

PAISAJES EN ABIERTO: Bibliografía en acceso abierto indizada en Granatensis

Autora: Soledad Jacobe Martínez, Jefa de Servicio de la Biblioteca de la Escuela Técnica Superior de Arquitectura de la Universidad de Granada

Los días 20, 21 y 22 de octubre se celebra en la sede de la Escuela Técnica Superior de Arquitectura de la Universidad de Granada el "I Congreso Internacional de Paisajistas AEP- Paisaje Aquí y Ahora". En este marco y ante un tema tan relevante, ya no solo con la docencia en la ETSA, si no también con los Objetivos de Desarrollo Sostenible \(ODS\) definidos por la ONU y con la iniciativa Nueva Bauhaus Europea promovida por la Unión Europea, la Biblioteca de la ETSA ha querido colaborar con la elaboración de una pequeña y selectiva bibliografía sobre el paisajismo y temas afines.

La documentación sobre "Paisajismo" es muy amplia y numerosa. La literatura, tanto científica como divulgativa escrita al respecto, alcanza miles de documentos, tanto en el catálogo de la UGR como en catálogos de todo el mundo y había que acotar la selección para que la labor no se hiciera ardua y se alargara en el tiempo. Después de varias alternativas, la bibliografía que se presenta en este trabajo, es una selección de documentos en Acceso Abierto (Open Access-OA) indizados y con acceso desde el catálogo de la Biblioteca de la Universidad de Granada, el catálogo Grantensis. La tipología documental se ha limitado también a monografías y títulos de publicaciones periódicas, pues la cifra que la búsqueda vuelca de artículos es muy cuantiosa.

Los términos utilizados para la búsqueda de documentos, dentro del campo materia, han sido: "Landscape Design", "Landscape architecture", "Landscape ecology", "city planning", "urban planning", garden*, jardín*, paisaj*

Los documentos seleccionados para nuestra bibliografía son los que se han recuperado haciendo la búsqueda en el perfil “catálogo BUG” y en Acceso Abierto-Open Access. Si la misma búsqueda la hubiéramos hecho en el perfil “Catálogo BUG+Artículos”, el número de documentos recuperados [11/10/2021] es de 34.120, un número mucho mayor como se puede apreciar. Hay que tener en cuenta que la mayoría de los artículos pertenecen a los títulos de revista de nuestra bibliografía.

Otros resultados para visualizar y consultar, son los que se obtienen desde Digibug, el repositorio institucional de la UGR. Aquí todos los documentos están en acceso abierto y son de gran interés. Sirva de ejemplo una búsqueda únicamente con los términos “jardín OR paisajismo” donde hemos obtenido 4540 resultados sl.ugr.es/paisajismoenDigibug

El estilo bibliográfico utilizado para las referencias de las monografías ha sido APA (American Psychological Association) en su última versión, la 7ª edición. La revista “Informes de la construcción” editada por el CSISC, una de las recogidas en el JCR, recomienda las normas APA a sus autores. Como cambio a resaltar con respecto a la 6ª edición, es la omisión del lugar de publicación. Para el título de revistas se ha creído más conveniente utilizar las normas ISO, ya que en este tipo de referencias bibliográficas carecen de autor propiamente dicho y el año se indica únicamente la fecha de inicio de la revista.

La cita viene acompañada con el enfoque y alcance del título al que se hace referencia en la página principal de la publicación.

Todas las referencias están enlazadas al documento original desde el DOI (Digital Object Identifier- Identificador de objeto digital) en el caso de las monografías, o desde la url en el caso de las revistas.

Bibliografía

Monografías

- 1– Berger, E. (2002). Historische gärten österreichs. band 1, niederösterreich burgenland : Garten- und parkanlagen von der renaissance bis um 1930. Böhlau Verlag. http://doi.org/10.26530/oopen_471652
- 2– Berger, E. (2003). Historische gärten österreichs. band 2, oberösterreich, salzburg, vorarlberg, kärnten, steiermark, tirol : Garten- und parkanlagen von der renaissance bis um 1930. Böhlau Verlag.
http://doi.org/10.26530/oopen_471651
- 3– Berger, E. (2004). Historische gärten österreichs. band 3, wien : Garten- und parkanlagen von der renaissance bis um 1930. Böhlau Verlag.
http://doi.org/10.26530/oopen_471650

In the year 1999 the project of the inventory of the historic gardens in Austria, financed by the Austrian Science Fund FWF was finished with the manuscript "Historic Gardens in Austria. Gardens and Parks from the Renaissance to 1930 ". Since 1984 this project was in charge of the author with some other co-workers at the Technical University of Vienna, Department of Landscape Planning and Garden History. This first Austrian inventory tended to consider public and private gardens, parks and artistically formed landscapes of all nine Austrian states from the Renaissance to about 1930 in a systematic manner. In the years of the inventarization over 1750 historic gardens and parks were discovered, photographed and described. For the publication this numerous and mostly unknown quantity of gardens and parks was arranged in typological groups: town woods, parks of a spa, memorial parks, promenades, green outside staircases. With the elaboration of the results of the inventarization, with the consideration of the trade literature, historic maps, plans, views, pictures and other source materials it was possible to present the first documentation of the existing historic gardens and parks in Austria in three volumes , published 2002–2004 (Böhlau Verlag, Vienna–Cologne–Weimar). This first survey makes known the rich existence of historic garden substance, is available to further scientific research on Austrian garden art and garden culture and affords first information to protect and preserve this important cultural heritage. with the consideration of the trade literature, historic maps, plans, views, pictures and other source materials it was possible to present the first documentation of the existing historic gardens and parks in Austria in three volumes, published 2002–2004 (Böhlau Verlag, Vienna –Cologne–Weimar). This first survey makes known the rich existence of historic garden substance, is available to further scientific research on Austrian garden art and garden culture and affords first information to protect and preserve this important cultural heritage. with the consideration of the trade literature, historic maps, plans, views, pictures and other source materials it was possible to present the first documentation of the existing historic gardens and parks in Austria in three volumes, published 2002–2004 (Böhlau Verlag, Vienna –Cologne–Weimar). This first survey makes known the rich existence of historic garden substance, is available to further scientific research on Austrian garden art and garden culture and affords first information to protect and preserve this important cultural heritage.

- 4– Blokland–Potters, T. (2009). Oog voor elkaar : Veiligheidsbeleving en sociale controle in de grote stad. Amsterdam University Press.

<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/38030>

People like to live in a safe neighborhood. Areas with a variety of facilities like houses, offices and shops seem to be an important strategy to improve the safety of a neighborhood. More people on the streets means better social control, is the thought behind this strategy. But do people on the streets have consideration for each other? This book is a theory on urban environment, public familiarity and trust on the one hand. On the other it is a very practical plea for a careful planning and nuanced governance of the public space... Iedereen woont graag in een veilige buurt. Gevarieerdere buurten waar wonen, werken en winkelen elkaar afwisselen zijn een belangrijke strategie geworden om veiligheid te bereiken. Van ogen op straat gaat sociale controle uit, zo is dan de gedachte...

5- Campbell, C. E. (2011). A century of parks canada, 1911-2011. University of Calgary Press.

<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/42903>

"... a diverse and fascinating array of perspectives on the history of Canada's national parks, illuminating many less well-understood aspects of the evolving place of people in and near these parks." – Stephen Bocking, Professor and Chair, Environmental and Resource Studies Program, Trent University When Canada created a Dominion Parks Branch in 1911, it became the first country in the world to establish an agency devoted to managing its national parks. Over the past century this agency, now Parks Canada, has been at the centre of important debates about the place of nature in Canadian nationhood and relationships between Canada's diverse ecosystems and its communities. Today, Parks Canada manages over forty parks and reserves totalling over 200,000 square kilometres and featuring a dazzling variety of landscapes, and is recognized as a global leader in the environmental challenges of protected places. Its history is a rich repository of experience, of lessons learned – critical for making informed decisions about how to sustain the environmental and social health of our national parks. A Century of Parks Canada is published in partnership with NiCHE (Network in Canadian History and Environment; <http://niche-canada.org/>).

6- Cassatella, C., Dall'Ara, E., & Storti, M. (2007). L'opportunità dell'innovazione. Firenze University Press.

<https://media.fupress.com/files/pdf/24/749/2816>

Over the last few years the landscape debate has taken a new turn, shifting from concerns of conservation and protection towards the search for methods of intervention and regulations that consent a development of the territory compatible with the mutation of collective requirements. This is based on a recognition of the intrinsically dynamic nature of the landscape, conceived both in its matter and in its essence as a social construct. This shift has been sanctioned by the European Landscape Convention, which includes among the objectives of landscape policy the creation of new landscapes "to satisfy the aspirations of the population involved". This book focuses on the investigation of the conditions of the context that make innovation more or less appropriate. This is assessed as a design approach (and hence no distinction will be made between design action and planning action) that addresses the "rules" dictated by what already exists. The social recognition of their value defines the "degree of freedom" of the invention. The articles contained in the book were composed specifically for the International Convention on "Innovation and Rules in Landscape Design" held in Florence on 22 and

23 November 2002, organised by the Research Doctorate in Landscape Design of the University of Florence

7- Clément, G. (2012). Jardins, paysage et génie naturel. Collège de France.

<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/50795>

Throughout its architectural and stylistic evolution, the garden has constantly reflected a vision of the world by approaching an ideal of life. Originally enclosed space, the garden changes scale to xx th century, driven by the awareness of ecological finitude: it becomes global. To preserve this space subject to the laws of the market and growth at all costs, the gardener must listen to natural genius: imagine, build and maintain the garden in its dynamic aspect, respecting the development of species and their migrations.

8- Dall'Ara, E. (2004). Costruire per temi i paesaggi? : Esiti spaziali della semantica nei parchi tematici europei. Firenze University Press.

http://doi.org/10.26530/OAPEN_356356

La diffusione contemporanea dell'atteggiamento progettuale che procede per assegnazione di temi, nel disegno dei luoghi e delle singole architetture, rende utile ragionare sull'oggetto parco tematico che ne rappresenta l'esempio più puro. Questo significa specificatamente interrogarsi sul rapporto fra elemento naturale, architettura e simbolo: appare carico di conseguenze affrontare l'argomento con lo sguardo del paesaggista, domandarsi di quale paesaggio si tratti e cosa comporti progettarlo. È una questione di architettura del paesaggio nel suo senso più proprio e nelle sue forme più estreme.

9- Düring, B. S., & Glatz, C. (2015). Kinetic landscapes : The cide archaeological project: Surveying the turkish western black sea region. De Gruyter Open

Poland. <https://doi.org/10.1515/9783110444971>

Turkey's northern edge is a region of contrasts and diversity. From the rugged peaks of the Pontic mountains and hidden inland valleys to the plains and rocky alcoves of the Black Sea coast, this landscape shaped and was shaped by its inhabitants' ways of life, their local cultural traditions, and the ebbs and flows of land-based and maritime networks of interaction. Between 2009 and 2011, an international team of specialists and students of the Cide Archaeological Project (CAP) investigated the challenging landscapes of the Cide and Şenpazar districts of Kastamonu province. CAP presents the first systematic archaeological survey of the western Turkish Black Sea region. The information gathered by the project extends its known human history by 10,000 years and offers an unprecedented insight into the region's shifting cultural, social and political ties with Anatolia and the Circumpontic. This volume presents the project's approach and methodologies, its results and their interpretation within period-specific contexts and through a long-term landscape perspective.

10- Eckardt, F., & Sánchez, J. R. (2015). City of crisis : The multiple contestation of southern european cities (1st ed.). transcript-Verlag. <https://doi.org/10.14361/9783839428429>

The ongoing crisis in Europe has dramatic impact on the life in many Southern European cities: Unemployment, social deprivation, poverty, political instability, severe cuts in the welfare state budgets and a wide spread feeling of despair have eroded much of the social foundation of the cities. In this book, contributors from Spain, Greece, Portugal and Italy provide an insight into the complex interference between the different aspects of the crisis. They show that the recent urban crisis is not purely a result of the budgetary problems of the nation state («austerity urbanism») but needs to be seen as multiple contestations. The Crisis of the City is therefore understood as a result of a changing nation state, cultural diversity, challenged urban planning and politics and a globalized economy.

- 11 – Elmqvist, T., Fragkias, M., Goodness, J., Güneralp, B., Marcotullio, P. J., McDonald, R. I., Parnell, S., Schewenius, M., Sendstad, M., Seto, K. C., & Wilkinson, C. (2013). Urbanization, biodiversity and ecosystem services : Challenges and opportunities : A global assessment (2013th ed.). Springer Netherlands. <https://doi.org/10.1007/978-94-007-7088-1>

To understand how the world's ecosystems are changing we need to understand cities, and to create better cities we need to understand the ecosystems they depend on. The failure of most markets, government policies and even urban studies to take these relations into account has put cities, and increasingly the whole world, in a difficult position. Studies like Urbanization, Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services can help us to extricate ourselves, provided we act on the knowledge they provide.

