibus. Donum à liberali homine, præmium à præclaro. Terentius: Quoduis donum à me, & præmium optato. at Martianus inter donum, & munera hanc differentiam facit, quod munus est id, quod necessario subimus lege, more, imperio eius, qui iubendi habet potestatem. Donum autem, quod nulla necessitate iuris, sed sponte præstatur: & si non præstatur, nulla reprehensio, & si præstatur, plerunq; est laus. Paulus uero munus tribus modis accipi putat: uno pro dono, unde munera dari, ac mitti dicuntur. Alio pro onere, quod cum remittitur, uacationem militiæ præstat, unde immunitas appellatur. Tertio pro officio, à quo munera militaria uocantur, & milites quidam munifici, & municipes, qui in ciuitatē receperunt munera nobiscū faciunt, de quibus supra diximus. Munus mea sententia proprie est donum, dictum (ut Varroni placet) quod qui mutuo animo sunt, id dant officij gratia. nec à dono differt, nisi cum per metaphoram, uel pro officio ponitur, quoniam officia, aut à principibus, aut à rebus publicis muneris loco dari consueuerunt. uel pro ludis, qui à principe populus, quasi muneris loco exhibentur. Martialis de mulierē leonem in ludis necante: Prisca fides taceat, nam post tua munera Cæsar, Hæc iam fœminea uidimus acta manu. Vel pro onere, quia munera, hoc est officia sine labore, atque onere exerceri non possunt. A munere muneralis lex appellata, qua Cincius cauit, ne cui liceret munus accipere. Plau. Nec muneralem legem, neq; Lenoniā rogo, fuerit nec ne, flocci existimo. Munē officiosum ueteres dicebāt. Item eum, qui onera populō soluit, unde munia dicuntur obsequia lege debita, & officia. Item immunis, qui ab huiusmodi onere liber est, & immunitas exemptio ab onere. Munusculorum dies appellabantur quinquatrijs Idibus Iunijs, quia is dies festus erat tibicinum colentium Mineruā. quinquatrijs proprie dies festus erat Mineruæ Mattio mense, quo tempore matronæ inter se inuicem munera missitabant, & cœnas seruis apponebant, ut uiri Saturnalibus. Item à munere fit munero-uerbū, quod est dono. Macrobius: Ianus, cum Saturnum classe prouectum excepisset hospitio, & ab eo edoctus, peritiam iuris, ferum illum, & rudem ante fruges cognitas uictum in melius redegisset, regni eum socię tate munerauit. Ab hoc fit remunero, id est retribuo, redono. & munificus liberalis, quasi munera large præbens. & munificentia, liberalitas. & munifice liberaliter, & munerarius, quem Græci agonothetam uocant, qui ludos gladiatorios populo præbet, unumq;, uel plura paria gladiatorum ad spectacula pugnatura producit. quæ res munus gladiatorum appellatur, quia populo tanquam munus donatur, & qui fa-miliam gladiatorum habet, gladiatoresq; domi instruit, ac postea uendit, à laniando dicitur lanista. Gladiatores dicuntur generaliter omnes, qui gladijs pugnant, etiam discendi gratia ante, quàm in ludum producantur. Specialiter uero inter gladiatores sunt retiarij, qui aduersus mirmillonem pugnabant. dicti à rete, quod sub scuto gerebant, ut Mirmillonem inuoluerent. Mirmillones dicebantur gladiatores, qui genere quodam gallicæ armaturæ utebantur, quod mirmillonium nominabant. unde galli ante mirmillones nominabantur, in quorum galeis pisces effigies erat. Solebant autem retiarij aduersus mirmillonem pugnantes hæc uerba cantare: Non te peto, piscem peto, quid me fugis Galle? Cuius ludi inuentorem fuisse tradunt Pittacum Mitylenæum unum ex septem sapientibus. Hic enim, cum de finibus inter Athenienses, & Mitylenæos cõtentio esset, creatus imperator cum Phrynone Atheniensium duce, qui Pancratiastes fuerat, singulari certamine pugnauit, in quo cum rete secum sub clypeo gestasset, Phrynonem eo, dũ non cauit, inuoluit, eoq; perempto tutatus est agrum, quamuis postea orta rursus de eo contentione, electus controuersiæ iudex Periander Athenienſibus adiudicauerit. Digna certe memoratu est illa Pedonis urbanitas de mirmillone. nam, cum retiarium consequeretur, nec feriret, uiuum inquit capere uult. Item à munis fit communis, qui omnium est, quasi omnibus cõsentiens. à quo communitas, & aduerbium communiter, pro quibus ueteres munitas, & muniter usurparunt. Siquidem apud ueteres munes, & munifici, non à largitione, quæ ignota erat, dicebantur, sed ita appellabantur consentientes ad ea, quæ amici uellent. Pacuuius: Nam, quia tum largitio multis ignota erat, munificus nemo putabatur, nisi pariter uolens. Lucilius: Munifici, comesq; amicis nostris uideamur uiri. A munis fit munico uerbum, quo antiqui utebãtur. & à cõmunis cõmunico, à quo communio, & communicatio deducuntur, quando quod est, aut esse potest priuatim, fit uniuersorũ, & actus ipse communicandi. unde in communione bonorum eos esse dicimus, qui simul uiuunt, & redditus suos, ac lucra communicant, hoc est communia faciunt. Item à munus per diminutionem fit munusculum, hoc est paruum munus, & munio uerbum, quod est proprie instruo, orno, & quasi muneribus compleo. à quo compositum communio, & mœnia, & murus, de quibus supra diximus, & monile ornamentũ gutturis. Quam uis aliqui hoc à monendo potius deductum uelint, ut inferius dicemus. hoc etiam segmentum uocatur, quod quibusdam bracteolis, quasi præsegminibus constet. Vnde segmentatæ uestes dicuntur bracteolis argenteis, aureisue depictæ. Iuuenal. Segmenta & longos habitus. Plaut. Quàm pulchre segmentatã uestem. unde opera quoq; ex ligno uermiculatim depicta, segmentata dicuntur. Iuuenalis: Et segmentatis dormisset parula cunis. Segmentatis inquit, hoc est præsegminibus, id est tenuissimis ligneis ramentis, ac uersicoloribus depictis. quamuis etiã intelligere liceat segmentatis, hoc est segmẽto tectis. Item ornamentum equorum à collo in pectus prapendens. & mundus, hoc est ornatus muliebris, quasi munitus, quamuis alij à mouendo hunc dictum uolunt, quod mundus id genus ornatus sit, quod sumitur, ac deponitur. Mundum etiam neutro genere ueteres dixerunt. Lucilius: Legauit quidam uxori mundum omne penumq;. ab hoc mundus adiectiuum, hoc est purus, tersus, politus. à quo immundus, impurus, obscœnus. & mundo, & mundifico uerba, hoc est depuro, detergo. & mundicia, quæ & mundicies dicitur, hoc est lauticia. & contrarium eius immundicia, siue immundicies. & munde, atque immunde aduerbia. Vlpianus mundum muliebrem esse dicit, quo mulier mundior fit, continerique eo, speculum, matulas, un-guenta, uasa unguentaria, & si qua similia sunt. unguenta autem quibus unguntur ualetudinis causa, mundo muliebri non contineri. Item ab hoc mundo cœlum ipsum appellatus est mundus. Nam sicut Græci κόσμον, quod apud eos ornatum significat, ita nos à perfecta, absoluta q; elegantia uocauimus mundum. & ab hoc quatuor elementa, & quicquid cœli ambitu continetur, simili appellatione mundum nominamus. à quo mundanum dicimus, quod mundi est. Vnde interrogatus philosophus, cuius esset, mundanum se esse respondit. Mundum gentiles ter in anno patere putabant, posiridie uulcanalia, & ante diem tertium Nonarũ Octobris, & ante diem sextum Iduum Nouembris. Inferiorem enim eius partem consecratam dijs manibus arbitrantes, clausam omni tempore existimabant, præter eos dies, qui supra scripti sunt, quos dies etiam religiosos iudicauerunt: ea de causa, quod ijs diebus, quæ occulta, & abdita religionis deorum manium essent, in lucem proferrentur, nihil eo die in republica geri uoluerunt. Itaque per hos dies non cum hoste manus conserebatur, non exercitus scribebatur, non comitia habebantur, non aliud quicquam in republica, nisi quod ultima necessitas coëgisset, administrabatur. A cosmus uero græca uoce cosmographia deducitur, hoc est mũdi descriptio, sicut geographia dicitur terræ descriptio, & topographia loci descriptio. Item cosmeta, quod latine ornator, siue ornatrix interpretatur. Iuuenalis: Ponũt cosmetæ tunicas. Itẽ microcosmus, paruus mundus, quo uerbo frequenter utitur Aristotcles pro homine. Cosmus etiam excellens unguentarius fuit, à quo unguenta dicta sunt cosmiana. Idem: Et cosmi toto mergatur aheno. Petronius: Affer nobis inquit alabastrum Cosmiani. Item à munio fit præmunio, quod significat ante munio, uel ualde munio. & munimen munitio, ac munimentum eiusdem significationis, cum scilicet castra, oppida, turres, aliæ ue huiusmodi contra aduentum hostium muniuntur, siue uallo, & fossa, seu alio quouis modo. Nam monimentum à monendo deriuatur, significat q; quicquid mortui causa ædificatum est, uel quicquid ad memoriam alicuius est factum. unde sepulchra, statuæ, tituli, libri, cæteraq;, quæ nos rei alicuius præteritæ moneant, monimenta dicuntur. Virgilius: Veterum monimenta uirorum. Idem: Nostri monimentum, & pignus amoris. Per metaphoram tamen monimenta aliquando dicuntur cellæ meretricum, quod quasi sepulchra sint. Martialis: Abscondunt spurcas & monimenta lupas. VELOCIA. Repentina, quia diuus Titus thermas iuxta amphitheatrum mira celeritate ædificauit. Suetonius: Amphitheatro dedicato, thermisq; iuxta celeriter extructis, munus edidit apparatissimum, largissimumq;. Velox celer dicitur a uolando, quasi uolox. à quo uelocitas, celeritas, & uelociter, celeriter. Item comparatiua, & superlatiua uelocior, velocissimus, uelocius, uelocissime. Volo autem proprie est alas habentium, sed per metaphoram, & naues, & eos, qui celeriter currunt, uolare dicimus. Virgilius: Humilis uolat æquora iuxta. Idem: Ecce uolat, calcemq; teritiam calce Diores. Terentius: Ne frustra illic expectet, uola. Hinc uelis uolum mare dictum, quod per id uelis uoletur. Virgilius: Respiciens mare ueliuolum. Item ueliuolæ naues dicuntur, quod uelis uolant. Volare, & nare reciproce ponuntur. Virgilius: Velorum pandimus alas. idem de apibus: Nare per æstatem liquidam. eum nare proprium piscium sit. à quo fit frequentatiuum natare, unde composita sunt adnatare, quod est alla bi. circumnatare, obnatare, id est contra natare. Tranatare, quod & tranare dicitur, id est natando transire. enatare, hoc est extra natare. Prænatare, ante natare. innatare, subnatare. supernato, supra undas sto, non mergor, Renato, rursus nato, uel nato, uel natando reuertor. Connato, simul nato. Nare quoq; aliquando pro trepidare accipitur. Virgilius: Conditq; natãtia lumina somnus. & ab eo composita sunt anno. Idem: Huc pauci uestris annauimus oris, & inno. Idem: Et fluuium uinclis innaret Chœlia ruptis. & trano, de quo supra diximus. Et conno, simul nato. à quo connatio dicitur, sicut à connato connatio. Plaut. Connationis nostræ conscius, hoc est quod eandem adiremus mulierem. Idem: Cõnatat nobiscũ, hoc est riualis est. à nando etiam Neptunus dictus (ut Ciceroni placet) & amnis à circum nando, hoc est fluendo (ut quidã putant) Varro tamen ab ambiendo dictum amnem affirmat, quod amnes, hoc est flumina omnia circumeunt, propter quod cornuta à ueteribus pingebantur. Ab amnis antemna (ut quidam existimant) quasi ante amna. & Interamna Vmbriæ urbs, quod inter duos amnes sit constituta. Item à nando natrix serpentis genus, quod in aqua quoq; uenenum spargit. Cicero: Vt natri cum, uiperarumq;. Lucanus: Et natrix uiolator aquæ. Itẽ natrix herba est, cuius radix euulsa uirus hirci redolet. hac in Piceno utuntur, ut abigant à mulieribus faunos, siue fatuos, quorum ludibria pati eas per noctem opinantur. Nec mirũ id uideri debet. purgat enim eo humore, quo labefactata mens nocturnis uisis decipi solet. Natrix quoq; dici potest mulier natans, sicut natatrix, & natator mas. Natare aliquando ueteres pro nauigare accipiebant. à quo natinatio dicebatur negotiatio. & natinatores ex eo negotiosi uocabantur. & nassa à natando appellata uasis genus, quò qui intrauerit pisces, exire non potest. Plautus: Nunq; ex ista nassa hodie escam petam. Nasamones populi sunt Libyæ nanium syrtibus inuolutarum spoliatores. Lucanus: Hoc tam segne solũ, raras tamen exerit herbas, Quas Nasamon gens dira legit, quæ proxima ponto, Nudus rura tenet, quem mundi barbara damnis Syrtis alit, nam littoreis populator arenis Imminet, & nullos portus tangente carina Nouit opes, sic cum toto cõmercia mundo, Nau fragijs Nasamones habent. Item naricam à nando quidam dictam putãt, quod est genus piscis minuti. Nam Naritia insula est in mari Aegæo, quæ fuit Vlyssis. Item natatus à natãdo fit pro ipso actu natandi, qui & natatio dicitur: quamuis natatio etiam pro piscina, siue lauacro (ut supra ostendimus) Sũt qui nares etiã, ac nasum à nando deriuata existiment, quod per ea innatet, atq; enatet spiritus. Natare enim uidetur propter humorem in his existentem, qui ueluti purgamentum quoddã è cerebro defluit. Nasus, quod & nasum dicitur, ea pars capitis est, quæ è superciliorum confinio oriens, & quasi æquali porrecta iugo utranque aciem simul & discernit, & munit: & superius quidem usque ap medium solida formata est, inferius uero chartilagine adhærente mollita, ut ad usum digitorũ posset esse tractabilis. Duo autem eius spiramina, geminiq; hiatus, quos ueluti quidam paries per medium ductus intersepit. Nares dicuntur ideo duplices à natura datæ, ut altera spiritum ducere, altera odorẽ capere, utraq;, crebri purgamenta sine impedimento dmittere fas esset. hæ soli homini eminẽt: auibus, serpentibus, piscibus, foramina tantum sunt ad olfactus sine naribus. Notatum est aliquando aurium, & narium foramina septimo mense genitis defuisse. à naso simorum, ac silonum cognomina sunt, de quibus supra diximus. hunc maiores nostri subdolæ irrisioni dicauere, quoniam scilicet dentes naso obstrepunt, & quendam ueluti stertentis sonum emittunt, qui ronchus factitio nomine dicitur. Martialis: Maiores nusquam ronchi, iuuenesq;, seneſq;, Et pueri nasum rhinocerotis habent. à quo fit ronchisso, quod est sterto. Plautus: Cyathissat, dum cœnat, dum dormit, ronchissat. Quidam hoc à Græcis tractum existimant, apud quos ῥέγχος rostrum, & ῥύγχαι nasuta dicuntur. Ponitur autem ronchus pro derisione: uel quia deridentes rostra labijs effingimus in acutum extendentes: uel quia quemadmodum propter somnũ, ita propter nimium risum nasus humore impletur, plenus hũc sonum reddit, quod notari ex epigrammate potest, quod adolescentes ex Phædro lusimus. Mercurium hospitio mulieres duæ illiberali, & sordido receperant. Quarum una in cunis paruum habebat filium. Quæstus placebat alteri meretricius. Ergo ut referret gratiam officijs parem, Abiturus, & iam limen excedens, ait: Deum uidetis, tribuam uobis protinus; Quod quæq; optarit. mater suppliciter rogat, Barbatum ut uideat natum quamprimum suum: Mœcha, ut sequatur sese quicquid tetigerit. Volat Mercurius, intro redeunt mulieres. Barbatus infans, ecce uagitus ciet. Id cum forte meretrix ridet ualidius, Nares repleuit humor, ut fieri solet. Emungere igitur se uolens prehendit manu, Traxitq; ad terram nasi longitudinem, Et alium ridens ipsa ridenda extitit. Ob hanc causam nasus quoque aliquando pro acrimonia, & dicacitate ponitur. Plinius: Primus Lucilius condidit stili nasum, hoc est scripsit Satyram, quæ acerbitatem quandam, & acrimoniam stili habet in uitijs insectandis. nam (ut Quintilianus inquit) primus Lucilius in Satyra insignem adeptus est laudem. Martialis: Non cuicunq; datum est habere nasum, hoc est acrimoniam ad deridendum, & dicacitatẽ. à quo nasuti dicuntur dicaces, ac derisores. Idem: Nil nasutius hac, malignius q; est. & nasute dicaciter, & per diminutionem nasutule. Apuleius: Nasutula mulier, ac dicacula. Hinc uetus prouerbium est in eos, qui dicaces sunt, hoc est cum risu aliquos incessunt: Nasus Rhinocerotis, quia scilicet rhinoceros cornu unum in nare habet, unde ei est nomen. Apud Græcos enim ῥὶν narem significat, κέρας cornu. animal est hostis elephanti: cornu prius ad saxa limato cum eo pugnat. In dimicatione aluum maxime petit, quia hanc intelligit suis ictibus peruiam esse. Longitudo ei quanta elephanto, crura multo breuiora, colorem buxeum habet. Ludi Pompeij magni primo hoc animal ostenderunt. Minores feras animi quadam generositate contemnit, nec nisi irritatus in eas fertur. Martialis: Sollicitant pauidi dum rhinocerota magistri, Seq; diu magnæ colligit ira feræ, Desperabantur promissi prælia Martis. Sed tamen his rediit cognitus ante furor. Namq; grauem cornu gemino sic extulit ursum, Iactat ut impositas taurus in astra pilas. A naso etiam nasiterna dicta uas aquarium ansatum, & patens: Varro: Vt ex ære ahena, urceos, nasiternam, & alia. Item Plinius: Nasturtium nomen accepit à narium tormento, hinc factum est prouerbium ad excitandum torporem, κάρδαμον, hoc est ede nasturtium, quod perinde est, ac si diceremus, expergiscere, excitare. Hæc herba Erucæ contraria: quippe illa Venerem prouocat. Virgilius: Et Venerem reuocans eruca morantem. Columella: Et quæ frugifero seritur uicina priapo, Excitet ut Veneri tardos eruca maritos. hæc uero cohibet, & exacuit animũ. Commotas menteis sedat ex aceto sumpta, omnia intestinorũ animalia expellit. Anserem quoq;, & anatem ab adnatando dicta existimant. Sunt enim ex aquaticarum, ac palmipedum genere, & in aqua coëunt, præter eas, quæ domi continentur. Anser peruigil est, noctuq; excubias facit, cuius rei factum est periculum defenso capitolio silentibus canibus: propter quod institutum est, ut anseres publice alerentur, & cibaria earum censores in primis locarent. Martialis: Hæc seruauit auis Tarpei templa tonantis. Miraris: non dum fecerat illa deus. Ferunt Lacydi philosopho anserem fuisse, qui tanquã perpetuus comes ei semper adhæsit; nusquam ab eo, neque in

iecur anseris proceres gulæ saporis bonitate commendant. Fartilibus crescit mira amplitudine, & quod mirabilius est, exemptum quoq; lacte, & mulso augetur. Martialis: Aspice quàm tumeat magno iecur ansere maius, Miratus dices hoc rogo cruit ubi? Quis primus tantum bonum inuenerit Scipio'ne, an Metellus uiri consulares, an M. Sessius eadē ætate eques Romanus in quæstione est. Illud sanè constat Messalinum Cottam, Messalæ oratoris filium palmas pedum ex his torrere, atque patinis cum gallinaceorum cristis condire cœpisse. Velluntur his plumæ bis anno. Rursus plumigeri uestiuntur, ea mollior pluma est, quæ corpori proxima. Laudatissimi uero in Germania, ubi qui candidi sunt, uerum minores, ganzæ uocantur. è pluma non modo ceruicalia, sed totos facium lectos, adeoq; delitiæ processere, ut sine hoc instrumento durare iam uirorum ceruices non possint. Syriæ pars, quæ Comagene uocatur, adipem anseris in uase æreo cum cynamo niue multa obrutum, ac rigore gelido maceratum ad usum præclari medicaminis uitur, quod à gente dicitur commagenū. Ex anserum genere sunt penelopes à molliori pluma ita uocitati. πηνίσκα enim Græci uocant fila molliora. Item chenalopeces, quibus pro lautissimis epulis utuntur Britanni. Sunt autem minores anseres habentes pennas nigricantes ad similitudinem uulpinæ pellis, propterea χηναλώπηκες dicti. etenim Græci χῆνα anserem uocant, ἀλώπηκα uulpem. Item erythrotaones, in quibus nitor eximius absolutaq; nigricia, & in supercilijs cocci rubor, dicti ἀπὸ τοῦ ἐρυθροῦ καὶ τανύω, hoc est à rubro, & pauone. Est aliud genus uulturibus maius, quorum & concolorem reddit. gignitur in alpibus, & tota septentrionali regione, nec est ulla auis maior, excepto Strutiocamelo: intantumq; carne augentur, ut sæpe in terra prehendantur immobiles. In auiarijs perdunt saporem. Ab anſere anserinum derivatur. Plinius: Tubera efficacissime anserino adipe curātur. De anate locutus est Martialis: Tota quidem ponatur anas. sed pectore tantum, Et ceruice sapit, cætera redde coco. Hinc anatarius custos dicitur, & anatariæ plumæ, & anataria aquila, quæ anates circa lacus uenatur. Natum quoque uas aquarium à natando dictum quidam existimant, nos à paruitate potius appellatum putamus. est enim breue uas, ac latum, quod uulgo situlum barbatum appellāt. Græci autem νάνους, hoc est nanos uocant, breui, atq; humili corpore homines paulum supra terram extantes, quos nostri pumiliones appellant. Sed nani uocabulo nostri quoque ueteres usurparunt, nec de hominibus tantum, sed de equis, mulisq;, ac etiam sensu carentibus. Heluius Cinna: At nunc me genij nana per salicta, Bigis reda rapit citata nauis. Vnde quoque nunc mala nana appellamus, quæ alio nomine melimela dicuntur. Item à uolo fit uolito frequentatiuum. Plinius: Super aquas assidue uolitans. interdum tamen capitur pro discurro. Cice. Qui per forum uolitant. & uolucres quæcūq; uolant, nec aues solum, sed illæ quoque minutiores bestiæ, ut apes, uespæ, tabani, & reliqua ex pennatis, quæ insecta dicuntur. Sunt enim insecta reliqua terrestria, ut scolopendræ, stelliones: alia uolucria, ut apes, uespæ, alia utroq; modo, ut formicæ: alia & pennis, & pedibus carentia, ut tineæ, quæ in homine nascuntur, tricenum aliquando pedum, & plurium longitudine. putant hæc nec neruos habere, nec ossa, nec spinas, nec chartilaginem, nec piuguia, nec carneis, nec crustam fragilem, nec quæ iure dicatur cutis, sed mediæ cuiusdam inter hæc omnia naturæ: corpus nihil intus, nisi quampaucissimis intestinum implicatum, propter quod diuulsi uiuunt, & singulis partibus palpitant, quia in his ratio uitalis non certis mem-bris, sed toto corpore inest, minimeq; in capite. hoc enim solū non mouetur, nisi cum pectore simul auulsum. Dicta aūt sunt insecta ab incisuris, quæ nunc ceruicum loco, nunc pectorum sunt, atque alui. Cupido etiam propter alas, quas gerere fingitur, uolucer dicitur, & aliquando ponitur pro celer, faciq; cōparatiuum uolucrior. Martialis: Et uolucrem longo porrexit uulnere pardum. Item à uolo uolatus fit, & aliud uerbum uolo uis, quod animus, in quo uelle est, talis sit, ut puncto temporis peruolet, quò uult. Ab hoc deriuatur uoluntas, & uolentia eiusdem significationis. hoc est, quæ quid cum ratione desiderat. Sallustius tamen uolentia plebi pro placentia plebi scripsit, hoc est, quæ plebs uellet. Multisq; suspicionibus uolentia plebi facturus uidebatur. à uolentia beneuolentia, & maleuolentia deriuantur pro amore, & odio, quasi bona, & mala uoluntas. & beneuolus, ac maleuolus, & beneuole, ac maleuole aduerbia. Hinc maleuoli Mercurij signum, hoc est statuam appellabant, ideo quia in nullius tabernam spectabat, hoc est in nullius lucrum. à uoluntate uero dicitur uoluntarius, qui sponte sua aliquid uult. & uoluntarie, & uolenter aduerbia. Item à uolo Volones, quod bello Punico, cū deessent, qui scriberentur, serui ad octo millia pro dominis pugnaturos se pollicti, in ciuitatem recepti sunt, & uolones, quia hoc sponte uolucrunt appellati. Item uoluptas, quæ definitur præter modum elata lætitia opinione præsentis alicuius magni boni, in qua Epicurus summum bonum constituit. Hinc quæcunq; aliqua delectatione animū demulcent, uoluptates dictæ, quod ea maxime uelimus. unde fit uoluptuosum, & uoluptarium, hoc est plenum delectationis. & uolup adiectiuum pro uoluptuoso, & delectabili. Plautus: Hic senex, si quid clàm uxore sua animo fecit uolup, & Volupia uoluptatis dea, quæ & Angeronia à tollendo animi angore appellatur. Et uoluptabile, gratum, uoluptuosum. Plautus: Voluptabilem mihi cum aduentu tuo attulisti. Vultus quoque à uolendo dictus, significatq; propriè uoluntatem hominis, quæ pro motu animi in facie ostenditur, cum facies sit ipsa oris species. Sallustius: Prorsus in facie, uultuq; uecordia inerat. Ab hoc fit uultuosus, hoc est tristis. Cicero: In quo, cum effeceris, nequid ineptum sit, aut uultuosum. Quidam existimant faciem, non os tantum, & oculos, ac genas dici, quod Græci πρόσωπον uocant, sed formam, & modum, & facturam quandam corporis totius à faciendo dictam, sicut ab aspectu speciem, & à fingendo figurā, quod præclare ostendisse Plautus uidetur, dum inquit: Sed earum nutrix, qua sit facie mihi expedi: Statura non magna, corpore aquilo, ipsa est specie uenusta, ore, atq; oculis pernigris. quamuis autem uultus proprie ad animū, facies ad corpus referatur, ut mœsto uultu, irato uultu, longa facie, breui facie, est tamē quādo utroq; uti liceat fœdata facie, fœdato uultu, scissa facie, scisso uultu, conuersa facie, conuerso uultu. Ité à uolo cōpositum fit nolo, quasi non uolo, pro quo ueteres, neuolo, neuis, neuult. Plautus: Filiam meam tibi desponsatā esse audio, nisi tu neuis. Titinius: Ipsius quidem hercle ducem neuult. & malo quod significat magis uolo. Plautus: Mori mauult, quàm in seruitute uitam agere. Volumen quoque à uolendo dictum nonnulli opinantur, quod in uoluminibus, hoc est libris scribentium uoluntas appareat, sed melius sentiunt, qui uolumen à uoluendo nominatum existimant, quod maiores nostri in libris arborum, hoc est codicibus scribebant, & libellos illos quo ferrent commodius, complicabant, ideoq; uolumina appellarūt libellis similiora, quàm libris. Est enim prorie uolumen pars codicis, utputa Metamorphoseon liber in quindecim uolumina distinctus est. Ouidius: Sunt mihi mutatæ ter quinque uolumina formæ, hinc & euoluere librum dicimus, timus, quasi complicatū explicare. Item à uolando uulpes (ut Varro existimat) dicta, quod uolat pedibus. à quo uulpinari deducitur, hoc est fraudibus, atque mendacijs uera peruertere, siue effugere, tractum ab intorto uulpium cursu. & uulsire, siue effugere, tractum ab intorto uulpium cursu. & uulpinum modo quod uulpis est. Suetonius: Vbi leonis pellis defecit, uulpina insuenda est. modo astutum. Plautus: Vulpinus animus, ne quid moliatur mali. & uulpecula diminutiuum, hoc est parua uulpes. uersutum hoc animal est, & semper fallax. unde tractum est illud prouerbium: Vulpes pilos mutat, mores non mutat. Solertem in primis habet auditum. In Thracia locis rigentibus, amnes gelatos, lacusq; ad pastus transit. Obseruatum est eam aure ad glaciem oppositā, gelu crassitudinem coniectare. Item a uolo aduolo, circumuolo, interuolo notæ significationis. obuolo, contra uolo. peruolo, uelociter uolo. transuolo, ultra uolo. abuolo, uolādo discedo. prouolo, procul uolo. præuolo, ante uolo. deuolo, deorsum uolo. euolo, modo uolo. modo extra uolo. inuolo, irruo, insilio. Teren. Vt ego unguibus facile illi in oculos inuolem. Aliquando rapio, suffuror, & tunc à uola deducitur, ut sit inuolare, quasi intra uolam tenere. est enim uola media pars manus, siue pedis. à quo Galli uolema appellant pira bona, & grandia, eo quod impleant palmam. Subuolo, latenter uolo, siue latenter rapio. reuolo, reuertor, retro uolo. conuolo, simul uolo. Item à uolo sis ueteres dixerunt, pro si uis. & sultis pro si uultis. Item ab eodem (ut quidā existimant) uoluo deriuatur. Volando enim quasi uolui alæ uidentur. ab hoc uoluens dicitur, qui uoluit. uolubilis, qui facile uoluitur. uoluto, quod proprie significat uoluo. unde uolutabra dicuntur loca, in quibus se apri uoluunt. Virgilius: Sæpe uolutabris pulsos syluestribus apros Latratu turbabis agens. Aliquādo tamē uolutare capitur pro eo, quod est mente uoluere, & cogitatione perquirere. Idem: Id quidē ago, & tacitus Lycida mecum ipse uoluto. à uoluo etiam tolutus, quasi uolutus, & tolutim, quasi uolubiliter deducitur, de quibus inferius dicemus. Volua, seu uulua appellata est, quæ non significat naturam muliebrem (ut uulgus existimat) sed utriculum, qui in fœminis uesicæ iunctus est, à quo uterus dictus, quem alio nomine locos appellant, uulgo falsò matricem, cum matrix sit fœmina, quæ fœtus gratia tenetur. Columella: Nam & octies anno pullos educat, si est bona matrix. Idem: Igitur cui placebit sequi nostra præcepta, consideret oportet primum quàm multas, secundum, cuiusmodi parare debeat matrices. Idem: Sint ergo matrices robusti corporis quadratæ, pectorosæ, magnis capitibus. Estq; uterus duntaxat in mulieribus. Nam quod Virgilius de equo inquit: Vterumq; armato milite complet, ideo fecit, quia dicturus erat fœta armis. Apud Cæcilium uter pro uterus legitur: Nunc uter crescit, nō potest cælari. Dicta autem uulua est, quod fœtus inuoluat. Vulua suum, qua uescimur, secto partu melior est, quàm edito. Ejectitia uocatur illa, hæc porcaria. illa amplior est, iccirco inqt Horatius: Ni melius turdo, uulua nil dulcius ampla. Volua quoque in fungis dicitur tunica illa, quæ fungū inuoluit. Plinius de boleto: Voluam enim terra ob hoc prius gignit, ipsum postea in uolua, ceu in ouo, est luteum. Nec tunicæ minor gratia in cibo infantis boleti. Item à uoluo fit aduoluo, quod est agglomero. & circumuoluo notæ significationis. & deuoluo, decorsum uoluo. & reuoluo, explico. & inuoluo, quod proprie significat glomero. per metaphoram tamen aliquando pro implico capitur. Cicero: Sed quod uideret nomine pacis bellū involutum fore. Varro: Adest fax inuoluta incendij. Aliquando pro impono. Virgilius: Scilicet atq; Ossæ frondosum inuolucre Olympum. Interdum pro tego. Idem: Vertitur interea cæ-lum, & ruit Oceano nox Inuoluens umbra magna, terramq;, polumq;. Hinc inuolucrum dicitur, quod modo pro glomere ponitur, modo significat quicquid aliquid tegit. Cicero: Cum uerborum quibusdam inuolucris uteretur. Idem: Scite enim Chrysippus, ut clypei causa inuolucrum, uaginam autem gladij, sic præter mundum cætera omnia aliorum causa esse generata. & conuoluo, simul uoluo. à quo conuoluolus uermis, qui & uoluox dicitur, de quo inferius dicemus. Vulgus quoque à uoluendo deductum quidam existimant, quod stulte huc, atque illuc uoluatur. Est enim proprie uulgus, & masculino, & neutro genere ignobilior multitudo. Virgilius: Sæuitq; animis ignobile uulgus. Vnde uulgarem dicimus uilem, ac communem. & uulgo, ac diuulgo uerbum, hoc est omitto, ac uile, & quasi commune omnibus facio. Plautus: Cuique me absente corpus uulgauit suū. Virgilius: Quid me alta silentia cogis Rumperes? & obductum uerbis uulgare dolorem? & promulgo, quasi prouulgo. unde promulgatæ læges dicuntur, cū primum in uulgus educūtur. Hinc uulgator, diuulgator, promulgator, uulgatio, diuulgatio, promulgatio, uulgatrix, diuulgatrix, promulgatrix deduciuntur. & uulgo aduerbium, quod significat passim, ubiq;, cateruatim. Virgilius: Hinc lætis uituli uulgo moriūtur in herbis. Vulgo cōceptos appellat Modestinus, qui patrem demonstrare non possunt, uel qui possunt quidem, sed eum habent, quem habere non licet, qui & spurij appellantur. Item à uoluo uulga, quod numos, aliasq; res involuat. Est enim uulga, quam etiam bulgam ueteres dixere, sacculus scorteus, siue ex alia materia, in quo ferre uel pecuniam, uel alia uiæ necessaria solemus. Lucilius: In uulgam penetrare pilosam. Varro: Vt uiaticum ex arcula adderem in uulgam. Est etiam uulga, siue bulga folliculus ad brachium pendens gerendæ pecuniæ gratia. Lucilius: Cui neque iumentum est, nec seruus, nec comes ullus. Bulgam, & quicquid habet numorum secum habet: Cum bulga cœnat, dormit, lauat. Item bulgam aliquando pro uulua, hoc est matrice posuere. Idem: Ita ut quisque nostrum è bulga est matris in lucem editus. & econtrario uulua pro sacculo ponitur. Item à uoluendo uulnus, quod uoluendo, hoc est uibrando fiat. Distatq; ab ulcere, quod ulcus per se nascitur. Dictum (ut quidā putant) ab olendo, estq; tecta, & clausa malignitas. Virgilius: Quam siquis ferro potuit rescindere summum Vlceris os, alitur uitium, uiuitq; tegendo. à quo fit ulcero, dilanio, & quasi ulcus facio. & exulcero, quod proprie est ulcus dilanio. per metaphoram tamen capitur pro exaspero, exacerbo. Cicero: Ita mihi animum exulceraui. Item ulciscor, quod est uindico. unde ultio, quod uindictam significat. & ulceratiæ herbæ dicuntur, quæ ulcera excitant, ut Marrubium herba notior, quàm indicari oporteat, quæ ulcerare uesicam existimatur. Græci prasion, alij lynostrophon, quidam philopeda, nonnulli philocares nominant. Vulnus autem est hians, patensq; apertura corporis ictu facta. Virgi. Pressi'ue oculos, aut uulnera laui Veste tegēs. Ab hoc fit uulnero, quod proprie est saucio. transfertur tamen ad animum, & significat ango, unde et uulnus animi pro angore accipimus. Aliquando etiam pro damno. Plinius: Maximum illi fortuna uulnus intulerat, duobus filijs immatura morte sublatis. A uulnero fit conuulnero, & uulnerarius medicus chirurgus, quod uulnera curet. Præter hæc à uolatu tardo uultur dicta, nota auis, & propter magnitudinem corporis tarde uolans. nidificat in excelsissimis rupibus. Fœtus eius ferè bini conspiciuntur. Quidā autem hanc parere tradunt oua tria, uno ex his reliqua oua, nidumq; lustrare, mox abijcere. Sunt qui existiment uulturem triduo ante, aut biduo uolare, ubi sunt cadauera. Ab hoc fit uulturinus adiectiuum, ut uulturina caro. Romani augures immussulum uulturis pullum esse existimauerũt, sicut sanqualem ossifragæ, de qua inter aquilarum genera dicemus. Aly tamen immussulum putarunt aquilæ pullum dici, prius quàm albicare cauda incipiat. Vultur etiam Appuliæ mons est notissimus. Itẽ à uolando uulturnum deriuatum putant. uentus est, qui ab oriente hyberno spirat: Græci misto nomine, quod inter notum, & eurum sit, εὐρόνοτον, hoc est euronotum nominant. Et loligo (ut Varro existimat) quasi uoligo. uolitat enim hic piscis extra aquã se efferens, quod & pectunculi faciũt sagittæ modo. Ex mollium piscium genere est, sicut sæpia, & polypus. his caput inter pedes, & uentrem, pediculi octoni omnibus. Sæpiæ, & loligini pedes duo ex his longissimi, & asperi, quibus ad ora admouent cibos, & influctibus se uelut ancoris stabiliunt. Cæteri autem curti sunt, quibus uenantur. Loliginem nunc uulgo calamarium uocant, à thecæ calamariæ similitudine. habet enim ossicula duo, quasi cultrum, & calamum. Item cruorem nigrum atramenti modo, quod ubi sensit se apprehendi, effundit, atque ita effuscata aqua cerni non potest. A loligo fit loliguncula diminutiuum. Plautus: Emito sæpiolas, loliguncules. & miluus secundum quosdam à mollu uolatu, quamuis alij factitium hoc nomen potius à uoce uelint. auis est nota ex accipitrum genere. Notatum est eam, quamuis rapacissima sit, & semper famelica, nihil esculenti rapere unquam ex funerum ferculis. Eadem uidetur artem gubernandi docuisse caudæ flexibus, in cœlo monstrante natura, quod opus esset in profundo. Latet hybernis mensibus, & solstitijs afficitur podagra. à miluus fit miluinus adiectiuum. Ab huius auis similitudine, & piscis miluus appellatur, subiens in summa maria, & uagando aliorum piscium prædã agens. Vulcanum quoque plerique nominatum existimant, quod canus, hoc est candidus uolet. uolat enim flamma, & candida est. Vulcanus autem ignis est. Deum hunc, & Iouis filium fuisse ex Iunone ueteres finxerunt, qui, cum deformis natus esset, nec ei Iuno arrisisset, præcipitatus à Ioue fuit in insulã Lemnon, ubi à Thetyde, & Eurynome Oceani filia susceptus, ac nutritus est, uno claudus pede ex casu factus. Alij à simijs educatum uolunt. Deorum hic faber fuit, & Ioui fulmina, ac cæteris dijs arma contra gigantes fabricauit. fecit moni le Hermiones, coronam Ariadnes, arma Achillis, & Aeneæ, aliaq; complura, quæ supra ingenium humanum fuisse existimata sunt. nõ tamen ob hæc ad deorum mensam admissus est. & cum Ioui supplicasset, ut saltem Mineruæ nuptijs iungeretur ab ea spretus est. unde Virgilius: Cui non risere parentes. Nec deus hunc mensa, dea nec dignata cubili est. Post hæc Venerem habuit uxorem. Cicero præter hunc alios duos Vulcanos commemorat: alterum Cœli filium, alterum Nili, qui ab Aegyptijs Aegypti custos existimatur. à Vulcano sit uulcanius adiectiuum, unde uulcaniam tellurem, & uulcanias insulas dicimus. Item à uolo deducitur uelum, quod uela uentis agitata uolitare uideantur. Varro tamen à uellere dictum mauult, quod ex ouium uelleribus fierent uela, quibus homines tegebantur, quamuis nauium uela ex lino, aut sparto fierent. Item ea, quibus theatra tegebantur, quæ & uelaria uocabantur. Papinius: Iam uelaria linea pluebant. à uelo uelabrum dictum locus in urbe Roma iuxta Auentinum montem, quod ratibus, ac uelis eò ueherentur. quidam tamen non à uelo, sed à ueho uelabrum, sicut uelaturam pro uectura uocari existimant. Item Auentinum. Nam olim mons iste paludibus erat ab reliquis discluſus, itaque eò ex urbe aduehebantur ra-tibus (ut Varro testatur) Sunt tamen qui Auentinum dictum ab auibus putent, quæ sese Tyberi in eum locũ recipiebant, uel à rege Auentino Albano, quod ibi sit sepultus: uel ab aduentu hominum, quod commune Latinorum omnium ibi Dianæ templum sit constitutum. Ouidius: Luna reget menses, huius quoq; tempora mensis Sciuit Auentino luna colenda iugo. Ab hoc fit uelo uerbum cum suis deriuatiuis, de quibus supra dixi mus, quæ sunt uelatus, ueles, uelitaris, uelitor, uelitatio. à quo aduelitatio, uelitatim. Reuelo, à quo reuelatio, & præterea uelamen, quod modo pro ueste accipitur, modo pro quacunq; re aliquid uelante. & uexillum, quasi paruum uelum pro signo, quod in exercitu, aut classe imperatores utuntur. unde uexilliferi, & uexillarij dicuntur signiferi. Vestem quoque à uelando dictam Varro existimat, quod corpus uelet, siue indumentum significet. Virgilius: Nec non threicius longa cum ueste sacerdos: siue barbam, unde inuestes imberbes appellamus, uel sicut quidam uoluntimpuberes, ut econtrario uesticeps dicitur puer, q̃ iam uestitus est pubertate. Ab hoc fit uestiarium locus, in quo uestes uel seruantur, uel uenduntur. & uestiarius, qui uestiario præest, ac uestes uendit. & uestiplicia mulier, quæ complicat uestes. & uestio uerbũ, & uestitus, & uestispicus, ac uestispica seruus, siue ancilla custodiens uestes. & uestigium, quod ueluti indumentum sit pedis. Est enim proprie uestigium impressio pedis, id est signum, quod à pede relinquitur. Virgilius: Et gradiens ima uerrit uestigia cauda. Vestigium etiam significat extremam partem inferioris pedis. Idem: Vestigia primi alba pedis, frontem'que ostentans arduus albam. Item uestigium pro indicio ponitur cuiuscunque rei, quod scilicet uestigia indicia sint, illic eum affuisse, cuius uestigia sunt. Liuius: Pecuniam ex thesauris Proserpinæ noctu clàm sublatam, nec ad quos pertineat facinus uestigia ulla indago. & peruestigo, atque inuestigo, quæ significãt quærendo inuenio. Cicero: Ipsa tractatio, & quæstio quotidie ex se gignit aliquid, quod cum desidiosa delectatione uestiges. Idem: Nosse regiones, intra quas uenias, & peruestiges, quod quæras. Terentius: Nihil est tam difficile, quod quærendo inuestigari non possit. Hinc uestigabundus, uestigator, peruestigator, & inuestigator deducuntur. & uestimentum, quod ita à ueste differt, quod uestis generaliter dicitur, ut Stragula forensis muliebris, uestimentum uero particulariter, ut pallium, tunica, penula. Iurisconsulti uestem definiunt esse quicquid induendi, præcingendi, amiciendi, insternendi, tegendi, accubandi gratia paratum est. Alij nihil existimant uestem à uestimento differre, & uestimenta dicunt esse non modo lanea, linea, bombycina, serica, sed etiam scortea, frondea, scirpea, palearia, & ex quacunque materia facta sint ad corpus tegendum. Multa earum genera sunt. Virilia, quibus soli uiri utuntur. Muliebria, quibus solæ mulieres. Puerilia, quæ solis pueris conueniunt. Familiaria quibus utuntur serui, atque ancillæ. Scenica, quibus comœdi. Tragica, quibus tragœdi. Citharœdica, quibus citharœdi. Histrionica, quibus histriones. Parasitica, quibus parasiti, & huiusmodi alia penè infinita. Aliquando quod à Barbaris sumpta sint, barbara habent nomina, ut quæ à Parthis sumpta sunt, Saraballa dicuntur fluxæ uestes, & smuosæ: quæ à Germanis Renones, uestes pelliceæ, quibus in castris utuntur, quæ ab Hispanis strigia. Plautus: Nudus est, iurat se triobolo strigium oppignorasse. Quæ à Sardis mastrucæ. Idem: Mastrucatus, & plenus puluere. Item quædam interius sumuntur, ut subucula dicta, quod ea subter induamur: quædam exterius, dam exterius, ut supparus, siue supparum (utroq; enim modo dicitur) quod eo super induamur. Est autem togæ genus leuis, atq; angustæ. A franius: Puella non sum supparo si induta sum. Lucanus: Suppara nudatos cingunt angusta lacertos. Potuit tamen aliquãdo supparum pro sinu, & rugatura pannorum. Idem: imaq; pandens Suppara uelorum perituras accipit auras. Indusium quoque interius uestimentum erat, quod mox supra subuculam sumebatur, dictum quasi intusium. Plautus: Indusiata, Patagiata, sicut pallium, & palla uocata sunt. & foris supra indusium, siue subuculam tunica erat, uestis apud Romanos quidem breuior, & sine manicis. Nam his, quæ manicas haberent, longiores propè, usq; ad digitos, & propterea Græco uocabulo chirodotæ nominarentur, uti Romæ, atque in omni Latio uiros indecorum fuit. Solis fœminis id genus longe, latéque diffusum conuenire existimabant ad ulnas, cruraq; aduersus oculos protegenda. Viri subcrispas tantum, ac breueis tunicas sumebant citra humeros desinenteis, quod genus Græci uocant ἐξωμίδας. tunicas illas longas, & manicatas, quasi fœmineas Cicero & Virgilius exprobrant. Cicero: Manicatis, ac talaribus tunicis. Virgil. Et tunicæ manicas, & habent redimicula mitræ. Plautus: Manuleatam tunicam habere hominem decet. Horatius: Malcinus tunicis dimissis ambulat: est qui inguen ad obscœnum subductis, usque, facetus. Quintilianus: Cui latus clauus non erit, ita cingatur ut tunicæ prioribus oris infra genua paulùlum, posterioribus ad medios poplites usque perueniant. Nam infra muliẽrum est, supra centurionum. Erat & aliud genus tunicarum, quibus antiqui Romanorum utebantur, quas Colobia uocitabant, quod manicis essent mutilata. Nam Græci κολοβὸν truncum, ac mutilatum dicunt. Item alia tunica adasus dicta, quæ ab humeris non erat consuta. A tunica fit tunico uerbum, hoc est uestio. Varro: Hæc lanigeras detonderi docuit, tunicareq; homulum. eius passiuum est tunicor, unde tunicati dicuntur, modo qui tunicas induti sunt, modo expediti, & nullam aliam supra tunicam uestem habentes, quales dum ruri sumus incedere solemus. Iuuenal. Tunicati fuscina Gracchi. Martial. O soles, o tunicata quies. Dicta autem tunica est (ut Varro sentit) quod corpus tueatur. Amphimalla tunicæ erant gausapinæ ex utraque parte uillos habentes, quæ & gausapia dicebantur. Patauij ex lanis eius regionis, quæ mediocres sunt, texi olim solita. recta tunica, ita contexta erat, ut ueluti rigens staret. hac tirones, & nouæ nuptæ simul cum toga pura induebantur. Prima hanc contexuit Tanaquil, quæ & C. Cæcilia uocitata est, cuius lanam cum colo, & fuso in templo Anci Martij longo tempore durasse tradit Varro. Ideoq; à Romanis institutum, ut nubentes uirgines comitaretur colus compta, & fusus cum staminc. Chalasis tunicæ genus erat (ut quidam putant) quod Græci χαλάσεων uocant à laxitate. Alij dicunt nodum esse tunicæ muliebris, quo connexa circa ceruicem tunica submittitur. Supra tunicam uaria uestimentorum genera sumebantur. In primis toga propria Romanorum, à qua Romani togati dicuntur. Virgilius: Romanos rerum dominos, gentemq; togatam. Vnde anteambulones, hoc est hi, qui principes ciuitatis in forum officij gratia deducebant, ac deinde domum reducebant, quoniam id togis amicti faciebant, togati uocabantur. Iuuenalis: Turbæ rapienda togatæ. Martialis: At tibi non multum est, unum si præsto togatum. Hi per diminutionem etiam togatuli uocabantur. Item à toga epitogium dictum pallij genus, quod supra togam ferebatur, compositum nomen è latino, & peregrino, sicut epiredium ex duobus peregrinis, hoc est ἐπὶ

Græca præpositione, & rheda uocabulo gallico, quod significat uehiculum. Cicero: Quod si tuam heri rhedam non habuissem, uaricce haberem. Iuuenalis: Trito ducunt epiredia collo. Non dissimile est huic aliud uehiculi genus, quod eadem lingua Gallica Benna appellatur, unde combennones dicuntur in eadem Benna sedentes. Item togatæ uocatæ sunt comœdiæ, quæ scriptæ sunt secundum ritus, & habitum hominum togatorum, hoc est Romanorum, sicut Græcas fabulas ab illorum habitu palliatas appellamus. etenim Græci supra tunicam pallium ferebant. Romani frequentius togam, propter quod à tegendo toga uocitata est, pallium quod palàm sit, & foris, cum sub eo tunica esset. Quoniam uero in pace duntaxat togæ usus erat, nam in bello deposita toga, sed pallio, chlamydem, aut lænam; aut aliud militaris uestimenti genus sumebant, factum est, ut toga interdum metaphoricè pro pace sumatur, sicut arma pro bello. Cicero: Cedant arma togæ, concedat laurea linguæ. Plinius: Vt dubium sit togáne, an bello præstantior fuerit. In foro autem maxime togis uti uiri solebant. Nam principio communis hæc uestis fuerat tam marium, quàm fœminarum. Varro: Quas nunc in foro, prius etiam in lecto habebant togas. Ante enim fuit commune uestimentum, & diurnum, & nocturnum, & muliẽbre, & uirile. Postea uiris tantum relictus est togæ usus, solæq; adulterij damnatæ mulieres, ignominiæ ergò eam induere cogebantur. Iuuenalis: Talem non sumet damnata togam. Martialis: Coccina famosæ donas, & ianthina mœchæ. Vis dare, quæ meruit munera, mitte togam. Togarum uaria genera erant. In primis toga prætexta, quæ à uirili distinguebatur, quoniam prætexta duntaxat adolescentes utebantur ferè usque ad sextumdecimum annum, deinde uirilem togam sumebant. Seneca: Quantum credis me accepisse gaudij, cum deposita prætexta sumpsisti uirilem togam? Cicero: Ego autem à patre ita eram deductus ad Scæuolam, sumpta uirili toga, ut quoad possem, & liceret à senis latere nunquam discederem. fuit tamen tempus, quo prætexta non adolescentes, sed uiri, qui magistratum gererent, utebantur. Quippe Tullus Hostilius Romanorũ rex tertius, debellatis Hethruscis sellam curulem, licторes, & togam pictam, atque prætextam, quæ insignia magistratuum Hethruscorum erant, Romam transtulit. Sed postea Tarquinius Demarati filius quintus Romanorum rex, cum de Sabinis egisset triumphum, quoniam eo bello filius eius annos quatuordecim natus hostem manu percusserat, & pro concione illum laudauit, & prætexta, ac bulla aurea donauit, insigniens puerum supra annos fortem præmijs uirilitatis, & honoris. Nam sicut prætexta magistratuum, ita bulla triumphantium gestamen erat. Genus sanè togæ erat prætexta, cui purpura prætexebatur. Bulla autem insigne aureum, uasculi forma, quod triumphantes, ante pectus gerebant inclusis in eo remedijs, quæ aduersus inuidiam, & omnia ueneficia putabant ualentissima esse. hoc genus remedij Græci ἀλεξίφαρμον à depellendis malis dicunt: quemadmodum Hercules alexicacos uocitatus est ab eo, quod defensor esset hominum. Nos à præbendo, ut sit tutus, qui id in collo gerit, præbium, & ab amula amuletum uocamus. Amula quippe uasculi genus est, quod religionis, & expiandorum malorum gratia gestatur. dictum quasi amola ab amoliendis periculis. Plinius: Infantibus alligatur succinum amuleti ratione formam uasculi habens. Idem: Vua Tanimia pro amuleto utuntur. Idem: Cyclamini radix contra serpenteis omneis folia habet minora, quàm edera, nigrio-

ra, & tenuiora sine angulis, in quibus albicant maculæ, caule exiguo inani, floribus purpureis, radice lata, ut rapum uideri possit, cortice nigro, nascitur in umbrosis. A nostris tuber terræ uocatur, herba in omnibus serenda domibus, si uerum est, ubi sata sit, nihil nocere mala medicamenta. Hæc est, quam uulgo Panem porcinum uocant repræsentans ebrietatem: propterea ea ad pisces capiundos utuntur radice tusa in amnem coniecta. Idem: Fel canis nigri masculi amuletum esse dicunt domus totius. Idem: Scarabeorum cornua grandia denticulata, adalligata infantibus amuleti naturam obtinent. Idem: Corallium religiosum in primis esse gestamen existimant amoliendis periculis. Bullam ergo amulam esse manifestum est, dictam à similitudine eius bullæ, quæ spiritu in aqua excitatur, præcipue dum bullit, figura rotundæ. à qua cum mox desicit, notissimum illud, uerissimum prouerbium est: Homo bulla. Nulla certe fieri uerior comparatio potuit ad uitæ humanæ fragilitatem ostendendam. Nam quod aliqui bullam ἀπὸ τῆς βουλῆς, hoc est à consilio deductam uolunt, plenum insaniæ est. Ab hac bulla, fit bullo uerbum, quod est bullas facio. Plinius: Mala signa sunt urinæ bullantis, & crassæ. Et bullula diminutiuum. & bullio uerbum, quod est ferueo. & ebullio eiusdem significationis, à quo ebullitio feruor. Prætextæ igitur, & bullæ gestandæ mos à Prisci Tarquinij filio deductus est. Alij tradunt eundem Priscum, cum statum ciuitatis ordinaret, instituisse, ut patriciorum filij bulla aurea uterentur, & toga, quæ purpura prætexitur. hi tantum, quorum patres curulem magistratum gessissent, cæteris prætextam tantum indulsisse, usq; ad eos, quorum parentes equo stipendia iusta meruissent: interiecto deinde tempore etiam libertinis concessum, qui ex iusta duntaxat matrefamiliâs nati fuissent, ut prætextam, & lorum in collo pro bullæ decore gestarent. Lorũ proprie corrigia est ex corio, quã Græci ἱμάντα uocant. Ideo ponitur pro cingulo, unde poëtæ balteum Veneris, qui cestus dicitur, lorum appellant. hinc loripes uocatur, qui pedem in modum lori tardum habet. Iuuenalis: Loripedem rectus derideat, Aethiopem albus. Lora etiam habenas uocamus, & retinacula iumentorum. Item zonas, ac uolumina ex corio bubulo, quibus pugiles utebantur. Papinius: Et nigra gerebat Lora manu. Præterea, quæcunq; ligamina lora dici possunt. Et loramenta ligamenta, etiam quæ ex tabulis fiunt. Hieronymus: Loramento ligneo circũdatum ædificij fundamentum non dissoluetur. Ab hoc, lorum etiam pro corigia accipitur, qua homines uerberantur. unde lorarij dicebantur, qui in scænicis fabulis parebant ijs, qui ludis erant præfecti, & uel uinciebant, uel cædebant eos, quos iussi erant uincire, uel cædere. Tortores quoque lorarios uocatos inuenimus. Item lora dicuntur corigiæ, quibus lecti, & sellæ instruuntur, super quibus tomenta, uel culcitræ imponuntur. Martial. Nouis linteis, lorisq;. Hinc etiam funiculus aureus argenteus'ue, qui collo gestari solet lorum appellatur. A loro lorica dicitur munimentum corporis, quale in Imperatorum antiquissimis statuis uidemus, quod si in numine sit, Aegis ægidis dicitur, habetq; in medio caput Medusæ. Veteres è loris, de corio crudo pectoralia faciebant. Virgilius: Cui pellis latos humeros erepta iuuenco Pugnatorem operit. postea ex annulis ferratam instituere. A lorica fit lorico uerbum, quod est loricam induo. capitur etiam pro armo. Ab eo compositum fit dilorico, quod est discindo. Cicero: Qui in causa peroranda non dubitauit reum excitare consularem, & eius diloricare tunicam.