Gordon McGranahan International Institute for Environment and Development The challenges of urbanization are profound, but so too are the opportunities. Cities can reconcile human society and biodiversity by creating environments that are ecologically sustainable, economically productive, socially just, politically participatory and culturally vibrant. I commend this study to all who have a stake in creating ecologically sustainable urbanization for the benefit of humanity and the planet. Ban Ki-moon Secretary-General, United Nations.

- 12– Estes, H. (2017). Anglo–saxon literary landscapes : Ecotheory and the anglo–saxon environmental imagination. Amsterdam University Press
<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/36456>

Literary scholars have traditionally understood landscapes, whether natural or manmade, as metaphors for humanity instead of concrete settings for people's actions. This book accepts the natural world as such by investigating how Anglo–Saxons interacted with and conceived of their lived environments. Examining Old English poems, such as Beowulf and Judith, as well as descriptions of natural events from the Anglo–Saxon Chronicle and other documentary texts, Heide Estes shows that Anglo–Saxon ideologies which view nature as diametrically opposed to humans, and the natural world as designed for human use, have become deeply embedded in our cultural heritage, language, and more.

- 13– Foran, M. (2009). Expansive discourses : Urban sprawl in calgary, 1945–1978. AU Press.
<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/47193>

A groundbreaking study of urban sprawl in Calgary after the Second World War. The interactions of land developers and the local government influenced how the pattern grew: developers met market demands and optimized profits by building houses as efficiently as possible, while the City had to consider wider planning constraints and infrastructure costs. Foran examines the complexity of their interactions from a historical perspective, why each party acted as it did, and where each can be criticized.

- 14– Gabriele, P. (2003). La frammentazione del paesaggio periurbano : Criteri progettuali per la riqualificazione della piana di firenze. Firenze University Press https://doi.org/10.26530/OAPEN_347519

This book presents the results of a study on the fragmentation of the suburban territory in the Florentine plain, developed in the framework of the Florence University PhD course in Landscape Design. Thus the landscape on the western edge of the urban centre becomes a case study for evolving from the applications to the quest for theoretical and methodological elements. What emerges clearly from this is the importance of the design mentality as an essential cultural value for the drafting of policies of active conservation, retrieval and modification of the landscape.

- 15– Guzmán, E., Bogdanović, J., & Christie, J. J. (2016). Political landscapes of capital cities. University Press of Colorado.

<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/32927>

"Investigates the transformation of landscapes into culturally constructed and ideologically defined political environments of capital cities. In this spatially inclusive, socially dynamic interpretation, an interdisciplinary group uses a methodology to expose the associations between human-made environments and the natural landscape that accommodate socio-political needs of governmental authority"-- Provided by publisher.

- 16– Hennig, C., Neppl, M., Ringler, H., Stippich, M., & Stoll, B. (2015). Auf dem weg zum räumlichen leitbild karlsruhe. KIT Scientific Publishing.

<https://doi.org/10.5445/KSP/1000047352>

For several years, European cities increasingly focus on long-term planning perspectives due to their spatial development, separated and independent of classic urban land-use planning. As a logical consequence, the city of Karlsruhe define the challenge to develop a spatial mission statement called „Räumliches Leitbild“. For the city anniversary in 2015, most of the development process of the spatial mission statement is documented through an exhibition and the present publication. Deutsche Großstädte beschäftigen sich seit einigen Jahren wieder verstärkt mit langfristigen planerischen Ausblicken auf ihre räumliche Entwicklung, unabhängig von der Bauleitplanung. So hat sich auch die Stadt Karlsruhe die Aufgabe gestellt, ein "Räumliches Leitbild" zu erarbeiten. Zum Stadtjubiläum 2015 kann nun der größte Teil des Entstehungsprozesses des Räumlichen Leitbildes durch eine Ausstellung und mit der vorliegenden Publikation dokumentiert werden.

17– Herscher, A. (2012). The unreal estate guide to detroit. University of Michigan Press.

<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/30386>

Intense attention has been paid to Detroit as a site of urban crisis. This crisis, however, has not only yielded the massive devaluation of real estate that has so often been noted; it has also yielded an explosive production of seemingly valueless urban property that has facilitated the imagination and practice of alternative urbanisms. The first sustained study of Detroit's alternative urban cultures, The Unreal Estate Guide to Detroit initiates a new focus on Detroit as a site not only of urban crisis but also of urban possibility. The Guide documents art and curatorial practices, community and guerilla gardens, urban farming and forestry, cultural platforms, living archives, evangelical missions, temporary public spaces, intentional communities, furtive monuments, outsider architecture, and other work made possible by the ready availability of urban space in Detroit. The Guide poses these spaces as "unreal estate": urban territory that has slipped through the free-market economy and entered other regimes of value, other contexts of meaning, and other systems of use. The appropriation of this territory in Detroit, the Guide suggests, offers new perspectives on what a city is and can be, especially in a time of urban crisis.

- 18– Hoil Gutierrez, J., & Armstrong–Fumero, F. (2017). Legacies of space and intangible heritage: Archaeology, ethnohistory, and the politics of cultural continuity in the americas. University Press of Colorado.

http://doi.org/10.26530/oapen_625677

"An interdisciplinary exploration of the intersections between the study and management of physical sites and reproduction of intangible cultural legacies. Nine case studies that explore different ways place is mediated by social, political, and ecological processes with historical roots that effect the politics of heritage management"--Provided by publisher.

- 19– Hunt, W. F., Lord, B., Loh, B., & Sia, A. (2015). Plant selection for bioretention systems and stormwater treatment practices (1st ed.).

Springer Singapore. <https://doi.org/10.1007/978-981-287-245-6>

As cities develop, more land is converted into impervious surfaces, which do not allow water to infiltrate. Careful urban planning is needed to ensure that the hydrologic cycle and water quality of the catchment areas are not affected. There are techniques that can attenuate peak flow during rain events and reduce the amount of metals, nutrients, and bacteria that enter the urban water cycle. This brief gives a short introduction on bioretention systems and documents the effectiveness of some 36 plant species in removing water pollutants. A summary on the maintenance requirements is also presented. .

- 20– Jelidi, C. (2012). Fès, la fabrication d'une ville nouvelle (1912–1956). ENS éditions. <https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/47548>

At the crossroads of history and art history, this work analyzes, through the case of Fez, all the manufacturing mechanisms of a new city and those of its corollary – the transformation of an ancient city –, under the French Protectorate in Morocco (1912–1956). It thus highlights the distortions between the urban ideal, theorized a posteriori by the general resident Louis–Hubert Lyautey and his multitude of collaborators, and the reality finally out of the ground.

21– Koomen, E., & Borsboom–van Beurden, J. (2011). Land–use modelling in planning practice (1st ed.). Springer

Netherlands. <https://doi.org/10.1007/978-94-007-1822-7>

This book provides an overview of recent developments and applications of the Land Use Scanner model, which has been used in spatial planning for well over a decade. Internationally recognized as among the best of its kind, this versatile model can be applied at a national level for trend extrapolation, scenario studies and optimization, yet can also be employed in a smaller–scale regional context, as demonstrated by the assortment of regional case studies included in the book. Alongside these practical examples from the Netherlands, readers will find discussion of more theoretical aspects of land–use models as well as an assessment of various studies that aim to develop the Land–Use Scanner model further. Spanning the divide between the abstractions of land–use modelling and the imperatives of policy making, this is a cutting–edge account of the way in which the Land–Use Scanner approach is able to interrogate a spectrum of issues that range from climate change to transportation efficiency. Aimed at planners, researchers and policy makers who need to stay abreast of the latest advances in land–use modelling techniques in the context of planning practice, the book guides the reader through the applications supported by current instrumentation. It affords the opportunity for a wide readership to benefit from the extensive and acknowledged expertise of Dutch planners, who have originated a host of much-used models.

22- Kruse, J., & Ellsworth, E. A. (2020). Making the geologic now : Responses to material conditions of contemporary life. punctum books.

<http://doi.org/10.21983/P3.0014.1.00>

Making the Geologic Now announces shifts in cultural sensibilities and practices. It offers early sightings of an increasingly widespread turn toward the geologic as source of explanation, motivation, and inspiration for creative responses to conditions of the present moment. In the spirit of a broadside, this edited collection circulates images and short essays from over 40 artists, designers, architects, scholars, and journalists who are actively exploring and creatively responding to the geologic depth of "now." Contributors' ideas and works are drawn from architecture, design, contemporary philosophy and art. They are offered as test sites for what might become thinkable or possible if humans were to collectively take up the geologic as our instructive co-designer--as a partner in designing thoughts, objects, systems, and experiences. Recent natural and human-made events triggered by or triggering the geologic have made volatile earth forces sense-able and relevant with new levels of intensity. As a condition of contemporary life in 2012, the geologic "now" is lived as a cascade of events. Humans and what we build participate in their unfolding. Today, and unlike the environmental movements of the 1970s, the geologic counts as "the environment" and invites us to extend our active awareness of inhabitation out to the cosmos and down to the Earth's iron core. A new cultural sensibility is emerging. As we struggle to understand and meet new material realities of earth and life on earth, it becomes increasingly obvious that the geologic is not just about rocks.

We now cohabit with the geologic in unprecedented ways, in teeming assemblages of exchange and interaction among geologic materials and forces and the bio, cosmo, socio, political, legal, economic, strategic, and imaginary. As a reading and viewing experience, Making the Geologic Now is designed to move through culture, sounding an alert from the unfolding edge of the "geologic turn" that is now propagating through contemporary ideas and practices.

23– Langergraber, G. (., Dotro, G., Nivala, J., Rizzo, A., & Stein, O. R.

(2020). Wetland technology : Practical information on the design and application of treatment wetlands. IWA Publishing.

<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/25900>

Water quality standards across the world are being re-written to promote healthier ecosystems, ensure safe potable water sources, increased biodiversity, and enhanced ecological functions. Treatment wetlands are used for treating a variety of pollutant waters, including municipal wastewater, agricultural and urban runoff, industrial effluents, and combined sewer overflows, among others. Treatment wetlands are particularly well-suited for sustainable water management because they can cope with variable influent loads, can be constructed of local materials, have low operations and maintenance requirements compared to other treatment technologies, and they can provide additional ecosystem services. The technology has been successfully implemented in both developed and developing countries. The first IWA Scientific and Technical Report (STR) on Wetland Technology was published in 2000. With the exponential development of the technology since then, the generation of a new STR was facilitated by the IWA Task Group on Mainstreaming Wetland Technology. This STR was conceptualized and written by leading experts in the field. The new report presents the latest technology applications within an innovative planning framework of multi-purpose wetland design. It also includes practical design information collected from over twenty years of experience from practitioners and academics, covering experiments at laboratory and pilot-scale up to full-scale applications.

- 24- Lemos, Elaine Melo de Brito Costa, Dantas, E. R., & Chao, C. H. N. (2009). De portas abertas para o lazer : A cultura lúdica nas comunidades de bairro. EDUEPB. <http://dx.doi.org/10.7476/9788578791223>

Acompanhando a tendência de atenuação das condições de injustiça e exclusão social, a partir do esporte recreativo e do lazer, o Grupo de Pesquisa Corpo, Educação e Movimento – GCEM, do Departamento de Educação Física da Universidade Estadual da Paraíba – UEPB, propôs o desenvolvimento de uma investigação sobre a situação do lazer na cidade de Campina Grande – PB, considerando a Pesquisa de Informações Básicas Municipais (MUNIC, 2003), a partir do universo das comunidades de bairro. (trecho retirado do texto "Abrindo as portas da pesquisa: Pressupostos teóricos e metodológicos" do livro)

- 25- Llewellyn-Smith, M. (2012). Behind the scenes : The politics of planning adelaide. University of Adelaide Press. <http://doi.org/10.1017/9781922064417>

Behind the Scenes examines planning in the City of Adelaide from 1972 until 1993 within the historical framework of City/State relations from 1836 when the Province of South Australia was founded. During this 21-year period, the City had its own planning and development control legislation separate from the rest of the State. Dr Llewellyn-Smith examines why this situation came about, why it continued for this particular period and why it ceased in 1993 when the separate legislation was repealed and the City became part of the State system under the new Development Act 1993. Behind the Scenes includes original interviews with many of the key individuals in the City and State who played influential roles during this period. Dr Llewellyn-Smith himself was the City Planner from 1974 until 1981 and then the Town Clerk/Chief Executive Officer of the Adelaide City Council from 1982 until 1993: this book, then, is both a work of scholarship and an insider's account.

26- Lucchesi, F. (2005). Il territorio, il codice, la rappresentazione il disegno dello statuto dei luoghi. Firenze University Press.

<http://doi.org/10.36253/88-8453-310-4>

What are the cognitive and expressive choices involved in the concrete practices of creation of graphical representations of the territory? And what is the effectiveness of graphics in the government of the territory and its changes? These questions are the basis of the preparation of this work. The essay proposes and tests a hypothesis of representation of the "statute of places", that is, of an instrument regulating the transformations of the city and of the territory based on the recognition of common values, a little binding, but indicative for the determination of plans and projects.

27- Maarseveen, M. v., Martinez, J., & Flacke, J. (2019). GIS in sustainable urban planning and management. CRC Press.

<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/31162>

GIS is used today to better understand and solve urban problems. This book explores and illustrates the use of geo-information in the planning and management of urban regions. The first part of the book addresses the concept of sustainable urban development, its different frameworks, the many ways of measuring sustainability, and its value in the urban policy arena. The second part discusses how urban planning can shape our cities, examines various spatial configurations of cities, the spread of activities, and the demands placed on different functions to achieve strategic objective. It further focuses on the recognition that urban dwellers are increasingly under threat from natural hazards and climate change.

28– Maneval, S. (2019). New islamic urbanism : The architecture of public and private space in jeddah, saudi arabia. UCL Press.

<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/26198>

Since the dawn of the oil era, cities in Saudi Arabia have witnessed rapid growth and profound societal changes. As a response to foreign architectural solutions and the increasing popularity of Western lifestyles, a distinct style of architecture and urban planning has emerged. Characterised by an emphasis on privacy, expressed through high enclosures, gates, blinds, and tinted windows, ‘New Islamic Urbanism’ constitutes for some an important element of piety. For others, it enables alternative ways of life, indulgence in banned social practices, and the formation of both publics and counterpublics.

29– Morisi, M. (2016). 'Guardare' il paesaggio : Breve vademecum per gli osservatori del paesaggio in toscana. Firenze University Press.

<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/39821>

This volume was born from a recognition of the experiences and warnings which were needed for the creation of a landscape observatory in Tuscany, and for the definition of the network and interactive methods which the observatory itself can use while aiming at its own operational effectiveness. The analysis was carried out during the formation stage of the Landscape Plan of Tuscany and during the collaboration which the Regional Authority has promoted with the Inter-University Centre of Territory Sciences. Starting from the examination of the organizational and functional models characterizing the main European and Italian experiences, in the plurality of regulatory contexts, forms of landscape planning and regulation and practices of cultural and association mobilization of the reference populations, some working hypotheses are formulated and calibrated on the Tuscan situation.

- 30– Munafò, S. (2016). La ville compacte remise en cause? formes urbaines et mobilités de loisirs. Editions Alphil Presses universitaires suisses.
http://doi.org/10.26530/OAPEN_624512

Finally the weekend! The time to escape the dense city to enjoy quieter environments? While leisure occupies a central place in our lifestyles, what is the relationship between urban styles and mobility? Are the inhabitants of city centers more mobile, seeking a greener environment in which to spend their free time? This would be the "barbecue effect," which invites stopping advocating for density and upgrading to suburban styles. This book explores this controversy by examining the cases of Geneva and Zurich, to answer some questions: Does the barbecue effect really exist?

- 31– Murawski, M., & Bach, J. (2020). Re-centring the city global mutations of socialist modernity. UCL Press. <https://doi.org/10.14324/111.9781787354111>

What is the role of monumentality, verticality and centrality in the twenty-first century? Are palaces, skyscrapers and grand urban ensembles obsolete relics of twentieth-century modernity, inexorably giving way to a more humble and sustainable de-centred urban age? Or do the aesthetics and politics of pomp and grandiosity rather linger and even prosper in the cities of today and tomorrow? Re-Centring the City zooms in on these questions, taking as its point of departure the experience of Eurasian socialist cities, where twentieth-century high modernity arguably saw its most radical and furthest-reaching realisation. It frames the experience of global high modernity (and its unravelling) through the eyes of the socialist city, rather than the other way around: instead of explaining Warsaw or Moscow through the prism of Paris or New York, it refracts London, Mexico City and Chennai through the lens of Kyiv, Simferopol and the former Polish shtetls. This transdisciplinary volume re-centres the experiences of the 'Global East', and thereby our understanding of world urbanism, by shedding light on some of the still-extant (and often disavowed) forms of 'zombie' centrality, hierarchy and violence that pervade and shape our contemporary urban experience.

32- Nawratek, K. (2017). Urban re-industrialization. punctum books. <https://doi.org/10.21983/P3.0176.1.00>

Urban re-industrialisation could be seen as a method of increasing business effectiveness in the context of a politically stimulated 'green economy'; it could also be seen as a nostalgic mutation of a creative-class concept, focused on 3D printing, 'boutique manufacturing' and crafts. These two notions place urban re-industrialisation within the context of the current neoliberal economic regime and urban development based on property and land speculation. Could urban re-industrialisation be a more radical idea? Could urban re-industrialization be imagined as a progressive socio-political and economic project, aimed at creating an inclusive and democratic society based on cooperation and a symbiosis that goes way beyond the current model of a neoliberal city?

33– Paskins, J., & Bell, S. (. J. (2013). Imagining the future city : London 2062.

Ubiquity Press Limited.

<https://directory.doabooks.org/handle/20.500.12854/28782>

London is one of the world's leading cities. It is home to an extraordinary concentration and diversity of people, industries, politics, religions and ideas, and plays an important role in our highly globalised and tightly networked modern world. What does the future hold for London?

Investigating any aspect of the city's future reveals a complex picture of interrelations and dependencies. The London 2062 Programme from University College London brings a new, cross-disciplinary and highly collaborative approach to investigating this complexity. The programme crosses departmental boundaries within the university, and promotes active collaboration between leading academics and those who shape London through policy and practice. This book approaches the question of London's future by considering the city in terms of Connections, Things, Power and Dreams.

34– Pousin, F. (2005). Figures de la ville et construction des savoirs :

Architecture, urbanisme, géographie. CNRS Éditions.

<https://books.openedition.org/editionscnrs/4267>

Faced with the inflation of images of the city, it is important to implement scientific questioning, capable of shedding light on their role in the development of knowledge and practices of spatial intervention. Three disciplines are mainly questioned here to deal with the constriction of urban figurations, their effects, their modes of circulation: architecture, town planning and geography. Case studies, organized according to four main themes – the historical imprint of the figures, the role of cartography in the development of projects for the city, visual culture and disciplinary strategies carrying figurative production – were entrusted to international specialists. The whole of the iconography gathered, rich and original, shows that an image needs to be studied within series, whether these refer to a whole (manual, project, review) or that they are commentary, interpretation. By the field of reflection it opens, this work is aimed at specialists in all disciplines, who make the city an object of study. It interests both those who study the current uses of urban imagery and those who reflect on the founding moments of this imagery. Because it does not seek to draw up an exhaustive table of the question which it treats, but because it proceeds by analysis of symptomatic cases, this book concerns the epistemologist or the historian of knowledge who will find analyzes located and able relate to a broader questioning. Finally, it offers a community of professionals committed to the practice, both the elements of a common culture, which remains in many respects still to be built, as well as sources of reflection making it possible to support and influence the evolution of contemporary practices.

35– Rademacher, A. (2018). Building green : Environmental architects and the struggle for sustainability in mumbai. University of California Press. <https://doi.org/10.1525/9780520968721>

Building Green explores the experience of environmental architects in Mumbai, one of the world's most populous and population-dense urban areas and a city iconic for its massive informal settlements, extreme wealth asymmetries, and ecological stresses. Under these conditions, what does it mean to learn, and try to practice, so-called green design? By tracing the training and professional experiences of environmental architects in India's first graduate degree program in Environmental Architecture, Rademacher shows how environmental architects forged sustainability concepts and practices and sought to make them meaningful through engaged architectural practice. The book's focus on practitioners offers insights into the many roles that converge to produce this emergent, critically important form of urban expertise. At once activists, scientists, and designers, the environmental architects profiled in Building Green act as key agents of urban change whose efforts in practice are shaped by a complex urban development economy, layered political power relations, and a calculus of when, and how, their expert skills might be operationalized in service of a global urban future.

36– Rizzo, G. G., & Valentini, A. (2004). Luoghi e paesaggi in italia. Firenze University Press. https://doi.org/10.26530/OAPEN_347514

The first volume of a series connected with the Florence University PhD course in Landscape Design – a disciplinary sector that is innovative in terms of its political and social engagement – it illustrates the potential of this field of study through the results of a wide-ranging educational and creative workshop. The various design experiences are grouped into six thematic sections: Parks and landscape; City parks; Urban spaces; Fortified systems; Art sites; Historic landscapes; Concepts and projects (the latter addressing issues that are central to Italian research, such as agricultural and river landscapes).

37– Rogari, S. (2006). Università e territorio il decentramento dell'ateneo nella provincia di firenze : Atti del convegno di studi, firenze, 23 gennaio 2004. Firenze University Press.

https://media.fupress.com/files/pdf/24/771/771_21536

38– Salet, W., Musterd, S., & Salet, W. G. M. (2003). Amsterdam human capital. Amsterdam University Press. <https://doi.org/10.1515/9789048505180>

The changing spatial organization of the city of Amsterdam reflects a larger-scale process: the familiar shape of Western cities is changing across the globe. For centuries, the urban core was taken for granted as the focal point for international contacts and day-to-day activities. The essays collected here consider how urban spaces have been transformed—not only spatially but socially, economically, and culturally—into multi-centered metropolitan arrays, with contributors examining the new urban identities that may emerge from such changing conditions.

39– Simon, D. (2016). Rethinking sustainable cities : Accessible, green and fair. Policy Press. http://doi.org/10.26530/OAPEN_613676

Sustainable urbanisation has moved to the forefront of global debate, research and policy agendas over recent years. Rapid urbanisation throughout China, India and many other low and middle income countries poses new challenges both locally and internationally at a time when urban areas worldwide are threatened by climate/environmental change. This compact book is designed to make a signal contribution to the sustainable urbanisation agenda through authoritative interventions contextualising, assessing and explaining clearly the relevance and importance of three central characteristics of sustainable towns and cities everywhere, namely that they should be accessible, green and fair.

40– Sokolicek, A. (2009). Diateichismata : Zu dem phänomen innerer befestigungsmauern im griechischen städtebau. Österreichisches Archäologisches Institut. http://doi.org/10.26530/oapen_437145

A Diateichisma is part of a city's fortification system. Unlike a city wall it was built within the urban area dividing a city in two parts. This study focuses on two aspects. On the one hand, the phenomenon of diateichismata is considered as part of fortification architecture, on the other hand the influence of diateichism on the organisation of the urban space is pointed out.

- 41– Suttner, A. (2017). Das schwarze wien : Bautätigkeit im ständestaat 1934–1938. Böhlau Verlag. https://doi.org/10.26530/oopen_628294

This book deals with the housing- and settlement-policy of the authoritarian Austrian Corporate State (Staendestaat) in Vienna between 1934 and 1938. National and international dialogues led to building strategies for a car-friendly city. Different types of flats, settlements and administration buildings will be shown, as well as planned monumental buildings of the unity party Fatherland Front (Vaterlaendische Front).

- 42– Tilley, C. Y., & Cameron-Daum, K. (2017). An anthropology of landscape : The extraordinary in the ordinary. UCL Press.
<http://doi.org/10.14324/111.9781911307433>

'An anthropology of landscape' tells the fascinating story of a heathland landscape in south-west England and the way different individuals and groups engage with it. Based on a long-term anthropological study, the book emphasizes four individual themes: embodied identities, the landscape as a sensuous material form that is acted upon and in turn acts on people, the landscape as contested, and its relation to emotion...The book makes an innovative contribution to landscape studies and will appeal to all those interested in nature conservation, historic preservation, the politics of nature, the politics of identity and an anthropology of Great Britain.

- 43– Villani, L. (2012). Le borgate del fascismo : Storia urbana, politica e sociale della periferia romana. Ledizioni.
<http://doi.org/10.4000/books.ledizioni.99>

Le borgate nate in epoca fascista rappresentano una pagina fondamentale della storia di Roma contemporanea. Additate come i luoghi più malfamati della città, specchio dei suoi contrasti socio-economici e urbanistici, in esse può riassumersi il modo disordinato in cui la capitale è cresciuta e si è sviluppata. Avamposti dell'espansione edilizia del secondo dopoguerra, le borgate hanno costituito il luogo d'approdo per migliaia di famiglie dalle molteplici provenienze. Argomento fino a oggi poco dissodato, il processo di popolamento della periferia romana è affrontato in questo libro per mezzo di nuove fonti archivistiche, con cui è stato possibile verificare ipotesi di studio di recente acquisizione. Sullo sfondo, la storia del più importante Istituto di case popolari italiano svoltasi durante il ventennio, un periodo nel quale l'ente, fiancheggiatore delle politiche urbanistiche e abitative del fascismo per la capitale e, seppur a fasi alterne, organo edilizio del Governatorato, fu impegnato nella costruzione di intere parti di città e in quella di un vasto esperimento pedagogico di educazione fascista nei suoi caseggiati, contribuendo anch'esso all'instaurazione di un sistema dalle caratteristiche totalitarie.