eos secundum dicitur. Non potest iure uocari uinum, quamuis inter uina operaria numeretur. Tria eorum genera. Primum decima parte aquæ addita, quàm musti expressa sit, & ita nocte, & die madefactis uinaceis, rursusq; prælo subiectis. Secundum tertia parte eius, quod expressum sit, addita aquæ, expressoq; decocto ad tertias parteis. Tertium fecibus uini expressum, quod fecatum Cato appellat. Sunt qui existiment à Romulo ingenuis pueris tributum, ut cordis figuram in bulla, ante pectus adnecterent, quam inspicientes, ita demum se esse homines cogitarent, si corde præstarent. Togam uero prætextam ea ratione adiunctam, ut ex purpuræ rubore ingenuitatis pudorem præ se ferrent. A prætexta prætextati dicti, qui prætexta utuntur, sicut à toga togati. Prætextati autem sunt quamdiu uirilem togam non sumpserunt. Hi pro malefactis non soluebant multam, sed anguillarum tergoribus uerberari solebant. Nefas autem his erat obscœno uerbo uti, ideoq; prætextatum appellabant sermonem, qui nihil obscœnitatis haberet. prætexta bulla nulli alij licebat uti, quàm ei qui funus faciebat. Primus autem prætextati cognomentum adeptus est Papyrius puer. Mos olim senatoribus erat in curiam cum prætextatis filijs ingredi, quoties in Senatu de re aliqua acturi essent: quod si in posterum diem prolata res foret, placuit nequis rem, super qua sermo habitus foret, nuntiaret, prius quàm decreta esset. Mater Papyrij, qui cum patre in curia fuerat, quid nam in Senatu actum à patribus foret, filium rogat: ille nefas esse id dicere respõdit. fit illa cognoscendi quid actum esset auidior, filiumq; importunius urget. Tum ille actum in senatu confingit, utrum reipublicæ utilius uideretur, unus'ne, ut duas uxores haberet, an ut duobus una nupta esset. Ea re intellecta, mulier domo egreditur, rem cæteris narrat. Postridie magnus matrumfamiliâs numerus ad Senatum confluit, omnesq; fluentibus lachrymis obsecrant, una potius ut duobus nupta sit, quàm ut unus uir duas habeat uxores. Admiratur senatus rei nouitatem, ac stupet. Tum puer Papyrius rem aperit. Senatus fidem, atq; ingenium pueri exosculatus consultum facit, nequis posthac puer cum patre curiam introëat præter unum Papyrium, eiq; publico decreto prætextati indidit cognomen, ob tacendi, loquendiq; in prætexta ætate prudentiam. Id postea cognomen in omnem eius familiam translatum fuit. Item à prætexta prætextæ dictæ sunt fabulæ. Horatius: Vel qui prætextas, uel qui docuere togatas. Togatarum enim fabularum species tot penè sunt, quot palliatarum. Primæ species prætextæ dicuntur, in quibus Imperatorum negotia agebantur, et publica, regesq; Romani, uel duces inducebantur, personarum dignitate penè tragœdijs similes: dictæ prætextæ, quod in his ferè regum, aut magistratuum acta comprehenduntur, qui principio prætexta toga utebantur. Secunda est species togatarum, quæ tabernariæ dicuntur humilitate personarum, & similitudine argumentorum Comœdijs pares, in quibus non magistratus, regesq;, sed humiles homines, & priuatæ domus inducuntur: uocatæ tabernariæ, quod olim tabulis domus cõmuniter tegerentur. Tertia species Attellanarum fabularũ est, quæ à ciuitate Oscorum Attellana, in qua primum cœptæ sunt, Attellanæ sunt dictæ, argumentis, dictisq; iocularibus, similes satyricis fabulis Græcis. Quarta species planipedes Græce dicitur Mimus. Ideo enim Latine planipes uocatur, quia actores pedibus planis, id est nudis proscænium introibant, non, ut Tragici actores, cum cothurnis, neque, ut comici, cum soccis, quod olim non in suggesto scænæ, sed in plano orchestræ positis instrumentis mimicis actitabant. Togata prætexta à tra-gœdia differt, quod in tragœdia heroës introducuntur, ut Pacuuius tragœdias heroicis nominibus inscripsit Orestẽ, Chrysen, & his similia. In prætexta autem introducuntur magni uiri, inscribunturq; Brutus, Decius, Marcellus, & huiusmodi. Togata tabernaria à comœdia differt, quod in comœdia Græci ritus inducuntur, græcæq; personæ, in illa uero latinæ. in hac maxime excelluisset Afranius, nisi argumenta fœdis puerorum amoribus inquinasset. Atellana à Satyrica differt, quod in satyrica ferè satyrorum personæ introducuntur, aut siquæ sunt ridiculæ similes satyris. In Atellana obscœnæ, turpesq; personæ. Mimus est sermonis cuiuslibet sine reuerentia uel factorum cum lasciuia imitatio, dictus quasi solus imitetur, μιμοῦμαι imitor. Nam & si alia poëmata idem faciant, solus tamen mimus, quasi priuilegio quodam quod fuit commune possedit. Mimus etiam histrionem significat, quod mores, gestus, ac naturas hominum imitetur. Togæ prætcrea alia quoq; genera erant. Toga Regia, quæ & undulata dicebatur, qua Seruius Tullus Romanorum rex usus fuit, facta primo à C. Cæcilia: & dicta undulata ab undarum similitudine, quemadmodum supra diximus. Toga pura, quæ non erat obsita, non fuliginosa, non maculam habens. Induebanturq; ea sacerdotes ad sacrificium, & nouæ nuptæ, & tirones cum sacramento militiæ obstringebantur. Toga picta, in qua aliquæ figuræ intextæ, seu pictæ erant. Nam picturam Homeri temporibus fuisse indicio est, quod pictarum uestium mentionem facit Homerus. τὴν δ' εὗρ' ἐν μεγάρῳ. ἡ δὲ μέγαν ἱστὸν ὕφαινεν, δίπλακα μαρμαρέην, πολέας δ' ἐνέπασσεν ἀέθλους τρώων θ' ἱπποδάμων, καὶ ἀχαιῶν χαλκοχιτώνων. Hanc, inquit, inuenit in atrio. hæc magnam telam texebat, duplicem marmoreã, multa autem pingebat certamina Troianorum domitorũ equorum, & Achiuorum æneas habentium uesteis. Qui picturam uolunt Homeri tempore nõ fuisse in usu ἐνέπασσεν exponunt non pingebat, sed intexebat. Toga soriculata, quæ uarijs conserta coloribus erat, Varro uermiculatam, ac soriculatam uestem, dicta à conserendo. Nam & sorilla nauigia Istrica uocantur, quod lino, ac sparto cõserantur & condensentur. Toga rasa, phrygiaq;, quæ nullos habeat uillos, acuq; texitur, & à Græcis fœminino genere γαλβάνη à nobis neutro Galbanum dicitur à colore albo, ac sublucido. Iuuenalis: Et galbana rasa. à quo galbanatus dicitur galbano indutus. Et galbinus mollis, lasciuus. Martialis: Galbinos habet mores. Et galbaneus mali odoris, & galbeum genus ornamenti muliebris. Galbanum arbor est Syriæ in Amano monte similis ferulæ resinam producens puram, translucidam, similem amoniaco candore, quæ lomento, & sagapeno, hoc est lachryma ferulæ ob nitoris similitudinem adulterari solet. Acu facere huiusmodi uestes Idæi phryges inuenere. Ideoq; appellatæ sunt phrygianæ, & qui eas faciebant phrygiones dicti. Plautus: Stat fullo, phrygio, aurifex, lanarius. Hæc in usu D. Augusti temporibus cœpere. Phrygia minoris Asiæ prouincia est à phrygio amne, qui illam à Caria diuidit, sic cognominata, uel (ut alij uolũt) à Phrygia Cecropis filia. in hac est Dardania, à Dardano Iouis filio appellata. à quo Dardanidæ, postea à Troẽ nepote, hoc est filio Erichthonij filij Dardani Troia nuncupata. Toga crebra papauerata aliquando antiquior fuit. Siquidem à Lucilio poëta in Torquato notata est. Dicta crebra à spissitudine, papauerata à colore candido. Genus est papaueris albi satiui, cuius semen tostum in secunda mensa cum melle apud antiquos edebatur, & eo panis rustici crustæ cum ouo infundebantur, hoc præcipuum quendam candorem lina, & lanæ contrahunt. Eadem toga & spissa dicebatur. Toga rara contraria crebræ. Martialis: Lis nunquam, toga rara, mens quieta. Eadem per diminutionem, & ralla dicebatur. Plautus: Toga ralla, tunica spissa. Erat & alia toga regia, auro & purpura intexta, qua soli reges, & augures utebantur, eademq; trabea uocabatur. Virgilius: Ipse quirinali lituo, paruaq; sedebat succinctus trabea, læuáque ancile gerebat. Et regilla, ac basilica, quibus similiter reges utebantur. Pautus: An regillam, an basilicam induam, an mendiculam? Toga triumphalis, qua imperatores triumphantes utebantur. hæc picta erat, & togæ Iouis similis, & Palmata, siue palmaris dicebatur, quod ea utebantur, qui palmam, hoc est uictoriam meruissent. Martialis: Palmatæq; ducem, sed cito redde togæ. Flaminea toga, siue flãmea, qua boni ominis gratia sponsæ utebantur, ut inferius dicemus. Attalica toga, in qua aurum erat intextum, quod Attalum regem in Asia inuenisse constat, ex quo sumpsit nomen. Toga Babylonica, in qua diuersi erant picturæ colores, quam Babylon maxime celebrauit. Toga polymita, quæ plurimis licijs contexta est. Græci μίτον filum uocant, quod nos licium dicimus. A quo μονόμιτα dicuntur, quæ uno licio constant, δίμιτα quæ duobus, τρίμιτα quæ tribus, πολύμιτα quæ pluribus. hoc genus togæ Alexandeia primum instituit. Alterum eius genus est, quæ cubicularia polymita dicitur, de qua Martialis: Hæc tibi memphitis tellus dat munera, uicta est Pectine niliaco iam Babylonis acus. Toga scutulata, quæ Istriæ, liburniæq;, & alijs huiusmodi pilis potius, quàm lanis texta erat, & scutulis quibusdam undulatæ similis. hanc prima Gallia inuenit. Scutula aliquando serpentis genus est in Africa. aliquando uasculi genus rotundi, concaui. Mart. Sic implet gabatas, paropsidesq;, Et leueis scutulas, cauasq; lanceis. Lucilius: Et scutulam ligneam in cerebrum fixit. Huius diminutiuum est scutella. Cicero: Collocemus in culcitra plumea psaltriam, adducamus, demus scutellam dulciculæ potionis, aliquid prouideamus, & cibi. nõnunquam significat hastam teretem, qua lina tunduntur. Quapropter, & exigua hastula, in qua Lacedæmonij membranam inuoluentes literas scribebant, scutula uocabatur. id genus erat furtiuarum literarum. Nam reuoluta ex trunco membrana, literas truncas, mutilasq; reddebat, membraq; earum spargebat in parteis diuersissimas, adeo, ut non nisi implicata in eodem surculo membrana, legi possent, huiusmodi epistolam Lacedæmonij σκυτάλην, hoc est scutulam uocant. A scutula igitur quando uasis genus est, scutulatæ uestes appellatæ, quod orbibus quibusdam quasi scutulis depictæ sunt. Cærulea indutus scutulata, aut galbana rasa. Toga forensis, quam ad forũ proficiscentes sumebant. Apuleius: Forensi toga indutus accũbebat. Hæc & neutro genere forensia uocabantur. Idem: Sumpsit pallium, forensia domi reliquit. Suetonius de Augusto: Forensia, & calceos nunquam non intra cubiculum habuit. Toga triclinaris, cum qua discumbere in conuiuijs solebant. hæc & cœnatoria dicebatur. Martialis: Cœnatoria mittat aduocato. Idem de cœnatorijs: Nec fora sunt nobis, sed nec uadimonia nota, His opus est pictis accubuisse toris. Vocabãtur etiam recidipna composito ex utraq; lingua uocabulo. reciniũ enim apud nos est uestis antiquissima quadrata, ut Varro refert, cuius mediam partem retrorsum iaciebant, unde reciniati mimi dicebantur. δεῖπνον uero apud Græcos cœnam significat. Itaq; recidipna dictæ sunt uestes, quas uocant cœnatoria. Iuuenalis: Rusticus ille tuus sumit recidipna Quirine. Eadem etiam triclinaria dicũtur. Plinius: Metellus Scipioni triclinaria babylonica sestertiũ octuaginta millibus uenisse: iam tunc imponit in capitalibus criminibus, quæ Neroni prĩcipi quadringentis millibus sestertiũ nuper stetere. Præter togã alia quoq; uestimentorum genera in usu fuere. Pallium supra tunicam sereno tempore sumebatur. uestis erat honestior longe, latéque diffusa, & uiris, mulieribúsque conueniens. Cuius diminutiuum est palliolũ, quod significat breuius pallium ad caput tegendum. unde palliolatim aduerbium. Plautus: Palliolatim amictus, sic incessi ludibundus. & palliolatus huiusmodi palliolo indutus, & palliastrum rude pallium, & uile. Apuleius: Ecce Socratem contubernalem meum conspicio, humi sedebat scissili palliastro semiamictus. & pallio uerbum, quod pro cælo accipitur. Apuleius: Nec palliari tam aperta res potest. Palla uero duntaxat muliebre uestimentum est ad uestigia usque demissum. Virgilius: Pro longæ tegmine pallæ Tigridis exuuiæ per dorsum à uertice pendent. Idem: Pallam signis, auroq; rigentem. Plautus: Pallam ad phrygionẽ fert confecto prandio. In Gallia tamen uiri quoq; palla utebantur, sed breuiore. Martialis: Dimidiasq; nates gallica palla tegit. Nebuloso uero, seu pluuio tempore, pro pallio penulã supra tunicam sumebant. Pomponius: Penulam in caput induce, ne te noscat. Quintilianus: Galba penulam roganti non possum commodare inquit, domi maneo, cum cœnaculum eius perplueret. Idem: Galba penulam roganti respondit, non pluit, non est opus tibi. Si pluet, ipse utar. hæc si è pellibus esset, scortea (ut supra diximus) uocabatur. Scorta enim ueteres pelleis nominabant. Martialis: Ingrediare uiam cœlo licet, usque sereno, Ad subitas nunquam scortea desit aquas. Erat etiam penula gausapina condida, ac uillosa, qua per æstum utebantur. Idem: Is mihi candor inest uillorũ gratia tanta est, Vt me uel media sumere messe uelis. Abusiue tamen penula pro omni eo, quod tegit. Penularium quasi theca est, & uagina penulæ, siue locus, in quo penulæ reponuntur. Peniculamentum uero non à penula dicitur, sed à pene quod proprie caudam significat, propter quod pudenda uiri honestiore uocabulo penem, quasi caudam appellamus. Est autem peniculamentum pars uestis, quæ terram attingit. Ennius: Pendent peniculamenta unũ ad quenq; pedũ. A pene etiam penitam offam dicimus, offam porcinam cum cauda. Et peniculos, siue penicillos. Item neutro genere penicula, et penicilla, quibus calciamenta detergunt. Item quibus pingunt, quoniam ex caudarum extremitatibus fiunt. Item quibus albarium tectorio inferunt, qui dicuntur Tectorij penicilli. Plinius: Setarum ex ijs è penicillis tectorijs cinis cum adipe tritus. Item quibus uulnera stipantur, uel ideo, ne claudantur, uel ut aperiantur magis, ut sunt penicilli ex linteolis concerptis ex medulla sambuci, & ex spongia. Idem: Tum penicillo uulnus apertum omne. præterea quo ad aliquid mundandum, illinendum'ue utimur, peniculum, seu penicillum uocamus, præsertim si ex spongia factum sit. Terentius: Quid ignaue peniculon' pugnare, qui istuc hoc portes cogitas? Plinius: Aesopumq; cum myrrha calidum penicillo illitum. Item spongiæ genus est mollissimum, qui penicillus appellatur, ex quo fiunt penicilli. Tria enim genera spongiarum sunt, spissum, ac prædurum. & asperum, quod tragos uocatur. quidam has fœminas putant maioribus fistulis. Spissum & minoribus fistulis, ac mollioribus, quos credunt mares, & Achilleum nominatur, quod usus eo in uulnere curando fuerit Achilles, & mollissimum, qui dicitur penicillus. Spongias antiqui in delitijs habuerunt, strigilum uice, linteorúmque illis utentes ad distringenda, ac mundanda corpora. Quapropter purpura tingebant eas, alias cura candidas faciebant tinctas per æstatem salis spuma ad lunam, & pruinas sternentes inuersas, ut candorem biberent. Mensas etiam his tergere mos erat. Martialis: Hæc tibi forte datur tergendis spongia mensis. Vtilis expresso cum leuis imbre tumet. Animal hoc esse ex aqua tilium genere existimant: alitur conchis, & pisce, & limo. intellectum in his esse apparet, quoniam ubi auulsorem sentiũt, contrahuntur, & multo difficilius ex petris, in quibus nascuntur omnes: auulsæ relinquunt in petris, ueluti cruoris uestigium, atq; ex his, quasi radicibus molliores penicilli recrescunt. Pessimum genus earum est, quæ Aplysiæ uocantur, quia erui non possunt. aplysium enim illotum dicimus ab α priuatiua particula, & πλύνω lauo, à quo Plynio Veronensi inditum nomen putamus. Viuunt longissimo tempore, & ob hoc maxime prosunt corporibus, quia nostro suum miscent. usus earum ab abstergenda, fouenda, operienda in fomentis, præsertim dum aliud remouetur, aliud imponitur. Infinitæ penè earum utilitates sunt. Polybius scribit penicillos super ægrum suspensos quietiores facere noctes. Impluuia quoque uestis erat, qua sacerdotes per imbrem utebantur. Pluuiale nunc uulgo appellatur. Varro: Salium quoque sereno tempore impluuia amictum fuisse criminabantur. Lanerum genus uestimenti erat ex lana succida confectum, unde habet nomen. amictorium uestimentum puellare candidum, ac subtilissimum ex lino. de quo Martialis: Mammosam metuo, teneræ me trade puellæ, Vt possint niueo pectore lina frui. Chlamys uestis militaris est pallio penè aduersa, cum breuior multo, atque arctior sit. Plautus: Puer cape chlamydem, & da pallium. Tamen chlamydem hanc tene, ut si hæc uera nõ sint, rursus deposito pallio, eam sumam, atq; inceptum hoc itiner perficere exequar. Idem: Cape scis puer hoc pallium, & da chlamydem, ut abeam. Ab hoc fit chlamydula. Idem: Tu sume chlamydulam. Primus Numa Romanorum rex chlamydem in usum recepit. Nam, cum legati Isaurorum ad eum uenissent, uisis illorum uestibus, sumpsit chlamydem, coniunxitq; uestem regiam cum senatoria non foris, sed intus purpura posita, ut ex utraq; una conficeretur. Translata postea hæc uestis fuit in usum militarem. Virgilius: Sidoniam picto chlamydem circundata limbo. De hac celebre prouerbiũ est, Silosontis chlamys, quod de his dicitur, qui iactant se magnificentia uestimentorum: quoniam Siloson, cum in exilio esset, uestem habebat insignem, ac sumptuosam, quam cum Dario nondum regi, dono misisset, is postea regno potitus, ac beneficij memor, natali solo eum restituit. A chlamyde chlamydatus dicitur. Plaut. Quis hic homo chlamydatus est? aut non est, aut quem quæritat? peregrina facies uidetur hominis, atq; ignobilis. Pallium nostri paludamentum uocant, quamuis hoc etiam pro ornamentis militaribus capiatur. Sallustius: Eodem tempore Lentulus duplici acie locum in editum multo sanguine suorum defensus, postquam è sarcinis paludamenta obstare animaduertit. Plinius: Coccum imperatorijs dicatum paludamentis. Vnde paludati dicuntur, qui uel imperatoriam chlamydem, uel alia eius ornamenta gestant. Cicero: Antonius gemens ante lucem paludatus. Sallustius: Dum paludatus incederet, inire quamprimum prælium cogitauit. Aulæum quoq; genus uestis esse manifestum est peregrinum, & quasi militare paludamentum. Varro: Quod ex hæreditate Attalica aulæa, chlamydes, pallæ aureæ. Virgilius: Purpurea intexti tollant aulæa Britanni. Sunt etiam aulæa uela picta, quibus aulæ teguntur, de quibus supra diximus. Patagium aurea chlamys est, quæ preciosis tunicis superindui solet, unde qui ita induti sunt, Patagiati dicuntur, & patagiarij qui huiusmodi uestes faciunt. Apuleius: Vberes enim crineis leniter emissos, et ceruice depẽdulos, ac deinde per colla dispositos, sensimq; sinuato patagio, residẽtes paulisper ad finẽ cõglobatos in summũ uerticẽ nodus astrinxerat. Læna similiter uestis genus est militaris, uillorũ crassitudine calefaciẽs chlamy dem utuntur hac hyeme, ac supra omnia uestimenta induunt. Virgilius: Tyrioq; ardebat murice læna. Varro Lænam à lana dictam putat. Ego potius ἀπὸ τῆς χλαίνας lænam deductam existimo detractione primæ literæ. Chlæna autem ἀπὸ τοῦ χλιαίνειν deducitur, quod tepefacere est. Item abolla uestis est militaris, ac etiam grauiorum, ac magnorum uirorum. Varro: Toga tracta est, & abolla data est. Iuuenalis: Atq; audi facinus maioris abollæ. Idem: Rapta properabat abolla Pegasus. Sagum quoq; militare est uestimentum. Sallustius: Occurrere duci, & ad prælium accedere, adeo uti Metello in Sagum, Herculeio in brachium tela uenirent. Virgilius: Virgatis lucent sagulis. hac ueste, utpote latiori, & quadrata homini supposita iactare eum in altum excutiendo solebant. Martialis: Ibis ab excusso missus in astra sago. Suetonius: Ferebatur & uagari noctibus solitus, atque inualidum quenq; obuiorum, uel potulentum corripere, ac distento sago impositum in sublime iactare. Hinc quidam saccum deductum existimant, hoc est culeum, quod ad sagi similitudinem à parte superiori, & inferiori æqualiter latus sit. Saccus hordearius, siue frumentarius est, quo hordeum, siue frumentum geritur. Saccus niuarius, quo aqua ex niuibus. Saccus uinarius, quo uini feces colantur. Sacculus diminutiuum est à sacco, & significat marsupium. Stolam ueteres dixerunt quicquid corpus tegeret, & apud Græcos στολὴ indumentum significat, unde stola est deductum. Varro: Mulierem aliam cerneres cum stola obsita. Postea ad honestæ tantum matronæ uestem hoc nomen translatum est, quæ usque ad imos pedes demissa erat, & extremam eius partem ambibat instita assuta, quæ tenuissima fasciola erat. hanc notat Horatius, cum inquit: Nil medium est. sunt qui nolunt tetigisse nisi illas, quarum subsuta talos tegit instita ueste: Contra alius nullam, nisi olenti in fornice stantem. & Ouidius in libro de tristibus, cum uellet ostendere se libros de arte amandi non scripsisse grauioribus fœminis, postquam uersus illos repetit: Este procul uittæ tenues insigne pudoris, Quæq; tegis medios instita longa pedes. Mox addit: Ecquid ab hac omneis rigida submouimus arte, Quas stola contingi, sumptaq; uitta uetat? Hinc stola pro matronis, et honestis mulieribus ponitur. Papin. Omnis plebeio teritur prætexta tumultu, Hinc eques, hinc iuuenum cœtu stola mista laborat. & stolatum matronalem, atque honestum dicimus. Martialis: Quis floralia uestit, & stolatum Permittit meretricibus pudorem? Limbus etiam muliebre uestimentum erat, purpuram in imo consutam habens. Plautus: Textores limborarij. Quidam tamen limbum putant fasciam esse, quæ ambit partem uestis extremam, quam institam dici supra ostendimus. Virgilius: Sidoniam picto chlamydem circundata limbo. Peplum proprie palla est fœminea picta, & Mineruæ consecrata. Virgilius: Interea ad templum non æquæ Palladis ibant Crinibus Iliades passis, peplúmque ferebant. Plautus: Tunc uenio cum peplum infertur. Lacerna pallij genus est fimbriati, dicta quod capitio minus sit, à lacerando. lacerum enim dicimus quicquid corpore imminutum est. hæc uestis, utrinque indui potest, & ex utraque reijci parte. Capitium capitis tegmen est à capite appellatum (uel sicut Varro inquit) quod capiat, hoc est comprehendat pectus. Capitulum quoque dicitur. Item cucullus operculum est capitis, unde penulæ gallicæ genus, si cucullum non habet, Bardiacus dicitur, si cum cucullo Bardocucullus uocatur. Mart. Gallia Santonico uestit te bardocucullo, Cercopithecorum penula nuper erat. Item calyptra genus est uestimenti, quo capita operiuntur. Rica quadratum uestimentũ est fimbriatum, purpureum, quo pro palliolo utebantur flaminicæ, alij ex lana succida fieri solitum dicunt alba, quod con ficiebant uirgines patrimæ, & matrimæ ciues, ut inficeretur luteo colore, quo indui flamminicas mos erat. Est etiam rica ueli genus, quo mulieres capita tegunt, dictum (ut Varro sentit) à ritu, quod Romano ritu sacrificia fœminæ cum faciunt, capita uelant. Serenus: Aut zonulam, aut acum, aut ricam. Eius diminutiuũ est ricula, quæ pro sudario accipitur. Flaminium tegmen est, quo matronæ capita tegebant. Plaut. Flaminiarij, uiolarij, carinarij. Item flammeum genus ueli lutei nuptialis, de quo inferius dicemus. Suffibulum uestimentum album, prætextum, quadrangulum, oblongũ, quod in capite uestales uirgines sacrificantes habebant, idq; fibula comprehendebatur. Reticulum tegmen capitis à rete dictum, quod capillum contineat. Rete (ut Varro sentit) à raritate. Strophium fascia est pectoralis, quæ uirginalem tumorem cohibet papillarum. Turpilius: Me miseram, quod inter uias epistola excidit mihi: infelix inter tuniculam, ac strophium collocaram. Martial. Fascia crescenteis dominæ compesce papillas, Vt sit quod capiat nostra, tegatq; manus. Strophia etiam tenuiores coronæ à ueteribus dictæ ab insigni, quod ponebatur in capitibus sacerdotum, quod ἀπὸ τοῦ σρέφειν, hoc est à uertento strophus uocabatur. hinc nota sunt Strophiola, quibus in sacris utebantur. Calantica tegmen muliebre, quod capiti innectitur. Cicero: Tú ne, cum mentirentur pedes fusci, cum calanticam capiti accommodares? Ventrale, seu semicinctum uestimentum est uentrem contegens. Plin. Patris mei memoria cœpere amphimalla nostra, sicut uillosa etiam uentralia. Martialis de semicincto: Det tunicam locuples, ego te præcingere possum. Essem si locuples, munus utrunq; darem. Plaga grande erat lineum tegmen candidum, quod sindonem uocant, quale est, quo nunc utuntur mulieres Romanæ, olim passim in usu erat. Varro: Chlamydes, plagæ, uasa aurea. huius diminutiuum est plagula. Nam lodices linteoli sunt, quibus in lecto utimur, & frequenter eos lauamus, unde à polluendo lodices appellatos nonnulli putant. Iuuenalis: Modo sub lodice relictis Vteris in turba. Martial. de lodicibus: Nudo stragula ne toro paterent, Iunctæ nos tibi uenimus sorores. Cæsitium quoq; linteolus erat purus, & candidus, dictus, quod cædendo ad candorem perueniret, uel quod oras circuncisas haberet, ut supra diximus. Plautus: Linteolum cæsitium. Exoticum peregrinũ uestimentum dicebatur. Idem: Basilicam, aut exoticam induam. Mollicina uestis à mollicie nomen sumpsit. Nouius: Mollicinam, chirodotam, ricam. Succentonem quoq; legimus meretriciæ uestis genus, apud ueteres fuisse. Item encombomata, et Parnacidas uesteis appellatas puellares. Cato: Vt puellæ habeant potius in uestitu chlamydas, encombomata, & Parnacidas, quàm togas. Calassis quoque uestis genus est, quod Græci κάλασσον dicunt. Alij dicunt nodũ esse tunicæ muliebris, quo connexa circa ceruicem tunica submittitur. Item cyclas uestis genus superius arcta, ampla inferius, à circuli rotunditate, ita appellata. Iuuenalis: Tenui sudant in cyclade. & Exomides comici uestitus sunt exertis humeris. Synthesis uestis erat breuis, & expedita ex diuersis lanarum coloribus composita, quales sunt, quibus nunc milites in castris utuntur: propter quod synthesis dicta est, quod apud Græcos compositionem significat. hac ueste in Saturnalibus sumpto pileo, & toga deposita, uti senatoribus quoq; atque equitibus mos erat. Martialis: Synthesibus dum gaudet eques, dominusq; senatus, Dúmque decent nostrum pilea sumpta Iouem. Idem: Dum toga per quinas gaudet requiescere luces, Hos poteris cultus sumere iure tuo. Alijs temporibus uti synthesi seruile, atque ignominiosum erat, propter quod Nero princeps notatus est, quod synthesiatus aliquando, ac discalciatus in publicum prodierit, Scæuola iurisconsultus de synthesi sic scribit: Semproniæ piæ hoc amplius coopertoria tabiana, & tunicas treis cum palliolis, quæ elegerit, dari uolo. Quæro an ex uniuersa ueste, id est an ex synthesi tunicas singulas, & palliola Sempronia eligere possit? Respondeo, si essent tunicæ singulæ cum palliolis relictæ, ex ijs duntaxat eligi posse. Quod si non essent hæredem, uel tunicas, & palliola ex synthesi præstaturum, uel ueram æstimationem daturum. Ex quo manifeste apparet synthesinam, à cõmuni ueste distingui, quod etiam Martialis ostendit: Sic tua supposititis perlucent præla lucernis, Sic micat mnumeris, arcula synthesibus. Synthesis etiam uasis genus fictilis ex diuersis uasis cõpositi. Mart. Septennaria synthesis sagunti. Papinius: Vnam mittere synthesim, quod horres, Alborum calicum, atq; cacaborum. Item multitia indumenta dicebantur minutissimis filis contexta, unde à multis filis, & propterea subtilibus nomen inditum, uel à mulcendo, quoniam carnem demulceant, & tantum pluratiuo numero declinatur. Iuuenalis: Quæro an deceant multitia testem. Item clauata uestis, siue clauus uestimenti genus erat, uelut quibusdam clauis aureis distinctum, quod & à plumarum similitudine plumatile uocabatur. Quod si latior ipsa uestis erat, latus clauus dicebatur. Hac soli senatores, ac patritij induebantur: aliquando etiam sacerdotibus, ac pontificibus dabatur. Sylius: Sacrificam lato uestem distinguere clauo. Tradunt Mecœnatem in equestri dignitate sponte permansisse, cum utiq; sumendi lati claui potestas ei pateret. Martialis: Dum proauos, atauosq; refers & nomina magna, Dum tibi noster eques sordida conditio est: Dum te posse negas, nisi lato Gellia clauo Nubere, nupsisti Gellia cistigero. Quintilian. Notatur interim negligentia latum habentium clauum, modus est, ut sit paululum cinctura submissior. Horat. Nam ut quisque insanus mediis nigrum impediet crus Pellibus, & latum demisit pectore clauum, Audit continuo: quis homo hic, quo patre natus? Hinc laticlaui dicebantur patritij. Suetonius de Nerone: A laticlauo, cuius uxorem attrectauerat, cæsus. Cœpit latus clauus Vespasiani ferè temporibus in modum gausape texi. Vnde Martial. Et lato uariata mappa clauo. Præclauum pars uestis erat, quæ ante clauum texebatur. Afranius: Totam diem præclauum unum texere. Hinc à clauis etiam clauata dicuntur, uel uestimenta clauis intexta, uel calciamenta clauis confixa, & clauati socci, quod sola habeant clauis intexta, uel calciamenta clauis confixa. Clauus à claudendo dicitur. ob id enim figitur, ut claudat, siue contineat aliquid. Claui annales appellabantur, qui figebantur in pariete templi per annos singulos, ut per eos numerus annorum colligeretur. Erat enim lex priscis literis, ac uerbis scripta, ut qui prætor maximus esset, idibus Septembris clauum pangeret. Nam quia raræ per ea tempora literæ erant, notæ numeri annorum claui fuere. Mineruæ autem templo ea lex dicata erat, quod numerum Mineruæ putabant esse. Volsinijs quoque claui indices numeri annorum in templo Nortiæ Hetruscæ deæ fuisse traditur. à consulibus deinde ad dictatores, quia maius imperium erat, solenne claui figendi translatum est. Sed cum hic mos intermissus fuisset, seuiente post multos annos in urbe pestilentia repetitum ex seniorũ memoria dicitur, pestilentiam quondam clauo à dictatore fixo sedatam fuisse. Quapropter ea religione adductum Senatum, dictatorem claui figendi causa dici iussisse: Dictumq; L. Manlium imperiosum, qui T. Pinnarium magistrum equitum dixit. Adeo hæc per se digna res uisa est, propter quam dictator crearetur. Clauũ etiam nauis gubernaculũ dicimus, quod eam dirigat, rectamq; contineat. Cicero: Ille autem clauum tenens quietus sedeat in puppi. Virgil. Clauumq; ad littora tor-quet. Item ab huius claui similitudine clauus appellatur Tuberculi genus callosi, quod in diuersis corporis partibus nascitur, maxime tamen in pedibus, & præcipue ex cõtuso, quamuis interdum aliter, dolorem q; etiam si non alias, tamen ingredienti mouet. Arbores quoq; clauum huiusmodi patiuntur, qui & fungus dicitur, & patella. Nihilq; aliud est, quàm solis exustio. à clauo per diminutionem clauiculus dicitur. Item claua, quæ proprie fustis est teres ex una parte capitatus ad claui similitudinem. Plinius de lino: Iterum deinde in filo politur illi sum crebro in silice ex aqua, tectumq; rursus tunditur clauis, semp iniuria melius. Hinc claua Herculis dicta id genus, quo Hercules utebatur. hãc eo loco, quo cum ea Cacum occiderat, post primas templi eius ualuas fuisse locatã traditur in foro boario, ubi templum ei à Sylla iussu Sibyllæ ædificatum fuit. Ouidius: Altera pars circi custode sub Hercule tuta, Quod deus Euboico carmĩe munus habet. Idẽ: Si titulos quæris Sylla probauit opus. Huius clauæ odore non immerito absterreri canes, & muscas opinabantur, quod scilicet, nec muscæ, nec canes eadem Herculis in foro boario intrarent. Claudo uero, & clauis à cælando (ut quidam existimant) deducuntur. Nos à Græcis potius sumpta existimamus, apud quos κλείω claudo dicitur, & κλεὶς clauis, & κλειδίον diminutiuum clauis cula, & κλειδοποιὸς clauicularius faber, & κλεῖθρον claustrum, quod & clausuram dicimus. Item à claui fit clauiger, qui clauem fert. Ouidius: Clauigeram uidit Vulcani occumbere prolem. Clauiculæ etiam dicuntur paruæ clauæ, hoc est paruæ sudes. Plinius: Clauiculæ quoq; ipsæ, quibus repunuites tritæ, & ex aqua potæ sistunt uomitionum consuetudinem. Conclaue, de quo supra diximus, dictum quod una claui claudatur, unde locus conclaudatus dicitur una claui clausus. à uerbo conclauo, cuius passiuum est conclauor, & à claustro claustrinum uocamus, quod claustri est, & claustrarium, de quo supra diximus, & claustrituum, qui claustris Ianuæ præest. Claudere interdum significat includere. Virg. Aut intus clausos satura ad præsepia seruat. Interdum arcere, obsistere. Idem: Ecce maris magna claudit nos obice pontus. Aliquando circuire. Idem: claudite nymphæ, Dictææ nymphæ nemorum iam claudite saltus. Vlpianus clausos pro uinctis accipit, si modo ita uincti sint, ut omni modo erumpere non possint. Clauium, claustrorumq; tutelam penes Portumnum esse ueteres existimabant, qui portuum deus esset, & clauim manu tenere fingebatur. Nam & claui claudi portus consuescere. Clauim mulieribus donare mos erat ad significandam partus facilitatem. Clauis inuentorem Theodorũ Samium fuisse commemorant. à claudo clausula dicitur, quasi breuis conclusio, & claudus, quasi pedibus clausus, hoc est impeditus, prohibitus. à quo claudico uerbum, hoc est claudus incedo, & per metaphoram erro, & Claudius Proprium nomen, à quo aliud proprium Claudianus, & Claudiana tonitrua, quia Claudius Pulcher instituit, ut in ludis post scænam coniectus lapidum, ita fieret, ut ueri tonitrui speciem repræsentarent: nam antea leues admodum parui sonitus fiebant, cum claui, & lapides in labrum æneum conijciebantur. Veteres pro claudo cludo dixerunt, unde in ueteribus numismatibus legimus, Ianum clusit. Ab hoc cõposita fiunt circumcludo, hoc est undiq; claudo. intercludo, iter impedio, et quasi intra claudo. Virg. Intercluſit hyems, & terruit auster eunteis. introcludo in interioribus claudo. Seneca: Qui domi introclusus otiabatur. Occludo claudo. Plau. Occlusit hostiũ ancillæ. excludo eijcio. Teren. Exclusit, reuocat, et per metaphoram accipitur pro libero. Accius: Qua uirtute hic se seruitute exclusérit. Excludere etiã est incubando ex ouis pullum emittere, Plinius: Quædã gallinæ ouagemina omnia pariunt, & geminos interdum excludunt, alterum maiorem. Alioquin negant omnino geminos excludi. Idem: Incubationi datur initium post nouam lunam. Celerius excluduntur calidis diebus. Idem: Columbæ excludunt uigesimo die. Præcludo, claudo. Intercludo, impedio, includo intus claudo, introcludo. Virgi. Inclusos utero Danaos. Subter cludo notæ significatiõis. Recludo, aperio, detego. Idẽ: Veteres tellure recludit Thesauros. Secludo seorsum claudo. Concludo, simul claudo. à quo cõdulus annulus dicitur, & condalium similiter anuli genus, quod digitum concludat. Et per metaphoram peroro, hoc est termino orationem: unde conclusio dicitur, quam Græci ἐπίλογον, nostri modo perorationẽ, modo cumulum uocant. Nam cumulus proprie aceruus est, & in conclusione omnia quasi in unum aceruũ colliguntur. A cumulus fit cumulo uerbum, quod est augeo, coaceruo, superadado. A quo cumulator, & cumulatus, & cumulatior, accumulatissimus. & accumulo, quasi ad adcumulum addo, & cumulate, cumulatius, cumulatissime, hoc est abundanter, abundantius, abundantissime. & cumulatim aduerbium, aceruatim. Virgilius cumulum pro altitudine, & quasi cacumine aquæ posuit: Insequitur cumulo præruptus aquæ mons. Eodem modo Statius aceruum posuit pro cumulo aquæ: Horruit ingenti uenientem Ismenon aceruo. Ismenus fluuius est Bœotiæ ab Ismeno Pelasgi filio cognominatus. Ab aceruus fit coaceruo uerbum, quod est congero, cumulo, addo. Aceruus enim congeries est cuiuscunq; rei. à quo coaceruatio, & coaceruatim. Endromis genus uestis erat hirsutæ, & uilli longioris, quo in balneis præcipue, ac gymnasijs utebantur: mittebantur ex Gallia Iuuenalis: Endromidas tyrias, & fœmineum ceroma. Martialis: Hanc tibi Sequanicæ pinguem textricis alumnam, Quæ Lacedæmonium barbara nomen habet, Sordida, sed gelido nõ aspernenda decembri, Dona, peregrinam mittimus Endromida. Idem: Pauperis est munus, sed non est pauperis usus, Hanc tibi pro togula mittimus Endromida. Propterea autem endromis dicitur, quod ἐν δρόμῳ, hoc est in cursu ea utebantur. Idem: Siue leui cursu uincere quæris Atham, Ridebis uentos, hoc munere tectus, & imbreis. quidam hanc balnearem uestem appellant, quod ea in balneis uterentur. Texta quoque fasciola erat, qua capillum in capite alligabant, & capital, quod sacerdotulæ gestabant in capise. zona, qua cingimur. Martialis: Longa satis nunc sum, dulci sed pondere uenter Si tumeat, fiam tum tibi zona breuis. Hæc & lorum dicitur, & Balteus, quamuis balteus sit etiam à quo arma dependent. & cinctus, ac cingulum à cingendo, quorum alterum uiris, alterum mulieribus attributum Varro scribit. Alij cingulum neutro genere hominum esse existimant: fœminino uero genere cingulas brutorum, utputa equorum, mulorum, asinorum. cinctum etiam pro uestitu accipimus. Virgilius: Cinctúq; gabino. Quamuis aliqui cinctum gabinum dicunt esse togam, sic in tergum reiectam, ut una eius lacinia reuocata hominem cingat. hoc genere uestimenti consul Romanus utebatur bellũ indicturus. Quæ consuetudo inde tracta est, quod cum Gabini aliquando sacrificijs uacarent, subito exortum est bellum. Tunc itaq; ciues togis suis cinctis in bellum profecti sunt, & uictoriam adepti. Gabini à Gabijs dicti sunt. Hæc Volscorũ urbs fuit, septuaginta millibus passuum ab urbe distans à Galacto, & Bio Siculis fratribus condita, unde nomen habet.

Item cincta flaminica dicebatur ueste uelata. Cingere proprie circuire est, dictum quasi circũ agere. Plinius: Cum eum saltũ uenatores cinxissent. Hinc cinctura dicta actus ipse cingendi. & cingulum anulus, quod digitum circuat. & cinguli homines, qui in his locis, ubi cingi solent, satis sunt tenues. & cinniligium, quo noua nupta præcingebatur. id uir in lecto sol uebat, factum ex lana ouis, ut sicut illa in domum sublata coniuncta inter se sit, sic uir eius cinctus cum ea, uinctus q; esset. hoc Herculano nodo ligatũ ominis gratia uir soluebat, ut sic ipse felix esset in suscipiendis liberis, ut fuit Hercules, qui septuaginta liberos reliquit. Hinc cinxiæ Iunonis nomen sanctum habebatur in nupijs, quod initio coniugij, solutio cinguli erat, quo noua nupta erat cincta. clingo etiã pro cingo usurpant à Græco κλίγγειν. A cingo Cinciorum cognomen Romæ deductum. A quo Cincia locus Romæ, ubi Cinciorũ monimentum fuit. Item ab eodem composita fiunt accingo, quod est cum studio, & diligentia paro. Vir. Paribus q; accingimur armis. Vnde accinctos industrios dicimus, sicut econtrario discinctos negligenteis. Idem: Discinctos Mulciber Afros. accinctum etiam pro parato, instructo, armato frequenter accipimus. Circũcingo notæ significationis. Procingo, apparo. à quo procinctus apparatus bellicus, & expeditio dicitur. Oui. Hæc in procinctu carmina facta puta. Plin. Vinũ curas, uigorem q; animi impedit ad procinctum tendentibus. Veteres etiã endoprocinctum dicebant, quod significat cum ex castris in prælium exitum est. & procincta classis uocabatur, cum exercitus cinctus erat Gabino ritu, confestim pugnaturus. Veteres enim & populi, & militum, & nauium multitudinem classem uocitabant. hanc flamini diali non licebat uidere. Præcingo modo præparo. Vnde præcinctos strenuos, & expeditos dicimus. modo cingo. Sueton. de Cæsare: Vsus fertur lato clauo ad manus fimbriato, nec unquam aliter, quàm super eum cingeretur & quidem fluxiore cinctura, unde emanasse Syllæ dictum optimates sæpius admonentis, ut male præcinctum puerum caueret. Incingo cingo, uel intus cingo. Succingo aliquando aliligo, ut succingo mihi ensem, & succinctus sum ense, hoc est alligatum ad cingulũ habeo ensem. Virg. Succinctam pharetra, & maculosæ tegmine lyncis. unde succingulum balteum dicimus: &, quo nonnulli utuntur, succinctorium uestis genus breuissimæ, quo uenter, & tantum ferè uelanda corporis teguntur, ut supra diximus. Id & semicinctium uocatur, quod medium hominem cingat, hoc est uestiat. Martialis: Et tunicã locuples, ego te præcingere possim, Essem si locuples, munus utrũq; darem. Semis enim dimidium significat, ut semihomo, semideus, semimortuus, seminex, semiuiuus, semestris, Semensium, semesum, semicomestum, semetrũ, media mensura. Semianimis, quasi exanimatus. semicirculus, medius circulus. semiferus non prorsus ferus. semifera enim dicimus animalia, Ceruum damam, & similia. Semimares imperfecti uiri, ut sunt spadones, galli, eunuchi. Seminudus, dimidia parte nudatus. Semiobolus, dimidius obolus: semiuncia, dimidia uncia. Selibra, dimidia libra. Semiquinaria diuisio, cum in scandendo quinq; pedes per dimidium diuiduntur, & ultimæ syllabæ dictionis sic persunt. Vt: arma, uirumq; cano. Semiseptenaria diuisio, cum id fit in sex pedibus, ut arma, uirumq; cano Troiæ. Semipes dimidius pes, à quo semipedalis. Semiplenus non perfecte plenus. Semiplagium, paruum rete. Semiruta, ex parte diruta, ac dissipata. Semispathium, breuior ensis. Semita arcta, quasi dimidiata uia. Semissis, dimidium assis. Semiuir, spado, eunuchus, timidus. Semiustus, dimidia parte ustus. Sextertium dipondius, & semis, de quo superius diximus. Sexqualtera, proportio, quæ tantundem, & dimidium assis habeat. Semitogium breuis, & quasi dimidia toga. A quo Semitogatus, & eius diminutiuũ Semitogatulus. Semis autem à Græco deducitur ἥμισυ, sicut ab ἕξ sex. A quo hemicyclus semicirculus dicitur. Hemisphærium dimidia sphæra. Hemina mensuræ genus, quæ dimidium sextarij continet, Vnde heminaria pro mediocri accipitur. Hemistichion dimidius uersus, qui & hemistichon dicitur. & hemiolius, cum ex duobus numeris maior habet totũ minorem, & præterea eius medietatem, ut sunt tria ad duo. & hemitriteum febris genus, de quo inferius dicemus, quod tertianam unam, & dimidiam continere uidetur. Aliquando succingere est cinctura uestris ita colligere, ut breuiores uideantur, fiatq; homo ad agendum expeditior. unde succinctam orationem, breuem dicimus, & succincte aduerbium breuiter. Segmentatæ uestes dicuntur, quæ segmentis, hoc est bratteolis argenteis aureisue laboratæ, atq; depictæ sunt. Segmenta enim propriæ segmina, hoc est sectiones dicitur à secando. unde partes, & (ut ita dicam) membra mundi, in quæ uniuersa terra digeritur, quæ nostri circulos, Græci Parallelos appel'ant, segmenta dicuntur. Plin. Plura autem sunt segmenta mundi. Principiũ habet Indiæ pars uersa ad austrum, patetq; usque Arabiam, & rubri maris accolas. Idem: Quinto continentur segmento ab introitu Caspij maris, Battria, Hiberia, Armenia, & reliqua. Idem: Quod supereſt terrarum tribus assignatur segmentis. & quoniam ornamentum colli, quod monile uocatur, de quo supra diximus, ex ijsdem segmentis fieri solet, segmentum etiam appellatur. Valerius: Datum est mulieribus, ut segmenta aurea gestarent. Iuue. Segmenta, & longos habitus, & flammea sumit. hinc quicquid ex tenuissimis segmentis uermiculatim compositum est, etiam si segmenta lignea sunt, segmentatum dicitur. Idem: Et segmentatis dormisset paruula cunis, hoc est uermiculato emblemate pictis. hoc in pauimentis tessellatũ dicitur, quod tessellis, hoc est paruis quadratis lapillis intextũ sit. Sueton. de Cæsare: Mundicarum, lautitiarumq; studiosissimum multi prodiderunt, quamuis tenuem adhuc, & obæratum in expeditionibus tessellata & sectilia pauimenta circunstulisse: Britaniã petijsse spe Margaritarum, quarum amplitudinem conferentem interdum sua manu pondus exegisse. Tessera, cuius diminutiuum est tessella, id est quod omni ex parte quadratum est. Tradunt Geometræ punctum corpus esse indiuiduum, in quo neque longitudo, neq; latitudo, neq; altitudo deprehenditur. Vnde pro breuissimo, ac minimo tempore ponitur. Teren. Tum temporis mihi pũctum ad hanc rem est. Item pro minima cuiusque rei particula accipitur. Cicero: Nam quod quæstus es, plureis te testeis habere, qui quot in ea dubij puncta tuleris. Aliquando etiã punctum pro suffragijs, & fauore accipitur, quoniam lege, quæ tabellaria dicta est, ueteres suffragia non scribebant, sed puncto notabant. Vnde expuncti dicebantur uiles, iecti, indigni, siue priuati fauore. Horatius: Omne tulit punctum, qui miscuit utile dulci, hoc est solus suffragia iudicum tulit, qui & utile, & dulce scripsit, quoniam prodesset, & delectaret. Geometricum uero punctum, quod in nullas parteis diuidi potest, protractum, lineã efficit, id est corpus unius dimensionis. Longũ enim est quod sine lato, sine alto, duobus punctis extraq; partes solam longitudinem terminantibus continetur. hanc lineam si geminamus, alterum mathematicum corpus efficitur, quod duabus dimensionibus extruitur, longo, latoq;, sed alto caret. Punctis autem quatuor continetur, per singulas scilicet lineas binis: & hoc Græci ἐπίπεδον, nostri planum siue superficiem uocant. A quo superficiarius appellatur, ut Paulus iurisc. ait, qui in alieno solo superficiem ita habet, ut certam pensionem præstet. & superficiarias ædes Caius appellat, quæ in conducto solo positæ sunt, quarum proprietas & ciuili, & naturali iure eius est, cuius & solum. Quod si hæ duæ lineæ fuerint duplicatæ, ut subiectis duabus duæ superponantur, adijcietur profunditas: & hinc solidum corpus efficitur, dictum à Græcis στερεόν, quod sine dubio octo angulis continetur,

& sex latera habet. huiusmodi figuras Græci cubos, nostri quadrantalia dixere, quamuis uasis etiam genus sit quadrantal, pedis quadrati octo, & quadraginta sextarios capiẽs. Plautus: Anus hæc sitit, quantillum sitit, modica est, capit quadrantal. Tales sunt (ut Varro inquit) tesseræ, quibus in alueolo ludditur, ex quo ipsæ quoque appellantur κύβοι, qui, cum iaciuntur, quancunq; in partem incubuerint, dum sunt intacti, immotam habent stabilitatem. Hinc cybium dictum piscis genus, de quo inferius dicemus, quia piscantes id uelut alea ludunt: siue quod ita scissum est, ut medium eius æque pateat in omneis parteis, hoc est ad similitudinem tesserarum. Magnus est error multorum nostri temporis, qui talos pro tesseris accipiunt: sed maior insania uniꝰ, qui id etiam literis mandare, ut est omnium impudentissimus, non erubuit, quem pueri quoq; & uix iam fari incipientes apud Græcos sciant ἀσφάλδιον talum esse, κύβον uero hoc est cubum, id esse, quod nos tesserã dicimus. Varro, Vitruuius, Gellius, Macrobius, Pompeius, & ipse, cuius testimonio utitur, Pollux sole clarius ostendit. deceptus est homo rudis, & crassus, ratione nominis, quod tessera appellatur, cum Græci τέσσαρα quatuor dicant: nec intelligere potuit, non ideo tesseram uocari, quod quadratam figuram habeat, quod genus nostri quadrata appellant, sed quod omni ex parte quadrata sit, quod genus quadrantalia nominamus. Talus proprie ossis genus est in articulo pedis uentre eminens, concaua in uertebra, ligatum solidissimis neruis, quadratum forma, altera parte cõcauum, altera ferè planum: estq; in posteriori suffragine duntaxat, nunquam in prioribus pedibus: nec est homini, aut alijs animalibus habentibus digitos, nec solidas habentibus ungulas, sed tantum bisulcis. Hinc fit talipedare uerbum, quod est uacillare pedibus, & quasi supra talos consistere. hoc genere ossiculi ludere ueteres consueuere, quod nostra quoq; ætate quibusdam locis obseruari animaduertimus. Situs ipse tali numerum facit, eumq; pro lateris differentia diuersum. Latus quod unitatem significat, canis siue canicula appellatur, in quem conuerso talo, deponebatur ab eo, qui iactauerat, numus unus, aut quantum inter se pacti fuerant, sine aliquo lucro, iccirco damnosa canis uocabatur. Ouidius: Quid ualeant tali, quo possis plurima iactu Fingere, damnosas, effugiasq; canes. Persius: Dãnosa canicula quantum Raderet. Eius oppositũ Venus dicitur, siue cous significat septenarium numerum: & is, qui talorum iactu hunc numerum reddidisset, sex lucrifaciebat, præterea quicquid esset caniculæ iactu erasum. Alia duo latera chius, & senio dicuntur, ternarium ille, hic quaternarium significans. Nam binarius, & quinarius numerus in talis non erat. chius treis numos lucrabatur, senio quatuor. Ideo dexter, hoc est felix, & propitius dicebatur. Persius: Quid dexter senio ferret Scire erat in uoto. Quod si pluribus positis talis eadem facies erat, pro uno accipiebantur, diuersitas numerum augebat. Duo senione quatuor lucrifaciebant, Chius, et senio septem. Fuit etiã aliquando in talis octonarius numerus, quem stesichoritem uocant à sepulchro Stesichori poëtæ, quod talorum octo figura conditum fuit. Euripedes Athenis tempore principum quadraginta, qui post triginta imperarunt, numerum talorum usque ad quadraginta auxit, eumq; Euripideum appellauit. Aliæq; in hoc ludi genere differentiæ fuere, ut ferè in cæteris ludis accidit. Nam & uultorios habebant, & Herculem basilicum. Plaut. Talos poscit sibi in manum, prouocat me in aleam, iacit uultorios quatuor. Talos arripio, Herculẽ iacto basilicum. Quapropter ab Augusto scriptum legimus talis iactatis, ut quisq; canem, aut senionem mi serat in singulos talos, singulos denarios conferebat in medium, quos tollebat uniuersos, qui sos, qui Venerem iecerat. Nec me latet Pollucem de Chio aliter sentire, sed nostrorum in hoc sententiam sequi maluimus, qui de hac re longe apertius scripsere. Vtebantur autem talis ueteres aut naturalibus, aut ex ebore, alia ue materia factis, qui per diminutionem etiam taxilli dicuntur. à tali quidem similitudine taleam dictam putant, quæ est fruſtum ligni præcisum ex utraq; parte æquabiliter serendi gratia. præcisis enim lignis uel pedali, uel cubitali magnitudine nonnullæ arbores seruntur, idq; lignum ita persectum græce generali nomine ξύλον, Latine talea dicitur. Plinius: Ficus omnibus alijs modis nascitur, præterquam talea. Idem: Seruandum in taleæ sa tu ante omnia, ut taleæ ex feracibus fiant arboribus, ne curuæ, ne'ue scabræ, aut bifurcæ, ne tenuiores, quàm manum impleant, ne minores pedalibus, ut illibato cortice, atque ut sectura inferior ponatur semper, & quod erit ab radice, accumuleturq; germinatio terra, donec robur planta capiat. Cato: Taleas oleaginas, quas in scrobe saturus eris, tripedaneas facito, quas in seminario saturus eris, pedaleis facito. Cum taleã demittis, pede taleã opprimito, si parũ descendat, malleo, aut mateola adigito, cauetoq;, ne librum scindas. à talea (ut Varro sentit) taliari uulgo dicitur lignum, dum scinditur: & intaliari, dum præcidendo formatur, & cum ramus ex utraq; parte æquabiliter complanatur, ut numerus aliquis in eo describatur, dicitur talea. Talia uero folliculus ceparum est, & talus Sabinorum prænomen. Sicut autem fruſtum ligni, quod in terra seritur, talea uocatur, ita id, quod inseritur ramo calamus, & tessara dicitur, seu potius per diminutionem tessella, quod instar tesseræ sit. Plini. Quod si longius afferantur pomorum calami, rapo infixos optime custodire succum arbitrantur. Idem: Quidam huic generi miscuere fissuram in uitibus exempta cortice tessella surculo à latere plano adigendo. Item tessera lignum est utrinque complanatũ, in quo numeri describuntur, quod & talea uulgo dicitur. Plautus: Suam uterq; tesserã habet, ratio constat. hoc & tesserula dicitur. Plin. Frumenti rationem tesserulis ostendebat. Item tessera symbolum belli cum quod in pugna exeuntibus datur. Virgilius: It bello tessera signum. Liuius: Cæteris omnibus tesseram dari iubet. Talum quoque à Latinis aliquãdo appellatã inuenimus, eam partem quæ in hominibus imo pede utrinque extuberat prope calcem. Græci σφυρὸν uocant. unde & pro calce aliquando talum usurpant. hinc talaris tunica appellatur prælonga, & usque ad talos descendens. & subtal dictum est concauum pedis, sicut uola, quod scilicet sub talo sit. à secando autẽ segmẽtum dicitur, & segmen quasi ramentum. unde & præsegmen amputatio rei superfluæ dicitur. hinc quæ ex unguibus animalis scinduntur, præsegmina uocitantur. Plau. Quin ipsi pridem tonsor ungues dempserat, Collegit, omnia abstulit præsegmina. Eiusdẽ significationis est resegmen. Plinius: Nec pauci apud Græcos singulorum uiscerum, membrorumq; etiã sapores dixere, omnia persecuti usque ad resegmina unguiũ. A seco autem omnia hæc deriuantur. Secare proprie est excidere: Cicero: Id totum secuit in duas parteis. Et quoniam dum iter facimus, quodammodo uiam diuidere uidemur, secare per metaphoram modo pro ducere usurpamus. Virgilius: Ille uiam secat ad naues. Idem: Arboribus positis secto uia limite quadret, hoc est ducto limite. Tibullus: Et secat ad Phrygios uilia membra modos. modo prosequi. Virgil. Quæcunq; est fortuna hodie, quam quisque secat spem. Hinc sectores dicti emptores uenditorum bonorũ exulis, quod empta sua prosequuntur. Item qui ex damnatione eius, qui accusatus est, dimidiũ bonorum expectant, aut certe aliquam partem, & id persequuntur. Et sectarius ueruex, qui gregem agnorum præcedens, du-