Publicaciones periódicas

- 1– ABE journal : architecture beyond Europe. Paris, France : InVisu CNRS/INHA, Institut national d'histoire de l'art, 2012– /e– ISSN:2275–6639
<https://journals.openedition.org/abe/>

La revue ABE Journal est dédiée à l'histoire de l'architecture et de l'urbanisme hors d'Europe. Elle s'intéresse aux aspects coloniaux et postcoloniaux du monde bâti depuis le XIXe siècle, ainsi qu'aux réseaux professionnels, aux médias, aux doctrines et aux modèles circulant à partir de l'Europe et vers celle-ci. Éditée par le laboratoire InVisu (CNRS/INHA), cette revue encourage la diversité des points de vue et des méthodes, en particulier les perspectives interculturelles et transnationales.

- 2– Anales del Jardín Botánico de Madrid. Madrid: Jardín Botánico, 1979– (En electrónico completo desde 1997–) / ISSN: 0211–1322 e-ISSN: 1988–3196 <https://rjb.revistas.csic.es/index.php/rjb>

Anales del Jardín Botánico de Madrid is a scientific journal published by CSIC and edited by the Real Jardín Botánico de Madrid that features original and unpublished articles in fields such as taxonomy and systematics of all plant groups and fungi, including related fields like biogeography, bioinformatics, conservation, ecophysiology, phylogeny, phylogeography, functional morphology, nomenclature and plant–animal relations, as well as reviews and summary works.

- 3– Architecture and Engineering. Saint Petersburg, Russia : Saint Petersburg State, University of Architecture and Civil Engineering SPSUACE, 2016– / e-ISSN: 2500–0055 <http://aej.spbgasu.ru/index.php/AE>

The first issue of the Journal was published in March 2016. The periodical has 4 regular issues a year, at the end of each quarter. Architecture and Engineering Journal publishes academic papers on topical issues of architecture, urban planning, geotechnical engineering and engineering geology, and land transportation equipment and technology in construction. All papers submitted are subject to double blind peer review. The Journal is indexed in the Scopus, Russian Science Citation Index, Directory of Open Access Journals (DOAJ), Google Scholar, Index Copernicus, Ulrich's Periodicals Directory, WorldCat, Bielefeld Academic Search Engine (BASE), library of University of Cambridge and CyberLeninka. In future, we plan to register to the Journal in the largest bibliographic database, such as Web of Science. Publications of the Journal present results of original scientific research in English.

4- Architecture, city and environment : Arquitectura, ciudad y entorno : ACE.

Universidad Politècnica de Catalunya. Centre de Política de Sòl i Valoracions., Red Temàtica Arquitectura, Ciudad y Medio Ambiente, 2006- / e-ISSN: 1886-480

<https://revistes.upc.edu/index.php/ACE/issue/archive>

“Arquitectura, Ciudad y Entorno” es el nombre, cuyas tres palabras persiguen reflejar el espíritu abierto de esta revista dedicada al estudio del hábitat humano, desde sus más amplias perspectivas, tanto macro como micro y en sus acepciones tecnológica y social. ACE es una ventana para la difusión de las diferentes disciplinas que se encargan de las investigaciones arquitectónicas, urbanísticas y territoriales. Está abierta a nuevos enfoques de estudio y pensada para difundir los resultados en las lenguas que nos resultan familiares y que, sin olvidar el inglés, debemos potenciar. Se publica cuatrimestralmente en Open Access Journal, de acceso y consulta gratuita. Su existencia y continuidad se debe al trabajo del Centro de Política de Suelo y Valoraciones (CPSV) de la Universidad Politécnica de Cataluña (UPC) y de las personas que colaboran en su difusión, en la evaluación externa de artículos o como corresponsales. Es coeditada por la Universidad de Guadalajara a través de su Doctorado en Ciudad, Territorio y Sustentabilidad, su maestría en Procesos y Expresión Gráfica en la Proyección Arquitectónica Urbana y el Centro de Investigación de Medio Ambiente y Ordenamiento Territorial.

5- ARChive. Alexandria, Egypt : IEREK Press, 2017- . ISSN: 2537-0162

<https://press.ierek.com/index.php/ARChive>

ARChive is an open access journal that publishes conference proceedings in a wide range of topics and across all scientific disciplines, from Sciences, Engineering and Technology to Environment, Energy and Earth Sciences. Consequently, it accepts original research papers in a wide spectrum of subjects. ARChive is a journal published on behalf of researchers that perpetually make an effort to contribute to the-ir fields and provides them with a high visibility of research submitted. The series publishes, both, theoretical and experimental high quality papers of current and perpetual interest. It serves to cultivate, propagate, and essentially archive academic research that has been authored and submitted for academic conferences.

6- ArchNet-IJAR : international journal of architectural research. Bingley, United Kingdom : Emerald Publishing Limited, 2007- / e-ISSN: 2631-6862

<https://www.emeraldgrouppublishing.com/journal/arch>

Archnet-IJAR: International Journal of Architectural Research is an interdisciplinary scholarly journal of architecture, urban design and planning, and built environment studies. The journal aims at establishing a bridge between theory and practice in these fields. The journal acts as a platform that reports on the latest research findings for examining buildings and urban environments and debates innovative approaches for creating responsive environments. Archnet-IJAR is truly international and aims at strengthening ties between scholars, academics, and practitioners from the global north and the global south with contributors and readers reaching across the boundaries of cultures and geographies.

7- AREA. Buenos Aires: Universidad de Buenos Aires, Facultad de Arquitectura, Diseño y Urbanismo, Secretaría de Investigaciones en Ciencia y Técnica, 1992- / e-ISSN: 0328-1337

<https://publicacionescientificas.fadu.uba.ar/index.php/area>

AREA es una publicación arbitrada e indexada de la Secretaría de Investigaciones de la Facultad de Arquitectura, Diseño y Urbanismo (FADU) de la Universidad de Buenos Aires (UBA). Se publica desde el año 1992 y tiene periodicidad anual en su versión impresa y semestral en su versión digital. Ofrece un espacio para la difusión y el debate de las producciones de investigación del urbanismo, la arquitectura, la planificación del paisaje, el diseño industrial, gráfico, de comunicación visual, de producto, de indumentaria, textil, multimedial, entre otros, dirigido a la comunidad académica y profesional de las diferentes disciplinas vinculadas con el diseño. Su ámbito de producción y difusión abarca Argentina e Iberoamérica.

8- Arhitektura i urbanizam. Beograd: Institut za arhitekturu i urbanizam Srbije, 1994, (en electrónico desde 2002-) / e-ISSN: 0354-6055

<https://scindeks.ceon.rs/journalDetails.aspx?issn=0354-6055>

The journal Arhitektura i urbanizam has been covering a large number of specific themes and issues, from broader fields of urban and spatial planning, architecture, housing, building and environment.

9- De arquitectura: Dearq. Bogotá, Colombia : Departamento de Arquitectura, Facultad de Arquitectura y Diseño, Universidad de los Andes, 2008- / e-ISSN: 2011-3188 <https://revistas.uniandes.edu.co/loi-covers/dearq>

Dearq es una revista cuatrimestral* (enero-abril, mayo-agosto y septiembre-diciembre) que publica al inicio de cada período, creada en el 2007 por el Departamento de Arquitectura de la Universidad de los Andes (Colombia). Su objetivo es contribuir a la difusión de análisis, investigaciones, reflexiones y opiniones críticas que la comunidad científica nacional e internacional elaboren sobre la arquitectura, la ciudad y sus áreas afines. La revista recibe contenidos inéditos y originales, sin postulación simultánea, en español y en inglés.

10- Arquitecturas del sur. Concepción, Chile : Universidad del Bío-Bío, Facultad de Arquitectura, Construcción y Diseño, Departamento de Arquitectura, 1983- / ISSN: 0716-2677 e-ISSN: 0719-6466 <http://revistas.ubiobio.cl/index.php/AS/index>

Arquitecturas del Sur es una de las revistas del Departamento de Diseño y Teoría de la Arquitectura, de la Facultad de Arquitectura, Construcción y Diseño de la Universidad del Bío-Bío, es editada semestralmente en los meses de enero y julio de cada año. Su publicación es seriada, de acceso abierto, arbitrada mediante revisión por pares (doble ciego) y, desde su primer número aparecido en 1983, su contenido atiende resultados de investigación originales e inéditos que amplían y fortalecen el conocimiento de la arquitectura latinoamericana y sus disciplinas afines.

11– Artvin çoruh üniversitesi orman fakültesi dergisi. Artvin, Turkey : Artvin Çoruh üniversitesi orman fakültesi dergisi, 2000– / ISSN: 2146–1880 e-ISSN: 2146–698X <http://ofd.artvin.edu.tr/en/pub/archive>

Artvin Coruh University Journal of Forestry Faculty (ACU J For Fac) is a peer-reviewed open access journal which publishes original research articles and reviews on all aspects of forestry, plant science, wood science, landscape architecture and other related subjects. All manuscripts are initially screened on the-Ir topic suitability and linguistic quality. Articles should make a significant contribution to the advancement of knowledge or toward a better understanding of existing concepts.

12– Bitácora urbano-territorial. Santa Fe de Bogotá, D.C., Colombia : Instituto de Investigaciones Hábitat, Ciudad y Territorio, Universidad Nacional de Colombia, 1997– / ISSN: 0124–7913 e-ISSN: 2027–145X <https://revistas.unal.edu.co/index.php/bitacora>

Publicación científica cuatrimestral que publica mayoritariamente productos de investigación. Trata temas relacionados con las escalas que van desde el hábitat al territorio, incluyendo el ordenamiento urbano regional, la ciudad, los componentes relacionados como los proyectos y procesos urbanos, políticas públicas, el urbanismo, la arquitectura y la vivienda. Publica artículos nacionales e internacionales

13– Boletim do observatório ambiental Alberto Ribe-Iro Lamego. Campos dos Goytacazes, RJ : Instituto Federal de Educação, Ciência e Tecnologia Fluminense., Centro Federal de Educação Tecnológica de Campos., Observatório Ambiental Alberto Ribe-Iro Lamego, 2007– /

ISSN: 1981-6197 e-ISSN: 2177-4560

<https://essentiaeditora.iff.edu.br/index.php/boletim/index>

A Essentia Editora, coordenação subordinada à Pró-Reitoria de Pesquisa e Inovação do Instituto Federal Fluminense (IFF), foi criada em 2006 pelo então CEFET Campos, tem por objetivo principal estimular a produção e divulgação de obras de valor científico e cultural que expressem o trabalho de ensino, pesquisa e extensão do próprio Instituto, bem como obras de autores nacionais e estrangeiros que se articulem com a produção acadêmica da Instituição, em todas as suas áreas, no país, por meio da publicação de obras individuais e coletivas, que discutam temas ligados às principais questões nacionais, com enfoque especial naquelas presentes nas regiões na qual está inserida: as do Norte, Noroeste e Baixada litorânea do estado do Rio de Janeiro

14- Botanica serbica. Belgrade : Institute of Botany and Botanical Garden

"Jevremovac", University of Belgrade, 2009- / ISSN: 1821-2158

e-ISSN: 1821-2638 <https://botanicaserbica.bio.bg.ac.rs/index.html>

Botanica Serbica is an international peer reviewed journal published as the official journal of the Institute of Botany and 'Jevremovac' Botanical Garden of the University of Belgrade; it is the renamed continuation of the Bulletin of the Institute of Botany and Botanical Garden Belgrade . The journal is edited by an internationally recognized Editorial Board and is published both online and in print, twice per year. Botanica Serbica publishes original research papers on all aspects of plant, fungal and microbial biology research including the disciplines of microbiology, mycology, lichenology, bryology, flora, vegetation, biogeography, systematics, taxonomy, plant biotechnology, plant cell biology, plant ecology, environmental plant biology, forestry, genomics, horticulture, limnology, metabolomics, molecular biology, proteomics, virology, plant conservation and protection, and wildlife and ecosystem management.

- 15- Cities and the environment. Chestnut Hill, MA : Boston College Libraries, Urban Ecology Collaborative & Urban Natural Resource Institute, 2008- / e-ISSN: 1932-7048 <https://digitalcommons.lmu.edu/cate/>

Cities and the Environment (CATE), a web-based journal, aims to provide an international forum for urban researchers and practitioners to explore ecological theory, share relevant data and exchange best practices.

Industry sectors that this journal targets include the biophysical, social and educational aspects of urban management, landscape transformation and educational interventions. The ability of web-based publishing to reach the widest readership possible and the publisher's goal to keep this journal free of charge will produce a scholarly environment where the audience can exchange ideas and findings that contribute to continued positive urban transformations.

- 16- City, territory and architecture. He-Idelberg, Germany : Springer-Verlag, GmbH, 2014- / e-ISSN: 2195-2701 <https://cityterritoryarchitecture.springeropen.com/>

Focusing on the pluralism of positions and project perspectives, City, Territory and Architecture (CTA) opens an interdisciplinary debate on the relational nature of projects for spaces where people settle and interrelate. The journal shares theoretical and applied scientific knowledge and positions with primary goal of exploring conceptual and physical relations between city, territory and architecture. The central theme of the journal is the adaptation to new urban situations: new forms of inhabiting space are arising in the contemporary city; both human settlement and project development and implementation are characterized by a stronger awareness of and care for the entire territory, as well as an awareness of environmental values. One scope of this journal is to propose new tools to tackle these challenges. CTA emphasizes the importance of ethical concern in projects and calls for society's legitimization of interventions proposed and managed by architects and planners.