Et sectio, modo concisio, modo persecutio iuris. & secespita cultrum ferreũ, oblõgo manubrio, eburneo, rotundo, solido, iuncto ad capulum argento, auroq; fixo: clauis æneis, ære Cyprio, quo flamines, flaminicæ uirgines, pontifices q; ad sacrificia utebantur. & secium libum, quod secespita secabatur. Et siciculi scrupuli sex, quod semunciam secet. & sicilices hastarum spicula lata. & sicilio uerbum, cuius significatum ostendit Plini. Prata quoties secta sunt, sicilire oportet, hoc est, qđ fœniseces præterierunt secare. Est enim in primis inutile enasci herbas sementaturas. & Varro: In pratis herba cum creuerit desijt, & æstibus arescit, subsecari falcibus debet, & qđ perarescat furcillis uersari: cum peraruit de his manipulos fieri, ac uehi ad uillam, tum de pratis stipulam rastellis eradi, atq; addere fœnisecio cumulum, quo facto sicilienda prata, id est falcibus consectanda, quæ fœniseces præterierunt, ac quasi herba tuberosum reliquerunt campũ, à qua sectione arbitror dictum sicilire pratum. à siciliendo sicilis appellata herba, quam alio nomine Fœnugræcum diximus uocari, quod nullus ferè in seo cultus fit, sed tantũ sicilitur, hoc est secatur. huic enim quod mirum, prodest negligentia, & quanto peius tractatur, tanto prouenit melius. Item Sicilia insula, quod olim Brutio agro cohærẽs, moxinterfuso mari resecta, atq; euulsa est, propter quod & oppidũ è regione in margine Italiæ situm Rhegyum uocitatum est ἀπὸ τοῦ ῥηγνύω, quod est auello, quamuis aliqui Siciliam à ducis nomine Sicelo appellatam uelint, quemadmodum inferius latius disseremus. Item à seco secale frugis genus, quod Taurini sub Alpibus Asiam uocãt de terrimũ, & tantum ad arcendam famẽ utile, fœcunda, sed gracili stipula, nigritia triste, sed pondere præcipuum. Et seculà falx, de qua supra diximus. & securis, à qua diminutiuum securicula, qua ligna secabantur. utebantur tamen ea lictores, atque carnifices, milites quoq; frequenter in bello. huius inuentricem fuisse tradunt Pentesileã Amazonem. Quidã securim dictam putant, quasi semiquirin, ut inferius ostendemus. Sabini enim quirin hastam appellant. & secta, quæ à Græcis hæresis dicitur, ut sunt Philosophorum sectæ. Hæresis enim ab eligẽdo dicitur apud Græcos, hoc est ἀπὸ τοῦ αἱρεῖσθαι, qđ significat eligo, opto. Cice. Estq; in ea hæresi, quæ nullum sequitur florem orationis. Ab hoc Theologi nostri hæreticũ uocauerũt eum, qui sectam aliquam uel instituit, uel sequitur aduersus fundamenta religionis. & sectile, quod excidi potest, et excidium quod excidi solet. Vnde sectiuum dicimus porrum, quod folia eius sæpius secantur. Duo enim sunt porri genera: alterum capitatum, quod in caput latius excrescit, quod ut facerent ueteres, silicem, uel tegulam porro subijciebant, atque in capita dilatabant. Huic autoritatẽ dedit Nero princeps uescendo eo ex oleo per ætatem uocis gratia penè singulis diebus. Tradunt Melam equitem Romanum ex procuratione à Tiberio principe in iudicium uocitatum, succum porri in summa desperatione ad trium denariorum pondus hausisse, confestimq; sine cruciatu aliquo expirasse. Si largius sumatur, dicũt non esse noxium. Capitatum optimum mittebat Aritia. Columella: Et mater Aritia porri. Martia. Mittit præcipuos nemõralis Aritia porros. In niueo uirides stipite cerne comas. Sectiuum erat præcipuum Tarenti. Idem: Fila Tarentini grauiter redolentia porri, Ediſti quoties oscula clausa dato. & sectura pro sectione. & socius uel quod secet, hoc est diuidat laborẽ alterius, uel qđ eum in re laboriosa sequatur. socius enim proprie dicitur qui in re seria, ac laboriosa alicuius par est, unde socij populi Romani dicebantur ita cum ijs fœdere coniuncti, ut pacis, & belli participes essent, à quo sociale dictũ, quod sociorũ est, unde socialis perfidia, & sociale bellũ quod cum socijs ge-ſtum eſt, & ſocietas quaſi participatio. Liuius: Inſida regni ſocietas. Veteres ſocienũ pro ſocio dicebant. Plau. Ibo intro, atq; illi ſocieno tuo iam interſtringã gulam. Differt ſocius à comite, & ſodali. Nam comes eſt, qui cum aliquo ſimul it, & tanq; ducem ſequitur. Cicero: Non comitem ſe, ſed ducem præbuit. Cæſar: Cum ſe uictoriæ Pompeij comitem eſſe mallet, quàm ſocium Cæſaris. ab hoc fit comito uerbum, & paſſiuũ eius comitor, ſicut à ſocius ſocio, & ſocior. Virg. Atq; uno graditur comitatus Achate. Comitor etiã deponẽs inuenitur. Pli. Quicũq; eum comitati fuerãt. Quod ſi imperator, aut dux milites ſuos ſocios uocat, qui ſibi impares ſunt, facit id conciliandæ beneuolentiæ gratia, quaſi eos ſibi pares exiſtimare uideatur: quemadmodum commilitones uocat, ut ſe ueluti unum ex illis faciat, cum milites ipſi inter ſe commilitones ſint, non dux, aut imperator cõmilito dicatur. Sodalis in rebus leuioribus dicitur, & ferè in cõuiuijs. Dicti autẽ ſunt ſodales, quaſi ſimul edales: uel quod ſederent ſimul in mẽſa, uel quod è ſuo datis ueſci ſoleret: uel quod inter ſe ſuaderent, quod commodum eſſet. Quinti. Et tempeſtiua conuiuia, & peruigiles iocos aduocata ſodalitũ turba ſolutus, atque affluens agerem. Cic. Epulabar modice cũ ſodalibus. hinc ſodalitia, & ſodalitates appellatæ, hoc eſt collegia. Idem: Sodalitates enim me quæſtore ſunt inſtitutæ. Caius ſodales inquit ſunt, qui eiuſdẽ collegij ſunt, cum quo cõſentire uidetur apud eundem Ciceronẽ Antonius, qui Norbanum quæſtorem ſuum appellat ſodalem. Et ſcutum, & ſcutula, de quibus ſupra diximus, & ſica cultrum ferreum, à quo ſicarij dicti, unde eſt lex Cornelia de ſicarijs. Sunt autem ſicarij homicidæ, & qui homines occidendi, furti ue faciendi cauſa cũ telo ambulauerint, & qui in rebus capitalibus dolo malo falſum iudicauerint, falſum'ue teſtimonium dixerint. Et ſecus, quod ſignificat aliter, unde haud ſecus dicimus, hoc eſt non aliter, à quo ſecius, quod modo pro poſitiuo ſuo accipitur, modo ſignificat minus, uel tardius. Virg. Nec ſecius omnis in unguẽ Arboribus poſitis ſecto uia limite quadret. Aliquando ſecus præpoſitio eſt, & ſignificat iuxta. ut ſecus uiã, hoc eſt qã immediate ſecat, id eſt ſequitur uiã. Et ſecundũ, quod immediate ſeqtur primũ, id eſt qã ſecundo loco eſt. Quapropter & aduerbialiter accipitur pro iuxta, nam quod ſi cũdo loco eſt, iuxta eſt. Sulpitius: Marcũ Marcellũ poſt cœnæ tẽpus à Magio Celtione familiari eius pugione percuſſum eſſe, & duo uulnera acceptiſſe, unum in ſtomacho, alterũ in capite ſecundũ aurem. Vir. Dulcibus illa quidẽ illecebris, aut plena ſecundũ Flumina. Aliquãdo pro poſt, quaſi ſecundo loco. Quint. Nam quod unũ mihi ſecundũ patrẽ fortuna uidebatur paraſſe præſidiũ, id ego ſperare in illa ſorte non poteram. Cicero: Proxime autem, & ſecundũ deos homines hominibus maxime utiles eſſe poſſunt. Capitur etiam ſecundum pro eo, quod eſt pro: ut, ſecundũ te litem do, ſecundum me iudica, id eſt pro te, & pro me. & pro in, ut ſecundum quietem, id eſt in quiete. Interdum eam uim habet, quam iuxta ſententiam, ut ſecundum Platonẽ, ſecundũ Ariſtotelem, hoc eſt iuxta ſententiã Platonis, iuxta ſententiã Ariſtotelis. Itẽ ſecundũ diximus proſperũ, quod ita, uti uolumus, ſecet, id eſt ſequatur, uel quod quæ adſunt, proſpera eſſe dicũtur, unde præſentem pro propitio capimus. Plau. Si præſens obſecro, teq; ſine exorarier. Hinc ſecundum fortunam uocamus, quæ uel nobis adeſt, uel nobis obſequitur: & res ſecundas, quæ pro noſtro deſiderio ſequuntur. Virg. Et ſeruare modum rebus ſublata ſecundis. Et ſecundo flumine nauigat, qui aqua ſequẽte nauigat, hoc eſt in eam partem fluente ad aquã tendimus, ſicut aduerſo flumine nauigat, qui contra aquam nititur. Ab hoc fit ſecundare, hoc eſt proſperare. Virg. Dij cœpta ſecundent. Propertius: Iam liquidum nautis aura ſecundat iter, à quo obſecũ-

dare, quod eſt uel in melius conuertere, uel obſequi. Terẽ. Hæc me reprehendere, & corrigere, & obſecundare in loco. Et ſecundarius, quaſi ſecundi ordinis, unde ſecundarius panis dicitur uulgaris. Sueto. de Auguſto: Cibi minimi erat, atq; uulgaris ferè. ſecundarium panem, & piſciculos minutos, & caſeum bubulum manu preſſum, & ficus uirideis biferas maxime appetebat. item ſecundo aduerbium, quod aliquando ſignificat ordinẽ, ut primo, ſecũdo, tertio. Aliquando bis, ut ſecundo eum monueram, id eſt bis monueram, & ſecũdo conſul, id eſt bis cõſul. Nonnunq; rurſus. Cice. Semel hominem allocutus fuerã, an ſecundo mihi redeundum eſſet, ignorabã. & ſecundæ plurali numero tantum membrana illa, qua portus obuolutus utero prodit, dictæ quod naſcentem infantem ſequantur. hæ niſi cum partu exeant mulier male torquetur. χόριον eas appellant Græci, quidam è noſtris uolucrum dixere. Plin. Braſſicæ ſemen contra ardorem febrium facit, & ſtomachi uitia, & ad ſecundas. Item à ſeco inſecta, de quibus ſupra diximus. & ſaucius, de quo inferius dicemus, quaſi ſecius. & ſerra dentatũ inſtrumentum, quo ligna, & lapides ſecantur. Item inſtrumentũ ligneum ſimiliter dentatum, quo trahentibus bobus homines torquebantur. unde ſerrati dentes dicuntur, qui inter ſe diſtincti ſunt, ad ſimilitudinem dentium ſerræ. & ſerratũ quicquid eodem modo dentatũ eſt. Serra præliari dicitur, cum aſſidue, accediturq;, recediturq;, nec ullo tempore conſtituitur (ut ſerra facit) dum aliquid ſecatur. Serræ inuentorẽ fuiſſe Dædalum tradunt, qui & fabricam materiã inuenit, & aſciam notũ inſtrumentum ab aſcindendo dictam, cuius diminutiũ eſt aſciola & perpendiculum inſtrumentum fabri materiarij, ſiue cementarij, quo plumbo à filo, & gnomone pendente rectitudo, ſiue obliquitas operis perpenditur, hoc eſt examinatur: et terebram inſtrumẽtum ad perforandum, à terendo dictũ. à quo fit uerbum terebro, quod eſt terendo perforo, & exterebro, quod eſt extorqueo, & ſcrutor. Plaut. Exterebra prorſus, atq; excute. Dicimus etiam neutro genere terebrum, à quo fit diminuti uum terebellũ: & glutinũ, quod Græci collã nominant, quo ligna ferruminantur. & lithocollam, hoc eſt glutinum, quo lapides coniunguntur. Item ſector, quod eſt ſequor. à quo fit inſector, perſequor. & conſector, ſequor. & aſſector, comitor, non in itinere, aut nauigatione, aut militia, ſed ferè per urbem. Cice. Cum ædilitatẽ Craſſus peteret, eumq; maior natu, & cõſularis Sergius Galba aſſectaretur. & aſſecla communis generis, qui continue aliquem ſequitur. Veteres tamen aſſeclas nutrices dicebant, quod ſemper ijs aſſint, quos nutriunt, nec exiguo ab ijs tẽpore diuellãtur. Item à ſeco deducitur ſequor eiuſdem ſignificationis. à quo ſecutor, qui ſequitur, cuius fœminium eſt ſecutrix. & ſequax triũ generũ, quod modo ſignificat id, quod ſeqtur. Seneca: Cæteros q; Ariſtippi ſequaces. modo qã ſe ſpargendo dilatat. Perſius: Quorũ imagines lãbunt cedræ ſequaces. Virg. Item à ſequor compoſita fiunt pediſequus, hoc eſt famulus, qui pedes domini ſequitur. & pediſequa ancilla, quæ ſequitur dominã. & odoriſequus canis, qui odorẽ ſequitur. Aſſequor, adipiſcor. obſequor, morem gero. nec ſolum de minoribus dicitur erga maiores, ſed etiã de maioribus erga minores. Plau. Ego ſanè cupio obſequi gnato. hinc obſequia dicũtur officia. Teren. Obſequiũ amicos, ueritas odium parit. à quo obſequioſus, qui obſequens, & moriger eſt. & obſequela, ipſa morigeratio. Plaut. Omnes parẽtes Libane liberis ſuis, qui mihi auſcultabunt, facient obſequelam. Perſequor, modo inſector. Plaut. Quid me miſeram, atq; innocentem perſequeris? modo perſeuero exequi, quod agere cœperam. Plinius: Qui mihi omnes ſuaderent, ut cœptum opus perſequi feſtinarem. Exequor, perſequor, abſoluo. Apuleius: Neq; enim in tenebris, ſed in propatulo iuſſa domini exequebar. Hinc exequiæ dictæ funebre officium, quod ſcilicet in funere exequimur. à quo exequiari uerbum, quod eſt in exequijs conuiuari, & epulari. Varro: Ipſum propter ius liberti ſemitracti exequiãtur. Exequias quidam ita ab alijs ſeparant, ut exequiæ ſint, dum cadauer eſfertur, poſtquam ſepultum eſt. reliquiæ inferiæ ſacra mortuorum, quæ inferis ſiunt. Virgi. Idem: Tunc cum ea, quæ es à ſenatu ſummo cum honore tuo cõſecutus. Ab hoc conſequentia deducitur, quæ ex præcedentibus infertur. à ſeco quoque compoſita fiunt circunſeco, quod eſt circũcido. interſeco, quaſi mediũ ſeco. perſeco, perfectè ſeco. proſeco, idem quod ſeco. unde proſecta dicuntur exta, ſeu uiſcera, quæ ſacrificijs adhibentur. Ouid. Cuius ut impoſuit proſecta calentibus aris. Item proſicium, quod proſectum proijcitur. deſeco, ex aliquo ſeco. exſeco, excido. præſeco, præcido. ſubſeco, ſuccido. diſſeco, modo dilanio, modo diuido. à quo diuiſiones patrimoniorũ inter conſortes diſſectiones ſunt appellatæ. Reſeco, reſcindo, et fœniſex, qui fœnum ſecat, de quo ſupra diximus, à quo fœniſicium ipſa fectio fœni. Vnde apud M. Catonem de fœniſicio ſcribitur. Eſt præterea genus intimæ ueſtis, quæ ferè ex lino ſit, ſubucula appellata. Item ſucula, quamuis ſucula paruam quoq; ſuem ſignificet. Plau. Eſt ſucula argenteola, & duæ cõnexæ maniculæ. & ſucula. Quin. Tu i dierecta cum ſucula, & cum porculis. Crepundia ſunt nõ modo ueſtes, ſed bullæ, enſiculi, ſecuriculæ, crepitacula, & puerilia ornamẽta, à crepando, hoc eſt tinniendo dicta: quoniam infantes huiuſmodi crepitaculis maxime gaudent. Mart. Si quis plorator collo tibi uernula pendet, Hæc quatiet tenera garula ſiſtra manu. Plaut. Sunt crepundia? ecca uideo. Qua facie ſunt? Enſiculus aureolus primũ literatus, poſt altrinſecus ſecuricula ancipes, item aurea literata: poſt hæc ſicula argenteola, & duæ cõnexæ maniculæ, & ſucula, & bulla aurea eſt, quam pater dedit mihi

natali die. Item caſtula palliolum erat, quo puellæ nudæ infra papillas præcingebantur. Varro: Caſtulã mulier ſumpſerat pro ſucula. Item femoralia ſunt, quibus pudendæ partes corporis teguntur, dicta à femore. Item à femina feminalia, nam femur exterior pars ſub coxendice dicitur, femẽ interior, uel femur pars poſterior, femen anterior. Liuius: Quoſdam et iacentes uiuos ſuccifos feminibus, poplitibus q; inuenerũt. Eadem ſubligacula à ſubligando dicuntur. Cicero: Scænicorum quidem mos tantam habet uetere diſciplina uerecundiam, ut in ſcenam ſine ſubligaculo prodeat nemo. & ſubligaria. Pli. At hercle Alexandria, ubi thura interpollantur, nulla ſatis cuſtodit diligentia officinas, ſubligaria ſignãtur opifici. Martial. Tecta tamen nõ hac, qua debes parte lauaris. Si pudor eſt transfer ſubligar in faciem. Sunt etiam qui à ſuccingendo ſue cintoria nominent. Item campeſtria, quod ijs in gymnaſijs, & palæſtris, hoc eſt in campis utẽrentur, à quo qui campeſtria induti ſunt, dicuntur campeſtrati. Ad hæc ſunt candidiſſimæ ſimul ac ſubtiliſſimæ ueſtes ex lino Aegyptio factæ, quæ plurimum pulchritudinis, ac lucri, minimum firmitatis habent. Hæ magno uulgi errore bombycinæ dicuntur, Xylinæ autẽ debent appellari, ſiue goſſipinæ, ſeu goſſampinæ. quippe goſſipion, ſiue Xylon, ſeu goſſampinus frutex eſt ex ſuperiori parte Aegypti, quæ in Arabiam uergit, allatus nunc etiam in quibuſdam locis Italiæ naſcens, ex quo lina fiunt, quæ goſſipina, ſiue Xylina, ſeu goſſampina dicuntur. paruulus eſt, ſimilemq; barbatæ nuci defert fructum plenum lanugine. Nec ullum genus lini in candore huic, mollitiã ue præfertur. Iuriſconſulti inter lanas potius connumerant, dicuntq; lanam ligneam à Græcis appellari. Veſtes inde ſacerdotibus Aegypti gratiſſimæ fiunt. Quidam etiam huiuſmodi linum cotonum uocant, quod frutices id ferentes, quibuſdam in locis folia habet uitiſ ſimilia, niſi quod minora ſunt, ferunt q; cotonei mali ſimilitudine cucurbitas, quæ maturitate ruptæ lanuginis pilas emittunt, cotoneam uero Veneti uocant herbam, quam Galli halã nominant, ſimilem cunilæ bubulæ cacuminibus thymo dulcem, & ſitim ſedantem. Sunt item ueſtes ſericeæ leuitate omnibus præſtantes multiplici colorum uarietate infectæ. Mittunt has Seres Scytharum populi, à quibus nomen habent. Innaſcitur arborum frondibus lanugo nobilis, quæ ſericum dicitur: hanc ueluti quandam frondium canitiem aqua perfuſa depectunt, geminus hinc fœminis labor eſt, redordiendi fila, rurſuſq; texendi. Aliæ quoq; arbores lanigeras arbores habẽt, ſed omnibus iam nomen Seres dedere: ſiquidem et bõbycinas nunc à ſericeis non diſtingunt. bombyx animal eſt ex inſectorum genere. Tria eorum genera ſunt. primum in Aſſyria proueniens ueſpa maius, nidos luto figit, & pariẽti applicat, ſeu alicui lapidi tanta duritia, ut ſpiculis perforari uix poſſint. in his ceras largius, quàm apes faciunt, deinde maiorem uermiculũ. Aliud fit ex grandiore uerme, qui ueluti gemina protendit cornua. ſuiq; generis eſt primum toto immutato eruca, deinde bõbilis appellatur, ex quo necydalus, ex hoc in ſex menſibus bombyces telas araneorum modo texunt ad ueſtem, ac luxum uirorum, ac fœminarum, quæ bombycina appellatur. Prima eas in filũ retorquere, ac inde texere in Coo inſula Pamphila Platis filia inuenit, à quo huiuſmodi ueſtis Cois appellata eſt. Horat. Altera nil obſtat Cois tibi. Tertium genus in eadẽ Coo inſula primo inuentum tradunt, floribus quarundam arborum imbre decuſſis, & terræ alitu animatis factos primo papiliones paruos, nudosq;, mox frigorum impatientia uillis inhorruiſſe, & aduerſus hyemẽ inſtauraſſe ſibi tunicas denſiſſimas, pedũ aſperitate foliorum lanuginem radentes in uellera: quam unguium carminatione ſubigentes, mox traxerunt in ramos, & ueluti pectine tenuarunt, postea apprehensam inuoluerunt corpori, facto sibi nido uolubili: sic ab homine sublati sunt, fictilibus q uasis tepore, & furfurum esca nutriti, ita subnatos alios sui generis bombyces. Deinde in Italiã quoq translatos tam gratos mulieribus, ut non fictilibus iam uasis, sed pectoribus, ac mammis ipsos foueant, alantq ferè folijs mori. Horum lanificia humore lentescunt, excerpta mox in fila exiguo fuso tenuantur, & uestes fiunt, tam mulieribus, quàm uiris omni quidõ tempore, sed præsertim æstate gratissimæ. Sunt item byssinæ uestes ex lana mollissima, colore luteo, nigricante, ac splendorem auri reddente. Est conchæ genus, quod pinna dicitur, nascitur in limosis, subiecta semper, nec unquã sine comite, quem pinnotherem uocant, alij pinnophylacem. hic in aliquibus partibus est pisciculus, cui nomen squilla est. Cicero: Duabus grandibus obsita conchis, cum qua paruus pisciculus squilla dictus societatem coit. in aliquibus cancer, dapis assectator aperit se se pinna, atque orbum luminibus corpus minutis pisciculis præbet. assultant illi protinus, & ubi per licentiam audacia creuit, implent pinnam. Hoc tempus speculatus cancer leui morsu significat, illa ore compresso quicquid incluserit, exanimat, partemq socio præbet. Hanc, ut pleraq alias cõchas uenatur Polypus, quam ut sine discrimine comprehendat, lapillum extra carnem imponit, ne claudi, & brachia eius cõcidere possit. Aduenientem ergo peruigil socius speculatur, idq leui morsu indicat pinnæ. Illa clausis testis saluti suæ consulit, hæc pauxillum intra se lanæ habet conchæ adhærens, colore luteo, ac perlucido, quæ byssus dicitur. Fiũt ex eo præciosissimæ uestes byssinæ appellatæ, & byssinũ eiusmodi color uocatur, qui aliquãdo etiã dicitur byssus. hoc fit, si cocco tinctum, tyrio tingatur. Est etiã byssinũ lini genus pretiosi, quod circa Elin in Achaia gigni solebat, dictum à similitudine huius, quod diximus byssini, & mulierum maxime delitijs conueniens. huic lino inter cætera genera principatus est, eo excepto, quod uiuum appellant, nec ullis ignibus absumitur. Ardent ex eo mappæ in focis conuiuatorum, & igne exustæ magis splendescunt, quàm si aquis abluerentur. Fiunt hinc funẽbres regum tunicæ, quæ fa uillam corporis, dum crematur, ab reliquo cinere separãt. Nascitur in desertis, ac sole adustis Indiæ locis, ubi imbres non cadunt, assuescitq uiuere ardendo, rarum muentu, & textu difficile propter breuitatem. Rufus alioquin color igni maxime splendescit. Cum inuentum est, æquat precia Margaritarum. uocatur à Græcis asbestinũ propter calcis similitudinem, quæ igni purificatur. Calcem enim Græci ἄσβεστον uocant. β græca litera aliquando non in b latinum, sed in u consonantem conuertitur, ut in Asuestinum, & in Eruus. linteum ex asuesti no factum, si circa arborẽ ponatur, tædit arbor surdis ictibus. Strabo scribit ad Carystum in Euboœa lapidem nasci, quẽ pectunt, nent, texunt. conficiuntur inde mantilia egregie contexta. ea ubi sordescunt, in flammas proiecta non secus emundantur, quàm si aquis maculæ eluerentur. ex Hispania afferri quondam linum solebat, faciendis plagis utilissimum, quod xœlicũ uocatur, à ciuitate Galatiæ, propinqua Oceano, et Cumanum è Campania ad piscium, & auium capturam. Item etiam ad faciendas plagas, quæ Cumanæ dicebantur, aprosfilo, ceu ferri acie concidentes. Plagæ, non funiculi sunt, quibus retia astringuntur (ut Seruius sentit) sed retia rariora ad capiendas feras, quod præclare Virg. definit: Retia rara plagæ, lato uenabula ferro. Nam funiculi quibus retia tendũtur, circa summam, & imam partem epidromes appellantur, quod m ijs retia discurrant. ἔπι enim significat in, δρόμος curro. Visæ sunt tantæ tenuitatis, ut annulum hominis cum epidromibus, hoc est funiculis, quibus extenduntur transierint, uno tantam eorum multitudinem portante, ut saltus cingere possent. nec adeo hoc mirum est, cum illud sit mirabilius singula stamina earum centeno quinquageno filo constare, quamuis illud hoc miraculum superat, quod in Aegyptij quondam regis thorace, in Rhodiorũ insula uisum est in templo Mineruæ trecentis sexagintaquinque filis singula fila constare. Est etiam lini genus, quod carbasus dicitur, ex quo præciua fiunt uela nauium, quæ & ipsa ab hoc pluratiuo numero Carbasa neutro genere dicuntur, singularis fœminino carbasus. Hinc carbasina uela dicimus, siue quæ ex eo genere lini sunt, siue naualia carbasina, hoc est naualia uela. Primus in theatro fertur duxisse Lentulus Spinther, Apollinaribus ludis: mox Cæsar dictator totũ forum Romanũ eisdem uelis texit, uiamq sacrã ab domo sua ad cliuum usq in capitolium, quod ludo ipso, quem edidit gladiatorio mirabilius usum fuisse prodiderũt. Deinde Marcellus Octauia sorore Augusti genitus, uelis forũ inumbrauit, ut salubrius litigantes cõsisterent. Quidam etiam caua ædium uelis texerunt, ut solem arcerent. Quinetiã tingere coloribus lina cœpere, ex q bus fierent uela. Talibus usus est Alexander Magnus, dum Indo amne nauigaret. Item uelo purpureo ad Accium cum M. Antonio Cleopatra uenit, eodemq effugit. Postea in theatris tantum huiusmodi uela umbram fecere, quod primum Q. Catulus, cum capitolium dedicaret, inuenit. Lino ueteres culcitras implere, ac tomento solebãt, præsertim in Gallia Cisalpina. Est & lini genus, quod orthommũ appellant: fit è pannicula palustris harundinis. Asia linum è genesta facit ad piscatoria retia præcipuũ. Aethiopes, Indiq è malis. Arabes è cucurbitis. Semen lini utile medicinæ est, adhibeturq in rustico quodam, ac prædulci Transpadanæ Italiæ cibo. Item eo in sacris utebantur, uirgæ in aqua macerantur, tũ siccatæ in saxo tunduntur stipario malleo. quod proximũ conuici est stupa appellatur à Græco στύπον, quod stupam significat. unde stipo fit, quod proprie est rimas obturo, quia in hoc stupa uti solemus. est enim deterius linum, quod lucernarum ferè luminibus ueteres adhibebant, & rimis maxime nauium claudendis. Vnde stipatores appellati, qui in nauibus stipam, hoc est stupam componunt. Hinc stipare pro densare & componere accipitur. Virgilius: Stipatq carinis Ingens argentum. & stipatores dicuntur corporis nostri custodes, quos antiqui à latere latrones uocitabant, uel quod stipati, hoc est, cateruati corpora regum circundabant, uel quod ipsi ferro circundati & stipati erant. Ab hoc stips dicta merces, quæ stipatoribus, & militibus dabatur. Aug. Putas te stipem elephanto dare. quamuis Varro stipem dictam uelit, quod qui supra as maiorem numerum accepissent, non in arca ponebant, sed in aliqua cælla stipabant, hoc est cõponebant, quo minus loci occuparet. Hinc stipendium æs militare appellatum à stipe pendenda, & stipendiarij milites, quod eam stipem pendebant. Ennius: Pœni stipendia pendunt. pecuniam quoque, quam uel in ærarium reponebant, uel dijs offerebant, stipem ueteres dixere. Item quod mendicis ad sustentationem infelicis uitæ porrigitur. Hinc qui pecuniam rogat, & qui spondet stipulari, acre stipulari dicitur, quod uerbum postea ad omneis rogationes, quæ solenniter fiunt, translatum est, & stipulatio rogatio dicitur, & stipulator, qui rogat siue rogatur. Dicimus autem stipulor abs te actiue, hoc est rogo te, peto abs te, & stipulor abs te passiue, hoc est rogor abs te. à quo fit astipulor, quod significat assentior. à stipo stiparium dicimus quicquid ad stipandum pertinet, ut stiparius malleus. & constipo uerbum, quod est condenso, ut stipes fustis terræ defixus, qui quoniam pulsulare aliquando consueuit, putant aliqui stirpem ab eo dictã. stirps enim fœminino genere originem significat. Virgilius:

Heu stirpẽ

Heu stirpem inuisam. Masculino arborem. Idem: Sed stirpem Teucri nullo discrimine sacrũ. à quo extirpo deducitur, quod proprie significat radicitus euello. per metaphoram tamen ad alia quoque transfertur, unde extirpari uitia dicimus, quasi funditus tolli. Horat. improprie, ut alij plures fœminino genere protulit: Stirpesq raptas, & pecus, & domos. Item stypula à stupa deducitur, siue quod stupæ instar uratur, siue quod ea quoque stypari tectorum rimæ consueuerunt. Est autẽ stypula calamus frumenti, utputa tritici, hordei, farris, & similiũ, quod scilicet continet spicam, quod unam duntaxat stypulam habet unicalamum frumentum dicitur. Stypulæ internodia dicuntur geniculæ, & aliquando genua à similitudine genuum animalis. Plinius: Frumenta quædam in genu tertio spicam incipium concipere. Idem: Geniculæ sunt tritico quaternæ, farri senæ, hordeo octonæ. Ab hoc geniculatũ dicitur, quod frequentibus geniculis constat, ut est herba, quæ heliotropiũ uocatur, ob id genicularis herba ab aliquibus nominata. & geniculatim frãgi, aut aliud fieri dicimus, hoc est per singula genicula. Stypula in cãpo remanet frumento demesso. Item ea pars, quæ è frumento demesso, cõtusa spica superstat similiter stypula generali uocabulo appellatur. Virgilius: Non tu in triuijs indocte solebas Stridenti miserum stypula disperdere carmen quã alibi auenam uocitant, cum proprie auena genus sit frumenti. Sylueſtem tenui musam meditaris auena. Veruntamen, si proprie loqui uelimus, cum per se tantum spica pinsitur ad aurifi cum usus, acus uocatur, cum uero in area teritur, palea ad pabula iumentorum. Nam milij, & panici, & sisamæ purgamenta, non paleam, sed appludam nominamus. Neuius: Ne hercle appluda est hodie, quàm tu leuior. dicta est ab applodendo, quod propter tenuitatem, & quia minutissima est spiritu deijci atur. non sine errore A Gellius, & Nonius Marcellus appludam frumenti furfurem à ueteribus dictam scripsere, & Pompeius, sorbitionis genus esse liquidissimum. Acus autem istud, quod diximus, stypulæ genus uocatur à similitudine acus, qua suimus. Acus autem ab acumine. Acumen, & acuo, & acies, ab acone græco uocabulo, quã latine dicimus cotem. Dicitur autem acies, cuiuscunq rei acumen, & quasi summũ, unde aciem ferri dicimus, aciem oculorũ, aciem exercitus. Ab acuo acutus deducitur notæ significationis, quod etiam ad incorporea transfertur, ut acutum ingenium, acutus uisus. Et aciaris securis ærea, qua in sacrificijs sacerdotes apud ueteres utebantur. Et acer, quod proprie acutũ significat. Cice. Acri homo ingenio. Per metaphorã tamen aliquando pro ueloci usurpantur. Virgilius: Calidumq animis, & cursibus acrem. Aliquando pro seuero. Cicero: Suum igitur quisq noscat ingeniũ, acrem se & bonorum, & malorum iudicem præbeat. Interdum pro uehementi, sæuo, cruento. Virgilius: Acremq molossum Pasce sero pingui. Idẽ: Acri quondã regnata Lycurgo. Nõnunq pro diligenti, prouido. Idem: Iam tum acer curas uenientẽ extendit in annum rusticus. Quandoq pro forti. Idem: Aut acrẽ dubiues in prælia poscere Turnum. Ab hoc acrimonia deducitur, hoc est uiuacitas animi, acumẽ ingenij, & mẽtis seueritas. & acriter aduerbium, acute, uehementer, fortiter, seuere, & eorum comparatiua, ac superlatiua. Item alacer, siue alacris, (utroque enim modo dicitur) quod modo festinum significat, quasi alis acer. Terenti. Quid tu es tristis, quid ue es alacris? modo lætum, & ueluti in spem aliquam gestientem. à quo alacritas dicta mutatio quædam uultus in aliquam spem gestientis. Cice. Vir ergo temperatus, constans, sine metu, sine ægritudine, sine alacritate, nulla libidine uexatus. Ab hoc fit alacriter aduerbiũ. Item ab acer acerbus, quod proprie incoctum & nondum maturum significat, unde poma acerba, & acerbum uuluus, id est immaturum, dicimus. Aliquando tamen ponitur pro horrendo, & immiti. Virgil. Et funere mersit acerbo. Ab hoc fit acerbitas, quod modo amaritudinem saporis, modo cruditatem, modo sæuitiam significat. & acerbe aduerbium, amare, immature, crudeliter, & comparatiua, superlatiuaq eorum. Item acer arbor, quod acria in ea artificum ingenia exerceantur. Est enim amplissima arbor, & operũ elegantia, ac subtilitate, primum post citrũ locum obtinet. Mensæ inde acernæ dicuntur. Martialis de mensa acerna: Nõ sum crispa quidem, nec syluæ filia Mauræ, sed norunt lautas, & mea ligna dapes. Plura eius genera sunt. Album, quod præcipui candoris gallicum uocatur, in Transpadana Italia, & trãsalpeis nascens alterum crispo maculatũ discursu, qui cum excellentior sit, dicitur pauonium à caudarum pauoninarum similitudine. Martialis: De lecto pauonino: Nomina dat spõdæ pictis pulcherrima pennis Nunc Iunonis auis, sed prius Argus erat. Hoc in Istria, rhetiaq præcipuum est: è uiliori genere à uenarum crassitudine crassiuenium uocitant. Græci situ discernunt, campestre, candidum, nec crispum glinon uocant: crispius, duriusq quod in montibus nascatur, montanum. tertium genus appellant Zigiam rubentem fissili ligno, cortice liuido, & scabro. Hoc alij proprij generis esse malunt: & latine carpinum nuncupant. pulcherrimum est bruscum, multoq etiam excellentius moluscum tuber, utrunq huius arboris. Sed bruscum intortius crispum, moluscum simplicius sparsum, & sed magnitudinem mensarum caperet, haud dubie prælatum à ueteribus citro fuisset: propter paruitatem intra pugillares tantum & lectorum laminas stetit. Et brusco mensæ quoq factæ sunt nigrescentes. reperitur & in alno tuber nota arbore, sed tanto deterius, quanto alnus ipsa distat ab acere. Item acetũ, quod nihil aliud est, quàm acre uinum. à quo acetosum, & acetositas, & acer pro ipsa acetositate. & acetaria, herbæ, quæ ad excitandum appetitum cum aceto manduntur. & acidum pro acetoso, cuius diminutiuum est acidulum. & acetabulum, de quo inferius dicemus. Veteres acetare scripserunt pro commouere, & quod nunc dicimus agitare. Præterea ab acuo fit acupedius, de quo inferius dicemus. & acinus granum, & aceruus, quod est cuiuscunque rei congeries in acutum elata. Acus etiã piscis genus est, de quo diximus. Itẽ genus instrũctæ aciei, quod ea pars militum uehementissima sit ad nocendũ hosti acumine telorum. Item instrumentum ad ornandum caput, quod & per diminutionem acicula dicitur. Ab acu autem cum paleam significat, fit acero uerbum, quod est paleis inficio. itaq acerosum frumentum dicimus immundum, & non sine paleis, à quo & panis, qui ex eo fit, acerosus dicitur. & aceratum lutum, quo paleis immistum est ad tuguria facienda. & obacero, quod est loquendo alterius sermoni molesto, impedio, quasi paleas ori obijciendo. Item à stupa stupeo deriuatur, à quo stupor, quæ est quædam alienatio sensuum, quod scilicet sensus constypentur. hinc stupefacio, & stupefio, & stupidus, qã modo stupefactum significat, modo insensatum: unde stupentia, siue stupida membra dicuntur, quando uel paruum, uel nullum habent sensum. Item obstupeo, & stupesco, & obstupesco, & substupeo, & substupidus, & obstupefacio, & obstupefio notæ significationis. Itẽ à stupa stupeũ dicitur, qđ ex stupa est, sicut à lino lineum, quod ex lino. Linum græca uox est: Græci enim λίνον nominant. Ab hoc qui lini artẽ exercet linarius à nobis dicitur, à Græcis λινοπώλος. & linteum, hoc est panneus lineus, quod græce λινοῦν dicitur. à quo fit diminutiuum linteolum, & linamentum quoque significat, quod est filum ipsum, quod ex lino uoluendo trahitur. Plinius: Delphini adipe linamenta accensa excitant uuluæ strangulatu opa pressas. & quo ueteres usi fuere, linio linionis, qui à Græcis λινουργὸς appellatur. Nam λίνυφον uocant lini textorem, λινοῦχον retiarium, & λινόσπερμα lini semen. Item à lino licium dictum filum, quo in tela textrices implicant stamen. à quo licio uerbum cum eius deriuatiuis, atque compositis, de quibus inferius dicemus. Et Linus proprium nomen quãuis primam corripiat. Hic Mercurij ex Vrania musa filius fuit, ut Hermodorus affirmat. Virgilius tamen ab Apolline genitum dicit. & linea, quæ proprie significat filum illud, quo fabri materiarij utuntur ad signandam materiam, quod ex lino fiat, à Græcis dicitur σαθμή. & quoniam ab hac, si rubrica, uel alio colore intincta fuerit figura designatur longa sine latitudine, atque altitudine, ea quoq; figura à Græcis γραμμὴ, à nostris linea dicta est. item ea, quam non colore, sed animo imaginantur geometræ, de qua paulo superius disseruimus. Antiqui pictores penicillo tenuissimam lineam ducere pulchrum putabant. Tradunt Apellem excellentissimum pictorem, cum aliquando Rhodum ad Protogenem alium pictorẽ auidus cognoscendi opera eius adnauigasset, quoniã fama tantum hominem prius cognouerat, statim officinam illius petijsse. Aberat tum ipse, relicta domi anicula, quæ tabulam unam satis amplam ad pingendum parata custodiebat, hanc rogatam, foris esse Protogenem respondisse, interrogasseq;, à quo quæsitum illi referret. Ab hoc Apellem dixisse, arreptoq; penicillo, lineam per tabulam duxisse ex colore summæ tenuitatis. Reuersum deinde Protogenem, & re, uti gesta fuerat ab anicula cognita, operis subtilitatẽ contemplatũ, uenisse Apellem dixisse, & ipsum tunc alio colore tenuiorem in illa ipsa lineam duxisse, & abeuntem præcepisse aniculæ, ut si ille redijsset, ostenderet, diceret'que hunc esse, quem quærebat. Reuersum post hæc Apellem, quoniam uinci erubescebat, tertio colore lineas secuisse, nullo subtilitati loco relicto, confessum Protogenẽ se ab eo uictum, in portũ, ut hospitem quæreret, deuolasse. Tradita deinde posteris hæc tabula magno omnibus miraculo fuit, nihil aliud cõtinens, quàm lineas uisum effugientes, & tamen omni tempore nobilior habita. Cõsumpta est priore incendio domus Cæsaris in palatio. Fuit Apelli perpetua consuetudo, nunquã tam occupatam diem agendi, ut non lineã ducendo, artem exerceret, ex quo natum est prouerbium, cum significare uolumus non esse frustra tempus terendum: Nulla sit dies sine linea, nec lineam hodie duxi, hoc est nihil feci. à linea fit lineo uerbam, quod est lineam duco. & linearis, ad lineam pertinens. unde linearis pictura uocata est, quam primus Philocles Aegyptius, uel Cleantes Corinthius inuenit lineis circum umbrã hominis deductis. Sic enim inuentã primo picturã constat ab Aegyptijs, ut nonnulli putant, ut alij à Græcis, uel apud Sicyonios, uel apud Corinthios. Primi enim eam exercuere Ardices Corinthius, & Telephanes Sicyonius sine ullo colore, spargentes tamen lineas intus. Itaque γράφειν, hoc est scribere dicti sunt, & γραφὴ tam scripturam, quàm picturam significat, & γραφεὺς, tam scribam, quàm pictorem, & γραφεῖον stilum, & γραφιοθήκη graphiarium, hoc est theca, in qua stili reponuntur, quibus & scribere simul, & pingere solebant ante, quàm penicilli, & colores inuenirentur. Latini quoq; Græcos secuti huiusmodi linearem picturam Graphidem nominauere. Plinius: Graphidis uestigia extant in tabulis, ac membranis, ex quibus proficere dicuntur artifices. Item ab hac linea lineamenta, hoc est extremitates ipsæ, & quasi lineæ quædam corporum, per quas hominis forma dignoscitur, à lineari pictura tracta, in qua per solas lineas effigies hominis cognoscebatur. Item lino uerbum, quod proprie est leuiter aliquid induco, & quasi lineam du-

co. Vnde interlinire dicimus superinducto atramento, aut alio liquore scripturã aliquã, picturam'ue destruere. Cicero: Tabulæ sunt in medio, se corruptas, atq; interlitas esse clamant. hinc talis inductio litura dicta. à lino litera, quod in scribendo illinitur, hoc est leuiter inducitur atramentum, quãuis alij literam quasi legiterã dictã uelint, quod legenti iter præbeat. Itẽ à lino litus, de quo supra diximus. & lido uerbum (ut quidam putant) quo ueteres utebantur pro eo, qđ est confringo, deleo. à quo fit allido, hoc est impingo, & elido, quod proprie significat effringo, exprimo, dissipo. Virg. Elisos oculos, & siccum sanguine guttur. Plautus: Iubeo oculos elidere. Lucil. Iniuriatum hunc in fauces inuasisse, animumq; elisisse. Virgilius: Geminosq; premẽs eliserit angueis. Cicero. Qui rebus his fractus ægritudine eliditur, potest tamẽ esse nõ miser. Idẽ: Vt auriga indoctus è curru trahitur, dilaniatur, eliditur. & illido, quod est infringo. & collido, à quo collisio deducitur, quæ est duorum, aut plurium corporum mutua (ut ita dicã) confricatio, atq; cõfractio. Item à lino linio. à quo delinio, quod est mulceo, irretio, unde fit delinimentũ. Afran. Mala ætas nulla delinimẽta inuenit. composita sunt illino. Plin. Fimũ caprinũ ex melle illitum epiphoris prodesse putant. Virgili. lita pro illita posuit: Et paribus lita corpora guttis. Oblino. Plin. Fel quoq; eius cũ axungia oblitum mirifice prodest. Ab hoc (ut quidã arbitrantur) obliuiscor deducitur, quod nouis in mentem inductis, hoc est menti oblitis, uetera abolentur. Hinc obliuio fit, & obliuiosus, qui facile obliuiscitur. Itẽ ab oblino oblitero, sicut à lino litera. obliterare enim est obscure facere, delere. Alij tamẽ hoc uerbum ab obliuione deriuatum putant, alij à litore, quod ibi notata æquari fluctibus solent, & tolli. Hinc notãdum, quod obliuio, si cum uenio, & similibus iungatur, semper passiue accipitur. Cicero: Vt si fuerint excellẽtissimi, certe iam uenerint in obliuionem. Allino. Plin. Sunt qui leporino coagulo mel addant, & hoc sæpe allinant dentem. Circunlino. Idem: Fit ex succo cicutæ ad refrigerandum stomachum malagma, præcipuus tamen est ad cohibendas epiphoras æstiuas, oculorumq; dolores sedandos circunlitus, hoc est circumcirca leuiter inductus. Sublino. Cornelius Celsus: Idem quoq; umbilico sublitũ facit. Dicitur præterea linea filum omne ex lino, & quicunque tenuis funiculus. Columel. Ligato pede longa linea gallina custoditur. Plinius: Stemmata uero lineis discurrebant ad imagines pictas. Idem: Murenæ deuorant hamũ, admouentq; dentibus lineas, atq; ita erodunt. Idem: Infixũ hamo inuertere se, quoniam scit dorso cultellato, spinaq; lineam præsecare. Inuenitur etiam filum positum pro linea. Varro: Sumptoq; atramento sutorio filum duxit. Proprie enim filum est, quod ex lino, lana'ue trahendo ducitur, hoc est linamentum. Lucilius: Surge muliẽr, duce filum non malum. à quo fit filo uerbum, quod est filum duco, quod & neo dicitur: quorum passiua sunt filor, & neor. à quo fit compositum effilo. effilatum enim dicimus, quod extra uestimentum filo contextum est, quod erectũ quoque à quibusdam dicitur. à lino etiam ligo uerbum deriuari quidam existimant, quasi lino ago, quod lino omnia ligentur, propter quod Græci λίνον, hoc est linum uocatum putant ἀπὸ τοῦ λινέω antiquo uerbo, quod est teneo, quia lino omnia tenentur. Ab hoc ligamen deriuatur, & ligamentum, & ligaculum, quo aliquid ligatur, & subligar, & subligaculum, de quibus supra diximus. & ligellum breue domicilium, & tuguriolum. Plautus: Tu à ligello fuisti, qua exis foras. & lictor, qui populo, & magistratibus ministrat: uel quod uirgarum fasceis ligatos gerebant lictores: uel quod, cũ magistratus populi Romani uirgis quempiam uerberari iussissent, crura eius, ac manus ligare lictores solebant. Tiro tamẽ Cicero nis libertus nis libertus à lino, uel licio appellatos scripsit. licio enim ex transuerso qui ministrabant, cincti erant. Plutarchus litorem absque c scribendum esse existimat, & ita à ueteribus scriptum fuisse, tractum à græco. Græci enim λιτουργὸν, hoc est populi ministrum dicunt. Nam λιτὸν populum nominant, ἐργασὴν ministrum. Erant consuli lictores duodecim, cæteris uero magistratibus, quales sunt proconsules, præsides, prætores sex. hi fascem uirgarum alligatum cum securi gerebant, iccirco duodecim fasces modo pro consule, modo pro consulatu ponimus, & fasces pro magistratu. Causam aũt cur duodecim lictores consuli essent, hanc tradunt, quod hunc morem seruabant Hetrusci, à quibus sicut toga prætexta, & sella curulis, ita & apparitores, & lictores sumpti sunt. hunc uero numerum habuerunt Hetrusci, quod ex duodecim populis cõmuniter creato rege, singulos singuli populi lictores dabant. Sunt etiam qui ab numero auium, quæ augurio regnum Romulo portenderunt, hunc numerum secutum putent, quemadmodum in minoribus magistratibus sex tantum lictores datos, à numero sex uulturum, quas conspexerat Remus. Item à ligo ligatura dicitur, & ligo ligonis rusticũ instrumentum, quod à radicibus, quæ sub terra sunt, ligetur: quamuis alij à legendo potius ligonem dictum, quasi legonem existiment, quia per latitudinem sub terra facilius legitur. Et cõposita alligo, quod est ad aliquid ligo. Circunligo notæ significationis. Obligo, deuincio. à quo obligatus, & obligatio. Præligo ante ligo. illigo, intro ligo. subligo notæ significationis. Religo, modo soluo, modo ligo. Mar. Qualiter in Scythica religatus rupe Prometheus. Colligo, simul ligo. Et lingua, uel quod (sicut Varroni placet) cibum liget. hæc enim cibos ui sua cõglobat, & deprimit, ac transmittit in uentrem, uel quod ipsa dentium septis, quasi muro circũuallata, ac ligata sit. In hac uirtus sermonis est, hac sapores sentiuntur, homini sæpe ita cõstricta uenis, ut intercidi eas necesse sit. Tenuissima est serpentibus & trisulcans, uibransq;, lacertis bifida, & pilosa, uitulis marinis duplex, crocodilis nulla, leonibus, pardis, felibus, alijsq; eiusmodi generis imbricatæ asperitatis, & limæ similis, attenuansq; lambendo hominis cutem. Ranis prima parte cohærens, intimo gutture absoluta, qua uocẽ emittunt. Mares tũc uocantur ololygones. stato enim hoc tempore euenit, dum fœminas ad coitum uocant. Tum siquidem inferiore labro demisso ad libramentum modicæ aquæ receptæ in fauces palpitante sibi lingua ululatus elicitur, à quo nomen sumpsere. siquidem Græci ὀλολύζειν ululare dicunt, quod est clamare, & lugubrem uocem emittere, unde ὀλολυγὴ ulula est nocturnæ auis genus, ὀλολυγμὸς ululatus, ὀλολύζων ululans. Apibus, & cicadis prælonga est, & eminens lingua, quibusdam insectis intus, ut formicis, elephanto lata, psitaco ferè instar humanæ. Est autem lingua non solum hæc, de qua locuti sumus, particula corporis, sed etiam differentia sermonum, unde Latinam linguam dicimus, Græcam, Iudaicam, Arabicam, Chaldæam. Quinetiã in una lingua est aliquando sermonis diuersitas, quæ similiter lingua dicitur, ut in lingua Græca est lingua, quæ communis uocatur, & Attica, & Dorica, & Ionica, & Aeolica. Item lingua promõtorij genus appellatur non excellentis, sed molliter in planum deuexi. Item instrumentum ad similitudinem coclearis: nisi quod coclear concauitatem habet, lingua plana est, & oblonga in speciem linguæ facta. Plinius: Ad sanguinem sistendum decem grana seminis ferulæ bibuntur in uino trita, uel medulla. Sunt qui comitialibus morbis dandum putant, luna quarta, sexta, septima linguæ mensura. eius diminutiuum lingula est eiusdem signifi-cationis. Idem: Cera punica fit hoc modo. uentilatur sub diuo sæpius cera fulua, deinde feruet in aqua marina ex alto petita addito nitro: inde lingulis eligunt florem, id est candidissima quæque. Eadem detracto, n, ligula dicitur. Martialis: Quamuis me ligulam dicant equitesq;, patres'que, Dicor ab indoctis lingula grammaticis. Veteres tamen gladiolum quoque oblongum in speciem linguæ factum ligulam uocitauere. Lingulæ dicuntur, quæ tibijs adhibentur ab huius, de qua supra diximus, linguæ similitudine. Lingua etiam (ut Plinius testatur) herba est, quæ circa fonteis nascitur, cuius radix cõbusta, & trita alopecias emendat. Est autem alopecia morbus in capite ex uitio humorum, qui fit cum profluuio capillorum. Accepit autem nomen ἀπὸ τῆς ἀλώπεκος, hoc est à uulpe, quod id animal hoc genus morbi crebro patiatur. Item lingua bubula herbæ genus est, quã Græci buglosson nominant, boum linguæ similis. cui præcipua uirtus est, quod in uinum deiecta, animi uoluptates auget, ob id euphrosinum dicta, quasi herba lætificans. Græci enim εὐφραίνειν lætari dicunt, unde euphrasia exultatio dicitur, & Euphrosyne læticia. Est & lingua canina alia herba, quæ cynoglossos uocatur à Græcis caninas imitans linguas topiarijs operibus gratissima. Item lingua petrea, genus est lapilli, quod inter gemmas connumeratur, glossopetra uocatur, Græcorum lingua, humanæ similis. Magi eam credunt non nasci in terra, sed deficiente luna, de cœlo decidere, & lenocinanti necessariam esse, uentosq; comprimere. A lingua lingulaca deriuatur genus piscis, et mulier auguratrix. Itẽ multiloqua. Plautus. Lingulaca est, nam nunquam tacet. & linguax, & lingulax, hoc est uerbosus, de quibus superius locuti sumus. & elinguo, hoc est linguam eximo. Plautus: Si ego hercle te non elinguendam dedero usq; ab radicibus. à quo elinguis, qui sine lingua est. Itẽ qui mutus est, & loqui non potest, etiam si linguã habeat. Bilinguis, qui uel duas linguas habet, uel modo unum, modo aliud loquitur. Eodem modo trilinguis, & quadrilinguis. Bilinguem etiam pro fallaci accipimus, hoc uitium ad mentẽ referentes. Vnde Brutij Italiæ populi Lucanis uicini bilingues uocitati sunt, & græce loqui dicti, quemadmodũ Brutij appellati, quod quasi bruti, & obscœni sunt. brutum enim dicitur quod tardum, stolidũ, & sine sensu est. à quo Bruti cognomen, qui se stolidum simulauit. à Brutijs brutiani dicti, qui officia seruilia magistratibus præstabant. eôque hi primum se Annibali tradiderunt, & cum eo perseuerauerunt, quousq; ex Italia recederet. et brutianæ parmæ dicta sunt scuta, quibus Brutij utebantur. Brutum autem à terra deductum est, cuius epitheton est bruta, hoc est sine sensu, et quasi obruta. A brutum bruteo ueteres dixere pro stupeo. à quo obruteo pro obstupeo. Afranius: Non possum uerba facere, obrutui. Et lingo, quod proprie est lingua aliquid lambo, à quo fœdissimum hominum genus cunnilingui dicuntur. Lingere etiam dicimur, dum aliquid in ore tenentes guttatim defluere in stomachum sinimus, quæ res linctus dicitur, et ecligma. Plin. Telicos gemma est, quæ oleæ nucleo similis uidetur, & lingentium calculos frangit, pellitq;. Idem: Multi tussim ueterem linctu salis discussere. Idem: E semine lini utilissima fiunt ecligmata. A lingo ligurio fit, quod modo significat id, quod ueteres dixerunt degulo, et auide multa cõsumo. Horat. Semesos pisceis, tepidumq; ligurierit. unde liguritores dicuntur, qui consumptis dapibus, catillos etiam lingunt. modo paulatim, & cum quadam mora, atque elegantia comedo, quasi sinendo, ut per se cibus in stomachum liquefiat. Terentius: Quæ cum amatore suo cœnant, liguriunt. Ab hoc alligurio deriuatur eiusdem significationis, & obligurio. Te-

ren. Itidem patria qui obligurierat bona. Non recte Donatus ligurio à Græco deductum scribit λιγυρὸν, quod suaue interpretatur. Sunt qui lixam quoque à liguriendo quæstum dictum uelint. Sic enim scribit Pompeius: Lixæ sunt, qui exercitum sequuntur quæstus gratia, dicti, quod extra ordinem sint militiæ, eisq; liceat, quod libuerit. Alij eos à Lixa appellatos credunt, quod & ille Herculem sit secutus: quidam à liguriendo quæstum. At Marcellus elixum est, inquit, quicquid ex aqua mollitur, uel decoquitur. Nam lixam aquam ueteres esse dixerunt. Vnde & lixæ dicti, qui militibus aquam ad castra, uel ad tentoria solent ferre. Varro: In pauimento non audes facere lacunam, at in humum calceos facis elixos. Nos uero (quod utriusq; pace dictum sit) lixas esse affirmamus eos, qui uilioris quæstus gratia exercitum sequuntur, utputa lauandi, aut coquēdi causa, appellatosq; à cinere. Lix enim (ut Varro inquit) foci cinis est, unde lixiuium dicitur aqua, in qua lauandi gratia, decoctus est cinis. & elixum, quod cinere ollæ supposito, decoctum est, propter quod & aulicocium dicitur, hoc est olla decoctum. Nam ueteres pro olla aulam dicebant. à quo Plautina fabula Aulularia uocitata est ab aulula, hoc est parua olla, in qua repositus erat thesaurus. Vnde argumentum eius fabulæ est, aulam repertam auri plenam Euclio ui summa seruat miseris affectus modis. Huius etiam aliud diminutiuum est auxilla. Lixæ ergo dicti, quod & in depuranda supellectile, & in cibis decoquendis cinerem agitarent. M. autem Varronis uerba hæc sunt: Lix cinis est foci. Inde enim cinis luxatis potus medetur, ut licet uidere gladiatores, cum deluserint, hac iuuari potione. Lixam uero ubi pro aqua Marcellus legerit, ipse ostendat. attulisset certe autorem, ut mos eius est, si uspiam legisset. Nam quod Varronem affert scripsisse calceos elixos, per metaphoram dictum est, quasi ita madefactos, ut est caro, quæ elixatur. à lixa etiam fit elixo uerbum. & lixabundus uocatus est, qui exiguæ mercedis gratia uilissimis sese obsequijs immiscet. Plaut. Qui famam tuam lixabundus, & nomen fœdas. Liguria Italiæ regio est inter amneis Varū, & Macram, ab altero latere habēs Apenninum, ab altero Padum, Thusciam attingens, cuius caput Genua est. à qua ligustica ora appellatur, & incola eius Ligur, & Ligus. Virgi. Vane Ligus, frustraq; animis elate superbis. Sed hæc non à ligurio dicitur, sed à Ligysto Phaëtontis filio, cui ob suauitatem, ac uarietatem uocis nomen inditum fuit. Græci enim λιγυρὸν uocum uarietatem dicunt, unde quidam lyram uocatam existimant instrumentum musicum, in qua quot fides sunt, tot resonant uoces: uel ἀπὸ τοῦ λύειν, quod canere est. Hinc poëtæ lyrici dicti, quod uarijs carminibus utuntur, & ad lyram canunt, & carmen ipsum lyricum nominatur. Eandem poëtæ Chelym uocant ἀπὸ τῆς χελώνης, hoc est à testudine. Tradunt enim, cum aliquando Nilus suum egressus alueum totam Aegyptum inundasset, eo postea intra suos limites ingresso, uarias animanteis in campis fuisse relictas: inter quas remansisse testudinem, quam cum Mercurius inuenisset, consumpta iam carne, sed superstitibus neruis, percussu sonum excitasse. Quapropter ad similitudinem illius composuisse lyram, eam Orpheo tradidisse. alij non Orpheo, sed Apollini traditam memorant, uti supra diximus, & ab Apolline Orpheo concessam, quod esset unius ex musis, hoc est Calliopes filius, & Oeagri. Factam autem lyram ex cornibus boum Apollinis, & septem in ea chordas appositas iuxta numerum septem Atlantidum, quod Maia mater eius ex illarum numero esset, deinde superadditas duas, ut repræsentaret numerum nouem Musarum. tantæ autem suauitatis in mo-dulando fuisse perhibetur, ut arbores, saxa, feras traxisse Orpheus dicatur. & cum ad inferos uxorem Eurydicem quærens descendisset, omnem deorum progeniem laudasse Libero patre excepto: hunc enim obliuione ductum prætermisisse. Ob quā causam dum paulo post Orpheus in Olympo monte, qui Macedoniam à Thracia diuidit, siue (ut quidā uolunt) in Pāgæo Thraciæ promontorio sedens, cantu oblectaretur, Bacchas ei Liberū obiecisse, quæ eum lacerarent, atq; discerperent, quo facto musas collecta mēbra, sepulturæ dedisse, lyrā uero stellis figuratam inter sidera collocasse, Apolline id permittente, quod laudatus ab Orpheo fuerat, & Ioue, ut Apollini id petenti obsequeretur. Alij tradunt Venerem cum Proserpina ante Iouis tribunal de Adoni contendisse, quibus Calliopen Orphei matrem à Ioue iudicem datam: quæ, cum iudicasset Adonin utriusque esse debere, & utranque dimidia anni parte eum possidere, indignatam Venerem, quæ totum sibi concedi uoluisset, Orpheum uniuersis Thraciæ mulieribus obiecisse, ut amore illius incensæ frustatim eum discerperēt. Sic Orpheo dilaniato, caput eius de monte in mare proiectum in insulam Lesbon fluctuum agitatione peruenisse, sublatumq; ab incolis, & sepulturæ traditum fuisse, eius beneficij gratia Lesbios ad musicam artem ingeniosissimos existimari. Lyram autem à Musis, ut supra diximus, in cœlum translatam fuisse. Sunt qui putent Orpheum, quod primus puerilem amorem induxerit, mulieribus inuisum ab eis dilaceratum fuisse. hæc lyra posita est contra regionem eius loci, qui est inter genu, & manum sinistram Engonasis. eius testudo spectat ad arcticum circulum, summum cacumen ad polum notium. Virgine exoriente occidere, cum Sagittario exoriri cernitur. habet in ipsis testudinis lateribus singulas stellas, in summis cacuminibus eorū, ubi brachia sunt collocata, singulas. In ijsdem medijs, quos nonnulli humeros uocant, in scapulis duas: in una parte lyræ, quæ ut basis totius uidetur, unam, quæ in summa nouem sunt stellæ. Ab huius lyræ similitudine lyrare dicuntur agricolæ, cum crate dentata, uel tabula aratro adnexa, quasi lyræ testudine operiunt semina. Hic enim ordo in re rustica seruatur. primo terra aratur, quod dicunt proscindere: deinde secunda aratione excitatæ grandiores glebæ franguntur, quod uocant effringere. tertia aratione iacto semine boues lyrare dicuntur, id est cum tabellis, & uomere simul, & satum frumentum operiunt in porcis, & sulcant in fossas, quo pluuia aqua dilabatur. Nonnulli postea, qui segetes non tam lætas habent, per sarctores occare solent, quod dicitur occatio. Ab hoc lyro primo delyratio dicta est, cum quis non recto sulco tegendo semen incedebat. Deinde per metaphoram ad insaniam, hoc est uocabulum translatum est. unde & delyri insani dicuntur, & delyrare insanire, & delyre aduerbium insane, & delyramentum ipsa delyratio, & fossa ipsa, in quam uligo terræ descendit, lyra à quibusdam uocatur. Quidam tamen existimauerunt delyrare à græco deductum, apud quos ληρεῖν ineptire significat, & λῆρον delyramentum. Aristophanes: λῆρον ληρεῖς. Nostri etiam lyras gerras, & nugas uocitauere. Plautus: Nam tuæ blanditiæ mihi sunt, quod dici solet gerræ, germanæ ædepol lyræ. Lyris fluuius est Campaniæ, interfluens urbem Minturnensium. Virgilius: Et umbrosæ lyris per regna Maricæ. Horatius: Non rura, quæ Lyris quieta mordet. Ligyes populi sunt Asiatici, qui cum Xerse aduersus Græcos militauerunt. Lygdamus nomen est uiri proprium. Habent præterea uestes à coloribus multiplicem differentiam, sed dum de ijs disserimus, operæ precium erit, & colorum ipsorum, quibus inficere uesteis, aut