17- Ciudades. Valladolid: Universidad de Valladolid. Instituto Universitario de Urbanística, 1993- / e-ISSN: 2445-3943

<https://revistas.uva.es/index.php/ciudades/index>

Revista científica de periodicidad anual, fundada en 1993 y editada por el Instituto Universitario de Urbanística de la Universidad de Valladolid (España), que se dedica a temas de urbanismo en sentido amplio y se dirige al mundo académico así como a la ciudadanía interesada por las cuestiones urbanas y territoriales desde disciplinas diversas. La revista está indexada en el Emerging Sources Citation Index (Web of Science Core Collection) y en Scopus, y ha obtenido el sello de calidad FECyT.

18- Collectanea botánica. Barcelona, Instituto Botánico, 1946- (En electrónico desde 1988-) / ISSN: 0010-0730 e-ISSN: 1989-1067

<https://collectaneabotanica.revistas.csic.es/index.php/collectaneabotanica/index>

19- Contexto: Revista de la Facultad de Arquitectura de la Universidad

Autónoma de Nuevo León. San Nicolás de los Garza, México : Universidad Autónoma de Nuevo León, Facultad de Arquitectura, 2007 (en electrónico desde 2011-) / e-ISSN: 2007-1639

<https://contexto.uanl.mx/index.php/contexto/issue/archive>

CONTEXTO. Revista de la Facultad de Arquitectura de la Universidad Autónoma de Nuevo León es una revista científica internacional arbitrada e indexada, que se edita desde el año 2007 bajo los derechos, el patrocinio y la administración de la Facultad de Arquitectura de la Universidad Autónoma de Nuevo León. CONTEXTO es una publicación semestral especializada en arquitectura y estudios urbanos y regionales, privilegiando las investigaciones de carácter interdisciplinario desde las Ciencias Sociales y Humanidades (Arquitectura, Urbanismo, Geografía, Sociología, Economía, Antropología, Psicología, Historia, Educación y otras a fines) en cualquier parte del mundo, aunque primando las temáticas centradas en América Latina y el Caribe. Contexto al ser una revista semestral se edita dos veces al año, en los meses de marzo y septiembre.

20- Cuestión urbana. Buenos Aires : Centro de Estudios de Ciudad, Facultad de Ciencias Sociales, Universidad de Buenos Aires, 2017- /
e-ISSN: 2545-6881

<https://publicaciones.sociales.uba.ar/index.php/cuestionurbana/index>

Cuestión Urbana es una publicación científica de periodicidad semestral, creada por el Centro de Estudios de Ciudad de la Facultad de Ciencias Sociales de la Universidad de Buenos Aires. Tiene por objetivo contribuir al necesario debate sobre la ciudad en sus múltiples dimensiones. Se propicia el intercambio y la comunicación de reflexiones teóricas y empíricas, así como la publicación de avances de investigación; incluye el diálogo con iniciativas de vinculación y transferencia, y los discursos producidos por actores sociales de relevancia para cada temática propuesta. Se espera de esta manera contribuir al diálogo entre disciplinas y perspectivas que abordan el campo.

21- DU & P: revista de diseño urbano y paisaje. Santiago de Chile : Universidad Central de Chile, Centro de Estudios Arquitectónicos, Urbanísticos y del Paisaje, Facultad de Arquitectura, Urbanismo y Paisaje, 2005- / e-SSN: 0717-9758 <http://dup.ucentral.cl/index.htm>

DU & P busca desplegar una visión histórica y cultural, transdisciplinaria y contextualizadora del quehacer que surge, tanto desde el pensamiento como de las acciones que se organizan como intervenciones en el espacio de la habitabilidad humana. Se propone reconocer en especial las prácticas teóricas y técnicas referidas a la producción del espacio urbano, el ordenamiento territorial y la conformación del paisaje. En este contexto interesa particularmente la labor de la disciplina arquitectónica y urbanística, en su tarea generadoras del sentido y condición de la habitabilidad de las ciudades. DU & P ha considerado en especial el Diseño Urbano y la Arquitectura del Paisaje como aquellas prácticas disciplinarias de más amplia responsabilidad en la formación de los espacios de habitabilidad de la vida urbana y de mayor incidencia en la formación del capital simbólico de la ciudad. La praxis del Diseño Urbano, si bien suele proclamar su propio estatuto teórico, se enraíza en el cuerpo disciplinar de la Arquitectura al cual pertenece, y reconoce las dimensiones políticas, económicas y sociales del Ordenamiento Territorial en el que se genera. Por su parte, la Arquitectura del Paisaje se constituye multiformemente con la propia praxis del Diseño Urbano y emerge con él como imagen de la ciudad, como multiplicidad de lugares, como construcciones culturales de identidad, como entorno fisiográfico, como ambiente, como sustentabilidad, como estructura signíca y simbólica del espacio habitable. Si bien se busca perfilar una reflexión crítica y transdisciplinaria sobre los discursos teóricos y técnico de estas prácticas, esta no se circunscribe a la formalidad de sus “logos” disciplinarios, ni a los discursos detentadores de sentido de la racionalidad objetivista. Se abre también a posibilidades epistemológicas alternativas y emergentes que permitan alcanzar los entretejimientos inesperados que los estatutos de estas prácticas tienen con la vida cotidiana y sus manifestaciones, aun aquellos vínculos recónditos que habitan en los imaginarios individuales y sociales.

22– Espacio y desarrollo. Lima : Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú, Departamento de Humanidades, Centro de Investigación en Geografía Aplicada, 1989– / ISSN: 1016–9148 e-ISSN: 2311–5734
<https://revistas.pucp.edu.pe/index.php/espacioydesarrollo/>

Espacio y Desarrollo es una publicación de periodicidad semestral, abierta a todas las corrientes de investigación básica y aplicada en el campo de la geografía. Se reciben contribuciones en forma de artículos científicos sobre experiencias de investigaciones aplicadas, aportes teórico–metodológicos, resúmenes de tesis en forma de artículos científicos, ensayos geográficos originales, reseñas bibliográficas y semblanzas en español o inglés. Está diseñada para la divulgación de investigaciones geográficas del Perú y América Latina, para contribuir al conocimiento de nuestros territorios y lograr que se amplíe y enriquezca la discusión sobre el desarrollo sostenible. Asimismo, busca ser una fuente de consulta tanto para investigadores como para estudiantes de geografía y áreas afines, interesados en temas ambientales, de organización y desarrollo territorial.

23– Estoa : Revista de la facultad de arquitectura y urbanismo de la universidad de Cuenca. Cuenca, Ecuador : Centro de Investigación de la Facultad de Arquitectura y Urbanismo de la Universidad de Cuenca, 2012– /

ISSN: 1390-7263 e-ISSN: 1390-9274

<https://publicaciones.ucuenca.edu.ec/ojs/index.php/estoa>

Estoa. Revista de la Facultad de Arquitectura y Urbanismo de la Universidad de Cuenca, es una publicación científica editada por la Facultad de Arquitectura y Urbanismo de la Universidad de Cuenca, con periodicidad semestral y de acceso abierto, arbitrada mediante revisión por pares (doble ciego), garantizando un proceso de revisión objetivo, imparcial y transparente, lo que permite a la publicación su inclusión en bases de datos, repositorios e indexaciones internacionales de referencia. La revista tiene como objetivo principal difundir el conocimiento generado en el ámbito de la enseñanza de la arquitectura, el proyecto arquitectónico, la construcción y eficiencia energética, el urbanismo y la planificación territorial, y la conservación del patrimonio edificado. Es decir, todos los campos desde lo arquitectónico hasta lo urbano. Estoa acepta artículos que son producto de investigaciones originales e inéditas, en los idiomas español e inglés. Está dirigida a investigadores, académicos y profesionales del área de especialización de la revista.

24- Estudo prévio. Lisboa : Centro de Estudos de Arquitectura, Cidade e Território da Universidade Autónoma de Lisboa, 2012- / e-ISSN: 2182-4339 <https://www.estudoprevio.net/>

A revista ESTUDO PRÉVIO é uma publicação semestral do Centro de Estudos de Arquitectura, Cidade e Território da Universidade Autónoma de Lisboa (CEACT/UAL). Com esta publicação queremos projetar um lugar novo onde a partilha do conhecimento pode ser feita com a naturalidade de uma conversa, com o rigor de um artigo técnico, com a apresentação de um livro ou ainda através o debate aberto na comunidade digital. A propuesta de criar mais uma revista de arquitetura foi, desde o início, um desafio para escolhermos um caminho um pouco diferente e por isso criámos uma linha editorial centrada nas condições reais que determinam a produção arquitetónica ainda antes de qualquer esquiço ou maquete, ou mesmo ainda antes de sermos arquitetos.

25- EURE: revista latinoamericana de estudios urbano regionales. Santiago de Chile Universidad Católica de Chile, Centro de Desarrollo Urbano y Regional, 1970- / e-ISSN: 0717-6236
<http://www.eure.cl/index.php/eure/issue/archive>

Revista EURE es una revista especializada en estudios urbanos y regionales, que publica trabajos originales y de investigación de punta desde 1971, referidos al territorio en todas sus dimensiones, privilegiando las investigaciones interdisciplinarias de interés y con alto impacto. EURE recibe trabajos que consideran temas relevantes para los países iberoamericanos y adoptan explícitamente una dimensión territorial, ofreciendo aportes novedosos a la discusión teórica a través de trabajos empíricos y de la discusión de sus resultados. EURE no acepta ensayos que propongan exclusivamente una discusión teórica o que expongan resultados sin analizarlos, ni acepta trabajos de alcance exclusivamente local. Cada manuscrito es objeto de una revisión preliminar y será rechazado en caso de no cumplir con algunos de los factores indicados en la sección Proceso de revisión por pares. Antes de enviar un manuscrito a la revista, se sugiere revisar las indicaciones acerca de la revisión preliminar. En su calidad de publicación cuatrimestral, EURE publica trabajos sobre la organización y gestión territorial en sus expresiones urbanas, regionales y locales, considerando sus dimensiones ambientales. Además, ha logrado una efectiva difusión internacional, llegando a la mayor parte de los centros académicos que se dedican al estudio de los temas del desarrollo urbano–regional; esto le ha permitido contar en forma regular con la colaboración de muchos de los especialistas más destacados en este campo de especialización.

26– European journal of taxonomy. Paris, France : Muséum national d'histoire naturelle, 2011– / e-ISSN: 2118–9773

<https://europeanjournaloftaxonomy.eu/index.php/ejt/index>

EJT is a fully refereed, international, fully electronic Open Access journal in descriptive taxonomy, covering subjects in zoology, entomology, botany (in its broadest sense), and palaeontology.

27– Frontiers in built environment. Lausanne, Switzerland : Frontiers Media S.A., 2015– / ISSN: 2297–3362

<https://www.frontiersin.org/journals/built-environment>

Frontiers in Built Environment publishes rigorously peer-reviewed research across the area of civil engineering, within and beyond urban spaces. The main focus is on the development of smart and sustainable methodologies for the design, construction and management of resilient buildings and infrastructure. This includes Damage-tolerant resilient infrastructure and buildings, Sustainable design and construction, Green building, Structural health monitoring and disaster prevention, Smart cities, Computer simulation and data science for innovative design and construction, and more. This multidisciplinary open-access journal provides a platform for collaboration across disciplines that aids discovery, and is at the forefront of disseminating and communicating scientific knowledge and impactful discoveries to researchers, engineers, and the public worldwide.

28– Gaceta técnica. Barquisimeto, Venezuela : Decanato de Ingeniería Civil de la Universidad Centroccidental Lisandro Alvarado, 2000, (En electrónico 2005–2006, 2008, 2014–) / ISSN:1856–9560 e-ISSN:2477–9539
<https://revistas.uclave.org/index.php/gt/index>

GACETA TÉCNICA es una publicación científica semestral de acceso abierto, arbitrada e indexada, del Decanato de Ingeniería Civil de la Universidad Centroccidental Lisandro Alvarado. Dirigida a profesionales, investigadores y académicos del área de la ingeniería civil en todas sus ramas, arquitectura, urbanismo, y educadores que laboran en los programas mencionados. Constituye un espacio académico para la divulgación de trabajos científicos originales, de carácter interdisciplinario y multidisciplinario relacionados con el campo de la Ingeniería Civil, Urbanismo y Arquitectura.

29– Geology, ecology, and landscapes. Abingdon, Oxfordshire, UK : Taylor & Francis, 2017– / ISSN: 2474–9508
<https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/tgel20/current>

Geology, Ecology and Landscapes publishes research on the ecological change, development and conservation within the tropical regions.

30– HBRC journal. Philadelphia : Taylor & Francis, 2004– (En electrónico desde 2012–) / ISSN: 2090–9934
<https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/thbr20/current>

Publishes international research on building materials, including architecture, housing and urban development, environmental engineering and nanotechnology.