pingere solent, omnia insimul commemorare. In primis est natiuus color, qui nulla arte, sed natura producitur, modo in albedinem tendens, modo in nigredinem, non tamen perfecte, ut albus, uel niger. Natiuus color albus leucopus dicitur, uilis, atque uulgaris, nomen trahens à Græcis, apud quos λευκὸν dicitur album. Plinius: Iecur rubetæ, uel cor adalligatum in panno leucopo, & quartanis prodest. hinc leucopeati dicuntur, qui rudiori alba ueste, ac uili, & natiui coloris induti sunt. Martialis: Amator ille tristium lacernarum, & Beticatus, simul atque Leucopeatus, natiua laudet, habeat & licet semper. Si uero, huic colori ars addita sit, candidæ uestes dicuntur. Idem: Atque unam uestire tribum tua candida possunt & niueæ. Plautus: Puram, ac niueā togam. & Caltulæ à calta uiola coloris albi. Idem: Indusiatā, patagiatam, caltulam, ac crocotulam. & galbanæ. nam galbana albæ uestes sunt, de quibus supra diximus, unde & galbini mores dicuntur, hoc est luxuriosi, lasciui. Martialis: Fuscos, colores, galbinos habet mores. & olorinæ namq olorinus color candidus est, qui & cygneus dicitur. Plinius: Gasidanem Medi mittunt coloris olorini. Colores uero albi, quibus in pictura utuntur, sicut Parethonium à loco Aegypti ita uocatum. hoc spumam maris esse existimant, cum limo solidatam, quapropter minutæ conchulæ plerunque in eo inueniuntur. Fit & in Creta insula, & Cyrenis: adulteratúrque Romæ Cimolia creta. nullum est è candidis coloribus pinguius, aut tectorijs propter liuorem tenacius. Melinum optimum in Melo insula, unde nomen habet. nascitur & in Samo, raro eo pictores utuntur, ob nimiam pinguedinem. linguam tactu siccat, pilos mirifice detrahit cerusa, de qua supra diximus, quæ si usta sit, rufescit, nec sine ea recte fieri umbræ possunt. Eretria, quæ terræ suæ nomen habet, qua præcipue usus fuisse Parrhasius dicitur. Sandraca, quæ inuenitur in aurarijs, & in argentarijs metallis adulteratur ex cerusa in fornace cocta. hæc si torreatur, æqua parte rubrica admista Sandicem facit, quanquam Virgilius herbam hanc uidetur existimasse, dum inquit: Sponte sua sandix pascenteis uestiet agnos. Hinc sandicinus color est dictus, sicut à sandaraca, sandaracinus. Næuius: Sandaracino ore. Albi coloris gemmæ sunt primo crystallus, quæ fit gelu uehementer concreto, ut nōnulli putant, quapropter à glacie nomen habet. Græci enim κρύσταλλον glaciem nominant. Vas amphorale ex ea uisum Xenocrates scribit. Mittit hanc Asia, Cyprúsque, & aliæ diuersæ regiones, sed & in Alpium iugis, & in Germania reperitur: si quod in ea uitium est, cælatura ab artifice occultatur. puræ præstantiores sunt, & Asyntheta nominantur. Inter uitia est rubigo, scabricies, nubes maculosa, centrum, quod sal appellatur, & capillamentum rimæ simile. Tradunt medici, quæ in corporibus urenda sunt non aliter melius fieri, quàm crystallina pila aduersus solis radios opposita. Nero princeps amissarum rerum nuntio accepto, duos calices crystallinos in suprema ira confregit, ne quis ex ijs bibere posset, quando ipse non poterat. Postea, quod maximum in rebus humanis precium obtinet, Adamas, colore similı modo translucido, ita incudibus respuens ictum, ut ferrum utrinque dissultet. duritia ei inenarrabilis est, & ignium uictrix, in quibus nunquam incalescit: quapropter Adamas, quasi indomabilis uocitatus est, ab α priuatiua particula, & δαμάζειν, quod est domare. Est genus eius, quod cenchron uocāt, quod sit Milij magnitudine. κέγχρος enim milium dicitur. Alius dicitur Siderites ferrei splendoris. Mirum est, quod tanta uis ferri, igniumq; cōtemptrix sine aliquo ictu hircino sanguine rumpitur. Vsqueadeo autem cum Magnete lapide dissidet, ut iuxta positus, ferrum abstrahi non patiatur, aut si admotus magnes apprehenderit, diuellat. Existimatur uanos metus à mente depellere, propter quod nonnulli anchitem uocauere. ἄγχος enim angorem significat. Ab adamante adamantinus fit, sicut à uitro uitrinus. Eadem ratione herba quoque adamantis uocatur, Armeniæ, Capadociæq; alumna, qua admota leones resupinari cum hiatu laxo prodiderunt. Nominis causa est, quod conteri nequeat. proximæ sunt margaritæ, de quibus superius disseruimus. deinde Onyx candorem habens ad similitudinem humani unguis, qui Græce ὄνυξ uocatur. Inueniuntur tamen & nigræ Onyces candidas zonas habentes. Post hæc candore cæteras excellens Pæderos laudatissima in Indis, apud quos Argenon uocatur, proxima apud Aegyptios ubi senites. Item Asteria inclusam lucem quandam pupillæ modo cōtinens, & opposita soli radios regerens candicanteis. & Astrios crystallo propinqua, quæ astris opposita fulgorem eorum rapit, ac regerit. Ex eius genere deterior ceraunia uocatur. & Astroites, quæ oculis piscium similis esse perhibetur. et Betulus ex cerauniarum genere: & hoc à ceraunia differens, quod Betuli rotundi sunt, cerauniæ uero oblongæ. & Iris crystallo similis, sic uocata, quoniam sub tecto percussa sole, species, & colores arcus cœlestis in proximos parietes iaculatur, sexangula semper, ut crystallus, & huic similis Zeros alba, ac nigra macula distinguente crystallum. & acopus nitro similis pumicosa aureis guttis stellata. & Achates in magna olim autoritate, uitreæ perspicuitatis, quamuis uarij sæpe in ea colores conspiciantur. Pyrrhus, qui aduersus Romanos bellum gessit, habuisse traditur Achaten, in qua nouē musæ, & citharam tenens Apollo spectabatur, non artifici opere, sed sponte naturæ ita discurrentibus maculis, ut à musis quoque singulis propria insignia redderentur. Ismeniam choraulem tradunt multis, fulgentibusq; uti consueuisse, quod regum amicitiam conciliare existimentur. Multæ huius gemmæ species sunt. Phassachates, quæ colorem habet colli columbarum. Græci enim φάσσαν columbam uocitant. Cerachates, quæ κηροῦ, hoc est ceræ. Sardachates, quæ sardæ, de qua posterius dicemus. Hæmachates, quæ αἵματος, hoc est sanguinis. Leucachates, quæ alba est. Græci enim λευκὸν album dicunt. Dendrachates, quæ est uelut arbuscula insignis. δένδρον arborem significat. Antachates, quæ pro achate est, myrrham redolens, & ob id mulieribus grata. Corolachates ἀπὸ τοῦ κοράλλου, hoc est à coralio, quoniam guttis aureis corali modo distincta est. In Creta sacra appellatur. hæ ut prosint leoninis iubis alligandæ censentur, alioquin discordiales domibus esse. Est alabastrites candore uarijs coloribus intercincto. & alectorias, quæ dicta est ἀπὸ τοῦ ἀλεκτρυόνος, hoc est, à gallo, quoniam in gallinaceorum uentriculis inuenitur crystalli specie magnitudine fabæ. hac Milonem Crotoniensem tradunt in certaminibus usum uictorem euasisse. & Androdamas, quæ & Argirodamas dicitur argenti nitorem habens, ut Adamas ita uocata, quod impetus hominum, & iracundiam domet, ἀπὸ τοῦ ἄνδρα δαμάζειν, hoc est à domandis uiris. & Arabica ebori simillima, & penè ebur, nisi durior esset. & Aromatitis myrrhæ coloris, & odoris, ob hoc reginis carissima. & Aspilates argentei coloris. & Antizoë argenteo nitore, fulgens magnitudine trium digitorum, ad lenticulæ figuram odoris iucundi. Et cepites, siue cepocapites, quæ candida est uenarum nodis coëuntibus candore imaginem regerens. & cynodiæ, quæ inueniuntur in cerebro piscis eiusdem nominis candidæ, & oblongæ & præsagire abitum maris nubilo colore, aut tranquillitate dicuntur. Et corsoides caniciei hominis similis, & cissites candore insignis. & cepionidæ crystallini nitoris, quæ imagines reddunt, ut specula. & Draconites, siue Dracontias, quæ fit ex cerebro draconum, sed non nisi uiuentibus abscisso gemmascit inuidia animalis mori se sentientis, quapropter mos est amputare caput dormientibus. qui id facturi sunt, bigis uehuntur, & dracone uiso, spargũt omnia medicamenta, atq; ita præcidunt. Est colore translucido, nec poliri potest, aut artem admittere. & Acopus nitro similis, aureis guttis stellata. & Amphytane alba marginibus auro rutilantibus. & Aphrodisiace, quæ ex candida rufa est. & Argyptilla, quæ per album nigram uenam transeuntem habet. & Enorchis, quæ diuisa fragmentis testium effigiem repræsentat. & exhebenum, qua aurifices aurum poliunt. & Eristalis, quæ licet sit candida, ad inclinationes rubescere uidetur. & Eureos, quæ nucleo oliuæ similis est. & Galaxia, siue Galatites, quæ sunt colore lacteo intercurrentibus candidis uenis. & Leucogra, & Leucographia, ac Synephites appellatur. et Gasidanes, quam Medi mittunt coloris olorini. & Xanthos, quã Indi Henui uocant è fuluo candicans. & Indica gemma puluereo aspectu, quamuis sit alia colore subrufo, quæ si atteratur, purpureus sudor emanat. & Lepidotes, quæ squamas piscium imitatur. & Lesbia, quæ à Lesbo patria nomen habet. & Leucophthalmos, quæ candidam, nigrámque oculi speciem continet, aliás rutila. & Libanochnes, quæ thuris similitudinem ostendit. & Mesomelas, quam albam linea nigra distinguit. et Steatites seui similitudinem habens, quod Græci σέαρ uocant. & Geranites, quæ similitudinem habet colli gruis, quam Græci γέρανον uocant. Hamnites, quæ ouis piscium similis est. et Iouis gemma, quæ ultra candorem & leuis est, & tenera. & Leucopetalos, quæ candorem niuis ex auro distinguit. et Liparis, cuius suffitu omnes bestiæ dicũtur euocari. et Lysimachus, quæ rhodio marmori similis est aureis uenis. et Leucochrysos, quæ fit Chrysolito interalbicante. et Mennonia, de qua, nisi quod candida est, nihil aliud commemoratur. & Myrrhites, quæ myrrhæ colorẽ habet, faciemq; minimæ gemmæ, unguẽti odorem. et Ostracia, siue ostracites, quæ testacea est, et Achatæ similis et panconus, quæ digito longior est, & ne crystallus uideatur, plurium angulorum numerus facit. et Paneros, quæ et Panse bastos appellatur, cui addita fœcunditas existimatur. et Philogynos, quem et chrysitem uocant, ostreæ similis Atticæ. et Perileucos, quæ ab ore gemmæ ad radicem usque candidũ habet. et Natalis cuius species est aquæ glaciatæ. et Peantis, quæ et grauida dicitur, parereq; et parturientibus auxilio esse existimatur. et Solis gemma, quæ ad speciem solis fulgenteis in orbem radios spargit. et Saurites, quæ in uentre uiridis lacerti traditur inueniri. et Selenites, quæ candido translucet meleo fulgore lunæ imaginem continens. et Synodontites, quæ ex cerebro piscium est, qui Synodontes appellatur. et Syringites, quæ stipulæ intermedio similis est, ac perpetua fistula cauatur. et Telicos, de qua supra diximus. et Zinilaces, qui in Euphrate nascitur in medio glaucus. et zoronysius, quæ oritur in Indo flumine. & scarites, qui scari piscis colore est. et Aegophthalmos, quæ est caprino oculo similis. et Actites, quæ aquilæ colorem habet caudæ candicantis. et cenchrites, quæ ueluti sparsa milij grana habere uidetur. et cissites, quæ est ad similitudinem folij ederæ candicantis. et Pyrene ab oliuæ nucleo dicta. Græci enim omnium fructuũ partem illam interiorem ligneam πυρὴν uocant. et Chalazias, quæ grandinum colorem, et figuram habet adamantinæ duritiæ. et Astrapia, quæ è candido discurrẽtes fulminis radios habet, dicta à græco. ἀστραπὴ enim coruscatio est. et Phlegonitis, in qua ueluti flamma ardere uidetur, dicta ἀπὸ τοῦ φλέγειν, quod ardere est. et Anthracitis, in qua ueluti scintillæ discurrere uidentur. ἄνθρακα enim Græci carbonem appellant. et Erydros absolutæ rotunditatis, et cum candore leuitatem habens. & polia à canicie dicta. Græci enim πολιὸν canum uocant. & Hormesion exigneo colore auro radians portante secum in extremitate candidam lucem. et Hieniæ, quæ tabido in uase inueniri dicuntur, & linguæ hominis subditæ futura prædicere. & Gemites, quæ uelut candidas manus inter se complexas habet. & ananchitides, qua in necromantia euocari dicũt imagines deorum, sicut Synochitide umbras inferorũ. & Dendris, quæ sub arbore defossa non permittit aciem securis hebetari. Obscurus uero natiuus color Leucopo contrarius proprie pullus uocatur: quod pulli ouium ferè eo colore nascuntur. Virgilius: Ne maculis infuscent uellera pullis. Hinc pulligo ipse natiuus color similiter uocitatur. Plin. Fuluas oueis Tarentum habet, & alias suæ pulliginis. Hic color ad nigredinem tẽdit, alicubi plenior, alicubi dilutior: plenior ut in Hispania. Plin. Desunt etiã colorũ nomina ijs lanis, quas natiuas appellant. Hispania nigri uelleris præcipuas habet. Mart. Nõ est lana mihi mendax, nec mutor aheno, Si placeãt tyriæ, me meta tinxit ouis. Hinc pullati dicuntur uiliores personæ, & rudes, atque imperiti homines, hoc est pullo colore, id est natiuo induti. Suetonius de Augusto: Militem secreuit à populo, multis è plebe proprios ordines assignauit, prætextatis cuncum suum, & proximum pædagogis, sanxitq;, nequis pullatorum media cauea sederet. Plinius: Tum commutata non plurima, sed omnia cupis, utique si latior scæna, & corona effusior. Nam illos quoq; sordidos, pullatosq; reuereremur. Quintilian. Verum hi pronuntiatione quoq; famam dicendi quærunt: nam & clamant ubiq;, & omnino leuata (ut ipsi uocant) manu emungiunt multo discursu, anhelitu, iactatione, gestu, motu capitis furentes, iam collidere manus, terræ pedem incutere, ferire pectus, frontem cædere mire ad pullatum circulum facit, hoc est ad cumulum rudium, atque imperitorum hominum. Alias quando hic color Hispanus, siue Beticus dicitur. quippe & Beticam pro Hispania capimus, quod Betis amnis eam mediam diuidit, à quo pullati etiam Beticati dicuntur. Martialis: Et beticatus simul, atque leucopeatus. cuius uocabuli ratio est quod natiuus color in Hispania (ut diximus) subnigrior est. Ideóque minus uilis, sicuti Canusia rutuli coloris lanas habet, quas uocant Erythras: quia Graeci ἐρυθρὸν rubrum dicunt, unde Erythra thalassa rubrum mare appellatur. Item Tarentum habet fuluas & suæ pulliginis. hic idem pullus color impluuiatus etiam uocatur, quasi fumato stillicidio imputus. Plautus: Impluuiatis facit uestimentis nomina. Item Suasus. Idem: Sordida, et suasa amictus togula. Item Mutinẽsis à Mutinensibus lanis, ex quibus natiuo colore panni fiunt. Varro: Nam & ludere alacrem uidimus Mutinensi tunica. Aliqñ tamen Pullati dicuntur lugubrem habitum ferentes, quod Hispano colore indui in luctu mos erat. & Pullum pro nigro metaphorice usurpatur. Columella: Atque oleris pulli radix, hoc est oleris atri. Hunc colorem pictores quidam è uinaceis facere. & Steygnon appellarunt. Græci enim συγνὸν tristem uocant, fitq; ex fornacium, balnearumq; fuligine. Item ex ebore combusto, quod Elephantium uocant. Huic proximus est niger color, qui & fuscus dicitur, & de quo supra diximus, ater, unde atræ uestes, & fuscæ appellatæ. & Atrati, qui lugubri habitu induti sunt. Item Anthracinus color à carbone, quem Græci ἀνθρακῖτα uocant, siue quod carboni similis sit, siue quod huiusmodi color è tedis fit ligno combusto, tritisq; in mortario carbonibus. Varro: Propinquæ adolescentulæ, anthracino amiculo, nigello, capillo demisso, sequebantur luctum. Hic color à pictoribus atramentum uocatur. gemmæ nigri coloris sunt in primis Succinum, quod uulgo ambrum dicitur, quanquam & croceum, & album inueniatur. hoc & electrum uocatur: quoniam apud ueteres Græcos sol elector dicebatur. Putant autẽ sorores Phaethontis fulmine icti nimio fletu in populos arbores mutatas lachrymis electrum omnibus annis fundere iuxta Eridanum amnem, quem Padum uocamus. Alij Electridas insulas in Adriatico esse dixerunt, ad quas Padus diflueretur, quod falsum esse manifestum est, non aliter, quàm quod Aeschylus in Hispania Eridanũ esse scripsit, eundemq; appellari Rhodanum, & Euripides in Adriatico litore cõfluere Rhodanum, & Padum. Quidam etiam æque falsò prodidere in extremis maris Adriatici rupibus arbores stare, quæ succinũ fundant. Theophrast. in Lyguria effodi scripsit. Phaethontem in Aethiopia Hammonis obisse, propterea delubrum ibi esse, atque oraculũ, electrumq; gigni. sunt, qui & in Scythia erui putent duobus in locis. In uno candidum, ac cerei coloris, quod uocetur Electrum. In alio fuluum, quod appelletur Sualternicum. nonnulli Lyncurion id uocant, & fieri dicunt ex lyncum urina: plerique langurium dixerunt, & esse in Italia bestias langurias. Alij Langas uocant, quas dicunt circa Padum inueniri. Alij ex arboribus in Lyguria effluere. alij in Britannia arbores ipsas electridas uocari. Quidam Gutonibus Germaniæ genti æstuariũ esse scripserunt nomine Metonomon ab hoc diei uniùs nauigatione insulam abesse Abalũ, in ea electrum reperiri, & esse concreti maris purgamentum. Eiusdem sententiæ est Timæus, sed insulam Baliiam uocat. Nicias solis radiorum succum esse existimauit: hos circa occasum uehementissimos esse, & sudorẽ pinguem in ea parte oceani relinquere, qui æstatibus in Germanorum litore eijciatur, & in Aegypto simili modo nasci, et uocari Sacal: in Syria quoque fœminas uerticillos inde facere, & Harpaga uocare, quia folia, & palcas, ac uestium fimbrias rapiat. Theophrastus, oceano æstuante id ad Pyrenæi promontoriũ eijci. Multi etiã tradidere iuxta Atlanticum mare esse lacum Cephisida, quem Mauri uocant electrum, hunc solẽ feruefactum electrum fluitans è limo dare. Alij Africæ lacum esse Sicyonem appellatũ, & Cratinam amnem in Oceanũ fluentem è lacu, in quo aues, quas meleagridas, & penelopas uocant, uiuere, ibi nasci electrum. Alij iuxtà Syrtim magnam hortum Hesperidum esse, ex quo in stagnum cadat, & ab Hesperidum uirginibus colligi: plericq; flumen esse Indis Hypobarũ, arbores ibi electrũ producere, quæ Aphyracoræ uocantur, per quod significatur præ dulcis suauitas. Nõnulli in Germaniæ litoribus esse insulã Cedron, cedri genere sylʼuosam, inde electrum in petras defluere. Xenocrates nõ succinum tantum gigni in Italia prodidit, uerum etiam Thieum uocari. à Scythis uero sacrium, quoniã & ibi nascatur, alios putare in Numidia gigni. Socrates ultra Indiam fieri dixit è lachrymis meleagridum auium Meleagrum deflentium. Certum est gigni in insulis septentrionalibus Oceani, et à Germanis uocari glessum, proindeq; à nostris unam insulam Glessariam nuncupari, Austrariam à Barbaris dictam. Nascitur defluente medulla ex arboribus pinei generis, quasi gummi è cerasis. Densatur rigore, uel tepore, aut mari, & cum intumescens æstus ex insulis rapuit in litora expellitur, ita uolubile, ut pendere uideatur, & per uadum deferri. Arboris succum esse etiam prisci crediderunt, ob id succinũ appellãtes. De Pado hinc fabula surrexisse uidetur, quod transpadanæ agrestes fœminæ decoris gratia, uice monilium succina gestare consueuerunt. Tanta succini copia Neronis tempore Romam allata fuit, ut in uenatione publice edita, rhetia po-pulum protegentia eo nodaverentur. Arma uero, & librilla, totusq; unius diei apparatus esset è succino. Visa est gleba una tredecim librarũ. Liquidum primo distillare argumento sunt, quæ intus aliquando translucent, ut formicæ, culices, lacertæ, quas musteo adhæsisse credibile est, & sic indurescenti remansisse inclusas. Candida, & tetra uiliora sunt, quamuis optima odore: fuluis maior autoritas, quæ tamen nimio ardore non flagrent. Summa laus ijs, quæ ex uini colore Falerna dicuntur. Attritu digitorum accepta ui caloris paleas, & folia arida ad se trahunt, ut magnes ferrum. Ramenta succini oleo addito diu lucidius, ac diutius flagrant, quàm lini medulla. Nero Popeæ coniugis suæ crineis quodã carmine succinos appellauit. Ab infantibus succinum pro amuleto gestatur: fuluum ab aliquibus chrysolectrũ dicitur. Est tamen metalli quoq; genus, quod electrum uocatur. quoties enim in auro quinta argenti portio est, electrum dicitur, quod modo naturale est, modo cura fit. quod si quintam portionem excesserit, incudibus nõ resistit. Magna apud ueteres autoritate electrum fuit. Home. Menelai regiam auro, electro, argento, ebore fulgere scribit. Helena apud Lindum insulam Rhodiorum in Mineruæ templo calicem ex electro sacrauit mammæ suæ mensura. Electri natura est ad lucernarũ lumina clarius argento splendere. Natiuũ electrũ uenena deprehendere existimatur. Discurrunt enim in calicibus arcus cœlestibus similes, cum igneo stridore. Lyncurium lapis est similis succino, qui ex lyncis urina generatur, egestam subito bestia operiente, quoniam inuideat hominum usui. Scalpitur hæc gemma, nec folia modo, aut stramenta ad se rapit, sed æris etiam, ac ferri laminas, ut refert Theophrastus. præterea antiphates, quæ in lacte decocta id myrrhæ simile facit. et Asbestus coloris ferrei. & apistos quæ igni excalefacta septenis diebus calorem tenet, distinguentibus eam quibusdam rubentibus uenis. & Belus, quæ est quasi oculi pupilla nigra è media auri fulgore lucente, candore circũcincta. & Baroptenus, siue Botrypes, in qua nigredo sanguineis, & albis nodis alligata est. & Botrytes, quæ nigræ uuæ similis est. & Bostrychites crinibus muliẽrum similis. & bucardia bubulo cordi similis. et Brõtea similis capiti testudinis, quæ à tonitruis decidere creditur. & bola, quæ nimbo inuenitur glebæ similitudine. et Cadmites, quam cœruleæ interdum bullæ cingunt. et chamites pluribus spiris fumida. & catochites impositam manũ ueluti gummi retinens. & Catopyrites, quæ ex Cappadocia prouenit. et ceramites, quæ in testaceum colorem tendit ex nigro. & cerites, quæ ex nigro in cereum. & Cretos, quæ nigra piri speciem imitatur. & Craterites electro nigro similis, quamuis sit & Craterites alia inter Chrysolithi, & electri colorem. & crocallis, quæ modo nigro, modo cereo colore est. & Calcophonos, quæ illisa æris tinnitum reddit. & Chelidonia, quæ hirundinum colorem habet, quædam etiam purpureum nigris interpellantibus maculis. & Chelonia testudineo oculo similis. & Chelonitides similis testudini aureis quibusdam guttis insignis. & Daphnia comitialibus morbis utilis existimata. & Diphris, quamuis hæc, & candida aliquando reperiatur. et Dionysias mistis nigro rubentibus maculis, quæ in aqua trita saporem uini facit, et ebrietati resistere existimatur. et Ecardia, siue Ecardiste, quæ nigricordis speciem ostendit, quanquam aliud genus eius uiridi colore similitudinem cordis præ se ferat. & Erotylos filici similis. & Eumetis, quæ capiti supposita nocturna uisa ad oraculi similitudinem reddit. et Eurocias, quæ situ uidetur operire nigritiam. & Eusebes, ex quo traditur, Tyri in Herculis templo facta sedes, ex qua Dij facile surgebant. & Epimelas, quæ nigricantem colorem habet in candida gemma, & Geniane, quam inimicorum pœnas efficere dicunt.

& Hieracites, quæ nigrius emicans uelut plumis alternat. & Idæi dactyli, qui ferreo colore humanũ pollicem exprimũt. & Medea à Medea inuenta habet in nigrore uenas aurei coloris sudorem reddit croci, saporem uini. & Morion, quæ nigerrimo colore trãslucet, uocatur et Promnion. et Myrmedia, quæ eminentias quasdam habet similes uerucis. et Myrsinites, quæ melleum colorem nigricantem habet, & myrrhæ odorem. & Mesoleucos, quam nigram linea alba distinguit. & Nasomonites, quæ cum sanguinea sit, scatet nigricantibus uenis. & Nebrides Libero patri sacra à nebridum eius similitudine ita appellata. Nebrides enim sunt damarum pelles, quibus uti ueteres in Bacchi sacris solebant. nam νεβρὸς dama est. Et tamen genus eius omnino nigrum. & Oleacum nigro fuluum, uiridemq́, & candidum habens colorem. & Ombria, quam aliqui Notiam uocant. & Orites globosa specie à quibusdam Siderites appellata. & Ophicardelos barbaro nomine, in qua nigrum colorem binæ lineæ albæ includunt. et obsidiana gemma dicta à similitudine obsidiani lapidis, uel quod ex eo fiat. Obsidianus lapis in India nascitur, & in Samnio Italiæ, & ad Oceanum in Hispania, maxime autem in Aethiopia. unde eum primo inuenit Obsidius, è quo appellatus est obsidianus. nigerrimi coloris est, & aliquando translucidi, gemmas quidam ex eo faciunt. Viſæ ex eo fuere solidæ imagines diui Augusti, dicauitq́ ipse pro miraculo in templo Concordiæ obsidianos quatuor elephantos. uisa fuit & Obsidiana imago Menelai. Ab hoc lapide uitrum quoque eiusdem coloris Obsidianum est uocatum. & Panchros ita dicta, quod sit aliud etiam genus ex omnibus coloribus constans. & Pontica, quæ modo nigra est, modo stellata sanguineis guttis, modo lineis distincta. & Samothracia ab insulæ nomine ita appellata, nigra sine pondere, ligno similis. & Borsycites in nigro ramosa candidis, aut sanguineis frondibus. & Sideropœcilos, quæ nigra est multis uarianti bus guttis. & Spongites à spongiæ similitudine: hæc tamẽ interdum rufa inuenitur. & Tricus, quæ licet nigra sit, treis tamen succos refert, à radice nigrũ, à medio sanguineum, à summo candidum. & Tephrites, quæ nouæ lunæ speciem habet in cornua curuatæ, nigri, aut cinereĩ coloris, & Veneris crines nigerrimi nitoris speciem crinium habentes, & Veientana Veijs reperta albo limite nigram materiam distinguente. & Zathene modo nigri, modo flaui electri colore. & Hepatites iecinori similis, & Digitus dei, qui à Syris colitur. & Triophtalmos, quæ in Sicyone nascitur treis hominis simul oculos exprimens, & Scorpites scorpionis colore, & Aegomallias similitudine uilli caprini, & Hieracites à colore accipitris uocata, & Myrmecites, quæ innatam repentis formicæ effigiem habet. μύρμηκες enim Græci formicam nominant. & cantharias, quæ scarabeorum: quippe ijdem Græci κανθαρίδας uocant scarabæos. & Lycophthalmos, quæ in medio nigrum colorem habet candido cinctum, & rutilo, & sanguineo luporum oculis similis. & Taos cuius alterum genus pauoni simile est, qui Græce dicitur ταὼς. & Cyamea, quæ fracta fabæ similitudinem præfert, quam græci κύαμον nominant. & Pyrites nigra quidem, sed attritu digitos adurens. & Polyzonos nigra multis zonis candicantibus. & Melichros modo niger, modo flauus à mellis colore uocatus. & Spartopolia poliæ colore contraria. & Chalcites ærei aliquando coloris, sed nigrioris. Cæsius color dicitur, qui cœli speciem habet, dictus quasi cælius: græce glaucopis dicitur ab oculis nocturnarum. γλαυξ enim noctua appellatur, ὤψις uisus, unde à nostris glaucus uocatur. Hinc glauci equi dicti, qui felineis oculis sunt, uulgo glaucioli dicuntur. Virgilius: Glaucíq; color deterrimus albis, & giluo. Item cæruleus, quasi cæluleus. Vnde cæruleum mare à cœli colore nominamus. Dicitur etiam cumatilis color, quod Græci κύματα fluctus uocant. Plautus: Cumatilem togam, aut plumatilem. Item cyaneus. Varro: Cyanea penula amictus grassatur, dicitur & cyanus. Plinius: In nomine est, & cyani colos. Græci κύανον dicunt. hinc cyaneus gemma appellatur ex iaspidum genere colore cæruleo, in qua ineſt aliquando & aureus puluis, sicut Sapphirus aureis aliqñ punctis collucet. cærulei enim sunt, et Sapphiri, quamuis & candidi reperiantur adamanti similes colore. Sed qui Cyanei sunt, mares existimantur. Sunt Iaspides quidam smaragdis similes, alij glauci, alij simules aëri, propter quod Aërizusæ uocantur. Item boriæ, quod cœlo autumnali matutino similes sint. Alij quos Sphragidas uocant, quoniam hi tantum optime signent. σφραγίζειν enim Græci signare dicunt. Alij qui uocantur grammanæ, quod per transuersum alba linea præcingantur. Alij polygrammi, quod pluribus lineis. Est & onycipuncta, quæ iasponyx uocatur niueis imitata. Est & stellata ueluti fumo infecta, quæ capnias uocatur, quod græci καπνὸν fumum dicunt. & Merocles poracei coloris, quæ lacte sudat. et Sagda, quam Chaldæi eodem colore adhærescentem nauibus habent. & polytrichos, quæ in uiridi capillatur. Pictores cærulei coloris diuersa genera habent. Etenim in argenti metallis nascitur cæruleum, quod proprie limus est, optimum uocatur Atticum: quod nunc transmarinum nominant, secundum marmorosum, tertium à Scyro Aegæi insula Scyricum. Affertur & ex Germania, quod Germanicum, siue lucidum uocant transmarinum: cum teritur, in quatuor colores mutatur, candidiorem, nigriorem, crassiorem ac tenuiorẽ. Ex cæruleo fit, quod uocatur lomentũ, perficitur lauando, terendóue, & est cæruleo candidius. Cærulei syncери experimentum in carbone est, ut flagret. Adulteratur uiola arida decocta in aqua, succóque per linteum expresso in Cretam Erethriam apportatur, & Indicum ex India supra modum nigricans, et attramenti ferè tenens colorem. Fit etiam ex flore, quod in segetibus frequens nascitur uiridis color, qui maxime recreare oculos existimatur, à uiriditate succi foliorum porri, quæ summa est, prasinus dicitur. Nam Græci πράσον nominant porrum: hinc uestes è uiridi lana prasina uocantur. Plautus: Prasina coccina, tyria, focale, soccos, monilia amisit. Item gemma quædam è uiridantium genere, uiliori turbæ Prasius dicitur, & aliud eius genus uirgulis tribus distinctum candidis Chrysoprasius, paululum inclinans in aurum. Dicitur & à nostris porraceus. Plinius: Heliotropium nascitur in Aethopia, Africa, Cypro, porracei coloris, sanguineis uenis distincta: huius coloris sunt præcipue smaragdi, omnium lapillorum usu iucundissimi, quoniã nihil omnino uiridius comparatum illis uiret. Præterea soli gemmarum implent oculos, nec satiant. Quin etiam fessa alia intentione acies, aspectu smaragdi recreatur. Propterea scalpentes gemmas, hac maxime uiridi lenitate lassitudinẽ mulcent. Præstantiores smaragdi pariter, & translucent, & nitent, hoc est colorem expellunt, & recipiunt aciem. Ferunt in Cæa Aegæi maris insula tumulo Hermiæ reguli iuxta cetarias marmoreo leoni oculos inditos è smaragdis fuisse, ita radiantibus in gurgitem, ut territi tynni refugerent: quod cum diu mirati piscatores fuissent, tandem causa intellecta, mutauere oculis gemmas. Tradunt Ismeniam choraulem smaragdon centum aureis denarijs emi iussisse, cum multas alioquin fulgenteis gemmas haberet, cumq́ ex ijs communuto precio duo relati fuissent, ægre tulisse, sæuisseq́ in emptorẽ: quoniã male curatũ existimabat, quod detractũ esset gemmæ dignitati. Fuisse autẽ in ea gemma sculptam Amymonem. hæc Danai regis filia fuit, quæ dum se in syluis iaculando exerceret, Satyrũ percussit immprudens: qui impetu in eam facto, uim illi uoluit inferre. Quapropter implorato Neptunni auxilio, id ab eo passa est, quod à Satyro formidauerat. Itaque prægnans facta Nauplium peperit, quem postea constat in Eubœa regnasse. Alexander magnus in smaragdo scalpi uoluit, sed non ab alio, quàm à Pyrgotele, sine dubio in ea arte clarissimo. Inter smaragdos sunt quidam obscuriores, quos uocant cæcos, alij carchedonij dicũtur inter metalla æris reperti uilissimi, minimiq́, ijdem fragiles, & colore incerti, ac uirentium in caudis pauonum, columbarumq́ collo plumis similes. peculiare in ijs uitium sarcion est, hoc est quædam gemmæ caro: hinc iuxta carchedonem smaragdites uocatus. Est smaragdus in Arabia quem cholã uocant, & ædificiorum ornamentis includitur. Est etiam inter smaragdos tanos, è Persis ueniens gemma ingrate uiridis, & intus sordida. Itẽ chalcosmaragdos æris uenis turbida. Scribit Theophrastus regi Aegyptiorũ à rege Babylonio missum smaragdum dono, longitudine quatuor cubitorum, latitudine trium fuisse. Item apud eos est in Iouis delubro obeliscum è quatuor smaragdis quadraginta cubitorum longitudine, latitudine uero in una parte quatuor, in altera parte duorum. Item in Tyro Herculis templo statuam esse solidam è smaragdo. Est & pseudosmaragdus in Cypro inuentus è media parte smaragdus, è media iaspis, nondum humore in totum transfiguratо. tradunt etiam quidam in labyrintho Aegypti Serapin colosseum fuisse è smaragdo nouem cubitorum. Proximi huic colori sunt berylli, qui sexangula figura artificũ ingenijs poliuntur. gignuntur in India, raro alibi reperti. Probatissimi ex ijs sunt, qui uiriditatem puri maris imitantur. Proximi qui uocantur chrysoberylli, paulo quidem pallidiores, sed fulgore in aureum colorem exeunte. Quidam nimio pallore hyacinthizontes, alij heroides, alij cerini, alij à colore olei oleagini uocantur. Postremi penè crystallis similes, ac prorsus euanidi. Indi solos beryllos, quorũ longiore gaudent forma, prædicant carere auro debere, & ob id perforatos alligant setis elephantorum: eos tamen, quorũ perfecta bonitas est, non perforant, umbilicis statim capita eorum comprehendentibus. Ideo cyindros ex ijs facere malunt, quàm gemmas, quoniam summa est commendatio in longitudine. Similes quoq́ opalij sunt, in India similiter geniti, & smaragdis tantũ cedentes. Est in his carbunculi tenuior ignis: Amethysti purpura fulgens, & smaragdi uirens mare. Magnitudo eius nucem auellanam non excedit. Ob hanc gemmã ab Antonio proscriptus fuit Nonius senator, qui hunc è fortunis omnibus suis anulum abstulit secum, sestertiũ uiginti millibus æstimatum. Dubiũ maior ne Antonij luxuria fuerit, propter gemmam hominem proscribentis, an Nonij contumacia proscribi potius, q̃ unam gemmam perdere sustinentis. Hanc ob eximiam gratiam quidam pæderota nuncupauere, quod pueri amorem significat. παῖς enim puer dicitur, ἔρως amor, quamuis & alia gemma pæderos, quam supra diximus uocari sanguinon. Viridis est etiam topazius repertus in Arabiæ insula, quæ Chytis uocatur, in qua troglodytæ prædones cũ diutius fame, & tempestate pressi herbas, radicesq́ effoderent, eruerunt topazion. Alij topazion insulã esse affirmant in mari rubro nebulosam, et ideo sæpe quæsitã à nauigantibus ex eaq́ causa ita uocatam. τοπάζειν enim troglodytarum lingua idem esse, quod quærere. Ex hac primum Berenicæ reginæ portatã fuisse topazion à Philemone præfecto Ptolemæi regis, miræq́ ei placuisse: & inde factam statuam Arsinoæ Ptolemæi Philadelphi uxori quatuor cubitorum, sacratam in delubro, quod aureum cognominabatur. Duo eius genera faciunt prasoidem, hoc est porraceum, & chrysopteron similem chrysoprasio. Sola nobilium gemmarum limam sentit, cætera saxo & cote poliuntur. Est & callais uiride pallens, quæ & angites dicitur. nascitur in rupibus inuijs, & gelidis præsertim Caucasi montis, oculi figura extuberans, leuiterq́ adhærens, nec ut adnata petris, sed ut appositа uideatur. Optimus in his color smaragdi, inclusæ auro decorantur. Sunt, qui in Arabia inueniri dicant in nidis auium, quas melancoryphos nominant inferius à nobis dicendas. Est & Nilion colorem habens fumidæ topazij, aut aliquando melleæ, est Prasius, & chrysoprasius, de quibus iam diximus, & malachites spissius uirens, à colore maluæ, quæ μαλάχη græce dicitur. Et balanites subuiridis, & corinthio similis æri, secante mediam flammea uena. Et batrachites ranæ uiridi similis colore, atq́ effigie. Et baptes huic similis, sed mollior. et calorites, quæ herbacei coloris est. Et choaspites à flumine dicta, uiridis, & fulgoris aurei, & diadochos beryllo similis, & eumetres porracei coloris Beloo deo Assyriorum sacra. & heliotropium, quæ porracei coloris est, sanguineis uenis distincta, ex eo trahens nomen, quod deiecta in uas aquæ fulgorem solis accedentem percussu sanguineo mutat, extra aquã uero speculi modo solem accipit, deprehenditq́ eclipsin subeuntem lunam ostendens. Tradũt magi hanc gemmam si quis gerat admista herba heliotropio inuisibilem esse. & horminodes, quæ ex argumento uiriditatis appellata est ambiente circulo aurei coloris. ὅρμινος enim à Græcis cuiuscunque oleris circulus appellatur, & hexecontalithos, quæ licet ipsa quoq́ uireat, in parua tamẽ multicolor est, ex quo nomen habet. ἑξηκοντάλιθος enim sexaginta significat, λίθος lapidem, quasi sexaginta colores habeat. Et Thracia, quæ triumgenerum est, prima uiridis, secũda pallidior, tertia sanguineis guttis. & echites uiperæ similis, colore uiridi subobscuro, uiridis color chrysocollæ est, humor in puteis per uenas auri defluens crassescente limo frigoribus hybernis, usque in duritiam pumicis: sed laudatior est in ærarijs metallis, & proxima in argentarijs. Inuenitur & in plumbarijs, uilior etiam auraria. Fit & artificio, sed deterior naturali, immissis in uenam aquis tota hyeme usq́ in Iunium mensem, deinde siccatis. Item herba, quæ appellatur lutea tingitur. Sic unctam pictores orobitem uocant. Præter hos cæteri ferè omnes colores misti sunt, & ex rufo compositi, sed ita diuersi prout rufum aut intendunt, atq́ acuunt, aut cum colore uiridi miscent, aut nigro infuscant, aut uirenti sensim, in albo illuminant. Rubeus & rufus generalia nomina sunt ad omnia, quæ quomodolibet rubent. etenim fuluus, flauus, rubidus, phœniceus, rutilus, luteus, spadix rubei, seu rufi sunt, siue etiã rubri. A rubeus fit rubeo. à quo rubesco, & erubesco, & rubefacio, et rubefio notæ significationis. et rubor, & rubedo, et erubescentia pro rubefactione, & ipso colore rubeo. & rubicundus rubore plenus. & ruber idem, quod rubeus, & Robus rubro colore. à quo robigo, de qua supra diximus. & Robigus deus, & robigalia, & robiginosus, & robur, & roboreus, quod ex robore est, & robustus. Item rubus ex genere fruticum aquaticarum, quod uirgulta eius rubeant. Spinosa est, & mora producit. genus eius rosæ similitudinem habet, qui uocatur cinosbatos. Item aliud genus, quod Græci à loco appellant idæum: tenuior est cæteris, minoribusq́ spinis, & minus aduncis. & rubidus, quod modo rubentem significat, modo scabrum, atque asperum. unde scorteæ ampullæ rugosæ, rubidæ dici solent. Rubidus etiam à scabricie dicitur panis secundo coctus, qui & à nautarum usu nauticus appellatur. Plau. Exiguam bucellam rubidi panis. Plin. Nauticus panis tusus, atque iterũ coctus sistit aluum. & rubeta, quod in uepribus tantum, & inter rubos uiuat, genus ranæ est, quã græci φρύνον uocant, grandissima cunctarum, & ueneficiorum plena, gemina habens ueluti cornua ueneni perniciosissimi, celeriusq; etiam, quàm aspis interimens. Iuue. Miscet sitiente rubetam. Idem: Ranarum uiscera nunq̃ inspexi. Mira de his magi tradidere, si in populum inferantur, silentium fieri. ossiculo quod est in dextro latere, in aquam feruentem deiecto refrigerari uas: nec postea, nisi exemptum fuerit, feruere, è sinistro uero latere ossiculo deiecto statim feruere. Apocynon id uocari, amorem eo & iurgia, si in potionem addatur, concitari. Democritus tradit, siquis uulgari ranæ uiuenti extrahat linguam, ita, ut nulla alia pars corporis adhæreat, ipsaq; in aqua dimissa illam mulieri dormienti supra cordis palpitationem imponat, quæcunq; interrogauerit, uera responsuram. Sed hæc ridicula sunt. illud uerum esse constat ranarum fluuiatilium posteriores pedes gratissimos esse in cibo, & contra serpenteis esse adiumento. & rubia herba tingendis lanis, ac corijs idonea, uulgo nota, & ubiq; nascens. Item rubrica, quã Græci μίλτον uocant etiam Homeri tempore nobilitatam, licet nondum pictura esset in usu: tingebantur duntaxat ea nauigia. Homerus: Τῷ δ' ἅμα νῆες ἕποντο δυώδεκα μιλτοπάρῃοι. Nascitur per se rubra, minio proxima præsertim in insula Lemno, nec nisi signata uenundari olim solebat, propter quod sphragidem appellabant, ἀπὸ τοῦ σφραγίζειν, quod signare est. hac minium adulterant, & à ponto, ubi nascitur, dicitur pontica. & rubellum, uinum subrubeũ. Mart. Et Veientani bibitur fex crassa rubelli. Persius: Veientanumq; rubellũ. Rubellæ etiam uites appellatæ. & rubellæ uineæ, quod uitium ipsarum materia rubra sit. Plin Proxima dignitas nomentanis rubente materia, quapropter quidam rubellas appellauere uineas. Columella: Nomentanæ uineæ nobilitate sequũtur Amineas, fœcũditate uero etiam præueniunt: quippe cum se frequenter impleant, & id, quod ediderint, optime tueantur. feracior est minor, nec ita rubet, ut maior. à quo colore rubellæ nuncupantur eædem, quæ secineæ, quod plus q̃ cæteræ fecis afferãt. Et Rubi Italiæ oppidum à ruborũ frequẽtia. Horat. inde Rubos fessi peruenimus. & rufus rufo uerbum. Plini. Eadem rufat capillum, hoc est rubefacit. Ab hoc rufesco, hoc est rufus fio. & rufus cognomen uiri. hinc rufuli appellati sunt tribuni militum, non à populo, sed à consule facti, quod de eorum iure Rutilius Rufus legem tulerit. hi postea mutatione unius literæ Rutuli sunt appellati rufi. sed rutuli coloris quoniam studiosæ erant ueteres Romanæ mulieres, rutiliæ cognominatæ sunt. Inde etiam uiri rutuli sunt appellati. Rubeæ ergo uestes, & rubræ, & rufæ sunt rubei coloris. Mart. Roma magis fuscis uestitur, Gallia rufis. Rutilæ, cum aliquid nigrioris habent admistum, quæ & Hyacinthinæ dicuntur, de quibus supra diximus. & hysginæ ab Hysge herba. & ferrugineæ à ferri igniti colore. Virgilius: Et ferrugineus hyacinthus, quamuis aliquando ferrugineus pro rubiginoso accipitur, & ab ipsius rubiginis similitudine pro fusco. & burræ, quia ueteres burrum rubrum dicebant, unde burranica potio appellatur, lac sapa mistum à rufo colore: & rustici burram bucculam nominabant, quod rostrũ habeat rufum. Pari modo rubens cibo, ac potione ex prandio burrus appellatur, quæ omnia à Græco deducuntur. nam Græci πυῤῥὸν rufum dicunt. Color uero, qui est inter rufum et nigrũ, qualem in bobus præcipue cernimus, Heluus dicitur, à quo heluacia genus ornamenti Lydij à ueteribus uocabatur. Heluella uero uocabant olera minuta: quoniam helus, & helusa ueteres dicebant pro olus, & olera. Item balaustinæ à flore mali punici, qui balaustum dicitur, & non modo medicinis, sed etiã uestibus tingendis utilis est, quæ sibi concolores fiunt, & color ipse dicitur balaustinus. Rubri coloris præter rubricã sunt miniũ, quod inuenitur in argentarijs metallis, magnæ inter pigmenta autoritatis, & olim apud Romanos religionis. Quippe simulachri Iouis facies diebus festis minio illini solebat. Item triumphantium corpora. sic enim fertur Camillus triumphasse, ob eam (ut arbitror) rationem, ut imperatores horribiliores uiderentur, quemadmodũ Cæsar Britannos scribit Glasto se inficere, quo horridiores uideantur in bello. Glastum herba est plantagini similis, qua Britannorum quoq; coniuges, nurusq; quibusdam sacris, toto corpore oblinuntur, nudæq; incedunt, Aethiopum colorem imitantes. Præterea minium unguentis cœnæ triumphalis ad lauandas manus addebatur, & censores Iouem minio inficiendum solebant locare. Aethiopum quoq; proceres toti eo tingebantur, eumq; deorum simulachris colorem adhibebant. Tradunt minium à Callia Atheniense primo inuentum fuisse, dum speraret ex rubente arena in metallis argenti aurum excoqui posse: arenam cocci colorem habere, hanc teri: deinde lauari farinam, & quod subsidat iterum lauari. Quidam hoc magno errore cinnabarim uocant, cum proprie cinnabaris sit sanies draconis, moriẽtium elephantorum pondere elisi, utriusq; animalis sanguine permisto. Constat enim elephantis frigidissimum esse sanguinem, ob id sæuiente æstu à draconibus expeti, quam ob rem mergi in amneis, & bibentibus insidianteis proboscide inuolui, atque in aurem morsum defigere, quoniam is tantum locus defendi proboscide nequeat. Sic à draconibus totos elephantos ebibi, siccatos cõcidere, & dracones sanguine inebriatos elidere, ac utrosque pariter cõmori. Proboscis est porrecta corporis pars inhærens naribus, quæ excepto homine, in alijs ferè animantibus inuenitur. Varro inuenisse se ericium cum proboscide scribit. in Elephanto dicitur manus, quod ea tanquam manu utatur. Plinius: Resoluunt elephanti manu draconum nodos. Est & alius dimicationis modus. Ab excelsa se arbore Draco in elephantum inijcit. Ille arborum, aut rupium attritum quærit Draco id sentiens alligat cauda, ille proboscide nodos, resoluit hic in ipsa nare caput condit, & spirandi uiam auferens enecat. Interdum petit oculos, ex quo fit, ut cæci plerunque elephanti fame contabescant. Proboscis ideo dicta, quod ante depascat. Græci enim προβόσκειν dicunt ante pascere. Mistura ergo illa ex duorum animalium sanguine Cinnabaris dicitur. Nec est alius color, qui in picturis magis proprie sanguinem reddat. est antidotis, & diuersis alijs medicinis utilissima, cum minium (quo pro cinnabari medici quidã utuntur) sit manifeste uenenum. A minium fit minio uerbum, quod est minio tingo, & passiuum eius minior. Plinius: A censoribus in primis Iouem miniandum locari. à quo & miniari libri dicuntur, cum literæ maiores uersicoloribus fiunt. Item miniariæ dicuntur loca, è quibus effoditur minium, sicut argentariæ, & aurariæ, è quibus effoditur argentum, atque aurum, & miniarium metallum uocatur argentum, cum quo effoditur miniũ. Solebant ueteres minio clariores literas facere, uel in auro, uel in ære, uel in marmore, etiam in sepulchris. Et sinopis inuenta primum in Ponto, & à quo nomen habet Sinope urbe. Species eius tres, rubra, et minus rubens, & inter has media. Eam, quæ ex Africa uenit Cicerculum appellant. Et Ochra, quæ fit exusta rubrica in ollis nouis luto circumlitis. Sinopidis ponticæ selibra, salis lucidi libris decẽ, & melini græciensis duabus mistis, tritisq; una per dies duodecim, Leuchophorũ fit, hoc est Glutinum auri, cum inducitur ligno. Inter gemmas autem rubeo colore sunt carbunculi, à similitudine ignium appellati, cum ipsi non timeant igneis, ob id à quibusdã uocati Apyrotes, Qui ex ijs languidius lucent, Libycõtes appellãtur. Carchedonij sunt minores, et nigrioris aspectus, quibus signãdis ceris uti solemus. est et anthracites appellata carbonibus similis. Mirũ quod lacte uelut intermortui extinguuntur, contra perfusi aqua magis exardescũt. Cognata carbunculo est sandastros, quam aliqui Garamantidem uocant. habet uelut in translucido stellanteis intus aureas guttas, & ferè hyadum numero: quidam et sandasitem nominant. Nicander Sandaphorion, alij Sandareson nuncupauerũt. Ex eodem genere & Lychnites est appellata à lucernarũ accensarum præcipua gratia. probatissima in India nascitur, quam quidam remissiorem carbunculũ esse dixerunt. Secunda bonitate est Ionis appellata à præclaris uiolarum floribus. Nam Græci ἴον uiolam nominãt. hæc à sole, aut digitorũ attritu excalfacta paleas, & chartarum fila ad se rapit. Et Carchedonius, quæ idem facere dicitur, quanquã sit multo uilior. Nascitur apud Nasamonas in montibus, ut incolæ putant, imbre diuino, inueniturq; ad repercussum lunæ maxime plenæ. Potoria uasa ex hoc lapide fieri cõsueuerunt, nostra quoq; ætate aliqñ uisa. Scalpturæ contumaciter resistit, partemq; ceræ retinet semper. Et Sarda, quæ è cõtrario signando utilissima est, gemma uulgaris, & primũ Sardibus reperta. Sardis pluratiuo numero urbs Lydiæ est, regia olim Crœsi Lydorum regis, sed laudatissima in Babylonia. alterum eius genus demium uocatur à pinguedine. Græci enim δημὸν pro pingui accipiunt. Homerus hoc frequenter utitur, à quo δήμιον appellata. Nec fuit in usu antiquorum gemma ulla frequentior, ut Menandri fabulæ testantur. ab hac & onyce, de qua supra diximus, alia gemma Sardonyx appellata candorem habens in Sarda, quasi ungue hominis carnibus imposito, & utroq; translucido. Placere nostris ob id maxime cœpit, qđ sola propè gemmarũ scalpta non auferat ceram. Indi perforatis utuntur in collo. Claudius Cæsar Smaragdo in primis uti solebat, atque Sardonyce. primus aũt Romanorũ Sardonyce usus est prior Africanus, deinde Romanis celeberrima fuit. Persius: Et natalitia tandẽ cũ Sardonyce albus. Iuue. Ante pedes ideo cõducta Paulus agebat sardonyce. Hinc qui sardonycẽ gestat, dicitur Sardonycatus, sicut ab annulo annulatus. Mar. Rufe uides illum subsellia prima tenentem Cuius & hinc lucet sardonycata manus. Hanc gemmã fuisse tradunt, quã Polycrates tyrannus, cũ ei omnia in uita secũda succederent, nec unquam aliud aduersi, quo semper fauentis, atque ita insidiantis fortunæ inuidiam expiaret, annulo ligatam, nauigio in altum mare prouectus, manu sua deiecit in profundum, saltem hoc modo in uita aliquãdo doliturus. At fortuna necflecti, nec mulceri facilis, id passa non fuit. Etenim pisce eximiæ magnitudinis eo die capto, regiq; in conuiuio oblato, annulus, quem dum mergeretur, deuorauerat, summo omniũ, qui aderant stupore restitutus est, uentriculo piscis dum scinderetur inuentus. Visa postea Romæ hæc gemma fuit in Cõcordiæ delubro cornu aureo augusti dono inclusa. Et hyacinthus rubro colore diluto flori, à quo nomen habet, oppido q̃ similis. & Chrysolampis noctu ignei coloris, licet die pallescat. Et Eupetalos igneũ in primis colorem habens, sed cœruleo, & minij, ac mali coloribus admistis. Et gorgonia, quæ nihil aliud est, quam Coralliũ, ita appellata, quoniam corallium extractum aquis ex ligno durescit in lapidem, quomodo Gorgonis capite ostenso cuncta lapidescere solebãt. Nota est Persei, ac Gorgonis fabula, de qua inferius disseremus. Corallium in mari rubro gignitur, & in persico, quod uocatur Iace. Laudatissimum in Gallico sinu circa Orchadas insulas, & in siculo circa Drepanũ, & ante Neapolim, & ante Corniculum hoc quoq; tẽpore. forma ei est fruticis, color uiridis, bacæ candidæ sub aqua, & molles. Exemptæ confestim durantur, & rubescũt, quasi corna satiua. Aiũt tactu, dum uiuit prorsus lapidescere, propter quod euelli retibus, ac ferramento præcidi. Hac de causa coralliũ, quasi cheralium uocitatum putant ἀπὸ τῆς χειρὸς, hoc est à manu, quod ea tactum lapidescat. quidam tamen potius ἀπὸ τῆς κειρὸς dictum uolunt, quod congestum quid, ac testaceum significat. Probatissimum eximie rubet, & quàm ramosissimum est, nec scabrosum, aut lapideum. religiosum id gestamen putant, & infantiæ pro amuleto alligatur: bacas quoque ex eo faciuntquibus & in numerandis precibus sacris, quæ sacræ bacæ, siue per diminutionem sacræ baculæ dicuntur, & in collo pro monili utuntur. & Hepisthites, quæ speculi naturã habet, in reddendis imaginibus, quãquam rutila. experimentum eius est, si feruentem aquam addita statim refrigeret, aut si in sole posita aridam materiam accendat. Et hæmatites sanguineo colore in Aethiopia principalis, & meconites, quæ florem syluestris papaueris exprimit. & Nympharena urbis, & gentis Persicæ nomen habens similis hepisthitæ. & telicardios colore cordis, Persis maxime grata, quam muculam appellant. & carcinias marini cancri colore. & triglites colore triglæ, hoc est muli. Coccinus uero color est, qui exuberantiam quandam, ac splendorem ruboris ostendit, dictum à cocco, quod Latine granum dicitur. est enim coccus ueluti granum, quod uel ex arbuscula ilici simili, uel ex rubenti gramine nascitur olim in Galatia Africa, ac Lusitania. Postea & in Gallia transalpina, nunc etiam in Peloponneso, atq; alijs Græciæ locis. hic et spadicus, & phœniceus uocatur, quod non dissimilis sit fructui palmæ arboris nondum sole incocto. Spadica enim Græci nominant auulsum è palma cum fructu ramum. φοῖνιξ uero palma appellatur, à quo Græci φοινικὸν phœniceum uocant. Hinc coccina, et coccinæ uestes dicuntur. Mart. Coccina famosæ donas, & ianthina mœchæ. Idem color roseus, à rosarum similitudine dicitur. à quo & roseus pannus, & roseæ uestes appellantur. Plin. Asini à coitu spuma collecta roseo panno, et incluso argento uenerẽ stimulat. Rosa notissimus flos est spina nascens, siue rubo. Germinat primo inclusa granoso cortice, quo mox intumescente, & in uirideis alabastros fastigiato paulatim rubescens dehiscit, ac sese pandit in medio calicis sui complexa luteos apices. Ex hac fit oleum, quod rosaceum dicitur, fuisseq; in usu à Troianis usq; temporibus testatur Homerus. ῥοδόεντι δὲ χρῖεν ἐλαίῳ, hoc est, Roseóque unxit oleo. Item unguento quoque imponitur, de quo superius diximus, & mensarmu delitijs. Quæ ardentissimi coloris est, non excedens duodena folia, milesia dicitur: proxima minus rubens Trachinia: uilior albicantibus folijs Alabandica: uilissima pluribus, & minutissimis Sicyonia. Est quæ à foliorum multitudine centifolia uocatur, quæ nec odore, nec specie probabilis habetur, nec coronis à ueteribus adhibebatur, præter, quàm ad extremos uelut cardines. Est et quæ græcula appellatur à nostris, à Græcis lychnis, non nisi in humidis proueniens, nec unquam excedens quinque folia, uiolæ magnitudine, colore nullo. Alia græcula funditur è caule malleolacco, folia oleacia habens, moscheuton uocant. μοσχεύματα enim propagines uocantur. inter has media magnitudine autumnalis est, quam uocant coroneolam, omnes sine odore. A rosa rosetum, & rosarium deducuntur, hoc est copia fruticum uno loco rosas gignentium. & roseum: unde roseus color, & roseus odor, & roseus pannus. & roseæ, hoc est purpureæ genæ. & rosalia coronæ è rosis factæ. Rosa Græce ῥόδον dicitur. Vnde Rhodinum unguentum, & crinorhodon lilij genus rubens, quod Græci κρίνον uocant. & rhododendros, quod ne nomen quidem apud nos inuenit Latinum. Rhododaphnen uocant, aut nerium. frutex est folijs amygdalæ, sed maioribus, & pinguioribus, semine patenti ut cornu, intus lana est similis hyacintho, radix oblonga, gu-

siu salsa, angusta. nascitur locis aquosis, & humidis, & Rhodora herba, quæ caulem habet uirgæ ficulneæ, modo geniculatum: folia urticæ in medio exalbida, eadem procedente tempore tota rubentia, florem argenteum ad similitudinem rosæ. huius coloris inter gemmas est amethysti genus, de quo paulo mox dicemus. & mitrax roseo colore, quamuis solis radijs opposita uersicolor sit. & telirrhizos, quæ in colore coccino candidis radicibus spectatur, reperitur tamen, & coloris cinerei. et rhodites à rosa uocata. Græci enim ῥόδον rosam nominãt. Purpureus color est, qui nigricantis rosæ splendore sublucet, cæterorum omnium colorum gratissimus, & tingendis uestibus maxime expetitus, à purpura uocatus. Purpura enim piscis est ex concharum genere, uiuit annis septenis, latet circa canis ortum tricenis diebus. Congregatur uerno tempore, mutuoq; attritu lentorem quendam ueluti ceræ emittit, sed nobilem illum succum ad tingendas uestes in medijs faucibus habet, minimumq; liquoris est in candida uena, reliquum corporis sterile est. Viuas conãtur capere, quia florem illum morientes cum uita euomunt. Lingua purpuræ est longitudine digitali, duritia tanta, ut reliquas conchas aculeo perforet. aqua dulci, & sicubi flumine mersæ fuerint, facile necantur: alioquin quinquagenis diebus uiuunt captæ, & saliua sua nutriuntur. crescunt celerrime omnes conchæ, sed purpuræ præcipue, anno magnitudinem implent. Maioribus purpuris detracta concha auferunt succum, minores frangunt Tyrij, & ita eorum rorem excipiunt, qui à loco Tyrius dicitur, quanquam in alijs quoq; locis id fiat. dicitur etiam Buccinum, quando duo huius modi concharum genera sunt. Buccinum minor concha, ad similitudinem eius buccini, quo sonus editur, à quo nomen accepit, quod rotunditatem oris in margine incisam habeat. Purpura rostrum habet caliculatim procurrens, & clauatum usque ad turbinem, aculeis in orbem septenis, qui non sunt Buccino, sed utriq; tot orbes sunt, quot habent annos. buccinum non nisi petris adhæret, & circa scopulos semper inuenitur. Purpurã à Pelagio pelagia uocitatur. à quo & succus eius pelagium dicitur, sicut succus buccini dicitur Tyrius. pelagiariũ aliæ lutenses à luto, in quo uersantur, aliæ algenses ab alga, aliæ calculosæ à calculo maris, aliæ dialutenses, quæ uario soli genere pascuntur. utriusq; succus ab artificibus decoquitur, atque expumatur: deĩ lana tingitur. Buccinum per se damnatur, quoniam succum habet remissiorem, pelagio admistum dat ei austeritatem illam, nitoremq;, qui quæritur, roseum. sic alterum altero excitatur. Summa laus huius coloris est, si sanguini concreto similis sit, aspectu nigricanti. Quapropter Homerus πορφύρεον αἷμα, hoc est purpureum sanguinem uocat. hinc uestes purpureæ dictæ, & tyriæ à loco, ubi purpura fit, & color ipse à matre uocatur purpura. à quo purpurissum dicitur, coloris factitij genus, quo utuntur pictores: fitq; è creta argentaria, & cum purpuris, pariter tingitur, bibitq; eum colorem celerius, quàm lanæ. & quoniam purpura græce πόρφυρα uocatur, porphyriacus quoque pro purpureo accipitur. Ouidius: Et porphyriacis figere labra genis. & porphyrites lapis in Aegypto rubens, candidis interuenientibus punctis, propterea leucosticos appellatus, quod λευκὸς album dicimus, στίζειν pungere. Item porphyriticus, hoc est ex porphyrite lapide. et Porphyris insula in Laconico mari sita, quinque millibus passuum à Maleæ promõtorio distans, eadem postea Cythera dicta. et Porphyrio auis, quæ sola morsu bibit omnem cibum aqua subinde tingens: deinde pede ad rostrum ueluti manu afferens. crura huic prælonga rubent, & rostra. Mart. Nomen habet magni uolucris tam parua gigantis, Et nomẽ Prasini Purpurionis habet. Confiat sanè inter gigantes duos, præcipue principatũ obtinuisse Porphyrionem, & Alcioneum. Prasinus quoque auriga, cuius in Nerone Tranquillus mentionem facit, Prasinus Purpurio dictus est. Murex quoq; genus conchæ à purpura diuersum, licet similiter uerno tempore congregetur. & lentorem quendam saliuet, lateatq; circa canis ortum. Idem & conchyliũ per excellentiam dicitur. Plinius: Conchylia & purpuras omnis ora atterit. unde uestis tincta murice conchyliata dicitur. Idem: In conchyliata uestem ea tera eadem sine buccino. Ponitur tamen conchyliũ, & pro ipso colore, sicut purpura, murexq;. Idem: Concharum ad purpuras, & conchylia eadem quidem est materia. Item pro genere ipso concharum, à quibus nomen sumpsit. Idem: Lingua purpuræ longitudine digitali, qua pascitur perforando reliqua cõchylia. muricis, siue conchylij cruor grauis in succo est, color austerus in glauco, & irascenti similis mari. Id Ostrum dicitur ab ostreis. Quapropter conchylum, muricem, ostrum, in eadem significatione accipimus. Virgil. Tyrioq; ardebat murice læna. Idem: Vt gemma bibat, & Sarrano dormiat ostro. Iuue. Horum ego nonfugiam conchylia? hoc est luxuriosas uesteis, & murice infectas. Sed horum nominum ratio reddenda est. Inter pisceis quidam crusta fragili muniuntur, ut sint locustæ, & cancri. Locustæ sunt, quæ reptantium more fluitant recto meatu, si non sit metus, cornibus ad latera porrectis. pauidæ uero ijsdem erectis in latera procedunt, & inter se cornibus dimicant: dictæ à similitudine terrestrium, ac uolucrum locustarum, quæ oua in terra pariunt, cum pepererint, statim matres innascente circa fauces uermiculo strangulãtur, eodem tempore obeunt mares. hæ serpentem quoties libuerit, singulæ necant, faucibus eius morsu apprehensis. Aristoteles: Ποιοῦσι δὲ καὶ τὴν ἀκρίδα ἑωράκασιν ὅτι ὅταν μάχηται τοῖς ὄφεσιν ἐπιλαμβάνεται τοῦ τραχήλου. hoc est, multi autem & locustam uiderunt, quando aduersus serpenteis pugnat, eorũ fauces apprehendere. non nascuntur locustæ nisi in planis, & rimosis locis. in India longitudine trium pedum esse traduntur, cruribus earum, atq; fœminibus, cum inaruerint pro serris utuntur. Aliquando gregatim sublatæ uento in stagna, seu maria decidunt. Longinqua etiam æquora transeũt, plurium dierum itinere continuato, tanto pennarum stridore uolitantes, ut maiores aues uideantur. Ingentem sæpenumero messibus iacturam afferunt, tactu multa adurentes, unde nomen habent: morsu uero cuncta, atque etiam tectorum fores erodentes. Appuliam maxime ex Africa infestant. In Cyrenaica lex est, ut ter anno debellentur, & in eum, qui cessauerit, desertoris pœna sancita est. primo itaq; oua earum obterũt, secũdo fœtum, tertio adultas. In insula Lemno certa mensura præscripta est, quã singuli necare, & ad magistratus referre debeant, habentes ob id in ueneratione graculos, quod aduerso uolatu illarum exitio occurrãt. In Syria quoq; militari imperio necare eas mos est. Pathi eas in cibo sumunt, uocem ab occipitio emittunt, ubi in commissura scapularum habere quasi denteis existimantur, qui inter se terendo dant stridorem. Nefas est credere diuum Ioannem, quem regis nostri præcursorem merito uocant huius cibi impuritate usum in eremo fuisse. Causa autem erroris hinc fluxit, quod Græci ἀκρίδας modo locustas uocant, modo summitates herbarum, siue arborũ, hoc est teneriores parteis, & quasi quosdam cauliculos, qui sumi in cibo solent, unde ἀκρίζειν Græci dicunt, hoc est summa decerpere. Interpres igitur pro cauliculo locustã posuit. Nec me latet ab historicis tradi, gentem quandam esse in India, quæ Pandore appellatur annos ducentos uiuentẽ in iuuenta candidò capillo, in senectute nigro, contra aliam quadragenos nõ excedentem annos, quorũ uxores semel pariunt, locustis eos ali, & esse pernices. Sed cibo tam bo tam immundo uixisse sanctissimum uirum, mihi certe parũ credibile uidetur. Cãcri distinguũtur in camaros, carabos, ajacchos, paguros, heraleoticos, leones, & quædam alia ignobiliora genera. Sũt & in phœnice hippiæ uocati tantæ uelocitatis, ut consequi eos impossibile sit. octonos cancri pedes habent, omnes in obliquum flexos, bina brachia cum forcipibus denticulatis. superior pars mouetur, inferior est prorsus immobilis. Coleæ crustam paulo duriorem habent. Suntq; & aquatilis, & terrestres exercentes sese domicilijs, & quoniã oculis carent, binis corniculis iter præcentantes. Firmioris uero testæ pisces conchæ, & Ostrea dicũtur. conchæ dicuntur, quæ tejtã leuem habent, ac politam, siue uniformiter rugatam, siue dẽticulatam. Ostrea uero, quæ aspera, scabramq;, quamuis generali nomine ostrea quoque conchæ uocentur. Item quæ ex uno tantum latere testam habẽt, altero scopulis, aut lapidibus, aut alteri materiæ adhærẽt. Nam testæ ipsæ duriores proprie conchæ dicuntur, quales sunt coclearum. Ouidius: Ostreaq; in conchis tuta fuere suis. Cicero be pinna loquens: Duabus grandibus obsita conchis. Columella: Implicitus cõchæ limax. Vnde uasis quoq; genus cõcauum, ac superius patulum ab huius cõchæ similitudine conchã uocamus. Plin. Puluis semper in catinos digeritur, & ex aceto maceratur, ut omnis duritia soluatur, ac rursus tũditur, deĩde lauatur cochis, siccatúrq;. Hinc etiã conchis dicta est faba cum cortice suo elixa, ad differentiam fabæ frestæ, quæ sine corticibus coquitur, à similitudine uidelicet concharum, quod cõfracto cortice, uelut implicita conchis suis caruncula uideatur. Martialis: Si spumet rubra conchis tibi pallida testa, Lautorũ cœnis sæpe negare potes. Est autem concha græcum uocabulum. quippe græci κόγχην conchã dicunt, κογχύλιον muricem, κογχυλευτὴν muricum collectorem. Itaq; purpura inter conchas potius numerabitur, murices inter ostrea ob scabriciẽ corticis: quapropter & murex pro saxo aspero ponitur, dicitúrq; ab asperitate murorũ. Virgilius: & acuto murice remi Obnixi crepuere. ostrea uero, similiter à græco appellata sunt. Nam sicut nos à testa testudinem uocamus, siue animal, quod ueluti testa tectũ est, siue id genus ædificij, quod ex testa est compositum, uel ad testudinis similitudinem factum, sic græci, ὄστρια ἀπὸ τοῦ ὀστράκου nominauerunt. ostracum quippe testa à græcis uocatur, unde testacum pauimentum, uulgo nunc ostracũ uocant, & ostracina suffragia Athenienſium dicebantur, quod Atheniẽſes ea in figulinis uasis dare consueuerũt. hinc ostrea tum pro duro, atque aspero accipimus. Plautus: Itaq; iã quasi ostreatum tergũ ulceribus gestat. & ostris, siue ostriis uocatur arbor, quæ solitaria nascitur circa saxa aquosa, similis fraxino cortice, & ramis, & folio, pilis tamen paulo longioribus, crassioribusq;, ac rugosis incisuris, materia dura, atq; firma, qua in domum illata, difficileis partus fieri, morteisq; miseras, ueterũ superstitio existimauit. Dicuntur etiam fœminino genere ostreæ. A. Gellius: ostreæ senescẽte luna inuberes, macræ, tenues, exhaustæ sunt: crescẽte luna pinguescũt. hic cibus ĩ deliciis semper habitus fuit, & palma mensarum hodie quoque ostreis datur. Gaudent dulcibus aquis, in petrosis tamẽ gignũtur. Grãdescũt crescẽte luna, sed priuatim circa initia ætatis multo lacte prægnantia. præcipua habẽtur, quæ spissa sunt, nec saliua sua lubrica crassitudine potius laudantur, quàm latitudine. Spondylus dicitur callosum illud rotũdum albicans, quod intus habent in medio, à similitudine spondyli, quod nos uerticulum dicimus appositum fusis, ut melius nendo uertantur. nam reliqua caro circunsparsa Lacinia dicitur. Meliora sunt, quæ spondylum breuem habent, nec carnosum, nec fibris laciniosum, ac tota in aluo. generosiora etiã existimantur am-biente fibras purpureo crine. Parata appellãtur, quia cruda meliora sunt. Gaudent peregrinatione. Brundusina in Auerno meliora sunt: contra ista & suum retinere succum, & à lucrino adoptare existimantur. In indico mari pedalia inueniri prodiderunt. nomenclator nepotis cuiusdam inter ueteres Romanos tridacna ostrea appellauit, tantæ amplitudinis intelligi cupiens, ut ter mordenda essent. δάκνειν enim mordere est. ostrea stomachum mirifice reficiunt, fastidio medentur, molliunt aluum leuiter, cocta cum mulso tenasmum, qui sine exulceratione sit, sanant, uesicarum ulcera repurgant. Cinis concharum denteis polit, ideoq; inter dentifricia numeratur. Dentifricium enim uocamus, quod fricando dentiũ rubiginem tollit. Sicut Dentiscalpium, quo scalpuntur dentes, ut penna, lentiscus, & similia. Martialis: Lentiscũ melius, sed si tibi frondea cuspis Defuerit, dentem penna leuare potest. Ab ostreis ostrearius panis dictus, quo ueteres cũ ostreis uescisolebant. Varia sanè panis genera apud ueteres fuere. Aliquando ab obsonij nomen habebat, ut ostrearius. Aliquando à delitijs, ut Artolaganus. nam græci λάγανον ganeonem λαγάνειον luxuriam dicunt: & ab hoc lagana, quæ ex candida farina fiunt, tenuissima ad patinarum usum. Quidam à laganis potius dictum Artolaganum putant propter candorẽ. non nunquam à festinatione, ut Spesticius ἀπὸ τοῦ σπεύδειν, quod accelerare significat. hic qualit sit, docet Cato. Spesticiũ panem sic facito: Manus mortariumq; bene lauato. Farinam in mortariũ indito, aquam paulatim addito: subigitoq; pulchre, ubi bene subegeris, defingito, coquitoq; sub testu. Sæpe etiã à coquendi ratione, ut Furnaceus, qui in furno coquitur, Subcinericius, qui sub cinere, Focacius, qui in foco, Artopticius, qui in clibano. licet enim κλίβανος, hoc est, clibanus apud græcos furnum significet, nos tamẽ clibanum uocamus instrumentum, quo aliquid coquitur sub testu, quod ex ferro fieri solet. Sæpe etiam opere figulino. Pli. Limi cortices clibanis, & furnis præbent usum. mulieres, quæ ita panem coquebant, artoptæ nominabantur. ἄρτος enim panis est, ὀπτῶ coquo. Plau. Dromo desquama pisces, tu Machærio congrum, murenam exdorsa quantũ potes, ego hic artoptã ex proximo utendam peto. Plerunq; etiam ab ijs, qui eo utuntur, nomen habet, ut parthicus, quod à parthis aduectus sit. alij hunc aquaticum uocant, quoniam aquam trahit ob tenuem, & spongiam inanitatem. Item panis militaris, quo milites in expeditione utebantur, qualis hic esset, indicat Plinius: Lex (inquit) naturæ certa est, ut in quocunq; genere pani militari tertia portio ad grani pondus accedat. Sæpe etiam ab ordine: Hinc Primarium panem, & secundarium dicimus. Suetonius de Augusto: Cibi minimi erat, ac fere uulgaris. Secundarium panem, & pisciculos minutos, & caseum bubulum manu pressum, & ficus urideis biferas maxime appetebat. Horatius: Viuit siliquis, & pane secundo. hic etiã cibarius panis appellatur, hoc est uulgaris, & qui omnium cibus est. Nonnunquam ab ipsa specie panis, unde secundo coctus à scabricie Rubidus uocatur. idẽ dicitur nauticus, quod eo utũtur nautæ, quia diuturnior est, nec tam facile cõtrahit situ. Interdũ etiã à tritici genere. Vnde Sitanius panis dicitur ex nouo frumento intra trimestre à tempore messis factus. Græci enim σίτου frumentum dicunt, νέον nouum: hinc σιτάνεος quasi σίτου νέος. Item, triticeus panis ex tritico, Hordeacus ex hordeo, Siliginеus ex siligine. fermentatus præterea panis dicitur, qui fit addito fermento. Græci ab ipso tritico αὐτόπυρον nominant, sicut ecotrario ἄζυμον, hoc est, sine fermento. ζύμη enim fermentum uocatur. Panis autem, ut Varro existimat, à pascendo appellatus est, unde & Pappa dedu-citur, qui proprie cibus est puerorum, unde fit Pappo uerbū, hoc est edo, cibū sumo. Plau. Nouo liberto opus est, quod pappet. Pli. pappabit, præbebo cibū. A panis panifex deriuatur, qui panem facit, & panificium ipsa panis factura, & panificæ mulieres, quæ faciunt panem. & pastillus, quasi paruus panis per diminutionem. panibus ueteres redimebant caput equi immolati, quando Idibus Octobris in campo Martio sacrificium fiebat, ob frugum euentum: & equus potius, quàm bos immolabatur, quod bos frugibus parandis est aptus. Item à panis pando uerbum, ut Varro existimat, quod significat aperio, patefacio, quod apud ueteres, qui ope indigeret, & ad asylum Cereris confugisset, panis ei dabatur. pandere itaque dictum est, quasi panem dare, & quod nunquam fanum talibus clauderetur, pandere pro eo, quod est aperire usurpatum. ab hoc pandara porta Romæ dicta, quod semper pateret. Virgili. Et pandas ratibus posuere carinas. Et Empanda ueterum dea, quod rebus patentibus præesset. & pandiculari, quod est toto corpore oscitare, atq; extendi, à quo pandiculatio huiusmodi oscitatio, & pandicularis dies, qui & communicarius dicebatur, in quo communiter omnibus diys sacrificabatur. Et pantices fluxus uentris, quod uenter pandatur. Et cōposita ex pando notæ significationis, à quo expassum dicimus extensum. Et propando eiusdem significationis. Et repando, à quo repandum dicitur, quod retrorsum patet. Quidam etiam à pane panum dictum existimabāt, ob formam, ac rotunditatem. Etenim panus tramæ inuolucrum, quo panni texuntur. à quo pannula, & pannicula per diminutionem dicuntur. Lucilius: Foris subtegminis panus est. Plinius: E ramis picearum arborum instar pannicularum nucamenta squamatim dependent. Ab huius similitudine etiam tumor inguinum panus appellatur. Afranius: Quàm plenam papulam, panum, tympanum. Nonius: Qui miserum miseriorem reddidit, quàm panus pucrum. pueri enim difficilius patiuntur hoc genus morbi. Plinius: Elaterium, parotidas, & panos sanat. parotis apostema est secundum aurem. Nam græci παρὰ dicunt ad, ὦτα aureis. à pano autem, hoc est tramæ inuolucro pannum putant appellatum, à quo panno sus dicitur uili, ac sordida ueste indutus, & panno potius tectus, quàm ueste amictus. Apuleius: Pannosus, squalidus, capillatior solito. & panneus, quod ex panno est, unde panneæ uestes dicuntur, sicut laneæ, & bombycinæ. & panniculus paruus pannus, à quo panniculatia (ut Vlpiano placet) appellantur ea, quæ in custodia receptus secum attulit, ut uestem, quam indutus fuerit, qui ad supplicium ducitur, aut numos, quos uictus sui causa habuerit in promptu, aut leueis annulos, hoc est, qui rem nō excedunt aureorum quinque. Sed, ut ad propositū redeamus, Murcicis, si ue Conchylij liquor, qui & ostrum dicitur, temperatura artificis adhibita, ferè purpureus fit, hoc est in uiolaceum tendens. Sed hæc apud autores sæpe confunduntur, muricem, & ostrū, & tyrium pro purpura ponentes. Ab ostro ostrinæ uestes, hoc est purpureæ dicuntur. Turpilius: Interea aspexit uirginem uectari in capite riculam indutam ostrinam, hic indutus supparum. Eædem sarranæ, hoc est tyriæ uestes uocantur. Quod Sarra olim tyrus dicebatur. Iuuenalis: Aut pictæ Sarrana ferentem Ex humeris aulæa togæ. Virgilius: Et sarrano dormiat ostro. Sarnus uero fluuius est Campaniæ, oriens à Sarno monte, à quo Sarrastes populi cognominati. Virgilius: Sarrastes populus, & quæ rigat æquora sarnus. Sarracum uehiculi genus est, quo ligna, & lapides uehi consueuerunt. Iuuenalis: Longi coruscat sarraco ueniente abies. Purpura in uiolæ colorem tendens uiolacea dicitur. Cornelius Nepos: Me iuuene uiolacea purpura uigebat. Plautus: flāma ri uiolari ueste. à quo uiolarij dicuntur, uiolacei coloris insectores. huic succesit dibapha tyria, hoc est, purpura bis tincta. bis enim apud græcos significat bis, βαφὴ tinctura. reprehēsus est Letulus Spinther ædilis curulis, qđ primus hoc genere in prætexta usus fuisset. Eadem dicitur ianthina. Græci enim cum cætera uiolarum genera propriis nominibus uocent, ut ἴον μέλαν uiolam nigram, ἴον λευκὸν uiolam albam, ἴον ξανθὸν uiolam luteam, solam purpuream generali uocabulo ἰόνανθος appellant, hoc est uiolāflorem. Hinc igitur ianthina dicimus. Martialis: Coccina famosæ donas, & ianthina mœchæ. Plinius: Ex ijs uiolis, quæ sponte apricis, ac macris locis proueniunt, purpuræ latiore folio stirpem ab radice carnosa exeūt, solæq; græco nomine à cæteris discernuntur appellatæ ita, ut ab his ianthina uocētis. Itē Amethystina appellatur, à colore gemmæ, quæ dicitur Amethystus: hæc purpurea est, & colore uiolæ, dicta Amethystus, quasi minime ebria ἀπὸ τοῦ α priuatiua particula, & μεθυσθὶς ebrius. Ratio autem nominis est, quod, cum usq; ad uini colorem accedat, prius tamen, quàm eū deguſtet, in uiolam desinit. Quamuis magorum uanitas resistere hanc gemmam ebrietati promittat, ideoq; uocatā Amethysto. fulgor quidam in ea purpuræ est non ex toto igneus, sed in uini colorem deficiens, & uiolæ similis. huius coloris similitudinem tingendo reddere officinæ conantur. Alterum earum genus ad hiacynthos descendit, quem colorem Indi sacon appellant: & talem gemmam Sacondion. Diluuior ex ea Sapinos nominatur, eadē & Paranites. Eas, quæ excellunt colore, quidam pæderotas, hoc est puerorū amores. Alij anterotas, quasi mutuos amores: non nulli Veneris gemmam appellant. Hoc differunt ab hiacynthis, quod ille micans in Amethysto uiolaceus fulgor, in hyacintho dilutus est: primo aspectu gratus, sed ante, quàm satiet, euanescēs. De Amethystina lana locutus est Martialis: Ebria sidoniæ cum sim de sanguine conchæ, Non uideo quare sobria lana uocer. Plin. Amethystinū colorem dicimus, qui in uiola, & ipse in purpureū micat, quēq; Ianthinū appellauimus. Est etiā alius color, qui tyrianthinus uocatur, quādo absolutus Amethystus rursum tyrio inebriatur, & geminata luxuria facit ex utroq; improbū nomen. pœnitentia hoc primū inuenit, dum artifex, quod damnabat, mutare conatur: sicut cocco tinctum tyrio tingere ueteres inuenerunt, ut fieret (qđ supra diximus) Byssinum. Est & aliud uiolaceæ gemmæ genus, quod uocant Ion, sed raro saturo colore lucet: apud Indos inuenitur. Phycites quoq; fuci colorē habet. Item alius color est in purpuram inclinās, qui Molochinus dicitur, quod Maluæ flori similis sit, quasi Malachinus. Græci enim μαλάχην Maluam appellant. Cæcilius: Carbasina, molochina. Hinc Molochinarios molochini coloris infectores Plautus appellat. Maluæ duo genera sunt satiua, & syluestris. hæc foliȳ amplitudine discernuntur. Maiorem græci Malopem uocant: Alteram ab emolliendo uentre Malachem. μαλάσσειν enim subigere, & mollire est. Hinc μαλακὸς mollis, μαλακία mollitia dicitur. Martialis: Vtere lactucis, & mollibus utere maluis. Nam faciem durum Phœbe cacantis habes. è syluestribus cui grande folium est, & radices albæ Althea uocatur, & à quibusdam ob excellentiā effectus aristalthea, quod græci ἄριστον optimum dicunt. Folium maluæ scorpionibus impositum torporem affert. Tradunt siquis quotidie succi eius cyathum dimidium sorbeat, omnibus morbis carituru. Ideo herba hæc omnimorbia dicitur. Constat parturienteis foliȳs eius substratis celerius solui. Sed mox post partum reuocanda esse, ne uulua sequatur. semen eius, quæ unicaulis est aspersum cubili auiditates fœminarum in infinitum augere Xenocrates scribit, crates scribit, radice eius, si circa dentē, qui doleat, sæpius pugeris, desinet dolor. Maluæ succus mulieribus cauēdus est, dum sunt prægnantes, quoniam cum adipe anseris sumptus abortum facit. Idem semen maluæ tritum adalligant brachio rorum, qui uel arrigere, uel genitale continere non possunt. Illud magis mirum, quod, siquis in aqua Altheæ radicem posuerit, addensatur sub diuo, atq; elacteſcit. Malasso uerbū, quod mollire, subigere, maturare significat, latini quoq; usurpant. à quo fit compositum commalasso, quod est exerceo, maturefacio. Varro: In dolore Adiaphoron esse, quod philosophia cō malassaret eam partem, quæ concuti cupiditatibus solet. Vbi obiter notandum est Adiaphoron indifferentem significare. à malasso fit malacia, quo latini quoque utuntur. Vnde malaciam maris dicimus, cum fluctus omnino quiescunt, quod uulgus uitandi mali ominis gratia Bonaciam uocat. Itē molliciles illa mulierum, cum grauidæ sunt, & desiderio insolitum aliquid gustandi mouentur. Plinius: Expetitur malum punicum in grauidarum malacia. & malagma, quo molliuntur apostemata, & maturescunt, de quo superius diximus. & malta, uel calx cum arena, & aqua, uel pix cum cera mista, uel aliquid aliud simile. Reperitur etiam malacisso uerbum, quod significat emollio. Plautus: Ah nimiū ferus es, malacissandus es. Fuluus color est rufo, ac uiridi mistus. Vnde fului leones dicuntur. huius coloris lapilli sunt, qui leontij, & pardalij uocātur, à leonis, & pantheræ colore. Luteus est dilutior rutilus, qualis est color auri, unde luteus dictus uidetur, quasi dilutus. Hinc uiolæ eius coloris luteolæ appellatæ. Et lutea herba, qua chrysocolla tingitur, quæ naturam lini, seu lanæ habet ad succum bibendum. & uitellum in ouo, ouiluteum uocamus. Idem color cerinus appellatur à ceræ colore. Plautus: Pluma tile, aut cumatile, cerinum, aut Gelinum. & à mustellā mustellinus. Terent. Vetus, uietus, ueternosus, colore mustellino. & à meli colore, siue à Melo insula, unde afferebatur melinum, & pigmentū ipsum neutro genere melinum. Quidam tamen melinū colorē uolunt esse medium inter album, & fuscū, qui dicitur giluus. Virgilius: Color deterrimus albis, & giluo. & à croco croceus, à quo crocotulæ uestes. Plautus: Patagiatam caltulam, aut crocotulam. Dicuntur etiā crocotæ. Vnde crocotarij huiusmodi uestiū infectores. Plautus: Qui incendunt infectores crocotarij. Crocotillum uero ueteres exile uas de dicebant. Plautus: Extortis cum crocotillis cruſculis. Idem color & flammeus appellatur. Plinius: Lutei uideo honorem antiquissimum in nuptialibus flammeis totum fœminis concessum. Hinc flammea appellabant uestimenta lutei coloris, quibus flaminica utebatur. A quo & uestes, quibus amicie bantur nouæ nuptæ, similiter uocabantur. Erantq; flaminicæ uestibus similes, quod boni ominis gratia institutū est, quoniā flaminicæ non licebat facere diuortium. Erat autem Flaminica Flaminis uxor. à flameis Flamearij uocitati coloris flamei infectores, sicut uiolarij, qui uiolacea tingūt. Flamen dialis sacerdos erat Iouis, sic dictus, quod filo assidue uelaretur, quasi filamen. Erant enim Flamines capite uelato semper, caputq; filo cinctum habebant. Dialis autem à Διὸς Ioue, à quo uita dari putabatur hominibus. huic Fabā nec tangere licebat, nec nominare, quod ea putaretur ad mortuos pertinere. nam & lemuribus iacitur, laruisq;, & parentalibus adhibetur, & in flore eius luctus litera apparere uidetur. Hebetare quoque sensus existimatur, & insomnia facere, propter quod pythagorica sententia damnatur. uel sicut alij tradunt, quoniam in ea sunt mortuorum animæ, propter quod parentando assumitur, quod genus libi Fabacia à ueteribus uocabatur. Hinc uxor eius Flaminica uocitata, & ab hoc Flaminia sacerdotula, quæ

Flaminicæ diali, præministrabat, eaq; patrimes, & matrimes erat, id est patrem, matremq; adhuc uiuos habebat. Item Flaminia ædes, domus Flaminis dialis, et Flaminius Camillus puer ingenuus, qui Flamini diali ad sacrificia ministrabat. Antiqui enim ministros Camillos uocabant: quamuis aliqui putabant omneis pueros à ueteribus Camillos appellatos, quemadmodum habentur in antiquo carmine, cum pater filio de agricultura præciperet: Hyberno puluere, uerno luto grandia farra Camille metes. Item Flaminius lictor, qui Flamini diali sacrorum causa præstò erat. Flaminius uero circus, & Flaminia uia non à flamine, sed à Flaminio consule dicta sunt, qui ab Annibale interfectus est ad lacum Trasimenum. Quippe circus flamineus, Varrone teste, circum flamineum campum ædificatus est. Luteus color è quibusdam terris fieri à pictoribus solet. Item ex auri pigmento, quod in Syria foditur in summa tellure, auri colore, sed fragile ad lapidum specularium similitudinē. Ex quo Caius princeps, ut aurum facere tentaret, excoqui iussit magnum pondus, & planè excellens aurum fecit, sed ita parui ponderis, ut detrimentum sentiret, propter qđ nemo postea idē tentare ausus est. hoc colore inter gemmas succini genus reperitur, & topazij. Item chrysolitus aureo nitore translucēs, & chryselectrus in colorē lutei electri declinans. & leucochrysus, in qua interuenit candida uena. & capnias ueluti croco refulgens. & melichrysis, quæ ex India mittitur, quasi per aurum syncero melle trauslucente. & xystios plebeia gemma. & aromatitis, quæ in Arabia gignitur, ita dicta, qđ myrrhæ odorem habeat. Græci enim ἄρωμα odoramentum uocant. à quo aromatopolam dicunt, quem nos aromatarium nominamus. & chrysophis, cui uidetur aurum inesse. & Hammonis cornu, quæ inter sacratissimas Aethiopiæ gemmas habetur, aureo colore, arietini cornu effigiem reddens. & hammochrysus, quasi auro mistas habens arenas. & crocias à croci similitudine appellata. & melites à colore mali auri, quod melum proprie dicitur. PARS. Portio. Partes enim dicūtur, in quas diuiditur totum. Quidam partem à pari dictam existimant, quod partes simul iunctæ pares, hoc est æquales sint toti. alij à pario, siue partu, quod pars à toto deducta, & quasi parta sit. alij à parū, quod pars parum quiddam sit respectu totius. Ab hoc particula diminutiuum, hoc est parua pars. à quo particularis, qui ad partem spectat, & particulatim, ac particulatim aduerbia, hoc est membratim, & per partes, & particulones, hoc est cohæredes, & qui partem patrimonij sumunt. Item à parte partim aduerbium, quod modo ex parte significat, ut partim subticuit crimen, partim cofessus est. modo idem significat, quod suum nomen, ut partim hominum uenerunt. hoc est pars hominum uenit. Vereres etiam, cum partim dixere. Cato: Ibi pro scorto fuit in cubiculum surrectitauit è conuiuio cum partim illorum, iam sæpe ad cundē modum erat. Item à pars expers, quasi sine parte, sicut expes sine spe. Expers enim laborū dicitur, qui nullam partem laborum tulit. Aliquando etiam pro ignaro ponitur. Apuleius: Homo rudis, & omnium bonarum artium expers. Quidam tamen, cum quibus nos potius sentimus, expers, non à parte, sed ab experior uerbo deductum existimant, quemadmodum experitum quoque ueteres dixerunt pro imperito, atque ignaro. Item à parte deducitur portio, quasi partio, quod partem significat, cuius diminutiuum est portiuncula. Apuleius: Qui cum à me portiunculam posceret. Ab hoc fit proportio, quæ est duarum rerum quatenus ad quantitatem pertinet, inuicem facta comparatio. Item particeps, qui partē capit, dicimusq; particeps sum laborum tuorum, & particeps tibi in laboribus. Pli. Omnium studiorum meorum, ac laborum particeps. Quintiā lianus, & in pleriſq; ruris operibus merito particeps. Curtius: Quod fuiſſet illi in periculis particeps. Ab hoc fit participium apud grammaticos, quod ea pars orationis partem capiat nominis, partemq; uerbi. Et participialia nomina, quæ licet non ſint participia, ſimilia tamen ſunt participijs. nam & caſus, & genera, ſicut participia habent, & tempora, ac ſignificationes. Regunt præterea caſum more participiorum poſt, non ante. Nã locutio illa, qua ſacrarum literarum interpretes uſi ſunt, In conuertendo dominus captiuitatem Sion: & in deficiendo ex me ſpiritum meum: & in conuertendo populos in unum, & reges, ut ſeruiant domino, inaudita, & planè barbara eſt. Græci enim infinitum hoc loco habent, qui ante ſe accuſatiuum requirit. Poterat autem hoc modo eleganter transferri, dum conuerteret dominus captiuitatem Sion. Dum ſpiritus mihi deficeret, & conuertente domino captiuitatem Sion, ac deficiente mihi ſpiritu meo. Item in conuertendis populis in unum, uel dum populi conuerterentur in unum. Hoc autem differunt gerundia à participijs, quod ipſa rei adminiſtrationem ſignificãt ſine tempore, ut tenet me occupatio iuris dicendi. gerundium eſt, nec tempus ſignificat futurum, ſed rei adminiſtrationem in re dicendo: illa uero tempus ſine rei adminiſtratione. Vt tenet me cura dotis numerandæ. hoc enim participium eſt futuri ſignificatiuum ſine rei adminiſtratione. Præterea gerundia duplicem ſignificationem habẽt, actiuam ſcilicet, atq; paſſiuam. Itemq; à gerenda duplici ſignificatione, gerundia (ut quidam putant) appellata ſunt. Participia uero unam tantum. Sed illud notandum, quod omnia gerundia, cum ſociata ſunt ſubſtantiuis, paſſiue accipiuntur, diſiunctа uero modo actiue, modo paſſiue, ſed paſſiue cum ſine præpoſitione, & ſine genere in caſu ablatiuo, & quaſi abſolute ponũtur. Virgilius: Alitur uitium, creſcitq; tegendo. Idẽ: Aegreſcitq; medẽdo. Idẽ: Vritq; uidẽdo fœmina, id eſt cum tegitur uitium, cum curatur æger, cum uidetur fœmina. Quintilianus: Sed memoria excolendo, ſicut omnia alia augetur, hoc eſt, dũ excolitur. Salluſtius: Pauca ſupra repetam, quo ad cognoſcendum omnia illuſtria magis, magisq; in aperto ſint. hic accuſatiuo cum ad, uſus eſt, & ad cognoſcendũ inquit, hoc eſt, ut cognoſcantur. Præterea gerundia etiam cum plurali numero ſingulari uoce iunguntur. Plinius: Cum illorum uidendi gratia me in forum cõtuliſſem. Item à particeps fit uerbum, quo nonnulli utuntur, participo. Præterea à pars fit partior uerbum, cuius compoſitum eſt impertio. Partiri eſt parteis facere, & quaſi diſtribuere. Virgil. Et ſocios partitur in omneis. Quintilianus: Partire, uel gratis, dum quo reſpiremus affĕras. Impertire uero eſt impendere, uel partem dare. Cicero: Huic rei aliquid temporis impertias, hoc eſt impendas. Idem: Laboris mei laudem nemini impertio, hoc eſt partem do. Aliquando mutata conſtructione reperitur. Terentius: Plurima ſalute Parmenonem ſuum impertit Gnato. eo modo, quo dicitur, dono tibi hunc equum, & dono te hoc equo. Virgilius: Sergeſtum Aenean promiſſo munere donat. huius paſſiuum eſt impertior. Cicero: Atque etiam uitro ſorti collegæ meo laus impertitur. Quidem impartiri quoque pro impertire uſurpant, & partire dicunt pro partiri. licet autem dicere partior laborem multis negotijs, & in multa negotia. ab hoc deducitur partiarius, hoc eſt, colonus, ſiue alius quiſquis, qui fruges, fructuſq;, ſiue aliud opus, utputa calcem, lateres, tegulas cum domino æque partitur. Cato: Calcem partiario coquendam qui dant. Calcarius perficit, & coquit, & ex fornace calcem eximit, & ligna conficit ad fornacem: dominus lapidem, & ligna ad fornacem, quod opus ſit, præbet. Idem: Vineam curandam partiarius bene curet, fundum, arbuſtum, agrum frumentarium partiario fœnum, & pabulum, quod bobus ſatis ſiet, quæ illic fiant, cætera omnia pro induiſo. Item ab eodem fiant compoſita diſpertio, ſiue diſpertior. Nouius: Vt pariter diſpertiantur bona patris. bipartio bipartior, tripartior, quadripartior, quinquepartior, à quibus bipartita negotia, & tripartita, & quadripartita, & quinquepartita dicimus. Item multipartior, & multipartita, hinc etiam partitio deriuatur, hoc eſt diuiſio in parteis. nonnulli tamẽ exiſtimãt non partem à parum, ſed à parte parum aduerbium deduci, quod ſignificat modicum. à quo paulum, & paululum, & parumper, quod modo ſignificat paruo tempore. Plautus: Expecta hic parumper. modo paulatim. Virgil. Pulſuſq; parũper Corde dolor. & perparum, & pauliſper, & paulatim, & paucum, à quo pauculum, & pauxillum, & paucitas, & paucies, quod ueteres pro raro uſurpabant. Titinnius: Vxorem meam paucies uidebo. Item à parum paruus, cuius diminutiuum eſt paruulus, & ab eo paruitas, & compoſita paruifacio, & paruipendo, hoc eſt ſperno, contemno, & pauper (ut Varro ſentit) à parua pecunia. à quo paupertas, & pauperies, quæ proprie dicitur damnum, quod quadrupes fecit, & pro paupertate ponitur. Horat. Mox reficit rates quaſſas indocilis pauperiem pati. & paupero uerbum, à quo depaupero, quod eſt pauperem facio. Plautus: Quæ improba eſt mentis uitio dominum precio pauperat. Idem: Quam ego tanta pauperaui per dolum pecunia. Varro: priuſquam domum depauperaret ſumptu ſuo. & paupertinus, hoc eſt pauper. Idem: Quod ſi paupertina ſint elegantia, ac cum caſtimonia. Antiqui paupertates plurali numero uſurparunt. Idem: Quod inter hos Ioues interſit, & eos qui ex marmore, ebore, auro nunc fiunt, potes animo aduertere & horum temporum diuitias, & illorum paupertates. paupertatem quidã ab egeſtate ita diſtinguunt, ut egeſtas ſit, quando ad uitam neceſſaria deſunt, paupertas uero quando licet nõ ſint opes, tamen neceſſaria ſuppetunt. Tibullus: Me mea paupertas uitæ traducat inerti, Dum meus aſſiduo luceat igne focus. Idem: Ego compoſito ſecurus aceruo dices deſpiciam deſpiciamq; famem. à paupere per diminutionem pauperculus dicitur. Veteres fœminino genere pauperam dixere, à quo paupercula. Item à parum fit parco uerbum, quaſi parum tango, abſtineo. proprie enim parcere abſtinere eſt. hinc parco aliquando ponitur pro ucniã do, hoc eſt ab ultione abſtineo. Virgilius: Parcere ſubiectis, & debellare ſuperbos. aliquando pro depono, quia ab ijs, quæ deponimus, abſtinemus. Idem: Parce metu Cytherea, manent immota tuorum Fata tibi. Aliquando pro ſeruo, quia ſimiliter ab his etiã abſtinemus. Idem: Argẽti, atq; auri memoras, quæ multa talenta Natis parce tuis. Interdum pro deſino. nã & deſinere abſtinere eſt. Idẽ: Parce pias ſcelerare manus. ſic parcere errori dicimus, abſtinere à caſtigatione erroris, ſiue parũ caſtigare errorem. parcere pecuniæ, abſtinere ab expendenda pecunia, ſiue parũ expendere pecuniam. parcere iniuriæ abſtinere à uindicanda iniuria, ſiue parum ulciſci iniuriam. parcere labori abſtinere à labore, ſiue parum laborare. parcere lacrymis abſtinere à lacrymando, ſiue parũ lacrymari. parcere metui, abſtinere à metu, ſiue parum metuere, & eodem modo de ſimilibus. hinc parcus dicitur, qui frugi eſt, & ſumptibus parcit. nam quod aliqui parcum dictum uolunt, quaſi arcæ parſit, omniaq; cuſtodiat, teneatq;, ut arca, uel quod pecuniam conſumi, atq; impendi arceat, quaſi pecuniarcum, penè ridiculum eſt. à parcus parcitas deriuatur, hoc eſt frugalitas quædam, & parce aduerbium frugaliter, moderate, & parſimonia, quæ ſimiliter pro moderatione ſumptuũ, & parcitate, hoc eſt conſeruatione rerũ accipitur, fitq; à præterito parſi, quod conſeruaui ſignificat, ſiue abſtinui. Nam alterum præteritum peperci accipitur potius pro ueniam dedi:

quamuis confundi hæc interdum ab autoribus ſolent. & comparco uerbum. Terentius: Suum defraudans genium comparſit miſer. Veteres etiam comperco pro cõpeſco ſcripſere. Sunt qui à parco parcas quoq; per antiphraſim uocatas exiſtiment, quod nemini parcant. Alij tamen, inter quos Varro eſt, à parcitu potius dictas putant, unius literæ mutatione: quoniam (ut ſcribit Heſiodus) hæ naſcentibus hominibus bonum malumq; conferre cenſeantur. Vnde Iuuenalis: Hæc exempla para felicibus, at mea Clothò, & Lacheſis gaudent, ſi paſcitur inguine uenter. Martianus non ignobilis autor has deorum ſcribas eſſe inquit, & ſententias Iouis ſtudio ueritatis excipere. treis autem eſſe parcas finxerunt, quas latini nonam, decimam, & mortam dixere: nonam & decimam à tempeſtiui partus tempore, hoc eſt à nono, & decimo menſe, in quibus ſecundum naturam pueri naſcuntur: mortam uero ab eo, quod qui naſcuntur ante hoc tempus, uel poſt, quaſi monſtra habeantur. Volunt enim ſeptimo menſe raro pueros naſci, octauo nunquam, nono ſæpe, decimo ſæpius. Plautus: Tum illa quam compreſſerat decimo poſt menſe exacto, hic peperit filiam. Cicero: Herebi, & noctis has fuiſſe filias ſcribit, & eaſdem fata eſſe exiſtimant. Vnde eſt illud Cleantis: Ducunt uolentem fata, nolentem trahũt. fingunt uitæ hominum præeſſe, & nendo eam ducere. Quapropter lanificas ſorores appellant. Martialis: Si mihi lanificæ ducunt non pulla ſorores Stamina, nec ſurdos uox habet iſta deos. Sene. Fatis agimur, credite fatis. Non ſollicitæ poſſunt curæ mutare rati ſtamina fuſi. Quicquid patimur mortale genus, quicquid facimus, uenit ex alto. Seruatq; ſuæ decreta colus Lacheſis dura reuoluta manu. Apulei. Tres parcæ, tria fata ſunt numero cum ratione temporis faciẽtia, ſi poteſtatẽ earũ ad eiuſdem ſimilitudinem temporis referas. nam quod in fuſo perfectum eſt, præteriti temporis habet ſpeciem, & quod torquetur in digitis, momenti præſentis indicat ſpatia, & quod nõdum ex colo tractum eſt, ſubactumq; curæ digitorum, id futuri, & cõſequentis ſeculi poſteriora uidetur oſtendere. Hæc illi conditio ex nominum eius proprietate contingit, ut Atropos præteriti temporis fatũ, quod ne deus quidem faceret infectũ, & futuri temporis. Lacheſis, à fine cognominata, quod etiam ijs, quæ futura ſunt, finem ſuum deus dederit. Clotho præſentis temporis habet curam, ut ipſius adiectionibus ſuadeat, ne cauſa ſolers rebus omnibus deſit. Lacheſim dictam uolunt ἀπὸ τοῦ λαγχάνειν, quod ſortiri eſt. ipſa enim net, ac filum ducit. Clothon, quod fuſum torquendo, ſuper eo filum trahit, ac colligit. græci enim κλώθειν torquere dicunt. Atropon ab immutabilitate, quod ſcilicet inexorabilis ſit. flecti enim non poteſt, quin filum truncet, & humanam finiat uitam, græci ἄτροπον immutabilem dicunt. Martialis: Lanificas nulli treis exorare puellas Contigit. obſeruant quem ſtatuere diem.

VLTIMA. Extrema. nouiſſima. Vltimum aliquando primum ſignificat. Virgilius: Tu ſanguinis ultimus autor. aliquando poſtremum. Cicero: Vt turpi ambitione magis delectatur, qui in prima cauea ſpectat, delectatur tamen etiam qui in ultima. Ab ultra autem ultimum dictum, quod ultra omnia ſit, ſiue ante reſpicias, ſiue retro. Vltra autem (ut ſupra diximus) ab uls deducitur, quo ueteres utebãtur, ſicut citra à cis. ab ultra deriuatur ultro, quod modo eiuſdẽ cũ primitiuo ſuo ſignificationis eſt. Virgil. Et miſereſcimus ultro, id eſt ultra id, quod rogauit, præſtitimus. Idem: Et ultro ipſe grauis, graciter q; ad terrã pondere uaſto Concidit. Modo ſignificat ſine requiſitione, ut ultro ad te ueni, hoc eſt ueni ad te non requiſitus. cuius ſignificationis eſt ſponte, quamuis ſponte pro naturaliter ponatur, ut multæ arbores ſponte naſcuntur, hoc eſt naturaliter, & non ab homine ſatæ. ab ultro, quando ultra ſignificat, fit ultrò, citroq;, quod ſignificat, quod uulgo dicitur huc atq; illuc, & tam in factis, quàm in dictis. Quintilianus: Iuuenis, ſicut ſolet ultro, citroq; cõmeare. Cicero: Multisq; uerbis ultro, citroq; habitis, ille nobis conſumptus eſt dies. Quidam in hac ſignificatione ſurſum, & deorſum utuntur. Terẽtius: Sex ego te totos Parmeno hos menſeis quietum reddã, nè ſurſum, deorſumue curſites. Tractũ ab Athenis, cuius portus in imo, urbs uero in æditiori loco ſita eſt. à ſponte uero ſpondeo uerbum deducitur, quod ueteres uſurpabant pro dico. nam qui ſpondet, ſponte, id eſt uoluntate dicit. Vnde reſpondeo factum eſt, quod eſt poſteriori loco dico, à quo reſponſum, & reſpõſio deducuntur. Poſtea uero ſpondere uſurpari cœptũ pro ſponte promittere. Vnde qui puellam ſpondet, ſponſor: quæ ſpõdetur puella, ſponſa: cui ſpondetur, ſponſus, & qua rogatur pecunia dotis. à ſponſo, ſponſio, hoc eſt promiſſio appellatur, & dies, qua puella promittitur, ſponſalis, & ſponſalia (ut Florentinus ait) mentio, & repromiſſio futurarum nuptiarum. & ſponſus quartæ declinationis pro ſponſione. Seruius Sulp. Qui uxorẽ ducturus erat ab eo, unde ducenda erat, ſtipulabatur eum in matrimonium ductum iri: qui daturus erat, itidem ſpondebat daturum. Is contractus ſtipulationum, ſponſionumq; dicebatur ſponſalia. Tũ quæ promiſſa erat, ſponſa appellabatur: qui ſpoponderat ducturum, ſponſus. Sed ſi poſt eas ſtipulationes uxor non dabatur, aut nõ ducebatur, qui ſtipulabatur, ex ſponſu agebat, iudices cognoſcebant. Inter ſpondere, ac deſpondere quidam hanc differentiam faciunt, ut ſpondere ſit patris puellæ, deſpondere patris adoleſcentis. Terentius: Placuit, deſpondi, hic nuptijs dictus eſt dies. Paulus iuriſconſultus ſponſionem dici affirmat, non ſolum quæ per ſponſi interrogationẽ fit, ſed etiam omnem ſtipulationem, promiſſi onemq;. & ſponſor aliquando ponitur pro fideiuſſore. ſponte etiam nominaliter capitur, habetq; dũtaxat ablatiui caſum, unde ſponte mea, ſponte tua, & ſponte ſua dicimus. à quo ſpontaneus pro uoluntario deriuatur. reſpondeo autem licet proprie ſit ſecundo loco dico (ut ſupra diximus) ponitur tamen aliquando pro conſentio. Virgilius: Dictis reſpondent cætera matris. Interdum pro reſpicio. Idem: Reſpondet Gnoſia tellus, hoc eſt Athenas reſpicit, & cõtra poſita eſt. Nonnunquam pro ſatisfacio. Idem: Illa ſeges demum uotis reſpondet auari Agricolæ, bis quæ ſolem, bis frigora ſentit. dicimus reſpondeo tibi, & ad te. Plin. Cum ad eos breuiſſime reſpondiſſem. Item à ſpondeo conſpondeo, unde ueteres conſponſos dicebant fide mutua obligatos, & conſponſores conuratores, quaſi ſibi inuicem ſpondentes. AVLAE regiæ. neque enim hoc loco pro atrio capitur, cum ſuperius dixerit: Intuidioſa feri radiabant atria regis. DEFICIENTIS. Finientis, terminantis. ſenſus eſt, ubi nũc thermæ ſunt, ibi erat ultima pars domus Neronianæ. deficio aliquando ſignificat deſum, & hoc ſolum ab eo differt, quod deficio exigit accuſatiuum, deſum uero datiuum. Cicero: Quod ea me ſolatia deficiunt, quæ cæteris, quorum mihi exempla propono, ſimili in fortuna non defuerunt. Idem: Dies me deficeret. Ab hoc deriuatur defectus, cũ pro priuatione capitur, ut multi defectu medicorum perierunt, hoc eſt, quia defuerunt medici. Modo deſciſco, ac recedo à ductu, atq; imperio alterius, & quaſi rebello. Quintus Curtius: Iam duæ legiones ab eo defecerãt. Hinc defectio dicitur receſſus, uel militum ab imperatore, uel ciuitatis à domino. aliquãdo debilitor, & uiribus exhauior, unde defecti appellantur debilitati, atq; exhauſti. Martialis: Dulcia defecta modulatur carmina lingua, Cãtator cygnus funeris ipſe ſui. Plinius: Genus uini, quod Bion uocamus, prodeſt ſtomacho diſſoluto, aut cibos non perficienti, prægnantibusq;, & defectis. Hi à græcis Synthetici dicuntur, quo uocãbulo frequentissime utuntur nostri. Idem: Præcordiorũ uitijs, syntheticis comitialibus Liser cum uino in aqua mulsa datur. & morbus ipse à græcis Synthesis, à nostris defectio appellatur. Idẽ: Tali sorbitionis genere emendantur Syntheses, hoc est defectiones ex longis morbis sumptæ. Hæc autem emendatio proprie recreatio dicitur. Idem: A qua mulsa præclaram utilitatẽ habet uiribus recreandis. Item: Hæc & defectos mirum in modum recreat. Item deficio aliquando usurpant pro finio, desino. Martianus: Tum demum id agere consilium erat, cum uita defecit. Est autem deficio à de, & facio compositũ. facere (ut Papinianus inquit) omnẽ oĩno faciendi causam cõplectitur dandi, soluendi, numerandi, iudicandi, ambulandi, reddendi. Vnde qui ociosus sedet, si rogetur quid faciat, rectè respondere poterit, se nihil facere, quando quidẽ ociosus est: rectè etiam se sedere, quoniam & sedere ipsum aliquid facere est, ut iacere, nauigare, quiescere. Varro tamẽ facere, agere, & gerere diuersa esse scribit: nam aliquis facit, qui non agit, & aliquis agit, qui non facit: ut poëta facit fabulam, non agit, cõtra actor agit, non facit. Imperator res gerit, hoc est sustinet, non agit, aut facit, unde res gestæ, non actæ, aut factæ dicuntur. Proprie facere is dicitur, qui rei, quam facit, faciem quandam imponit, unde à faciendo facies uocitata. Qui ergo uas facit, uasis faciẽ illi imponit: qui uestimentum, faciem uestimenti. agere uero existimatur, qui aliquid ita operatur, ut nullum extet opus, quod subsensum ueniat: hinc qui aliquid animo moliuntur, agere proprie, nõ facere dicuntur. Cõfunduntur tamen sæpe hæc uerba, & facere ad omnia transfertur. nam & facere uerba dicimus, id est loqui, & facere uiã, siue iter ire, & facere alicui timorem, terrere, & facere aliquem certiorem, reddere alicuius rei indubium, facere gratum: facere ludos, facere rem diuinam, facere solennitatem, exhibere, facere copiã, facere potestatem, præbere, facere lucrum, lucrari, facere urinam, meiere, facere stercus, excernere, facere sordeis, sordescere, facere pediculos, emittere. et quod mirabilius est, cũ facere, & pati cõtraria sint, facere tamen pro pati accipitur, ut feci iacturam, feci damnũ, naufragium. facere ueteres pro sacrificare posuerunt. Virgil. Cum faciam uitulam pro frugibus ipse uenito. Vitulã enim nõ uitula ablatiui casus legendum est, ut Macrobius sentit. & est sensus, cum sacrificabo uitulam. Plautus: Plenam faciã tibi fideliam. Item pro coire. Martialis: Cum dicis propero, fac: si facis, Hedyle languet. Plautus: Mauult ancillæ facere, quàm liberæ, hoc est mauult cum ancilla coire, quàm cum libera. Item pro conuenire. Martialis: Nõ facit ad sæuos ceruix, nisi prima leones. & pro conducere, prodesse. Plinius. Hoc & tussi facit, hoc est ad tussim prodest. et pro æstimo, unde plurimi facio hãc rem dicimus, id est magno æstimo. Eodẽ modo multi facio, magnifacio, et è cõtrario, paruifacio, nihilifacio, flocifacio, hoc est contemno, & in nulla æstimatione habeo. flocifacio, nõ à flocis bus (ut quidam rudes existimant) deducitur, sed à floco. flocienim proprie dicuntur lanarum particulæ diuisæ à uellere bus inutiliter cuolantes, & per diminutionem appellantur floculi. Plinius: Nascuntur in robore pilulæ nucibus non absimiles, intus habentes floculos mollcis lucernarũ luminibus aptos. nam & sine oleo flagrant. Idem: Alij pira seruant in flocis, capsisq, quas luto paleato illinunt. flocces autem uuarum purgamenta sunt, hoc est uinaceæ, sicut flaces oliuarum. Plinius: In amurca, & flacibus hæ sunt carnes, & illæ feces. Item pluris facio, minoris facio, minimi facio, nihilifacio. Plautus: Deos qdẽ, quod maxime æquum est, metuere eos, minimi facit. Sunt præterea à facio cõposita. sumptifacio, quod est emo, seu in aliqua re emenda sumptum facio. Plautus: Si nunc me suspensam, meam operam luserim, & præter operã restim sumptifecerim, &

meis inimicis uoluptatem creauerim. Item condocefacio, quod est doceo, instruo. Cicer. Nemo est enim, qui eorũ bonorum animũ putat esse iudicẽ: eumq; cõdocefaciat, ut ea, quæ bona, malaue uideantur, possit contemnere. commonefacio admoneo, ita cuefacio euacuo. calefacio, frigefacio, tepefacio, notæ significationis, cãdefacio ignitũ reddo. candens enim licet proprie candidum dicatur, ut apud Virgilium: Candentis uaccæ media inter cornua fudit: quoniam tamen ea, quæ ignescunt, candidiora fiunt, ut ferrum candet pro ignefactum est, & candens pro ignito accipitur. Cicero: Candente carbone adurebat capillũ. hinc excandescere hominem dicimus, qui nimia ira inflammatur. & excandefactus, præter modum iratus. & excandefacio irrito, inflammo, assuefacio, consuefacio, & contrarium eorũ dissuefacio, quæ significant & usu doceo, & dedoceo. mansuefacio mansuetum, ac mitem reddo. tabefacio corrũpo, & quasi in tabem uerto. tabes morbus est, cuius tres species sunt. una, qua corpus non alitur, & ita summa oritur macies, & nisi occurratur, tollit. Atrophiam hanc græci uocant. alia est, quam græci appellant κακεξίαν, ubi malus corporis habitus est, ideoq; omnia alimenta corrumpũtur, quod sit, cum longo morbo fatigata corpora refectionem non accipiunt. Tertia est species, quam græci φθίσιν nominauerũt ἀπὸ τοῦ φθίνειν, quod est consumi, & tabescere. oritur ferè à capite, inde in pulmonẽ distillat, hinc exulceratio accedit, frequens tussis est, pus excreatur, interdum aliquid cruentum, quod proprie tabo nominant: estq; sanguis corruptus, & duntaxat in ablatiuo casu reperitur, ut sponte. Virgilius: Et terram tabo maculant. à tabe tabidus fit putridus, & qui tabes patitur, & tabificus, qui alium tabefacit. Cicero: Atq; hæ, ut tabificæ mentis perturbationes sunt. tabificabilis quoque apud ueteres in usu fuit. Accius: Par nec orbifico liberorum lecto, & tabificabili. orbefacio, orbitatem alicui induco, & orbum liberis facio, quod & orbifico dicitur, à quo orbificus. orbus proprie dicitur, qui lumen oculorũ amisit, quasi amissis orbibus, propter rotunditatem oculorum: hinc per metaphoram orbi dicti quicunque aliqua re cara priuati sunt, ut parentes liberis, quasi oculis priuati. Ab hoc fit orbo uerbum, quod est priuo, & orbatus priuatus, & orbitas siue orbitudo, qualitas illa patrum post amissos liberos, & uxoris uiduitas post amissum maritum. orbus etiam e contrario dicitur, quem uulgo græco uocabulo orphanum uocant, hoc est filius parentibus priuatus. Terentius: Orbo qui proximi sunt uxorem ducant. hinc orbitas pro orphanitas accipitur, quã græci ὀρφανίαν nominant. Cicero: Deploratio enim causam, atque orbitatem Senatus. orbem latini circulum, & orbiculum parum circulum, ac etiam à rotunditate mundum orbem appellauerunt. Item orbitum circularem. Varro: Vt sidera cœli circa terram, atque axem uoluuntur motu orbito. & orbitam uestigium rotæ, à quo exorbito fit, quod est à recto decedo, & quasi extra orbitam eo. putrefacio putridũ reddo. cõgelefacio congelo. labefacio & labefacto maculo. expergefacio, excito, qđ etiã expergisco dicimus. Plin. Vrtica lethargicos expergiscit tactis cruribus, magisq; frõte. & expergifico. Gell. Ingenio expergificando ratus idoneas. Item expergo reperitur, & expergiscor passiuum. Cicero: Experge te iam. Idem: Expergiscimini aliquando, atque exurgite. Experge te facias, etiam scripsit, pro te expergefacias. torrefacio, exicco, terrefacio metũ incutio. à quo terrificus pro terribili, sicut horrificus pro horrendo. rorefacio, aspergo, rarefacio attenuo, uel rarũfacio. pudefacio, pudorẽ iniicio. Vnde pudefactus, uerecũdatus. nigrefacio, à quo nigrefactus notæ significationis. fabrefacio, laboro, et fabrile opus. à quo fabrefactum opus, hoc est artificiose factũ. siue manu artificis factum. Fabre enim artificiose significat.