31 – Horticultura brasileira. Brasília, D.F. : Sociedade de Olericultura do Brasil, 1983– (En electrónico desde 1998–) / ISSN: 0102–0536
e-ISSN: 1806–9991 <https://www.scielo.br/j/hb/>

O periódico Horticultura Brasileira é a revista oficial da Associação Brasileira de Horticultura. Horticultura Brasileira destina-se à publicação de artigos técnico-científicos que envolvam hortaliças, plantas medicinais, condimentares e ornamentais e que contribuam significativamente para o desenvolvimento destes setores.

32– HortScience. Alexandria, Va. : American Society for Horticultural Science, 1966– (En electrónico desde 1990–) / ISSN: 0018–5345
e-ISSN: 2327–9834
<https://journals.ashs.org/hortsci/view/journals/hortsci/hortsci-overview.xml>

HortScience publishes horticultural information of interest to a broad array of horticulturists. Its goals are to apprise horticultural scientists and others interested in horticulture of scientific and industry developments and of significant research, education, or extension findings or methods.

33– Hortus botanicus. Petrozavodsk: A.A. Prokhorov, 2001– /
e-ISSN:1994–3849 <http://hb.karelia.ru/>

Los jardines botánicos son instituciones que almacenan colecciones documentadas de plantas vivas con fines de investigación, conservación, demostración y educación (BGCI) .La revista internacional de jardines botánicos 'Hortus Botanicus' fue creada en 2001 con el objetivo de desarrollar relaciones entre los jardines botánicos, centros únicos para la conservación y el estudio de los recursos fitogenéticos en el planeta Tierra.

34– i2: Investigación e Innovación en Arquitectura y Territorio. San Vicente del Raspeig, Alicante : Universidad de Alicante, Departamento de Expresión Gráfica, Composición y Proyectos, 2013– / e-ISSN: 2341–0515
<https://i2.ua.es/>

[i2] Investigación e Innovación en Arquitectura y Territorio es una revista digital de carácter científico. Nuestro cometido es la publicación de trabajos que arranquen de la dimensión cultural y crítica de la arquitectura y el territorio. La revista quiere concentrarse de manera particular en aquellos asuntos de interés que atraviesan las agendas contemporáneas. De esta manera, aspiramos a participar activamente en los debates que están sucediendo en nuestro presente radical, compartido, transversal y que imaginamos cada vez más inclusivo.

35 – ICONARP: international journal architecture and planning. Konya : Selçuk Üniversitesi, 2013– / ISSN: 2147–9380
<https://iconarp.ktun.edu.tr/index.php/iconarp>

Architecture, Planning and Design are strongly affected by other disciplines such as the arts, philosophy, engineering, geography, economics, politics, sociology, history, psychology, geology, information technology, ecology, law, security and management. However, there are not enough academic journals which specifically focus on the connections of architecture, planning and design with other fields of science. ICONARP aims to fill that gap. Our scope is to provide a suitable space for theoretical, methodological and empirical papers in architectural, urban and real estate studies. ICONARP aims to be a reputable platform for the studies of Architecture, Planning and Design.

36– IET smart cities. Stevenage : John Wiley & Sons Ltd. on behalf of The Institution of Engineering and Technology, 2019– / e-ISSN: 2631–7680
<https://ietresearch.onlinelibrary.wiley.com/journal/26317680>

IET Smart Cities is a Gold Open Access journal that publishes original research on the latest advances in ICT for Smart Cities, addresses standards, technologies, systems, research, implementation, deployment, applications, benchmarking and policy. The journal draws together work from academia, industry and government.

37– Igra ustvarjalnosti: teorija in praksa urejanja prostora = Creativity game: theory and practice of spatial planning. Ljubljana : University of Ljubljana, Faculty of Architecture and University of Ljubljana, Faculty of Civil and Geodetic Engineering, 2013– / e- ISSN: 2350–3637
<https://www.iu-cg.org/en/index.php>

The journal shall publish peer-reviewed scientific articles, book reviews, presentations of research and professional projects, workshop presentations, presentations of scientific and professional meetings, presentations of professional visits, scientific conferences and similar. The review procedure shall be applied to submissions in the Slovenian and English languages, which shall be based on theoretical and practical experience from the areas of architecture, civil engineering, urban design and planning, spatial planning, landscape architecture, sociology and from other areas of social and technical sciences relevant to these subject matters. It shall present the results of professional work, teaching and scientific research that, through the use of creativity and abstract thinking, form a continuous flow of experiential learning about spatial values and the processes within.). In the selection of the manuscripts for publications, the editors shall place emphasis on originality and currency related to the trends in the research community.

38– In_bo : Ricerche e progetti per il territorio, la città e l'architettura. Bologna, Italy: Università di Bologna. Dipartimento di architettura e pianificazione territorial, 2008– / e-ISSN: 2036–1602 <https://in-bo.unibo.it/index>

In_bo è una rivista digitale e open-access, fondata nel 2008 e con sede a Bologna. Pubblica annualmente numeri tematici di ricerca su argomenti quali il progetto architettonico, la storia dell'architettura e gli studi urbani, con un'attenzione particolare per la didattica dell'architettura e le intersezioni tra architettura, cultura e società. I saggi pubblicati da in_bo possono essere in italiano o in inglese, selezionati secondo un processo di double blind peer-review. La rivista pubblica inoltre progetti grafici e recensioni di libri o di seminari/conferenze.

39– InSitu: Revista Científica do Programa de Mestrado Profissional em Projeto, Produção e Gestão do Espaço Urbano. São Paulo, Brazil : FIAM-FAAM Centro Universitário, 2015– / e-ISSN: 2446–9696
<https://revistaseletronicas.fiamfaam.br/index.php/situs>

Trata de temas diretamente relacionados às transformações do espaço em suas diversas escalas, em uma aproximação integradora entre o conhecimento técnico-científico, a atividade profissional e o setor acadêmico.

40– International journal of human capital in urban management. Tehran, Iran : Municipality of Tehran, Planning and Education Office, 2016– / e-ISSN: 2476–4698 <http://www.ijhcum.net/>

International Journal of Human Capital in Urban Management (IJHCUM) is an open access, quarterly FREE CHARGE Publication affiliated with Tehran

Urban Planning and Research Center. The title publishes original research papers, reviews, case studies and short communication covering all aspects of urban management.

41 – Italian journal of planning practice. Roma, Italy : Italian journal of planning practice, 2011– / e-ISSN: 2239–267X
<http://www.ijpp.it/index.php/it/index>

The journal is concerned with encouraging reflections and disseminating knowledge and research on the peculiar characteristics of Italian planning practice and policy all across the world to the widest possible readership. IJPP also considers comparative case studies of fundamental importance for the understanding of planning practices.

42 – Journal of architecture and urbanism. Vilnius : Vilnius Gediminas Technical University, 2012– / ISSN: 2029–7955 e-ISSN: 2029–7947
<https://journals.vgtu.lt/index.php/JAU>

The Journal of Architecture and Urbanism publishes original research on all aspects of urban architecture.

43 – Journal of construction in developing countries. Pulau Pinang, Malaysia : Universiti Sains Malaysia Press : Working Commission 107 W107 of the International Council for Research and Innovation in Building Construction CIB, 2006– / ISSN: 1823–6499 e-ISSN: 2180–4222
<http://web.usm.my/jcdc/index.html>

The Journal of Construction in Developing Countries seeks to provide a central vehicle for the exchange and dissemination of knowledge on issues relevant to the built environment of developing countries. The journal provides a wide range of original research and application papers on current developments and advances in the built environment as well as the economic, social, cultural and technological contexts of developing countries. It also publishes detailed case studies, as well as short communications and discussions. Topics covered include, but are not restricted to planning, urban economics, rural and regional development, housing, management and resource issues, sustainability, knowledge and technology transfer, construction procurement, facilities management, information and communication technologies, strategies and policy issues, design issues, conservation and environmental issues.

44 – Journal of design and the built environment. Kuala Lumpur : Faculty of Built Environment, University of Malaya, 2005– / ISSN : 1823–4208
e-ISSN: 2232–1500 <https://ejournal.um.edu.my/index.php/jdbe/index>

The Journal of Design and Built Environment (JDBE) is a SCOPUS-indexed and free open access publication by the Faculty of Built Environment, University of Malaya. Published biannually, JDBE usually contains four academic papers of wide-ranging topics reporting on issues in the built environment, i.e. architecture and design including landscape architecture, urban and regional planning and studies, building and quantity surveys and real estate studies and management.

45 – Journal of environmental engineering and landscape management. Vilnius: Vilniaus Gedimino technikos universitetas, 2003– / ISSN: 1648–6897
e-ISSN: 1822–4199 <https://journals.vgtu.lt/index.php/JEELM>

The Journal of Environmental Engineering and Landscape Management publishes original research about the environment with emphasis on sustainability.

46– Journal of landscape ecology. International Association of Landscape Ecology. Warsaw, Poland: De Gruyter Poland, 2008– / ISSN: 1803–2427 e-ISSN: 1805–4196 <https://sciendo.com/journal/jlecol>

The Journal of Landscape Ecology supports integration of knowledge from geo-, bio- and socio-sciences at the ecosystem and landscape level. Great emphasis is given to relationships between nature and culture including knowledge of ancient landscapes. The Journal publishes papers on spatial and temporal heterogeneity especially in the context of climate change and its impacts on terrestrial environment across adequate scale hierarchy. Expertise from the spheres of land-use planning and design, habitat and landscape typology, ecosystem management, biodiversity protection and ecological restoration, and rules of ecological processes are promoted. The scope of the journal includes different landscapes and ecosystems of the world.

47– Journal of urban and regional analysis. Bucharest, Romania: Universitatea din București. Centrul Interdisciplinar de Cercetări Avansate asupra Dinamicii Teritoriale, 2009– / ISSN: 2067–4082 e-ISSN: 2068–9969 <http://www.jurareview.ro/>

Urban and regional questions are crucial in understanding the present territorial conditions. From the World Bank's 'rediscovery' in its 2009 Report of the potential of cities in encouraging economic growth, to the multiple ways in which cities are being drawn into the processes of neoliberalism, to the dynamic growth of cities in the developing countries in Asia far outstripping the scale of cities in the older urbanized nations – everywhere there are signs of a rapidly changing urban condition. The same is true for the regions where 'old questions' of regional economic disparity and uneven development are being given a new twist as economic globalization impacts the national and local arenas. JURA, the Journal of Urban and Regional Analysis, working as an Open-access journal (with two issues/year, in February and in August – starting with 2020; previously annually publishing in June and in December, for the period 2009–2019), was launched as a response to the exciting world of urban and regional research emerging in reaction to these changes happening in the real world.

48– Jurnal pembangunan wilayah dan kota. Semarang, Indonesia : Department of Urban and Regional Planning, Diponegoro University, 2005– / ISSN: 1858–3903 e-ISSN: 2597–9272
<https://ejournal.undip.ac.id/index.php/pwk/index>

Jurnal Pembangunan Wilayah dan Kota (e-ISSN: 2597–9272) provides a forum for publishing the original research articles, review articles, and short communication articles related to urban studies and development. Jurnal Pembangunan Wilayah dan Kota is published quarterly every March, June, September, and December. Jurnal Pembangunan Wilayah dan Kota is an open access journal focusing on the scientific works devoted to the study of urban and regional development planning also. This journal publishes both empirical and theoretical research to advance and disseminate knowledge related to urban and regional development and planning. The journal emphasizes on the sustainability issues in the economic, social, planning, and institutional dimensions about regional and urban development in Indonesia and worldwide.

49– Jurnal RUAS. Malang, Jawa Timur, Indonesia : Department of Architecture, Faculty of Engineering, Universitas Brawijaya, 2011– / ISSN: 1693–3702 e-ISSN: 2477–6033 <https://ruas.ub.ac.id/index.php/ruas>

RUAS (Review of Urbanism and Architectural Studies) is a scientific publication for widespread research and criticism topics related to urbanism and architecture studies. RUAS is published twice a year since 2011 by the Department of Architecture of Universitas Brawijaya.

50– Landscape online. Germany : IALE–D, International Association of Landscape Ecology. Region Deutschland, 2007– / ISSN: 1865–1542
<https://www.landscape-online.org/index.php/lo>

Landscape Online focuses on studies dealing with research in landscape ecology. The subject matter deals with any scientific, educational or applied aspect of processes, dynamics, indicators, controllers and visions related to landscapes. Furthermore, Landscape Online emphasizes the coupling of societal and natural systems, not only the involvement of human impact on landscape systems but also human perception of the landscape, its values and the evaluation of landscapes. Moreover, articles are appropriate that deal with landscape theory, system approaches and conceptual models of landscape, both their improvement and their discussion. Papers may be undisciplinary or multidisciplinary but have interdisciplinary or transdisciplinary appeal.

51– Langkau Betang : jurnal arsitektur. Kalimantan Barat, Indonesia : Department of Architecture, Universitas Tanjungpura Pontianak, 2014–
ISSN:2355–2484 e-ISSN:2550–1194
<https://jurnal.untan.ac.id/index.php/lb/>

Angkau Betang: Jurnal Arsitektur, is a nationally accredited (Sinta 3) peer-reviewed journal, publishing scholarly writings about Architecture and its related discussion periodically. The aims of this journal are to disseminate research findings, ideas, and review in architectural studies such as architecture theory, design and planning, building technology, urban and settlement. It published two times a year (semesterly; April and October). We accept manuscript with Indonesian or English language.

52– Lankesteriana : international journal on orchidology. Cartago, Costa Rica :

Jardín Botánico Lankester, Universidad de Costa Rica, 2001– / ISSN

1409–3871 ISSN–e: 2215–2067

<https://revistas.ucr.ac.cr/index.php/lankesteriana/index>

LANKESTERIANA, la revista científica del Jardín Botánico Lankester, Universidad de Costa Rica, se dedica a la publicación de contribuciones originales relativas a la orquideología, incluyendo la sistemática, filogenia, evolución, ecología, biología reproductiva, anatomía, fisiología, conservación e historia de las orquídeas, así como a revisiones de libros y conferencias en estos temas.

53– Legado de arquitectura y diseño. Toluca, México : Universidad Autónoma del Estado de México, Facultad de Arquitectura y Diseño, 2004–

e–ISSN: 2448–749X <https://hemeroteca.uaemex.mx/index.php/legado>

Legado de Arquitectura y Diseño es una publicación periódica semestral arbitrada e indexada de investigación científica sobre el campo de la arquitectura y el diseño del espacio habitable. La revista está dirigida a investigadores, catedráticos y estudiantes, con el objetivo de difundir estudios, trabajos teóricos y empíricos e investigaciones y promover el intercambio de información científica. Los artículos publicados por Legado de Arquitectura y Diseño son sometidos en forma anónima a un estricto arbitraje de pares académicos, en la modalidad de doble ciego.

54– Local Wisdom : Jurnal Ilmiah Kajian Kearifan Lokal. Malang, Indonesia :

Pusat Studi Kearifan Lokal, Department Of Architecture, Universitas

Merdeka Malang, 2009– / ISSN: 2086–3764 e-ISSN: 2615–4951

<https://jurnal.unmer.ac.id/index.php/lw>

LOCAL WISDOM is a scientific journal in the field of Architecture and the City as a "bridge" between the disciplines of architecture and urban planning and design studies. This scientific journal focusing on research relating to the study of local wisdom. Local knowledge is a potential local characteristic based on a local culture that has been a tradition in public life. A form of local wisdom studies varied widely, ranging from a cultural value system, social system to the physical manifestation of culture in the form of local knowledge, local technologies, as well as the physical form of the built environment. Studies of local wisdom is an effort in order to realize the harmony of the city environment, and sustainable through the use and development of local knowledge, contextual and a participatory approach. The scope of the study will be published in an article relating to the study of architecture (space, shape, and arrangement), a special area of study, and the study of urban planning and design. Local Wisdom of Journal published by the Center for Local Wisdom Studies, Department of Architecture, University of Merdeka Malang.

55– Majallah-i 'ulūm-i bāghbānī = Journal of horticultural science. Mashhad :

Intishārāt-i Dānishgāh-i Firdawsī-i Mashhad, 2008– / ISSN: 2008–4730

e-ISSN: 2423–3986 <https://jhs.um.ac.ir/?lang=en>

The Journal of Horticultural Science is published quarterly (4 Issues/year) since 2007. The aims of Journal: Scientific ability of graduate members, Researchers, students and those interested in Agriculture Issues quantitatively and qualitatively stand points. Original scientific and research works results in the field of growing vegetables, medicinal plants, ornamental plants, pomology and breeding and biotechnology of plants are published after peer review.

56– On the w@terfront (Barcelona, Spain). Barcelona: Universitat de Barcelona, 1998– / e-ISSN: 1139–7365 <https://raco.cat/index.php/Waterfront>

On the W@terfront és publicada pel Public Art Observatory, que és la plataforma d'Internet per a la investigació sobre l'art públic del centre de recerca CR POLIS de la Universitat de Barcelona. Creat el juliol de 1999, el CR POLIS és un centre d'investigació interdisciplinari del qual formen part docents dels departaments d'escultura, dibuix i psicologia social, entre altres. Les línies de recerca principals del centre són la sostenibilitat urbana, el disseny urbà i l'art públic. La revista és editada per Antoni Remesar.

57– Ornamental horticulture. Campinas, SP, Brasil : Sociedade Brasileira de Floricultura e Plantas Ornamentais, 2015– / e- ISSN: 2447–536X <https://ornamentalthorticulture.emnuvens.com.br/rbho/index>

This Journal aim to publish technical and scientific researches in floriculture, ornamental plants, landscaping and landscapes from members of this Society and others.

58– Paisagem ambiente. São Paulo, SP, Brasil : Faculdade de Arquitetura e Urbanismo, Universidade de São Paulo, 1986 (En electrónico desde 1996–) / ISSN: 0104–6098 e-ISSN: 2359–5361 <https://www.revistas.usp.br/paam/>

Revista dedicada à divulgação de pesquisas, projetos e estudos sobre o paisagismo, nos seus diversos campos de atuação: do projeto de paisagismo aos planos de áreas livres, dos estudos históricos às experiências de ensino, das pesquisas acadêmicas – dos mais diversos portes – aos resultados de eventos científicos, trabalhos teóricos e resenhas de livros. Possui, como focos especiais, os espaços livres urbanos, a questão ambiental, o ensino e o projeto de paisagismo, o desenho da paisagem e o da forma urbana, os fundamentos teóricos e a pesquisa em paisagismo.

59– Paranoá : cadernos de arquitetura e urbanismo. Brasília, DF : Universidade de Brasília, Faculdade de Arquitetura e Urbanismo, 2003– / ISSN: 1677-7395 e-ISSN:1679-0944
<https://periodicos.unb.br/index.php/paranoa>

A Paranoá é um periódico científico mantido pelo Programa de Pós-Graduação em Arquitetura e Urbanismo da Universidade de Brasília que publica trabalhos de pesquisa originais dentro de um escopo multidisciplinar das diferentes áreas acadêmicas da Arquitetura e Urbanismo, incluindo: Projeto e Planejamento; Teoria, História e Crítica; Tecnologia, Ambiente e Sustentabilidade. A Paranoá publica artigos em fluxo contínuo, nos idiomas português, espanhol e inglês, e não cobra taxas sobre submissão, processamento e disponibilização dos artigos.

60– Pixo : revista de arquitetura, cidade, e contemporaneidade. Pelotas, Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil : Universidade Federal de Pelotas : Cidade+Contemporaneidade, 2017– / e-ISSN: 2526-7310
<https://periodicos.ufpel.edu.br/ojs2/index.php/pixo>

A revista digital trimestral (primavera, verão, outono e inverno – ágil e contínua) reúne artigos, ensaios, entrevistas e resenhas (redigidos em português, inglês ou espanhol) em números temáticos e; em torno da abordagem multidisciplinar de questões relacionadas à sociedade contemporânea, em especial na relação entre a arquitetura e cidade, habitando para isso as fronteiras da filosofia da desconstrução, das artes e da educação, a fim de criar ações projetuais e afectos para uma ética e estética urbana atual.

61 – Pós: Revista do Programa de Pós-Graduação em Arquitetura e Urbanismo da FAUUSP. São Paulo, SP : Programa de Pós-Graduação em Arquitetura Urbanismo da FAUUSP, 1990– / ISSN: 1518-9554 e-ISSN: 2317-2762
<https://www.revistas.usp.br/posfau>

A revista Pós. Revista do Programa de Pós-Graduação em Arquitetura e Urbanismo da FAUUSP publica artigos inéditos, tendo como critério de seleção a consistência teórica e a adequação à linha e às normas editoriais da revista, outorgando, aos autores inteira responsabilidade pelas idéias por eles apresentadas. Todo o material recebido é submetido à Comissão Editorial, que indica especialistas ad hoc internos e externos para a emissão de pareceres, pelo sistema double blind peer review.

62– Revista brasileira de estudos regionais e urbanos. Curitiba, PR, Brasil : Associação Brasileira de Estudos Regionais e Urbanos ABER, 2007– / e-ISSN: 2447-7990 <https://revistaaber.org.br/rberu>

A Revista Brasileira de Estudos Regionais e Urbanos (RBERU) é uma publicação oficial da Associação Brasileira de Estudos Regionais e Urbanos (ABER). A revista tem por objetivo publicar trabalhos de alta qualidade e que representam contribuição científica no campo da ciência regional, com ênfase para estudos sobre a realidade brasileira. Também são bem-vindos trabalhos sobre a realidade de outros países. A revista recepciona artigos que apresentem rigorosa fundamentação teórica e aplicação de métodos e modelos empíricos, nos quais as dimensões regional ou urbana são incorporadas como elemento relevante do desenvolvimento econômico.

- 63– Revista Chapingo – Serie Horticultura. Chapingo, Mexico : Universidad Autónoma Chapingo, 1994– / ISSN: 1027-152X e-ISSN: 2007-4034
<https://revistas.chapingo.mx/horticultura/>

The Revista Chapingo Serie Horticultura (RCHSH) publishes scientific and technological research results in the horticultural field and its related areas. Its objective is to generate an international space for dissemination and discussion of scientific and technological knowledge in the horticultural field, through the publication of unpublished research results. It is aimed at researchers and professionals dedicated to or associated with the horticultural area.

- 64– Revista de morfologia urbana. Porto, Portugal : Rede Lusófona de Morfologia Urbana, 2013– / e-ISSN: 2182-7214
<http://revistademorfologiaurbana.org/index.php/rmu>

A Revista de Morfologia Urbana (RMU) é uma publicação científica bianual da Portuguese–Language Network of Urban Morphology (PNUM), de acesso aberto, voltada para pesquisadores que buscam avançar o estado da arte sobre a forma urbana como materialização de processos sociais e históricos, em ativa relação com agências e experiências urbanas.

- 65– Revista de urbanismo. Santiago de Chile : Universidad de Chile, Facultad de Arquitectura y Urbanismo, Departamento de Urbanismo, 1999– / ISSN: 0717-5051 <https://revistaurbanismo.uchile.cl/index.php/RU/index>

Revista de urbanismo es una producción académica con más de dos décadas de existencia perteneciente al prestigioso Departamento de Urbanismo de la Universidad de Chile, reconocido como el centro educacional más antiguo del país. Fundada en 1999, nuestra revista tiene como objetivo contribuir al desarrollo del conocimiento en materia de urbanismo, diseño urbano y ordenamiento territorial, tanto desde una perspectiva científica, teórica y conceptual, como técnica y práctica.

66– Revista del Jardín Botánico Nacional. La Habana: Universidad de La Habana.

1980– (En electrónico desde 2001–) / e-ISSN: 2410–5546

<http://www.rjbn.uh.cu/index.php/RJBN/index>

La Revista tiene como objetivo difundir los resultados de trabajos científicos nacionales y extranjeros en el campo de la Botánica y la Micología, así como dar a conocer las actividades realizadas por los miembros de la Sociedad Cubana de Botánica y de la Red Nacional de Jardines Botánicos de Cuba.

67– Revista Pensum. Córdoba, Argentina : Facultad de Arquitectura, Urbanismo

y Diseño, Universidad Nacional de Córdoba, 2015– / ISSN: 2469–0724

<https://revistas.unc.edu.ar/index.php/pensu>

Revista PENSUM es una publicación periódica, editada por la Escuela de Graduados y el Instituto de Investigación de Vivienda y Hábitat de la Facultad de Arquitectura de la Universidad Nacional de Córdoba. Fue creada en Mayo de 2015, como una publicación de cobertura regional que difunde los avances en el conocimiento sobre: las teorías, la crítica y la gestión de la arquitectura, la ciudad y el territorio; los procesos proyectuales de planificación y de gestión; el patrimonio y el paisaje y las metodologías de proyecto y de la construcción sustentable, desde una perspectiva científica / académica.

68– Revista políticas públicas & ciudades. Belo Horizonte: Estudos Urbanos,

2015– / e-ISSN: 2359–1552 <https://rppc.emnuvens.com.br/RPPC>

Fundada como 'blog' para a publicação de assuntos acadêmicos na área de urbanismo e planejamento urbano, tornou-se por interesse de estudantes de pós-graduação um periódico científico não institucional. Isto é, não pertencia a instituições de ensino pública ou privada. Assim, a revista foi fundada em 2014 por estudantes da Pontifícia Universidade Católica do Paraná (PUCPR). Sua fundação foi apenas no ambiente acadêmico da Universidade sem relações com a mesma sob qualquer condição. Desde 2014 o periódico tornou-se um importante veículo interdisciplinar de urbanismo e planejamento urbano. A partir de 2019 as bases de indexação passaram a exigir uma editora considerando que a revista não pertencia a alguma instituição de ensino. Deste modo, em abril de 2020 foi criada a Editora Estudos Urbanos incorporando a revista em seu escopo editorial.