Plautus: Vt apologiam fecit quàm fabre. Et faber à faciendo dictus. Est autem omnis artifex, qui labore corporis aliquod artificium facit. Vnde fabrum lignarium, fabrum cæmentarium, fabrum ferrarium dicimus. Fabros tignarios appellat Caius, non eos duntaxat, qui tigna dolant, sed omneis, qui ædificant. Fabrica proprie est fabri lignarij officina, ueruntamen & de aliorum fabrorum officinis aliquando dicitur. Ponitur etiam pro arte, & (ut ita dicam) fabricatione alicuius rei, unde & ædificium fabricam dicimus, & etiam machinationem. Plautus: Nunc hoc cõsilium capio, & hanc fabricam apparo, ut filias dicas tuas. & fabricor significat compono, molior, machinor. transfertur etiam ad animum. Curtius: Multa interea fabricatus ingenio quomodo auertere inde hostem posset. uetres affabrum pro fabrefactum dixere, & affabre aduerbium pro eo, quod est pulchre, sicut infabre fœde, turpiter. Pacuuius: Barbaricam pestem nostris nauibus obtulit, noua figura factam, commissam infabre. Tremefacio tremorem injicio, à quo tremefactus perterritus. Stupefacio, stupore afficio, à quo stupefactus. patefacio aperio, patefactus apertus, imbrefacio, & madefacio, balneo. à quibus imbrefactus, & imbrificus, & madefactus. ignefacio, ignitum reddo, à quo ignificus, sator discordiæ. Item thurifico à thure, à quo instrumentum, quo thurificamus, thuribulum dicimus. & arcula, in qua thus tenetur acerra, quamuis Acerra etiã urbs sit Campaniæ iuxta Neapolim, quam Clanius amnis præterfluit. Virgil. Et uacuis Clanius nõ æquus Acerris. sacrifico, à quo sacrificium, sacrificus, & Sacrificulus rex, de quo inferius dicemus. magnifico, extollo. Plinius: Magnificant & uituli, qui nondum herbam gustauerit, fimum. ab hoc fit magnificus, & magnificentia, & magnificentior, & magnificentissimus, & magnifice, ac magnificentissime aduerbia, sicut à munere munificus, de quo supra diximus, & munificentia. Fœtifico pario, fœtum facio, à quo fœtificatio. mundifico, & purifico, à quibus mundificatio & purificatio. fortifico, dẽsifico, lætifico, deifico, uiuifico, blandifico, nudifico, mortifico, mollifico, iustifico, clarifico, fructifico, glorifico, luctifico, damnifico, falsifico, quorum notæ sunt significationes, & nomina quæ ab ijs descendunt. pacifico, à quo pacificor passiuum, & pacificus, & pacificatio. ædifico ædificatio, à quo ædificator, & ædificiũ. ratifico approbo, ratum habeo, à quo ratificatio. radifico, hoc est radices facio, à quo radificatio. scarifico, quod est scalpurio, hoc est scalpello aperio, quo aliquid facilius exeat. Columella: Post scarificatio nẽ ferro factam. Idẽ: Lasser pedũ clauos circũ scarificatos ferro imustum ceræ extrahit. Plinius: Dẽtium dolores sedãtur ossibus draconis marini, scarificatis gingiuis. Idem: Reperitur in latere leporis acui os simile, hoc scarificari dentes in dolore suadent. Idẽ: Viri interempti dẽte gingiuas in dolore scarificari. Apollonius efficacissimum scripsit. scarificare etiam dolorẽ aliquãdo dicimus, hoc est scarificando dolorem expellere. Idẽ: Præterea in corde equorum inuenitur os dentibus caninis maxime simile, hoc scarificari dolorem putant. ab hoc fit scarificatio. Item gratificor, à quo gratificatio. & testificor, à quo testificatio. modificor, à quo modificatio. ludificor, à quo ludificatio. Est autem ludificari per iocum, ac ludũ fallere, ut fauni per noctem ludificãtur mulierẽs, hoc est iocantur cũ eis, atq; decipiunt, & mulierẽs ipsæ ludificari, hoc est per lusum falli dicuntur. Plinius: Bubonis quidẽ oculorum cinerem, inter ea, quibus prodigiose uitam ludificantur, acceperim. Seneca: Quibus sæpe ludificati pœnitentiam agunt. Item à facio componuntur odorificus, hoc est odorem faciens, & colorificus faciens colorem, hoc est aliquid colorans, & frondificus, quod frondibus spargitur, & gratificus, qui gratificatur, & olfacio odo-ro, à quo olfactor & olfactrix. Plinius: Laurus lædit cutem, olfactrix enim intelligit. & calorificus calorẽ faciens, ac frigorificus refrigerandi uim habens. Gellius: Vinum calorificum, acetum frigorificum. & opifex, atque artifex eiusdem significationis, à quibus opificium & artificium. & artificiosum, atque artificiose aduerbium declinantur. & aurifex, qui auri laborandi artifex est. Plinius: Velut auruficum arte alternis inter folia candicantibus margaritis. à quo aurificina taberna aurificis. & panifex, qui panem facit, à quo panificium factura panis. Item monstrificus, & portentificus, qui monstra, & portenta dicendo, uel faciendo demonstrat. Plinius: Inuenta in his & ratio inferendi monstrificis hominum ingenijs. & squamificus squamis scatens, & lanifica mulier, quæ lanam exercet. Vnde lanificium pro ipsa arte, ut Augustus filias lanificio eruditiuit. Et pontifex facer magistratus, de quo alibi dicemus, à pontibus faciendis, à quo pontificium, pontificaleq;, & pontificatus deducuntur. & carnifex, qui hominem iussu magistratus occidit, quod ex homine carnem faciat. Caro enim proprie mortuorum dicitur, quod careat anima. Quidam tamen carnem à cadendo dictam existimant, quoniam cum sine anima est, cadit. Virgilius: Belloq; caduci Dardanidæ. carnificis etiam loco is apud ueteres habebatur, qui se uulnerasset, ut moreretur. ab hoc fit carnificinus, na. num. hoc est sæuus, & carnifice dignus. Cicero: Carnificina est ista erudelitas. carnificina etiam locus est publicus, in quo iussu magistratus homines occiduntur. Plautus: Quid si desperatis rebus carnificinã petat. Suetonius de Tyberio: Carnificinæ eius ostenditur locus Capreis, unde damnatos, post longa, et exquisita tormenta præcipitari coram se in mare iubebat, excipiente classiariorum manu, & contis, atque remis elidente cadaucra, necui residui spiritus quicquam inesset. est etiam carnificina officium ipsum carnificis. Plautus: Vel carnificinã hunc facere possum perpetui. Item carnificor uerbum, quod est carnificis officium ago, & carnificium actus ipse carnificis. Hæc omnia etiam à carne deducuntur, sicut carnarium, & carnarius, de quibus supra diximus. & carneus, quod ex carne est, & carnosus pinguis, & carnositas pinguitudo, & caruncula, & carnicula, quæ diminutiua sunt. & Carna dea, quæ uitalibus humanis præesse existimatur, ab eadémque petitur, ut iecinora, & corda, & cætera, quæ sunt intrinsecus uiscera, salua conseruet. huic pulte fabaria, & larido sacrificatur, quod his maxime rebus uires corporis roborentur. Eidem deæ Iunius Brutus, qui primus Romæ consul factus est, pulso Tarquinio Calendis Iunij sacrum in Cœlio monte uoti reus fecit, merito ei deæ litans, quæ cordi præerat, cum ipse cordis beneficio, cuius dissimulatione Brutus habebatur, rempub. tyrannide liberarit. Caro non modo de cæteris animalibus, sed etiam de piscibus dicitur, pomisq;, & alijs similibus: dicitur & caro à græco κρέας. à quo fit creo uerbum, quod significat produco, quasi carnem facio. à quo creator, creatrix, creatura, & creatio. & recreo, quod significat instauro, & quasi nouam carnem facio. Plinius: Sic enim defecta longis ægritudinibus corpora recreantur. à quo recreatio instauratio. Item à creo cresco, quasi carne augeor, de quo, atque eius derivatiuis inferius dicemus. Item excreo, quod significat cum quadam uiolentia, & tussi expuo, & uelluti carnem ipsam spuendo emitto. Celsus: Et interdum aliquid purulenti excreat. ab hoc fit excretum, quod significat exputum. screo quoque pro excreo inuenitur, à quo screatus quartæ declinationis. Terentius: Gemitus, screatus, tussis, risus. Interdum fit ab excresco, significatq; quod ualde creuit. Interdum ab excerno, significatque egestum. Sunt qui carissam quoque à carne deductam existiment, quod ueteres pro uafro usurpabãt. Item à creo Ceres appellata, quod cunctarum frugum creatrix sit. hæc enim frugum dea putabatur, Saturni, & Opis filia: quæ cum Ioui fratri placuisset, ex eo Proserpinam concepit, & peperit, de qua superius disseruimus. Virgilius Cererem pro luna posuit, sicut liberum pro sole: Vos ô clarissima mundi Lumina labentẽ cœlo quæ ducitis annum Liber, & alma Ceres. Ponitur etiam aliquando pro pane, quemadmodum Liber pro uino, ut est illud: Sine cerere, & Libero friget uenus. Vnde & duo ædiles, qui rei frumentariæ apud Romanos præerant, cerealer dicti, quorum creandorum autor fuit Caius Iulius Cæsar. Item Cerealia appellata, quæ græci thesmophoria uocant, de quibus superius diximus. Item à creas fit impancror uerbum, quod est inuado, & quasi πᾶν κρέας, hoc est, omnem carnem consumo. Varro: In regiam arcam impancratur. Et ueneficus, qui ueneno hominem extinguit. dicuntur etiam uenefici, qui malis artibus, & fascinationibus, ac poculis amatorijs utuntur: & ueneficia artes eorum, & actus, & uenenationes quæcunque. Plinius: Hæc arbor ante atrium sata omnibus ueneficijs remedio est. & profectio, quod aduerbium affirmantis est, quasi pro facto, & idem significat quod utiq; nimirum. Cicero: Quis hæc renuntiat eis profectio, qui interfuit. & officio, quod est commoueo. Vnde afficere dolore, afficere iniuria, molestia dicimus. Item afficere lætitia, gaudio, uoluptate. Hinc fit affectio, quæ secundum Ciceronem definitur: animi, & corporis ex tempore aliqua de causa mutatio, ut sunt gaudium, lætitia, misericordia, cupiditas, metus, molestia, & alia quæ modo affectus, modo perturbationes dicũtur à nostris. græci πάθη hoc est morbos appellant. Hinc etiam fit affectio uerbum, quod est nimio affectu, & anxie quæro. Cicero: Non tam affectanda, quàm superiores, sed tamen adhibenda nonnunquam. Virgilius: Viamq; affectat olympo. Terentius: Nam disciplina est ijs munerare ancillas, qui ad dominam affectant uiam. Hinc affectatus sermo, & affectata oratio, & affectata uerba dicuntur, nimis anxie, & (ut ita dicam) curiose quæsita. & affectatio curiositas, & nimia diligentia. & affectate, curiose. affecta uero ædificia, atque alia huiusmodi dicuntur, quæ non ad finem ipsum, sed proxime ad finem ipsum sunt deducta. Cicero: Bellum affectum uidemus, & (ut ucre dicam) penè confectum. affecto etiã aliquando pro afficio accipitur. Plautus: Tua flagitia, tua damna, quibus patrem, & me, teq;, amicosq; omneis affectas. Interficio proprie occido, transfertur tamen etiam ad inanimata. Virgilius: Fer stabulis inimicum ignem, atque interfice messeis. officio noceo. Cicero: Demoliri ea, quorum altitudo officeret auspicijs. Interdum inficio, unde offectores colorum infectores dicuntur. Veteres etiam officio pro efficio usurpabant, à quo officium dictum. est enim officium, quod quisque efficere debet, pro suæ conditione personæ. In quo animaduertere oportet, quid loco conueniat, quid tempori, quid rerum, aut personarum dignitati. Vnde in familia bene instituta dicimus omneis in officio esse oportere, id est omneis oportere agere, quæ debent. Item missos ciueis obuiam legatis officij gratia, quod debemus. nihil enim magis decet, quàm merentibus uel exhibere honorem, uel opem ferre. Quo factum est, ut officia beneficia dicantur, siue obsequia. Cicero: Odiosum sanè genus hominum officia exprobrantium, quæ meminisse debet is, in quem collata sunt, non commemorare qui contulit. Quintilianus: Duxit me similis ætas, uicerunt officia, cœpit fides, amantem odisse non potui. Hinc officiosus dicitur obsequiosus, & qui facile merentibus exhibet honorem. à quo fit aduerbium officiose, id est cum officio, & (ut ita dicam) obsequiose. officium etiam dicitur magistratus, uel quia honoris gratia institutus est, uel quia opem populo fert, uel quia ius, quod cuique debetur, reddit. Cæteræ quoque artes actionem suam officium uocant, unde officium grammatici dicimus, officium medici, officium architecti. ab eodem uocabulo etiam officina dicta est locus, in quo artifices opera sua faciunt. & hoc distat à taberna, quod officina est ubi opera efficiuntur, taberna ubi uenduntur, unde opifices, & tabernarij dicuntur. Cicero: Opifices, & tabernarios, atque omnem illam fecem ciuitatum, quid est negocij concitare? tabernas etiam antiqui casas dixere, quod ex tabulis fieri solerent. Perficio absoluo, à quo perfecte aduerbium absolute, integre. efficio, quod hoc à facio differt, quia facere est in opere esse, efficere uero significat perfectionem, unde effectus, & efficientia dicuntur, & efficax, quod ad agendum aliquid uim habet, ac maximè conducit. à quo efficacia prouii, & effecte, quod perfecte significat. proficio procedo, à quo fit profectus. Idem est enim proficere, & profectum facere. Seneca: Sic enim & audiendo, & legendo in dies magis proficimus. Plinius: Nec minorem sub eo præceptore profectum fecit. proficiscor iter facio, à quo profectio pro itinere deriuatur. Dicimus etiã proficisci uiam, hoc est iter facere, profectus autem uiam Herculi, aut Fauno sacra facere solebant. Præficio, præpono: unde præfica mulier dicitur in funere conducta ad lamentabilem cantum, quæ dat cæteris modum plangendi, quasi in hoc ipsum præfecta. Næuius: Hæc quidem me hercle præfica est, si mortuum collaudat. & præfecti dicuntur, qui alicui rei agendæ præpositi sunt, & præfectos urbium græci, latini'que lingua persica σατράπας, hoc est satrapas uocant, magistratusq; eorum præfectura dicitur. Primus in urbe Roma præfectus institutus est à rege Tarquinio Lucretiæ pater. Idem postea sæpe Imperatores fecerunt, præsertim quando necesse erat eos ex urbe proficisci. Quicquid intra urbem admittebatur, ad præfectum urbis pertinebat: quicquid præterea intra centesimum lapidem admissum fuisset. audiebat seruos ad statuas confugientes. Item dominos egenteis, & filiorum imploranteis præsidium relegandi, deportandiq; in insulam potestatem habebat. de adulteriis seruorum cognoscebat, tutores dabat, & curatores, eorumq; rationes, & acta reuidebat: mancipia tuebatur, de iniurijs per eos dominis illatis iudicabat: curam numulariorum gerebat, & ut res omnes iusto precio uenirent. hinc forum boarium, suarium, piscarium, olitorium ad præfectum pertinebat. hunc oportebat dispositos stationarios milites ad tuendam populorum quietem habere, curareq;, ut quicquid ubique ad aureis suas per delatores ueniret. Præfectus uero annonæ extraordinarius erat. hic coëmendi frumenti curam habebat aduehi undecunque, & aduectum iusto precio uenire faciebat: siquis ultra necessitatem habebat, in medium cogebat proferre. hanc potestatem exercens magnus Pompeius, cum magna copia frumenti comparata è Sicilia soluere uellet, & nautæ haud committendam esse sæuienti pelago classem respondissent, salutarem illam reipub. uocem dicitur ædidisse: Nauigare nobis necesse est, uiuere non est necesse. Præfectus uigilum, incendiorum præcipue causa, à Diuo Augusto institutus fuit, septem cohortibus ita dispositis, ut singulæ binas urbis regiones præsidio tuerentur. his præfectus uigilum præerat, qui de incensoribus, effractoribus, furibus, raptoribus, receptatoribus cognoscebat, nisi tam atrox, & tam famosa persona esset, ut remittenda ad præfectum urbis cognitio uideretur. Hunc mos erat ad plurimam noctem uigilare, armatum cum dolabris incedere: monere omneis, ut ab incendio cauerent, & aquam quisque in cœnaculo haberet, qua subito imminente ignis terrore occurrere posset. Iudex præterea erat institutus aduersus capsarios, qui pacta mercede, seruanda in balneis uestimenta suscipiebant. Inficio, quod est tingo, coloro, à quo lanarum infectores appellati, & per metaphoram corrumpo, fœdo, contamino. à quo infectos dicimus, qui aliqua sorde, uel aliquo morbo contaminati sunt. In quo sensu & imbuo accipitur. unde imbutum literis, imbutum bonis moribus, hoc est præditum, & ornatum, & perfusum dicimus. Item imbutum uitijs, imbutum scelere, hoc est inquinatum. Varro: Quod te facere oportet literis imbutum solis Mineruæ. Cicero: Plerique autem parentum præceptis imbuti, ad eorum consuetudinem, moreq; deducimur. imbuti, hoc est perfusi, infecti, inuncti. Sallustius: Auaritia pecuniæ studium habet, quam nemo sapiens concupiuit. ea quasi malis uenenis imbuta, corpus animumq; uirilem effœminat. Imbuta, hoc est polluta, inquinata. Virgilius: Illius aram Sæpe tener nostris ab ouilibus imbuet agnus. Imbuet, hoc est perfundet, & ornabit. Item à facio inficior deponens, quod est nego. à quo fit hoc nomen inficias, solum habens accusatiuum casum in multitudinis numero, & duntaxat cum hoc uerbo eo iungitur. Dicimus enim inficias eo, inficias is, & deinceps. Est autem inficiari, siue inficias ire, uerbo negare, & quasi infectum, hoc est non factum testari. nam negare aliquando est etiam facto. Hinc inficiator dicitur, qui negat se uel debere, quod actor petit, uel admisisse, quod accusator obijcit. Cicero: Nonne intelligebat, ut si ille inficiator probasset iudici ante petitam esse pecuniam, quàm esset deberi cœpta. & inficiatio negatio, unde status coniecturalis dicitur infitialis, in quo semper reus inficiatur. & infectum non factum. Vnde est prouerbium illud: Quod factum est, infectum reddi non potest. Sufficio quod interdum significat satis sum. Virgilius: Nec nos obniti contra, nec tendere tantũ sufficimus. Idem: Nec sufficit umbo ictibus. Interdũ inficio, maculo. Cicero: Vt hi, qui in conuiuio purpuram sufficiunt, prius lanam medicamentis quibusdam. Nonnunquam subministro. Virgilius: Ipse pater Danais animos, uireisq; secundas Sufficit. Hinc suffectos consules, & alios magistratus dicimus, qui in demortuorum locum substituti sunt. & à fio, suffio componitur, quod est suffumigo. Plinius: Hippocrates ruta uuluarum causa naturam suffire iubet. Idem: Alij carnem recentẽ hœdorũ pilo suffiunt, eodemq; nidore fugant serpenteis. Idem: Quidam contenti sunt fumo huius misturæ suffire uineas, secundo flatu continuo triduo. Virgilius: At suffire thymo. Hinc suffitum secunda declinatione dicimus suffumigatum. Plinius: Anisum dolores capitis leuigat suffitum naribus. Quarta uero declinatione suffitus fumigationem significat, quemadmodum suffimentum. Idem: Et uuluarum conuersionem suffitu excitant. Idem: Quod & suffimentis quibusdam facere consueuerunt. Idem: Ob has causas equidem crediderim honorem lauro habitum in triumphis potius, quàm quia suffimentum sit cædis hostium, & purgatio. Suffitio etiam aliquando dicitur. Idem: Orpheus, & Hesiodus suffitiones commendauere. Suffitor autẽ dicitur, qui buccis insufflat ignẽ. Idem: Lycius & ipse pinxit suffitorem. Idem: Lycius Myronis discipulus fuit, qui fecit dignum præceptore puerum sufflantem languidos igneis. Suffimenta etiam à ueteribus dicta sunt, quæ fieri solebant ex faba, milioq; molito, mulso sparso. hæc dijs eo tempore dabantur, quo uuæ calcatæ pilo imprimebantur. eodem modo à fio exfio, quod est purgo, à quo exfitus purgatio. Veteres exfir quoque pro purgamento posuere. Reficio recreo. Virgilius: Et saltus reficit iam rosida luna. Plinius: Qui reficiendi animi gratia id fecisset. Aliquando tamen reficere (ut Vlpianus inquit) est instaurare, renouare, re, & quod corruptum est, in pristinum statum reducere. Refectio modo pro instauratione, modo pro recreatione ponitur. Cõficio, quod modo facio significat. Terentius: Bonas me absente confecisti nupias. modo simul facio. Cicero: Confeci, quæ iussisti omnia. Aliquando interficio. Idem: Plagis confectum ante oculos tuos cecidisse. Virgilius: Hunc uulnus acerbum confecit. Nonnunquam perficio. Cicero: Bellum (ut opinio mea fert) confectum iam haberemus. Ponitur aliquando pro frango. Lucilius: Malo hercle uestros confectores cardinum. Plinius: Nucem dentibus conficere, ac plagæ imponere. & pro colligo. Cicero: Per magnam dices ex illa re pecuniam confici posse. & pro consumo. Terentius: Quid hic non uideant me credant conficere argentum suum. Cicero: Nec me langoribus lædi, quibus essem confectus. Item à facio declinatur facto frequentatiuum, quod in usu non est, sed pro eo utimur altero frequentatiuo factito. Item facturio, quod est facere, hoc est coire desidero. Plautus: Facturit, postquam ancillam aspexit. Item factor, quod non significat negotiorum gestorem, hoc est eum, qui gerendis negotijs præest, ut uulgus existimat, sed eum, qui uel uinum, uel oleum facit, aut aliud simile. Cato: Lectum stratum, ubi duo custodes libere cubent, & tertius seruus unà cum factoribus ubi cubet. & facessõ, quod modo significat facio. Virgilius: Imperio læti parent, & iussa facessunt. Modo recedo. Luius: Facesse hinc Tarquinios, aut Corinthum, deuolauere retro ad stirpem fratri similior, quàm patri. & facilis interdum exorabilis. Virgilius: Facileis uenerare Napeas. modo sine labore, ut dictu, uel factu facile, hoc est quod facile dici, uel fieri potest. cuius contrarium est difficile, quod non sine labore fieri potest. difficileis terras Virgilius uocat, quæ sunt penè steriles, quia non sine difficultate ferunt fructum: Difficiles primum terræ, collesq; maligni. ab his facultas, & facilitas, & difficultas deriuata. Facultas proprie facilitatem agendi significat: & quoniam cum duulites sumus, facile quæ uolumus, agimus (unde Petronius arbiter: Quisquis habet nummos, secura nauiget aura, Fortunamq; suo temperet arbitrio. Multa loquor, quiduis nummis præsentibus opta, Et ueniet. clausum possidet arca Iouem) factum est, ut facultates pro opibus capiamus. Item facultates dicuntur artes, & disciplinæ, quod per eas facile instruamur. Item facultas pro ui, & potestate ponitur. Plinius: Si mihi facultas daretur utrum mallem eligendi. Item à facilis facile aduerbium, quod & faciliter ueteres dixere. & facul, & perfacul, & persefacul, sicut à difficilis, difficile aduerbium, & difficulter, & difficul. Item à facio faces dicta, quæ postea fax appellata est à lumine faciendo, uel quod facile ignem faciat, huius diminutiuum est facula. Dicitur autẽ fax, siue facula incisus fustis ad lumen faciendum, sitq; præcipue ex harundinibus aridis, & piceis arboribus, & teda. Est autem teda arbuscula ex laricum genere, & quasi laricis morbus, ut teda fiat abundantior est succo, & flammis, & lumini sacrorum grata, quam maris tantum ferunt. Facem in nuptijs præferre solebant, siue ad obseruandam antiquam consuetudinem, quod ante non nisi noctu duci nouas nuptas à sponsis mos erat: siue in honorem Cereris, quæ facem in quærenda Proserpina gestauerat: siue ut noua nupta ignem, & aquam, quæ duo sunt in uita maxime necessaria, cum uiro communicare uideretur. etenim aqua quoq; aspergi solebat, siue ut casta, puraq; ad spõsum proficisceretur. Vir. Mopse nouas incide faces. primam facẽ noctis principium uocitabant, quod tum primum uti face incipiũt. Gellius: Nam cum prima fax noctis, & densiores esse tenebræ cœpissent. Item fex excrementum quod unaquæque res facit. unde seculentus fecis plenus, & fœ-nia uitis, de qua supra diximus. Et fecatum uinum, quod è fecibus expressum est. & defeco, quod est purifico, quasi fecè detraho. Plau. Nunc defecato demū animo, egredior domo. Item à facio facies, quæ est quasi quædam factura totius corporis, ut diximus. ponitur etiam pro specie. Vir. Quæ scelerum facies, ô uirgo essare. Idem: Nec pingues unã in faciem nascitur oliuæ. Ab ea superficies appellata, quasi superior facies. hanc enim geometræ definiunt figuram, quæ longitudinem, & latitudinem habet sine altitudine. cuius termini lineæ sunt. græci ἐπίπεδον uocant planum una tantum superficie contentum, hoc est ipsam superficiem. à qua superficiarius, de quo supra diximus. Præterea à facio factor, quod significat eum, qui alterius manualia negotia gerit, ut qui uinum ex uuis, oleum ex oliuis exprimit, fruges domum uehit, & alia huiusmodi. Cato: Stratũ ubi duo custodes libere cubent, & tertius seruus unà cum factoribus uti cubet. Idem: Legulu uolunt uti olea caduca quàm plurima sit, quo plus legatur: factores, ut in tabulato diu sit, ut fracida sit, quo facilus efficiant. Item factum pro re gesta. Virgilius: Fortia facta patrum. à quo factura, & factio, & factiosus deriuantur. Factura est ipsa compositio rei, quam facimus. Factio est diuisio ciuium in diuersa studia, cum aliqui se principes, ac primarios facere in ciuitate conãtur, inter quos æmulatio est, & qui eos sequuntur factiosi appellantur: ipsi uero factionum capita, siue factionum principes dicuntur, per fas & nefas factiosorum multitudinem sibi conciliantes. Sallustius: Inter bonos amicitia, inter malos factio. Capitur tamen factio pro opulentia, & autoritate alicuius in ciuitate. Plautus: Istas magnas factiones. Solebant item ueteres his uocabulis honeste plerunq; uti, unde histrionum quoque, & quadrigariorũ factiones legimus. Facinus quoque à facio deriuatur, quod interdum factum significat. Sallustius: Qui aliquo negotio intenti præclari facinoris, aut bonæ artis famam quærunt. Interdũ scelus. Idẽ: Sed in ea coniuratione fuit Qu. Curius natus haud obscuro loco, flagitijs atque facinoribus coopertus. hinc facinorosos dicimus sceleſtos, flagitioſos. Item à facio fit fœcũdus, qđ faciat fructum, significatq; opimum, & abundantem. à quo fœcunditas abundantia, & fœcunde aduerbium copioſe. Item è contrario infœcundus, hoc est sterilis, à quo infœcunditas, & infœcunde. Item à facio facetus, de quo supra diximus, quod uerbis faciat, quod uult. à quo facetiæ dictæ, & facete aduerbium. Quidam tamen à fando potius dictum uolunt, ut superius ostendimus. Item factitius, ab alicuius similitudine factus, unde factitia uerba dicimus, quæ alicuius uocis similitudine facta sunt, ut Balantes à balando oues uocitatæ sunt. Item faxo, quod significat faciam: & fio, quod passiuam eius uerbi significationem habet, & fere cum ijs omnibus componitur, cum quibus facio, ut commonefio, calefio, frigefio, tepefio, & reliqua. & fascis, quod est lignorum, aut alterius cuiuscunque rei congeries, quam ligando facimus. cuius diminutiuum est fasciculus. Quoniam autem lictores cum fascibus præire solent consules, & alios magistratus, factum est, ut fasces usurpemus pro magistratibus, & honoribus, qui à populo præstantur. Virgilius: Non illum populi fasces, nõ purpura regum flexit. & hoc tantum in numero plurali, quia aut duodecim, aut sex fascibus utebantur. Item quia fasces lignorum, siue aliarum rerum graues sunt portantibus, fascis aliquando pro onere ponitur. Idem: Cantantes ut eamus, ego hoc te fasce leuabo. Idem: Iniusto sub fasce uiam dũ carpit. hinc Fascelis Diana dicta est à fasce lignorum, in quo absconditum Dianæ simulachrum Orestes Aritiam detulit, ut in fabula eius exponemus. & fascinum, cum oculorum, aut uerborum, aut alicuius alterius rei maleficio homines ita ligantur, ut liberi non sint, nec mentis compotes, sæpeq; ad extremam maciem deuenãt, à quo Fascino uerbum. Virgilius: Nescio quis teneros oculus mihi fascinat agnos. & passiuum eius fascinor, & fascinatio nomen. Sunt tamen, qui fascinum dictum putent ἀπὸ τοῦ βασκαίνειν, quod est inuidere, & idem esse dicant fascino, quod inuideo, sed falsum est. Neque enim propter inuidiam solum, sed etiam propter odium, atq; inimicitias homines fascinantur. & fascinare non est inuidere, sed maleficè alicui perniciem moliri. à quo fit effascinare, quod est maleficium tollere, sicut excantare est incantationem rescindere, siue incantatum liberare. Ponitur tamẽ aliquãdo effascino pro fascino. Solinus: Quædam in terra Africa hominum familiæ sunt uocę, atque lingua effascinantes: quæ si impensius forte laudauerint pulchras arbores, segetes lætiores, infanteis amœniores, egregios equos, pecudes pastu, atq; cultu opimas, emoriantur repente. Plinius: Esse eiusdem generis in Tribalis, & Illyrijs adijcit, Isogonus, qui uisu quoque effascinent. Idem: Fœminas quoque, quæ ubiq; duplices pupillas habeant, uisu effascinare Cicero quoq; apud nos autor est. A fascino dicti sunt Fescennini uersus, qui canebantur in nuptijs, quia fascinum putabantur arcere, quamuis alij à Fesceno urbe appellatos malint. Item à fio fides, quod fiat quod dictum est, quemadmodũ inferius ostendemus. PORTICVS CLAVDIA. Claudius inter cætera opera publica, quæ multa, & eximia ædificauit, porticum quoque fecit, quam ex nomine suo Claudiam nuncupauit. Hanc Nero destruxerat, ut pleraque alia, quo domum auream ædificaret, Domitianus uero eãdem restituit sub pristino titulo. EXPLICAT DIFFVSAS VMBRAS. Diffundit, atq; extendit. Ea enim præcipue causa porticus ædificabantur, ut supra diximus, quo & feruorem solis, & repentinos imbreis arcerent. EXPLICAT. Extendit. explicare enim proprie extendere est, atque emittere. Cicero: Explica, atque excute intelligentiam tuam. Quoniam autem quæ extenduntur, perfectius uidentur, capitur explicare pro explanare, atq; ostendere. Idem: Vt quædam sibi cõcedantur, quo facilius quæ uolunt explicent. Item pro extrahere. Ouidius: Atque explicat ensem. & pro exhibere, proferre. Martialis: Explicat & cœnas unica mensa duas. Idem: Vt conuiuia sumptuosiora nigræ sordibus explices monetæ. Ab hoc fit explicator, explicatio. & aduerbium explicite. Item explicatior, explicatissimus, explicatius, explicatissime. Applico autem compositum est explico. nam plicare nectere est, & ueluti rugas facere. tractum à græco πλέκειν, quod nectere est. A quo amplector, & complector dicta sunt, quasi circumnectio & connectio, & frequentatiua horum amplexor, & complexor, & amplexus, & complexus nomina. Virgilius: Scæaq; amplector limina portæ. Plinius: Post dulcem, mutuumq; cõplexum ambo discessimus. Gellius: Eumq; amplexus, atq; exosculatus est. hinc etiam circumplector. Sallustius: Cum monte undique circumplexus obsideret. Et plexa ligata, à quo perplexa, intricata, atq; abstrusa. & perplexe aduerbium, hoc est implicite, inordinate, & perplexabile figuratum, per quod alius ud auditur, aliud sentitur. Plautus: Nec ullum uerbum faciat perplexabile. Plecto uero, quod significat ferio, cuius passiuum est plector, non ἀπὸ τοῦ πλέκω deducitur, quod est implico (ut quidam ignari tradiderunt) sed ἀπὸ τοῦ πλήσσω ferio, à quo & πληγὴ dicitur, hoc est plaga, & πλῆκτρον plectrum. Est autem plaga proprie percussio, uulnus, uerber. Vir. Plagisq; peremptũ, Tunsa per integrã soluuntur uiscera pellẽ. Hinc plagiarius dicitur, qui hominẽ emit, quẽ scit liberũ esse, & qui huiusmodi hominem sciens uendit, aut pro seruo tenet. Item qui libertum emit, uendi'tue. Item qui seruo seruæ'ue persuadet, ut à domino, dominãue fugiat, uel eum, eámue inuito, uel insciente domino, dominãue cælat, uinctum habet, emit, uendi'tue. Dictus plagiarius, qđ lege Fannia plagis damnatus esset. Lex ipsa, plagiaria: crimen, plagium uocatur. Martia. Impones plagiario pudorem. Plagiarium uocat furem librorum suorum, & illos tanquam suos tenentem. Per metaphoram tamen plagæ maiora retia uocantur, de quibus supra diximus, quod plagis, hoc est foraminibus plena sunt. Virg. Retia rara plagæ. Item spatia ampla, uel cœli, uel terræ, quæ etiam tractus uocantur, & à græcis dicuntur climata. Idẽ: Aetheria quos lapsa plaga Iouis ales aperto turbabat cælo. Idem: In medio dirimit plaga solis iniqui. Item plaga grã de linteum est, de quo supra diximus, cuius diminutiuum est plagula. Aliquando etiam pars lecti est, aliquando totus lectus. Varro: Eburneis lectis, & plagis sigillatis. Plectrum uetro instrumentum, quo fides pulsantur. Martia. Feruida ne trito tibi pollice pustula surgat Exornent docilẽ garrula plectra lyram. plectrum etiam dicitur calcar æneum, quod olim gallis gallinaceis addebatur, dum inter se pugnarent. A nostris aliquando pecten uocatur, quod græci dicunt plectrum. Applico autem composita fiunt applico, quod significat admoueo, ita ut hæreat, hoc est adnecto. Circũplico, circũnecto. Replico, aliquando dissoluo. Plaus: Replica ricam, & extende. Aliquando rursus explico. Plinius: Quàm sæpius idem replicasset, tãdẽ persuasit. Implico, innecto, inuoluo. Martialis: Implicitam uisco perdidit ille fugam. Aliquando orno. Plautus: Implicat ad speculum caput. Supplico, rogo, precor. Plicari enim ueteres precando, & genua eius, cui precabantur, attingere solebãt, ac ad ea quasi adoranteis manus tendere. Ab hoc supplex dictus, qui ita precatur, & suppliciter aduerbium, & supplicatio eiusmodi precatio, & supplicium, quod modo pro supplicatione accipitur. Sallustius: In supplicijs deorum magnifici. Idem: Non uotis, neq; supplicijs muliebribus deorum auxilia parantur, sed uigilando, agendo, bene consulendo prospera omnia cedunt. Modo pro cruciatu, & pœna, quia supplices esse in deprecanda pœna homines consueuerunt. Virg. Spero etiam meas dijs, si quid pia numina possunt, Supplicia hausurum scopulis. Quidam tamen supplico, non à plicando, sed à placando dictum existimant, quasi supplaco. Vnde subuo; placo, pro eo quod est supplico aliquando apud ueteres inuenitur. complico, connecto, simul plico, à quo complex dicitur particeps sceleris, & qui in eodem crimine ueluti connexus est. Item complicatio notæ significationis. Item à plico fit duplico, triplico, quadruplico, triplex, quadruplex, multipliciter, & siqua alia sunt huiusmodi. Item poples pars pedis, quæ genu opposita est, dicta quod post plicetur. VMBRAS. Vmbra est aër carens sole, quod fit alicuius corporis obiectu, præsertim nubium. Vnde quidam ἀπὸ τοῦ ὄμβρος, quod imber est, umbram uocatam existimant, quod omnes umbræ humidæ sunt. Item umbræ dicuntur, quas faciunt pictores, ut imagines, quæ planæ sunt, solidæ uideantur, quod dicunt adumbrare, à quo adumbrare aliquando pro ornare accipitur. Inumbrare uero & obumbrare est tegendo umbram facere, & quod dicitur opacare: per metaphoram tamẽ ponitur pro tueri, atq; defendere, quæ translatio ab arboribus sumpta est. Virg. Et magnum reginæ nomen obumbrat. Ab umbra umbrosum dicimus opacum: umbratilem uero, qui umbra detentus est, ut uita umbratilis dicitur umbra, atque ocio marcescens. Item umbrifer lucus dicitur ab umbra ferenda. Vmbræ etiam inferorum imagines uocantur. Virgilius: Vmbrarum hic locus est, somni, noctis'q; sopore Corpora uiua nefas, stygia uectare carina. Item umbræ in neptunalibus cæ frondeæ dicebantur. Ab umbra dimi-nutiuum fit umbella. Item Vmbria, quod ea regio propter altitudinem montium. & uicinitatem Apennini umbrosa sit, quãuis aliqui ἀπὸ τοῦ ὄμβρου, potius, hoc est ab imbre nominatam uolunt, quod Vmbri omnium Italiæ populorum antiquissimi inundatione terrarum imbribus superfuisse credantur. Est autem Vmbria, quæ ab Apennino, ac etiam ultra incipiens, usque ad sinum adriaticum extenditur, multis præclara uetustissimis oppidis, sed in primis Sentino meo, & Fano fortunæ: quorum hoc in Adriatici litore inter Senogalliam, ac Pisaurum, non longe à Metauro amne situm est, illud ad octauum lapidem ab Apennino, propter flumen Sentinum. Felix utrunque, & locorum amœnitate, & frugum copia, & hominum ingenijs. Nec immerito alterum à fortunæ felicitate nomen habet, alterum à cacumine, ac subtilitate ingenij. ueteres enim sentinare dixerunt satagere, ac subtiliter periculum euitare, à sentina nauis, quam quisque, ut aqua liberet, euacuare contendit. Cæcilius: Capit cõsilium, post quam sentinat satis. Mihi quidem, utriusq; oppidi iucundissima cogitatio est. In altero cõceptus, in altero natus, in utroq; educatus, utriusq; Ciuis sum, utrunque est mihi solum, propter quod non immerito meã alij Fanensem, alij Sentinatem uocant. par mihi ergo utrorũq; caritas est, par beneuolentia. Ab umbra umbri dicuntur umbriæ populi, coloniq;. DIFFVSAS. Sparsas. Diffundere enim spargere est, quod à fundo componitur. Proprie autem fundere liquefacere est, unde metalla dicimus fusa, hoc est liquefacta. Plinius: Fuso, ac superinicẽto plũbo. & fusile, quod fundi potest, sicut ductile, quod potest duci, atq; extendi. & fusorium uas, in quo metalla funduntur, hoc est liquefiunt. & fusores, qui fundunt. & ars fusoria, ars fundendi, miscendi, transmutandiq; metalla, in qua multi ludibrio habiti sunt, qui dum cupiunt ditiores fieri, ad inopiam redacti sunt, tribus tantum rebus, spe scilicet, & stultitia, & fuligine diuites. Quoniam uero quæ fusa, ac liquida sunt, spargi solent, fundere pro spargere frequentissime usurpamus. Claudianus: Et pessima fudit uina cadis. Apulcius: Lacrymulam fudit. Veteres tamen fundere, & uergere in sacris ita accipiebant, ut fundere esset supina manu libare, quod fiebat in sacris superis: uergere autem conuersa manu in sinistram partem, ita fundere, ut patera conuertatur, quod inferis in sacris fiebat. hoc autem ad explorationem uictimarum pertinebat. etenim, si non stupuissent, aptissimæ iudicabantur. Fundere etiam per metaphoram pro sternere capimus. Virg. Quàm septem ingentia uictor Corpora fundat humi. aliquando pro abundanter præbere. Idem: Ipsa tibi blandos fundent cunabula flores. Nonnunquam pro profligare. Sallustius: Bis fusos milites. Virg. Illi etiam siquos obscura nocte per umbrã Fudimus insidijs, totaq; agitauimus urbe. A fundo, cum spargo significat, futile uas dictum latissimi oris, ex altera parte arctum, quod statim positum effunderetur. Vtebãtur eo in sacris deæ Vestæ. à quo futiles dicti, qui continere tacenda non possunt, sed ea effundunt. & futire effluere, à quo effutire imprudenter & mendaciter loqui. Apuleius: Leuis homo, & futilis, ac rimarum plenus. Terent. Verũ istoc de nomine eo perperam olim dixi, ne uos forte imprudentes foris effutiretis. Item futile, & futiliter aduerbia. Ennius: Vt quod factum est futile, amici nos feramus fortiter. Futuere quoq; obscœnum uerbum hinc declinatum est, cum nihil aliud sit, quàm semen, hoc est genituram effundere. Futare uero arguere est, unde fit confutare, & refutare, à quibus confutatio, & refutatio, hoc est redargutio eorum, quæ ab aduersario dicta sunt. Interdum tamen ueteres confutare pro commouere posuerunt. Titinnius: Cocus magnũ ahenum, quando seruit, paruula confutat trua. interdũ pro confundere. Teren. Confutauit uerbis admodum iratum patrem. Sed hæc à fando potius deducta existimant, a litera in u conuersa, ut refutare sit fata, hoc est dicta redarguere. Cato futauit usus est, pro sæpius fuit. Item à fundo infundibulum, quod est instrumentum, quo in uasa liquores infunduntur. Idem: In cælla olearia hæc opus sunt. Dolia olearia, opercula, Sestarium oleariũ unũ, labellũ unum, infundibula duo, spõgiæ duæ. Et funda qđ modo genus retis est, quod in orbem spargitur, diciturq́ alio nomine reticulum. Virgilius: Funda iam uerberat amnem. Modo sacculum, siue marsupium in modum retis factum, in quo pecuniæ, & alia geruntur. Macrobius: Solebat descendenti à palatio Cæsari honorificum aliquod epigramma porrigere græculus. id cum frustra sæpe fecisset, rursusq́ eum idem facturum uidisset Augustus, breue græcum manu sua in charta exarauit epigramma. Pergenti deinde ad se obuiam misit. ille legendo laudare, mirari, tam uoce, quàm uultu. Cumq́ accessisset ad sellam, demissa in fundam pauperem manu paucos denarios protulit, quos principi daret. Adiectus hic sermo: μὴ κατὰ τὴν τύχην σὴν σέβαστε, εἰ πλέον εἶχον, πλέον ἐδίδουν, hoc est: Non secundum fortunam tuam Auguste, si plus habuissem, plus dedissem. Secuto omnium risu, dispensatorē Cæsar uocauit, & sestertia centum millia numerari græculo iussit. Dicitur hoc sacculi genus etiã reticulum. Horatius: Reticulũ panis uenales inter onusto forte uehas humero. Marsupium sacculum esse ad tenendas pecunias Cato ostendit, & quod perspicuum est, maiorem curã habere nos marsupij nostri, quàm uitæ nostræ. Modo circulus ex auro, siue alio metallo, quo gēmæ ita nectuntur, ut aurum non nisi margines amplectatur. Plinius: Heterizusa in proprio, ut arbitror, cognomine, uelut è multis eiusdem generis cõposita gemmis. Quamobrem præstantiores funda clauduntur, id est patentes, nec præterquam margines auro amplectente. Idem: Funda includuntur perspicuæ, cæteris subijcitur aurichalchum. Funda etiam instrumentum est è funiculo factum, quo funduntur, hoc est iactantur lapides. Terentius: Nimis uellem fundam tibi dari, quo illos ex occulto cæderes. Ab hac funditores uocitati, qui fundis magnis dimicãt. Sallustius: Ipse cum expeditis cohortibus, dehinc funditorum, & sagittariorum delecta manu. Item à fundo fusim aduerbium, hoc est sparsim, & fusus, quo nent mulières, quod, dum trahitur uoluendo, quasi liquefieri uidetur: propter quod græci Cnicon herbam, ex qua propter gracilitatem, & rigiditatem caulis antiquæ mulières colos facere solebant, Attractylida uocãt, qđ ex ea fusus liquetur. Græci enim ἄτρακτον fusum dicunt, ὑλίζειν liquari. Hæc uerba ex aculeatarum genere est, Italiæ ignota. Aegyptij ex ea oleum faciunt, semen eius candidum est, & grande, amarumq́. Item fundus, quia fundit quotquot annis multa. Et fundum, quod proprie est ima pars uniuscuiusq́ rei, quæ aliquid in se liquoris contineat, uel ad continendum facta sit, ut dolij, nauis, alui, fluminis, lacus, maris. à quo fit fundamentum, & aduerbium funditus, hoc est à fundo, sicut cœlitus à cœlo. & profundus, quod proprie imum significat, ut profundum mare: dictum, quod porrò habeat fundum. Aliquando tamen ponitur pro alto. Virgilius: Ni faciat maria, ac terras, cœlũq́ profundum Quippe ferant rapidi. Ab hoc profundior profundissimus, profunditas, profunde, profundius, profundissime, aduerbia. & fuscina tridens Neptunni, hoc est telum trisulcũ piscatorium, quod fundo natantia capiat. hoc etiam retiarij in gladiatorijs ludis utebantur. Iuuenalis: Vicerat hoc monstrũ tunicati fuscina Gracchi. eius diminutiuum est fuscinula. & fundo fundas, quod est firmo, & quasi fundamentum facio, stabilio, transferturq́ ad incorporalia. Quintilianus: Funda-tam paternis, auitisq́ opibus domum. Ab hoc effundare dicimus à fundo euertere. Cæcilius: Resp. amisso, & effundato pulcherrimo non paruam fecerat iacturam. Fundamenta uero iacere, est qualiacũq́ fundamēta facere, & quasi rei dare principium. Suetonius: In ara capitolina nouæ domus fundamenta iecit. Sed hoc quoq́ ad incorporalia transfertur. Cicero: In quo templo, quantum in me fuit, ieci fundamenta pacis. Ab hoc fundatio deducitur, & fundator, & fundamen, & fundamentum. A fundo fundis composita fiunt, circunfundo, quod est circumcirca aspergo. Apuleius: Atq́ eo liquore stabulũ omne circũfudit. Offundo, quod est inijcio. Cicero: Hic error, & hæc doctorum animis offusa caligo est. Perfundo, conspergo. Ouidi. Perfuditq́ genas lacrymis. Effundo spargo. Plautus: Totamq́ effudit fideliam, hoc est sparsit quicquid in fidelia erat. Fidelia enim uas erat samium uarijs aptum usibus. Idem: Mulsi congialem, plenam faciam tibi fideliam. Hinc per metaphoram effundere capitur pro emittere. Virgilius: Ruuntq́ effusi carcere currus. Item prosternere, profligare. Sallusti. Effuso, ac profligato peditatu paulatim retrocedere cœperunt. Veteres etiam effutos pro effusos dixere, sicut mertat pro mersat. Profundo supra modum expendo. A quo profusus dicitur, qui supra modum sumptuosus est. Terẽtius: Profundat, pereat, nihil ad me attinet. Aliquando tamen profusus ponitur pro eo, quod est abiectus, iacens. Plautus: Profusus, squalens, sordidus, ab omnibus derelictus. Refundo, quod est rependo. Seneca: Id erat non tam accipere beneficium, quàm refundere. Proprie tamen refundere est, quod sparsum erat restituere. Idem: Quicquid deerit, ex meo refundam. Capitur aliquando pro euomere. Plinius: Quod hesterna crapula ingurgitauerat, palàm refudit. Infundo, quod est liquidum aliquod, utputa aquam, uinum, oleum inijcio. Apicius: Oleum infundito, ad ignem liquato, piper addito. Superfundo liquidi aliquid superaddo. Plinius: Resinæ momentum cum aceto superinfundito. Suffundo, extrinsecus fundo, cum infundo potius de interiore parte dicatur. Virgilius: At si uirgineum suffuderit ore ruborem Ventus erit. Hinc fit suffusio, qui morbus est oculorum, uulgo cataractam uocant. hæc paracentesi curatur. Est autē παρακέντησις, quæ manu fit à chirurgis dum curari aliter morbi non possunt. Inungitur prius locus, deinde uel acus, uel hamulus infigitur, idq́ paracentesis dicitur. Suffundere uero subijcere est, à quo suffundatum subiectum dicimus, tractum à fundamento. Varro: Qui in domibus lateritijs paululum modo lapidibus suffundatis, ut humorem fugerent, habitabant. Confundo, perturbo, confuto, opprimo. Plinius: Et si misceantur facile confundunt colorem. Seneca: Facile hoc modo aduersarium confundi. Item à fundo funis deducitur, quod dum trahitur, atq́ attenuatur linum fundi uideatur. Ab hoc fit diminutiuum funiculus, & funalia, hoc est cerei, quod ante usum papyri funes circundatos habere ueteres solebant, & ab hoc funus, quod incensi funes mortuis præferebantur. Funus proprie est pompa illa, quæ fit in exequijs mortuorum. Ennius: Nemo me lacrymis decoret, nec funera fletu faxit. Aliquando tamē ponitur funus pro morte. Vir. Nec moritura tenet crudeli funere Dido. Aliquando pro cadauere. Terentius: Effertur funus. Nõnnunquam pro sepulchro. Vir. Ergo instauramus Polydoro funus. Hinc funerare, sepelire est. Et funereæ dicũtur mulières, ad quas pertinet funus, utpote soror, & mater. Idem: Nec te tua funera mater Protexi, pressiúe oculos, aut uulnera laui. & funĕbre, quod ad funus pertinet. Vnde funĕbris pompa dicitur. Quintilianus: Quid sibi uelit ille funebrium longus ordo pomparum. Nam pompa græca uox est, significatq́ apparatum solenne cum ostentatione, & specie quadam triumphi, unde & πομπεύειν græci triumphare dicunt. Hinc & funerum, & ludorum, ac spectaculorum pompæ dicuntur. Cicero: Sed iam è pompa in ueram aciem descendamus. & funeralia quicquid ad exequias pertinet. & funĕbres tibiæ, quibus in funere canebatur, quas flamini audire putabatur illicitum. & funestum funere inquinatum. à quo fit funesto uerbum, cuius passiuum est funestor, & funestata domus dicitur, quæ aliquo funere affecta est. Plautus: Paternam funestasti domum. funestare etiam quãdoq́ pro cruentare accipitur, & funestum pro mortifero, & cruento. Seneca: Vox illa funesta reipublicæ, hoc est cruenta, mortifera. Fũgor quoq́ nonnulli quasi funus ago dictum existimant. proprie enim fungi finire est, unde uita functus dicitur, qui finiuit uitam, hoc est mortem obijt. cuius significationis & ab hoc compositum est defunctus. Virgilius: O tandem magnis pelagi defuncte periclis, hoc est qui finisti, & euasisti pericula. Titus Liuius: Defuncta morbis corpora salubriora esse incepere, hoc est corpora, quæ finierunt, & euaserunt morbos. Legitur & defunctus per se, hoc est mortuus, & defunctus morte, hoc est qui mortem obijt. Accipimus tamen frequenter fungor pro eo, quod est officium, ac munus ago, ut fungor magistratu, fungor prætura, fungor legatione, fungor officio mihi delegato, fungor munere iudicis, & similia. Fungum etiam sunt, qui à funere agendo uocitatum existiment, quod periculosissimum sit uescentibus, tum præsertim, cum uel caligaris clauus, uel calybis rubigo, aut panni aliquis marcor affuerit, aut si serpens primo patescentem adhalauerit. Hic uisus est totas aliquando familias perimere. Sic extinctum tradunt Anneum Serenum præfectum Neronis uigilum, & Tribunos, ac Centuriones quosq́, qui cum eo in conuiuio fuere, ut mirum sit tantam ancipitis cibi esse uoluptatem. Plura autem fungorum genera memorantur. In primis Boletus, ob id maxime toto orbe notissimus, quod eo extinctus est Tiberius Claudius, dato in eo ueneno à coniuge Agrippina (ut quidam uolunt) quod eius cibi auidissimus esset: ut alij, ab Aloto spadone prægustatore, dũ in arce epularetur cum sacerdotibus, iussu eiusdem Agrippinæ, consilio Locustæ maleficæ, auxilio Xenophontis medici. Plinius: Optimus quidem cibus est Boletus, sed immēso exemplo in crimen adductus, ueneno Claudio principi per hanc occasionem à coniuge dato Agrippina. Quo facto, illa terris uenenum alterum, sibiq́ ante omneis Neronem suum dedit. Optimus hic esse inter fungos à ueteribus putabatur. Iuuenalis: Vilibus ancipites fungi ponentur amicis, Boletus domino, sed qualem Claudius edit, Ante illum uxoris, post quem nil amplius edit. Martialis: Dic mihi quis furor est turba spectante uocata, Solus Boletos Cæciliane uoras? Quid dignũ tanto, uentriq́, gulæq́ precabor? Boletum, qualem Claudius edit, edas. Hic ita nascitur, uolua prius in terra gignitur, ipse postea in uolua, ceu in ouo luteum, & tunicæ eius in cibo par gratia, dum infans est boletus, rumpitur illa hoc nascente, mox in pediculo totum corpus absumitur. oritur, occiditq́ intra septimum diem. Cæteris fungis lentior natura, origo ferè omnibus ex pituita arborum. tutissimi olim existimati sunt rufi, & minus diluto rubore, quàm Boleti. proximi qui candidi sunt, & in pediculo ueluti apicem flaminis habent. Post hos qui in inferiori, & concaua parte rufescunt, superiori parte candorem habentes: uulgo, quod in pratis nascantur, pratenses appellati. sequuntur deinde suilli, genus ueneris accommodatissimum, & qui tota sæpe conuiuia interemerunt. Tutiores aridi. in plerisq́ enim Italiæ partibus siccantur. Sunt præterea & ab oui figura ouati dicti, & à spongiæ similitudine spongioli, & à digitis digitelli, & à porrigine porriginosi, & qui sine pediculo nascuntur, quasi tuberibus similes, nisi quod sunt candidissimi pezicæ. multarum præterea arborum fungi sunt, non ita pernitiosi, præsertim qui sunt ex fico, ferula, fago, robore, cupresso, sambuco. castanea in primis præstanteis gignit, & omnium maximos, ut fungus unus pluribus sufficiat conuiuis. lacinias uocãt, quod laciniosi sint. & uisu quoq́ uoluptatem afferant. Sed omnes odore simul ac sapore, & innocentia superant, qui è spinarum radicibus uere nascuntur, spineoli propterea, à plerisq́ etiam pruneoli uocitati, ignoti prorsus ueteribus, quod certe inter tot gulæ irritamēta mirandum est. Commendantur etiam qui ex cardorum radicibus autumno nascuntur, Cardeoli ex argumento nominati, ipsi quoque inter primos innocui. Tutiores putant fieri quoscumq́ fungos, si cum carne coquantur, aut cum pediculo piri. Item si pira confestim sumantur, uel si coquantur in aceto. Est & aliud mirabile fungi genus, quod ex lapide nascitur, quem lyncæum uocant. Est inter animalia ex luporum ceruariorum genere, quod Lynx uocatur, maculoso tergore, de quo Virgilius: Et maculosæ tegmine lyncis. huius animalis urinam coire in duriciem calculi manifestum est, quod lynx præsentiens inuidia humani generis, ne ea egeries in nostrum transeat usum egestum liquorem statim arenarum tumulis contegit. Inuentus hic lapis, sub terra, quasi planta occulitur. In siccitate aqua rigatur. nascuntur ex eo fungi paulatim crescentes plures simul, & in cibo sapidissimi, & dolori renum, ac frangēdo, educendóque calculo mirifice utiles. Dum fungi scinduntur, pars pediculi, quæ fixa in lapide remanet, spacio temporis lapidescit. Sic augetur continue lapis, & plures quotãnis fungos germinat. Ignorauerunt hoc ueteres, & tantum gigni ex lyncis urina lapillum quendam scripsere utilem dolori renum, quem lyncurium uocant. Theophrastus lapidem hunc succino similem esse colore, & appropinquantia similiter attrahere magno errore affirmat. Agaricon quoque fungus est in arboribus nascens circa Bosphorũ colore candido, & in Gallia, sed quod in Gallia nascitur, infirmius habetur. Sunt etiam quarundam arborum fungi magnitudine, duritia, & æqualitate quadam insignes, quibus pro strigilibus utuntur, præsertim qui caluam crinibus nudam gerunt. Item alij quibus utuntur aridis pro fomitibus, ignem in ijs uel attritu lignorum, uel excussu lapidũ, ques ob id ignarios uocant concipientes. in lucernis quoque, atque candelis oriri sæpenumero fungos cernimus, quos futuri imbris indices esse commemorant. Virgilius: Nec nocturna quidem carpentes pensa puellæ, Nesciuere hyemem, testa cum ardente uiderunt Scintillare oleum, & putres concrescere fungos. Item fungi sæpè in anno nascũtur, hoc est ulcera quædam quamsimillima fungis, humida semper, & odore admodum fœdo: que si hyems sit, gelida, si aliud tempus, frigida aqua fouentur, deinde squama æris cum fuligine, & calce inspergitur, & si hac ratione non tolluntur, scinduntur prius, deinde candenti ferro aduruntur. A fungo fit fungosus adiectiuum, quemadmodum à spongia spongiosus, significatq́ rarum, & leuem ad similitudinem fungi. Plinius: Est calamus crassiore, longo, & tenui foramine, hunc totum fungosa replet medulla. ab hoc fungositas dicitur. Idē: Tota fungositas derasa. REDDITA ROMA SIBI EST. Restituta est Roma in libertatem. nam quæ prius Neroni subiecta erat; te præside sua facta est, hoc est libera, nec alteri parens, quàm sibi. ROMA. Roma urbs Italiæ regina urbium, totius mundi caput. hæc paruum ab initio oppidum fuit, à iuuentute latina Valentia appellatũ, quod cum Euander ad ea ueniens loca extēdisset, seruata impositi prius nominis significatiõe Romã nũcupauit, siquidē græci ῥώμην robur appellant. Alij uolunt Tro-ia capta quosdam ex Achiuis in ea loca, ubi nunc Roma est, de uenisse per Tyberim, deinde suadente nobilissima captiua-rum, cui Romen nomen erat, incensis nauibus posuisse sedeis, & structo oppido, Romem ab ea uocasse. Nonnulli tradũt Ro mem non captiuam fuisse, sed Ascanio natam, Aeneæ neptem. hanc appellationis causam extitisse. Sunt qui à Romulo condi tore uocitatam Romam existimant, ideo autem Romam potiu us, quàm Romulam appellari hunc uoluisse, ut ampliori uo-cabulo prosperiora patriæ suæ ominaretur. fuit & aliud huic urbi latinum nomen, sed exprimere id arcanis cerimoniarum nefas habitum est. Quapropter cum Valerius Soranus contra interdictum id eloqui ausus fuisset, mox peremptus dedit pœnas. Causam autem, cur & urbis, & eius Dei in cuius tutela urbs erat, ignorari nomen Romani uoluerunt, hanc tradunt: quod ipsi arcanum hunc morem habebant, ut cum ob-siderent urbem aliquam hostium, iam & ipsam capi posse considerent, certo carmine euocarent tutelares deos, uel quod ali-ter capi urbem posse nõ crederent, uel quod si posset, nefas existimarent deos habere captiuos. Ideo igitur occulta esse, & deorum, & urbis nomina uoluere, ne quod ipsi faciebant, ab alijs paterentur. Carmen autem, quo ipsi utebantur, erat huiusmodi: Si deus, si dea est, cui populus, ciuitas q; Carthaginen-sis est in tutela, te q; maxime ille, qui huius urbis, populi q; tutelam recepisti, precor, uenerorq;, ueniam q; à uobis peto, ut uos populum, ciuitatem q; Carthaginensem deseratis, loca tẽpla, sacra, urbem q; eorum relinquatis, abs q; his abeatis, eiq;, po-pulo q;, & ciuitati metum, formidinem injiciatis, proditiq; Ro-mam ad me, meos q; ueniatis, nostra q; uobis loca, templa, sacra, urbs acceptior, probatior q; sit: mihi quoq;, populo q; Romano, militibus q; meis præpositi sitis, ut sciamus, intelliga-mus q;. si ita feceritis, uoueo uobis templa, ludos q; facturum.