69- RiPTEK. Semarang, Indonesia: Bappeda Kota Semarang, 2007 (En electrónico desde el 2017-) / ISSN: 1978-8320 e-ISSN: 2716-3482
<https://riptek.semarangkota.go.id/index.php/riptek/index>

RiPTEK covers a topic related to spatial planning & development, community empowerment and participation, tourism planning and management, economic development, environmental planning and management, and disaster management.

70- Ri-vista, ricerche per la progettazione del paesaggio. Firenze : Firenze University Press, Dottorato di ricerca in progettazione paesistica, 2003- e-ISSN:1724-6768 <https://oaj.fupress.net/index.php/ri-vista>

Ri-Vista is an open access and peer reviewed six-monthly scientific journal in electronic format. Founded in 2003, the second series was launched in 2015, when Ri-Vista became part of the scientific journals of the University of Florence. The journal does not ask any charges neither from authors nor readers and operates through international calls for papers and double-blind peer review. Ri-Vista deals with the multiple dimensions of landscape planning and design, seen from a rich variety of disciplines, in a scientific and open perspective which is distinctive of landscape architecture. Each issue aims at gathering knowledge and visions around specific topics, promoting innovative and responsible actions for creation, protection, restoration and management of landscapes.

71 – Rural landscapes: society, environment, history. Stockholm, Sweden :

Stockholm University Press, 2014– / e-ISSN: 2002-0104

<https://www.rurallandscapesjournal.com/>

Rural Landscapes: Society, Environment, History is a peer-reviewed, open access journal dedicated to landscape research and interdisciplinary communication. Rural Landscapes aims to be a leading academic forum for the blending, contrasting and bridging of contemporary and historical landscape studies that engage with environmental and societal perspectives on rural landscapes in all parts of the world. The journal accepts contributions from a broad range of research fields, such as historical ecology, political ecology, rural development, landscape ecology, palaeo-ecology, archaeology, anthropology, sociology, history, agriculture, forestry and geography.

72 – Soil and water research. Praha, Czech Republic : Czech Academy of

Agricultural Sciences, 2006– / ISSN:1801-5395 e-ISSN:1805-9384

<https://www.agriculturejournals.cz/web/swr/>

Original papers, short communications and critical reviews from all fields of science and engineering related to soil and water and their interactions in natural and man-modified landscapes, with a particular focus on agricultural land use. The fields encompassed include, but are not limited to, the basic and applied soil science, soil hydrology, soil erosion research and control, drought and flood control, soil contamination, land use, wetland restoration and protection, surface and ground water protection in terms of their quantity and quality, good agricultural practices, land consolidation and other measures for improving and protecting soils and all other elements of the environment in small agricultural and forested catchments. Socio-economic issues are not excluded. The journal is open to authors from all parts of the world irrespective of their professional background and affiliation. Papers are published in English.

73– Space ontology international journal. Qazvin, Iran : Qazvin Islamic Azad University, 2015– / ISSN: 2423–7299 e-ISSN: 2345–6450
<http://soij.qiau.ac.ir/>

Space Ontology International Journal (SOIJ) published by Qazvin Islamic Azad University (located in Iran) is scholarly open access, peer-reviewed, quarterly, and fully refereed journal with a primary objective to provide the academic community for the submission of new ideas, the state of the art research results and fundamental advances in all aspects of Architecture, Urban Design, and Planning.

74– Spatium. Belgrade : Institut za arhitekturu i urbanizam Srbije, 1997 (En electrónico desde 2002–) / ISSN: 1450–569X e-ISSN: 2217–8066
<http://www.spatium.rs/>

The review is concerned with a multi-disciplinary approach to spatial, regional and urban planning and architecture, as well as with various aspects of land use, including housing, environment and related themes and topics. It attempts to contribute to better theoretical understanding of a new spatial development processes and to improve the practice in the field.

75– SPOOL. Delft : TU Delft, Faculteit Bouwkunde, 2014– / ISSN: 2215–0897
e– ISSN: 2215–0900 <https://journals.open.tudelft.nl/spool/>

SPOOL is a journal initiative in the field of ‘architecture and the built environment’. It puts a strong emphasis on four key topics: Science of Architecture; Landscape Metropolis; Energy Innovation and Cyber-physical Architecture. These four topics refer to existing and upcoming research programs/interests in Europe and beyond, and ensure a steady stream of potential copy. Treating these topics as threads within one journal allows SPOOL to focus on the interrelationship between the fields, something that is often lost in specialized journals. SPOOL welcomes within this framework original papers and associated open data on research that deal with interventions in architecture and the built environment by means of design, engineering and/or planning.

76– Studies of architecture, urbanism and environmental science. Sabzevar Khorasan Razavi, Iran : Hakim Sabzevari University, 2018– /
e–ISSN: 2588–3658 <http://www.sauesjournal.net/>

Studies of Architecture, Urbanism and Environmental Sciences Journal (abbreviation: SAUES) is a bi-annual, international, academic publication by Hakim Sabzevari University focusing on the theoretical, practical and research aspects of the fields of architecture, urbanism, and environmental sciences.

77– Tafter journal : esperienze e strumenti per cultura e territorio. Roma :

Monti&Taft, 2007– / e-ISSN:1974–563X

<http://www.tafterjournal.it/rivista/>

Tafter Journal è una rivista on-line che declina i temi inerenti la cultura e il territorio secondo una prospettiva scientifica. Attraverso i contributi provenienti dalla comunità scientifica che ha fatto di questi ambiti di ricerca campo d'azione privilegiato, e dagli operatori che concretamente sperimentano e utilizzano quegli stessi apparati teorici e si cimentano in progetti innovativi, la rivista ospita spunti di discussione e riflessione sulla gestione culturale e del paesaggio, sulle problematiche legate alle città, alle aree rurali e ai centri storici minori, senza trascurare i preziosi ausili derivanti dalle nuove tecnologie.

78– Tata loka. Semarang : Universitas Diponegoro, 1999 (En electrónico desde 2011–) / ISSN: 0852–7458 e-ISSN: 2356–0266

<https://ejournal2.undip.ac.id/index.php/tataloka/index>

Tata loka is a peer reviewed journal publishing scientific articles, focusing mainly on research and studies in the field of urban and regional planning.

79– Tema: Journal of Land Use, Mobility and Environment. Napoli: Dipartimento di Pianificazione e Scienza del Territorio, Università degli studi di Napoli "Federico II", 2007– / ISSN: 1970–9889 e-ISSN: 1970–9870

<http://www.tema.unina.it/index.php/tema/index>

Tema Journal of Land Use, Mobility and Environment offers researches, applications and contributions with a unified approach to spatial planning and mobility.

80– Territorios (Bogotá, Colombia). Bogotá, Colombia : Universidad de los Andes, Centro Interdisciplinario de Estudios Regionales. Asociación Colombiana de Investigadores Urbanos Regionales, 1999– / ISSN: 0123-8418 e-ISSN: 2215-7484

<https://revistas.urosario.edu.co/index.php/territorios/index>

Publicación científica semestral de acceso abierto. El objetivo principal es difundir el conocimiento especializado sobre temas regionales y urbanos y, de esta manera, enfrentar y abordar los problemas del desarrollo territorial. Mediante la difusión de análisis críticos y de propuestas alternativas, busca redefinir los territorios, bajo los cambios estructurales económicos, sociales, culturales, políticos y ambientales que viven Latinoamérica y el mundo.

81– Territorios en formación. Madrid : Escuela Superior de Arquitectura de Madrid UPM, 2011– / e-ISSN: 2174-8659

<http://polired.upm.es/index.php/territoriosenformacion>

Territorios en formación constituye una plataforma de divulgación de la producción académica relacionada con los programas de postgrado del Departamento de Urbanística y Ordenación del Territorio de la ETSAM-UPM proporcionando una vía para la publicación de los artículos científicos y los trabajos de investigación del alumnado y garantizando su excelencia gracias a la constatación de que los mismos han tenido que superar un tribunal fin de máster o de los programas de doctorado del DUyOT.

82– Town and Regional Planning. Bloemfontein, South Africa: University of the Free State, South African Institute of Town and Regional Planners, 1974–
ISSN: 1012–280X e-ISSN: 2415–0495

<https://journals.ufs.ac.za/index.php/trp/index>

Town and Regional Planning is a South African accredited journal for independently adjudicated research articles on applicable topics in town, urban and regional planning. Each peer refereed article is indicated as such in the journal. The editorial staff considers articles in English and Afrikaans, written from any responsible point of view on subjects in any applicable field of scholarship, i.e. town, urban and regional planning.

83– TRIA: Territorio della ricerca su insediamenti e ambiente : International journal of urban planning. Napoli: Università di Napoli. Centro interdipartimentale di ricerca L.U.P.T., 2008– / ISSN: 1974–6849

e-ISSN: 2281–4574 <http://www.tria.unina.it/index.php/tria>

TRIA è una rivista internazionale a prevalente circuito europeo, incentrata sulle tematiche della pianificazione e della progettazione urbanistica spazianti nel più ampio contesto delle scienze della terra e di quelle sociali interessanti la processualità insediativa.

84– Urban Planning. Lisbon, Portugal : Cogitatio Press, 2016– /
e-ISSN: 2183–7635

<https://www.cogitatiopress.com/urbanplanning/index>

Urban Planning (ISSN: 2183–7635) is an international peer-reviewed open access journal of urban studies aimed at advancing understandings and ideas of humankind's habitats.

85– Urban, planning and transport research: an open access journal. Abingon, Oxfordshire, UK : Routledge, Taylor & Francis Group, 2013– / e-ISSN: 2165–0020 <https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/rupt20/current>

An international open access journal publishing urban, planning, and transport research including urban design, community development and human geography.

86– Urbani izziv. Ljubljana : Urbanistični inštitut Republike Slovenije, 1989 (En electrónico desde 1991–) / ISSN: 0353–6483 e-ISSN: 1855–8399 <https://urbaniizziv.uirs.si/en-us/>

Revija je namenjena razširjanju znanstvenih in strokovnih dognanj ter obravnavi problemov urejanja prostora v Sloveniji in tujini. V reviji so objavljeni prispevki z različnimi »prostorskimi« temami, iz različnih znanstvenih ved in disciplin (npr. urbanizem, arhitektura, krajinska arhitektura, geografija, geodezija, sociologija, ekonomija ipd.), ki sledijo znanstvenemu in profesionalnemu zanimanju avtorjev.

87– Urbanism, Arhitectură, Constructions. București, România : NR&DI URBAN–INCERC Institutul Național de Cercetare–Dezvoltare în Construcții, Urbanism și Dezvoltare Teritorială Durabilă (Romania), 2010– / ISSN: 2069–0509 e-ISSN: 2069–6469 <https://uac.incd.ro/EN/index.htm>

The journal aims to bridge up the disciplines studying the human habitat (from civil engineering to architecture and urban and territorial planning) and its sustainable development (including the relationship between man–dominated and natural systems), integrated analysis and territorial management from a joint theoretical and practical (focused on planning) perspective. The journal strives to embed high–quality artwork, especially for the two disciplines focused on graphical content – architecture, urban and territorial planning.

88– Urbe: revista brasileira de gestão urbana. Curitiba, Brazil: Pontifícia Universidade Católica do Paraná, Programa de Pós-Graduação em Gestão Urbana, 2009– / e-ISSN: 2175-3369
<https://www2.pucpr.br/reol/pb/index.php/urbe?dd99=actual>

Para abarcar a complexidade do fenômeno urbano e sua materialidade no território, a urbe publica artigos teóricos e empíricos resultantes de pesquisas originadas nas diversas áreas que formam os estudos urbanos, como planejamento urbano e regional, arquitetura e urbanismo, gestão e administração pública, políticas públicas, geografia, infraestruturas e tecnologias urbanas e meio ambiente.

89– VLC arquitectura. València : Escola Tècnica Superior d'Arquitectura, Universitat Politècnica de Valencia, 2014– / ISSN: 2341-3050
e-ISSN: 2341-2747 <https://polipapers.upv.es/index.php/VLC/index>

VLC Arquitectura Research Journal is an international research journal, born as an initiative of the School of Architecture of the Universitat Politècnica de València. The publication covers the architecture as an interdisciplinary understanding and it is the place for discussions on the architectural and urban project from its technical, energetic and material side, to its theoretical, historical and graphics perspective. Education research on architecture is also welcome.

90– ZARCH : journal of interdisciplinary studies in architecture and urbanism. Zaragoza: Departamento de Arquitectura, Escuela de Ingeniería y Arquitectura, 2014– / ISSN: 2341-0531 e-ISSN: 2387-0346
<http://zarch.unizar.es/index.php/es/numeros/numeros-publicados>

ZARCH está especializada en el estudio crítico, teórico e histórico de la arquitectura y el urbanismo desde disciplinas diversas. Trata todos los temas relacionados con la teoría y la práctica del proyecto arquitectónico y urbanístico.