Tutelarem Romanorum alij Iouem esse crediderunt, alij lu-nam, alij opem Cõsuiam, alij Angeronam, cui sacrificatur ad xij. Calend. Ianuarij, cuius simulachrum ob hoc maxime si-lentium, obligato, obsignato q; ore fingebatur. Huius urbis am bitum diuersis temporibus uarium fuisse autores prodiderunt. scribit Plinius diui Vespasiani temporibus millia passuum tredecim, & ducentos urbis ambitum fuisse. Flauius autem Vopiscus tradit Aurelium imperatorem ambitum urbis, ad triginta millia passuum ampliasse. Romulus autem à Ro-mula arbore appellatus est, sub qua Romulus, & Remus pue-ri inuenti sunt, quemadmodum superius ostendimus. Alij utrunq; à robore, hoc est ἀπὸ τῆς ῥώμης appellatos uolunt. A Romulo Romulia tribus dicta, quod ex eo agro censẽbatur, quẽ Romulus ex Veientibus ceperat. A Roma uero Romanus dicitur, qui & à Romulo appellatur Romulida, et Ro mulea urbs ab eodem Roma uocatur. Item Romulea aliquan-do pro Romana accipitur. Romana porta à Sabinis apud Ro mam appellata est, quod per eam proximus eis aditus esset.
REDDITA. Restituta. Proprie enim reddere est acceptum, uel ablatum restituere. Terentius: Siquis quid reddit, magna est habenda gratia. Interdum tamen reddo pro do accipitur. Plautus: Tibi ego rationem reddã. Virgilius: Regno-rum reddita cessit pars Heleno. Quintilianus: Si uerum est post innumerabiles annos reddi rursus alijs corporibus animas. rursus reddi, hoc est iterum dari. Hinc Celsus iurisconsultus reddendi uerbum inquit, quanquam significationem habet retrodandi, accipit tamen & per se dandi significationem. Nam quod aliqui dicunt reddo literas idem esse, quod do literas, falsum est. etenim cum reddo literas dicimus, non do literas significamus, sed restituo: quoniã is, cui damus literas, quasi restituere illi uidetur, ad quem damus. Reddo etiam uer-bum sacerdotale est. Reddi enim exta dicebantur, cum probata, & electa aræ superponebantur. Virgilius: Lancibus, & pandis fumantia reddimus exta. Aliquando reddo capitur pro repono. Plau. Tempestas uenit, constringit tegulas, im-brices q;, ibi dominus indiligens alias reddere neuolt. A redo do redditus dicuntur, qui proprie sunt prouentus agrorum, quamuis per translationem pro omni prouentu ponãtur. Redo do à do uerbo declinatur. Dare proprie tribuere est. Virgilius: Da propriam Timbræe domum. Aliquando pro exhibere ponitur. Terentius: Nã q; ei unam cœnam, atq; eius comitibus dedi. Nonnunquam facere. Virgilius: Tu das epulis accumbere diuũm. Interdum dicere. Idem: Sed tamen iste deus qui sit da Tityre nobis. Quandoq; ascribere. Cicer. Ego quæ tu sine Verre commisisti, Verri crimini daturus sum. Sæpe etiam prostituere. Martialis: Casta igitur nulla est? castæ sunt mille, quid ergo casta facit? non dat, non tamen illa negat. Illud no-tandum, quod damus alicui literas tanquam tabellario per eũ ad alium perferendas, damus ad aliquem, cum ad eum perferi uolumus. Aliquando utrunq; coniungitur. Sallustius: Vulturtio literas ad Catilinam dat. is cui literæ dantur, si perfer reddere literas dicitur, ut paulo ante ostendimus. Is uero, ad quem dantur, accipere. Item dare potestatem plus est, quàm fa cere potestatem. Etenim facere potestatem, est aliquid permit tere. Cicero: Fecit ei potestatem legendi literas, quas à Trebã tio acceperat, hoc est permisit, ut legeret literas. Dare uero po testatem, est rem prorsus alterius arbitrio permittere. Plinius: Vt qui suarum omnium rerum potestatem auunculo dederat.

Paulus iurisconsultus cum quoque dedisse affirmat, qui aliquid compensauit, aut permutauit. dare fidem, non est credere re, ut plerique indocti existimant. hoc enim habere fidem di-cimus, hoc est credulitatem. Sed dare fidem est aliquid sanctè promittere. Terẽtius: Grauidaq; facta, fidem dat sibi uxorem fore hanc. Virgilius: Accipe, daq; fidem, hoc est accipe promis-sionem à me, & tu similiter mihi sanctè promitte. Aliquando tamen accipere fidem, est accipere credulitatem, hoc est mere-ri, ut credatur. Martialis: Iunctam Pasiphaën Dictæo credi-tauro. Vidimus, accepit fabula prisca fidem. Superioris uero exemplum ponit Quintilianus: Fidem habes hominibus, quos mẽuri alius affirmat, id est credulitatem præstas. Plinius: Cur enim uerbis eius non sit fides habenda? Ab aliquo uero habere fidem est habere promissionem alicuius rei fide firmatam.
Terẽtius: Ait, si fidem habeat, se iri præpositum tibi apud me.
Si fidem habeat, inquit, hoc est fidem accipiat à me, & si ei fi-dem dem, ac sanctè promittam. Alia quoque à do composita si unt addo, quod est adijcio, adiungo. A quo superaddo. Addi-tus tamen apud ueteres capiebatur pro inimico. Virgilius: Nec Teucris addita Iuno usquam aberit. Circundo circuo. Sallusti us: Circundatos militibus saltus mox occupauit. obdo, claudo.
Terentius: Pessulo hostium obdo. Perdo amitto. per enim præ positio, cum per se est, localem & temporalem significationem habet, ut per medium forum, & per medium diem, & per fortitudinem adeptus est præmium, ubi fortitudo, quasi locus præmij ostenditur. Aliquando est iurãdi, ut per Iouem, & per Pol, quod per Pollucem significat. Interdum obtestandi. Vir-gilius: Per te, per qui te talem genuere parentes. Idem: Per ego has lachrymas, dextramq; tuam te, Per connubia nostra, per inceptos hymenæos. Nonnunquam medium quendam, & quasi intercessorem significat, ut per amicos meos obtinui, per me metipsum feci, quasi meipso medio. In compositione uero alia quando abnegat, ut pfidus, piurus, q fidẽ, & iusiurandũ fregit. aliquando significat in totum, & usq; ad finẽ. Lactan. Nõ inui te petere, ut siquis erit, qui inciderit in hæc, si legit perlegat, hoc est, usq; ad finem legat. Cicero: Nuntius ille, qui literas accepit, non pertulit. Seneca: Leue est miseriis ferre, perferre est graue, hoc est, aliquo tẽpore in miseriis esse, leue est, sed in his usq; ad finem uitæ perseuerare, est graue. Martia. Nã uigila-re leue est, peruigilare graue. Hinc agere reum, est in aliquem inquirere, & accusare. Peragere reum, est usq; ad finem age-re, hoc est, condemnare. Quandoq; significat per medium. unde pellucidum dicimus, per cuius mediũ fulgor emanat. Per-spicuum per cuius medium uidemus, ut aqua, glacies, crystal-lus, sed pellucidum magis ad corporalia pertinet, perspicuum ad incorporalia. Plaut. Ita is pellucet, quasi laterna punica.

Plin. Tam claras, perspicuas q; sententias. Hæc tamẽ apud autores confunduntur. plerunq; pro ualde accipitur, ut pergra-ue, permagnum. Ciccro: Pergraue mihi uisum est. & si addatur, quàm significat maxime, ut perquàm bonus, id ẽ optimus, perquàm magnus, id est maximus. Est etiam quando per pro nimis uehementer accipitur, facit q; significationẽ uocabuli penè à simplici suo diuersam, & in malam partem accipitur, ut pertinax, nimis tenax, quod significat durum, & inexorabi-lem, atq; obstinatum. Pernix, qui nimium nititur, unde aliquan do accipitur pro celeri. Virg. Talis & ipse iubam ceruice effu-dit equina coniugis aduentu pernix Saturnus. Aliquando nimis perseuerans. differt q; pernicitas à uelocitate, quod alterum sit celeritatis, alterum patientissimæ perseuerantiæ. Idem: Et inter dura iacet pernix instrato saxa cubili. Perfuga, qui nimi um fugit, hoc est, qui ad hostes fugit. Peruersus, qui nimis uer satur in malo. Percitus nimis incitatus, qui ira ac furore accen sus est. Perpessus, qui nimis, & cum labore, ac dolore passus est. Perdo, ergo dicitũ, quasi nimis do. Nam qui nimis dat, quic quid habebat amittit. Capitur etiam aliquando perdo pro peri mo, quoniam quæ amittuntur, quasi mortua nobis esse uidentur. Teren. Dij te perdant. Ab hoc perditus dictus, qui interijt uitijs, & recuperari nõ potest, sicut perdita res, quæ amissa est.
Idem: Dij uestrã fidẽ hominẽ perditũ, miserumq;. Cice. Sæuum crudelitate, perditum luxuria, uitijs omnibus contaminatum.
Veteres pro perdo perduo dixere. A quo perduaxo. Plau. Dij te, deæq; omnes perduaxint cum istoc homine. A perdo fit de-perdo. Vnde Caius iuriscõsultus scribit deperditum dici, quod in natura rerum esse desijt. Diminutum uero, quod usu raptũ est. Item à do componitur trado eiusdem ferè cum suo simpli-ci significationis. Abdo, quod est recondo. Apuleius: Atris abdita nubibus. Abditiuos ueteres abortiuos appellabant. Abdomen sumen dicitur, quod abditum sit. A poëtis tamen aliquan do pro larido ponitur, hoc est pingui duro. Iuue. Mõtani quo-que uenter adest abdomine tardus. Item dedo, quod est imper-petuum do, & ita differt à do, quod proprie damus animo re-petendi, dedimus autem, quæ in perpetuum damus. Vnde de-dere se hostibus dicimus, qui se in hostium potestatẽ tradũt.
& traditio ipsa deditio dicitur, & qui se ita tradunt, uocantur deditiij. Aliquando tamen dedo accipitur pro do. Teren.
Verberibus te cæsum in pistrinum Daue dedam. & dedita opera dicimus pro eo, quod est data opera, hoc est de industria.
Pompeius Festus deditum interpretatur ualde datum. Itẽ An-tidosis, quod proprie significat quicquid alicui ex aduerso da-tur. Nam ἀντὶ græca præpositio in compositione pro, uel contra significat. Vnde Anticatones dicti, & antilogia, quasi contraria oratio. & antiphrasis, quod sit sensus sermo-ni contrarius, ut cum bellum dicimus, quia minime bonum. & antiptosis, quando casus ponitur pro casu. & antithesis, quod nonnulli obiectum interpretati sunt. & antitheton contra se positum. & antonomasia, quando nomen pro nomine ponitur, ut Maia genitus pro Mercurius. Antidosis ergo quod cõtra aliquid datum est. sed hoc à græco potius, hoc est à δῶρον deriuatum uideri potest, de quo paulo post dicemus. Item ædo cum primam syllabam producit, quod est emitto, quasi extra do. Vnde ædere libros dicimus, ædere opus publicum, à quo æditio, hoc est publicatio. Aliquando tamen autores ædo usur pant pro produco, & pario. Virg. Nec nostri generis puerum, nec sanguinis ædunt. Ab hoc ædita loca uocantur alta, & sese ædentia, hoc est ostendentia, scribitur q; cum diphthongo ad differentiam alterius edo, quod est comedo, dictum à græco ἔδω, quod est uescor. huius supinum est esum, à quo esito fre quentatiuum. Gellius: Videtur autẽ de Cyamo nõ esitato causa erroris fuisse. & esurio, quod est cupio edere. Quintilia. Pater filios esurit. Martianus: Esurit magis, quo magis est domi.

Hinc esuries edendi auiditas appellatur: & minus est, quàm fames, quæ ex defectu annonæ prouenit. Plin. Iustum Nili in-crementum est cubitorũ sexdecim, in duodecim cubitis prouincia famem sentit. In tredecim etiamnum esurit, quatuordecim cubita hilaritatem afferunt, quindecim securitatem, sexdecim delitias. Ecce quomodo famem ex summa sterilitate ostẽdit pro uenire, quæ ex inedia sequitur, ex mediocri uero sterilitate esuriem, quæ oritur ex parcitate, quæ & esuritio dicitur. Martia.
Illam, quam facit esuritionem. & esurigo. Varro: Vbi libet ire licet accubitũ, accedo, quod esurigo findebat costas. Vera ba in rio desiderium quoddam significare uidentur, ut paturio cupio parere. Cœnaturio cupio cœnare. Cic. Vt aliquan do dolor populi Romani pariat, quod iam diu parturit. Mar-tialis: In omnibus Vacerra, quod conclaubus consumit horas, & die tota sedet, cœnaturit Vacerra, non cacaturit. Aliquan-do tamen huiusmodi uerba à suis primitiuis non differunt, ut scaturio, idem est, quod scateo, & non modo de aquis dicitur, sed etiam de herbis, cæteris q; sua sponte ubertim nascentibus, quamuis scatebra, & scaturitio, & scaturies tantum dica tur, sit q; ebullitio aquæ surgentis. Vnde etiam uasa æstuantia scaturire dicuntur. Scaturies etiam modus matulæ est, ut Var ro testatur. Ab eodem edo abedo deducitur, quod significat cõ sumo. Virgilius: Nam sæpe fauos ignotus abedit stellio. nam edo quoq; pro cõsumo accipitur. Et adestũ cõsumptũ dicimus.
Item edacitas, quod significat ingluuiem, edax pro mandu-cone, hoc est uorace, & consumptore. huiusmodi enim homines à ueteribus manducones, & manduci, à manducando, & à mandendo mandones, qui & mansutij, hoc est edaces à ue-teribus dicebantur. Manduci effigies in pompa antiquorum inter cæteras ridiculas, & formidolosas imagines ire solebat, magnis malis, ac late dehiscens, & ingentem dentibus soni-tum faciens. Plautus: Quid si ad ludos me pro manduco locẽt edones quoque ab edendo uocantur, sicut ἀπὸ τοῦ φάγω, quod est edo, dicuntur phagones. utroque utitur Plautus. Item ab edo ador, quasi edor farri genus, edor quondam appellatum, de quo inferius dicemus. Item peredo uehementer edo, à quo fit peredia ipsa comesatio, sicut bibesia ipsa bibitio. Prãdium, quasi peredium, de quo inferius dicemus, quibus frequen-ter utitur Plautus. Item exedo, quod est consumo. Item obedo, quod similiter modo pro consumo accipitur, unde obesum dicitur gracile, exile. Næui. Corpore, pectore q; undiq; obeso, ac merito exoso, tardi ingenio senis. modo pro comedo, à quo obesum pro uberi, & crasso accipimus. Virgilius: Argutum q; cauit deas præsides puerorũ. has enĩ nutrices iuocare solebãt, cũ pueri lac dimittere icipiebãt. Item comedo eiusdẽ cũ suo simpli ci significationis. In quo notãdũ, qđ ueteres comest qđ comedit, & comedim pro comedã scripsere. Varro: Nã in humanis oĩa sunt paria. Quippe te maior plus urget, pisceis ut sæpe minutos magnus comest, ut aueis enecat accipiter. Lucil. Cōmanducatur totum complexa, comestq́;. Cicero: Sed ad extremum pollicetur prolaturum se, quæ ipse comest. Idem: Cura si me amas, ut ualeas, ne ego iacente te, tua bona comedim. statui enī tibi ne ægroto quidem parcere. Pomponius: Ego quæro quod edim, has quærere cui parcat certum est. Item comesatio à uicis, quos græci κώμους uocant, & esum supino. Veteres olim in uicis habitantes, prius, quàm oppida conderentur, alij alios conuictus gratia inuitabant. Nec recte Seruius comesationem à comesse infinitiuo deriuatum, existimauit, nec recte interpretatus est comesationem conuiuium esse factum cū luxu. Licet enim aliquando usurpetur comesatio pro cibo quacunq; hora extraordinarie sumpto, interdum etiam pro crapula, proprie tamen comesatio est cibus, qui post cœnam sumitur, sicut merenda cibus, qui sumitur ante cœnam, & ientaculum cibus, qui sumitur ante prandium. Sueto. Sed præcipue luxuriæ, sæuitiæq́; deditus, epulas trifariam semper, interdum quadrifariam dispartiebat in ientacula, & prandia, & cœnas, comesationesq́;, facile omnibus sufficiens uomitandi consuetudine. idem: Conuiuabatur frequenter & large, sed penè raptim. Cœnæ uero ultra solis occasum, nec ut postea comesaretur. Ientaculum cibus est matutinus, qui sumi solet ante, quàm homines opera aggrediantur. quidam prandiolum, siue prandiculum, quasi paruum prandium uocant, fitq́; à iento uerbo. Afra. Hæc ieiuna ientauit. Idem: Dum ex eo domum ientare nulla inuitat. Plau. Quid appones Veneri ientaculi? Pomponius: nihil habens ientaculi, præter nauticum panem. Martia. Surgite iā uendit pueris ientacula pistor. iento à ieiunio dictum est, quod tum maxime ieiuna sint corpora. Græci ientaculum ἀκρατισμὸν uocant, & ἀκράτισμα, & ἀκρατίζεσθαι ientare, unde Aristoteles aquilam scribit non uenari, sed quiescere μέχρι ἀκρατίσματος. Quod uerbum deductum est ἀπὸ τοῦ ἀκράτου, hoc est, à uino mero, & non lymphato, quod sicut in prandio merenda, cœna, comesatione dilutius, ita in aurora meratius bibere, & salubre putatur, & usu receptum est. Ab iento etiam ientatio deducitur. Item à comedo comedones, & comedos ueteres uocabant, qui bona sua consumerent. Comœdi uero cum œ diphthongo dicuntur comœdiarum actores, sicut comici comœdiarum autores, hoc est poëtæ, & comœdia ipsa poëmata: quæ omnia ex eo dicuntur, quod initio in uicis iuuenes cantare quæstus gratia soliti essent, crebro conuenientes. κώμη enim uicus est, ᾠδὴ cantus. est autē comœdia poëmatis notū genus, in quo humiles ferè personæ introducūtur, quāuis antiqua comœdia & grandis, & elegans, & uenusta erat, nullaq́; aut similior oratoribus, aut ad oratores faciendos aptior. præcipui eius autores, Aristophanes, & Eupolis, & Cratinus fuere. Tragœdia uero genus poëmatis est grande, in quo heroës introducuntur, duces, reges. In comœdia amores ferè, & uirginum raptus. In tragœdia luctus, exilia, cædes introducūtur. In comœdia frequenter, & penè semper exitus læti. In tragœdia tristes, & liberorum, fortunarumq́; priorum in peius agnitio. Tristitia nanque tragœdiæ proprium. Propter quod Euripides petente Archelao rege, ut de se tragœdiam scriberet, abnuit, ac precatus est, ne accideret Archelao aliquid Tragœdiæ proprium, ostendens, nihil aliud esse tragœdiam, quàm miseriarum poëmata. Sermo in tragœdijs grandiloquus. Ouidi. Omne genus scripti grauitate tragœdia uincit. Tragœdiam quidam ita definiunt: Tragœdia est heroicæ fortunæ in aduersis comprehensio. & ἀπὸ τοῦ τράγου, καὶ τῆς ᾠδῆς, hoc est ab hirco, & cantu nomen habet: quoniā olim autoribus tragicis hircus præmium cantus proponebatur. Horatius: Carmine qui tragi co uilem certabat ob hircum. Alij autem putant à fece, quam græcorum quidam triga uocant, tragœdiam appellatam, quoniam olim nondum personis à Thespide repertis, taleis fabulas peruncti ora fecibus agitabant. Idem: Ignotum tragicæ genus inuenisse camœnæ Dicitur, & plaustris uexisse poëmata Thespis, Quæ canerent, agerentq́; peruncti fecibus ora. tragœdias primus in lucem Aeschylus protulit, sed longe clarius illustrauerunt Sophocles, atq; Euripides. Apud latinos, Pacuuius, Ouidius, & Seneca in hoc poëmatis genere, floruerunt. Ouidius Medeam scripsit. omnia uitio temporum perierunt, exceptis Senecæ tragœdijs. Comici ante tragicos fuere, principio ioculatoria quædam minus scite, & uenuste pronunciantes, sed mox Aristophanes, Eupolis, & Cratinus principum uitia insectati acerbissimas comœdias composuerunt, quæ ueteres, siue antiquæ comœdiæ appellantur. Tertia ætas fuit Menandri, & Philemonis, qui omnem acerbitatem comediæ mitigauerunt, à quibus postea Romani poëtæ sumpsere. Comœdiam quidam ita definiuerunt: Comœdia est priuatæ, ciuilisq́; fortunæ sine periculo uitæ comprehensio. & non ἀπὸ τῆς κώμης, hoc est, à uico, ut diximus, sed ἀπὸ τοῦ κώμου, hoc est à comesatione appellatam, quod olim in huiusmodi fabulis amantium iuuenum compotationes, & conuiuia canebantur. A tragœdia tragœdum, & tragicum dicimus, sicut à comœdia comœdum, & comicum. Item tragice, quod significat atrociter, crudeliter, quasi more tragico, sicut comœdice mansuete, suauiter. Plau. Euge ast.t.sti & dulce, et comœdice. Item paratragœdio uerbum, quod signifitat exaggero, & uerborum magnitudine aliquid augeo. Idem: Illic homo est, ut paratragœdiat carnifex. A tragus quod hircum significat (ut diximus) tragopa deducitur, quæ auis est ī Aethiopia asiatica, maior aquila, quæ cornibus arietinis præfert caput armatum, & tragelaphus, quasi hircinus ceruus, animal specie cerui, barba tantum, & armorum uillo ab alijs distans. & tragopogus herba in acetarijs laudata, quæ à quibusdam barbula hircina. ab alijs come, quia folia habet instar croci in rotundum sparsa, radicem dulcissimam, uulgo barbapetræ appellatur. Sunt etiam qui scandicem uocent. hæc est, quam Aristophanes Euripidi poëtæ obijcit ioculariter, matrem eius, ne olus quidem legitimum uenditasse, sed scandicem. Item tragonia herba, quæ adalligata triduo dicitur consumere lyenes. & tragonis, siue tragion, quæ nascitur in insula Creta in maritimis Iunipero similis. & tragos, quam aliqui scorpion uocant, semipede alta, folijs pusillis, racemis rubentibur grano tritici. Itē ab edo edera, quod parietes edat, atq; consumat: quamuis alij ab hærendo potius dictam uelint, licet primam syllabam correptam habeat, quod hæreat semper, & sequatur quicquid proximum est, à quo sequaces dicuntur. Persius: Quorum imagines lambūt ederæ sequaces. Edera arbor est omnibus inimica satis, sepulchraq́;, ac muros rumpens, serpentium frigori gratissima. species eius tres, candida, & nigra, & quæ uocatur Helix, & alia fructu tantum candida, alia folio quoq;. racemus ederæ in orbem circum actus uocarur Corymbus, à quo corymbifer, qui fert corymbos, siue ederam. Ouidius: Festa corymbiferi celebrabat Græcia Bacchi. Seleniciū genus eius est, cuius minor acinus, sparsior racemus, simili modo in nigra alicui nigrum semen est, alij crocatum. huius coronis poëtæ utuntur: folijs minus nigris. Virg. Pastores edera crescentem ornate poëtā. Quidam eam Nysiam, alij Bacchicam nominant, maximis inter nigras corymbis. Quidam duo huius etiam genera faciunt. Erythranum, & Chrysocarpū. edera pluribus locis intercisa uiuit tamen, & tot initia radicum habet, quot brachia. est & rigentis ederæ genus; quæ sine adminiculo stat, ob id uocatas

dendrocissos ἀπὸ τοῦ δένδρου, καὶ κισσοῦ, hoc est ab arbore, & edera compositum. & è diuerso nunquam, nisi humi serpēs chamæcissus ἀπὸ τοῦ χαμαὶ, quod humi significat, & κισσὸς edera. Est & alia herba ederæ ferè similis, quam uocant smilacem densis geniculata caulibus, spinosa, fruticosa, ramis, folio ederaceo, flore candido, olente lilium, infausta omnibus sacris, atq; coronis. lugubrē enim hanc putāt, quod uirgo eius nominis propter amorem iuuenis Croci in hunc fruticē mutata sit. Ouid. Et Crocō in paruos uersum cum Smilace flores. Id uulgus ignorans sæpenumero sacra sua polluere solebat: è smilace codicilli fiunt, propriumq́; eius materiæ est, ut auribus admota leuē reddat sonū. Sunt qui smilacem autophorum uocant, quasi seipsum ferentem. coronam ex ea factam impari foliorū numero aiunt capitis doloribus mederi. à smilace smilaceus dicitur, quod è smilace est, sicut ab edera ederaceus, qđ est ex edera. Sunt etiam qui smilacem taxum uocant, ut inferius ostendemus. Ederæ mira natura est ad uina experienda: etenim si uas ex ligno eius fiat, uina transfluunt, & aqua remanet, si qua admista est. Quidam inter genera ederæ, & cysthum numerant. hæc arbuscula est in insula Cypro, in cuius folijs pingue inest, quod rore mistum mane liquescit, deinde sole in puluerem uersum madentibus hircorū uillis, dum pascuntur, adhærescit, deinde depectitur, quod & ab ipsius arbusculæ nomine cysthum dicitur. quidam arbusculā uocant Cystharum, ob hanc causam in Ladano hircorū pili conspiciuntur. Sunt tamē, qui herbā quoq; in Cypro reperiri scribant, quam ladam appellant, à qua dicitur ladanum, quod pingue est huic insidens herbæ. Itaque attractis funiculis eam herbā conuoluunt, atq; ita offas faciunt. In Nabathæis quoq; ladani genus, quod stronbon uocāt, traduntq́; syluas Arabū pastu caprarū infringi, atq; ita succum uillis inhærescere. Item ab edo esca dicta, quod non modo hominum, ac cæterorum animaliū cibaria significat, sed etiam quod auibus, piscibus'ue ad decipiendū datur. Ab hac escariæ mensæ quadratæ, in quibus homines epulantur. & esculentum, quod ad uescendum pertinet, & esculus arbor glandifera, quod ueteres ex eius fructu escam sumerent. & uescum ex ue, & esca compositum, quod significat cum edendi fastidio, quamuis Lucretius uescū salem appellet ex edendi intensione. uescū etiam dicimus quicquid ad escā, hoc est cibaria pertinet, id est quicqđ edibile est. Vir. Vescūq́; papauer. Item quicquid minutum est. Idem: Nec uescas salicū frondeis. unde & araneorū telæ uescæ nominantur. à ue etiā, & esca uescor declinatur, quod proprie significat pascor, edo. Virg. Vescitur Aeneas, simul & Troiana iuuentus. Ponitur aliquando pro utor. Idem: Quem si fata uirum seruant, si uescitur aura Aetheria. Nonnunquā pro uideo. Accius: Priusquā infans esses, facinus oculi uescuntur tui. Item ab edo edulis, quod manducari potest. Hora. Vinea submittit capreas nō semper edulis. & edulia quæcunq; ad edendum parantur præter panem. Gellius: Genera, nominaq́; edulium, quæ profunda ingluuies uestigauit. & Edusam ueteres ab edendo dixerunt, quemadmodum Potinam à potando. edeatræ uocati, qui præsunt regijs epulis. Item epulæ quasi edipulæ ab edendo dictæ. Sunt autem cibi ministerio hominum in nostrum usum comparati. epulum uero, in singulari numero significat solenniores epulas, & proprie publicum conuiuium in propatulo numerosis ciuibus exhibitum, siue in dedicatione templi alicuius, siue in ludis, siue in funere alicuius magni uiri. ueteres epulā quoq; in singulari numero dixere. ab epulis fit epulor uerbum, quod aliquādo significat edo, aliquādo cōuiuor. hinc epulones dicti, qui indicendi Ioui, cæterisq́; dijs epulas potestatem habebant, antiqui epulones uocabant, erant autem tres uiri, qui triumuiri epulones appellabantur. nam (ut Cicero refert) ueteres pontifices propter sacrificiorū multitudinem treis uiros epulones esse uoluerunt, cum essent ipsi à Numa, ut etiā illud ludorum epulare sacrificiū facerent, instituti: his postea præpositus est rex sacrorū qui rex sacrificulus dicitur, L. Iunio Bruto, & M. Valerio cōsulibus creari cœptus, quod pleraq; sacra à solis regibus olim fieri solita exactione regū impediri uidebātur, ideo regis nomine decoratus est, qui tamen pontifici maximo subditus erat. Additi deinde fuerunt alij tres uiri, qui sacris libris legendis, carminibusq́; Sibyllæ præerāt. hi quoties prodigia magnos aliquos rerum euentus auspicantia emergerent, lectisternijs ad puluinaria deorum factis, sacris, supplicijsq́; placabāt, qui & sodales titij dicebantur à T. Tatio. à quo etiam titiensis tribus, & titia curia uocata est. Itaq; septemuiri epulones dicti sunt. horum filiæ, cum de uacatione uestalis sacerdotij agitur, sicut filiæ auguris, decemuiri sacrorū, flamines ab hoc sacerdotio excusationē merētur. Romæ in pyramide uetustissima hodie quoq; incisæ huiusmodi literæ legūtur. OPVS AB SOLVTVM DIEBVS CXXX EX TEST. C. CORNELII TR. PL. VII. VIRI EPVLONVM. Horū cœnæ à salijs sacerdotibus saliares uocabantur. Horat. Nunc est bibendū, nunc pede libero pulsanda tellus, nunc saliaribus ornare puluinar deorū, tempus erat dapibus sodales. hinc quasi prouerbij loco, saliares cœnæ dictæ sunt opiparæ, & copiosæ. Item ab epulis epularis, quod ad epulas pertinet. unde epularis sermo dicitur, qui in conuiuio fit. Apuleius: Iam illatis luminibus epularis sermo percrebuit. Itē epulares uocabantur, qui in sacris, quæ diximus, epulabātur. Varro: Dum epulares nocte epularētur. Dapes ab epulis differunt. sunt enim dapes non deorum duntaxat epulæ, aut nostræ in deorum sacrificijs (ut Valla scripsit) sed largiores, & opipari apparatus. Mart. Fugerit an mensam Phœbus, cœnāq́; Thyestæ, Ignoro, fugimus nos Ligurine tuam. Illa equidē lauta est, dapibusq́; instructa superbis, Sed nihil omnino te recitante placet. Vir. de Cyclope: Nam simul expletus dapibus, uinoq́; sepultus. Tales exhiberi solebant in pontificum cœnis, ut in illa Metelli cœna, quō die Lentulus flamē Marti. inauguratus est. in qua principio habuerunt echinos, ostreas crudas quantum uellent, peloridas, turdos, asparagos, subtus gallinam altilem, patinas ostrearum, peloridum, balanos nigros, balanos albos, iterū spondylos, glycia, mænidas, urticas, ficedulas, lumbos, capreas, origes, aprunos, altilia ex farina inuoluta, ficedulas, murices, & purpuras. Mox uero sumina, sinciput aprinum, patinā piscium, patinā suminis, anates, querquedulas elixas, lepores, altilia assa, amylum, panes picentes. dapsa apud ueteres genus sacrificij erat, quod fiebat aut hyeme sæuienti, aut uere. à Græcis δάψ uocatur, qui & δαψιλὴν largum dicūt, & δαψιλίαν largitatem, unde nostri quoq; dapsilos aliquando lautos, & liberales appellant. ex hoc ita sacrificio dapatice se acceptos dicebant, hoc est magnifice, atq; opipare, & dapaticum negotiū amplum, atq; magnificū. hinc ergo dapes appellatæ sunt lautæ, ac magnificæ epulæ, & dapalis cœna, (ut Marcellus testatur) quæ diuersis amplis dapibus constat. Plin. Pauonē cibi gratia Romæ primus occidit orator Hortensius, dapali cœna sacerdotij. Varro: Primus pauones Qu. Hortensius augurali dapali cœna posuisse dicitur. hæc loca corrupta passim apud hos autores erant, & pro dapali adiciali, uel adialitij erat scriptum, quod emendare nuper uolens insulsissimus quidam pædagogulus adipali scripsit, nimio ignorantiæ adipe mentē oppressa. nam quis unquā adipalem cœnā aut adipalem cibum legit? Adipatum certe adipe dicimus pro pingui, & succulento, non adipalem. Cicero: Adsciuerūt suis artibus lescentia fuit nomen inditum. & subdo subijcio, à quo subditi dicuntur, qui alicuius imperio subiecti sunt. subditum etiam partum dicimus suppositum, hoc est sublatum ab ea muliere, quæ peperit, & alteri appositum. Itē apud Iurisconsultos subditum testamentū, cum uero testamento occultato, aliud clam fuit appositum. Subditus etiā iudex dicitur, qui loco mortui da didit. scribit Non. Marcellus subdere pro supputare accipi, et Terentij testimoniū adducit: Nunquā ita quisquā bene subdu cta ratione ad uitam fuit: quod satis admirari non possum, cum nec subdere unquā pro computare reperiatur, nec subducta à subdo fieri possit, sed à subduco uerbo fiat. Subducere autē ra tionem, & colligere rationē dicimus recte cōputare, ita ut quæ colligenda sunt, colligantur, & quæ subducenda sunt, hoc est detrahenda, detrahātur. Cicero: Quod non subducta utilita tis ratione effici solet. Seneca: Colligenda quotidie ratio est, & quid lucri factū sit, uidendū. Subducere proprie surripere est.

Virg. Et succus pecori, & lac subducitur agnis. Subducere le ducere naues dicimus in terrā trahere, quod terra altior mari sit, sicut econtrario deducere, in mare è terra ducere. Virgil.

Quassatā uentis liceat subducere classem. Idem: Deducunt so stat comitatū, cuius contrariū est reducere, ut deduxi Catonē in senatum, eumq; domum ut reducā, hic expecto. Item dedu attenuare est, unde deductum pro subtili eleganter ponitur.

Idem: Pascere oportet oues deductum dicere carmen. hoc est attenuatū, subtile. Pompo. Vocē deducas oportet, ut mulieris uideantur uerba. Iube non modo afferatur, uocem ego reddā tenuem, & tinnulā. Idem: Etiā nunc uocem deducā. Sub proprie subter significat. Vir. Tityre tu patulæ recubās sub tegmi iugum mitti dicebantur hostes, qui à duabus hastis in terra de fixis, tertiaq; superligata inermes sub ea cogebantur transire, & sub corona uenundari captiui, quia coronati uenundabātur.

Cato. Vt populus potius ob rem bene gestam supplicatū eat, ģ tur ueles, cum sub manū sursum hastā mittebat. Cæcil. Vt ue-les bonus sub uitem qui submisit hastas: sub uitem præliari mi lites, cum sub uinea militari pugnabant: sub uineā iacere, cum astantibus centurionibus fustes iacere cogebātur. uinea enim bel lica machina erat leuioribus cōpacta lignis, lata pedes octo, al

Quando sub præpositio tempus significat, accusatiuo gaudet, significatq; primā temporis partē. Vir. Sub lucē exportant calathis, hoc est aduenientē luce. nonnunq; sub pro cum accipitur, ut sub sarcinis, hoc est cū sarcinis. Item à do fit cōpositum con do, quod proprie significat abscondo, quasi in unū, & interiorē locū do. Virg. Scandunt rursus equū, & nota conduntur in al orum, ut ipsi nobis debeamus conditoria construere, omniaq; hæredum officia præsumere. à condo cōditio dicitur, quando scribitur sine c, quæ est dispositio quædam, & ueluti sors fortunarū, temporū, rerum. Cicero: ò miserā conditionem admini strandi consulatus. Aurel. Ea temporū conditio erat, ut ne cō queri quidem de iniurijs fas esset. Significat etiā oblatā potestā tem aliquid eligendi, dicimusq; offero conditionē, fero condi-tionem, & pono conditionem, ut apud Teren. Amatores Chry sidis tulerūt mulieri conditionē, id est si uellet eis morē gerere, se precium daturos. illa uero accepit conditionē, hoc est pactio ni consensit. idem ferè significant, offero electionē, & do optio nem, nisi quod hæc de duobus, aut pluribus dicuntur, ut offe-ro electionem utrum mauis petendi, do optionem, quod uis potissimum optandi. Illud uero de una qualibet re dicitur, ut offe ro Chrysidi conditionem, unam scilicet duntaxat. quando uero cum c scribitur condictio, non à condo, sed à condico deriuatur, quod raro in usu est. condicere prisca lingua pronūtiare est, nunc uero (ut Iustinianus inquit) condictionē dicimus actionē in personā, quam actor intendit sibi dari oportere. & condictum dicimus, quod in cōmune dictū est, atq; decretum.

A condo alia cōposita fiunt abscondo, quod est occulto. & reusurpato, embāmata dicuntur. Columel. Hoc sinapi ad embāmata non solum idoneo, sed etiam specioso uteris. ἐμβάπτειν enim intingere. Latine uero à tingendis in ijs dapibus dicūtur intinctus. tingere enim inficere, & madefacere est. Mart. Men tiris iuuenem tinctis Lentine capillis. à quo tinctor lanarū in-fector, & tinctura, infectura. Plini. Anisum à Pythagora inter pauca laudatur, siue crudum, siue decoctū. Item uiride, ari dum ue omnibus, quæ condiuntur, quæq; intinguntur desideratum, fœtorem tollit manducatum, mox uino collutū uulūm iuniorem præstat, appetentiam ciborum facit, ob has causas quidam anicetum id uocauere. Græci enim ἄνισον inuitimentis. Idē: Quoddā etiam generosi obsonij nomē à myrto trā bitur, quod nunc etiam myrtatum uocatur, eademque origine aprorum sapor commendatur, plerunque ad intinctus additis myrtis. conditaneũ etiam modo à condendo, modo à cõdiendo dicitur, significatq; quod condi, uel condiri potest. Item à condiendo cõditura, pro ipsa (ut ita dicam) factura condimenti. præterea à do (ut quidã existimant) sedeo, de quo paulo post dicemus, quod qui sedet, seorsum dare se uidetur, & sedo, placo, lenio, tranquillo, & quasi sanum do, hoc est ab ira, & furore ad lenitatem animi reuoco: hinc sedatus placidus, lenis. à quo sedatior, & sedatissimus, item sedate, sedatius, sedatissime. et uenundo, ac uendo cum deriuatiuis eorum, de quibus inferius disseremus. & tendo, quasi tenue do. tendere enim proprie extendere est, quicquid autem extenditur, attenuatur. Vir. Tendunt uela noti. hinc per metaphoram tendere aliquando accipimus pro insidiari, quod in hoc laqueos, uel retia extendere solemus. Teren. Quia nec accipitri tẽditur, nec miluo. hinc tendiculæ dicũtur laquei, quos auibus, aut feris tendimus. aliquãdo pro contẽdere, hoc est conari. Idem: Ille simul manibus tendit diuellere nodos. nunc tẽtoria ponere, & habitare. extenduntur enim tentoria, dum ponuntur. Idem: Hic Dolopũ manus. hic sæuus tendebat Achilles. nonnunq; offerre, quod protẽdendo manus fieri solet. Idem: Paruumq; patri tendebat Iulum. plerunq; pergere. nam & nos ambulando iter uidemur extendere. Idem: Quò tenditis inquit. ab hoc fit tentipelliũ genus calciamenti ferratũ, quo pelles extenduntur. & tentigo pruritus libidinis, quo uirilia extenduntur. Virg. Turpe quidem dictu, sed si tẽtigine rumpar Falce manu posita fiet amica manus. & tentoriũ tabernaculũ, quod funibus, ligniscq; extenditur, & tenus laqueus. Plau. Pendebit hodie, ita tetendit tenus. at Seruius inquit tenus dici extremã partem arcus. à quo hactenus pro hucusq; dictum, quasi usq; ad finem. sed tenus præpositio est, significans usq; ad, & in singulari semper cum ablatiuo iungitur, ut eatenus, quatenus. in plurali uero nõnunquam cum genitiuo. Curtius: Pauci hostiũ tenus exacti penetraucre ad portum. Virg. Ei crurũ tenus à mento palearia pendent. interdũ ponitur pro non ultra, ut gessit consulatum titulo tenus, id est non ultra titulũ. tenue uero à teneo dictũ quidam putant, quod quæ tenuia sunt facile tenentur. Potest tamen & à tendo deriuatum uideri, quoniã quæ extenduntur tenuia fiunt, quẽadmodum inferius dicemus. à tendo cõposita fiunt attendo. quod est cogito. & quasi animũ intendo. Cice. Nihil ne uobis in mentẽ uenit, quod præterea à Crasso requiratis? hercule, inquit, hoc ipsum attendo. & quando attendere animum dicimus. Idem: Et si tu animum attenderis, turpitudinem uideas adiunctam. hoc est animum intenderis. hinc attentos dicimus auditores, qui ad ea, quæ dicuntur intendunt animũ. & attentio animaduersio. & attente aduerbium, hoc est animo intento. circũtendo notæ significationis. Plin. Circuntendit retia, & omneis occupat saltus. obtendo, uel tego, uel contra tendo, à quo obtendiculũ, quo aliquid tegitur. pertendo, destino, delibero. extendo explico, & sine rugis facio. à quo extensio, explicatio. protẽdo, produco. extendo, prætẽdo, oppono, & aliud quàm sit ostendo. intendo, animaduerto, & sollicite, ac diligẽter intueor. Vir. Intenti expectant signum. à quo intentio dicitur. aliquãdo intendo accipitur pro ligo. Idem: Intendit q; locũ sertis. Idem: Et stupea uincula collo Intendunt. nonnunquã pro extendo. Cicero: intentum enim animum tanquam arcũ habebat, nec languens subcumbebat senectuti. subtendo decipiendi gratia subdo aliquid aut machinor. Sall. Dum subtendit insidias militi. distendo, extendo, impleo. Virgi. Distendunt nectare cellas. Idem: Denso distendere pingui. tractũ autem est ab utre, qui cum plenus est, tenditur, cum uacuus, relaxatur. cõtendo, quod modo est festino. Idem: Quæ proxima litora cursu Contendũt petere. modo torqueo, astringo. Idem: Tãto nate magis cõtende tenacia uincla. interdũ cõparo. Plau. Signum rete cõparabat huius contendi anulũ. aliquãdo certo. Cicero: Miserrima omnino ambitio est honorũ contentio. à cõtendo etiã contentio deducitur, hoc est certatio. à quo cõtentiosus plenus rixæ. & contentiose, unde cõtentio pro concertatione accipitur. Idem: Id quod eius scripta declarant, & contentiones uocis, & remissiones. plerunq; extorquere. Idem: Extremũ autem præceptum in beneficijs, operaq; danda, nequid contra æquitatem contendas. sæpenumero iacio, dirigo. Vir. Qui tamen aërias telũ contendit in auras. quandoq; intendo. Cicero: Magna est animi contentio adhibenda. idemq; ferè est contentio, & intentio, cum uehementiam quandam significant in uoce, tracta similitudine ab arcu, seu cithara, cuius nerui, quãto uehementius intenduntur, tanto uehementiorem sonum efficiunt, & ut illa, ita & uox usum neruorũ corporis exigit. ostendo quoq; ab ore tendendo compositum uidetur, quod os extendere solemus in id, quod uolumus demonstrare. ab hoc fit frequentatiuum ostento, quod significat sæpe, & cum iactantia quadam ostendo. unde ostentatio pro iactantia, & inani gloria, & ostentum, de quo mox dicemus. Item portendo à porrò, hoc est lõge tendo. est autem portendere significare, prædicere. Virg. Nunc illũ fatis externa sede profectum Portendi generũ. ab hoc deriuatur portentum, quod aliquid futurum portendit, quãuis aliquãdo ponatur pro re inani, falsa, atq; ridicula. Cice. Aut quid negotij est hæc poëtarum, & pictorũ portenta conuincere? portenta, monstra, prodigia, ostenta sic inter se differunt. monstra sunt proprie, quæ contra naturam fiunt, ut si homo cum bruti capite, pedibus ue nascatur, quæ & promonstra aliquando dicuntur, quasi porrò aliquid monstrantia, siue monentia: portenta, quæ licet naturalia sint, raro tamen se ostendunt, & futurum aliquid cum temporis interuallo denunciant: ostenta uero, quæ statim futurum aliquid indicant, ut sunt sereno die facta tonitrua, cometæ, mulæ partus, & similia: prodigia, quæ etsi uaturaliter fiunt, ac sæpe eueniunt, semper tamen aliqd præsagiunt mali, quapropter prodigium quidam dictum uolunt, quasi porrò agendũ. Vir. Sola nouum, dictúq; nefas harpyia celæno Prodigiũ canit, & tristeis denunciat iras. talia sunt bonis eiulatus in tectis, abeunti obuia mustella, corui cantus, & similia. confunduntur tamen hæc sæpe ab autoribus, & pro eodem significato accipiuntur, omniáq; ab eo, quod futurũ aliquid ostendũt, dicta sunt. monstrũ à mõstrando, uel quasi monestrũ, quod moneat aliquid futurũ: prodigium quasi prædiciũ, quod prædicat, quis alij (ut diximus) quasi porrò agendũ dictũ uelint. portentũ, quod portendat: ostentũ, quod ostendat. ad hæc pertinet etiã omen, quod ore auguriũ sit dictum, quasi oremen, licet alij ab omento, quod extispices notare solent, appellatum putent. est autem omen uerbũ mediũ, & modo significat auspiciũ prosperũ. Virg. Omine quo firmans animũ sic incipit ipsa. modo aduersum. Idẽ: Ne'ue omine tãto prosequere. alij hæc ita distinguũt, ut ostenta, et monita generalia nomi sint, mõstra uero deorũ monita. Idẽ: Mõstra deũm refero. prodigia iræ, ac minæ deorũ. Idem: Sola nouũ, dictúq; nefas harpyia celæno Prodigiũ canit. portenta, quæ aliquid importari, ac iam imminere denũciant. Lucil. Si portenta, angueisq; uolucres q; pennatas scribitis, omnia uocis, & mentis notæ. Virg. Ignauus bubo dirũ mortalibus omẽ procurari aũt, siue auertí seu depelli portenta, prodigia, monstra, ostenta omnia dicuntur, cum mala, quæ ex ijs portendũtur, precibus, supplicijs, religione, & deorũ cerimonijs fugãtur. explanare uero est interpretari, & declarare q̃d sit, quod futurũ ostendãt, nisi placatis per sacrificia per sacrificia dijs auertãtur, unde prodigiatores prodigiorũ interpretes nominãtur. à monstro fit mõstrosus, sicut à portento portentosus, ab ostento ostentosus, à prodigio prodigiosus, & ab omine ominosus, hoc est monstrum, portentum, prodigiũ, omẽ faciens. & aduerbia mõstrose, portentose, prodigiose, omine, hoc est cum mõstro, portento, prodigio, omine. Itẽ prodigiale, quod prodigiũ procurat. Plau. Sed mulier postq; experrecta es, prodigiali Ioui, aut mola salsa hodie, aut thure comprecatũ oportet. ab omine fit ominor, hoc est auspicor, omẽ capio. à quo abominor, execror, fastidio, & quasi pro malo omine habeo. ab hoc abominale, abominator, abominatrix, et abominatio. Item audio, quasi aureis do, quoniã ad ea, quæ audimus, accõmodare aureis uidemur. Vnde audire proprie est auribus ꝓcipere. Teren. Visa sum audire uocẽ modo militis. ponitur tamẽ frequẽter audio pro credo, & præcipitẽti pareo, sed frequentius ꝑ negationẽ, & participiũ, qđ transit in nomẽ. Quin. Nec audiendi quidã, quorum est Albutius, qui ireis modo primas esse uolunt, quia memoria, atq; actio, natura non arte contingant. Nonnunq; sine negatione. Liuius: Cisem tuũ non audisti arma capere, ac sequi iubenti. aliquãdo accipitur pro fateor, unde dicimus, audio, & fateor, ut secundũ primi declarationis sit, sed cũ datiuo iunctũ semp pro obedio usurpatur. Cice. Et audiens esset huic ordini. Virgi. audiendi uocabulum etiã adea transtulit, quæ auribus, & sensu carent: Et frustra retinacula tendens Fertur equis auriga, neq; audit currus habenas. est etiam quãdo audio pro exaudio accipitur. Vir. Audijt & cœli genitor de parte sinistra Intonuit læuum. Ab audio cõposita fiunt obedio, qđ est pareo. ueteres & obaudio dixere. ex audio, quod aliquãdo pro audio capitur. Idẽ: Vox quoq; per lucos uulgo exaudita silẽteis. aliquãdo pro audita cõcedo. Idẽ: Et nulli exaudita deorũ Vota, precesq; meæ. inaudio, qđ aliquando idem significat, qđ audio. Cic. Quorũ erupit illa uox de qua ego à te primũ inaudierã. Idem epistol. famil. lib. IX. ad Petum: Nam & Aquini, & Fabatariæ consilia sunt inita de me, quæ te uideo inaudisse. aliquando non audio. Idem: Rem certe nouã, & ante hunc diem inauditã. aliquando tamen inauditũ accipimus pro eo, quod nõ audit. Varro: Animaliũ aliud alio sensu caret: quædã enim à natura gignuntur aut inodora, aut inaudita. cõaudio, simul audio, & coaudio dicitur. subaudiõ, modo parum audio, modo subintelligo. Item ab eodem deriuatur auditus, quod modo sensum ipsum audiendi significat, ut quinq; sunt sensus in homine, uisus, auditus, gustus, odoratus, tactus. modo id, quod auditũ est. Pli. Ego ex auditu loquebar, hoc est ex eo, quod audiuerã. auditio ipse audiendi actus. auditorium locus, in quo quis auditur uel orans, uel legens. Item multitudo ipsa audientium. audientia ipsa (ut ita dicam) auditio. Plaut. Exurge præco, fac populo audientiã, hoc est, fac ut populus præstet aureis. auris uero ab hauriendo dicitur aspiratione detracta, quod uocẽ accipiat. haurire enim proprie accipere, & excipere, & extrahere est. Virgil. Vocẽq; his auribus hausi. tractũ ab aura, quæ humorẽ omnem extrahit, atq; exicat. per metaphorã tamen aliquãdo pro uidere accipitur. Idẽ: Hausit cœlũ, mentẽq; recepit. aliquãdo pro auide sumere. Cic. Cum inexplebili cupiditate, quo fluẽteis cupiditateis undiq; hauriret, eo grauius, ardentiusq; sitientem. Virg. Ille impiger hausit Spumantem paterã, & pleno se proluit auro. nonnunquã pro confodere, uulnerare. Idem: Per tunicã squalentem auro latus haurit apertũ. interdũ pro defatigare. Idem: Exultãtiaq; haurit corda pauor pulsans plerunq; pro uere. Idem: Spero equidẽ medijs, si quid pia numina possunt Supplicia hausurum scopulis. Sæpe etiã pro uacuare. Luci. Quãdo haurire animus mus arũ, & fortia gessit, unde ab eo fit auster, de quo inferius dicemus, ab hauriendis aquis, & austra rotarũ cadi. Vir. Et fluuio uersare rotas, atq; austrã. et exhaurire, quod est prorsus euacuare. à quo exhaustũ dicimus finitũ, terminatum. Virgil. Quæ bella exhausta canebat. ex enim præpositio in cõpositione aliquando intentiua est, ut excogito, exaudio, quod est cogitando inuenio, & audiendo concedo. aliquando priuatiua, ut exlex sine lege, & exanimis sine anima. quod similiter fit in e præpositione. nam in effero, & eloquor intentiua est, in eduro uero, & enode priuatiua, nam eduras corylos dicimus, hoc est non duras, & enodes truncos, hoc est sine nodis. In appositione uero e, & ex aliquando significant pro, ut è repub. hoc est pro rep. & ex utilitate. & ubi dictio incipit ab r, tollenda est x, ut è regione, id est ex opposito, uel è diuerso, uel è cõtrario. ex tempore dicere, est ex improuiso, & impræmeditatũ dicere, nec domi compositã orationẽ proferre. à quo extẽporalis, siue extemporaria oratio dicitur. Cice. Quos credimus expedire rem, & consiliũ ex tẽpore capere posse. aliquãdo tamen ex tẽpore significat pro tẽporis cõditione. Idem: Vnius generis quoties sunt hæ ões, in qbus ex tẽpore officiũ quæritur. ex renibus laborare, idẽ est, qđ in renibus morbũ pati. ex uinculis causam dicere, est uinctum respondere criminibus. ex sententia aliqd habere, est aduotum habere, licet illud uideatur rationis esse, hoc affectus, eodẽ tamen significationis ueniũt. Quint. Habes ne uxorẽ ex animẽ tui sententia? Idẽ. Et ad omne uotũ fluente fortuna lasciuit otiũ. haurio iccirco cũ aspiratione scribi existimãt, ut prima ꝑsonæ præteriti perfecti differat à nominatiuo plurali huius nominis ausus, & secunda persona præsentis indicatiui à nomine auris. ab auris fit diminutiuũ auricula, quæ proprie est chartilago illa circũ aurium concauitatem. & auritus, qui uel magnas aureis habet. Audire ignoti, qđ imperãt soleo nõ auscultare. quãdoq; pro aspicio, cerno. Afra. Ludos hinc auscultaui procul. Varro hoc ab audio deriuatũ putat. auscultare etiã ueteres dicebãt pro oscolari. Plau. Et inter se auscultãt, & colũbatim os cum ore conferũt. & tunc ab osculo, hoc est ore deducitur, qđ auscultũ dicebãt antiqui. Var. Nam ab auris auricularis, & auricularius. unde auricularij specillũ dicimus, & uerminatio auricularis uocatur, cum putrida aures uermibus scatent. & auricularis digitus paruus, quo aures mundãtur. Item auriscalpiũ instrumentũ, quo mundantur aures. de quo Mart. Si tibi morosa prurigine uerminat auris, arma damus tantis apta libidinibus. Item ab haurio fit haustus quartæ declinationis, qđ sorbitionẽ significat. inueniturq; aliquãdo apud ueteres haustum facere pro eo, quod est potare. & hausto frequentatiuum, & compositũ exhaurio, quod est effero, euacuo. à quo similiter frequentatiuum exhausto. exhaustum tamen aliquãdo pro finito, ac terminato inuenitur. Virg. Quæ bella exhausta canebat. Mandare quoq; à manu danda declinatũ constat, qđ in dandis, accipiendisq; mandatis manus sibi inuicem dare mos erat. est autẽ mandare alicui personæ gerendũ aliquid, exequendũq; cõmittere. Quint. Mandata tamẽ tua fili perago. hoc est, qđ uulgo dicũt cõmissiones. Virg. Multa patri mãdata dabat. aliquãdo tamẽ ponitur pro cõmendare. Idẽ: Furtim mãdarat alendũ Threicio regi. Cic. Deinde ipsis scriptis nõ ea, quæ nunc, sed etiã actiones nostras mãdaremus, ut sæpe fecimus. hinc Paulus iurisc. inquit: Mandatũ nisi gratuitũ nullũ est. nã originẽ ex officio, atq; amicitia trahit. cõtrariũ porrò officiũ est merces. interueniẽte enim pecunia ad locã tionem, & conductionem potius pertinet. hinc mādatorij dicūtur, quibus dantur mandata, & res gerendæ cōmittuntur. Itē à mando fit cōmendo, quod si cum datiuo iungitur, significat cōmitto, ut cōmendo te regi. si uero accusatiuo cum apud, uel ablatiuo cum in, significat laudo, ut cōmendo te apud regem.

Cicero: Multis à me uerbis in senatu commendatus. hinc com mendaticias literas dicimus, in quibus aliqui commendantur, & cōmendationem modo pro laude, modo pro cōmissione. quiadam commendo, & cōmitto sic separant, ut commendemus nō cognitis, cōmittamus cognitis. Teren. Ego me tuæ cōmendo, et cōmitto fidei. Item à manu, & dando mādere dictū existimāt, quod manu cibus ori admouetur, quemadmodū & à manu du cenda dicimus māducare. hinc mandones, & manducones dic-ti, de quibus supra disseruimus, & manducus, & māsum, hoc est dentibus contritum. hoc enim proprie mandere, & mandu care, & cōmanducare est. Plin. Radix cyperi cōmanducata, & uulneri imposita prodest. & mandibula, in qua situ sunt dentes, quæ & maxilla dicitur, & mansucius, quod significat edacem, & maturū, & mite, quod decoctum, & ad mandendū aptum est. et mensa, quod modo discum significat, in quo mādi tur. Virg. Postq; exēpta fames epulis, mensæq; remotæ. modo ipsa cibaria, unde primæ, & secūdæ mensæ dicūtur, id est pri-cundis Transierim Rhodia. Mensa enim pro trapeza, hoc est tabula, qua argentarij utuntur. à qua trapezitæ dicūtur men sarij. Itē à do satisdo, qđ est fideiubeo. à quo satisdator, fideius sor. & satisdatio, fideiussio. Satisdatio inquit Caius, eodē mo do appellata est, quo satisfactio. nam ut satisfacere dicimur ei, cuius desideriū implemus, ita satisdare dicimur dare aduersa rio nostro aliquē, qui pro eo, quod à nobis petitur, ita caueat, ut eum hoc nomine securū faciamus. Satisdare, & satis præsta re idem sunt. Item à dando uadis primo, deinde per syncopem uas dictus sponsor. à quo uadimonium. sic enim à dando uades, sicut à præstando prædes dicūtur, unde compræides appel lantur eiusdem rei sponsores. uadimonium quidam ita definiunt, ut sit spōsio ad certū diem sistendi se in iudicio, id est cōpa rendi per se, uel per aduocatos. Quint. de legato frumentario: qui ad præstitutū diem uenerat, inquit: nisi tamen ad uadimo nium legate uenisses, non multorū dierum commeatū habeba SIBI. Romæ ſcilicet. Sui pronomen eſt reciprocum, dictum ita, quia in ſe ipſum reflectitur. Reciprocum proprie ſignificat repetitum, & reciprocare repetere eſt: quoniam ueteres procari petere dicebant. unde proci à petendis mulieribus dicti. Sunt enim proci, qui mulieres in matri-monium poſcunt. Virgilius: Procos irriſa priores. & qui adeo impudentes ſunt, ut nimis petant, procaces appel-lantur. Vnde procax meretrix, petulans dicitur, impudens, inuerecunda, mordax. Terentius: Maligna multum. & ma-gis procax

gis procax illico facta eſt. & procacitas petulantia, quæ non ſolum de animantibus, ſed etiam de alijs rebus dicitur. Vir-gilius: Penitusq; procacibus auſtris, hoc eſt ſæuientibus pro-cellis aſperis, malignis. procaciter quoque aduerbium ab eo fit, hoc eſt petulanter. Procor autem à prociendo deriuatur. procire enim petere eſt. Liuius: Matrem procitum uenerat. ha bẽtque penultimam ſyllabam correptam. quando enim producta eſt, ſignificat ruptum, atq; irritum. Hinc iuriſconſulti ir ritum teſtamentum procitum dicunt. & procitare ſæpe dicere, prouocare. & procet pro prouocet. procieo autem à cieo decli-natur, quod cõponitur, à cis & eo. Eſt autem ciere prouocare, & quaſi cis, hoc eſt citra mouere, non (ut Seruius inquit) nominare. Virgilius: Extremosq; cient gemitus. Idẽ: Lachrymasq; cimus autem & in quarta coniugatione, cio cis. à quo accire de ducitur, hoc eſt aduocare. ab hoc uero accerſire eiuſdem ſigni-ficationis. & Deaccire idẽ quod accire. A cio cito fit, quod pro prie eſt uoco. Cicero: Citat eum, non reſpondet, citat accuſato rem. Idẽ: Citetur Salamis clariſſimæ teſtis uictoriæ, hoc eſt uo centur Salaminij, ut teſtimonium uictoriæ perhibeant. per metaphoram tamen ponitur pro incito, prouoco, cõmoueo. Idem: Quorum ſtudium legendo, nõ ſcribendo uehementius in dies oſcito, quaſi cito, hoc eſt cõmoueo os. Vnde oſcitatio oris exten ſio dicitur: & uitiũ eius, qui frequenti oſcitatione tenetur, oſce do. quod cum toto corpore fit, pandiculatio dicitur. & qui toto corpore extenditur, dicitur pandiculari. Item citus, hoc eſt ce-ler quaſi citatus. nam qui uocati ſunt, celerius uenire conſueue runt: & citatus quoq; pro celer uſurpatur. Apule. Citato non teſtudineo greſſu. Salluſtius: Modo citus, modo tardus ingreſ-ſus. Ab hoc fit comparatiuum citior, & ſuperlatiuum citiſſi-mus. Plau. Nullam ego rem citiorem apud homines eſſe, quam famam reor. Afranius: Citior abijt ancilla, citiſſima omnium redijt. Item cito aduerbium, à quo citius, & citiſſime. Item à cito alia quoq; compoſita ſiunt. Recito quod ſignificat repeto.

Martialis: Fama refert noſtros te Fidentine libellos Nõ aliter populo, quàm recitare tuos. Excito quod proprie ſignificat expergefacio. Ponitur tamen pro ſolicito. Seneca: Vt otioſum excitarem. ab hoc excitatio, excitamen, excitabulũ, excitamentũ, excitator, excitabũdus deriuãtur. Incito, prouoco, irrito, incen do. A quo incitatio, incitamen, incitabulum, incitamentũ, pro eo quod incitatur. A. Gellius: Fomes, atq; incitabulũ uirtutis.
Item incitator, atq; incitabundus pro eo qui incitat. Suſcito, interdum excito, interdum uiuifico. Seneca: Nec tam ſanare lan-guentem uiſus eſt, quàm mortuũ ſuſcitare. Ab hoc fit ſuſcita-bulum, quod pro incitamẽto accipitur. Varro: Symphonia uo-cis ſuſcitabulum. concito, commoueo, ad iram prouoco, à quo concitatus iratus dicitur. Gellius: Erat enim aliquanto concita mali. Accius: Niſi quaſi terreſtris pontus ſtrages conciet, modo conuoco, à quo concionẽ uocamus multitudinẽ populi congregatam ad audiendum aliquem orãtem pro utilitate communi, propter quod & locus ipſe concio appellatur, & ipſa oratio. & is qui orat, dicitur concionari. Item à concio concilium, multi-tudo populi conſulendi gratia congregata. à quo conciliabulũ locus in quo concilium congregatur, et concilio uerbum, quod eſt comparo, contrabo. capitur q; in bonam & in malam par-tem: Nam & concilio mihi amorem alicuius, ac beneuolentiã dicimus, et concilio odiũ, concilio inimicitias, hoc eſt emo, com paro. Hinc conciliatus pro empto accipitur. Terent. Prodi ma le conciliate, hoc eſt magno precio empte. & cõciliatio pro con uentione uſurpatur. Plau. Extat conciliatio, ſeruanda promiſ ſa. Quando autem non cum re, ſed cum deo ſiue homine iungitur concilio, ſignificat placo, & amicum facio. Virgil. Tu ſce-ptra, Iouemq; concilias. A quo cõciliatrix dicitur mulier, quæ uiris comparat, & conuenire facit uxores, & uxoribus uiros.

& conciliabundus, qui conciliat. et reconciliare eſt in gratiam reſtituere, quoties ſcilicet amici, qui interpoſita aliqua offenſa aliquandiu fuerint inimici, in priſtinam redeunt beneuolentiã, ac familiaritatem. à quo recõciliatio dicta. Dicimus præterea concilio mihi laudem, famam, & honorem. & ſimiliter reconcilio, hoc eſt comparo, & acquiro. Quintilianus: Nam & plus autoritatis afferunt ea, quæ non præſentis gratia litis ſunt com parata: & laudem ſæpe maiorem, quàm ſi noſtra ſint, reconciliant. Cis autem, à quo cieo deduci diximus, licet proprie citra ſignificet, aliquando tamen pro ultra ponitur. Salluſtius: Cis Rhenum atque inter mare noſtrum, et Oceanum. à quo ci timus dicitur extremus, & citima uocantur quæ cœlo proxima ſunt. Cicero: Quibus erat ea minima, quæ ultima cœlo, citima terris luce lucebat aliena. Et citra, quod præter notam ſignificationem ponitur aliquando proſine. Vt cum dicimus plus uſus ſine doctrina, quàm citra uſum doctrina ualet. & ciſterna, de qua inferius dicemus. Ciſſum uehiculi biroti genus eſt. Cicero: In quadam caupona ſe occultans perpotum ciſſio donum uenit. Ciſſeus rex Thraciæ fuit, pater He-cubæ uxoris Priami, à quo Ciſſeis patronymicum fœmini-num. Citeria appellabatur effigies quædam arguta, & lo-quax ridiculi gratia, quæ in pompa uehi Romæ ſolebat.
Varro reciprocum à recipiendo deriuatum ſcribit, & id eſſe, quod aliunde profectum redit eò, unde profectum eſt.
Accius: Reciproca tendens neruo equino concita tela. Hinc re ciprocatio picitur retrogradatio ſiue circumactio. Plinius:

ad pristinum subinde cursum rediens reciprocus est, ita hæc pronomina, ad id unde prodierant reuertuntur, quod Græci ἀντιστρέφειν, & ἀντιστρόφως uocant. Neque enim dicere fas est, Ego dixi sibi, non est sibi curæ respublica, tu fuisti secum (ut uulgus indoctorũ loquitur) quia nulla in ijs reciprocatio est. Ideo ita dicendum, ego dixi ei, non est ei curæ respublica, tu fuisti cum eo simili modo non est fas dicere, uidi Ciceronem & fratrem suum, sed, uidi Ciceronem & fratrem eius. Econtrario uero barbare dicitur in sacris literis: Omnes à te expectãt, ut des illis cibũ in tempore, ubi proculdubio reciprocatio est, ideóque non illis, sed sibi est scribendum. Sicut enim rectè dicimus: Omnes expectamus, ut det nobis escam in tempore, omnes expectatis, ut det uobis escam in tempore: ita dicendum est, omnes expectant, ut des sibi escam in tempore. item parum latine translatum est: A gloria eorum repulsi sunt, pro à gloria sua: & perierunt propter iniquitatem eorum, pro suam. Rectè ergo Poëta inquit: Reddita Roma sibi est. Nam si scriberetur, reddita ei, de altero intelligeretur, utputa reddita Neroni, aut cuipiã alteri. etenim si ita dicamus: Dũ Cicero cum Trebatio loqueretur, pluribus uerbis negligentiã eius accusauit, profectò Trebatij negligentiã à Cicerone accusatã intelligimus. Si uero negligentiã suam dicamus, Ciceronem significamus negligentiã propriam, dum cum Trebatio loqueretur, accusasse. Est tamen quando indifferenter & se pro ipsum, pro ut ad illius, de quo loquimur, uel ad nostram personam sermonem referemus, in quorum altero reciprocatio est, alter nullam habet reciprocationem. Verbi causa: Omnes optãt, quod sibi utile est: & omnes optant, quod ipsis utile est. illud ad personam eius, de quo loquimur refertur, & manifestam habet reciprocationem, hoc ad personam nostram, ideóq; nulla est in eo reciprocatio. Cice. Multi dubitabant, quid optimum esset, multi quid sibi expediret. Idem: Legatus in pace profectus in prouincia pacatissima ita se gessit, ut ei pacem esse expediret. Idem: Qui erranti comiter mõstrat uiam, quasi de suo lumine lumen accendit, facit, ut nihilominus ipsi luceat cum illi accenderit. Hic notandum est, quod aliquãdo pro sui siue suus, ponitur, is aut ipse aut ille, duntaxat ad uitãdam amphibologiam, hoc est sermonis ambiguitatẽ. Cicero in Bruto sic scribit: Is soceri instituto, quem quia cooptatus in augurum collegium non erat, non admodũ diligebat, præsertim cum ille Quin. Scæuolam sibi minorem natu generum prætulisset. Notat hũc locum Quintilianus, & id sibi tam ad socerum, quàm ad Fannium referri posse testatur. Quod si dixisset, ei, de Fannio utiq; locutus intelligeretur. Item notandũ, quod suus aliquãdo pro proprius accipitur. Persius: Velle suum cuiq; est, nec uoto uiuitur uno. Catullus: Suus cuiq; innatus est error. Et interdũ huic pronomini additur sibi, nulla necessitate, sed ueluti cuiusdam festiuitatis gratia. Terentius: Suo sibi hunc gladio iugulo. Cic. Suo sibi uictitant succo. Columel. Suo sibi iure abluuntur. utimur etiam frequenter hoc dicendi modo: suus est illius mos, sua est istius natura, suus est Aristotelis modus, suũ Platonis genus, sua discentis diligentia, sua docentis. Nec illud contemnendum est, hoc pronomen suus non carere uocatiuo. Nam quod in sacris literis legitur: Laudate dominum omnes angeli eius, profecto angeli sui legendũ est, qui est uocatiui casus. Præterea quis neget ita dici elegãter posse: Defendite, adiuuate, protegite, Cæsarem uita periclitantem ô amici sui, ô milites sui, ô ciues sui. Mouere me aliquando solet, quod Virgilius scripsit: Viuite felices, quibus est fortuna peracta Iam sua. ubi proculdubio non sua, sed uestra dicendum erat: nec mihi absimile ueri uidetur, emendaturum hunc locum poëtam omnium maximum fuisse, si opus perfecisset. Nã quod alibi ait: Quisq; suos patimur manes, non refertur id suos ad primam personam, quia sic resoluenda oratio est: Nos patimur maneis, sed quisq; nostrũ suos. Præterea illud quoq; sciendũ, quod hæc tria pronomina, ego, tu, sui, binos genitiuos sortita sunt, mei, tui, sui, & mis, tis, sis. Sed alteri, hoc est mis, tis, sis, actiue capiebantur, in quorum locum succedere meus, tuus, suus, quæ possessiua pronomina uocitantur. Ennius: Ingens cura mis cõcordibus æquiparare. mis pro meis posuit, non pro mei. At mei, tui, sui, nunquam nisi passiue accipiuntur. Quintilianus: Et quod inter ista difficillimum fuit, amore mei uicit etiam matrem suam. Cicero: Quod desiderium tui ferre nõ posset. Virgilius: Quiq; sui memores alios fecere merendo. Terentius: Hoc unum scio hanc meritam, ut memor esses sui. Non significatur hic amor meus, quẽ in alterũ habeo, sed quem alter erga me habet. Item non desiderium tuum, sed alterius de te, & non memoria sua, sed de se. Similiter in plurali duorum. nam sui uocem genitiui pluralis, ac singularis non uariat, nostrum & uestrum, respondent ad illa mis, & tis, ut nemo nostrum, nemo uestrum, non autem nemo nostri, nemo uestri. Veteres certe, maiores nostrum, pro maiores nostri, scripsere. Vnde importunissime fecisse Aul. Gellius scripsit, qui in plerisq; Sallustij exemplarijs scripturam istam syncerissimam corruperũt. Nam cum in Catilinario scriptum foret: Sæpe maiores nostrum miserti plebis Romanæ. nostrum aboleuerunt, & nostri scripserunt. Rursus habete curam nostri, sicut habemus curam uestri, non autem nostrum, & uestrum: quia hæc respondent ad illa mei, tui. aliquando tamen hæc confunduntur, sed perraro, ut causa mea, & causa mei, et apud Terentium: Vt apparet desiderio id fieri tuo, uidelicet quo tu desideraris, non quo desideras. Proprie autem memoria mea actiue accipitur, quod scilicet ego recordor: memoria mei passiue, quod alij de me recordantur. Dolor meus, quo solicitor: dolor mei, quo alij solicitantur. copia mea, quam ego possideo: copia mei, qua possideor. Vt meretrix facit omnibus copia sui, non suam: potestas mea quam habeo, potestas mei qua habeor. Vtilitas mea, quã suscipio: utilitas mei quã suscipit alius, hoc est, quæ à me suscipitur. Quintilianus: Sed ut aliquid præstaret patriæ utilitatis mei, id est de me. Sic fastidium meum, quo ego alios fastidio: fastidiũ mei, quo ab alijs fastidior. Idem Seu mulier omnibus exposita mortalibus uanitatem fastidio mei, despectu; captauit. Sunt tamen quædã ancipitem habentia significationẽ, sed quæ facile discerni possit, ut cũ dico: Hæc est pars mea, non de parte corporis intelligo, sed hæreditatis. & rursus, hæc est pars mei, non de hæreditate, sed de corpore. Manus pars mei est, non mea: fundus pars mea, non pars mei. Nam quod Cic. inquit: Ex quo uereor nihil sim tui, nisi suppositionem pedum imitatus, hic tui de tuo significat, non de te, estq; à tuũ in genere neutrali, non à tu pronomine primitiuo. Adeo autem dare actiuam significationẽ in his tribus genitiuis mei, tui, sui, refugerunt autores linguæ Latinæ, ut eos mutauerint in aliam uocem, genitiuis aliarum dictionum, cum quibus conjunguntur, minime mutatis. Cic. Dico mea unius opera rempublicam esse liberatam. Idem: Solius enim meum peccatum corrigi non potest. Idem: Ex tuo ipsius animo coniecturam capio. Non dixit, quia non licuit, mei unius opera, mei solius peccatum, tuipsius animus. & in plurali Quintilianus: Deinde cum satis uires eorum explorauerint, suæ ipsorum fiduciæ permittunt, non dixit, sui ipsorum fiduciæ. Nostræ quoque religionis homines, qui sacras literas interpretati sunt, hoc diligentissime obseruarunt: Domine exaudi uocem meam clamantis ad te. & alibi: Domine non morabor iustitiæ tuæ solius. Item alibi: Sustulit de latere meo ancillæ tuæ dormientis. & tuam ipsius animam pertransibit gladius. Nec alia causa Terentius scripsit: Saluus sum meo præsidio, atq; hospitis: & non præsidio mei, atq; hospitis. Idem: Hem tot mea solius soliciti sunt causa, ut me expleãt. Gaudent autem maxime hæc pronomina siue in primitiuorum genitiuorum, siue in possessiua uoce illis tribus solius, ipsius, unius. possumus tamen & trium, & quatuor eleganter dicere. Item omnium, plurium, cuiuscunq;, & siqua sunt huiusmodi. Cicero: Sed uoluntati uestræ omnium parui. Brutus: qui uestris paucorum respondeat laudibus. Veteres sas pro suas usurpauere. Ennius: Virgines, nam sibi quisq; domi Romanus habet sas. Item sam pro eam. Idem: Nec quisquã philosophiam in somnis uidit priusquã sam discere cœpit. DFLITIAE. Oblectamenta. Delitiæ proprie dicũtur, quæ maxime sunt nobis uoluptati, à deliciendo, hoc est alliciendo nos ad uoluptatẽ. Delicere enim elicere est. Plau. Qui illũ sciat delicere, et noctẽ facere possit de die. Veteres licere implicare dicebant, à licio quod est filũ, quo in tela textrices implicant stamen, unde trilicem dicimus uestem, quæ ex tribus licijs constat. A licere, hoc est implicare lenones appellati, & per diminutionem lenunculi, & fœminino genere lenæ, quod adolescentulos alliciant. significat tamen aliquando lenunculus etiam nauigium piscatorium. Lenas appellat Vlpianus, quæ mulieres quæstuarias prostituũt. Item eas, quæ alterius nomine hoc uitæ genus exercent, ut siqua cauponam exercens, in ea corpora quæstuaria habeat, ut multæ solent sub prætextu instrumẽti cauponij prostitutas mulieres habere, dicendum est hanc quoq; lenæ appellatione contineri. Hinc lenocinari, seu lenocinium facere dicitur, qui quacunq; ratione hunc quæstum exercet, siue principaliter hoc negotium gerat, siue alterius negotiationis assertione utatur. Per metaphorã tamen lenocinari aliquando pro blandiri accipitur, siue allicere. Cicero: Tibi seruiet, tibi lenocinabitur, minus aliquanto contendet, quàm potest. A licio uerbo fit etiã secundũ quosdam lectus, quod fatigatos ad quiescendũ alliciat, quemadmodũ inferius dicemus. Item à delicio dulce, hoc est suaue, quod dulcia maxime alliciant. Ab hoc fit dulciculus diminutiuum, & dulcitas. Næuius: O suauis linguæ sonitus, ô dulcitas animæ, et dulcitudo. Accius: Tanta hinc in corda dulcitudo inuasit. & dulcedo. Cic. Quinetiã gustatus, qui est sensus ex omnibus maxime uoluptarius, quippe dulcedine præter cæteros sensus commouetur. & dulcor. Plinius: Contractata dulcorem amittit. & dulceo uerbum. A quo dulcesco. Idem: Paulatimq; matuescentia dulcescunt. Item dulcior, dulcissimus, & aduerbia dulciter, dulcius, dulcissime, et dulce pro dulciter, prædulce ualde dulce, & subdulce aliquantulum dulce, & edulco uerbũ, quod est dulcius facio. Cn. Matius: Quapropter edulcare conuenit uitam, Curasq; acerbas sensibus gubernare. & dulciloquus dulciter loquens. & dulcifluus, dulciter fluens, & dulcisonus dulciter sonans. Item à licio fit compositum allicio, quod est attraho, induco. A quo allecto frequentatiuum. Cicero: Ad quem fruendum non modo non retardat, uerum etiã inuitat, atq; allectat senectus. & allicefacio, à quo allicefio. Suetonius de Vitellio: Pronus uero ad cuiuscũq;, et quacunq; de causa necem, atq; supplicium, nobiles uiros condiscipulos, & æquales suos omnibus blanditijs tantũmodo ad societatem imperij allicefactos uario genere fraudis occidit. Pellicio, quod est blandiendo decipio. A quo pellicator, qui ad fraudem pellicit, & pelliculatio, quo Cato utitur pro blanda, & fraudulenta inductione. et pellax, fallax, à quo pellacia, fallacia. Virum ubi nulla fugam reperit pellacia. Lucretius: Subdola cũ uidet penitus pellacia ponti. Item à pellicio pellex, quia blandiendo uirũ ab uxore seducit. Est enim pellex, quæ cum eo corpus miscet qui habet uxorem: sicut concubina, quæ cum cœlibe uiro, sine nuptijs locum tenet uxoris, quã Græco uocabulo παλλακὴν, hoc est pallacen appellamus. Suetonius de Vespasiano: Inde quieti uacabant accubante aliqua pallacarum, quas in locum defunctæ Cenidis plurimas constituerat. Iustinus quoque Cyri pallacen nominat. Sed hæc loca uitio ferè librariorũ corrupta sunt, ut alia pleraque: quippe pro pallacem pellicem scripsere. Cum pellex latinum sit, nec uiri pellex dicatur, sed uxoris. Nemo enim latine loqueretur pellex mea, sed pellex uxoris meæ, pallace uero sit græcũ, & cõcubinã significet, rectèq; uiro iũgatur hoc modo, hæc est pallace mea, hæc est pallace Vespasiani, quemadmodũ hæc est concubina mea, concubina Vespasiani. ubicunq; ergo repertũ fuerit pellicem ad masculũ referri, sciendũ est errorem ibi esse librarij, & pro pellicem pallacem esse scribendũ. Non sine errore Masurius iurisconsul. scripsit pellicem eam habitam, quæ cum uxor nõ esset, cum aliquo tamen uiuebat: quã uero nomine amicã, paulo honestiori concubinam appellamus. Hinc Caius Flaccus emendauit pellicem uocari scribens, quæ cum eo, cui uxor sit, corpus miscet. A pellex fit pellicatus, sicut à concubina concubinatus. à delicio delecto, quod proprie significat attraho, duco. Ennius: Et me Apollo ipse delectat, ac ductat Delphicus. Quadrigarius: Fabius de nocte cœpit hostiũ castra oppugnare, hostem delectare, dum collega id caperet, qđ captabat. Et quoniã quæ grata, ac iucunda sunt, nos attrahere, atq; allicere solent, factum est, ut delectare sit gratum esse, ac iucunditate afficere. A quo delectatio, & delectamentũ, & delectamen. Item delitiũ in singulari, & in plurali delitiæ. Mart. Stellæ delitiũ mei columba, Verona licet audiente dicam, uicit maxime passerem Catulli. Suetonius: Titus amor, ac delitiæ generis humani, tantum illi ad promerendum omniũ uoluntatem uel ingenij, uel artis, uel fortunæ superfuit. Ab hoc delicatus plenus delitijs, siue in delitijs uiuere assuetus, & per metaphorã mollis, ac tener. A quo aduerbium delicate. delicia uero lignum est, quod à culmine ad tegulas angulares infimas uersus fastigatũ collocatur. unde tectum ipsum deliciatum, & tegulæ deliciares appellatæ. Delicare autem ueteres dicebant explanare, indicare, aperire. Accius: Quare alia ex crimine inimicorum effugere possis, delicat. Titin. Quid istuc est, aut iste uult sermo mater delica, hoc est indica, ostende, explana. Item à licio fit oblicio, idem significans, quod delicio, à quo oblecto, & ab eo oblectatio, oblectamen, oblectamentum. Veteres etiam delicare aliquando pro dedicare usurparunt. Sunt tamen qui delecto, & oblecto non à delicio & oblicio uerbis deduci existimant, sed à lacto uerbo. Lactare enim est non solum lac præbere, sed dulcedine aliqua retinere, & ad persuasionem inducere. Terentius: Nisi me lactasses amantem, & falsa spe produceres. Idem: Eorum animos lactas. Hoc à lacte deriuatur, quod significat succum maternum, quo animalia nutriuntur. Virgilius: Et lac subducitur agnis. dictum similiter à liciendo, quia admotis mammis infantes alliciuntur. Hinc fit etiam lacteo, quod est lac fugo. Lactans enim est quod lac præbet, lactens cui præbetur. & lacteus candidus, suauis, succulentus. & lacesco in lac conuertor. & lactuca à lacte dicta, quod id genus oleris lacte abundet, præsertim ea quã meconim uocant, à copia lactis soporiferi. quippe apud Græcos μήκων papauer dicitur, quæ herba soporem inducit. A lactuca lactucinorum familia appellata. Lactes quoque à liciendo dicuntur, quod cibum alliciant. Sunt enim lactes in oue, & homine, per quas labitur cibus. In cæteris hæ ilia, quibus capaciora sunt intestina ad aluum. Pla. Ita cibi uacuitate uenio laxis lactibus. Itẽ à lacte lacticinia, hoc est cibi ex lacte facti, et Lactophagi Scythiæ populi, qui & Galactophagi dicũtur, et lactaria herba, quæ & tithymallus dicitur. & lactuca caprina, de qua inferius dicemus. & lactaria columna, quæ erat in foro boario, dicta quod ad eam infanteis lacte alendos deferebant. Item elicio, quod est educo, extraho. à quo elecebræ argentariæ dictæ sunt meretrices ab eliciendo argento. & elices sulci aquarij; per quos aqua collecta educitur. & electo frequentatiuum: Plautus: Electabo adolescentem muneribus. et elicius Iupiter. etenim Numa Pompilius regnum urbis Romæ adeptus pontificem elegit, cui sacra omnia excripsit, atque exignauit, quibus hostijs, quibus diebus ad quæ templa sacra fierent, cæteraq; omnia publica, priuataq; sacra ponificis scitis subiecit, ut esset, quò consultum plebs ueniret, nequid diuini iuris negligendo patrios ritus, peregrinosq; asciscendo turbaretur. Nec cœlestes modo cerimonias, sed iusta quoq; funebria, placãdosq; maneis, ut idem pontifex edoceret, quæq; prodigia fulminibus, alióue quouis modo missa susciperentur, atq; curarentur. Ad ea elicienda è mentibus diuinis Ioui Elicio aram in Auentino dicauit. Põtifex uero appellatus est uel à posse, & facio (ut Scæuolæ placet) uel (ut Varro affirmat) à ponte. nam à pontificibus pons sublicius primum est factus, & postea sæpe restitutus, necnon cæterorum pontium cura eis data. Illicio attraho, illaqueo, à quo illecebræ dictæ blanditiæ, quibus illlicimur. A quo illecebrosus, qui inanibus blandimentis hominem allicit, & illix, qui allicit, sicut illex, qui sine lege, & sine iure uiuit, & illecto pro allecto, & illicium, de quo inferius dicemus, cum populus illiciet. ilico uero nõ ab illicio declinatur, sed à loco, quasi in loco. Proprie enim ilico significat in eo loco. Næuius: Septimum decimũ annum ilico sedent. Ennius: Et quia quò irent nesciebant, ilico manserunt. Ponitur tamen frequentissime pro statim. Plautus: Ilico hic ante ostium eramus. Locus proprie dicitur quicquid aliquid continet. Virgilius: Hic locus urbis erit. Ponitur q; à dialecticis inter accidentia substantiæ, & est una de septem circunstantijs, quæ ita numerantur, persona, qualitas, negotium, facultas, causa, modus, tempus, quæ hoc uersu clauduntur: Quis, quid, ubi, quibus auxilijs, cur, quomodo, quando. Aliquando locus ponitur pro genere. Sallustius: Natus haud obscuro loco. Est & locus argumenti sedes. Item cũ dicimus loco patris, loco fratris, loco filij te habeo, non significamus, quod ubi illi antea erant, ibi tu nunc apud me sis, sed quod in ea charitate, qua illi aut fuerũt, aut sunt, aut essent aut esse deberent. Terentius: Si te in Germani fratris dilexi loco. Interdum tamen in locũ potius dicimus, quàm in loco, quoties aliud erat, aliud successit, quod nõ fit sine uerbo significante motum. Quintilian. Nam quomodo pugnam ineuntibus tot simul metus, laboris, dolorum, postremo mortis ipsis excideriint, nisi in eorum locum pietas, & fortitudo, & honesti præsens imago successerit? Item loco solatij mihi est dicimus, loco uoluptatis, loco honoris, loco turpitudinis, pro iucundũ, uoluptuosum, honorificũ, turpe. Dicimus autem in singulari locus tantum masculino genere, in plurali uero loci, & loca tam masculino, quàm neutro. Sed pro sedibus argumentorum duntaxat masculino usurpamus, & in plurali locos mulieris uuluam appellamus. nam in reliquis animalibus dicimus tantum uuluam. A locus fit diminutiuũ loculus, quod sacculũ significat, qui alio nomine uulua, & bulga, & marsupiũ dicitur, & Capsula. hinc loca distincta, in quibus aues nidificant, & quæcunq; similia dicuntur loculamenta. Columella: Vel si non ita competit, paxillis adactis tabulæ supponantur, quæ uel loculamenta, quibus nidificent aues, uel fictilia columbaria recipiant. item loco uerbũ, quod proprie significat pono, quasi in loco constituo. Virgil. Hic alta theatri fundamenta locant alij. Aliquando ponitur pro repono, unde locatũ repositum dicimus.

Plautus: Dum aulam domi locatam perquirit, ablatã reperit. Interdum per usum alicuius rei precio concedo. A quo locatio dicitur. Cic. Vel quod locatio ipsa preciosa. Idem: Vxoris fundus erat colono locatus. Sæpe etiam pro marito do. Plau. Filiã eius pupillam locauit. A quo illocabilis dicitur, quæ tradi uiro non potest. Idem: Virginẽ habeo grandem, dote cassam, atq; illocabilem. & à loco fit locatarius, qui domum, aut fundum, aliud ue simile in locationem conducit. Nomina enim masculina in arius, & fœminina in aria desinentia, officia hominum, qualitatemq; proprie significant. Vt caprarius, capraria, saltuarius, camparius, horrearius, classiarius, custos, exercitatorq; caprarum, saltus, campi, horrei, classis. sagarius, lintearius, uestiarius, uenditor sagorum, linteorum, uestium. proprietarius, fructuarius, usuarius, cuius est proprietas prædij, cuius fructus, cuius usus, quæ omnia significant actionem, passionemq;. Pauca sunt, quæ passiue accipiuntur, ut legatarius, commodatarius, depositarius, beneficiarius, fideicommissarius, qui legatum, cõmodatum, depositum, beneficiũ, fideicõmissum accepit. Sic locatarius, qui accepit locatum, hoc est conduxit. In arium uero neutra plerunq; repositorium significant, ut tabularium, repositorium instrumentorum, & literarum. Aerarium repositorium æris, ac numorum, pecuniæq;. Sacrarium repositorium sacrorum. Armarium, ubi reponuntur libri. armamentarium, ubi armamenta. Atramentarium uasculum, in quo reponitur atramentum. Calamarium, in quo calami reconduntur, quod & theca calamaria dicitur. Penarium, ubi reponitur penus. Viuarium, ubi continentur aues, pisces, feræ, quæ ad uictum pertinent. Pomarium locus reponendorum pomorum, uel locus constitus pomis. Ouidius: Id metuens solidis pomaria clauserat Atlas Mœnibus. Aluearium locus, ubi sunt aluei apium, & alueorum copia. Rosarium locus, ubi est copia fruticum rosas ferentium. Plantariũ non solum locus plantarum, sed ipsæ plantæ, etiã si euulsæ sint: quãuis Seruius dicat plantaria esse, quæ è seminibus nata cũ radicibus, et terra propria transferuntur, plantas uero, quæ de arboribus rapiũtur. Seminarium ipsum semen, hoc est plantulæ. Pampinariũ palmes, qui è duro exit, materiamq; in proximũ annum promittit, siue cõgeries uirentium ramusculorũ. Calcearij, & uestiarij pro calceis, & uestibus. Fustuariũ pro fustigatiõe, Cibaria pro cibis. Carnarium, & donariũ, de quibus supra diximus. Item à loco locuples, qã pleraq; loca, hoc est multas possessiones tenet. Omnes enim ueterum diuitiæ in agris, atq; pecoribus erant, & (ut Cato refert) quem uirũ bonũ colonũ dixissent, amplissime laudasse existimabantur. Hinc pecunia à pecore appellata, & locupletes dicti diuites, quod locis, hoc est agris pleni essent, & locupletare ditare. cuius passiuũ est locupletari. Plaut. Vicus est paterna hæreditate locupletarier. Itẽ à locis urendis locustæ uocitatæ ob iacturã, quã messibus afferunt, tactu multa ut supra diximus, urentes, morsu uero omnia erodentes. DOMINI, Neronis. POPVLI, Romani scilicet. Populus definitur multitudo hominũ iuris cõsensu, et cõcordi cõmunione sociata. differtq; à plebe: quod in populo omnis pars ciuitatis omnesq; ordines cõtinentur: in plebe autẽ nõ insunt nobiliores, & patritij. ita utrunq; à græco dictum uolunt: Plebem ἀπὸ τῶν πλειόνων, hoc est à pluribus, quod plures sint plebei, quàm patritij. Populũ ἀπὸ τῶν πολλῶν πλειόνων, hoc est multo pluribus, quod populus omneis ordines, ut diximus, complectatur. à populus fit diminutiuũ popellus, hoc est paruus populus, & popularis, quod modo significat id, quod populi est. Teren. Amicus meus summus, & popularis Geta. modo carus populo, unde & populare, est amorem populi conciliare. Pacuuius: Atque ut promerui pater mihi patriam populauit meam.

aliquando etiam popularis pro uili, ignobiliq; accipitur. Plautus: Præstat diuitem esse, ac popularem, quàm nobilem, & mendicum. hinc popularia nugatoria, & puerilia dicimus. Laberius: Dum popularia agimus per ludum. A populus etiam fit populor uerbum, quod & populo dicitur. Virgilius: Populatq; ingentem farris aceruũ. A quo depopulor, hoc est prædor, & deprædor, passimq;, & quasi populatum diripio. A quibus populatio, & depopulatio, & populator, ac depopulator, & populatrix, ac depopulatrix, & populatim, quod modo significat per populos. A puleius: Populatim ab omni prouincia reuocatus. modo cateruatim, et in uniuersum. Cæcilius: Ego perdidi te, qui omneis seruos perdo populatim, quæso ne addas malum ad hoc malum. & populabundus, pro prædabundus, & populosus populo plenus, & popullariter, hoc est affabiliter, humaniter, blande, & cum fauore, ac gratia populi. Iuuenalis: Et uerso pollice uulgi Quemlibet occidunt populariter. & popularitas affabilitas, humanitas, blanditiæ. & publicus (ut quidam existimant) quasi populicus, quod nõ priuatim alicuius, sed populi sit, à quo fit publico uerbum, quod est diuulgo, & publicatio diuulgatio. respublica res populi, & publice, ac publicitus aduerbia, & publica sacra, quæ pro populo fiebant, sicut priuata, quæ pro singulis hominibus, familijsq;. & publicani, qui rebus ad populum spectantibus fruuntur. omnes enim qui à fisco aliquid conducunt, recte publicani nominantur, ut qui uectigalia populi conducta habent, et publica uia, quæ in solo populi est, siue qua iter populo est. & Publius prænomen eius, qui populo gratus fuit, & publipores Publij serui, sicut Marcipores pueri, hoc est serui Marci. huiusmodi enim appellationibus ueteres utebãtur, quod genus intercidit. & Publicola, quod à populo coleretur, siue quod coleret populum. Sic enim appellatus est P. Valerius primus cum Bruto post exactos reges consul creatus: quoniam cum affectare regnum ob ædificari cœptam in summa Velia domum creditus fuisset, ædificata postea in infimo cliuo domo, latãq; de prouocatione aduersus magistratus ad populum, sacrando q; cum bonis capite eius, qui regni occupandi consilia iniisset, lege adeo se omni regni suspitione absoluit, ut popularis etiam factus sit, & publicolæ cognomen adeptus. Item dies populifugia nominatus Iunio mense, quod eo die tumultu repente orto fugerit populus. Non multo enĩ post hic dies fuit, quàm decessus Gallorũ ex urbe, quo tempore, qui tum sub urce erant populi, ut Fidenates & alij finitimi contra populum Romanũ coniurarunt. Scribit Seruius populum in singulari numero unius ciuitatis multitudinem, in plurali uero urbeis significare. Est etiam populus arbor excelsa, folio ederæ, sed parte altera sine angulo, altera oblongo, dicta (ut quidã putant) à frondium multitudine. Tria huius genera sunt, alba, & nigra, & quæ libyca appellatur, minima folia, ac nigerrima. huic arbori, & ulmo, tiliæq;, & oleæ, & salici euenit, ut circunagantur earum folia post solstitium, quod certissimum eius sideris confecti testimonium est. Ab hac populo fit populeus, ut populea uirga. Item populnus, sicut à ficu ficulnus. Quidam etiam putant Populoniam Hetruriæ urbem à populorum multitudine, quæ in eo agro est appellatam. alij à populando, quod frequentibus piratarum depopulationibus pateret: quoniam sola ex omnibus Hetruriæ urbibus ad mare fundata erat, quod ea tempestate urbium conditores uitare conabantur, nẽ barbarorum depopulationibus paterent. A plebe uero diminutiuum fit plebecula, & plebeium, quod plebis est. plebeij ædiles discedente plebe à patribus sunt creati. plebeiæ pudicitiæ sacellum Romæ, ut sacra cætera, colebatur. Item plebiscitum lex, quam plebs, non populus accipit, de qua inferius dicemus. Dicebant autem ueteres plebs plebis tertiæ declinationis, & plẽs plebei. Plinius: Tanta plebei consternatione, ut primo pulsus ex ea regione, mox & interemptus sit. PRÆSIDES. Imperatore. & magna laude Domitiani Neronem dominum, ipsum uero præsidem nominat. Nam dominus dicitur, ut supra diximus, cui populus subiectus est, quiq; plenam habet in subditos potestatem. hunc Græci κοίρανον uocant. Homerus Οὐκ ἀγαθὸν πολυκοιρανίη, εἷς κοίρανος ἔστω. hoc est: Non bonus est multorũ dominatus, unus dominus esto. Veteres hunc tyrannum etiam appellabant. Virgilius: Te propter Libyæ gentes, Numadũq; tyranni Odere. Idem: Pars mihi pacis erit dextram tetigisse tyranni. quamuis postea Tyranni nomen ad eos tantum translatum sit, qui non iure, & æquis legibus, sed ui, & quadam animi libidine dominantur. Idem: Conueniunt quibus aut odium crudele Tyranni, aut metus acer erat. Ab hoc tyrannis dicta sæuum, ac uiolentum imperium, & tyrannicus, quod tyranni est, & tyrannice, quod uiolenter, crudeliter. domini ergo nomen nescio quid superbum sonat, quem admodum regis, de quo supra diximus, & Tyranni. propter quod Diuus Augustus domini appellationem, ut maledictum & opprobrium semper exhorruit, & cum spectante eo aliquando ludos, pronuntiatum esset à Mimo, ô dominũ æquum & bonum, uniuersiq; quasi de ipso dictum comprobassent, statim manu, uultuq; indecoras adulationes repressit, sequenti uero die, grauissimo corripuit edicto, dominumq; se postea appellari; ne à liberis quidem, aut nepotibus suis passus est. In Imperatoris uero, seu præsidis nomine nihil insolens, nihil superbum erat. Quippe imperatores dicebantur, qui senatus, & populi Romani iussu uel ducebant exercitus, uel prouincias administrabant, & singuli duos legatos habebant. Itaq; hi non domini erant, sed ministri, quamuis postea in tyrannidem uersus sit hic magistratus, & Imperatoris mitissimum nomen in eum translatum sit, qui Romani imperij gubernacula tenet. Ab impero dictus est imperator. Imperare autem iubere est, dictum ab in intentiua particula, & paro, quasi statim paro, uel prorsus paro. Ab hoc imperium declinatur, quod modo iussum significat. Virgil. Hic uasto rex Aeolus antro, Luctanteis uentos, tempestates q; sonoras Imperio premit, ac uinclis, & carcere frenat. modo regnum, dominium, unde Romanum imperium, & Romani imperij fineis dicimus. Idem: Imperium oceano, famam qui terminet astris. Idem: Non illi imperium pelagi, sæuumq; tridentem, Sed mihi sorte datum. Aliquando imperium significat potestatem, unde Vlpianus imperium scribit aut merum dici, aut mistum. Merum imperium est habere gladij potestatem ad animaduertendum in facinoroſos homines, quod etiam potestas appellatur. mistum est, cui etiam iurisdictio inest, quod præcipue in danda bonorum possessione consistit. iurisdictio est etiam iudicis dandi licentia. Ab imperio imperiosus dicitur, nimis seuere imperans, crudus & quasi ostentator imperij, qualis Torquatus apud Liuiũ, qui filium licet uictorem, quia contra imperium suum pugnauerat, securi percussit, ob id dictus imperiosus, & Manliana imperia, crudelia uocitata. Ab hoc fit aduerbium imperiose, hoc est acriter, seuere, & cum ostentatione imperij. item ab impero imperito frequentatiuum, & quod apud Plinium reperitur, imperitabundus, pro imperitans. Poëtæ aliquando induperatorem pro Imperatore posuerunt. Iuuenalis: Qualeis tunc epulas ipsum glutisse putamus induperatorem. Præses autem est, qui maius in urbe, aut prouincia imperium habet, de quo superius late disseruimus, à præsidendo ita appellatus, à quo præsidiũ. præsidere uero est præesse (ut supra diximus) & à sedẽdo deducitur. Sedere quid sit manifestũ est. Plau. Si non ubi sedeas locus est, at est ubi ambules. Aliquando ignauiam, cessatio-nem q; significat. Teren. An sedere oportuit domi uirginē tam grandem? De auibus uero sedere dicitur in altiori loco esse, ut passer sedet in tecto: cornix sedet in arbore. ita enim de auibus dicitur sedere, ut de homine, dum sedet super equo, aut iumen to, quocunque corporis habitu ibi maneat. Sedere etiam pro placere ponitur à poëtis. Virgilius: Id q; pio sedet Aeneæ, probat autor Acestes. Secundum augures sedere est considerare, contemplari, consilium capere. Nam post designatas cœli parteis à sedentibus captantur auguria. Plau. Sine iuxta aram sedeam, & dabo meliora consilia. hoc etiam Virgilius ostendit, inducens Picum solum sedentem, cum alios stanteis induxerit Paruaq; sedebat succinctus trabea. & alibi: Turnus sacrata ualle sedebat. Ab hoc tractum est, ut iudices pro tribunali se-deant, nec nisi sedentes ferre sententiam possint, ut intelligant se quid decernant considerare diligenter oportere. Item sedere manere est. Virgilius: Et sedet hoc animo. Sedeo autem à se & eo compositum putant, quasi seorsum eo. Videmur enim se-orsum ire, & quasi à cæteris separari, dum considemus. Dif-fert autem à sedeo sido, quoniam sidere est deorsum descende-re. Virgilius: Sedibus optatis gemina super arbore sidit, id est ab alto demittuntur. Ab hoc composita fiunt assido, quod est apud aliquem officij gratia sedeo, utputa ægrotū, aut regem, aut præsidem. A quo assiduum, assiduitas, assidue, de quibus supra diximus. Item assidelæ mensæ, ad quas sedentes flamīnes sacra faciebant. & asseres, quod assidant parieti, & asses, & assulæ, de quibus supra disseruimus. & assessores, quorum officium est assidere præsidi, atq; consulere, atq; in ijs ferè cau-sis cōstat, cognitionibus, postulationibus, libellis, edictis, decre tis, epistolis. Huius fœmininum est assestrix. Afranius: Dimit tit iam assestricem, me adsese uocat. & consessores, qui simul sedent. Martialis: Nec consessorum uicina numismata tantū Aera, sed à cuneis ulteriora petis. Circunsideo, quod est cōtra sedeo, circundo. obsideo, quod interdum pro circunsideo poni tur, interdum pro contra sedeo. unde obsessi dicuntur, qui egre di urbem, aut oppidum, seu alium locum non possunt, aut ho stibus circunsessi. & obsidio circunsessio. & obsidium, quod fit, ut hostes dimicare cogantur. & obses, qui traditur imperio alterius, ea conditione, ut si dator obsidis à fide recedat, re cipienti sit potestas in corpus, & uitam eius, qui datus est ob-ses. Hic quoniam obsidionis gratia dari consueuit, inde nomen assumpsit, quamuis aliqui ab ob, & fides compositum uelint, quod sit ob fidem datus. Obsidiæ quoq;, sicut insidiæ dicūtur.

Columella: Dum tamen anus sedula, uel puer adhibeatur custos uagantium, ne obsidijs hominum, aut insidiatorū anima-lium decipiantur. Dissideo dissentio. A quo dissidium, hoc est discordia, & dissidiosus contentiosus. desido, otiosus sedeo.
A quo deses desidis, & desidiosus, hoc est piger, ignauus, unde desidia ignauia. Subsido, quod significat subter sedeo. Virgil.
Subsedit dubius. A quo fit subsidium, hoc est auxilium. insido, aliquem dolose expecto. A quo insidiæ, quæ clàm insident, ut hosteis fallant. & ab eo insidior uerbum, & insidiosus insidijs plenus, fallax. Item insidiator, & insidiatrix, qui insidiantur. Iungitur autē insido cum datiuo. Virgilius: Arripuitq; locum, & syluis insedit iniquis. cum insisto cum accusatiuo iun gatur. Idem: Nulli fas casto sceleratū insistere limen. Resido, otior, commoror. A quo resides, otiosi, quieti, segnes. Vir. Iam pridem resides animos. sicut e contrario instanteis dicimus industrios. & resina humor, qui ex arboribus fluens, in ijsdem re sidet. A quo resinatum dicimus, sicut à pice picatum. Iuuenalis: Quid enim resinata iuuentus? Residiare uero ueteres dicebant pro eo, quod est sæpe resilire. Rhesus rex Thraciæ fuit, quem Homerus scribit cum equis albis in auxilium Troianōrum uenisse, & à Diomede, atque Vlysse noctu in castris suis se occisum. Est etiam nomē fluminis Troiæ. Rhetus gigas fuit, qué Dionysius in leonem cōuersus occidit. Item Rhœtus mons Troiæ, in quo Aiax Telamonius sepultus est, à quo Rhœteius & Rhœteus deducuntur. Supersedeo, maneo, cesso, differo.

Plau. Supersede de istis rebus, iam tuipse ubi lubet finem face.
Considco simul sedeo, à quo fit cōsessus, quod nō significat con sessionem, sed homines simul sedenteis in uno loco, quemadmo dum conuentus non conuentionem significat, sed homines, qui uno in loco conuenerunt. A sedeo præterea sedes deducitur, in qua sedemus, ponitur q; pro habitaculo, et domicilio. Cæsar: Crescente enim populi multitudine mutare sedeis statuerunt.
Item pro sepulchro. Virgilius: Sedibus aut saltem placidis in morte quiescam. eius diminutiuum est sedicula, & eiusdem si-gnificationis est sedile, quod & locus ad sedendum est, & sella quasi sedda. & sessio, quod modo actum ipsum sedendi significat, modo ipsum sedile. Cicero: Tot locis sessiones gymnasiorum, id est tot sedilia. & subsellia minores sedes, in quibus audientes poëtas, aut spectantes ludos sedere solebant, erant q; etiam tribunorum, triumuirorum, quæstorum, & huiusmodi mmora iudicia exercentium, qui non in sellis curulibus, nec in tribunalibus, sed in subsellijs considebant. Sella curuli maiores magistratus utebantur, quā simul cum toga, & prætexta & lictoribus Romani ab Hetruscis sumpsere. Curulis autem à curru dicta est, quod in ea sedentes curru uehi maiores magi stratus solebant. Sella Græce θρόνον, hoc est thronum no-minant. Hinc θρόνου βασιλικοῦ solium, hoc est sedem re-giam uocant, & θρόνον ἐγκεκυνωμένον sellam curulem. Item à sedeo sedulo aduerbium, quod significat diligenter, instanter, continue, quasi assidendo, hoc est sine intermissione. Cice.
Sedulo inquā faciam. Nam quod Marcellus scribit sedulo dictum, quasi sine dolo, nimis affectatum nobis uidetur. quippe sedulus eodem modo, quo assiduus dicitur, idem q; significat, et sedulitas. est assiduitas, & diligentia. Item à sedeo solium armarium è ligno factum, in quo reges ob corporis sui tutelam sedebant. Idem sedes regia. Curtius: Reginā in solio uisam ue-hementer admiratus. aliquando uas, in quo homines in balne-is, uel domi, uel quouis alio loco sedentes lauantur. Martialis: Non uis in solio prius lauari. Hispani id duretam uocant. Sue tonius de Augusto: At quoties neruorum causa marinis, albulis q; calidis utendū esset, contentus hoc erat, ut insidens ligneo solio, quod ipse Hispanico uerbo duretā uocabat, manus, ac pe des alternis iactaret. Nonnunquam huic simile uas, in quo defuncti sepeliuntur. Plinius: Cum & defuncti sese multi fictis libus solijs condi maluere. Quidam non à sedendo, sed à soliditate, quasi solidum appellatum existimauere. Quidam à solo, quod in ijs soli sederent. Ideo solia sternere dicebantur, qui soli sternium habebant, et solaria Babylonica uocabantur, qui bus ea sterni solebant. A sella etiam sellaria dicta loca, in quis bus disponi sedes solebant. Plin. Atq; ex omnibus, quæ retuli, clarissima, quæq; in urbe iam sunt dicata à Vespasiano prin-cipe in templo pacis, alijsq; eius operibus uiolentia Neronis in urbem conuecta, & in sellarijs domus aureæ disposita. Item à sedendo seditio, hoc est (sicut Ciceroni placet) à seorsum eun do. Est autē seditio, cū populo discordante itur ad manus, qua lem ciuitatis statū describit Virgilius: Ac ueluti magno in po-pulo, cum sæpe coorta est Seditio, sæuitq; animis ignobile uulgus, Iamq; faces, et saxa uolant, furor arma ministrat. similiter seditio in exercitu dicitur in classe, in cāpo, in schola, et ubicūq; multitudo est hominū, qui ab hoc seditiosi dicūtur. Itē seliqua stra sedilium genus est, & sedentariū dicitur, quod sedēdo fit, unde sedentarium laborem dicimus, qui sedendo contrahitur.

Apuleius: Vt etiam fatigationem sedentariam incessus uegeta tione discuterem. & sedentaria opera, quæ sedendo fit. Columella: Neq; enim sedentaria eius opera est, sed modo ad telam debebit accedere, modo eos, qui cibum f..miliæ conficiunt, inui sere tantum etiam culinam, & bouilia, nec minus præsepia mundanda curare. item à semper sedendo, sedum herba, quæ & semperuiuum dicitur, de qua inferius disseremus, & asse-res, & assides ab assidendo parieti. Seduculum non à sedendo, sed quasi suduculum dictum, genus flagelli est, quod uapulan teis sudare facit. Nec sexus à sedendo dicitur, sed à Græco ἕδος, quod est habitus, significatq; naturam, & habitum: unde masculinum, & fœmininum sexum dicimus.

AD DOMITIANVM EPIGRAMMA III.

VAE TAM SEPOSITA est. Blanditur Domitiano, quod cum ad spectacula eius ex toto terrarū orbe, diuersarū linguarū spectatores cōue niant, omnes tamē una uoce, eum pa trem patriæ salutāt, quasi una urbe oriundi. Constat sanè tantā aliquan do hominum multitudinem ludorum gratia ad urbem conflu xisse, ut Senatores quidam nimia pressura fuerint elisi.

Q VAE GENS. Interrogantis est, quis enim quæ, quod uel aliquid, aliquando interrogatiue ponūtur. Martial. Nam tantos rogo quis ferat labores? Apuleius: Qui nā hic nouus est hospes? Gell. Quænā malū est ista intemperies? Plaut. Quod facinus admisi tantū? Idem: Quid ad illas arteis optes, si optio aduenit tibi? Aliqñ indefinite. Plin. Tum mihi nescio quod in aurē insusurrauit. Idem: Morbus nescio qui ante eam ætatem incognitus nostris. Cic. Cū præcepta nescio quæ discipulis suis palàm tradidisset. Plaut. Nec mihi quod facinus conscirem in-ueni. Seneca: Paululū, nescio quid uisus est balbutire. Nōnunquam quis ponitur pro aliquis. Cicero: Siquis uestrum est, qui forte miretur. Plaut. Siquem seruorum domi habes. Nam qui pro aliquis in nominatiuo casu, raro præterquam apud uetu-stissimos inuenitur. Cicero. Siquæ sunt in hac re diff.cultates.
Etenim in singulari non quæ, sed qua pro aliqua dicimus.
Martialis: Siqua fides ueri, præferri maxime Cæsar, Tempo
